BATTERY DESTROYS BARN — A shorted battery on a lawnmower is believed to be the cause of this blaze which destroyed a small two-story barn near Crellin Friday afternoon. Oakland and Terra Alta volunteer firefighters were called to the scene at about 2 p.m. after the fire was spotted by Sam Giotfelty, a neighbor of Elmer Reckart, owner of the structure. The loss of the building and its contents was estimated by fire investigators to be about $5,000. James Walking, pictured above left, a member of the Oakland VFD, sustained first- and second-degree burns on his arm and shoulder when a portion of the loft floor fell on him. He was treated at the scene by the Southern Rescue Squad.

Land Acquisition Law In Danger Of Repeal By State

A proposal has been made to the Maryland General Assembly by the Schaefer administration and the Department of Natural Resources to repeal a 1986 law which prohibits the state from purchasing additional land in Garrett County without first selling an equal amount of state-owned land. To aid the state in disposing of property in order to purchase other, more desirable property, a land bank concept was initiated. However, the Maryland Board of Public Works never gave the necessary approval for a state-land sale to take place.

The two most important phrases in the 1986 law are "no net gain," referring to limiting the state to owning no more land in Garrett County than that amount owned by the state in June 1986; and "to willing sellers only," referring to future purchase agreements being made between the state and willing sellers, not by other means such as condemnation.

In a phone conversation with Senator John N. Bambacius, he said that Governor Schaefer has constantly said he has trouble with the current law on the books, so it was no surprise to anyone that the proposal was made. The senator stressed that this is only a proposal at this point, and he met with the governor on Tuesday to discuss the issue.

Both Bambacius and Delegate George Edwards say the real problem is that the DNR has been considering the proposal for the last six months but had never made an opportunity for local officials to discuss the issue with them. It now appears that the proposal was made in October, and Sen. Bambacius said, "if that's the case, it's equally upsetting to know they've been sitting on it since October. It was not good judgment on the secretary's (DNR Sec. Torrey Brown) part to wait six months to discuss the issue."

A meeting was scheduled last Friday with the DNR, which both the senator and delegate traveled to Annapolis to attend, but the meeting was cancelled by the department at the last minute. The Garrett County Commissioners report that another meeting date has been set for January 11, however, Senator Bambacius said he had not been notified by the DNR of such a rescheduling.

In the proposal, all reference to Garrett County has been deleted. For instance, being deleted is an entire section which states: "... after June 30, 1986, the Department may Continued on Page A-4

A PERFECT START FOR THE NEW YEAR — Lisbeth and Kenneth Tressler of Oakland celebrated a particularly special New Year's as Lisbeth gave birth to a healthy six-pound baby girl at 11:29 a.m. on Sunday, January 1. Delivered by Dr. Karl Schwalm, Kelly Rae was the first baby of 1989 for Garrett County. Paternal grandparents are Paul and Jean Tressler of Mt. Lake Park. Maternal grandparents are Eleene Sacks, of southern Florida, and the late Beryl Sacks.

Blaze Destroys Small Barn At Crellin Friday

The battery of an idle lawnmower is thought to be the cause of a fire which destroyed a small barn off State Rt. 39 just west of Crellin Friday afternoon.

Oakland and Terra Alta volunteer firefighters were summoned at about 2 p.m. by the Garrett County Office of Emergency Management after a neighbor, Sam Giotfelty, heard a "crackling" noise and noticed smoke coming from a two-story wooden structure, owned by Elmer Reckart. Upon their arrival, the entire front half of the barn was involved in flames and the front portion of the roof had collapsed.

Various tools, a riding lawnmower, a garden tiller, and a large supply of lumber were among the items inside the building, most of which was destroyed. Jim Martin, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett counties, estimated the loss to be about $5,000. He added that Reckart has some insurance on the building to help cover the loss.

The fire was brought under control within about 15 minutes, but it took firemen some time to extinguish various hot spots inside the 15-by-30-foot structure. Jim Walking, an Oakland firefighter, sustained first- and second-degree burns on his right arm and shoulder when a section of the loft floor collapsed. He was treated at the scene by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Firemen remained on the scene for about two hours. Martin said it appeared the cause of the fire was a lawnmower battery that shorted. He emphasized that batteries for mowers and related power equipment should always be disconnected before winter storage.

Lawmakers Gear Up For General Assembly; Budget To Be Big Issue

With the official opening of the 1989 General Assembly still several days off, lawmakers are pouring into the state capital for early committee hearings, with the intention of clearing many local bills from the agenda to prevent issues from "piling up" later in the session. The legislators have also tightened up the deadline for introducing bills in an attempt to speed everything up.

When the session officially opens Wednesday, District I-A Delegate George C. Edwards expects one of the major issues to include the budget. "The budget could be a big thing," said the delegate. "It could be a very heated battleground," he added, and explained that since 1982, spending affordability guidelines have been used which have worked very well. "We're going to cut the budget down to that number," he said.

Several local bills Del. Edwards will be working on include the proposal made by the governor's office and the Department of Natural Resources to repeal a law which prevents the state from purchasing additional land in Garrett County without first selling an equal amount of land it already owns. (See separate story.) Del. Edwards said this proposal could become quite an issue, on the other hand, it may be worked out in a way acceptable to all. He did say it was "irritating" that the DNR made this proposal without meeting with the local delegation for their input. The proposal, which was typed by the governor's office staff, has an October date. Local officials say that it's difficult to understand why they knew nothing about it until last week.

One bill the delegate has already pre-filed is a "black bear bill." Del. Edwards introduced the same bill last year, only to see it voted down. The bill would compensate farmers for damages to crops by black bears.

Last year's bill defined crops as anything a farmer plants with the intention to harvest, and included berries, corn and tree farms. This year's bill sets a $200 minimum amount of damage that must be done before the state would compensate the farmer.

One of the committee's objections to last year's bill was that it could set a precedent. Presently, the state does not pay for any crops damaged by wildlife. Edwards' argument Continued on Page A-4

Bureau To Select Abandoned Mines For Reclamation

The Maryland Bureau of Mines will select 10 of 16 proposed projects and apply for about $800,000 in federal abandoned mine reclamation funds for 1989.

The projects are scattered in Allegany and Garrett counties. Abandoned coal refuse piles are located at Michaels Run, near Mill Run Road, Garrett County; South Prong of Lostland Run, Potomac State Forest at Garrett County; Shalimar, Garrett County; Hill Run, near Lonaconing, Allegany County.

Abandoned deep mine openings are located at Lonaconing and Westernport, both in Allegany County, while the bureau also proposes reclamation for numerous abandoned surface mines at Barton Hill, Caledonia Hill, Bartlett Hill (near Barton), all Allegany County; and Franklin Hill near Aaron Run, Meadow Mountain and North Shore Run, all located within Garrett County.

The bureau is also proposing reclamation of the Midland drainage tunnel in Allegany County, grouting of George's Creek near abandoned underground workings near Midland to stop or slow down infiltration into George's Creek and Brad-dock Run; separate a storm-water and sewer system infiltrated with abandoned mine drainage into Wolf Den Run near Westernport Hill.

Nine-Inch Blanket Of Snow Covers Mountain Top And Closes Schools

Garrett County was hit by the biggest snow storm of the season this week, as nearly one foot of snow was dumped on the mountaintop Tuesday night, creating poor visibility and making the roads slippery.

According to Bea Crocco at the Oakland Weather Station the storm dropped nine inches of snow and Doug Ellis of the State Highway Administration reported that winds accompanying the snow averaged 25 miles per hour with gusts of 30 to 35 miles per hour. The overnight low temperature Tuesday was 17 degrees and the high for Wednesday was 30 degrees. All Garrett County schools and those in surrounding West Virginia and Pennsylvania were closed on Wednesday because of the storm.

Paul Shockey, administrator at the Garrett County Roads Department, said that the roads had been plowed and that all primary and secondary roads were open. Fort Hill Road between Spring Lick and O'Brian Road was closed temporarily because of a log truck that jack-knifed. Shockey said that the visibility was poor, there was moderate to severe drifting, and he advised traveling only if necessary.

Despite the severity of the storm, the State Highway Administration reported that all the roads were open and had been plowed and treated. However, the State advised drivers to allow plenty of time when traveling.

Students returned to school today, however there is a threat of snow or freezing rain this evening and tomorrow.

Governor Schaefer Endorses Proposal For A "Whitewater Special" Train

District One Senator John N. Bambacius has received the endorsement of Governor William Donald Schaefer for a proposal to run a train, "Whitewater Special," from the Baltimore-Washington area in conjunction with the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships to be held in Garrett County in June 1989.

Bambacius indicated the proposed train would accomplish several objectives to benefit Western Maryland. In addition to offering a unique journey for ambassadors, public and corporate executives and other invitees to the championships, the special train would provide a media event for promoting Maryland, the Allegany Central Scenic Railroad and the World Whitewater Championships.

The Senator stated, "This train will also help to further demonstrate the feasibility of train travel as a viable segment of the tourism industry in Western Maryland."

In his endorsement of the proposal, Governor Schaefer offered the assistance of the Department of Transportation and other state agencies to help implement the train. The governor stated, "I am always enthusiastic about unique and exciting ways to showcase the state of Maryland."

Planning is now underway by Whitewater Championships, Inc., in cooperation with the Allegany Central Scenic Railroad and the Maryland Department of Transportation to develop an operational plan for the "Whitewater Special" train.

Delegate Edwards Schedules Three Community Meetings

Delegate George Edwards has scheduled community meetings throughout District I-A to enable the public to have input into the coming General Assembly session.

Citizens are urged to attend the meeting in their area to discuss any issues or concerns important to them or to suggest legislation, according to Mary Lou Stemple, administrative assistant for Delegate Edwards.

Three meetings are scheduled, the first at the Lonaconing Town Hall beginning at 7 p.m. on January 9. The two meetings in Garrett County are scheduled for Saturday, January 14, the first in room 112 in Southern High School at 9 a.m., followed by an 11 a.m. meeting in the cafeteria of Northern High school.

Local Group Intends To Propose One Solution To Crop Damage By Deer

A legislative proposal to provide assistance in construction of deer deterrent fences in areas of Garrett County where deer are injuring or destroying farm crops, fruit orchards or commercial tree nurseries has been prepared by the Garrett Property Owners Association, Inc.

Association President John E. Hinebaugh stated that many farmers in Garrett County are experiencing a year-by-year increase in crop damage by deer, in some areas becoming very severe. The organization contributes this continuing increase in crop damage to the increasing size of the deer herd and the apparent change in the habitat of deer.

According to Hinebaugh, officials of the Department of Natural Resources report the deer herd numbers are at an all time high even though record numbers are being killed during the annual deer harvest. This, he says, coupled with the changing ecology of forest land, because of over use by deer, has resulted in more and more dependence on farm pasture and crop land grazing by the deer herds.

The association says the situation is not isolated to Garrett County. In Pennsylvania the state legislature enacted into law a bill to assist farmers and others in the building of deer deterrent fences. Essentially, the association reports that the Pennsylvania law provides for the state to furnish all the material needed for the fence building, when investigation discloses the need for deer protection. The law was enacted based upon considerable research and approval of several fence designs as being economical and practicable for deterring deer. The Pennsylvania law became effective July 1, 1987.

After research, the Garrett Property Owners Association prepared a proposed bill for consideration at the forthcoming session of the General Assembly. The proposal is patterned after the bill that was enacted into law by the Pennsylvania state legislature and designed to assist Garrett County farmers who are experiencing severe crop damage by deer.

The proposal states that after receipt of applications, if investigation discloses the need for deer protection, the director of the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service may enter into a written agreement with the applicant whereby fencing materials would be provided and the applicant would construct the necessary fencing as specified by the director. Total expenditures would be limited to $50,000 annually from game and timber harvest revenues.

An exception to the provision would be areas where produce is raised for market on a commercial basis, and would not apply to gardens or truck patches.

Several Accidents Investigated By Md. State Police

Several area motor vehicle accidents were reported this week by Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment.

One person was injured in a single-vehicle accident last Friday on the Glendale Road.

According to police reports, Dawn D. McDowell, 18, of Swanton, was operating a 1981 Plymouth Reliant when she lost control and the vehicle began to skid. The car reportedly spun 360 degrees, crossed the center line, and struck a ditch and a tree.

Tpr. P.R. Brown, who investigated the mishap, reported that the road was icy in patches, but had been treated with abrasives.

McDowell was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that she was admitted and later discharged.

A single-vehicle accident which occurred Saturday on the Deer Park Hotel Road resulted in the driver being charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

According to police reports, Guy C. Barnhardt, 30, of Deer Park, was driving a 1979 Ford truck when it crossed the road, striking a large tree and overturning.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger investigated the incident, charging Barnhardt with failing to keep to the right of the center line, failing to stop at the scene of an accident, and the DWI charge.

The Southern Rescue Squad transported Barnhardt to Garrett Memorial, where he was admitted and later discharged.

An off-road motorcycle was involved in an accident on private property on the Bumble Bee Road on Saturday.

WHO CAN RESIST THESE EYES? This small male beagle is available for adoption by a loving family through the Garrett County Chapter of the Humane Society. The Society has many puppies available for adoption, including two more beagles, one male and one female, as well as a white collie/shepherd mix puppy, a part black Labrador retriever and a variety of mixed breed dogs. Cats in all sizes and colors are also available for adoption. The pets are currently being taken care of in foster homes, but they need a loving family to give them individual love and care. All the animals adopted by the Society are spayed so that the number of unwanted animals may be decreased, but this provides a hardship as the sole source of income is from donations. The Society currently owes money to several veterinarians for the "Spay the Mother/Spare the Slaughter of the Babies" program. For information on adopting one of the many adorable puppies or kittens, call 746-5725, 746-5030 or 334-2401 after 5 p.m.

Police Report Local Incidents

Several local incidents are under state police investigation this week.

According to reports filed at the McHenry detachment, a disabled truck was tampered with on Route 219 last weekend.

Shirley J. Rounds, Accident, reported that her vehicle became disabled near the Gravelly Run Road on December 31. On January 1, the truck was found in the middle of Route 219 near Pysell Road, and had been hot wired. A pool stick in a carrying case had also been removed from the truck.

Police reported that there are no suspects or witnesses to the incident, but the investigation is continuing.

Two persons reported the theft of skis from the Wisp Resort over the weekend.

Susan Rettinger, Bridgeport, W.Va., reported that her skis and bindings were taken on Sunday while she was inside the lodge. Police are investigating both reports.

Police are also investigating a destruction of property which occurred Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Herb M. Carnell Sr., Westernport, reported that he discovered two bullet holes in the side of a large maintenance building on Route 135 near Bloomington. The caliber of the rifle is unknown, and damages were estimated at $800.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is investigating the report, and noted that there are no suspects at this time.

Garrett County 4-H Council To Meet

A meeting of the Garrett County 4-H Council will be held Tuesday, January 10, at 7:00 p.m. in room 010 of Garrett Community College, McHenry. The Council serves as the Advisory and Planning Group for activities sponsored by the County 4-H Clubs. All members, leaders, and parents are invited to attend.

Topics for discussion include the Achievement Dinner and Program, Public Speaking Program, Exchange Programs, and social and recreation activities for the 1989 year.

United Cerebral Palsy Benefit To Be Broadcast

United Cerebral Palsy's STAR-ATHON '89 will be broadcast on January 15 on WHAG-TV Channel 25, Hagerstown. Last year the national telethon raised more than $21 million to provide services to over 700,000 Americans who have cerebral palsy.

The program features entertainment and sports celebrities and will be aired on 80 TV stations coast to coast. Local hosts Glenn Presgraves and Andrea Terry will join John Ritter, currently starring in "Hooperman," from Hollywood along with Robert Ulrich of "Spencer for Hire" and Joanna Kerns of "Growing Pains." Florence Henderson and Dennis James will emcee from New York.

Marty Pasetta, producer and director of over 66 Hollywood specials, will again direct the telethon. Pasetta holds Hollywood's "triple crown" as director of the Oscar, Emmy, and Grammy award shows.

On local segments of STAR-ATHON '89 viewers will be introduced to people in Maryland who benefit from the services of UCP. One of the stars of this year's show is Mickey Northcraft of Cumberland. Mickey, an engaging 10-year old who enjoys science and carpentry, is the new ambassador for Allegany and Garrett counties. He will be joined by public officials and business leaders who have volunteered to serve on TV panels to receive pledges from viewers.

Of special interest will be films taken throughout the year of programs available to local people with cerebral palsy and their families. In Western Maryland these include transportation in lift-equipped vans to work, UCP day programs and recreational activities, employment services, residences, equipment purchases, respite care and the children's summer camp.

WINTER FROLIC BEING FINALIZED — Pictured are members of the Hospice of Garrett County Auxiliary Fund-Raising Committee making final plans for the 1989 Sixth Annual Winter Frolic, an event which will feature dinner and a dance at Silver Tree Inn, Deep Creek Lake, on Saturday, February 4. The social hour will be from 6 to 7 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 and dancing at 9 p.m. The cost of the benefit is $60 per couple and $30 single. Tickets may be obtained by contacting the Hospice office at 253 N. Fourth Street, Oakland (Health Department), telephone 334-8111 or 895-3111, ext. 46. ## Cox To Incorporate "Life" Resolution

Jerome W. Cox, Oakland, an advocate for the Right to Life movement, announced this week he is incorporating his Right to Life Resolution that he hopes will eventually be signed by the Garrett County Commissioners. He said a local accounting firm is handling the necessary paperwork.

Cox, an attorney, intends to present the resolution to the commissioners on February 7. The document calls for all elected officials at all levels of government to do all that is within their power to support the enactment of the Human Life Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

He also plans to request that the commissioners call public meetings on the abortion issue so that both sides may be presented to the general public.

overturned in a field. Rossback was treated and released from Garrett Memorial following the mishap.

The incident was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater.

Icy roads caused a single-vehicle accident last Thursday morning on Rock Lodge Road near Route 495.

Police said Stacey M. Georg, 18, of Accident, was driving a 1988 Dodge Shadow when it began to skid. The car struck a rail fence on the left side, then crossed the road and struck a rail fence on the right side of the road.

Georg was taken to Garrett Memorial by a private vehicle, where a spokesman reported that she was treated and released.

The mishap was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, who charged Georg with failing to reduce the speed of her vehicle in dangerous conditions.

A single-vehicle accident on U.S. Route 50 on Sunday injured a passenger and resulted in the driver being charged with DWI.

According to police reports, Mark D. Crawford, 31, Eglon, W.Va., was operating a 1983 Subaru near the Mason School Road. The driver lost control of the vehicle when it ran onto the right shoulder. The car then struck a guardrail, overturned, traveled back across the road and came to rest on the shoulder.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger investigated the mishap, charging Crawford with negligent driving and driving while under the influence of alcohol. Tfc. Hershberger reported that the roadway was wet and slush-covered.

A passenger in the vehicle, Bernice J. Crawford, 31, also of Eglon, was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad following the mishap, where she was reportedly treated and released.

A single-vehicle accident occurred Friday on the Cranestown Road.

Police said Myrtle L. Kelly, 42, Morgantown, W.Va., was driving a 1988 Yugo when she lost control of the vehicle because of a patch of ice. The car ran off the right side, struck an embankment, and overturned.

Kelly was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that she was treated and released. The incident was investigated by Tfc. D.G. Riggelman.

No one was seriously injured in a two-vehicle accident last Thursday on the Old Bridge Road.

According to police reports, Roy C. Fazenbaker, 29, Friendsville, was driving a 1978 Ford truck, and was backing up, Angela D. Reall, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, was operating a 1981 Chevrolet Chevette, and struck Fazenbaker's truck in the side.

Tfc. D.G. Riggelman investigated the mishap, charging Reall with failing to control her speed to avoid a collision.

Miss Wilhelm Becomes Bride Of Mr. Clark In September Ceremony

Stacey Lynn Wilhelm and Alan Douglas Clark were united in marriage on September 24, 1988.

The double-ring ceremony took place at the Barton United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Harold Malone officiating. Monica Jean Kyle was organist and Vicki Symons was vocalist.

The couple lit the unity candle and presented their parents with long-stemmed red roses. A vase of red roses was placed on the altar in memory of the bride's and groom's deceased grandparents and the bride's deceased uncles. Large burgundy stuffed hearts, which were made by the bride's grandmother, Leona Magruder, were hung on the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas C. Wilhelm, Barton, and granddaughter of Leonard J. Wilhelm Sr., Avilton. Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Clark Sr., Barton.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin under crystalline organza gown designed by San Martin. The organza puffed sleeves were trimmed with milanolace appliques, seed pearls, and iridescent sequins, featuring a keyhole neckline with a pearl cascade accenting the collar. The skirt of layered wire ruffles fell from a longated basque waist and swept into a semi-cathedral train. The bride's only jewelry was her mother's wedding band. She carried a bouquet of burgundy and white roses accented with baby's breath and burgundy and white satin ribbon streamers.

Lori Stockman, Barton, served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Tammy Bogie, Barton, and Kimberly Smith, Lonaconing, both sister's of the bride, and Michele Clark, Barton, sister of the groom. Chrissy Clark, Lonaconing, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

Ed Jones, uncle of the groom, Lonaconing, was best man. Groomsmen were Vic Clark Jr., Lonaconing, brother of the groom, Joe Stockman, brother-in-law of the bride, and Tim Wilhelm, brother of the bride, both of Barton. Doug Clark, cousin of the groom, Barton, was ring-bearer.

The bridesmaids were attired in full-length dresses of burgundy satin. The dresses were covered by burgundy lace which was pulled up with burgundy satin bows. The flower girl wore a dress of white satin covered by white lace which was pulled up with burgundy satin bows. The bridesmaids and flower girl carried bouquets of burgundy and white roses accented with baby's breath and white and burgundy satin ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids' and flower girls' dresses were made by Margie Guthrie of Barton. The hairpieces, made of burgundy and white flowers, were made by Kim Smith.

Teresa Guthrie, Barton, registered guests. Timmy Wilhelm, Sheena Wilhelm, and Marsha Broadwater, all of Barton, distributed birdseed packets, bulletins and thank-you ribbons.

A limousine took the couple to the reception. A reception was held following the ceremony at the Wilhelm Recreation Area. The reception hall was decorated with burgundy and white streamers and balloons, and white bells. Handmade burgundy satin stuffed hearts, made by the bride's grandmother, Leona Magruder, and burgundy and white lace hearts accented with flowers, made by Cheryl Hutzel were hung behind the bridal table. The bride and groom's cake tables were covered with white skirts and burgundy lace. The table centerpieces of burgundy hearts and white lace were made by the bride's mother, sisters, and grandmother.

The meal was prepared and served by the bride's family. The nine-tier cake featured two sets of staircase, leading to additional side cakes. Small figurines were placed on the steps. It also featured burgundy flowers and bows and a burgundy fountain. The cake was baked by the Lonaconing Bakery. Donna Wilhelm, aunt of the bride, and Maria Clark, sister-in-law of the groom, cut and served the cake. The bride's miniature bouquet was caught by Amy Morgan and the garter was caught by Kelly Kamp. Music was provided by Jesse He and the Rainbow Riders. The wedding and reception were videotaped by Stan Eisel, Frostburg.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Silver Leaf Restaurant.

HEARING EXAMINER'S NOTICE OF HEARINGS

On September 14, 1988, Columbia Gas of Maryland, Inc., filed with the Public Service Commission of Maryland revised rate schedules proposing to increase its rates and charges. The revised rate schedules are designed to produce approximately $2,023,000 in additional gross annual operating revenues, an increase of 5.8%. In order to afford members of the public an opportunity to express their views on this pending application, the Public Service Commission has set hearings in the matter in the Meeting Room, District No. 16 Volunteer Fire Department, North Branch Road, Cumberland, Maryland, on Tuesday, January 17, 1989, and in the 2nd Floor Conference Room, Courthouse, Summit Avenue, Hagerstown, Maryland, on Wednesday, January 18, 1989. The hearings will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Their Power Worries Us

It is no secret that Governor William Donald Schaefer does not like the law enacted in 1986 by the Maryland legislature that requires the state, when acquiring more land in Garrett County, to give up equal acres of land for sale to the public. The state already owns thousands of acres of ground in Garrett County and the intent of the law was to prevent the state from acquiring still more land, land that would far better serve the county's economy if it were available for development.

It was no great shock to our local legislators and county commissioners when they received a copy of a proposal from the Department of Natural Resources that will undoubtedly be submitted as a bill in this year's General Assembly. If passed, the bill will effectively negate the present land acquisition law and take away any and all say by county government in land acquisition by the state. The current law says that county government must approve state purchases of any area of land greater than 100 acres.

The present law also declares that the state may purchase land only from willing sellers. However, the new proposal would give the state condemnation rights, allowing it to force persons to sell their property to the state.

We understand that none of our local elected officials was informed of this proposal until December, although it had been written in October. There were no meetings, there was no input received from local officials. Finally, after local officials have been requesting a meeting with the DNR and governor's staff for months to discuss this issue, the state has agreed to a meeting, which will be held next Wednesday.

It seems apparent that the governor will have his way on the appeal of the land acquisition law. But we sincerely hope that certain concessions are made during this negotiating process, such as eliminating the condemnation rights noted in the new proposal. The right of eminent domain, or condemnation, should be reserved only for situations where a piece of land is essential for a specific project, such as highway construction. Condemnation rights just to acquire property for parks or recreation are outrageous.

We have also learned that the county commissioners intend to request an increase in the return of state revenues generated on state property in Garrett County. Presently, Garrett County receives 25 percent of those revenues and the commissioners are going to request 35 percent. We would certainly endorse this proposal.

Once again, the power of state government worries us, because it seems they will do precisely what they wish, regardless of the desires of local government and private citizens.

Letter To Editor

To the Editor:
Governor Schaefer and the legislature are fighting over the $400 million surplus in Maryland state finances. State Senator Laurence Levitan and Delegate Charles Ryan want to use the money to pay off some capital construction projects, Open Space expenditures and tax relief to "selected groups."

Governor Schaefer, of course, has a slew of pet projects in mind and that money is burning a hole in his pocket even before he gets it.

So the battle is on, and what are the great majority of people getting out of this? Very little!

A little of that money should go to the taxpayers!

By granting each taxpayer a higher deduction than the piddling $800, say even up to $1,000 or $1,200, the state could reward the little people who worked so hard to provide the state with all that money in the first place.

And it wouldn't cost the state all that much revenue, either!

not use any funds, whether under Program Open Space or otherwise, to acquire any land in Garrett County in excess of the total amount of land owned by the Department in that county on June 30, 1986. This... does not prohibit the Department from exchanging land in Garrett County, as long as the total acreage does not exceed that amount owned by the Department on June 30, 1986.

...The Department shall meet its needs for land in Garrett County by acquiring the land only from willing sellers."

Also deleted in the proposal are the regulations establishing the land bank concept. "If the Department and the Board of Public Works have acted to transfer to taxable ownership a number of acres of land owned by the Department in Garrett County, the Department may acquire up to that number of acres of land elsewhere in Garrett County."

"For the purposes of this paragraph, the Department and the Board of Public Works are deemed to have acted to transfer acres of land to taxable ownership, if: 1. The Department has provided notice to the public through the state clearinghouse process that certain acres of land will be made available for sale; 2. The Board of Public Works has approved disposition of the land; and 3. The Department of General Services takes appropriate action to make the land available for public sale."

Further requirements on the DNR which are being deleted from the proposal are: "The Department shall take all action necessary to hold land available for sale until: 1. The land has been conveyed to taxable ownership; or 2. Two years have elapsed from the date that the Board of Public Works approved disposition, at which time the Department shall substitute other acres of land for those that have not been sold and hold them available for sale in accordance with this paragraph."

Also being deleted are the following: "The Department must make every effort to sell the land."
"The Department may withdraw land made available for sale under this paragraph from availability for sale if the Department: 1. Has not acquired an amount of acres of land equal to that which is withdrawn; or 2. Has proposed through the state clearinghouse process that certain acres of land will be made available for sale; 2. The Board of Public Works has approved disposition of the land; and 3. The Department of General Services takes appropriate action to make the land available for public sale."

ACWW and HOMEMAKERS

The Extension Homemakers Organization has been around for a long time; so long in fact, that many people have forgotten what the organization really is and do.

Heath and Home are still the most important, but new community concerns and involvement in environmental issues are studied, discussed, and worked on.

One thing that has not changed though over the years is collecting Pennies for Friendship at each monthly club meeting to be donated to ACWW.

and the Board of Public Works has approved disposition of an equal, substitute amount of acres of land.

"The Department may not offer for sale at any point in time more than a total of 3,000 acres of land in Garrett County."

The proposal states: "The Department may acquire, by purchase, lease, condemnation, or gift, title or control of any area of land or water in the state suitable to protect, propagate, or manage wildlife or for hunting purposes. The area of land or water shall be known as a wildlife management area."

Deleted is: "Any area of land or water greater than 100 acres may be acquired in Garrett or Allegany County only with the approval of that county. This requirement does not apply to any areas which have previously been authorized for acquisition by the General Assembly."

If introduced as a bill, and passed into law, this proposal will take effect July 1, 1989.

Associated Country Women of the World, the only women's organization of this kind, was formed in 1929 and has at present over nine million members in 84 countries. Its aim is to: promote international good will, friendship and understanding between the Country Women and Homemakers of the world. It supports raising the standard of living for women all over the world. Homemakers money paid for installing waterlines to rural towns in Africa to minimize or eliminate the need for women to carry water in containers on their heads from a spring miles away from their homes. ACWW is a forum for Country Women on international affairs and has consulting status with the United Nations.

Pennies for Friendship are a gift from country women to country women all over the world. Part of the money is also used to finance the triennial conference, which this year will be held in the United States, in Kansas City, Mo., from September 21 to October 1.

Garrett County Extension Homemakers have already made and send favors to be given to attendees and help welcome them to our country. Anyone interested in knowing more or attending the conference please call Irmgard Koscielniak at the Cooperative Extension Office, 334-1990.

Local officials suspect that one bargaining tool they might use is to ask for an increase in the percentage of park revenues returned to the county from 25 percent to 35 percent. Another bargaining tool may be the word "condemnation." Garrett County officials have historically been against the state acquiring land by condemnation and has insisted that land be purchased from willing sellers only.

Senator Bambacus says he "can't speculate on the outcome. They (DNR) have backed us into a corner, placed us in a reactive position."

was that there is a growing black bear population with no hunting season. The bill specified that any such law would terminate if and when the Department of Natural Resources declared an open season for hunting black bear.

With the amendment to require a minimum amount of damage before any payment could be made, Del. Edwards feels this year's bill stands a good chance of passing.

Another local proposal would allow property owners to paint stripes on trees and poles on their property boundaries to take the place of no trespassing signs. Edwards says this concept is a law and is working very well in Virginia. The paint would not hurt the trees, and the color of paint and the width and length of stripe would be regulated to be consistent. This type of marking, he feels, would make clear to the general public that it is private property and no trespassers are allowed.

Other issues Maryland residents may expect to see discussed this year include a proposal to raise the state's speed limit to 65 mph on rural interstate highways. This change was made in neighboring West Virginia last year, and is the law in 40 states. In those states that have raised speed limits to 65, statistics show that the number of traffic deaths on rural interstates rose 20 percent in 1987. In contrast, states which retained the 55 mph limit saw fatalities rise only four percent.

An annual bill will be seen again. A bill aimed at keeping trucks from spilling their contents on highways — the covered load bill — has been appearing in the General Assembly for 27 years, having a longer history in Annapolis than most legislators. But this year, leaders in both houses have said the time has finally come to pass the legislation.

Day care will be quite an issue during the '89 session. Maryland ranks 34th in the nation in the number of children cared for in regulated child care programs. In Maryland there is only one day care slot for every nine children under 14 years of age who need care while their mothers work.

One plan submitted would create 4,000 additional day care slots, with private businesses picking up 25 percent of the operating costs of the centers. One problem with the plan is that it fails to address the problem of parents who need financial assistance to pay for child care, and it proposes no method for coping with the immediate day care crisis.

Once again, drunk driving will be a major issue on the legislative calendar. During the last session, a task force was formed to deal with issues relating to driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs. The panel was directed to report back to the General Assembly by December 1 with recommendations for legislation to be introduced during the '89 session.

Light rail will again be mentioned. In return for its approval of $10 million for metropolitan Baltimore's light rail line, the '88 Assembly required MDOT to study 24 traffic-jammed commuter corridors throughout the state and recommend those corridors where light rail would be appropriate. The Department has pinpointed seven areas for light rail — four in the Baltimore area and three in the Washington area. The initial cost estimates per route range from $40 million to $450 million.

The rub is that it will take a gas tax hike or registration fee increase to build the lines. The total tab for the light rail lines will be anywhere from $1.4 billion to $2 billion. It will be up to the General Assembly to decide which, if any, rail lines will be constructed.

AIDS continues to be of prime legislative importance. Among significant developments regarding AIDS legislation was the American Medical Association (AMA) statement urging doctors to warn the sex and needle-sharing partners of AIDS patients, as well as those patients carrying the AIDS virus.

Legislation will be introduced

The President's Column

THE NEW YEAR

by Ronald Reagan

Recently, we celebrated the coming of a new year — a time of expectation and promise. I believe it is going to be a very good year indeed. Our economy is healthy, our defenses are strong and our policy of peace through strength is paying off in spades. In a few weeks time, the Soviet Union is due to pull its remaining forces out of Afghanistan. I am confident the Soviets will stick to their timetable and be out by the 15th of February, which will then be a great day for world peace.

I am also confident about 1989 because on January 20th George Bush will be sworn in as the 41st President of the United States. And a superb President he is going to be. He has handled the selection of his Cabinet skillfully and the transition process is proceeding well and smoothly.

So the news is good for the new year. Of course, we still reel in shock and horror from the bombing of Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland. Now if, as seems likely, the terrorists have crawled out of their hole to threaten American lives, I can promise them this: The pledge we made to seek out the truth and punish the guilty is a sacred one which George Bush shares.

Indeed, President-elect Bush knows as thoroughly as anyone in the world today the nature and problem of terrorism; as chairman of this Administration's task force on terrorism he oversaw a report that is the toughest statement to date on the need for strong action — including, when warranted, military action — against terrorists. That report ought to be giving some people sleepless nights right about now.

That crime aside, however, there is little to disturb us about the overall state of the nation as we start the new year. But still, during these days, when you turn on the television or read through the newspaper, you might get the idea that what faces George Bush upon his assumption of the responsibilities of the Presidency of the United States will be nothing but a series of impossible choices, heartaches, and just general trouble.

Now, I am sure most of this talk is simply evidence that we are about to go through a change of leadership, a moment of time that does funny things to people, particularly in Washington.

For some, this is a time to put in their bids on the agenda of the future. For others, this is a time for the jitters, because they try to imagine what the future will bring and find it a little confusing.

These jitters have been overcome with courage and vision in both the United States and Canada, as the way has been cleared for an historic new free trade agreement.

And I want to assure you as we do take this time together to look ahead that there is not a single major problem facing this country today that cannot be solved when we come together to solve them. What it takes is the political will to solve them — rather like a successful New Year's resolution.

Now, here are a few New Year's political resolutions I think could be accomplished in 1989:

I think we should resolve to keep within the Gramm-Rudman targets and eliminate the deficit entirely by 1993. I will be telling you more about our budget for the next fiscal year over the next few weeks, but let me just say that this new budget represents a serious and dedicated effort to produce a realistic plan for meeting our responsibilities to reduce the deficit, maintain our defense, and help the needy. I have said it before and I will say it again. All this can be done without raising taxes. Higher taxes mean slow economic growth, and economic growth, combined with budget realism, is the key to eliminating the deficit. George Bush's lips have been eloquent on this subject.

And it sure would be a great new year if we continue the progress we made in 1988, putting an end to those mammoth continuing resolutions and work with a real budget again.

We can continue to improve relations with the Soviet Union in 1989 if we remember that the key to improved relations this far has been our strength and resolution. We must remain sober in our estimation of our negotiating partners and without illusion about their goals and aims. Whether we are talking about bilateral relations with the Soviet Union or efforts to achieve a negotiated settlement in the Middle East, the lesson is the same: To achieve further reductions in international tensions, the incoming Administration will need appropriate levels of defense spending, not to mention support from Congress for his foreign-policy initiatives. Trust me; I know.

method for coping with the immediate day care crisis.

Once again, drunk driving will be a major issue on the legislative calendar. During the last session, a task force was formed to deal with issues relating to driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs. The panel was directed to report back to the General Assembly by December 1 with recommendations for legislation to be introduced during the '89 session.

Light rail will again be mentioned. In return for its approval of $10 million for metropolitan Baltimore's light rail line, the '88 Assembly required MDOT to study 24 traffic-jammed commuter corridors throughout the state and recommend those corridors where light rail would be appropriate. The Department has pinpointed seven areas for light rail — four in the Baltimore area and three in the Washington area. The initial cost estimates per route range from $40 million to $450 million.

The rub is that it will take a gas tax hike or registration fee increase to build the lines. The total tab for the light rail lines will be anywhere from $1.4 billion to $2 billion. It will be up to the General Assembly to decide which, if any, rail lines will be constructed.

AIDS continues to be of prime legislative importance. Among significant developments regarding AIDS legislation was the American Medical Association (AMA) statement urging doctors to warn the sex and needle-sharing partners of AIDS patients, as well as those patients carrying the AIDS virus.

the director may enter into a written agreement with the applicant for the erection of a deer deterrent fence of such height, design, materials and type of construction as the director specifies.

The proposal states that the department would purchase and deliver to the applicant the required amount of wire fencing, staples, insulators, posts and other materials necessary to construct the fence. In return, the applicant would agree in writing to construct the fence without cost to the state within six months from the day the materials are delivered.

The fence, after construction, would be maintained by the applicant, with the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service having no part in any future maintenance.

The funds for deer deterrent fencing would come from game and timber harvest revenues, according to the proposal. In Pennsylvania, the type of fencing being used is a New Zealand high-tensile wire fence.

Governor Calls For Nominations For The 1989 Volunteer Award

Governor William Donald Schaefer has called for communities and organizations in the state to nominate persons who perform outstanding volunteer service to receive the Governor's Volunteer Award for 1989.

"Volunteers make a tremendous difference in the quality of life for all of us," Governor Schaefer said. "I invite all our citizens to join me in honoring volunteers at every level from every part of the state and in paying tribute to their hard work and commitment because they are surely one of our most valuable resources," he continued.

The awards will be presented by the governor in the spring of outstanding volunteers in the following categories of service: arts and humanities; education; environment; health; human services; mobilization of volunteers; public safety; senior citizens; workplace, and youth.

Nominations for the Governor's Volunteer Award may be made for an individual or a group. The deadline for submitting nominations is February 1.

To request a nomination form and for more information contact:

The telephone number in Baltimore is 225-4496.

Miss Teagarden Is Among Who's Who

Angela Teagarden, daughter of Glenn and Linda Teagarden, Oakland, has been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Angela's biography will appear in the "Who's Who" Yearbook, along with those of other students from around the nation. Only about five percent of all high school students are selected for this recognition.

A sophomore at Southern High School, Angela is an honor student, a member of the Yearbook staff, and a member of Girls' Athletic Association. She is a member of Bethel United Methodist Church and Youth Group.

She is employed by the Garrett Gymnastics Club.

Financial Aid Workshops To Be Held At GCC

As part of a state-wide effort to make information about financial aid available to prospective college students and their parents, Cissy VanSickle, director of financial aid at Garrett Community College, has scheduled two financial aid forms workshops at the college. They are scheduled for January 8 and 15 from 2-4 p.m. in the Student Center.

All interested persons are invited to attend one of these workshops. Those attending should bring with them 1988 income information, as well as information about home, cash, and business assets, according to Ms. VanSickle. Anyone unable to attend one of these workshops is welcome to call 387-6666 for an appointment with Ms. VanSickle weekdays or evenings during the month of January.

With the proclamation by Governor William Donald Schaefer designating the month of January as "You Can Afford College '89" month, colleges and universities throughout Maryland are planning information about financial aid to the public. One of these activities is a television program on Maryland Public Television Channel 36, Oakland, this Friday, January 6, at 7:30 and 11:30 p.m., during which financial aid officers from various levels of higher education will provide information. Viewers may call in questions between the hours of 7 and 11 p.m. on that date. The program also will be rebroadcast at 1 p.m. on January 22. The toll-free number throughout the State is 1-800-223-3MPT.

TO WATER CUSTOMERS IN OAKLAND

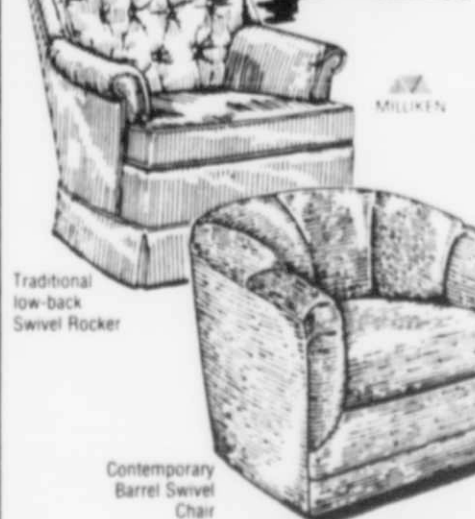

The Town of Oakland has approximately 850 water customers. Some have experienced frozen water lines and others have let water run to prevent freezing. Some have shared with their waterless neighbors. Neither the Town nor the customers have been at fault in the situation. In fairness to both, where there is evidence that any of the above has occurred, the March quarter water bills will be adjusted as follows:

1. The least amount a customer will pay will be the minimum quarterly charge.
2. The maximum a customer will pay will be the highest amount paid in any quarter during the past year.
3. If the amount of water consumed is less than the last quarter, the customer will be billed for that amount.

Maryland Teacher Is Finalist For Teacher Of Year

Leslie J. Roche, who was selected as Maryland's Teacher of the Year in October, has been named as one of four finalists in the 1989 National Teacher of the Year program.

Ms. Roche, an 8th grade teacher at Parkland Junior High School in Rockville, was selected as a finalist for the national Teacher of the Year award from among nominees representing all 50 states.

The final selection process includes a round of personal interviews for Ms. Roche in New York and Washington and ultimately a ceremony at the White House in April when the 1989 National Teacher of the Year will be announced. Other finalists represent California, Louisiana and Virginia.

In October, Ms. Roche was selected from among 20 teachers who were nominated as candidates for the Maryland Teacher of the Year award. A graduate of the University of Maryland at College Park, Ms. Roche has been a teacher for 15 years. She has taught for the last 13 years in the Montgomery County public schools.

During her career she has taught U.S. History, geography, civics, communications and other social studies courses. She currently teaches a course called "Western Studies: Eastern Hemisphere and Western Hemisphere."

Her philosophy of education, she says, is to "develop student skills for inquiry ... engaging students in their own learning process."

One of her projects at Parkland Junior High School has been an annual ethnic festival. The festival, which also includes students from nearby Wheaton High School, was organized by Ms. Roche in the early 1980s to counter racial tensions at the school after a large influx of Asian immigrants.

Her work as a teacher has earned her numerous awards including nomination for the Agnes Meyer Outstanding Teacher Award and a Certificate of Excellence from the Montgomery County Public Schools for organizing the ethnic festival.

She was nominated as Maryland's Teacher of the Year by the late Mark D. Mann, the former principal at Parkland Junior High School who was killed last year in an automobile accident.

Dr. Mann praised Ms. Roche as a "master teacher" and said, "She personally interacts with every student during every class period. She is truly excited about teaching and is one of the most outstanding teachers I have encountered in my 20 years in the profession."

Ms. Roche says she became a teacher so she could "give every student I come in contact with the same excellent public school experience I had had."

Regarding her selection as Maryland's Teacher of the Year, Ms. Roche says she should have been a co-winner, sharing the recognition with Doris Nickoles who "team teaches" with her at Parkland Junior High School.

The two teachers have a reputation for making each class a "performance" that involves a great deal of thought and preparation. Ms. Roche sometimes dresses as a famous political character to make civic lessons more memorable or uses other "special effects" to sustain student interest.

She recently told a reporter, "A good teacher is a good actress or actor. Teaching is an art. You have an audience and the audience is the students. My lessons are choreographed and they have a beginning, middle and an end."

As Maryland's Teacher of the Year, Ms. Roche has been active in advancing the image of teachers as professionals and urging education reforms that give teachers a greater voice in policy making.

She is married and the mother of two children, ages three years and six months.

The Maryland Teacher of the Year Program is sponsored by the State Department of Education and the Maryland Chamber Foundation.

The National Teacher of the Year Program is sponsored by Encyclopedia Britannica Inc., Good Housekeeping magazine and the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Free Telephone Service About Cancer Available

"We will be opening the lines of communication of the American Cancer Society, Maryland Division, today in announcing a toll-free telephone service now available to residents statewide through the cancer Response System."

By dialing 1-800-ACS-2345, Maryland residents can obtain information about cancer including cause, prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment and the services offered by the American Cancer Society.

According to Saunders, the service will not make medical recommendations and will encourage callers to discuss medical matters with their physicians. He stressed that all calls are confidential.

Volunteers from Montgomery County and surrounding areas have been recruited and trained to answer the 800 telephone line, locate the requested information through our computer system and refer callers to appropriate community services.

"We operate the system each weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., when it can be accessed by the public, and an answering service will take calls after hours," said Dorothy Kraybill of Olney, a volunteer operator on the Cancer Response System.

Mrs. Kraybill said the Cancer Response System will help the local American Cancer Society volunteers reach more people with information and programs than ever before. "There are still many people who do not know about our programs," she said, "and the Cancer Response System will refer callers in need of certain programs to our local offices where we can assist them."

Park & Wildlife Service Offers Snowmobile Tour

Snowmobile with rangers of the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service on Saturday evening, January 21. The tour will begin promptly at 7 p.m. and will showcase the Meadow Mountain Trail of Savage River State Forest.

Memorable moments will be captured on film by Jason Knott of Maryland Magazine's Outdoor Section. A feature article on the tour with full color photographs is planned for their winter '90 issue.

Assuming that four inches of snow or more is on the trail, the tour group will leave the Savage River State Forest Headquarters parking area, travel along the Meadow Mountain Trail and return to the warming hut at New Germany State Park for refreshments.

The alternate date will be January 28, at the same time and place, should snow conditions be unfavorable.

There is no charge for the tour, however, participants must provide their own snowmobile and equipment. Participants are reminded that all snowmobiles must have a valid 1989 ORV registration sticker to operate on the state forest trails.

ORV registration stickers are available during normal business hours at the New Germany State Park/Savage River State Forest Headquarters and all DNR Regional Service Centers. There is a $15 charge

New Entry On Tax Forms To Aid Bay Project

"Help Our Wildlife, Back Our Bay, Check Line 63" is the slogan of a new campaign promoting an opportunity on this year's Maryland State Tax Form. For the first time Marylanders will have a chance to contribute, through their tax form, to the Bay restoration effort and to protection programs for Maryland's threatened and endangered species.

The Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund will be the focus of a media campaign sponsored by the Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Department of Natural Resources Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, joint beneficiaries of the fund.

"The purpose of the campaign," according to the Trust's Executive Director Thomas L. Burden, "is to draw the attention of Maryland citizens to the new opportunity which was created through the hard work of Maryland conservation groups and the 1988 Maryland General Assembly." The check-off is a first for Maryland. Similar programs have provided critical support to conservation interests in 34 states.

Marylanders will be asked to check line 63 on the tax form and then write in a donation of their choice. The donation will be deducted from their refund or added to their tax payment.

"In approving the check-off opportunity, Maryland's public officials recognized the importance of the Chesapeake Bay as the State's greatest natural resource," Burden said. "It also recognized that Maryland has an obligation to future generations to work to protect the all too large number of threatened and endangered plants and animals within its borders."

"This is really a program to help us help ourselves," said Assistant Secretary Don MacLauchlan of the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service. "The check-off is a vehicle the legislature has given us to involve all Marylanders in sharing the goal of protecting our natural heritage. We hope everyone will support it."

Maryland Tax Commission Releases Report, Identifies Issues For Study

Maryland's economy has exceeded the national growth rate since 1982, and is growing faster than at any time since the early 1970s. The state's personal income and sales tax revenues have been increasing even faster than the economy. Maryland's overall state and local tax and revenue burdens are about average when compared nationally or regionally, and the burdens have been declining in recent years. There are wide variations in the levels of wealth, rates of economic growth, and relative tax burdens among the state's counties. These are among some preliminary findings in the Interim Report of the Maryland Commission on State Taxes and Tax Structures that was released today.

The Commission, created in November 1987, was charged by Governor William Donald Schaefer with "determining the basis for a new and improved relationship between the imposition and distribution of revenues and the general well-being of the entire state of Maryland." The Interim Report covers the first year of the Commission's work and its plans for the coming year.

The report states that the Commission "plans to delve into a wide variety of important issues, many of them likely to be controversial." Some of these issues include:

- The current budget policy of matching state spending growth to the rate of growth in state personal income.

- The state's direct payment of school retirement and Social Security costs.

- The criteria used for allocating shared taxes, grants-in-aid, and payments on behalf of local governments.

- The state imposed limits on the growth of local assessed property values.

- The distribution of Maryland's tax burden among various income classes.

- The local piggyback income tax.

- The personal income tax structure and rates.

The Commission's Chairman, R. Robert Linowes, characterized the report as, "laying the foundations for future Commission recommendations that will provide a plan to keep Maryland and all its local areas fiscally fit and prosperous as the state moves into the 21st Century." He said, "The Commission is determined to review the entire fiscal system and propose changes in any parts that are outdated or inequitable, even if the changes are controversial."

The Commission is planning to hold six public hearings around the state during the first half of 1989. These hearings will solicit the views of local officials, civic organizations, and the general public about the findings in the report, and about other important fiscal issues that the Commission may consider. The dates and locations for the hearings will be announced in January.

The Commission will finish its work and issue a final report by December of 1990.

Copies of the report will be available to the public after January 5 at the Commission's offices, Room 454, Goldstein Treasury Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401; phone (301) 974-2376.

Some of the specific findings in the report are as follows:

State Economy and Finances

- The Maryland gross product, after adjusting for inflation, increased by more than five percent each year from 1983 to 1987, a better growth in each year than any year going back to 1973.

- The state's total revenues increased faster than the growth in the state's personal income from 1983 to 1987.

- The state's unreserved operating surplus exceeded five percent of revenues at the end of fiscal year 1987 for the first time since 1980.

Local Economies and Finances

- Per capita incomes in 1986 ranged from a high of $24,003 in Montgomery County to a low of $10,148 in Garrett County.

- Per capita property values range from a high of $44,522 in Worcester County to $8,663 in Baltimore City. Five subdivisions have values 70 percent or less of the state average, while five have 130 percent or more.

- Welfare recipients (AFDC) were 13.5 percent of Baltimore City's population in March 1988 compared to 1.9 percent in the balance of the state.

- In 1987, Baltimore City spent $2,419 per capita for government services, or 48 percent more than the statewide average, while Talbot County spent $962 per capita, or 41 percent below the state average.

- Per capita spending increased 16.5 percent from 1980 to 1987 in Dorchester County compared to a 95.1 percent increase in Queen Anne's County.

- The 23 counties and the City of Baltimore had unreserved general fund surpluses on June 30, 1987 totaling $323.7 million, or the equivalent of 8.3 percent of their 1987 revenues. Only Baltimore City and Montgomery County had less than five percent.

- Montgomery County receives 55 percent more than the state average per capita from the piggybank income tax, while Somerset County receives 52 percent less than the average.

- Over 40 percent of the income earned in Baltimore City is taxed by the surrounding counties and not by Baltimore.

- Garrett County receives 44 percent more than the state average in per pupil current expense operating aid, while Montgomery County receives 65 percent less. But Garrett County receives 16 percent less than the average in retirement and Social Security aid, while Montgomery County receives 30 percent more than the average.

- An estimated 23 percent of all state shared tax and grant program payments in 1989 will be allocated inversely to wealth, i.e., poorer jurisdictions get more assistance, but 47 percent will be allocated in ways that give the wealthy communities more assistance.

Taxes

- Maryland state and local taxes were 11.16 percent of personal income in 1986 compared to the U.S. average of 11.27 percent. In 1976 Maryland taxes were 12.72 percent of personal income.

- Maryland's tax effort was one percent higher than the national average in 1985. In 1975, its effort was six percent higher.

- Maryland's utilization of the personal income tax is 58 percent greater than the average state's. Its sales tax utilization is 36 percent lower.

- Maryland's combined state and local income tax rate is the highest in the U.S. at the $3,001 taxable income level and the seventh highest at the $10,001 income level.

On Dean's List At Bridgewater

The dean's list for the fall term at Bridgewater College has been announced by Dr. Dale V. Ulrich, acting dean for Academic Affairs, and includes two Garrett County students.

Susan Rebecca Caruthers, a sophomore majoring in business administration and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Caruthers, Oakland, and Richard Lee Ridder, a junior majoring in physics, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Ridder, Oakland, were among those named to the list.

Students on the dean's list have attained a 3.2 or better quality point average of a possible 4.0, and are included in The National Dean's List, a publication citing academic achievement of college students nationwide.

District Court Cases Heard, One Found Not Guilty

Judge Jack Turney found a Bloomington woman to be not guilty of a charge of battery in a recent trial at Garrett County District Court.

Virginia Duckworth was found not guilty of the charge of battery filed against her by Tammy Magruder of Barton.

Magruder filed the charge of battery after an incident which took place on November 12.

David Allen Tasker, 24, Kitzmiller, was found guilty of charges of attempting to rob and conspiracy with the intent and purpose to commit robbery. Judge Turney ordered a presentence investigation.

The charges were filed by Deputy Larry Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, in relation to an incident which occurred August 28.

Charges of conspiracy with the intent and purpose to commit robbery and attempting to rob against Ronald Eugene Tasker, 28, Kitzmiller, were not prosecuted by the State's Attorney due to lack of evidence.

The charges were filed by Deputy Larry Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, in connection with an incident which occurred August 28.

David E. Butler, 25, Garrett County Jail, was found guilty of battery. He was fined $5 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Butler on 30 days supervised probation.

The charge was filed by William Thomas Sachs, Garrett County Jail, in connection with an incident which occurred October 10. Robert C. Hesson represented Butler.

Charges of battery and using a deadly weapon with the intent to injure against David C. Wilburn, 32, Grantsville, were placed on the set docket.

The charges were filed by Michael W. Wilburn, Grantsville, in connection with an incident which occurred October 23.

A charge of disorderly conduct at a school against Randy Lantz, 31, Oakland, was placed on the set docket.

The charge was filed by Clark A. Sharpless after an incident which occurred November 10 at the Dennett Road School.

Loch Lynn Church Adolescent Single Parent Program Receives Funding

"Christ In The Passover," a sermon demonstration showing how Jesus fulfilled the ancient feast of Passover, will be held on Sunday, January 8. Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church will be holding the service at 7 p.m.

"Christ In The Passover" will be conducted by the Rev. Larry Jaffrey, a speaker with ABMJ, which, according to Rev. Jaffrey is the world's most extensive ministry to God's chosen people — the Jews.

A traditional Passover seder table is set up complete with all the articles of Passover. The speaker, who will wear garments that are traditionally worn for Passover, will explain the different items of the Passover feast and give special emphasis to how they relate to the New Testament.

The unleavened bread, Passover wine, and entire program of Passover are instructive in understanding the "Last Supper" and the redemptive significance of the crucifixion. "Christ In The Passover" will serve to give the Christian community insight into the Jewish traditions so that the Jewish roots of Christianity can be better understood. "This program also helps the Jewish and Christian communities understand the common heritage that belongs to both groups," says Rev. Jaffrey.

This meeting is open to the public. Pastor Russell Hamilton and the Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church invites the Jewish community as well as the Christian community to attend. The location of the church is 107 W. Third Avenue, Loch Lynn. For more information, interested persons may telephone 334-4172.

Adolescent Single Parent Program Receives Funding

"The Caring Connection" has been chosen as the name for the New Horizon's Adolescent Single Parent Program, a grant project funded by the Maryland State Department of Vocational/Technical Education.

"The Caring Connection" has been designed to meet the needs of adolescent single parents between the ages of 16 to 21. The goal of the program is to assist adolescent single parents to complete high school, attend evening high school, or receive their GED; receive additional vocational training at Garrett Community College, and/or find employment with the help of the program's job awareness coordinator.

The following categories may be served by "The Caring Connection":

A. Single parent who is unmarried or legally separated from a spouse.
B. Adolescent who has a minor child or children for which the parent has either custody or joint custody.

C. Pregnant teens.

"The Caring Connection" is located at the McHenry Campus of GCC with office hours in conjunction with New Horizons weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Interested persons are encouraged to call 387-6666, ext. 171 for more information or to schedule an appointment with Sue Sines, Intake/Workshop coordinator for the program.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

The usual Thursday Bible Study Class was not held during the holidays but will re-convene today, January 5, with Mildred Peterson as hostess.

During the Christmas holidays Rev. Gene and Daisy Matthews entertained with a family supper. Those attending were Rev. Donald Matthews, wife, Velma, Tom, Susie, Phillip, Jim and Anna Matthews, Mildred Peterson, Keith and Ivaadine Cummings, Becky and Elaine, Mike Bernard; Boyd Johnson, Andy Snyder, Cheryl Cosner, Don and Pam Deal and daughter, John and Shelley Matthews and two children, Tom and Alice Hauser and two children, and Mike Bernard and Jodi Rush.

John Canan spent Saturday afternoon with his grandmother, Bessie Canan.

On Thursday evening a group of Amish people and the local group met in the home of Keith and Ivaadine Cummings and went Christmas carolling to the elderly and shut-ins in the community. Later they returned to the Cummings home where they had refreshments.

Tyrell Johnson, of New York, who had formerly been a Fresh Air Child in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Don Matthews returned to spend the Christmas season with the Matthews family.

Friday evening dinner guests of Carl and Sharon Savage were Mildred Peterson, Keith and Elaine Cummings, Becky and Elaine, Donnie and Connie Friend and two daughters, and Mike Bernard.

Bessie Canan spent a couple of days during Christmas in the home of her son, Milton and Dawn Canan and her grandchildren in Bittering.

Jan LeFort of Washington, D.C., spent a few days as a guest of her sister, Lorraine, and Larry Canan. They accompanied her home.

James Matthews was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland where he is under observation.

Nelle Lee and her granddaughter, Keim Hartman, of Kingwood, W.Va., were visiting Mrs. Lee's sister, Bessie Canan, on Thursday afternoon.

Ronald Beckman Jr., Cumberland, spent overnight and Christmas Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beckman Sr., Sunnyside.

Mabel Arnold was able to be a guest for dinner on Christmas evening with her son and daughter-in-law, Clayton and Phyllis Arnold, Mt. Lake Park.

ARMED SERVICES
REVIEW

Marine Gunnery Sgt. Richard W. Beckman, son of Carrie E. Lohr, Route 2, Swanton, recently reported for duty with 3rd Force Service Support Group, in Okinawa.

A 1968 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Marine corps in August 1970.

Familiar Tax
Gets New Name,
And Emphasis

"As of January 1, 1989, a familiar tax turned over a new leaf with a new name and more emphasis on one of its functions," according to Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. The 41-year-old retail sales tax became the sales and use tax and the Retail Sales Tax Division of the State Comptroller's Office became the Sales and Use Tax Division.

"The new name reflects a new emphasis on publicizing and collecting the tax on out-of-state purchases," the comptroller added, noting that the new name was mandated by a recodification of Maryland's tax law which took effect January 1, 1989. The tax rate and method of collection will remain the same.

The comptroller said his office began preparing for the increased emphasis on the use tax during 1988 by identifying types of businesses that should be paying the tax on out-of-state purchases but might be overlooking it. The tax on out-of-state purchases has been on the books as long as the sales tax. It primarily affects businesses which purchase items such as stationery, forms, office furniture, computers and word processors either directly from out-of-state vendors, by calling an "800" number or by mail order.

The tax is designed to protect Maryland vendors from unfair competition.

"We have already checked over 2,000 businesses, most in Maryland, for proper registration to collect the sales and use tax," Goldstein said. "While nearly all were properly registered, we began furnishing businesses with a likely obligation to pay the tax on out-of-state purchases with a self audit letter. During calendar year 1988, this procedure produced more than $25,000 in additional revenue. We will continue to increase our programs to identify businesses that should be paying the tax on out-of-state purchases and collect the revenue," he said.

Businesses desiring more information about the tax on out-of-state purchases can call Taxpayer Service at (301) 225-1300 in Baltimore and request Sales and Use Tax Tip #3, "Out of State Purchases."

Photography Classes
To Be Held By 4-H

Snap Sessions will be held on January 12 and 26 from 7-8:30 p.m. at the Extension Office in Oakland. These sessions are for county youths, interested in knowing more about photography.

The Snap Sessions are sponsored by the 4-H Communications Group, and will include how photography works, using flash, care of a camera and film, developing film, composing pictures, and displaying one's work. These sessions are free except for film and development. Those who have a camera should bring it along. Film is not needed the first night.

Jim Crabtree will be the instructor. Crabtree, the owner of Crabtree Photography, has been a photography judge at the Garrett County Fair and his work is permanently displayed at McDonald's.

Rams Fail In Defense Of Snowball Title; Top Huskies In Consolation

The defending Snowball Classic champions and host team, the Southern Rams, gave up their title this year, as Waynesburg, Pa., topped the Rams in an opening round game, 56-36, last Thursday and then went on to defeat Elkins in the championship contest Friday night, 56-53.

Southern won the consolation game over cross-county rival Northern, 70-57, after the Huskies' championship hopes were dashed Thursday night by Elkins, 48-41. The Rams had won the tournament the past two years.

Four Waynesburg players finished in double figures against the Rams Thursday night, led by Lance McIntire with 14 points. Tim Cook was close behind with 13 points, Brian Mudri finished with 11, and Jason Lohr added 10.

The Rams fell behind early and, although they narrowed Waynesburg's advantage to three points in the second quarter, they never took the lead. They were down 9-3 at the end of the first quarter and trailed only 20-13 at halftime, but the Pennsylvanians outscored them in the third period, 16-8, and began the fourth period with a 36-25 lead.

Richard Evick was the only Ram to reach double figures, finishing with 12 points. Zack Gibson added nine points and freshman Brett Rice finished with eight.

The Huskies played well against the heavily favored Elkins team and, after being down by as many as 10 points, went ahead, 37-36, with just 3:09 remaining in the game. However, the West Virginians scored on their next possession and sunk several free throws down the stretch to seal their victory.

Coach Dave Bender's team was down by just three after one quarter, 11-8, trailed 16-12 at halftime, and were behind 32-21 after three periods. The Huskies out-shot Elkins from the floor by a 15-13 margin, but Elkins netted 17 of 22 free throws, compared to an eight-for-13 effort by Northern.

John Sherbin paced Northern and all scorers, finishing with 24 points on nine buckets, including three three-pointers, plus three of six foul shots.

Paul Smith and Bart Shumaker led Elkins with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

In the consolation game Friday night between the Rams and the Huskies, Richard Evick ripped the nets for 31 points to lead Southern to its fifth win in eight games.

The Huskies stayed with their arch rivals during the first quarter, trailing only 12-11 when the period ended. But the Southern offense took charge and stretched the lead to 31-17 by halftime. Northern narrowed the gap slightly by the end of the third stanza, 49-40, but they could get no closer. Evick netted 19 of his points in the second half.

Also reaching the double-figure plateau for the Rams was Rice, who finished with 13 points, while Dave Yoder paced Northern with 20 points, Sherbin added 15, and Jon Houser chipped in with 11.

In the championship contest, Cook, Steve McIntire, and Lance McIntire led Waynesburg with 14, 13, and 12 points, respectively, in the three-point win over Elkins.

Brad Shumacher, 6-6, paced Elkins with 16 points while his twin brother, Bart, added 10 points.

The All-Tournament team consisted of Steve McIntire and Cook of Waynesburg, Sherbin of Northern, Evick of Southern and Brad Shumacher of Elkins.

Named Most Outstanding Player was Ryan Williams, Elkins, and Lance McIntire of Waynesburg was named the Most Valuable Player.

Waynesburg left the tournament with an 8-1 record. Elkins at 3-1, and the Huskies with a 1-6 mark.

Southern High's Jenny Hillen Now Leads Nationally-Ranked West Virginia

LEADING THE WAY for the nationally-ranked West Virginia University Women's Basketball team this year is senior guard Jenny Hillen, a 1985 graduate of Southern High School and daughter of Paul and Sue Shockey, Mtn. Lake Park. Hillen, who has been a standout for the Mountaineers for the past four years, is leading the team in scoring, and foul shooting, as well as steals, for which she is currently ranked eighth in the nation.

Only a tiny percentage of Garrett County high school athletes receive an opportunity to play Division I collegiate sports and an even smaller number of them are able to excel at that level of competition.

However, Oakland's Jenny Hillen, a 1985 graduate of Southern High School is among that elite group, as she has become one of the nation's top guards in basketball at West Virginia University.

After shattering all of Southern High's girls' basketball records including those for scoring, assists, and steals, and leading Coach Don Stemple's Rams to two regional titles and two state semi-final contests, Jenny joined the Lady Mountaineers the fall of 1985 and saw action her first year. Now a senior, she is a team captain and leads the nationally-ranked Mountaineers in scoring, steals, and foul shooting.

Having been named the Most Valuable Player for the WVU Women as a junior, Jenny is currently ranked eighth in Division I NCAA steals and holds a number of records at the University. These include most free throws made in a season (175), best single-season free throw shooting percentage (85.7), best career free throw percentage (81.9), and most steals in a season (103). She went over the 1,000-point mark in the first game of this season and is currently sixth on WVU's all-time career scoring list. She is expected to climb perhaps as high as second place on that list by the end of this season.

A selfish player, she is also currently sixth in WVU's all-time career assists rankings. Her outstanding defensive play has placed her in second place on the all-time career steals chart at WVU, a statistic that she will most likely lead by the end of the season.

Hillen has been a key figure in all eight of the Mountaineers' victories so far this season (in nine games), as she was named Most Valuable Player in the Arizona Dial Classic in early December, WVU Athlete of the Week in early December, and Atlantic 10 Player of the Week after her 24-point performance in a win over 16th ranked Western Kentucky December 18.

In the Mountaineers' most recent outing, Tuesday night at home against Penn State, Jenny recorded 14 points and numerous assists and steals in an 81-76 overtime victory. After the Nittany Lions took a 73-69 lead with one minute gone in the overtime period, it was Hillen who brought the Mountaineers back, hitting a pair of free throws, then stealing the ball and feeding teammate Rosemary Kosiorok for a breakaway layup.

The contest against Western Kentucky also went into overtime and it was Hillen again who made the difference, tying game with a 10-foot baseline jumper with just 24 seconds remaining.

"We had a fantastic game from Jenny," stated the Mountaineer coach, Scott Harrelson. "She was just dynamite. She made it all happen."

Similar descriptions of Jenny were voiced on numerous occasions by her high school coach, Don Stemple, as Jenny averaged some 30 points per game, including playoff competition, for the Southern Rams. Commenting on her present situation, Stemple said, "No Southern High School graduate has ever made such an impact on Division I collegiate athletics."

Jenny is the daughter of Paul and Sue Shockey, Mtn. Lake Park.

Persons wishing to see Jenny in action with the Mountaineers still have several opportunities to do so, as the WVU remaining home schedule is as follows: Jan. 12, Rutgers, 7 p.m.; Jan. 14, St. Joseph's, 1:30 p.m.; Jan. 26, St. Bonaventure, 5 p.m.; Jan. 28, George Washington, 1:30 p.m.; Jan. 30, Temple, 7 p.m.; Feb. 11, Duquesne, 6:30 p.m.; Feb. 23, Massachusetts, 5 p.m.; Feb. 25, Rhode Island, 1:30 p.m.

First Male Drum Major At Northern Concludes With A Winning Season

The first male drum major in the history of the Northern High marching band recently completed his first—and last—year with flying colors.

Darren Wilburn, Grantsville, who played saxophone for three years in the Northern concert band before becoming drum major his senior year, pulled down three individual "Best Drum Major" awards in the following major competitions

Grantsville.

Wilburn attended three days of band leadership training at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, last July.

An honor student at Northern, Darren is a member of the National Honor Society. He received the "Outstanding Male Student of the Year Award" at Northern for 1986-87, won the History Award in 1987-88, and has been on the Distinguished Honor Roll.

He is presently a teacher's aide and has served on the Student Council. He belongs to Cherry Grove Church of the Brethren, where he is actively involved with local and district youth, presently serving as secretary-treasurer of the local organization and president of the Cumberland Area Youth.

The son of James and Wilma Wilburn, Main St., Grantsville, Darren is employed by the Casselman Restaurant. He plans to attend Frostburg State University next fall.

Video, Pharmacy Record Upsets In League Action

Video Connection and Deep Creek Pharmacy, tied for third place in the Northern Division of the Mountaintop Basketball League, ambushed the Southern Division leaders at Garrett Community College this past Thursday. Video Connection toppled previously undefeated Miners & Merchants Bank, 110-94, and Deep Creek Pharmacy followed that with a 64-59 overtime win over second-place Buffalo Coal.

Dean Marsico and John Kruk combined for 27 fourth-quarter points to carry Video Connection over the Miners. The Connection, holding a 70-66 lead at the end of the third quarter, went to the outside game as Marsico and Kruk continuously hit from 15 to 18 feet. Jim Spear added nine points in the fourth quarter, all off of offensive rebounds. Kruk finished with 47 points and Marsico had 35 for The Connection. Jerry Meyers netted 24 points and Allan Strawser added 21 for Miners & Merchants.

Deep Creek Pharmacy tied its game at the buzzer when Mike Fazzenbaker's follow-up rebound spun in the hoop and dropped through. The Pharmacy then went on to defeat Buffalo Coal in the overtime period.

With 20 seconds to go, Mike McLaughlin sunk both ends of a one-and-one to put Buffalo up, 55-52. Max Hill hit a 21-footer for three points to tie the score with 10 seconds left in the game. McLaughlin then raced up court, only to be fouled with four seconds on the clock. He again hit both ends of his one-and-one to put Buffalo up, 57-55. The Pharmacy got a long inbound pass into Darrel Duppert, 35 feet from the bucket. His errant shot was rebounded by Fazzenbaker, who put it up and in at the buzzer.

Max Hill's three pointer to start off the overtime period was all the Pharmacy would need, as they held Buffalo to only two points in the overtime period. Duppert lead the Pharmacy with 24 points, and Hill and Jerry Herpel scored 12 points each, with eight of Herpel's points coming in the fourth quarter. Mike Saturday had 21 points for Buffalo Coal and Tom Panther added 14.

In other action, A & A Realty and Ferrell's Mart re-wrote the record books as A & A bombed Ferrell's, 154-102. This easily eclipsed the probable record set previously this year by Martin's Auto and Video Connection in which 230 points were scored. Ken Niner finished with 55 points for A & A, while Steve Liller netted 32 points and his brother, Kevin, added 30 to the winning cause. Mel Evans scored 34 points to lead Ferrell's.

Durst Exxon moved within striking range of the Southern leaders with an 85-72 win over The Body Firm. Norm Minnick scored 22 points for Durst and Tom Bullhuck also hit 22 points to lead The Firm.

Evick Leads Rams To Victory Over Falcons, 57-50

A 19-point, 10-rebound, eight-steal performance by Richard Evick Tuesday night led the Southern Rams to a 57-50 come-from-behind victory over the visiting Frankfort Falcons. The win gave the Rams a 6-3 mark for the season which they will take to Northern this Friday night.

The Falcons led Coach Oren Yoder's squad at the end of the first quarter, 13-9, and stretched their advantage to 32-13 by halftime. However, a man-to-man defense by the Rams in the third period frustrated the visitors and held them to just four points in that period while the Rams netted 14, giving them a 37-36 edge going into the final stanza.

Frankfort was forced to foul repeatedly in the fourth quarter, but the Rams capitalized on most of their opportunities, making good on 18 of 25 attempts in that period and 22 of 33 for the game. Frankfort outgunned the Rams from the floor by a 23-17 margin, but had only four opportunities at the foul line, connecting on three of them.

Zack Gibson finished with 14 points and Joe Refosco chipped in with 10 points for Southern, while Greg Hanna paced Frankfort with 14.

The loss dropped the Falcons to 3-3 on the season.

In the preliminary contest the Frankfort junior varsity topped the Southern jayvees, 54-37, behind a 21-point effort by Chris Eckard. Matt Hill led Southern with 10 points.

Northern Steelers Honored At Annual Banquet, Hear Terrapin John Rugg

The Champions of the Mountain Top Youth Football League, the Northern Steelers, held their Annual Awards Dinner Banquet recently at the Holiday Inn in Grantsville.

After dinner, Steeler Coach Larry Brenneman introduced the featured speaker, John Rugg, starting center and right guard for the University of Maryland. He spoke to the over 150 persons in attendance about the importance of keeping good grades and studying while participating in sports. Rugg spoke from experience, as he maintains the highest grade point average on the Terrapin football team. He stressed that the friendships he has made, and the lessons he has learned in sports, have had a lasting effect on his life. After seeing a fellow player, (a pro prospect) suffer a career threatening injury, he said he realized that there was, indeed, a life after a sports career. His talk was an inspiration to both the youth and the adults present.

Northern High School Football Coach Tom Vent congratulated the Steelers and the coaches on their undefeated season, and said he is looking forward to having these students at Northern High School.

Coach Brenneman thanked all those who helped in any way to make this the Steelers' best season in 10 years. Each of the coaches thanked the parents and the players for their "great effort" during the season.

Awards were presented to the outstanding players, including: Best 10-year-olds, Andy Brenneman and Joey Layman; Best 11-year-old, Ryan Folk; Best 12-year-old, Alan Sebald; Best Offensive Player, Derek Mason; Best Defensive Player, Billy Younk; Best Lineman, Bobby Fritz; Most Improved, Chris Rowe; and Most Valuable Players, Larry Wakefield and Allen Bittinger.

The two MVPs also received a complimentary Blue/Gray football game ball.

Besides these trophies, each player received an individual championship trophy and a championship jacket, bought through funds donated by area businesses and individuals. The Jack Lear Memorial Trophy, given annually to the League Champion by the Mountain Top Youth Football League, was also presented to the team by Coach Brenneman. The team also received its own championship trophy that will be permanently kept at Northern Middle School.

Awards were also given to those girls who were cheerleaders for the Steelers the past year. All of the cheerleaders also received championship jackets.

The evening ended with John Rugg signing autographs and the team autographing the championship game ball that will be kept with the trophies at Northern Middle.

Snowflake Races Stated At Big Run State Park

The 3rd annual Snowflake Chasers footraces will be held Saturday, January 21, at 10:30 a.m., at the Big Run State Park in Garrett County.

The Upper Potomac Jaycees have scheduled five- and ten-mile runs, as well as a half-marathon (13.1 miles) on an out-and-back course along the scenic Savage River Road.

The races will be run simultaneously, beginning and ending at BJ's Store, which is located one mile north of the Big Run State Park camping area.

Trophies will be awarded to the first male and female finishers in each race. Awards will also be presented to winners in the Master's Division, which is for participants over 40 years of age.

After the race, a random drawing for prizes will be held, a video of the race will be shown, refreshments will be served, and awards presented.

According to race officials, over 50 runners have already registered for this growing event. New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, and Maryland are states that are thus far represented in the pack of runners.

Applications are available at Tennis Gear and Running Center in downtown Cumberland, Arts N Letters on Centre Street, and at Shipley's at the Country Club Mall. Registration will be held on race day beginning at 9 a.m. at BJ's Store. For further information, persons should phone 359-3770.

Huskies Flatten Hyndman And Keyser To Maintain Undefeated Status

The Northern High varsity wrestling team remained undefeated Tuesday night by crushing Hyndman, 57-12, and then topping Keyser, 35-21, in a triangular meet at the Cove.

Keyser rolled over Hyndman, 60-9, in the other match.

The victories give Coach Lynn Brenneman's squad, champions of a nine-team tournament in Morgantown, a 4-0 record in dual meets.

Brent Yoder's individual season record in the 125-pound class is now 7-0, while teammate Jerry Durst upped his record to 4-0 in the 160-pound division.

The Huskies will travel to Oakland this evening to take on the Southern Rams in a 7:30 clash.

In Northern's win over Hyndman, gaining pin victories were: Yoder (125), Blair Bittinger (135), Dave Swauger (140), Nate Emory (145), Ed

The next meeting will be held at the home of Shirley Hardesty.

4-H CLUB CAROLS

The Travelers 4-H Club went caroling in the Cranestown area on December 17. It was a blustery winter evening and distance between homes made it necessary for the group to travel in a convoy of four-wheel-drive vehicles.

Following the outing, the club members gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sisler for a meeting and Christmas gift exchange.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Becky Sanders. Jennifer West led the American and 4-H Pledges. Mike Sanders led devotions.

The president reminded everyone that $1 for club insurance was due. It was decided that the members should pay for their insurance.

Leader Judy West noted that anyone who is interested in making a poster should let her know by the next meeting.

A backpacking visual will be shown at the next meeting, also, parliamentary procedure will be explained.

The gift exchange followed adjournment. The next meeting will be held January 26 at the Faith United Methodist Church.

Those participating in the evening activities were members, Charlie McCray, Zeb and Elizabeth Lewis, Jennifer and William West, Ben and Jason Grose, Benji Sines, Daphne Collins, Rhonda and Alan Metheny, Annette and Dianna Sisler, Becky and Mike Sanders, Darl and Melissa Roy, Jamie Whetsell, Brian Teets and Joleen O'Brien.

Adults and guests present were Mary Ellen Sanders, Judy West, George and Nancy Sisler, Darlene Roy, Sarah Metheny, Stanley and Nancy Teets, Bill and Patti Grose, John Grose, David and Cathy Sisler, Mary Roy and Daniel Teets.

Interment was in the Accident (W.Va.) Cemetery. She is survived by her husband, Everett Shaffer, three children and eight grandchildren, all of Ohio; also her mother, Eurith Judy; a brother, Robert Judy, and sister, Kathryn Corbin, all of Horse Shoe Run.

Homer Myers was able to return Thursday evening to his home in Aurora from Monongalia General Hospital. Staying with Mrs. Myers and visiting at the hospital have been his daughter, Mary Teets of Springfield, Va., and his son Jim of Herndon, Va.

Mrs. Janice Forman, Amboy, was admitted last week to Garrett Memorial Hospital.

Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Parsons in Eglon were John and Janet Judy of Horse Shoe Run, John and Shirley Parsons, Leonard and Steve and Cheryl Chambers, and George and Rhonda White of Abington, Md. On Wednesday afternoon and evening their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Both and two children of the Dayton, Ohio, vicinity and Joann Fissel of Downingtown, Pa.

Christmas weekend guests and Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets at their Silver Lake home were all of their children, Don and "Betsy" Shepherd, and children of Salem, Va., Merlin and Martha Reish and family of Harrisonburg, Va., Scott and Sharon Teets of Knoxville, Tenn., Mark and LaDeana Teets of Eglon, Cecil and Bernice Winters of Kingwood.

Visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets at Aurora were Alan and Mary Teets of Springfield, Va., and Greta, Kristi and Andy Weeks of Claymont, Del.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Winters at Eglon from Thursday to Sunday were their daughter and son-in-law and their children of Scottsville, Ky.

Robert Fint of Hawaii made a short visit in this area Tuesday. He is spending the holidays here with his parents, Glenn and Irene Fint, near Moorefield and visiting with other relatives.

Kirk and Anita Lantz and their children made a holiday week visit to the Baltimore area where they visited Mrs. Lantz's sisters, Twila Watring, Marilyn Bachman and daughters, and also visited at Westminster with another sister, Shirleen, and Paul Hincin and her sons, Maynard and Bonnylin Lantz.

Crellin Family Left Homeless By Monday Fire

Oakland and Terra Alta volunteer fire fighters were called to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wildesen at 11:33 a.m. and, upon their arrival, discovered heavy smoke coming from the structure. An interior attack was made by the firemen and the blaze was brought under control in about one-half hour. However, heat and smoke damage was extensive in the second floor of the house and holes had to be cut in the roof in order to fight the flames which had made their way to that attic.

According to an Oakland VFD spokesman, the fire originated around the coal furnace flue and burned up through the center of the house. Harold and Chris Wildesen and their three children — Tara, 16, Andrew, 12, and Jonathan, 6 — were not at home at the time; however Don Little, a local electrician, was doing work in the house when he heard one of the smoke alarms sound. He went to a neighbor's house to call 911 for assistance.

It was feared that the family's two dogs, Sheeba and Lady, were killed in the blaze, but both were found alive by firefighters in a corner of the furnace room, long after the fire was brought under control. The two dogs nearly died yesterday as a result of lung congestion, but Wildesen later reported that the condition of both had improved by yesterday afternoon.

Wildesen said he had $47,000 of insurance on the house and $32,000 coverage on the contents, but suspected that the loss would amount to more than that. He said that he has been advised to have the 50-plus-year-old structure razed.

Wildesen said he and his family have been "overwhelmed" by the outpouring of assistance and support since the fire.

"There have been so many people, many of whom we don't

WORDS OF SUPPORT were offered to Chris Wildesen by friends and neighbors Monday after fire caused major damage to her home in Crellin. Oakland and Terra Alta volunteer firefighters were called to the scene at 11:33 a.m. and worked for nearly three hours to make sure the blaze was fully extinguished. Although the house and most of its second floor contents were virtually destroyed, firemen were able to salvage most of the family's property in the downstairs of the house. Feared dead but later found alive in the house were the Wildesen family's two dogs. The fire was apparently caused by the coal furnace or the flue attached to the furnace. See story.

State Being Asked To Help Fund Acid Rain Control Testing Facility

State funding is being sought to conduct the first full-scale test of a new acid rain control technology, which, if successful, would help promote the use of Western Maryland's high sulfur content coal. Acid rain is considered responsible for damaging freshwater lakes and forests in Canada and New England and has recently been recognized as a factor in the decline of the Chesapeake Bay.

If the state would approve $12.5 million in funding for the project to match the $12.5 million matching funds to be provided by private industry, that total would match the $25 million grant applied for from the federal Department of Energy, and the testing technology could be mounted on a coal-fired power plant owned by Potomac Edison on the Potomac River near Hagerstown.

Also involved in the grant application and testing are W.R. Grace Company's Maryland division and MK-Ferguson Company, the designer and contractor. NOXSO, a small research and development company based in Library, Pa., is also involved, having patented a technology that uses alumina beads made by W.R. Grace's Davidson Chemical Division in Curtis Bay to absorb 90 percent of the sulfur and nitrogen oxides in coal plant smoke before it goes up the stacks.

The $50 million demonstration project would be the first time any Maryland utility has installed equipment to control the emission of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides, pollutants that cause acid rain. "I think it has some potential merit," said Allegany County Delegate Casper R. Taylor Jr. Taylor said he may consider introducing legislation that would raise the environmental surcharge on electric bills across the state to produce the revenue needed to support the project. The monthly surcharge now is 12 cents for most residential customers. "I think it would be a feather in Maryland's cap to be out front on this environmental issue," he said.

Taylor said he believes the surcharge, which is designed to pay for such projects, is the best alternative, as does James Peck, an assistant secretary at the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

Peck reported that the state's utilities have been opposed to the surcharge for years, apparently because they believe customers see the surcharge as a rate increase rather than funding for environmental projects.

For example, Baltimore Gas & Electric Company issued a short statement this week that said, "We do not support any increase in the environmental surcharge for this project."

Without the support of Maryland utilities, Peck said, the state will not push for the project.

Local Lawmakers Prepare For The 1989 Session

The battle between Governor Wm. Donald Schaefer and the legislature over money could affect Garrett and Allegany county lawmakers' plans for the 1989 session that began yesterday.

The local lawmakers' agenda for the session consists of obtaining money for the construction of the proposed Rocky Gap resort and golf course; creating a fund which will assist communities with water and sewer needs; and acquiring extra money for the scenic railroad from Cumberland to Frostburg.

According to Delegate George Edwards, local projects might be held up if the executive and legislative branches' energy is exhausted.

State Land Law Discussion Gets "Heated" At Times

An attempt by the administration and the Department of Natural Resources to repeal a 1986 law which limits the state from obtaining any additional land in Garrett County, without first releasing an equal amount of state-owned land in the county for sale was the topic of a meeting held last night in Annapolis.

Those attending the meeting from the Department of Natural Resources were Department Secretary Torrey C. Brown, Department Deputy Secretary John R. Griffin, Assistant Secretary Michael J. Nelson, along with a legislative liaison. From Garrett County, Garrett County Commissioners Ernest Gregg, Elwood Groves II, and John Braskey, County Administrator Robert Fousek, Senator John N. Bambacus and Delegate George C. Edwards attended.

According to Del. Edwards, the meeting was a "very good starting point. We openly and thoroughly discussed the issue," he said. He added that "everything was laid on the table," and although at times the meeting grew very heated, he is optimistic that an agreeable compromise can be reached.

As a result of last night's meeting, the issue will be discussed with Governor William Donald Schaefer. The Department of Natural Resources officials will then bring the governor's thoughts and suggestions to another meeting with Garrett officials sometime next week.

Several Mishaps Caused By Icy Road Conditions

A winter storm which brought snow, sleet, and freezing rain to the county on Friday caused numerous area vehicle accidents, including a head-on collision near Keyser's Ridge and a four-car crash near Oakland.

According to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, a collision between a pickup truck and a car occurred shortly after 5 p.m. on U.S. Route 40, three miles west of Keyser's Ridge.

Police said Anthony J. Aubrey, 27, Glen Burnie, was operating a 1977 Dodge Aspen, as he was traveling east. The vehicle slid across the center line and collided head-on with a 1985 Dodge Ram driven by Harold D. Fearer Sr., 43, Bruceton Mills, W.Va.

Both drivers and a passenger in each vehicle, Harold Fearer Jr., 7, also of Bruceton Mills; and Darla Dapra, 20, Glen Burnie, were taken to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. A hospital spokesman reported that all four persons were admitted to the hospital and later discharged.

The incident was investigated by Tfc. L. Rosage, who charged

Bloodmobile To Visit Oakland

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its regular visit to Oakland on Friday, January 20, according to Lucy Burnette, Blood Service chairman for the Garrett County Red Cross Chapter. Blood will be collected at the National Guard Armory in Oakland from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The goal of the visit is 175 pints.

Mrs. Burnette noted that persons who are from age 17 to 69, in generally good health, and weighing at least 110 pounds may give blood.

She added that the region's blood supply is always taxed during holiday seasons, but emphasized that the need for blood is constant year round.

All blood collected in the 26-county American Red Cross Blood Services Johnstown, Pa., region, including Garrett County, is returned to the blood center in Johnstown for testing to detect hepatitis B virus, syphilis, HIV antibody, risk factors for non-A, non-B hepatitis, and atypical antibodies.

Blood is also typed to determine ABO and Rh blood types, processed into various components, and prepared for distribution to the 54 hospitals in the region.

Commissioners Clarify Status Of Bond Issue

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners this week prepared a letter for the Garrett County Board of Education clarifying the current status of their request for issuing bonds to fund several capital projects, including the renovation of Southern High School. The letter also presented several questions concerning the education board's request.

The letter states, "We are in the process of reviewing the alternative concept of funding Board of Education major capital projects through the issuance of bonds. This method as you are all aware is a deviation from this board's 'pay as you go' policy. Because of this possible change in financial direction, we must once again ask whether or not the Southern High School renovation project can either be scaled down or reconfigured to accommodate local affordability? We only wish to reiterate our firm commitment to work in harmony with the Board of Education for the benefit of the county and our citizens."

The letter noted that the commissioners are currently unanimous on two issues. "First, if we decide to go with the bonding concept, we will not do so without a referendum. Secondly, we will not consider bonding for other noneducation projects, but continue the existing county policy of 'pay as you go' basis."

During previous discussions with the Board of Education, the commissioners were given cost estimates for the consolidation of Loch Lynn and Red House Elementary Schools and the creation of a new Lynn Valley Elementary School, which would facilitate the consolidation. The letter went on, "If the Lynn Valley Elementary School is to be considered...to be included in a bond issue referendum, when will the school board make the decision to consolidate? What is the procedure and time frame for such a consolidation? Is there a guaranteed level of state funding in the year(s) that such activity would occur?"

The commissioners also noted, "Another issue that has been discussed is the cost associated with a special election versus conducting a referendum during the next regularly scheduled General Election, November 9, 1990, when maximum voter participation can be expected and the cost of conducting a special election can be saved. We

World Whitewater Championships Plans Revealed At Special Briefing

At a special briefing last Thursday afternoon at the Grantsville Holiday Inn, Senator John N. Bambacus briefed federal and state delegates, county commissioners, mayors, and members of the media representing Allegany and Garrett counties on plans for the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships to be held on the Savage River June 11-25.

"This international event will have a profound beneficial impact on our area culturally and economically both this year and long term," Bambacus told those in attendance. The Championships are expected to attract thousands of visitors, dignitaries, members of the press, volunteers and athletes from this country and around the world. Some 600 athletes representing 30 countries, including Russia, are expected to participate. The event will be televised nationwide on NBC Sports World.

The World Championships will provide the centerpiece for a two-week long "Whitewater Festival—89" during which many activities and special events planned by communities and organizations throughout the area will take place to entertain residents and visitors. A prelude to the Championships will be the "89 World's Flag Flotilla," an epic journey up the Potomac River some 300 miles by sail and paddle craft carrying the International Canoe Federation Flag to Opening Ceremonies at Frostburg State University. The Flotilla will depart St. Mary's City on May 27 with tall sailing ships led by the Dove. It will travel in 19 daily stages via various water craft to Cumberland, from which point the flag will be transported by wagon train to Frostburg.

The opening ceremonies at Frostburg State University will feature the World renowned

Community Meetings Are Scheduled By Local Legislators

Senator John N. Bambacus will join Delegate George C. Edwards for two community meetings in Garrett County this Saturday, January 14.

Citizens are urged to attend the meeting in their area to discuss any issues or concerns important to them or to suggest legislation.

The first meeting is set for 9 a.m. in room 112 of Southern High School, followed by an 11 a.m. meeting in the cafeteria of Northern High School.

Marine Drum and Bugle Corps, a 400 voice chorus under the direction of Paul Hill, the parade of world athletes, and an international foodfest with musical entertainment.

Events scheduled throughout the Garrett and Allegany County during the festival will include art shows, theatrical productions, musical performance, a street dance featuring the popular Hubcaps, and a major fireworks display. A "Whitewater Special" train to bring dignitaries and other spectators from the Baltimore-Washington area to the races is also in the works.

"We are making a concerted effort to plan an enjoyable and pleasant experience for those who participate in these festivities to show all that Western Maryland has to offer," Bambacus said.

The Championship races, to be held June 17, 18, 23, 24, and 25, will feature the world's best athletes competing for the gold and, for some, a position in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. Spectators can again travel to the race site by "Whitewater Express" trains from Cumberland and Oakland.

Oakland Mayor Explains O&M Sewerage Bill

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland will be mailing out new water bills next week and on those bills will be an operation and maintenance (O&M) charge for the town's new sewerage system now in operation.

Mayor Asa McCain explained that the O&M charge is to cover the cost of operation and maintenance of the Waste Water Management Department. The operation portion of the charge covers employees' salaries, utilities, equipment, chemicals, and training, while the maintenance portion covers the cost of repairing and replacing of the collection system (sewer lines) and treatment plant components.

The mayor said that the O&M charge for the new system to town residents is $5 for every 1,000 gallons of water used. For non-metered customers, the charge will be $220 per year, or $55 per quarter, which is the average residential usage in the town.

McCain noted that customers can lower their O&M bills simply by conserving water. "A one-minute shower saves the average family 1,000 gallons

WHITewater SPONSOR — Richard O. Stanton, president of First United National Bank & Trust, announced this week that the bank will be an official sponsor for the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships to be held on the Savage River June 11 to 25. First United will be the exclusive sponsor representing a financial institution. A major focus of the sponsorship will be a special street dance with music by the Hubcaps, a popular 50's dance band. The dance will be held the evening of June 24 in front of the Holiday Inn in Cumberland. The street dance, the last major social activity hosted in Allegany County during the championships, will be open to the public. Stanton said, "First United is proud to be a part of the 1989 World Whitewater Championships. We look forward to working with Senator John Bambacus and his Whitewater staff. This will be a wonderful opportunity to show others the benefits offered in our local community." Stanton is pictured above, left, presenting the check to Bambacus, president of Whitewater Championships, Inc.

HEAD-ON COLLISION — Four persons were injured in this two-car crash which occurred early Friday evening on U.S. Route 40 near Keyser's Ridge. The crash involved a car and a pickup truck, and was blamed on freezing rain. Taken to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad were Harold D. Fearer Sr., 43, and Harold D. Fearer Jr., 7, both of Bruceton Mills, W.Va.; and Anthony J. Aubrey, 27, and Darla Dapra, 20, both of Glen Burnie. All four persons were admitted to the hospital and later discharged, according to a spokesman there.

Storytelling Festival Scheduled At FSU; Dr. Herman Is Coordinator

Schools have an opportunity to encourage interested students to become part of the oral tradition by participating in a storytelling festival called "A Tapestry of Talent." Scheduled to be held March 18 at the Lane Center of Frostburg State University (10:30 a.m.-4 p.m.), the festival will bring together students (grades 1-12) from schools throughout Western Maryland.

Registration forms and information may be obtained by writing the Festival Coordinator, Dr. Gail N. Herman, Education Department, Frostburg State University, Frostburg, Md. 21532. Each school may send a limited number of storytellers as registered participants. In addition, observers may attend the afternoon main stage storytelling event.

The March 18 activities for registered participants will include performances and workshops with professionals, story sharing circles with students from other schools, and a chance for some students to tell on the main stage to the large audience. Adult volunteers are needed to assist with the administration of the Festival Day.

Each participating school is asked to provide an audience for students to share their stories in their own community or school prior to the March 18th Festival. "This practice helps to develop confidence and stage presence," Dr. Herman said. A packet of helpful coaching hints may be requested upon registration. Teachers of language arts, reading, the gifted and talented, librarians, and community volunteers are especially invited to register a school, to coach students, and to arrange a school or community performance before March 18. A parent may bring the students to the festival or help with coaching. The festival is co-sponsored by Frostburg State University and RESA. Additional donations and funding are being sought as matching grants are involved.

The Tapestry of Talent storytelling event will include three lecture/demonstrations called "The History and Significance of Storytelling," "Collecting and Telling Family and Folk Tales." The presentations will be conducted by Dr. Herman, a professional storyteller and part-time faculty member at Frostburg State University and West Virginia University.

The first lecture/demonstration will be held at Garrett Community College, McHenry, on Friday, January 20, 1:30-3:30 p.m., in Rm. 010. Registration is necessary because of space limitations. Interested persons should call 387-9199.

Two other workshops are being arranged in Allegany and Washington counties. Adults wishing to volunteer to help with the Storytelling Festival are welcome.

Bloodmobile Visit To Grantsville Nets 141 Pints

A special visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Grantsville last Thursday netted 141 units of blood for the Johnstown Region of the American Red Cross, according to Lela Bender, Red Cross Blood Services chairman for Northern Garrett County. Seven more persons were deferred for various reasons.

Persons becoming gallon donors were Phyllis Deal, Lori Yoder, George Guthrie, Rufus Yoder, Joan Upole, and Genevieve Miller. Receiving two-gallon pints were Beulah Thomas, Karen Broadwater, Sandra Hutzell, and Elizabeth Durst. John Fischer and Joel Miller received three-gallon pints and Harold L. Maust completed his fifth gallon.

Volunteer nurses assisting were Mildred Yoder, Joye Yoder, Bonnie Heatwole, Rhoda Maust, Chris Maust, Rachel Miller, Freda Maust, and Alice Orendorf.

Other volunteers were Debbie Haning, Rosie Miller, Claudine Opel, Esther Opel, Mabel Brennenman, Lois Bender, Lois Durst, Glenda Yoder, Mary Opel, Alice Younkin, Hilda Sturtz, Lulu Brown, Phyllis Durst, Huldah Beeman, Ruth Horning, Raymond J. Yoder, Mark Tice, and Menno Yoder.

Milk and orange juice were donated by Potomac Farms Dairy and Buckel's Market.

Governor Battles Legislators Over Spending Limits

An old adage claims that "money alone sets the world in motion." Well, it definitely set the Maryland General Assembly in motion yesterday at noon, when the 1989 session got off to an official start.

The hot issue for this 90-day session seems to be the budget. The legislators are battling with Governor William Donald Schaefer over money. The governor wants to spend and legislative leaders want to limit spending.

According to fiscal experts, there will be a surplus of $400 million or more when the state fiscal year ends next June 30. The discovery of this revenue has had people, especially Gov. Schaefer, developing ideas on how to spend it. But legislative leaders have different ideas, such as spending limits that would maintain a large sum of the revenue for protection against a possible drop in the economy during 1989 or 1990.

The creation of these self-imposed spending limits has prompted a defiant response from Gov. Schaefer. On January 18 he will present his budget in which he proposes spending more money than the legislature has recommended.

Gov. Schaefer said that he played by the legislature's rules concerning limits last year when he created the budget and they still took $100 million. The legislative leaders insist that these self-imposed limits have kept Maryland's budget out of the red and preserved the state's triple-A bond rating.

Gov. Schaefer continually argues that the limits are illusory and misdirected. Therefore the governor has threatened to ignore the limits and he has promised, if he gets the opportunity, to put new or additional money into social programs and construction of schools, state buildings, and campus projects. Schaefer's summary of his campaign for this year is "funding for higher education and people."

If the governor follows through with his plan, the General Assembly will be left with some very unpopular choices to make. They can cut the appropriations, trim the budget in other places, or allow their own spending limits to be surpassed.

Whatever the outcome of the battle, it proves to make an interesting session for 1989 in Maryland. Other issues to watch for during the session follow.

Covered Loads

This issue concerns a bill that would require truckers to cover loads. This issue has been around for more than 20 years, but it appears that 1989 will be the year the legislature finally takes action. A bill addressing some of the trucking industry's objections to this proposal has already been drafted.

Confiscation of License

This is a popular item in the session, which deals with a bill that would give police officers the authority to seize the drivers' license of any motorists refusing to take a blood alcohol test or anyone who registers .10 on the blood-alcohol scale.

If a motorist's license is confiscated, the driver will receive a slip of paper that allows him to continue driving until a hearing officer at the Motor Vehicle Administration decides whether or not his license will be suspended.

Insurance Laws

This might be the year for insurance reform in Maryland. One goal of the legislature is to get rid of a four-year-old law that permits insurance companies to set rates without prior approval from the state.

Gov. Schaefer is supposedly going to back a bill that will extend this law for an additional five years.

Interstate Banking

Legislators are taking another look at interstate banking because Governor Schaefer is asking for banking restrictions to be removed in three more states — Michigan, New Jersey, and Ohio. The governor is also seeking legislation to open Maryland up to national interstate banking in the year 1995.

Patuxent Issue

Everyone has been talking about the major changes that need to be made at Patuxent Institution. The prison is known for handing out a great deal of furloughs and paroles, which is probably going to change. Also it is likely that violent offenders will not be sent to Patuxent in the future.

Prison officials and state residents will find it interesting to see how far the governor and legislators go towards changing Patuxent into a regular prison.

Drugs and Alcohol

Governor Schaefer's major emphasis is on an assault on drug "kingpins." He is proposing stiffer penalties for offenders and a series of bills that will create tougher drug laws concerning minors and "drug-free school zones."

The governor hopes to establish fines up to $500,000 for drug distributors; give the state the authority to seize any property that is obtained with money earned from selling illegal drugs; make selling drugs within 1,000 feet of a school or on a school bus a separate crime; make it illegal to use minors for the purpose of running drugs; authorize the testing of drivers who are suspected of being under the influence of illegal drugs; and suspend the driver's license of any person who is convicted of violating any drug laws.

Mtn. Lake Man Sentenced For Battery Charge

A Mtn. Lake Park man was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer during a recent trial in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Kenneth L. Stinson, 30, appealed the case, which involved a battery charge, from District Court, where he was found guilty and sentenced to one year in the Department of Corrections.

Stinson pled guilty to the charge, which was filed by Daina R. VanMeter, of Oakland, following an April 30 incident there.

Stinson was represented by Michael W. Shay.

Several Thefts Under Police Investigation

Several thefts and destruction of property incidents are under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment this week.

Edward M. Kubasiwicz, Alexandria, Va., reported that a juvenile threw a bottle through the windshield of his 1988 Honda Prelude while it was parked at the Wisp Resort last weekend.

Toby J. Fominaya, Upper Marlboro, reported that his skis and bindings were removed from the Wisp ski area on Saturday. Total losses reached $390.

Frank Miguel, Columbia, reported that his skis and bindings, valued at $175, were also removed from the ski area on Saturday. Both men reported that the skis were left beside the door to McHenry House.

Peter J. Franczyk Jr., Fairchance, Pa., reported that three tires on his vehicle were slashed while it was parked in front of the Wisp Motel early Sunday morning.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, who investigated the report, noted that there is a suspect in the case and the investigation is continuing.

Katherine H. Rives, Silver Spring, reported that four hubcaps were removed from her 1966 Ford Mustang while it was parked at Hilltop Exxon, near Grantsville, on Thursday or Friday.

A destruction of property was reported at the Youghiogheny Scenic Overlook on Route 48.

According to police reports, the incident occurred in the early morning hours on January 5. The culprits reportedly spray-painted all the interior fixtures in the restrooms.

Police reported that charges are pending in a theft which occurred at Garrett Community College on January 3. According to reports, someone entered the locked library and removed $173.39.

Police noted that charges are pending in the incident.

Ms. Zietak To Be Participant In Ms. Senior Event

Marguerite Zietak, Accident, will compete in the Senior America of Maryland, Inc. Sixth Annual Ms. Senior Maryland Pageant to be held January 26. The purpose of the pageant is to select the most outstanding Maryland senior lady to represent the state at the Ms. Senior America Finals in Atlantic City, N.J., in April.

Each contestant will participate in a five-minute individual interview with a panel of judges, parade before an audience in an evening gown of her choice, present a talent acquired during her lifetime to a live audience of her peers; and present her philosophy of life based on her experiences. The winner, selected by a panel of judges, will receive an all-expense paid trip to Atlantic City to compete in the national pageant.

Ms. Zietak is active in the Accident community and involved in the Flowery Vale Senior Center in Accident, which is sponsored by the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., and the Area Agency on Aging.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Several D.O.P.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating several incidents of destruction of property which occurred over the past week, including the release of water from storage tanks at the Bloomington Water Association.

Ron Smith, Bloomington Water Association, reported an incident which apparently occurred between December 25 and 27.

Unknown person or persons climbed on top of two 30 foot tanks, removed the manhole coverings and opened valves, releasing 110,000 gallons of water. The water, valued at $1 per 100 gallons, had an estimated value of $11,000.

Deputy D.M. Stoner is investigating the incident.

Michael Alan Crosby, Deer Park, reported that someone damaged windows and an electric service meter at his home on the Steyer Mine Road.

Apparently, during the day of January 8, unknown person or persons broke out six windows, a storm window and an electric service meter. Damage is estimated at $430. Nothing was taken from the home.

Deputy R.L. Sines is continuing the investigation.

Deputy L.E. Gnegy is investigating an incident which occurred on the Crellin Mine Road on the morning of January 8.

According to reports, an unknown person or persons did damage to several mailboxes along the Crellin Mine Road.

The investigation is continuing.

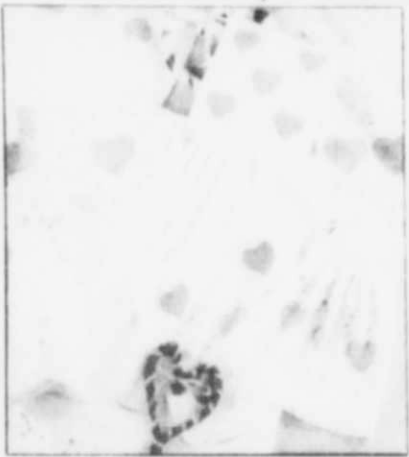

Deputy R.P. Shaffer is investigating a mailbox that was stolen on the Blue Goose Road in Friendsville.

Rita Mae Robinson reported that the mailbox was taken during the night of Wednesday, January 4.

A Pepsi machine at the Accident Amoco on Rt. 219 sustained damage when unknown person or persons attempted to pry open the door of the machine over the night of Friday, January 6. Damage occurred to the frame and selection buttons of the machine.

Deputy L.E. Gnegy is investigating the incident.

Maryland State Travel Seminar Held At Wisp

The annual Maryland State Travel Information Centers Seminar was held January 4-6 at the Wisp Resort, McHenry.

Travel counselors, administrators and center supervisors from Maryland's nine Information Centers gathered for their annual seminar, which included a variety of activities and events, such as the annual awards banquet at Silver Tree Restaurant on Thursday, January 5, when the Maryland Information Center of the Year award was given to the U.S. 13 Information Center, located in Pocomoke City. The Maryland Travel Counselor of the Year award was presented to Judy Housley, a Maryland State House guide and travel counselor. An employee from each of the State's nine centers was nominated for this award; Garrett County's nominee was Alethea Tackett from the Youghiogheny Overlook Information Center along Route 48 east of Friendsville. Robin Smith, supervisor of the Youghiogheny Overlook, was awarded a certificate of appreciation for "outstanding performance."

While in Garrett County, seminar attendees participated in a tour of the area, downhill skiing lessons and snowmobile rides. This seminar is held annually in varied locations throughout the State and

Juvenile Arrested, Charged In W.Va. Following Chase

A youth was arrested and charged with several citations in West Virginia following a chase in which a deputy with the Garrett County Sheriff's Department pursued the boy into West Virginia.

According to a report filed by Deputy C. P. Nolan, the youth was operating a motorcycle on Route 39 near Hutton last Thursday when Deputy Nolan attempted to stop the youth for a traffic violation. Another juvenile was a passenger on the motorcycle.

The youth failed to stop and continued on Rt. 39 onto Rt. 7, crossing the Maryland/West Virginia border into Preston County. The juveniles were apprehended and taken to W.Va. State Police headquarters in Terra Alta.

The driver of the vehicle was charged with speeding, fleeing and eluding a police officer, driving without a license, driving an unregistered vehicle and driving an uninsured vehicle.

The juveniles were released into the custody of their parents.

Joseph Edward Sidebottom, 31, Oakland, was arrested on January 4 and charged with the theft of audio equipment from Barbara Markwood and Fred Drilling with a value greater than $300. Chief Deputy H. Tichnell filed the report.

Steven Charles Wheatly, 25, Greenbelt, was arrested on a bench warrant from Garrett County District Court for failure to appear.

According to a report filed by Deputy R. P. Shaffer, Wheatly was transported to Garrett County from Prince George's County. He was released on his own recognizance following a bond hearing before a District Court Commissioner.

John Eugene Nelson, 21, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested on a warrant from Garrett County Circuit Court on January 3. Deputy D. W. Tucker filed the report.

David Allen Stewart, 40, Oakland, was arrested January 9 on a bench warrant from Garrett County District Court for failure to appear. Deputy D. M. Stoner filed the report.

Kenneth Jamal Garry, 19, Suitland, was arrested January 7 on a bench warrant from Garrett County District Court for violation of probation.

Garry is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond. Deputy D.W. Tucker reported the arrest.

Stephen Douglas Shrock, 20, Deer Park, was arrested January 4 for a charge of assault, on a bench warrant from the Garrett County District Court. Deputy J. B. Sowers reported the arrest.

Mark Ray Stephens, 24, Oakland, was arrested January 5 for driving while under the influence. Deputy R.P. Shaffer reported the arrest.

William Gary Riggelman, 34, Kitzmiller, was arrested for driving while under the influence on January 7. Deputy J. Murphy reported the arrest.

Chris Todd McRobie, 21, Massillon, Ohio, was arrested for driving while intoxicated on January 8. Deputy J. Murphy reported the arrest.

Steven Wayne Guthrie, 23, Oakland, was arrested and charged with driving under the influence by Deputy J. Murphy on Friday, January 6.

Sen. Bambacus Enters '89 General Assembly With "Positive Attitude"

District I Senator John N. Bambacus has a positive attitude for this year's General Assembly session.

A member of the Senate Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee, the senator says that most of his time this session will be spent on committee work. He was also recently appointed to the Joint Committee for Economic Development, whose job it is to secure Maryland's economic future in the twenty-first century.

The senator feels that the key to economic growth and development in Maryland is based on a commitment to the development of "intellectual infrastructure."

"We need to increase work on our intellectual infrastructure because we need the best possible kindergarten through grade 12 schools, Garrett and Allegany Community Colleges, and Frostburg State University," he said.

Bambacus said he has a strong commitment to education because he feels it is important to "give our students the ability to compete in a competitive work place." The senator is also a supporter of life-long learning to retrain workers before their jobs are obsolete because of technology.

The Senator said he would like to see the public school system improved. He feels that the "rural counties have been short changed in the past." He said that the state has proposed about $60 million in one-time capital projects for such rural areas as Garrett and Allegany counties. One proposal deals with $100 million in new money for the state's universities and colleges. The senator said he would also like to continue work on a music and performing arts building at Frostburg State University.

Bambacus has several other proposals for the 1989 session. He hopes to create a long-term health care program that would offer support to senior citizens.

He would also like to develop additional criminal legislation concerning victims' rights. In conjunction with this proposal, the senator is working with the Stephanie Roper Committee, which strives to get the judicial system to recognize victims' rights.

Bambacus said he also wants to have the Garrett and Allegany counties in "showcase" condition for the World Whitewater Championships in June.

Bambacus also wants to introduce a bill that would designate certain land at Savage River for a wildlife area. He is working with conservation groups in the area in developing this proposal.

The senator says he is a supporter of one-time capital spending. He does not want to see the development of many new programs that require annual funding because they could lead to a future tax hike.

"We want to be sure to look very carefully so the state does not spend a great deal of money and raise taxes the next year," he said.

Options Listed For Estimated Taxpayers

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reminds nearly 200,000 Maryland taxpayers that they have two options in filing final estimated tax payments for 1988.

Taxpayers may submit a fourth quarter declaration of estimated tax payment by Monday, January 16, 1989 — or they can wait and file a regular 1988 Maryland income tax return on or before Tuesday, January 31, 1989.

"Any balance due must be paid in full when filing the regular return," Goldstein said.

Generally, taxpayers who earn income which is not subject to withholding should be filing quarterly declaration of estimated tax if their state and local tax is expected to be more than $100.

Public Servants? . . .

Hypocrisy reigns supreme in Congress once again, as the members of that illustrious body have voted to raise their own salaries a whopping 50 percent. How often do workers in the private sector receive such a boost in their salaries?

Most of our Congressmen harp about the nation's enormous deficit, the more conservative claiming that spending must be cut and the more liberal screaming that taxes must be raised because the federal government just cannot make ends meet. Yet they proceed with their own selfish pay increase which will cost another $130 million per year.

Members of Congress currently make approximately $90,000 per year in just raw salary. When one includes all of their benefits, it amounts to about $126,000 per year. On top of that, they have all of their Washington meals and their travel subsidized, plus once they leave Congress they receive a huge pension. It was noted by the editor of the Calvert County Recorder, Kevin Conron, that former Senator Albert A. Gore, who lost his seat in 1970, has collected more than $1 million in federal pension benefits. He currently receives an annual pension of $81,347, nearly twice what he ever earned in Congress.

Yes, being a member of Congress is a tough job, if it is done properly. It has a high level of stress and it often requires more than 40 hours of work per week. But we know many people, right here in Garrett County, whose jobs are just as stressful and require considerable overtime. Yet their salaries are far below the $90,000 presently being paid to our Congressmen, let alone the intended $135,000.

Editor Conron proposed that the Congressional pay raise bill should be approved only if Congress can produce a balanced budget. We agree.

In a business it would be suicide for management personnel to give themselves a 50 percent raise when the corporation's finances are severely in the red. This is precisely what Congress has done, however, and it is our money that they are dealing with.

And they claim to be public servants. Ha!

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Budget deficits, tax increase, spending cuts, "read my lips—no new taxes," are the max slogans of the day. Meanwhile, the hard decisions are not being made! Defining the formula for restoring economic sanity to our system is not difficult. Actually there are many approaches that can work. The seemingly impossible task is implementation. Spending cuts, alone, cannot do the job. Income tax hikes are not necessary, notwithstanding President-elect Bush's commitment. While treating the Federal deficit is critical, greatly reducing the Federal debt (now running into the trillions); restoring confidence overseas in the American dollar; achieving a more balanced foreign trade ratio; and strengthening the confidence in the stock market are equally as important. Monetary, trade, and fiscal policies must be linked together!

Achieving a balanced budget in the next couple of years is not that critical. Making a commitment, passing the necessary legislation and the new administration taking the leadership role in pulling all the necessary ingredients together for a program that, say, over the next 3-5 years will achieve the desired results is what is vital at this time.

The current Federal tax code covers more than 2,000 pages, and includes some 200 major personal and business loopholes that nets over $250 billion in loss revenue to the government yearly. There are approximately 90,000 profitable businesses in this country not now paying taxes due to their tax shelters. While reflecting on this, remember, our annual Federal deficit is in the area of $150 billion.

Individual income taxes produce about 45 percent of total revenue, while business taxes yield about 10 percent. No one enjoys paying taxes. The ideal system would have six principles: 1) Taxes would produce only that revenue which is necessary for the government to function efficiently and effectively; 2) Treats all in a fair manner; 3) Offers the least discomfort for the greatest number of taxpayers; 4) Offers the least amount of complications; 5) Encourages savings and development of equity in the economy; and 6) Promotes economic growth, and encourages business decisions be based on economics, not tax gimmicks. Our current system fails in all of the above categories.

Targeting tax and spending reforms over the next three years with, say, a ratio of 25 percent of the deficit be resolved through spending cuts, and 75 percent from new revenue, not income tax increases, but gradually reducing existing loopholes, would send the proper signals, and realize the intended results. The new revenue would have to be "dedicated" to reducing the debt, and not a penny for new spending. Erstwhile opponents may come to realize, in the long run, tax reform will make for a stronger and expanding economy.

Riverdale

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to an editorial in The Republican dated January 5, 1989, entitled "Their Power Worries Us" concerning changes in the land-use law that applies to Garrett County. Opinions of Garrett County residents and property owners with whom I have talked differ on several of the points raised in the editorial.

One point raised by the editorial is that we must prevent the state from acquiring more land, because that land would "better serve the county's economy if it were available for development." I do not find that there is a shortage of land in Garrett County available for development. In fact, there appears to be large acreage for sale that developers can acquire. Besides, who proposes that all of Garrett County be developed in the first place, and for what purpose? Certain developments would undoubtedly be strongly opposed by local government and private citizens.

The editorial further states that "the right of eminent domain, or condemnation, should be reserved only for situations where a piece of land is essential for a specific project, such as highway construction."

Another year has passed by leaving with us many memories of 1988. How were you affected? Maybe it was someone telling you how beautiful our community was at Christmas. Maybe it was the pretty flowers in our GOBA barrels that made somebody's day a little brighter. How about that hot air balloon ride or the excitement of McDonald's grand opening? Have you seen the Garrett National Bank Building, A & A Realty, Marvin's, or The Book Market?

Yes, we are all growing and we have you to thank! Your membership means more to us than just a donation. It is your belief that our community can grow and still remain a beautiful place to experience. GOBA is one big family helping each other in times of need and being that good neighbor to our thousands of visitors.

Special thanks to Linda and John Maroney for cleaning up our parking meters.

The right of eminent domain is always a controversial issue, and is generally applied on projects having benefit to a majority of the citizens of Maryland. However, what makes condemnation proceedings acceptable for highway construction and not for acquisition of property for parks or recreation? Both impact landowners directly and are often strongly opposed in both instances. In both situations, a piece of land can be essential for a specific project. To state that "condemnation rights just to acquire property for parks or recreation are outrageous" is a value judgment with which some citizens of the county and state may disagree.

Lastly, the editorial states that "they (state government) will do precisely what they wish, regardless of the desires of local government and private

THE BUDGET AND FEDERAL SALARIES

By Ronald Reagan

Recently, I submitted to Congress my final budget. It is a responsible plan which cuts the deficit without touching Social Security, weakening defense or reducing benefits to the needy. And the best news is that this budget proves it can be done without raising your taxes.

Our growing economy will, in the next fiscal year, produce $84 billion in new revenues with no increase in tax rates. Since the whole economic pie is expanding, the Federal Government's slice grows along with the private sector. Raising taxes would be the surest way to kill the economic goose that lays the golden eggs, so I leave as I came — dead set against any new taxes.

And even if there were a tax increase, history shows that Congress would almost certainly spend the additional money. It would not be used to reduce the deficit; it would just mean that you had to pay for an even bigger Government. And now, with an estimated $84 billion in new revenues coming in, we can both reduce the deficit and increase Federal spending.

By combining new revenues with previously scheduled reductions and savings in other areas, priority programs will grow nearly $50 billion. There are more funds for air safety, fighting crime, housing the poor and the war on drugs. Funds for AIDS research and prevention is increased by 24 percent, and money to clean up toxic waste goes up by a fifth. We also increased funds for the science and space programs and for basic biomedical research. And student aid funds are increased again, bringing it to a level 83 percent higher than where it stood in 1980.

Real defense spending is increased by two percent. This is a small increase, but an important one — the price of peace and security for America. Through strength we achieved greater realism in the U.S.-Soviet relationship and breakthroughs in arms reduction. Our defense budget will enable us to continue on this path.

Let us remember that despite the internal reforms in the Soviet Union, they are modernizing their weapons at a rapid pace, spending a far larger share of gross national product on weapons than the United States does.

Spending on Medicare and Medicaid will increase by $10 billion in the next fiscal year. But if the past is any guide, the headlines will claim that we have actually cut funding. Well, that is not so. In Washington, when spending goes up, but less than had been projected, they call that a cut even though more of your tax dollars are being spent than ever before. With Medicare, we have simply limited the increase in payments to providers of services. There is no effect on the people who receive the benefits.

So, my fiscal year 1990 budget provides for the needy, does not raise taxes, and by controlling the growth in spending, reduces the deficit next year by nearly $70 billion. This not only meets the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings deficit reduction target, it reduces the deficit even further and puts us on track to a balanced budget and a modest surplus by fiscal year 1993. This budget is a realistic program which protects the working families of America, provides adequate support for those who depend on Government, and helps assure America's prosperity in the years to come.

I have often spoken of the rising incomes Americans have enjoyed in recent years, but one group lags behind. According to a new report by the bipartisan commission on Federal salaries, real pay for top level Government jobs has fallen by 35 percent since 1969 due to inflation, while private sector pay has outpaced inflation. So my budget includes higher pay for vital positions ranging from judges to scientists to elected officials. This increase is still less than what was lost to inflation. Even after this raise, the real income of a circuit court judge will be 19 percent less than in 1969.

The cost of these increases will be absorbed in the budget without slowing progress on the deficit and we will be getting something important in return. You see, when salaries are too low it is hard to attract and keep America's best in Government. Federal judges have been leaving the bench in record numbers, partly because they are paid less than junior members of some law firms.

The National Institutes of Health that fight cancer and other grave diseases have vacancies for senior researchers that have been empty for ten years due to poor pay. Also troubling is that some officials, particularly in Congress, now supplement their income with special interest honoraria payments. My support for the pay increase rests on my firm belief that payments undermine the integrity of our Government and should be abolished. We must be willing to pay for excellence in Government or risk a Government run only by people of wealth or by those beholden to special interests.

land too steep for development, there would be a balance of developed and undeveloped areas that would make a natural barrier to overcrowding.

I hope you will think seriously of this suggestion and pass it on to our legislators when they are contemplating dispensing with the law that keeps the state from taking more Garrett County land off the tax rolls.

To the Editor:

The Urban Research and Development Corporation of Bethlehem, Pa., is to be congratulated on their final report and Executive Summary of the "Recreational Carrying Capacity Study and Management Guidelines for Deep Creek Lake" available to the public at a total cost of $2.35 by writing to Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Route 2, Box 69C, Swanton, Maryland 21561.

Some of the recommendations made in the report with which I agree include: County officials will benefit from opportunities to examine and decide on land use and economic development policies based on the preservation and promotion of quality recreational experiences in Garrett County. Quality, not quantity should be the most important factor in expanding existing businesses and in attracting new residents, businesses and industries.

Business people, real estate, professionals and developers will benefit from the assurances that Deep Creek Lake and vicinity will retain and increase its reputation as a traditional, high quality mountain lake recreation area. The main-

Oakland Update

by Mayor Asa McCain

Oakland is no longer flushing sewage directly into the Little Youghiogheny River. The moratorium on building has been lifted and those served by the system within town and wishing to start new construction or to hook onto the system may do so. Those existing structures prior to the beginning of the new sewer system which are outside the town limits, but the property is within 100 feet of the sewer line may now make application to hook on. Those not hooked onto the system must do so by October 1, 1989. Contact City Hall for applications.

If you have been paying a sewer fee in connection with your water bill, you are already hooked on and the above information does not apply.

SEWER OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE (O&M) CHARGES

On this month's water bill, if you are receiving sewer services, your quarterly O&M rate has changed from one-half your water bill to $5.00 per 1,000 gallons of metered water. Those receiving sewer service not metered will be billed the equivalent residential user (ERU) of 44,000 gallons annually. Your bill will reflect a $5.00 ERU quarterly O&M sewer charge. (See story on front page.)

BROAD FORD PARK

Residents are welcome to use Broad Ford Park during the winter months, but must obtain a free permit from City Hall. Hopefully this will help us control vandalism at the park.

DENNETT ROAD ANNEXATION

The formal hearing was held Monday, January 9. Annexation will be final on February 23.

ZONING ORDINANCE

Adoption scheduled for public hearing on Tuesday, February 7, at 7 p.m. at City Hall.

The next regular Council Meeting will be held Monday, February 6, at 7 p.m. at City Hall. Deadline for placement on the agenda is Monday, January 30.

Awash in money

ANNAPOLIS—Call it what you will—compromise, good government or just plain wheeling and dealing—the General Assembly has been in town only a few hours and already there's talk of working things out.

Despite the fuming and fussing of the last couple of months, Gov. William Donald Schaefer apparently has been a willing listener. But more than that, he knows he's got the law and logic, as well as the power of the executive, on his side.

Quietly and out of public view, Schaefer's trusted friends in the Legislature have counseled the governor against trying to stuff his budget down the throats of lawmakers. Such a confrontation would be an embarrassment to everyone and a headline contest that nobody wins.

Instead, they are encouraging Schaefer to accept a face-saving alternative. There's $401 million in surplus cash to spread around, and it will take only about $30-$40 million to calm the General Assembly down long enough to wink at their own spending affordability cap.

The compromise being presented to the governor is that he consider backing down and allowing the Assembly to enact a modest tax break by raising the standard income tax deduction. The plan would cost a peace-at-any-price $30-$40 million.

In return, the Assembly would be expected to relax its stubborn resistance to spending beyond the limit that it has arbitrarily imposed on the governor.

Suddenly, everything's coming up roses and everybody looks terrific.

But beyond the posturing and the raw numbers, there is a perceptible shift of sentiment on the affordability limit and a sense that Schaefer has won the public relations battle on the issue.

There is a question now of whether legislative leaders can count on the loyalty of Assembly members. And there is legitimate speculation over whether the spending affordability limit, adopted in 1982 as an alternative to the dreaded Proposition 13, will survive the skirmishing of this session.

Baltimore has more to gain than any other subdivision if the governor chooses to ignore the spending limit. One argument is that the impecunious city is being unfairly punished by equalization formulas while uppy Montgomery County is wallowing in wealth like a hog in clover.

Another proposition is that the city is on the losing end of the piggy-back tax, the very program that was devised to help it, because of a diminishing base of wage-earners and taxpayers.

There is one gossamer plan to have the state take over the entire cost of Maryland's teachers' salaries, pensions and social security and pay for it by reclaiming the piggy-back tax from the counties. Financially the trade-off would be a wash for the state, even with cost-of-living differentials for teachers in metropolitan areas.

The reasoning is that some counties are more equal than others, and that the attempt at equalization benefits Montgomery more than Baltimore. True equalization would be achieved by having the state assume the cost of teachers.

The sudden if you can't lick 'em, join 'em attitude in Annapolis should come as no surprise. It's the nature of legislative bodies, whether it's the Bundestag or the Japanese Diet, to work things out in a way so that everybody emerges as a winner.

And it's important, too, to remember that no two sessions of the General Assembly are alike. Each one has a life of its own, a different rhythm and pace, and even though the outcome is fairly predictable, getting there is half the fun.

Every request for funds, grants and subsidies, from whatever group, whether it's the arts, the schools or the down-and-out, is just one more reason for Schaefer to tell the Assembly to stick their spending cap in their ear. Which is exactly what he planned to do until cooler heads prevailed.

But with the pressure on Schaefer for handouts, and the fear of legislators that they might appear as black-hat penny pinchers, and the fact that the governor controls the system of rewards and punishments, there is little doubt that compromise will win in the end and that the effectiveness of the affordability cap is in serious doubt.

Only a state as wealthy as Maryland, with a surplus that's probably the envy of the next president of the United States, can pay such a high price for compromise.

Or was it wheeling and dealing?

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

A PLACE TO LIVE: HELPING A GENERATION FIND AFFORDABLE HOUSING

by Governor William Donald Schaefer

One of my greatest concerns as an elected official and as a Maryland citizen is the increasing problem of finding decent and affordable housing for everyone who lives in our state.

An entire generation of hard-working citizens is faced with the prospect of not being able to locate or afford a place to live. This is not a problem unique to Maryland. During the next 10 to 15 years, young people, families, and senior citizens all over the country will be facing a housing crisis unprecedented in our nation's history.

Many of these citizens will not have the funds or the option of purchasing a home as we did or as our parents did. And a decreasing supply of rental units will limit their choices and dictate housing situations that may not meet their needs.

Here's just one example. It's a good example of what can be accomplished through cooperation and by taking a new approach to an old problem. A civic-minded president of a Baltimore contracting company recently approached the state with an idea to produce more rental housing for low income families. His concept was simple. He proposed totally gutting an uninhabitable town rowhouse, leaving only an empty shell, and then dropping in a custom-made, manufactured module to fit the shell.

Certainly the problem is an extremely complex one. For many reasons, housing is becoming very expensive. The median price of a home in the Baltimore area in 1988 was $85,000. The median monthly rent for an apartment in Prince George's County is $590.

First-time purchasers and low income families looking to rent have been particularly hard hit. Fewer and fewer investors can build badly needed moderately priced units.

The shrinking availability of good housing for low and moderate income families is affecting not only individuals but it is taking a toll on the vitality and the diversity of our communities themselves. It is changing the way we live and even where we live. Because affordable housing must be built further and further from downtown areas and workites, many workers are forced to spend substantially more of their income on transportation or settle for jobs which pay less but are more convenient.

What can we do to help ease this housing crisis? This is not a problem that can be solved by government alone. It is going to take the most creative and innovative thinking of every sector of our society — the business community, private investors, non-profit groups, and entrepreneurs, as well as visionary leaders in local, state, and federal government.

During the 1989 legislative session, we will be proposing several initiatives to create stronger partnerships between government and private enterprise to ease the housing crunch. Already we are working hard to strengthen public/private financing programs to aid state residents in securing housing. The state currently has 19 different programs aimed at helping low-income families rent or purchase homes. In the last 24 months, more than 6,000 families have purchased homes with state support or guidance. But simply finding new financing mechanisms will not meet all our housing needs.

Our vision of the future is too often limited by the past. By changing some of the ways we do things, we may be able to meet our housing needs faster and at a lower cost.

Called Project Drop-In, the concept allows a contractor to create rental units in abandoned houses in only a few days. Using a $450,000 loan, Project Drop-In has already renovated nine adjoining rowhouses donated by the City of Baltimore. Monthly rents for these restored rowhouses are expected to range from $250 to $325. We hope to add at least 250 drop-ins around the state in 1989.

During the months ahead, I am going to be talking more about housing in Maryland. Meanwhile, I would like to have your ideas and opinions. Write to me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

tional patrol boats may be necessary as strict enforcement continues as a high priority.

A public relations program should be developed to present the regulations and to politely, but aggressively, enforce them as positive and necessary measures to enhance recreational boating experiences at Deep Creek Lake.

Jerome Walter Cox
Oakland

Editor's Note: The writer of the following letter to Eric Schwaab, manager of Deep Creek Lake, requested that it be published in this column.

Dear Eric:
I have recently read the DNR "Proposed Response" to FERC, and while I largely support DNR's efforts, I must again object strongly to the limitations being arbitrarily placed upon small "Personal Watercraft" in that proposal. Proposed restrictions on jet skis and other "Personal Watercraft" from operating during peak use hours on weekends is a capricious rule that ignores the facts!

Personal watercraft are the fastest growing vehicle in boating today, and are usually operated by lakefront property owners. They can be found on any lake in America, and are even being adapted for use by the Coast Guard and many beach patrols. They have been built in strict compliance with existing state regulations, and are required to be registered with DNR.

Some regulation as to permits, licenses and perhaps even limitations on access to certain areas would not be unreasonable, but limiting use on weekends will alienate a large number of owners who may not be able to spend time during the week. Do we tell these people, (who have spent several thousand dollars at local businesses to purchase and maintain these craft) that they cannot legally use their boats on their weekends any more, so that there is more room for the transient boater? If we have congestion problems, why ban 8' long boats with 35 hp. motors instead of 22' boats with 250 hp motors? Now my 14 year old will want to take the ski boat out on weekends rather than play near the shore on the Waverunner, and DNR likes that idea! Somehow this policy just does not make sense! Ecologically, it encourages use of bigger engines with exposed props, as opposed to "jet" drives that are much safer and smaller. I've spent 30 years on the water and this is the most ill-advised idea I've ever heard.

This proposal simply lacks foresight. If the popularity of canoes suddenly soars, will we restrict them from peak congestion hours? DNR cannot arbitrarily restrict one type of boat that meets every other state regulation for use on inland waterways, (and Deep Creek Lake!) in favor of other vehicles! I further suggest that it may not bear up to legal scrutiny and would encourage the local POA to consider legal defense of this restriction of their liberties.

Public safety programs should initiate all boaters to this new trend. We should welcome personal water vehicles for the important new addition to our economy and enjoyment. There is simply no basis for restricting these craft from peak use periods when there is room for over and over form of boating. These vehicles must be considered part of the mainstream and other methods must be used to relieve congestion. "Is it better to light a candle than curse the darkness."

Sincerely,
Richard J. Franz

To the Editor:
For many years I have been thoroughly disillusioned with Garrett County and its lack of interest and concern for the mentally ill and their care. Is it leadership or what?

The very successful "Hospice" which has an excellent leadership and volunteers is a roaring success. But what of the living and what was and often is the "living dead"? The Right To Life organization could not survive. The Branch of the Alliance for the Mentally Ill never got started. The two letters recently in support of the Right To Life were excellent and I admire them for their courageous stand! I share their views. No way could I ever be in favor of abortion.

There is absolute total disregard for the quality of life of some of our mentally ill. I have pleaded for 15 years for the mentally ill. All our residents requiring such care are now and have been sent out of Garrett County or to the local jail, or allowed to sleep on the banks of the Yough in the warmer more so than in the Department of Mental & Hygiene Highway, and social services with which I have had direct contact. It seems if you have attained a master's degree, you are considered administrative material by this Bureaucracy regardless and some of their rules and regulations are archaic. When will Marylanders wake up and demand the housecleaning we deserve at all levels? When the regional and state people often cannot know the true situation and it takes six years of well-documented facts of incompetence to get some action and then they are replaced (even temporarily which runs into months for the state to act) by people from elsewhere who are totally unfamiliar with the actual situation? Someone who knows what and where has to be in charge of the store! Where is the investigative, honest reporting?

The advisory Board of the Mental Health Department is not now and never has followed the state requirements. The county commissioners are charged with these appointments and never have assumed their responsibilities to this Board. There are competent people who are interested and who could operate the advisory board to produce adequately as does the Hospice and Mental Retardation Boards. There are very few people who are competent enough to head many boards. It takes more than name recognition. Why are these people chosen? Why and how are board members who obviously are not committed to the mentally ill chosen? Do we want to succeed? It doesn't seem so, when years ago they got rid of the only person administratively who was qualified to do a grand job and did it to be replaced by someone who never could manage one schedule it seems.

I have a particular interest in a young man I have been trying to help for 8 years. I have for over seven years contacted over and over many key people to try to obtain a 24 hour protective, helpful living situation where his problems could be addressed and where he could truly get the help he needs in Garrett County. He is now, and has been many times, languishing in jail. He has been many times before the same judge, for the same offense with all the so-called powers that be and their collective enormous salaries involved, but he has never been remanded to the 24 hour supervised living situation he needs to get better. What a waste of humanity and taxpayers dollars! What is wrong here with human living justice and love for human beings? We have many out of our county who should be here in Garrett County, receiving the care where they are residents and where their relatives and friends can be a part of their life, to try to help them just as is done for the dying and the mentally retarded.

Where is the conscience of Garrett County and the state and regional bosses? We had all I am requesting 30 plus years ago in the Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pa. area where we originally lived for 25 years. It fails on deaf ears here, whether it's local or state or regional people, why? There but for the Grace of God go I?

I believe the Mandel Machine is still in place at the state level in many areas and no where competent people they should be allowed to operate successfully, not interfered with from long distance.

per quarter," he said. "Also, you should wash your clothes only when you have a full load. If your washer has a water saver feature, you can save approximately five gallons per filling."

The mayor also noted that the quarter O&M charge is "just a little more than feeding the average cat or dog for the same period and less than a family of three going out to dinner once a month at a local restaurant."

The O&M charge will not be the only bill for the new sewerage system that town residents and businesses will be presented. McCain said a ready-to-serve charge and tap fee will be assessed later and will be explained in future news articles.

"Of course, what we are most thankful for is that no one was hurt," he added.

Maryland Safety Belt Use Shows Increase In '88

Safety belt use in Maryland continues to rise with nearly three of four drivers and passengers making sure they buckle up.

The Maryland Department of Transportation's (MDOT) most recent survey, conducted in October 1988, shows a safety belt compliance rate of 73 percent for drivers and passengers and a 71 percent compliance rate with the child restraint law. The survey indicates that safety belt use for Maryland drivers is up eight percent over last year's 65 percent showing. Passenger use increased by seven percent over last year's observation of 66 percent.

The annual survey is conducted at the same eleven observation locations throughout Maryland. In 1988 a total of 4,911 drivers and 2,239 passengers were surveyed, and in 1987 a total of 5,434 drivers and 1,888 passengers were observed.

For safety belt use by drivers, a 13 percent increase at the Largo (Prince George's County) observation point and a ten percent increase in Westminster (Carroll County) were most significant. For passengers, the largest gains were indicated at the Parole (Anne Arundel County) observation point, up 19 percent, and at the Cumberland (Allegany County) location, up 17 percent.

Richard H. Trainor, secretary of the Maryland Department of Transportation, explained, "The single most important factor in increasing safety belt use is the support of the law enforcement community. The Maryland State Police and local police agencies have been instrumental in emphasizing the importance of safety belt use."

"Many other statewide programs have also helped by increasing public awareness that safety belts save lives and by encouraging everyone to buckle up. Our experience has shown that enforcement and educational efforts can affect a sustained and steady increase in compliance," he concluded.

MDOT safety belt survey results have been submitted to the National Safety Council as Maryland's entry in the 1988 Occupant Protection Honors Program for governors of the states.

GOH Extends Leuba Scholarship

The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH) has expanded eligibility criteria for the Dorothy R. Leuba Scholarship, according to Ruth Ryan, Scholarship Committee chairperson. The original scholarship is still available for people with handicaps who desire to further their education.

The new guidelines include: 1. individuals who currently provide direct service to people with handicaps and desire to further their education in that field, and 2. individuals who are enrolled in a college course(s) to prepare them for careers providing direct services to people with handicaps. All applicants for the scholarship must be residents of Garrett County.

"State Circle" Returns To Md. Public Television

The Maryland General Assembly will begin its new 1989 sessions on Friday, January 13, and Maryland Public Television's "State Circle" is ready to cover those proceedings and report all news-making legislative issues and events.

Gov. William Donald Schaefer officially opened the '89 Legislature with his "State of the State" address today, January 12, at noon. The address will be aired tonight at

"State Circle" will air each Friday at 7:30 p.m. beginning January 13 and repeat Saturday mornings at 9:30 a.m.

This local MPT news presentation will continue throughout the 90-day legislative session to provide weekly recaps, analyses and guest interpretations of issues that affect Maryland and its citizens. A new feature added to this year's format is that of weekly "point-counterpoint" discussions with current news- and law-makers.

Dave Durian hosts the public affairs program and veteran political reporters John Rydell and Sue Kopen are joined this year by new reporter Nate Howard. "State Circle" will air on MPT, 36, Oakland.

"State Circle" is a Maryland Public Television public affairs production and is made possible in part by Maryland National Bank. Everett Marshburn is executive producer of the series and of the governor's "State of the State" special.

Amy Reeves Becomes Bride Of Scott Spiker In July Ceremony

A double-ring ceremony uniting Amy Beth Reeves and Jeffrey Scott Spiker was conducted at the Westernport Church of the Brethren on July 30, 1988, with the Rev. Randall Kells officiating.

Miss Reeves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Reeves, Westernport, and Mr. Spiker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Spiker, Swanton.

The organist was Donna Grogg and Wendy Marsh was vocalist.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white Chantilly gown featuring sheer off-the-shoulder ballroom sleeves of Chantilly lace with satin ribbon bow accents at the shoulder. The fitted Victorian bodice of Chantilly-covered satin featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed in silk Venice lace, seed pearls, and iridescent sequins. The satin ballroom skirt featuring a Chantilly lace open front drape and satin bows fell from a basque waist and swept into a chapel train hemmed in Chantilly lace ruffle. To complete her bridal attire, the bride selected a white organza derby accented with silk Venice lace, seed pearls, and a silk flower cascade. The fingertip veiling was highlighted by a wire ruffle-net pouf and cage-blusher. The bride carried a silk bouquet of pink and white cascading roses surrounded with white lace and accented with satin ribbon.

Matron of honor was Debbie Greene, Stephens City, Va., and Jeannie Bennett, Westernport, and a graduate of West Virginia University with a B.S. degree in journalism. She is currently a graduate student in industrial labor relations at WVU, where she works as a graduate assistant.

The groom is a 1984 graduate of Bruce High School in Westernport, and a graduate of West Virginia University with a B.S. degree in geography. He is currently a graduate student in geography at WVU, where he works as a graduate assistant.

Parents of the groom hosted a barbeque supper following the wedding rehearsal. The bride was given three bridal showers: one by her attendants in Westernport, one by Helen Molle in Swanton, and one by Connie Wilt and Amy Wilt in Bloomington. The groom was given a bachelor's party by his attendants and friends.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Odenton, College Park, Westminster, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Florida.

Caroline Reeves, cousin of the bride, handed out bulletins. Stephen Michael and Daniel Michael, nephews of the bride, distributed helium balloons. The photographer was Robert Gay, brother-in-law of the bride. James Reeves, brother of the bride assisted the photographer.

Terry Michael, sister of the bride, and Margie Sowers, aunt of the groom, cut and served the cake. Barbara Burns, cousin of the groom, attended the gift table. Janeen Bray, cousin of the groom, assisted with the buffet.

Mark Ravenscroft was in charge of videotaping the event. Limousine service was provided to the bridal couple by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Michael, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride's going-away outfit consisted of a flowered sundress, a Lori Ann Original, from Country Classics in Keyser. Following their honeymoon in Williamsburg, Va., and Nags Head, N.C., the couple established residence at 117 Kingwood Street, Morgantown, W.Va.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Bruce High School in Westernport, and a graduate of West Virginia University with a B.S. degree in journalism. She is currently a graduate student in industrial labor relations at WVU, where she works as a graduate assistant.

The groom is a 1984 graduate of Bruce High School and a graduate of Frostburg State University with a B.S. degree in geography. He is currently a graduate student in geography at WVU, where he works as a graduate assistant.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville, where a service was conducted Sunday by the Rev. Mark Lawson.

Interment was in the McClellandtown, Pa., Presbyterian Cemetery.

CORRECTION NOTED
The obituary for Rachel Marie Walley in last week's issue of The Republican inadvertently omitted the name of her late son, Arthur P. Walley.

His children who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. William Fred Walley and son Rodney; Mrs. Patricia Bunch, Mrs. June Baylis, and Mrs. Mary Sears and daughters Stephanie and Cheri.

Mrs. Walley is also survived by 18 grandchildren instead of eight, as listed, and one great-great-grandson was omitted. We regret the error.

We deeply appreciate the help of everyone who responded to the fire at our home on January 9, 1989. A special thanks to the Oakland and Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Departments, the Southern Rescue Squad, friends, neighbors and relatives.

Several Found Not Guilty In District Court

Several persons were found not guilty of the charges against them by Judge Jack Turney during recent trials at the Garrett County District Court.

Jerry Lee Conley, 19, Grantsville, was found not guilty of theft. The charge was filed by Tfc. R.C. Resh, Maryland State Police, after an incident which occurred October 30 involving Landfried and Harry A. Shewbridge of Grantsville. John R. Toston represented Landfried.

Christopher David Landfried, 18, Grantsville, was found not guilty of theft. The charge was filed by Tfc. R.C. Resh, Maryland State Police, after an incident which occurred October 30 involving Landfried and Harry A. Shewbridge of Grantsville. John R. Toston represented Landfried.

Victor Morris Holliday, 70, Grantsville, was found not guilty of one charge of assault and one charge of battery. The charges were filed by Harrison G. Foy, Grantsville, after an incident occurred November 5. Robert E. Watson represented Holliday.

Sinclair Allen Brown, 25, Oakland, was found not guilty of charges of theft, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. The charges were filed by Gary Kroll, Oakland City Police, after an incident which occurred August 13 on Liberty St., Oakland, involving city property. Robert E. Watson represented Brown.

Brown was found guilty of a charge of assault in connection with the above incident which occurred August 13. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Turney. The charge was filed by Officer Gary Kroll, Oakland City Police.

Georgia J. Cheshire, 32, Oakland, was found guilty of theft. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Turney. The charge was filed by Daniel Taylor, assistant director of the Union Rescue Mission in Cumberland, after Cheshire allegedly stole two bags of clothing from bins at Browning's Foodland October 27.

Michael Eugene Paugh, Oakland, was found guilty of two counts of theft. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The charges were filed by Deputy L.E. Gnevy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after incidents which occurred in August and September. John R. Toston represented Paugh.

Harold G. Beachy, 45, Grantsville, was found guilty of theft. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Turney. The charges were filed by Tfc. R.J. Resh, Maryland State Police, after Beachy allegedly stole a wallet and cash with a value of less than $300 from Christine Turner, Grantsville.

Jerry Denill Everett, 22, Oakland, was found guilty of theft. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Turney. The charge was filed by Deputy L.E. Gnevy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after an incident which occurred in August or September.

Eastern Mennonite College Reps Will Visit January 27

Representatives of Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Va., will be traveling in the Westmoreland-Somerset county areas of Pennsylvania and in Western Maryland on Friday, January 27.

Clarence R. Bauman, director of financial assistance, and Chris A. Gill, an EMC admissions counselor, will be available to talk with students and parents about any aspect of EMC's program of Christian higher education.

Persons wishing to schedule an appointment with either person may call the college's admissions office, toll-free, at 1-800-368-2665.

Receives Degree In Ag Economics

Thomas E. Ashby, son of Eugene and Carol Ashby of Ashland, Ohio, formerly of Oakland, received a B.S. degree in agricultural economics from the Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, on December 9. He is the grandson of Mrs. Minerva Ashby, formerly of Crellin, and Mrs. Mildred Sharpless, Kitzmiller.

While attending OSU, he was active in the Ohio State Economic Club, the Ohio State Agricultural Economic/NAMA Club, and co-ed volleyball. Ashby will be working for FmHA, part of the United States Department of Agriculture, in Mt. Gilead, Ohio.

Byron Skeptical Over Reagan's Budget Request

U.S. Congresswoman Beverly Byron (D-Maryland) expressed skepticism over President Reagan's ninth and final budget to Congress, a $1.15 trillion package. Although the package contains no new taxes, several programs that assist local communities around the country would be eliminated.

"I support many of the budget's proposals but the elimination of the Economic Development Administration which makes grants to states and local governments and gives loan guarantees to private firms in the hope that they will reduce unemployment would be missed by many local communities around the country. The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) that provides grants to build highways and community development facilities would also be eliminated. Also, direct loans by the Small Business Administration, Amtrak railroad passenger subsidies, mass transit grants and subsidies to airlines serving small airports would also be terminated. At this time when we are facing enormous growth in our metropolitan regions, the Amtrak and airports are necessary to maintain and grow, this obviously would jeopardize those efforts," said Rep. Byron.

"The next step is for all the congressional committees to report to the Budget Committee their proposals for the budget. I expect President-elect George Bush to modify the budget after the January 20 inauguration. He has stated that he would allocate more money for child care, cleaning up the environment and housing the homeless. The package sent to us today signifies a cut of $5 billion for Medicare and Medicaid. I do not believe that we can afford to trim any more money from these important areas and I am sure that the Budget Committee will examine that $5 billion figure very closely," added Congresswoman Byron.

As a member of the Armed Services Committee, Rep. Byron noted the slight growth in defense programs above inflation of 2% in 1990 and 1991. "As required by the Defense Authorization Act of 1986, a two year budget for FY 90 and FY 91 is submitted for national defense. It proposes $315.3 billion in budget authority and estimates $303 billion in outlays for the national defense function in 1990 and $330.8 billion in budget authority and $314.4 billion in outlays for 1991. Major proposed acquisitions include new helicopters and M-1 tanks for the Army, new Navy ships and aircraft, and Air Force fighter and cargo aircraft," added Congresswoman Byron.

The budget also calls for military construction for FY 90 and FY 91 appropriations totaling $18.2 billion. It includes 2,100 construction projects at more than 600 locations. The request provides $11.5 billion for construction. The balance of the program is for planning and design of future construction projects ($8 billion) and for operating and maintaining the 413,000 family housing units ($5.9 billion).

"I am pleased with the Maryland projects slated for FY 90 and FY 91. Under FY 90, Fort Detrick would receive a $2.3 million Chapel Center/Child Development Center and Fort Ritchie would receive a $630,000 Child Development Center," said Rep. Byron.

Under the National Parks Service, which Congresswoman Byron oversees in her Interior Committee position, the budget calls for $65,000 to assist Harpers Ferry National Park for police force use. Total appropriation request of $765,933,000 includes $55,500,000 in revenue from recreation, user and entrance fees (1989 est. $734,835,000). "While I am pleased to see a small increase in overall park funds," said Rep. Byron, "I am concerned about the significant proposed budget reductions for land acquisition and trail programs. I will be working throughout the appropriations process to restore these necessary funds."

Rams Survive Fourth Quarter Rally By Huskies For Seventh Victory

The Southern Rams held off a fourth quarter rally by the Northern Huskies Friday night in Accident to record a 58-46 victory, their seventh win in 10 games.

Richard Evick paced the Rams' effort with 22 points and converted two critical offensive rebounds into scores during the final three minutes to help the Rams pull away from Coach Dave Bender's 1-7 team.

The Huskies held a 12-7 lead after one quarter of action, but Southern came back in the second quarter to take a 25-22 advantage into the locker room at halftime. They were on top 40-35 after three periods, but the Huskies came back to cut Southern's lead to just two points, 44-42, with 2:45 remaining in the game.

Led by Evick's rebounding and follow-up shots, a bucket by Marshall Pike off another offensive rebound, and a three-point, half-court shot at the buzzer by Zack Gibson, the Rams outscored the home-standing Huskies 14-4 over the final 2:45.

Coach Bender said that the Rams' rebounding late in the game proved to be the difference.

Joining Evick in double figures for the Rams were Gibson with 13 and Pike with 10. Joe Refosco led Southern in rebounding with nine grabs.

Kevin Selby paced Northern with 13 points and seven rebounds, while Dave Yoder was credited with seven assists.

Three-point goals: Southern 1 (Gibson). Total fouls: Southern 12, Northern 17. Fouled out: None.

The Huskies shot 43 percent from the floor and committed only 13 turnovers, while the Rams finished with a 40 percent effectiveness from the floor (23 of 58).

It was the second victory over the Huskies by the Rams, who topped them the previous week, 70-57, in the consolation round of the Southern's Snowball Classic.

Southern was also victorious in the preliminary game, as the Ram jayvees defeated their Northern counterparts, 30-19, behind an eight-point effort by Nathan Dixon. Lamont Thomas paced the Huskies with six points.

The Rams and Huskies then went on to record varsity victories on Tuesday night and Northern then whipped previously undefeated Oldtown last night (see separate stories).

Evick Nets 21 In 78-73 Ram Win Over Keyser

A 21-point effort by freshman Brett Rice highlighted a 78-73 victory by the Southern Rams over visiting Keyser Tuesday night, giving Coach Oren Yoder's team its seventh win in eight games and an 8-3 record.

The Rams were heavily favored to win the game over the winless Keyser squad, but had to hold off a fourth-quarter rally by the visitors.

Southern was on top 21-16 after the first quarter, moved out to a 37-26 advantage by halftime, and led 58-47 after three periods before the Golden Tornado cut the lead to four points with just under three minutes remaining in the game.

ANOTHER WINNING SEASON is underway for the Southern High School varsity girls' basketball team, which is coached by Don Stemple. The Rams, who will face Fort Hill this evening, are being led by junior Melinda Evick, who is sporting a 14 points per game average, followed by senior Courtney Smith with 12 points per contest. Senior Marci Stemple has captained the team's offense and is currently the leader in assists and foul shooting (75 percent). Christine Bittinger, a senior, is the top defensive player,

A 10-point effort by Rice in the third quarter, plus a 10-for-13 foul shooting performance in the fourth quarter sealed the win for the Rams. Rice recorded eight points on 10 buckets and one of three at the line.

Also reaching double figures for the Rams were Zack Gibson with 18 points and the team's leading scorer, Richard Evick, with 14. Gibson was also credited with eight assists, Evick finished with six steals, and Joe Refosco led the team in rebounds with seven.

Pacing Keyser's offense was Jason Salesky, who netted 19 points, followed by Rick Rawlings with 16, Mike Mabini with 12, and John Staggers with 10. Keyser dropped to 0-8 on the season.

The Keyser junior varsity won the preliminary game, 47-42, despite a 25-point performance by Southern's Rick Keyser (73).

Wisp Will Again Host Md. Winter Special Olympics

Nearly 150 Special Olympians from throughout Maryland will travel to the Wisp Resort in McHenry to train and compete in Alpine and Nordic Skiing at the Eight Annual Maryland Special Olympics Winter Games January 22-25.

Certified Special Olympics Ski Coaches from the Baltimore Ski Club and other ski clubs throughout Maryland will train the athletes in nordic (cross-country) and alpine (downhill) skiing. Sit-skiing, an option which provides athletes with multiple disabilities the opportunity to compete in alpine skiing, will also be offered. Every Maryland county and Baltimore City will be represented at the Games.

Opening Ceremonies on Sunday, January 22, will be highlighted by a spectacular downhill torchlight parade by members of the National Ski Patrol. WCBM talk show host Tom Marr will take a night off from his popular "Sunday Night Radio Show" to serve as master of ceremonies of the event.

According to a Special Olympics spokesman, the Winter Games constitute an important part of the year-round program of sports training and competition which Maryland Special Olympics provides to more than 10,000 Maryland citizens who have mental retardation. In April 1989, 29 Maryland Special Olympians will compete at the Fourth International Winter Special Olympics Games in Reno, Nev., and at Lake Tahoe, Calif.

Persons who would like to help at State Games January 22-25, or desire additional information should call Maryland Special Olympics at 529-3105.

Huskies Crush Flintstone Before Topping Previously Unbeaten Indians

The Northern Huskies got back into the win column in impressive style this week by crushing the visiting Flintstone Aggies Tuesday night, 70-43, and then whipping previously unbeaten Oldtown last night, 50-44, on the Indians' floor and improved their record 3-7.

Dave Yoder paced the Huskies' win over winless Flintstone (0-7) by netting 14 points and dishing out eight assists, while Bobby Light and John Sherbin each chipped in with 10 points and Joey Spiker pulled a dozen rebounds.

After taking a 10-8 lead with just 90 seconds remaining in the first period, the Huskies took advantage of several quick turnovers by the Aggies and increased their advantage to 18-6 by the end of the quarter. Northern never looked back, holding a 33-17 halftime lead and a 56-35 advantage after three periods.

Flintstone's Todd Jay led all scorers with 19 points and also pulled seven rebounds, while teammate Rodney Rice finished with 17 points.

Northern converted 27 of 64 shots from the floor of a 42-percent effort, while the Aggies managed to hit just 16 of 59 attempts (27 percent).

It was a major victory last night at Oldtown for the Huskies, as they knocked off the 9-0 Indians.

John Sherbin led Northern's scoring with 15 points and Dave Yoder finished with 10 points, as did Jimmy Stephens coming off the bench. Stephens scored all of his points and pulled nine rebounds in the second half.

The Huskies moved out to a 10-7 lead by the end of the first period, expanded their advantage to 24-17 by halftime, and were on top by three, 32-29, after three quarters. However, the Indians assumed the lead for the first time with just 2:41 remaining in the game, 41-40, but Sherbin responded with a three-pointer to put the Huskies back on top for good.

Calling it "a great high school game," Northern Coach Dave Bender said, "We've been playing very well defensively all year and it was great that we finally were able to play some offense against a tough defense and win the game."

It was actually Northern's offensive effectiveness at the foul line that made the difference in the score. The Huskies netted 20 of 32 free throws, while Oldtown converted only five of nine attempts. Northern was out-gunned from the floor by an 18-14 margin.

Wade Stott paced the Indians with 12 points and 10 rebounds. The Huskies will travel to Morgantown this Friday to take on St. Francis High School.

Husky Matmen Whip Southern And Meyersdale

The Northern High School varsity wrestling team maintained its undefeated record this week by recording a victory over cross-county rival Southern in Oakland last Thursday night and then edging host Meyersdale Tuesday night, 33-26.

Details of the Southern match were not made available. The Huskies trailed after Meyersdale won four of the first six matches, but Coach Lynn Brennenman's squad captured five of the final seven bouts to record the win.

Pins were recorded by Northern's Bill Duckworth in the 152-pound division, Jerry Durst in the 160-pound match, and Ed Tabor in the 171-pound class. Huskies earning point victories were Tim Thomas (119), Dave Swiger (140), and Nate Emory (145), while undefeated Brent Yoder was awarded a win via forfeit in the 125-pound class.

The 6-0 Huskies will be among the favorites in this Saturday's Garrett County Invitational Tournament at Southern. The tourney will include seven teams representing three

Local Ski Racers Place In Events At Seven Springs

Several members of the Wisp Ski Resort racing team, affiliated with the Pennsylvania Amateur Racing Association, competed in two United States Ski Association sanctioned events the weekend of January 7-8.

The first was the Blue Cross-Phillip Dupre Memorial Slalom Race at Seven Springs Resort in Pennsylvania on January 7.

Mike Freyman, of Boy Scout Road, captured first place in Class II, Lee Collins, McHenry, won second place in Class IV, Kevin Lohr, Oakland, placed third in Class I, and E.J. Scofield, McHenry, was seventh in Class IV.

The following day was the Sherson-Lehman Hutton Giant Slalom event, also at Seven Springs, in which Jason Martin, Loch Lynn, finished third in Class II, Scofield was fourth in Class II, Lohr finished fifth in Class I, and Collins placed seventh in Class IV. Freyman, who was behind the Class II leader by only a few hundredths of a second after the first run, fell on his second run and was disqualified.

The local racers, who are coached by Bill Freyman, will compete this weekend at Tussey Resort near State College, Pa.

Snowmobile Drag Event Dominated By Jim Bernard

Three Garrett County snowmobile racers traveled to Donegal, Pa., January 8 and returned home that evening with numerous awards from the Snowmobile Drag Races sponsored by the Laurel Highlands Snowmobile Club.

Jim Bernard, McHenry, who has dominated practically every race he has been in this year captured four first place awards: Class AA Stock, Class AA Improved Stock, Class A Improved Stock, and Class C Stock.

Rick Livengood finished first in the Class C Improved Stock and won third in the Class C Stock division, while Troy Schwinabart, Deep Creek Lake, won second places in the Class E and Class F Stock divisions and third places in the Class A and Class B Stock events.

Bernard, Livengood, and Schwinabart will be among many other local and regional competitors at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry this Sunday, January 15, when the Snowdrifters Snowmobile Club will hold its own drag racing event. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. and racing will commence at noon. Spectators are welcome.

Lakers Top Fayette And Essex Before Being Hammered By ACC

The Garrett Community College Lakers recorded a pair of wins this past week before facing nationally-ranked Allegany Community College last night in Cumberland and being hammered, 109-74. The victories were a 90-80 defeat of visiting Penn State-Fayette Saturday afternoon and a big 82-77 Monday night win over host Essex Community College, a team that had won nine of its previous ten contests. The two-for-three effort gives Coach Dennis Gibson's Lakers an 8-7 mark for the season.

Romir Miller led the Lakers in scoring against Penn State-Fayette, finishing with 23 points, while Kevin Thompson netted 15 points, Travis Bohrer recorded 13 points and eight rebounds, Aaron Davis chipped in with 12 points and seven assists, and Bobby Gregg added 10 points. Miller also had seven rebounds.

Gregg led five Lakers in double figures against Essex on Monday, finishing with 18 points, while Thompson was close behind with 17, Davis netted 14, and Bohrer and Miller each contributed 10 points.

The score remained close throughout the entire contest, with the Lakers on top by two at halftime, 41-39, and the biggest spread of the night coming in the final minute when Garrett led 79-73.

A pair of free throws by Davis at the 1:48 mark gave GCC a 75-72 advantage. Despite six trips to the foul line by Essex in the final moments, the Knights could not connect on the free throws and also did not hit a goal from the floor in the final two minutes.

The Lakers also got into foul trouble, as Miller, Mark Nuckols, and Bohrer all fouled out. Bohrer led the team in rebounds with seven, although the Lakers were out-rebounded by a 42-30 margin.

Pacing all scorers was Andre Collins of Essex, who finished with 22 points, while teammate Duane Rieswig netted 19 points and pulled 20 rebounds.

Kerwin Thompson's 24 points and Romir Miller's 16 were not nearly enough last night, as the seventh-ranked ACC Trojans cruised to their 17th win in 18 games. The Lakers never led in the contest, as they were quickly down 15-4 in the early going, narrowed the gap to 21-13, fell behind 37-13, and trailed 59-37 at halftime.

Charles Becton and Clint Venable led the scoring effort of the Trojans, netting 24 and 23 points, respectively, while Jay Bias finished with 18 points. Fifteen of Venable's points came on five of seven shots from the three-point range while Bias was two-for-two from that distance.

Both teams took 72 shots at the bucket, but Garrett con-easier for the Lakers this week when they face Craven (N.C.) Community College this Friday night in a tournament at Lenoir, N.C.

Elks' Hoop Shoot Contest Slated For This Sunday

Oakland Elks Lodge Number 2481 will once again be holding its annual Hoop Shoot Free Throw Contest for all local boys and girls, ages 8-13, this Sunday, January 15, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. at the Southern High School main gymnasium. Doors open at 12:30 p.m. for registration of participants. Contestant age group will be determined by their age as of April 1, 1989.

There will be a girl and boy winner in the 8-9 age group, 10-11 age group, and the 12-13 age group. Trophies will be awarded locally for the winners and runners-up in each category, boy and girl.

Over three million youngsters from throughout the country entered last year's competition. Each contestant has 25 shots at the hoop and the boy and girl from each age group with the best scores will advance through four tiers of competition to qualify for the national finals. The winners of the local contest will compete in the district contest on January 28 at St.

FOODLAND SPONSORS WRESTLING EVENT — The first Garrett County Wrestling Tournament, which will feature high school teams from Southern, Northern, Fort Hill, Valley, Hyndman, Central Preston, and East Preston high schools, is being sponsored by Browning's Foodland of Oakland. The event will be held at Southern High School this Saturday, January 14, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., with the finals expected to get underway at 7 p.m. Next year the tourney will be held at Northern High School and sponsored by Grantsville Foodland. Pictured are Jeff Haines, left, of Browning's Foodland, presenting a check to Rob Browning, head coach of the Southern Rams wrestling team.

Maria Goretz High School in Hagerstown. The winners of the district contest will compete in the state contest on February 25 at West Frederick Middle School. Winners of the state contest will advance to the Regional Contest.

All winners of the regional contest will advance to the Hoop Shoot finals. Names of the divisional winners will be inscribed on the Elks' National "Hoop Shoot" plaque, on permanent display in the New Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

For more information, persons may contact local Hoop Shoot director Robert W. Goad at 334-8206.

Ferrell's Mart Wins First In Mt. Top Action

Ferrell's Mart, losers of their first 10 games, finally broke into the win column Tuesday night with a 78-73 victory over Gonder's Insurance. Jim Naton led Ferrell's with 28 points, including two free throws in the last minute of the game to seal the victory. Mel Evans added 16 for the winners. Scott Finch led Gonder's with 30.

In other action Tuesday, Durst Exxon moved into second place in the Southern Division defeating Video Connection, 93-87. Down by 13 points at half-time, Video fought back to take a one-point lead with three minutes to go only, to see Durst's battle back to win the game in the final minutes. Norm Minnick netted 23 for Durst's and Tom Hinkle added 20. John Kruk led Video with 45 points.

Deep Creek Pharmacy took sole possession of third place in the Northern Division with a 78-65 win over Bausch & Lomb. Max Hill scored 23 points and hit five three-point shots, while Jerry Herpel added 15 points for The Pharmacy. Steve Lyons led B&L with 22 points.

At the Armory, Martin's Auto Glass drilled Buffalo Coal, 106-78, and A&A Realty downed the National Guard, 110-82.

JANUARY 5 RESULTS
Bausch & Lomb won its second game of the season defeating Gonder's Insurance, 110-76. John McIntee led B&L with 18 points and Scott Finch of Gonder's led all scorers with 37.

A&A Realty, second place in the Northern Division, sent Miners & Merchants, leaders in the Southern Division, to its second straight defeat, 94-77. Ken Niner dominated the inside game to score 38 points for A&A. Steve Liller added 23 points in the victory. Jerry Myers led the Miners with 24 points.

Video Connection fought off a determined Ferrell's Mart to record an 88-80 victory. John Kruk led Video with 19 points.

Mel Evans of Ferrell's led all scorers with 26 points, and Rick Minnick added 25.

Deep Creek Pharmacy jumped out to a 22-3 first quarter lead and then held on to defeat Fairfax Stone, 74-61. Fairfax cut the lead to six points in the fourth quarter, but could not get any closer. Dave McLaughlin scored 11 of his points in the fourth quarter, including 7 of 11 at the foul stripe, to preserve the win for the Pharmacy. Mike led Deep Creek Pharmacy with 16 points, while Frank Radford scored 16 for Fairfax.

The National Guard won a game over The Body Firm via a forfeit, 2-0.

Garrett Sports League Slates Meeting, Seminar

The Garrett Sports League will hold an organizational meeting and seminar at Garrett Community College, McHenry, on Wednesday, January 25, at 6 p.m.

The League plans to continue its sponsorship of the "Best of the West" Triathlon, held in August, the Autumn Glory Festival 10-K Run, and a number of other fun races and community projects that will all be discussed at the meeting.

Following the meeting, John McIntee, Oakland, who has been a nationally-ranked, world-class pentathlete for the past several years, will conduct a seminar on athletic training and nutrition. A special invitation is being extended by the League to all local coaches and athletic training personnel. The general public is also invited and encouraged to attend.

The meeting and seminar will be held in Room 250 of the Tech Center at the McHenry Campus of GCC.

The Drought Of '88 And Its Effect On Forestland

The drought of '88 — "The worst we've seen since the dust-bowl of the thirties," say many tree farmers. The American Forest Council asks: "What will be the impact on our forests? Will it have an insidious effect — weakening our forests and silently eroding our future wood? How are the experts evaluating the drought's impact on trees?"

Loss of tree seedlings is one costly legacy of the drought of '88. Because tree seedlings, unlike corn seed, are sensitive to differences in soil type, they cannot be shipped from one region to help out another region. No matter how many loblolly pines seedlings the state of Georgia may have on hand in their nurseries, they will not grow successfully in Minnesota. That means drought stricken foresters must depend on regional nurseries to replenish their stock.

The number of one and two-year old seedlings lost this year runs from 40 percent up. Some tree farmers — private forest landowners who manage their trees — have lost all the seedlings they planted in the past two years. Although Uncle Sam will reimburse tree farmers — through the "Drought Relief Bill" — for part of their loss, the damage is still severe.

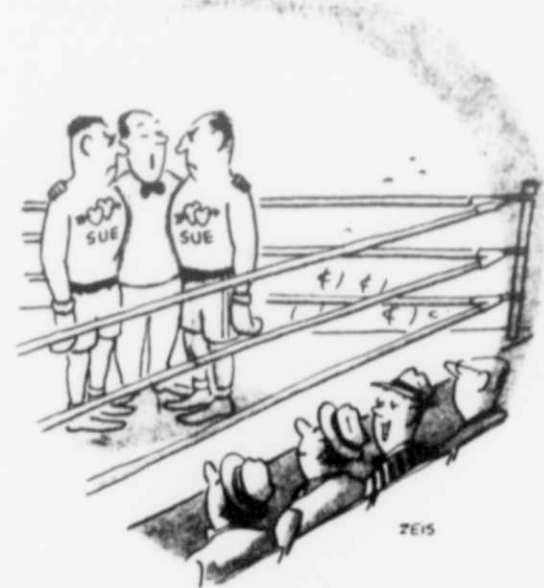

The greatest danger from the drought is its effect on the forest waste. More trees in the west will be destroyed by wildfire worsened by drought than are destroyed directly by dry conditions. Drought severity maps of the United States, compiled by the U.S. Forest Service, suggest this fire season will be particularly dangerous for much of the west and parts of the south — perhaps even worse than 1987, when 137,000 fires burned almost five million acres. The late-summer Yellowstone fire is but one example.

The drought may also have a long-term effect on the nation's wood supply. Trees weakened by drought will be more susceptible to disease and insect damage, and there may be slower growth of trees in dry areas for several years. Only time will tell how severe the impact will be.

The news is not all bad, however, at least not in the west. There, although the drought has been severe and danger from forest fire is every present, seedlings are stronger and more apt to survive dry conditions than they are elsewhere. That's because most forests in the west are naturally regenerated, rather than replanted from nursery stock, as forests are in other regions. And seedlings grown in nature have not been subjected to the shock of being dug up and transplanted, hence are more able to tolerate dry conditions.

Another perspective can soften the impact: percentages of trees lost to the drought do not necessarily reflect the percentage of trees that must be replanted. If the stricken trees are distributed throughout a forest, they may be regarded as part of the natural thinning process and will not all have to be replaced.

Will our nation's tree nurseries be able to replace the seedlings lost this year? The forest community agrees that 1988 and 1989 should be a test of our nurseries' capacity to meet demand — not only because of the drought, but also because of the rapid expansion of tree planting programs in the past two years. Tree planting has broken records over the past five years, rising to three billion trees planted in 1987. The Conservation Reserve Program, a tree-planting incentive program especially active in the south, accounted for one billion of these. Fortunately, the drought was less drastic this year in the south, where seedling demand is heaviest.

The final diagnosis of the drought's impact on forests this year is that some seedlings shortages can be expected, but they could be localized. As one forester put it: "Droughts always look worse in the year they occur." Looking back, we may find that the drought of 1986 was more devastating to our forests than this year's.

Special Interest Courses For Adult Students Are Scheduled At GCC

A variety of special interest courses designed to appeal to part-time adult students as well as full-time students will be offered by Garrett Community College during the spring semester which begins January 23.

According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, these courses will form the nucleus of the Beacon Program, a new concept in adult education. Other new courses are being developed and will be offered later in the spring and early summer, in keeping with the college's mission of providing educational opportunities for life-long learning. Most of the courses are offered during the late afternoon and evening hours to make them available to adults who work during the day.

Art professor Ron Skidmore has identified several art courses that will appeal to adult students with special interests. Basic Design II (Art 102), being offered on Tuesday evenings, deals with three-dimensional design, including the sculptural process with various media. Introduction to Graphic Design (Art 108), scheduled for Monday and Wednesday afternoons, teaches visual art forms for the printed media, including lettering and designing of posters.

Another course that will appeal to the adult population is Modern Philosophy (PHL 210), to be taught by Dr. Steve Herman on Monday and Wednesday evenings. This course will acquaint the student with leading European philosophers and an understanding of philosophic movements of the twentieth century.

A new course this year is Appalachian Literature (Eng 210), to be taught by Jan Finkel on Tuesday evenings. In this course, students will read and discuss works of fiction written by and about people of the Appalachian region.

Because of the growing interest in bagpipe in this area, a new music course has been developed. Instrumental Music — Pipes and Drums will be taught by the Honorable Fred A. Thayer on Wednesday evenings. Students taking this course will learn to play the Scottish bagpipes and drums, and will also become members of the Garrett Highlanders performing group. Instruments will be provided.

Adults who are considering starting their own business, or who are facing a career change, might find that Introduction to Small Business (Bus 160) will answer questions pertinent to their needs. This course will be taught by John Gould on Tuesday evenings.

Students may register for these and other courses at the Registrar's Office of the college from January 16-27, on Monday-Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., and on Fridays until 4 p.m. Anyone desiring further information about any of these courses may call the Registrar's Office at 387-6666. Tuition is waived for Maryland residents 60 years of age or older.

Senior Adult Courses Offered By Garrett C.C.

Several courses for senior adults are currently being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College at various locations throughout Garrett County.

Fundamentals of Applied Art
Three courses focusing on crafts began today at the Grantsville United Church of Christ. The course will be held each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon for a total of six sessions.

The second offering will be held each Tuesday at Meadowlands East from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for a total of six sessions. The third course will be held at Meadowlands East each Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m. for a total of six sessions.

Another course focusing on crafts began today at the Grantsville United Church of Christ. The course will be held each Thursday from 12 noon to 3:45 p.m. for a total of four sessions.

A course focusing on knitting is scheduled to be held at the Oakland Center beginning January 20, 1989. The course will be held each Friday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon for a total of six sessions.

15 sessions.

The second course will be held at the Oakland Center each Monday and Wednesday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., beginning Wednesday, January 18, for a total of 15 sessions.

Painting
Three painting for seniors courses have been scheduled by the Continuing Education Division. The first began Monday, January 9, at the Accident Senior Center. Sessions will be held each Monday from 10 a.m. to noon for a total of 6 sessions. The course focuses on oil painting and is instructed by Loretta DeWitt.

The second offering began Wednesday, January 11, at the Oakland Center. This course focuses on oil painting, and is instructed by Louise Kitzmiller. Sessions will be held each Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. for a total of four sessions.

The third course will also be held at the Oakland Center. It will focus on oil painting, and is scheduled to begin on Friday, January 20. Sessions will be held each Friday from 1 to 3 p.m. for a total of six sessions.

Maryland senior citizens, persons 60 years of age or older, may attend these courses tuition free, but must supply their own material. A tuition fee of $10 plus materials will be charged for others wishing to enroll. Although some courses are underway, prospective students are encouraged to contact Pat at 334-8304 or 387-6666, ext. 169, for more information on these courses.

Pre-Employment Skills Training Classes Planned

The New Horizons Program, providing services for single parents, homemakers, and displaced homemakers, in cooperation with the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, will sponsor a Pre-Employment Skills Training class from Friday, January 27, through Friday, March 10. The classes will be held on Fridays for seven weeks from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Oakland Branch of Garrett Community College on Center Street.

Material to be covered includes self-awareness tests, career counseling, goal setting strategies, interviewing techniques, resume writing, learning about available career resources, financial aid, and more.

Participants of the New Horizons Program are encouraged by New Horizons officials to take this class before pursuing other vocational training through the program. Tuition assistance is available to those who qualify for the New Horizons Program.

Interested persons may register for the class through the New Horizons Program. Information on eligibility for the program and its services, as well as tuition availability, may be obtained by calling New Horizons at 387-6666, ext. 171, weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. New Horizons is located at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College.

ABE Classes In Garrett County Now Underway

Adult Basic Education/GED classes, sponsored by Garrett Community College, have begun at two sites in Garrett County on the following schedule: Oakland Center/GCC, Mondays, 6-9:15 p.m.; Bloomington Elementary School, Tuesdays, 6-9:15 p.m.; and Oakland Center/GCC, Thursdays, 1-4:15 p.m.

This program is designed to meet a variety of student needs. Students may study for a Maryland High School Diploma, brush up on forgotten skills to enter college, or to learn basic skills such as reading. Trained tutors are available to assist the non-reader. Each course is designed to accept students on an on-going basis at no cost to the student. Pre-registration is not necessary for these courses.

Persons wishing to attend may simply walk in to any of these classes. Those who have questions may contact Pat at 334-8304 or 387-6666, ext. 169.

Continuing Ed. Classes Offered By Garrett CC

Various courses are being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, some of which are detailed below. More information about these and other courses, including fees, may be obtained by calling GCC at 387-6666.

REAL ESTATE

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College has announced a series of three non-credit courses which are designed to prepare real estate professionals to challenge the State Licensing Exam to become brokers. All courses will be held in the Center for Community and Continuing Education at the McHenry Campus.

The instructor, John W. Chester, JD, CCIM, is an owner and broker of record of an investment real estate firm in Baltimore. Chester has been active in real estate education for 11 years and has taught for Loyola College, Dundalk & Catonsville community colleges, the Greater Baltimore Board of Realtors and the Maryland Association of Realtors. He is a licensed broker in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

The three courses are designed to be taken in consecutive order. Successful completion of the first course is necessary to proceed to the second. The third course has a prerequisite of both Real Estate Broker I and II, OR proof of completion of GRI, for enrollment.

Real Estate Broker I and II are each 45 hours of independent study, supervised by the instructor. Real Estate Broker III is 48 hours of instruction and is open to students who have completed Broker I & II or students who show proof of completion of GRI. The text can be used for all three courses.

The deadline for registration for the Real Estate Broker I Course is January 18, 1989.

CPR

A Basic Cardiac Life Support Training: CPR course will be offered by the Division of Continuing Education of Garrett Community College.

The class will meet for three sessions from 4:15 p.m. The first session will be Wednesday, January 18, the second on Friday, January 20, and the third on Monday, January 23. All sessions will be held at the Grantsville Elementary School.

This course will train the student to deal with a cardiac arrest emergency situation and provide practical lab experience which coincides with lecture material.

Ms. Sconyers Joins GCC Library Staff

Judith Sconyers recently joined the staff at Garrett Community College library as the acquisitions, processing and cataloging technician. Ms. Sconyers spent nine years as librarian at Seabury Hall, a private boarding and day school for grades 7-12, in Mawakao, Hawaii.

Ms. Sconyers was graduated from Longwood College, Farmville, Va., with a bachelor of arts degree in English.

She lives in Cranesville, W.Va., with her husband, Jim, and son, Jacob.

or by bus from nearby parking areas. Numerous exhibitors and food concessions will be available for the public. On-site entertainment will also be provided in line with the frontier theme of the event with Native American Indians and mountaineers demonstrating their skills and cultural heritage. Live music, boating exhibitions, award ceremonies and craft demonstrations are also among the activities planned.

"Activities are planned to appeal to all," Bambacus states, "however, none will outdo the thrill and excitement of watching the skills and determination of athletes from around the world who have come to challenge the mighty whitewaters of the Savage."

Senator Bambacus emphasized that the organizing committee, Whitewater Championships, Inc. is "working hard" to make this event, held for the first time in the United States, "the best ever." He indicated that this effort was also designed to promote Western Maryland and provide significant economic benefit to the area. The pre-world event, the Maryland International Classic, held in June 1988 had an economic impact of about three million dollars, according to a study conducted by the State Department of Economic and Employment Development. The 1989 event is much larger and longer and is projected to have a direct beneficial impact of some ten million dollars on the economy.

Bambacus encouraged area governments and businesses to capitalize on this event by "putting out the welcome mat" and planning special activities and offers that will attract visitors to their communities and establishments. He indicated there was still time to become a part of "Whitewater Festival — '89." He also stated that the press can help to ensure the success of the event by providing coverage and publishing releases, schedules and the like designed to inform the public of the World Championships and related activities.

The Senator emphasized that the World Championships represents "one of the most significant events ever" to come to Western Maryland and stated, "this event provided all of us an unprecedented opportunity to showcase Maryland to the world and realize both immediate and long term benefits for our area."

Sheriff's Dept. Rules Shooting Is Accidental

A shooting incident which occurred in Deer Park last Friday has been ruled accidental.

Mary Catherine Paugh, Deer Park, was injured at her home on the afternoon of January 6. She was treated and released from Garrett Memorial Hospital the same afternoon.

According to police reports, Paugh was standing outside near an open door when her brother-in-law, Walter Lee Paugh, fired a shot from the interior of the house at a barrel outside that was being used for target practice. Apparently, wind caught the door, blowing it shut, and the bullet hit the door, shattering it. Shards of broken glass and remnants of the bullet struck Paugh in the face.

Walter Paugh was using a .44 caliber muzzleloading pistol. No charges have been filed in the incident, which was investigated by Detective R.L. Sines.

Asbestos Removal Completed In Several Schools

The Garrett County Board of Education this week reported that asbestos removal was accomplished at several area schools over the Christmas holiday, and was concluded last week.

Buildings included Northern High School, Camp Hickory, the board office, Swan Meadow, and Loch Lynn Elementary School.

The projects were completed by Riteway Services, Inc., of Cumberland. Representatives from Briggs and Associates, of Columbia, were also present to monitor the removal process, and also took air samples before and after the removal.

The asbestos was present mostly in boiler and mechanical rooms. According to a board spokesman, asbestos remains in some of the schools in vinyl floor tile, which they are not required to remove unless the building is torn down.

West Virginia Man Arrested On Drug Charge

A Huntington, W.Va., man was arrested on a drug charge by Maryland State Police at McHenry this week.

David U. Bowman was stopped by Tpr. R.T. Wilson for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Wilson reported that suspected marijuana was found on the dash, and Bowman was charged with possession of marijuana.

Police reported that Gordon L. Noble, of Oakland, was arrested on a theft charge which stemmed from a November incident.

According to police files, Noble was involved in a scam which caused James U. Kitts, of Oakland, to write three checks made out to Noble totaling $5,350 while he was in a state of intoxication.

The incident was investigated by Tfc. R.C. Resh.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM TELEPHONE SALES FRAUD

Recently, local individuals have received calls about changing long distance telephone companies. Not all such solicitations are honest and above board.

The consumer can protect him/herself by being informed. A new telemarketing law, in effect since July 1, 1988, requires that:

*When the seller initiates a phone call to a consumer who then agrees to make a purchase, the seller must send the consumer a written contract. The contract must contain the seller's name, address, telephone number, the total price of the contract and a detailed description of the goods or services being sold.

*There must be a conspicuous statement in the contract disclosing that no payments will be required unless the consumer signs and returns the contract to the seller.

*The seller may not charge anything to a consumer's credit account unless the consumer signs the contract and sends it back to the seller.

*All representations made by the telemarketer must be included in the contract.

*The contract may not exclude from its terms any oral or written representations made by the merchant to the consumer.

The law does not apply if:

*The consumer initiates the call.

*The seller has made a previous sale to the consumer.

*The seller has a 7-day return policy and will process a refund within 30 days of receipt of undamaged and unused goods.

*The consumer initially visits the seller's store.

*The information that is required to be in the contract is made available in a printed or media advertisement.

*The seller is offering financial services or security investments.

*The seller is offering goods or services to a business.

*The consumer has had previous dealings with a business. For example, if a credit card company called a cardholder to solicit the sale of goods or services, the cardholder would not be protected by the law because there is a pre-existing business relationship between the credit card company and the cardholder.

For telephone transactions not covered under the above law, you can take the following steps:

*Ask callers for the name, address and phone number of the company they represent and for written information about its offer before you make a decision about it.

*Even if the law does not require a written contract, ask for a written copy of all the sales terms before you agree to buy anything. A legitimate seller should consider this request reasonable.

*Make sure all written information confirms everything you were told by phone and keep copies of all documentation. Be sure you know what your total costs will be, including additional costs such as shipping and finance charges.

*Watch out for bargain prices. Reputable businesses can't afford to give away merchandise or undercut the competition's price. Don't be bashful about asking a lot of questions. If you are not given detailed answers, this is a deal you should avoid.

*Don't be pressured into making a quick decision. Legitimate businesses do not expect you to make an immediate commitment. You can always request the seller to call back after you have considered the offer. Be wary if a salesperson says "you must act today in order to take advantage of this once-in-a-lifetime offer."

*Do not give your credit card number to a telemarketer until you are satisfied that you are dealing with a reputable company.

*Never give your checking account number or send your signature to a telemarketer. Fraudulent sellers sometimes say they need your signature for identification to send you a "gift." They then use your signature and checking account number to withdraw money from your checking account.

*Never send cash, a check or money order by messenger or overnight mail to a seller who insists on immediate payment.

*Be wary of making a purchase because of the promise of a prize, and remember, Maryland law requires that if a prize is offered it must be given whether or not you make the purchase.

government and private organization by calling:

Better Business Bureau, 347-3990; Toll Free, 1-800-492-2101.

Wolff Solo Dance Repertory Set At Frostburg State

The Maris Wolff Solo Dance Repertory will be presented Sunday, Jan. 29, at 8 p.m. in Compton Auditorium on the Frostburg State University campus.

Sponsored by the FSU Cultural Events Series, the performance will present a panorama of dance drama. Maris Wolff is an assistant professor of dance at Johnson State College, Johnson, Vt., where she is in residence with her Solo Dance Repertory. She will be joined in one dance by Lisa Jablow, assistant professor of music at Johnson State College, in her first professional dance role.

Ms. Wolff received her early training at the School of American Ballet, The American Ballet Theater School, and the Harkness House for Ballet Arts. She has studied many modern dance techniques, including those of Graham, Humphrey, Limon, Cunningham, Horton, Ito, Denis, Shaw, and Duncan. Ms. Wolff has also studied historical dance with special focus on the Renaissance and the 19th Century, jazz, and folk dance. Her teaching experience includes Hunter College and the Clark Center for the Performing Arts in New York City, and residencies at schools throughout the United States and Europe. She has performed as a soloist with the Milwaukee Ballet, Richard Englund's Ballet Repertory, and as an independent artist in the United States and abroad.

Maris Wolff is currently a member of the Court Dance Company of New York City, which will be performing later this year at the Smithsonian Institution. She has also been a recipient of a Vermont Council on the Arts Grant-In-Aid and is listed in the Vermont Council on the Arts' Touring Register.

"As you watch Maris Wolff, you realize she is totally committed, that artistic integrity and personal integrity are inseparable in her. With each dance, she brings a sureness that is more than mere accuracy; she knows the essence of each dance and projects it. Exactly as it should be from an able artist, perhaps, but a prize to find." —Sherry Underwood, The Burlington (VT) Free Press.

General admission for the performance will be $2.00. Anyone with a Frostburg State University I.D. will be admitted free.

Eyedrops Issue Is First Business Of General Assembly

Yesterday at the opening ceremonies of the General Assembly session, Delegate Clayton Mitchell, D-Kent, was re-elected as House speaker and Thomas "Mike" Miller, D-Prince George's, was re-elected president of the Senate.

A significant issue that the House of Delegates dealt with Wednesday was deciding to override Governor Schaefer's veto of the eyedrops bill.

This bill will allow optometrists in Maryland to use eyedrops that dilate pupils, which will make it easier to diagnose certain diseases. Maryland is the only state that does not allow optometrists to use eyedrops.

The eyedrop bill has been in existence for approximately ten years. The two groups, optometrists and ophthalmologists, have argued for years over this issue. The ophthalmologists say that the optometrists are not medical doctors, therefore they are not qualified to use diagnostic eyedrops.

Gov. Schaefer, who agrees with the ophthalmologists, vetoed the bill last spring. Yesterday the house voted 122-14 to override the veto.

On Friday the leaders in the Senate will vote on the bill and it is most likely that it will become a law.

TWO LETTERS CAN SAVE YOUR CHILD'S LIFE

When confronted with drugs, the two most important letters in the alphabet for your children to know are "NO." Children learn the alphabet at an early age, but they are also exposed to drugs early in life.

Statistics indicate that 17% of today's youth use alcohol or drugs on a daily basis. Teach your children to know their alphabet when it comes to drugs.

TERRA ALTA NEWS

EAST VIEW ACTIVITIES
The staff and management held a Christmas party for the residents of East View Care Home on Sunday, December 18. Those present were Edith Casteel, manager, and aides, Theresa Murphy, Joanne Fultz, Betty Sybolt, Nancy Haskiel, Leota Keller (cook), Rodena Himmerick, Mrs. Virginia Cole, Grace and Bob Cole and Evelyn Heise.

The residents received many gifts. The Terra Alta Homemakers made bibs and pads for the residents. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. Santa Claus made an appearance.

Bertha Riggelman made ceramic bells and large platters of cookies and candies. The choir from Faith United Methodist Church sang.

AMBULANCE MEETING
The Terra Alta Community Ambulance Association will conduct its annual election meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, January 19.

PERSONALS
Catherine Gower was admitted recently to Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grimm and George Jr. of Virginia, visited recently with Mrs. Nellie Grimm.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS
Every month that has a fifth Thursday is a special one for the Terra Alta Rotary Club. The fifth Thursday has been designated "Ladies' Night" and wives and friends of the Rotarians are invited to attend. The most recent Ladies' Night was December 29 at Alpine Lake.

After dinner, Vice President Gary Livengood welcomed those present and introduced the Rotary Ann and guests. The two most recent members of the club — John Dixon and Berlin Graham — and their wives were introduced and the wives each received Rotary Ann pins.

Two honorary Rotary Annns, Lulu Watson and Nellie Whittaker, were unable to attend.

The next Ladies' Night will be March 30.

VISITS VFW AUXILIARY

Department of West Virginia Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary President Calla Frederick was among department officials who attended a membership round-up conducted by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Aurora-Terra Alta Post 578, December 30.

Other department officials attending were Senior Vice President Virginia Robinson, Junior Vice President Linda Hill and District Three President Nita Lipscomb.

Auxiliary President Betty Sereno received a banner in recognition of the Auxiliary's having 100 percent membership. The banner was presented by Ms. Robinson.

Other auxiliary members from Post 578 attending were Violet Bishop, Betty Pifer, and Ruth Sybolt. Attending from Colonel Rowan Post 2345 Auxiliary in Tunnelton was Genevieve Mankins.

VFW Commander to Post 578, Wayne Sell, also received a banner because the post also has 100 percent membership. State VFW officers attending were State Commander Walter Lawson, Senior Vice Commander Ralph Stump, Junior Vice Commander, James Burkhart and Jim Sybolt. Posts represented at the round-up included those from Masontown, Rowlesburg, Bruceton Mills and Tunnelton.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans' of Foreign Wars of West Virginia is a service organization which has a total of 12,395 members dedicated to promoting patriotism, assisting communities and aiding veterans.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Terra Alta Homemakers met December 20 at the home of Edna Gibson. The program was tapes of Christmas music, followed by meditation.

Business was conducted by Wilma Friend.

Members brought gifts for residents of Hopemont to the meeting and they were delivered by members.

Special features were a decorative stool made over and crocheted snowflakes.

Those attending were Mary Frankhouser, Wilma Friend, Beatrice Kelly, Lucy Kelly, Dollie Metheny, Marie Metheny, Edna Gibson, and a guest, Lulu Teets.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Lucy Kelly.

WITH STRESS

Beginning with the feet and continuing through the body to the top, an afternoon of relaxing gave the Eglon Extension Homemakers a release from their stress. The January 3 meeting was held at the home of Brenda Hartsell and a tape guiding the relaxation technique along with picturesque seaside scenes, plus gentle music, set the scene for the experience.

Opening devotions were conducted by the hostess and her mother, Rose Ina Harsh. Mrs. Hartsell read "Twas the Night After Christmas" and Mrs. Harsh presented thoughts concerning the New Year centered around a new beginning which included a concluding poem and prayer.

Roll call was answered with all members present. A report on the Christmas West Virginia workshop, Salvation Army stockings, and other action was given to the members during the business session conducted by the president, Linda Lewis. Mrs. Lewis also displayed a notebook to be passed among club members containing a variety of information on child rearing, health, consumer rights, and others.

The meeting concluded with the display of the hostess' special feature, a creche scene she had made using clothespins, pipe cleaners, and clay followed by the serving of refreshments. Present were Linda and Sara Lewis, Mildred Wilt, Avenell Parsons, Lectie Bonner, Lillian Knotts, Rebecca Teets, Ardis Teets, Nina Layman, Ruth Teets, Jean Winters, Mary Rembold and Craig, Sandra Hauser, Mrs. Harsh, Mrs. Hartsell and her son, Allen.

JAMBOREE TRIP PLANNED

The trip made before Christmas to Wheeling Jamboree proved to be so popular that there have been requests for another trip from the Aurora area. One is being planned for March 11 when Kathy Mattea will be appearing, this time at the 7:30 show. Persons who wish to go may contact Delores or David Stemple. Cost of the trip, which includes transportation, dinner and theater tickets, is $45 and the reservations and money must be in by February 4.

NEW YEAR DINNER

At their first meeting of the new year, Union District Seniors shared a covered dish dinner on January 7 at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. LaDonna Ringer, senior nurse, was present to take blood pressure readings.

Opening devotions were presented by Naomi Teets who used scripture from the Psalms and meditation. Floyd Knapp also had a reading and he and Delbert Knotts entertained with music. Five get-well cards were prepared for mailing and 29 members present were dismissed with prayer by Pearl Stemple.

DEER HUNTERS DINE

Several of the local men who deer hunt together were joined by their families for a dinner on Sunday, January 8, at the Maple Spring Church. Attending the dinner were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harsh and Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Gibson and grandson, Shawn Gibson of Cranestown, David and Sandy Knotts, Thomas and Kim of Fairmont, Russell and Donna Beckman, Julie, Tonya and Rhett; Jeff and Cindy Harsh, Melvin and Rose Ina Harsh, Stan and Mark, Mark and Lindsey, Wade, Mary and Tim Harsh, Marvin, Ellen and Lyvonne Harsh, and Robert and Arnetis Harsh.

Elisabeth Elliot Gren To Lead

Living For Christ Weekend Seminar

Elisabeth Elliot Gren, one of America's most outstanding and respected Christian authors/speakers, will be presenting the seminar "An Indestructible Peace" at "Mountaintop '89." She will be featured at Living for Christ Conferences' third yearly getaway weekend for men and women to be held at Sheraton Lakeview in Morgantown, W.Va., March 3-5.

Elisabeth Elliot spent 11 years as a missionary with jungle Indians in Ecuador, where her first husband, Jim Elliot, and four other missionaries were speared to death in their attempt to take the Gospel to the Aucas Indians. Later, she and her three-year-old daughter went to live among the Aucas. Mrs. Gren will share her profound wisdom gleaned from her experiences as a missionary, wife, mother, widow, teacher, and lecturer. Her 19 books include bestsellers Through Gates of Splendor, Shadow of the Almighty, The Savage, My Kinsman, Love Has A Price Tag, Passion and Purity, Discipline: The Glad Surrender, and newly-released Loneliness.

"It's been a dream of ours, since Living for Christ Conferences' inception in 1984, to have Elisabeth Elliot as our speaker," said Anne Robinson, chairman of the nonprofit, non-denominational sponsor.

Ms. Robinson is the former Anne Gibson, daughter of Maxine Gibson, Oakland, and the late Dr. Robert Gibson.

"We hope that people will take advantage of this special opportunity. This is the only conference of its kind in the tri-state and we are thrilled that such a beautiful location as Sheraton Lakeview will be the scene of 'Mountaintop '89.'"

The registration deadline for "Mountaintop '89" is January 31, so Ms. Robinson encourages registrants to sign up early, as space is limited. The conference rates including all programs, four meals, and two nights lodging begin at $110 per person. For more information, persons may call (304) 455-5322 or (304) 455-4271 or write LFCC, P.O. Box 217, New Martinsville, W.Va. 26155.

ALLEGHENY MOUNTAINTOP LIBRARY

Those who have visited the Allegheny Mountaintop Public Library since January 3 have seen a touch of the prehistoric past — a 4-foot-long inflatable dinosaur that doesn't have a name. Whoever names him will get to take him home. Names may be submitted through February 3 and persons may submit as many different names as they wish. On February 6 the name of the dinosaur and the name of the winner will be posted at the library. The names submitted will be reviewed and one will be chosen by a judge.

Course On Stress Management Is Stated At GCMH

The Wellness Together Program of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Garrett County Health Department will be offering its Personal Stress Management Program beginning Monday, January 23, according to Wellness Together Coordinator, Mikal Moomau.

Personal Stress Management, designed by psychologists and physicians, is a dynamic group program that shows participants step by step how to recognize, minimize, control, and constructively channel the stress forces which affect life.

"This program gives a clear insight into both the psychology and physiology of stress, enabling you to make stress a productive ally, not a problem," Ms. Moomau said. "You'll come to understand not only how stress works, but how to make stress work for you."

The following are among the comments from former Stress Management graduates:

"Really helped... consistently sleeping better than I did before."

"Don't get uptight and tense nearly as much... things go more smoothly at both the office and at home."

"The kids don't bother me as much (which is the reason I came to this class)."

"I just plain feel better... I have more energy and more pep and get more done — with less hassle."

"It helps me prioritize things to really understand what are the important things and what

Charlotte Bock, R.N.
Instructor of Stress Management not to worry about." Charlotte Bock, RN, course instructor, received her training at the National Center for Health Promotion.

"Once we realize that stress is essential in our life and that we can control how we react to it we are on our way to a happier life," Ms. Bock said. "One of the benefits of teaching this course is the interesting people you meet and how quickly we begin to support one another in our efforts to manage our stress."

The Introductory Session on Monday, January 23, at 6 p.m. at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Board Room is free. Persons may call Wellness Together at 334-2155 to register or obtain more information.

ect. The three companies involved, however, hope to convince the utilities to support the project and, with the help of Western Maryland legislators, get a bill introduced to raise the environmental surcharge.

Using an environmental surcharge to generate revenue would average about six cents a month for residential customers. The other alternative which could be used by the state to raise its one-quarter share of the project's cost would be appropriation from the budget.

If Maryland fails to make the financial commitment within the next several months, the three companies will proceed with the full-scale test in Ohio, which has promised money for the project.

DHCD Announces $20,000 Grant To Garrett CAC

The Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) Secretary Jacqueline H. Rogers announced this week the awarding of a $20,000 matching grant to Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc.

The funding source is the Home Maintenance and Repair (HOMAR) Program administered by DHCD's Division of Community Assistance. The HOMAR Program provides assistance to elderly or handicapped homeowners with limited incomes. It provides basic home repair and maintenance services limited to the correction of minor housing defects or improvements for safety and security.

"It is another example of the partnership approach to service delivery," said DHCD Secretary Jacqueline Rogers.

"The HOMAR Program represents the joint efforts between the State, County, and non-profit organizations to serve the citizens of Maryland," she added.

For additional program information, persons may contact Ms. Meg Ellis, Garrett County CAC, (301) 334-9431.

Two Arrested By Sheriff's Dept. For CDS Possession

Two persons were arrested and cited on several drug related charges on New Year's Day as the result of an investigation conducted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Nancy Carol Paugh, 44, Mt. Lake Park, and William Edward Curtis, 32, Alexandria, Va., were arrested on a search and seizure warrant at Paugh's home on "E" Street.

According to a report filed by Deputy R. L. Sines, the Department seized quantities of controlled dangerous substances (CDS) and multiple CDS paraphernalia during the search. No information on the amount or type of CDS and paraphernalia was available.

Paugh and Curtis have been charged with one count each of possession of CDS, possession with intent to distribute, conspiracy to distribute CDS and possession of CDS paraphernalia.

Paugh has been released on 10 percent of $10,000 bond. Curtis is being held in lieu of $15,000 bond cash.

Several Mishaps

Aubrey with failing to drive on the right side of the road. Fearer was charged with a seat belt violation.

Several persons were injured in the four-car pile-up which occurred on U.S. Route 219 near Oakland on Friday at 4:50 p.m.

Police reported that Tina M. Evans, 19, of Oakland, was traveling south in a 1986 Nissan pick-up when she lost control because of the icy roadway. The vehicle went sideways, crossed the center line, and collided head-on with a 1976 Chevrolet Impala driven by Emilie J. Hoyer, 51, Mtn. Lake Park.

The Hoyer vehicle was then struck in the left side by two northbound vehicles, a 1984 Chevrolet Citation driven by Rodney B. Glatfelter, 36, of Accident; and a 1986 Oldsmobile Regency operated by Mary J. Paugh, 51, Deer Park.

The Southern Rescue Squad responded to the scene of the accident and transported injured persons to Garrett Memorial. Treated and released were Evans and a passenger in her vehicle, Daniel E. Eggleston, 18, Oakland; and Hoyer and her four passengers, William H. Collins, 20; Tonya M. Collins, 18; and Bridget and Felicia Collins, both age one; all of McHenry. Glatfelter and Paugh were reportedly not injured.

The mishap was investigated by Tfc. D.G. Rigglesman, who charged Evans with failing to keep to the right and Hoyer for not having a child under three in a safety seat.

A single-vehicle accident occurred late Saturday morning on the Glendale Road.

According to police reports, Patricia A. Gregory, 37, of Swanton, was operating a 1979 Mercury Zephyr when she failed to negotiate a sharp curve and struck a guardrail. The road was reportedly snow-covered.

Gregory and two passengers, Frederick L. Gregory, 24, and Janet E. Welch, 14, both of Swanton, were treated and released from Garrett Memorial following the mishap. They were transported by the Southern Rescue Squad.

Tpr. P.R. Brown, who investigated the incident, reported that Gregory was charged with traveling at a speed greater than reasonable.

A single-vehicle accident on Deep Creek Drive on Sunday resulted in injuries and the DWI charge.

Police said Mark P. Grimm, 19, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was driving a 1986 Ford Ranger when it ran off the edge of the road, side-swiped a utility pole with the passenger side, continued over an embankment, side-swiped a utility pole with the driver's side, and overturned.

Both Grimm and a passenger, James G. Rush, 28, also of Pittsburgh, were taken to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad, where they were both admitted and later discharged.

The accident was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, who reported that Grimm was charged with negligent driving and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

A single-vehicle accident on U.S. Route 50 on Sunday also resulted in the DWI charge.

According to police reports, Charles M. Culp, 26, Brems Bluff, Va., was driving a 1988 Ford Escort when he lost control of the vehicle. The car ran off the left side of the road and struck a tree.

Tfc. D.G. Rigglesman investigated, charging Culp with failing to keep to the right, driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving with a canceled license, and driving an unregistered vehicle.

A single-vehicle accident occurred Sunday evening on Alternate U.S. Route 40.

Police reported that Duane C. Patton, 19, of Accident, was operating a 1988 Dodge truck when it began to slide on a patch of ice. The truck crossed the road, struck an embankment, and overturned.

Patton and two passengers, Duane Fratz, 20, also of Accident; and Angela Baker, 19, Grantsville, were reportedly treated at the scene of the accident.

Tfc. L. Rosage investigated the mishap, and reported that no charges have been filed.

A $9 billion budget was suggested about two weeks ago. Since this time Governor Schaefer has made known his dissatisfaction with the spending limits that the legislators created. These limits could prevent the assembly from approving the governor's plans for new programs.

This year the House Appropriations Committee, of which Delegate Edwards, R-Garrett-Allegany, is a ranking member, will review the budget first.

The budget has to be cut by Edwards' committee and brought into agreement with the state's spending limits.

a joint committee on economic development to plan for the future.

Delegate Casper Taylor, D-Allegany-Washington, thinks the committee will be able to examine the world economy which will help the state prepare its economic future and all the while the state can enjoy a healthy financial status.

According to Del. Taylor, the 1989 General Assembly will be presented three bills that will assist the coal industries operating in Garrett and Allegany counties.

One of the bills will create a state tax credit for cogeneration plants that burn Maryland coal. A second bill will make the tax that coal producers pay to counties in place of personal property taxes permanent. The last bill will set the revegetation bond at $2,100 an acre and create a fund that would be used in the case that a company goes bankrupt and there is not enough money to pay for reclamation and revegetation.

Rough diamonds are graded and classified into more than 5000 categories, according to shape, quality, color and size.

Update On Yough Study Given At Advisory Meeting

Representatives from Pennsylvania State University presented an update on the Recreational Capacity Study at the meeting of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board held last Thursday.

Alan Graef, Department of Recreation and Parks, Pennsylvania State University, explained how the study is being conducted.

"We spent most of the fall on field work, collecting data and measuring the amount of river use. We began doing field work around the second week of August and stopped around mid-October, when use of the river began slowing down," Graef said.

Surveys were given to people as they were putting rafts and kayaks on the river and after they had completed their river trip. About 1,000 interviews were conducted, with approximately 750 people being put on the mailing list.

Graef explained that the reason for the discrepancy in numbers is that many of the people were continuous river users. The pre-trip questionnaire inquired about the expectations of the rafter or kayaker. The post-trip questionnaire posed questions about the perceptions of the completed trip and the satisfaction level of the river user.

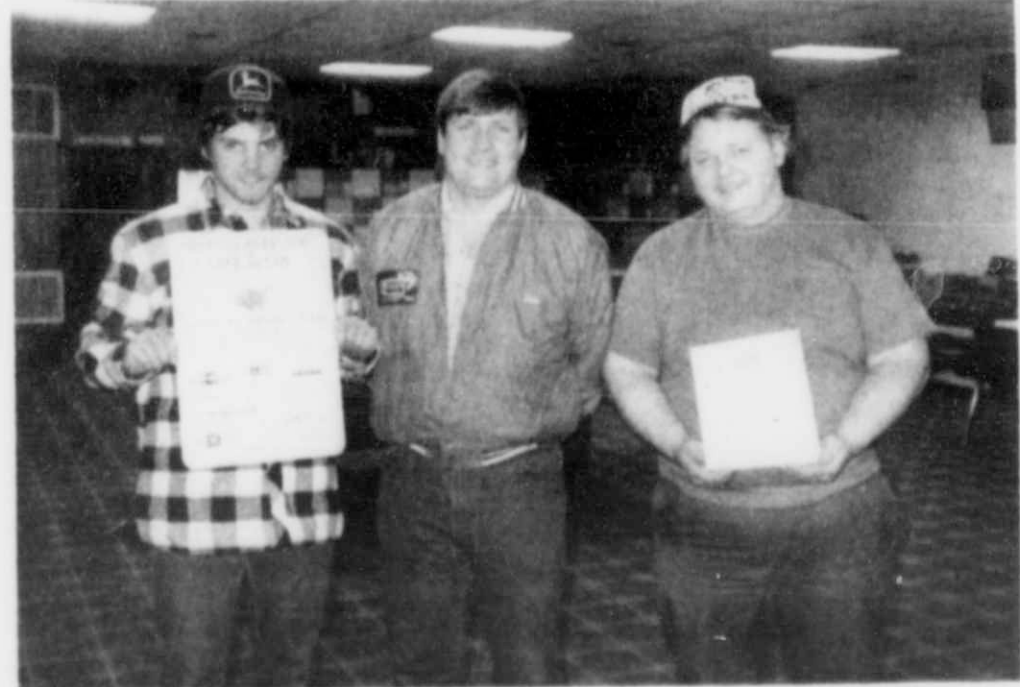

"We used state of the art measurement techniques (in the questionnaires) that were previously validated in earlier work," Graef explained.

The follow-up questionnaire was longer and had other objectives, including questions about economic input and perceptions of the river user from a later date. Two different forms were sent out: one for those who were paying customers and that included questions about the economic impact to the user and a more detailed questionnaire for those who are more continuous users of the Youghiogheny River.

Graef estimated that there were about 480 people who rafted the river, as paying customers, and 280 people who kayaked the river on a more regular basis. He said that

NATIONAL HONORS were received recently by the Mt. Top Anglers Bass Busters for their participation in the American Bass Anglers for Clean Water program. The local fishermen conducted a clean-up in and along the Youghiogheny River from the 88 Bridge at Oakland all the way to Friendsville. Their efforts earned them a sixth place finish among 1,500 American Bass Association chapters throughout the United States who participated in the program. The 20 volunteers filled over 260 garbage bags with litter and trash and hauled away such items as old discarded washing machines, dryers, couches, fires, and refrigerators that were found in and along the river. Chapter president Don Ringer said, "If we want good fishing for many years to come, we need to do all we can to keep our lakes and rivers clean. We worked very hard on this project and we were really proud to receive national recognition for our efforts." Pictured with Ringer, center, are Larry Beckman, left, and James Kisner. Other officers not present for the photo were Rich Baker and Clarence Moats.

DEER PARK HOUSE DESTROYED — A fire of suspicious origin destroyed this two-story house in Deer Park Monday afternoon, as the flames, which appeared to be fueled by a flammable liquid, engulfed the structure within minutes. It was the second time within three days that firefighters were called to the house, as a blaze broke out there early Friday morning, apparently caused by an improperly installed hot water tank

Deer Park House Damaged By Fire Friday, Destroyed By Fire Monday

A Deer Park house that was damaged by an apparent accidental fire early Friday was leveled by another blaze of a suspicious nature Monday afternoon.

Deer Park and Oakland volunteer firefighters were first summoned to the Peach Street residence of James Sharpless at 1:47 a.m. Friday after a fire believed to have been caused by an improperly installed hot water tank vent pipe ignited the second floor bathroom and ceiling in the two-story wood-frame structure.

Firemen worked for about one and one-half hours to extinguish the blaze which caused an estimated $5,000 in damages to the house, which was owned by Paul Sharpless, brother of James Sharpless.

The occupant of the house was asleep downstairs on the couch when the fire broke out. Although he had no smoke detector, he was awakened by the blaze and escaped the house uninjured.

Also responding to the scene was the county air cascade vehicle, presently being housed at Friendsville VFD, the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, and a crew from Potomac Edison. A crew from Kitzmiller VFD stood by at Deer Park's station.

It was about 4:25 p.m. Monday that the same fire departments were called to the house after a neighbor "heard a loud vent. Monday's fire was reported by a neighbor and firemen from Deer Park and Oakland were on the scene within minutes, but by that time the structure was fully involved in flames. The house was owned by Paul Sharpless and occupied by James Sharpless. Firefighters concentrated their efforts on saving an adjacent house. Pictured center is Oakland Fire Chief, Bob Rudy.

Maryland Functional Test Results Discussed At School Board Meeting

Numerous items were on the agenda at the regularly scheduled meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education last Thursday, including county results of the Maryland Functional tests and the California Achievement Tests.

Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of instruction, reported on the various tests.

The Maryland functional tests are required for students to receive a high school diploma, and are first given in the ninth grade. Students have two chances each year to pass the tests. Reading and math tests were given between October 17 and November 4. Ringer noted that, so far, no one has been denied graduation because he did not pass the test.

The Maryland Functional Reading Test (MFRT) has been administered to ninth graders as a graduation prerequisite since the 1978-79 school year. The reading objectives are organized into five instructional domains, including following directions, locating information, main idea, using details and understanding forms.

In Garrett County, 94.4 percent of the 359 ninth grade students passed the test, compared to 94 percent statewide. The local percentage is down from 97 percent last year, while the state percentage is up from 93.1 percent.

The Maryland Functional Mathematics Test (MFMT) has been administered as a graduation prerequisite since the 1983-84 school year. The 30 mathematics objectives are organized into seven instructional domains, including number concepts, whole number operations, mixed number/fraction operations, decimal operations, measurement, using data, and problem solving.

In Garrett County, 65.5 percent of the 354 ninth grade students passed the test, which is down from last year's percentage.

GCC Board Meets; Receives Update On Financial Aid

An update on the financial aid program at Garrett Community College was given at the Board of Trustees regular meeting held Tuesday night.

Dee Thomas, the assistant financial aid officer, explained that several persons from her department attended workshops in Annapolis concerning financial aid and the federal law.

January has been declared "Financial Awareness Month" and Garrett Community College has been involved with the programs occurring statewide.

Representatives from GCC have visited area high schools and two workshops were held to help parents with choosing financial aid for the college-bound student. Thomas said that two more workshops are being planned for February.

Plans are being made to conduct a radiothon for Garrett County residents. Joan Crawford, assistant professor of English, will work with the financial aid office in conducting the radiothon. Parents and students will be able to call their local radio station and ask questions about obtaining and applying for

Mishap Claims Life Of Local Woman Saturday

A Grantsville woman died Saturday as a result of a single-vehicle accident on Alternate Route 40 near Finzel Road. Three passengers in the vehicle were treated for minor injuries.

Pamela Jo Butler, 35, was pronounced dead at the scene of the 4:30 p.m. accident by Dr. Paul Snow, Allegany County medical examiner.

Treated and released from Frostburg Community Hospital were Toni L. Butler, 13; Jodi R. Durst, 3; and Jennifer L. Durst, 18, all of Grantsville.

According to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, Mrs. Butler was driving a 1984 Ford Bronco II, and was traveling west on Alternate Route 40. The vehicle began to slide on the ice-covered road as it descended Little Savage Mountain.

The Bronco reportedly crossed the center line and struck a guardrail on the left shoulder, causing the vehicle to

Commissioners Make Four Demands Of State On Land Acquisition Issue

The Garrett County Commissioners traveled to Annapolis last Wednesday to meet with personnel from the Governor's office, the Department of Natural Resources, and local legislators to discuss the state's intention to do away with the 1966 law which limits the state from obtaining any additional land in Garrett County without first releasing for sale an equal amount of state-owned land in the county.

According to Commissioner Elwood Groves, the local delegation made four specific points as to what they consider the minimum they expect from the state concerning the proposed legislation.

The first was that condemnation rights by the state be removed from the bill and that the state may purchase land only from willing sellers.

"We do not believe that the state should be allowed to condemn property for the purposes of recreation or just for land reserves," Groves said.

The second demand was that any area of water or land in the county greater than 100 acres may be acquired by the state only with approval by the county commissioners. The proposed legislation also removes this present requirement.

"This has been a law since 1949," Groves said, "and has become an historical standard in such transactions."

The third mandate by the commissioners is that the state keep its commitment from the governor and to the present law to release 1,800 for public sale. That is the amount of land that has been purchased by the state since the law took effect and Groves said that, even if the new legislation becomes law, the state should be required to fulfill the present law for lands that it has already purchased.

The fourth request by the commissioners is that the state return 35 percent, rather than the present 25 percent, of revenues generated on state property in Garrett County. "This should help offset the loss to our tax base when the state purchases more property," Groves said.

Groves added that all of the local elected officials, including Senator John Bambacus and Delegate George Edwards, formed a "united front" on this issue. "While we often have differences with each other, this is one issue upon which we are united," he said.

The information shared at the meeting, which was described as "heated" at times, is now being shared with Governor Schaeffer and Groves said that another meeting will be held tomorrow morning in Annapolis to continue the negotiations.

Winterfest To Be Expanded To 10-Day Event

The 16th Annual Winterfest, coordinated by the Deep Creek Lions Club and held at the Wisp Ski Resort, McHenry, has been expanded to 10 days this year, according to a spokesman for the Lions Club.

The event, slated to begin Friday, February 24, and continue through Sunday, March 5, is being sponsored this year by Pepsi and McDonald's. Activities will begin with the annual kickoff party the evening of February 24 at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Events over the 10-day period will include the Maryland Governor's Cup Ski Races, a McDonald's junior ski race and Ronald McDonald kids carnival, ice carving demonstrations, snow raft races, a ski over (and through) the water contest, fireworks, a torchlight parade, and many other activities. For a complete schedule of events, persons should call the Wisp Resort at 387-4911. A detailed schedule will also appear in this newspaper at a later date.

The annual Winterfest is a fund-raising event to support the Lions' Blind Skier Program. The Lions Club provides the funding for students of the Maryland School for the Blind to make several trips to Wisp where they are taught to ski. Wisp provides the students with the equipment, lift tickets, and accommodations, while the Lions Club provides for their instruction, meals, and other social opportunities. Over 25 students are expected to participate in the program again this year.

THEY'RE OFF! Even though there was no snow to blanket the drag strip, the Deep Creek Snowmobile Club still held its annual snowmobile drag races at the McHenry Fairgrounds Sunday afternoon. Over 40 racers from several states participated in the event. Jim Bernard and Rick Livengood, both of Garrett County, were triple winners in the event, while Tack Spiker, also local, won two races. See details in sports section.

State Jobless Rate Declines, County's Rises

An increase of about 2,900 workers in Maryland helped the state's estimated unemployment rate to drop from 4.6 percent in October to 4.4 percent in November, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED). However, Garrett County's jobless rate increased from 8.2 percent in October to 9.9 percent in November, up over two percent from the November 1987 rate of 7.8 percent.

"We are particularly pleased with this month's statewide employment increase because some 300 of those jobs were created in the manufacturing industry," stated DEED Secretary J. Randall Evans. The decrease in Maryland's November rate is in contrast to the national rate which rose during this period from 5.0 percent to 5.2 percent and reverses last year's statewide climb from 3.8 to 4.0 percent for the same period.

During November, the increase in the number of working residents statewide raised employment to 2,370,284, while a decline in the number of participants in the labor force reduced that count from 2,482,462 to 2,478,642. As a result of this labor market activity, an estimated 6,700 persons dropped from the count of unemployed persons.

The service-producing industries consumed the bulk of the 7,500 jobs added to Maryland's industrial payrolls during November as holiday hires in trade establishments boosted those payrolls by 5,700 jobs. General merchandise and apparel and accessories stores accounted for more than 70 percent of the overall increase in the trade sector. Layoffs continued during the month, however, in hotels, amusement and recreation, and agricultural services overwhelming the employment increases experienced in educational, social and health services. Also, normal seasonal declines in building and repair activity caused a construction employment to drop by 1,600 persons.

In the Baltimore metropolitan area, the unemployment rate fell from 5.2 percent to 4.7 percent. All local jurisdictions, with the exception of Carroll County where joblessness rose slightly from 2.8 percent to 2.9 percent, shared in the decline.

The Maryland suburbs of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area saw an increase in its labor force and a growth in employment of about 1,600 persons. Those increases helped the area's jobless estimate to drop slightly from 3.4 percent to 3.3 percent. The largest decline occurred in Calvert County where the unemployment rate dropped by 0.4 percentage points to 4.0 percent.

At 7.2 percent, Western Maryland's estimated unemployment rate is significantly lower than last year's estimate of 7.8 percent. However, job losses in November in manufacturing, construction and services caused that region's estimated unemployment rate to climb from October's 6.9 percent.

On the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland, declines in the estimated unemployment rates for Talbot County, 4.3 percent to 2.8 percent; Wicomico County, 6.0 to 5.5 percent; and Caroline County, 5.2 to 5.0 percent, countered that region's estimated average which climbed from 5.9 percent in October to 6.2 percent in November.

The estimated jobless rate for the local jurisdictions in Maryland ranged from a low 2.7 percent in Montgomery County to a high of 10.1 percent in Worcester County.

State Police Investigate Ski Thefts

Several reports of ski thefts at the Wisp Resort are under Maryland State Police investigation this week.

David B. Joyce, Gaithersburg, reported that his skis, valued at $160, were stolen on Monday around 5 p.m. The report is under the investigation of Cpl. G.D. Broadwater.

Alan M. Gurwitz noted that his skis were taken from the hotel area between 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. last Thursday. However, the skis were recovered at the ticket booth at 3:30 p.m.

Leslie D. Smith, Martinsburg, W.Va., reported that her skis and bindings were taken on Friday around 8:30 p.m.

Edward D. Harjarian, Darnestown, reported that his skis and bindings, valued at $300, were taken from the ski area on Sunday around 2:30 p.m.

Police are investigating a false report of a robbery which occurred Monday. Someone reportedly called Garrett Central Alarm around 2:30 p.m. and reported a robbery in the Accident area. The incident is under the investigation of Tfc. R.M. Hershberger.

SAVED BY THE BELT — Certificates were presented this week by Maryland State Police to two local persons who avoided serious injuries in auto accidents because they were wearing seat belts. Cpl. Richard Graham, who presented the certificates, said, "We feel that these people should be recognized. This is a good way to let the public know the importance of buckling up." Pictured above is Cpl. Graham (center) presenting certificates to Mona Murphy, of Oakland; and Geoffrey L. Bender, of Accident. Murphy was involved in an accident with her two children, Jennifer and Jeremy, on November 3, 1988, on the Dilly Road. Bender was involved in a November 9, 1988, mishap on U.S. Route 219 while driving a Maryland Department of Natural Resources pick-up truck. In both accidents, the vehicles sustained considerable damage, but no one was seriously injured. The "Saved By the Belt" program is sponsored by the Maryland Committee for Safety Belt Use.

A destruction of property occurred at the Cove Overlook on Route 219 last Friday or Saturday.

According to police, two urns were smashed with an unknown object.

Choral Society "Messiah" Tapes Now Available

Cassette stereo tapes of the Garrett Choral Society's December presentation of Handel's "Messiah" are now available at Englander's Pharmacy and the Book Market in Oakland.

The concert featured Robert Mosley, bass; Thomas Young, tenor; Kathryn Sincell, soprano; and Michaela Linn, alto, as soloists, and the West Virginia University Symphonette. The Choral Society is directed by Nancy Leary.

Cost of the tapes is $5 each. Proceeds from the sale of the tapes will be used to defray costs of presenting the concert, as well as future Choral Society endeavors.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Theft Investigation

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating two thefts which were reported during recent weeks.

Bonnie Jean Riggelman, Kitzmiller, reported the theft of a leather bench console from a pick-up truck that was parked on the lot of her business, B.J.'s Used Cars.

According to a report filed by Deputy D.M. Stoner, the theft occurred between December 28 and January 2. Along with the bench, a cassette box and cassettes and some other items were removed from the truck. The items are valued at $654.

Oliver Weiss II, Pittsburgh, Pa., reported the theft of skis and poles from Wisp Ski Resort on January 14.

According to a report filed by Detective R.L. Sines, the items were outside the building, near the lounge area. The skis were valued at $300 and the poles were valued at $50. Apparently, the name Bennett Weiss is engraved at the tips of the skis.

The investigation is continuing.

GLAF Fireside Lecture Series Schedule Noted

For the second year, the Garrett Lakes Art Festival will sponsor a Fireside Lecture Series at Garrett Community College during the late winter and early spring. According to Bill Henderson, president of GLAF, a varied program of cultural activities representing different art forms has been planned to appeal to a wide range of interests in the community.

The first of the series will be a presentation by Dr. Stephen Herman, president of Garrett Community College, on January 30 in the college art gallery. Dr. Herman will speak on "The Philosophy of Aesthetics in the Arts" in which he will discuss standards of artistic criticism, drawing upon examples in visual and performing arts.

A lecture/musical program has been planned for the evening of February 23 when Patty Looman, teacher and lecturer, will discuss "Elizabethan Roots of Appalachian Music," accompanied by the local instrumental group "Hammers and Strings" led by Betty Mattingly. This program will be given in the college auditorium.

On March 15, a lecture/slide presentation showing and explaining the permanent collection of the Walters Art Gallery will be given in the college art gallery.

An unusual view of the theater will be presented on April 19 when Dr. Philip Allen, Dean of Arts and Humanities at Frostburg State University, speaks on "Theater Without Frontiers." In this lecture, Dr. Allen will illustrate with slides the multicultural global directions in theater, music, and dance.

The last program in the Fireside Lecture Series will be a lecture/performance by the B-More Dance Group of Baltimore, titled "Modern Motion," to be given in the college auditorium on May 23.

All of these programs will begin at 7:30 p.m. and are free to the public.

Schaefer Presents Dramatic "State Of State" Speech

Governor William Donald Schaefer presented his third State of the State speech last Thursday, January 12. In the speech the governor tried to make peace with the General Assembly, asked for more money for his programs, and appealed to the legislators to show more compassion to the needy.

Gov. Schaefer appeared calm and extremely comfortable when he told the legislators that they should not let the 90-day session turn into a fight over giving "him" more money.

The governor then asked, "Who is 'him'?" Who are we talking about? He answered the question by pointing to the public gallery on the second floor of the House and saying, "Let me introduce 'him' to you." Where he pointed stood a dozen stateworkers and "everyday Marylanders," whom the governor proceeded to single out by name. Gov. Schaefer said that these people represent the kinds of programs the state must support.

The group of people included: a counselor and a student from a Harford County Center where counseling is provided for young people who have drug, alcohol, or family problems; a Girl Scout troop leader from Baltimore and one of her scouts who helped in a Chesapeake Bay cleanup program; an elderly woman from Severna Park who delivers Meals on Wheels to other senior citizens; a couple from Prince George's County with three young children, one of whom has Down's syndrome; a direct-care worker at a state mental hospital; and a psychiatrist.

Gov. Schaefer's strategy of singling out each one of these people for recognition was effective in getting his point across, as the lawmakers seemed impressed by the governor's dramatic speech. House Speaker Clayton Mitchell, D-Kent, whose relationship with Gov. Schaefer has been strained, said, "I think this is the kind of speech... we can expect from a governor who is concerned about people and caring."

Gov. Schaefer mentioned in little detail some items on his agenda. He said he would like a new proposal to create stiffer penalties for drug traffickers, he promised to help the needy in areas such as housing and welfare, pledged programs that would solve the hospital waste problem, and promised to devote more money to education.

Governor Schaefer could not resist the chance to use his favorite saying in the speech, "What is my message today? Very clear. I say the time is now. I say that we have got to move now. I say, 'Do it now!' And I say that time is not on our side."

The tone of the governor's speech and word that his budget for 1990 will not exceed the spending limits by as much as lawmakers had first thought influenced a number of legislators to predict a calm and friendly 1989 General Assembly session.

Habitat Taking Applications For 1989 Workcamps

The Garrett County Habitat for Humanity is now accepting applications for its summer workcamp projects beginning January 23.

The projects are based on income and need. The work may include items such as rebuilding porches, painting, repairing roofs, and repairing steps or minor home repair. The workcamp projects are sponsored by Habitat and the work is performed by volunteers from churches who come to Garrett County as an outreach program for their youth.

Interested persons may contact Kathy Millican at 334-9431. The deadline for applicants is March 1.

First United Funds Employee Stock Ownership Plan

Richard G. Stanton, president and chief executive officer of First United Corporation, announced that the Board of Directors approved the funding of its Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP). The ESOP will invest in First United Corporation stock and cash equivalents, with most employees becoming shareholders of the Corporation. The plan provides that the ESOP can acquire either newly issued stock or stock which is purchased in the open market.

"This year's funding will provide for the purchase of outstanding shares of First United Corporation stock," Stanton said. "Our markets makers have indicated that this purchase could lead to an increased demand for the Corporation stock."

First United Corporation is a multi-bank holding company headquartered in Oakland. The Corporation's subsidiaries are First United National Bank and Trust and The First United National Bank of Piedmont. The Corporation has 251 employees, located in 16 community offices. As of December 31, 1988, the Corporation's assets totaled $325 million, with deposits of $292 million.

Sanitary District Discusses Local Sewer Projects

Several local projects were discussed by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission at their regularly scheduled meeting on Tuesday.

Management Policy
The commission adopted a policy to establish terms and conditions for the district to operate and maintain privately owned sewer and water systems.

The policy will be used as a basis for entering into an agreement to operate the systems, and the commission may impose additional conditions or amend the policy if needed to govern operation.

Trout Run
The Trout Run project has been shut down completely until additional components are received. The facility experienced a problem with erosion of sand caused by high winds. The engineer presented a recommendation for controlling the erosion with a windshield fence. The commission will discuss the proposal with the grant agency before making a decision.

Mtn. Lake Park
Most of the work on the existing springs in Mtn. Lake Park has been completed, and several springs are back in operation.

An increase in water flow because of rain caused some disturbance in the new springs, resulting in cloudy water in the town. Wendell Beitzel, sanitary district administrator, noted that the problem is temporary, and once the system is flushed and settled, the problem will be cleared up.

Crellin
The contractor was given notice to proceed with work on the Crellin sewer project, which is now underway.

Deep Creek Lake
The commission received a request for service for a proposed condominium/townhouse project in the Deep Creek Lake area. However, because of the self-imposed moratorium, the commission will review the entire commitment before considering the request.

Sheriff's Dept. Seeks Information Concerning Assault

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating an assault which occurred at an elementary school last Friday.

According to reports, a young girl was assaulted around 6:00 p.m. last Friday by a man in his late twenties.

The man is described as having short brown hair and a mustache. He is between 5' 9" and six feet tall with a small frame. He was reportedly wearing stone-washed gray jeans and a pastel flannel shirt and may have been wearing boots.

Anyone having information concerning this incident should call the Garrett County Sheriff's Department at 334-1911.

DNR Withdraws Bill To License Outfitters; Senator Bambacus Explains

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) intended to introduce Senate Bill Number 121 — Whitewater Boating Licensing of Outfitters — into the 1989 General Assembly, but has withdrawn the bill after local elected officials learned of its existence and voiced their opposition.

The bill would have required that a person engaged in the business of providing trips or renting craft or equipment for use in trips on whitewater obtain a license from the Department of Natural Resources and specified that a license may not be transferred and must be displayed in a designated manner.

The DNR has been given the authority to draft regulations for whitewater boaters. The legislation which the DNR was going to introduce would have repeated the regulations which are to be published in the Maryland Manual.

There are only three rivers in Maryland on which whitewater rafting and kayaking is possible. These rivers, the Youghiogheny, the North Branch of the Potomac and the Savage River, are all located in Garrett County. Currently, whitewater trips are run on the Youghiogheny and the North Branch on a regular basis.

The regulations, which are being designed specifically for the Youghiogheny River, would limit outfitters to 12 customers per day, with a total of 72 customers on the river. This would have an adverse effect on many whitewater outfitters and particularly those located in Garrett County.

According to Senator John Bambacus, a member of the Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee, the DNR has withdrawn Senate Bill Number 121.

"None of us had any idea the DNR was going to introduce the bill," said Bambacus. "Secretary Brown (Torrey Brown, secretary of the DNR) shouldn't be introducing legislation. We have a process that is to be followed at all times.

"I'm very pleased the DNR withdrew the bill, but they don't seem to understand the way the process works. My committee would have killed it anyway."

"It doesn't make sense for the Youghiogheny Local Advisory Board to be working very closely in promulgating the regulations and then have the DNR come along and introduce this legislation," he said. "It makes it seem as though one hand doesn't know what the other hand is doing."

The Local Youghiogheny Advisory Board has been working with the DNR to form a series of regulations for boating on the Youghiogheny River. The regulations will be published in the Maryland Manual on January 27 and comments will be accepted by the DNR concerning the regulations until March 1.

John Wilson, the local representative of the DNR, announced at the last meeting of the Local Youghiogheny Advisory Board that a meeting for outfitters and concerned citizens is being planned for Feb. 10.

Torrey Brown, DNR secretary, said, "I think it (Bill No. 121) has been withdrawn. There were a lot of side effects we hadn't thought of; it was more complicated and more technical than we had thought it would be."

"We're going to try to get another bill, but there is a possibility that we can adopt the regulations (whitewater boating regulations) without the bill with the co-operation of the (whitewater) outfitters," Brown explained.

The whitewater regulations, if they pass as they are currently written, would limit each outfitter to 12 customers per day.

When questioned about the effect of this limit on the smaller outfitters in Garrett County, Brown responded, "I can make no comment on that. The outfitters will have to come to meetings and explain that to us. We will be happy to listen."

Senator Bambacus, in response to the same question, said, "My door is open. I'll be happy to talk with any group that wants to sit down with me."

Accident Man Charged With Theft At GCC

An Accident man has been arrested in connection with a theft which occurred earlier this month at Garrett Community College.

Gary Ray Rossback, 19, has been charged with breaking, entering and theft. He is being held in the Garrett County Jail on $5,000 bond. A juvenile has also been charged.

According to Maryland State Police reports, the charges resulted from an investigation by Cpl. C.R. Smith.

The breaking and entering occurred January 3 at the GCC library. A total of $287.30 in cash and checks was removed from a money box. Of that amount, $173.39 has been recovered.

Gov. Schaefer Says "No" To 65 MPH Limit

Governor William Donald Schaefer said that he will veto any legislation that will raise the maximum speed limit on interstate highways in Maryland from 55 to 65 miles per hour.

The governor feels justified in vetoing any Senate or House bills pertaining to this issue because of a report that said 19 percent more accidents occur in areas where the speed limit speed was raised to 65 and only 5 percent where it was kept at 55.

Maryland State Police do not testify in favor of bills to prohibit radar detectors any more. They used to testify regularly in support of these type of bills until Schaefer became governor.

According to traffic safety groups, insurance companies, and law enforcement agencies radar detectors encourage drivers to speed.

An Annapolis lawyer, Bruce C. Betor, is the chief lobbyist for radar detector manufacturers and he is also a supporter and fund raiser for Governor Schaefer.

The governor would not comment on the radar issue because he said that there has "already been too much in the paper about it."

Gov. Schaefer Presents $10.9 Billion Budget

Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer presented his $10.9 billion budget to the General Assembly yesterday. The governor wants more money put into education and welfare and drug enforcement, without a tax increase.

The budget also includes a 4 percent pay increase for state employees, $100 million for depositors of failed savings and loans, more money for the Chesapeake Bay cleanup, $466 million spending plan that depends heavily on cash for new construction, and $11 million to construct a championship golf course at Rocky Gap State Park in Allegany County.

General Assembly legislators said that they will have to trim the budget in order for it to conform to their recommended spending limits. They also will add a $40 million tax break for Marylanders.

Some items on the budget that are likely to get cut are the $10 million appropriation for the economic development "Sunny Day Fund," the $12 million discretionary fund to be dispensed by the University of Maryland's Board of Regents, and the personal recommendations that would create 1,859 new state jobs. The House and Senate need to make room in the budget for their $30 to $50 million in targeted tax relief.

Governor Schaefer's budget exceeds the state budget by more than 10 percent, which would leave a $29 million surplus if it is approved as is. Governor Schaefer said that adhering to the spending limits "would result in denying many services needed by our fellow citizens who have long awaited for the help we have promised."

He said that his budget exceeding the spending limits was not meant as an "abrasive defiance." House Speaker Clayton Mitchell, D-Kent, said, "We're going to stay within spending affordability. You can take that to the bank."

Most legislators seemed grateful that Schaefer's budget was only $23 million over the spending limits. According to Senate President Thomas "Mike" Miller, D-Prince George's, "The best thing you can say about the budget is, it could have been worse."

Everything To Gain . . .

We are delighted with news released this week by the Garrett County Department of Social Services which indicates that efforts to remove local families from welfare dependency are proving to be effective.

The Department, in cooperation with the Western Maryland Consortium (The Training Place) and Garrett Community College, has been conducting a program known as "Project Independence," which is designed to encourage and assist those persons who apply for welfare to become trained, employed, and self-sufficient so they will not need to remain on welfare.

"Project Independence" is a statewide effort that is really not scheduled to be implemented until this June. However, local personnel have taken their own initiatives and utilized the program for the past several months, with positive results. In April of last year, 376 families were on welfare, but by October that number dropped to 325, the lowest monthly figure since July of 1984. The number of families receiving food stamps also dropped significantly as more and more previously dependent families received training and subsequent employment. (See front page story for details.)

These positive results say many things. First of all, it is obvious that the Department of Social Services is not just handing out money to dependent families. Through the joint efforts of the department, The Training Place, and GCC, a real thrust is being made to change the lifestyles of these people so they can become productive citizens. We commend Robert Shaffer, director of Social Services, Sue Shockey, director of The Training Place, Robert Clark of GCC, and all of the others responsible for making this project work.

Secondly, these results say something good about our fellow citizens who are on welfare. It shows that a great percentage of them do not want to remain charity cases, and have a real desire to become productive and self-sufficient.

The results also indicate a brighter future for Garrett County. Many persons who are on welfare are there only because it is the only thing they have ever known. Their parents and their parents' parents were all on welfare. What this new program can do, and is apparently doing, is break that cycle, the effect of which will bring about future generations of productive, non-dependent, families.

We encourage all local residents, particularly employers, to support "Project Independence" in whatever way possible. We have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Mrs. Harvey seems to have great respect for consultants from West Virginia University, the psychiatrists, and the Light-house Program.

If she is criticizing Scott Ward as Director, she is not aware that Mr. Ward as the director hired all these consultants from West Virginia University. It was his feeling and idea to bring services into the county for citizens who had been in fact traveling to Morgantown for therapy with these same PhD level psychologists.

You may also not be aware that Mr. Ward had resisted recommendations that the consultants be "let go" (released from employment).

As Director of Mental Health Services, Mr. Ward wrote the grant for the Lighthouse program and the residential apartment program, developed the budget, interviewed and hired the "excellent staff" you referred to in your letter.

It seems to me that several disgruntled employees have caused such a disruption that excellent effective Mental Health services that were given to Garrett Counties in the past will no longer exist.

This causes me great concern because without Scott Ward's time and efforts, followed by the time and excellent service given by West Virginia University consultants, what kind of Mental Health service can Garrett Counties expect to get from the Health Department?

When will the Governor and elected officials ask Mr. Ward and the consultants how they feel about what has happened?

Kathryn R. Hauser
Hutton

To the Editor:

In my experience, Mental Health Services over the past 5 to 6 years have been excellent and are comparable to or better than services in other areas, this State included.

Creative programs have been developed and implemented, and cooperative efforts with other county agencies are working effectively. Programs with the Board of Education are recognized across the State with possible National recognition.

These programs were developed under the direction of the Director of Mental Health Services, Scott Ward, and the assistant Director of Mental Health Services, Jean James, both of whom have been removed from positions of responsibility.

I believe that too many false accusations were made and acted upon without adequate investigation. Even criminals are afforded the opportunity to stand and face their accusers. Additionally, I am concerned about the possible elimination of the West Virginia University consultants from Mental Health Services. The loss of their expertise and experience would be very detrimental to the quality of services now available to the residents of Garrett County.

Are the governor and local elected officials going to permit outsiders to come in and run our Mental Health Services? Who protects the rights of our County workers when an anonymous letter results in demotions?

Do we always wake up when it is too late? It's easy to be sorry, but sorry doesn't get results. I urge all to get involved — now.

P.A. Croston

To the Editor:

Some thoughts on the 50% salary increase for our honorable congressmen. It has been said that we get the kind of leadership we deserve. If that is true, perhaps we all need to realize that none of us can expect raises in our income as regularly as the years go by. As our collective salaries increase, taxes just as surely increase, as does the requirement for the whole gamut of government services and also the cost of our very necessary health care. Historically, the end result of lasting inflation is always disaster, with loss of personal freedom. But it would seem that history is that we do not learn from history.

Why is it so difficult for more of us to understand that a stable dollar value is vital not only now but also for our children's great-grandchildren?

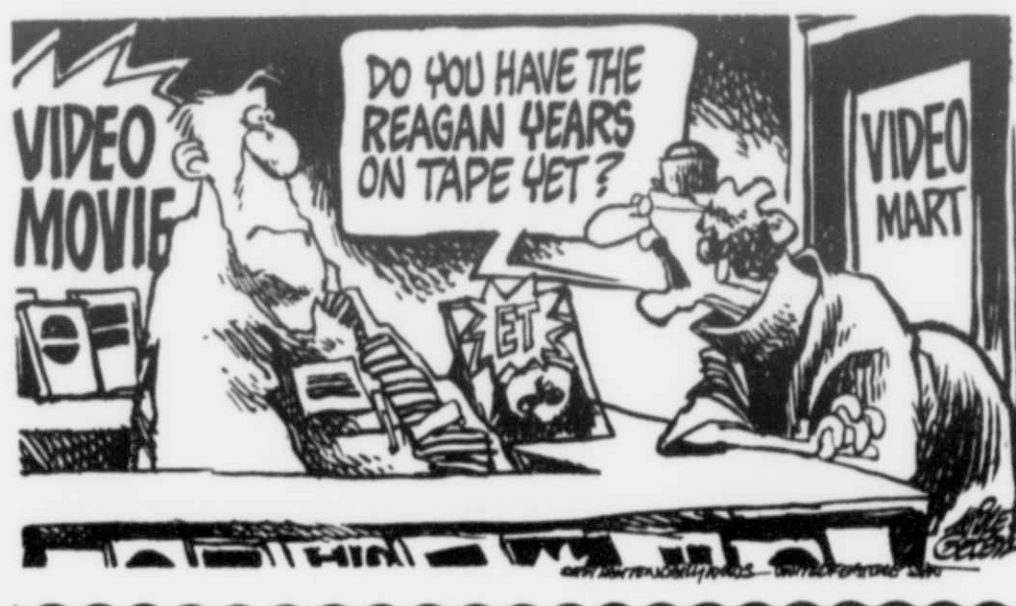

We are all selfish. We should be thankful when we have a job and a regular income. Obviously we cannot expect wise leadership from Congress. So we should know the only other Source.

Very truly yours,
Paul A. Eary

To the Editor:

As many Kitzmiller residents have noticed, there has been quite a bit of vandalism in the form of painting on school and town property. We are sure that many people are distressed to see this destruction of property occurring here in Kitzmiller. I am encouraging anyone who has information concerning this to contact the Garrett County Sheriff's Department at 334-1911.

The only way we can stop this is to take enough pride in our Town to step forward and report the person or persons responsible for this.

I would like to say to the people doing this: Many people are working very hard to try to make improvements to our town for the benefit of the children, teenagers and adults.

We are working on a park project, a community event and many other things. We are not asking you to come forward and admit what you have done — only to stop and also to discourage others from doing this.

We need a lot of help planning and implementing projects here in the Town. Please use your time more constructively — volunteer with the people listed above or with other community organizations to better our community. Don't destroy it!

Sincerely,
Crystal Shaffer

To the Editor:

This letter is intended to enlighten you and your readers of two issues about which they might not be aware but should cause them some comfort and pride.

Recently, employees of Garrett County Memorial Hospital experienced a "hands on" fire safety training program conducted by Randy Ashby (of Ashby Fire Equipment Co.) and by hospital employee Larry Lucas (who is a member of the Oakland Fire Department.) This program went far beyond classroom instruction. Employees were given the opportunity to actually extinguish a "real" fire during the training exercises. This experience is invaluable in terms of preparing staff in proper fire fighting response and technique. The community can take comfort in the fact that all hospital employees take patient safety so seriously.

Garrett County can also take pride in the fact that we have a company the calibre of Ashby Fire Equipment Company and firefighters like Mr. Lucas within its borders. Mr. Ashby and Mr. Lucas were selfless in conducting a high quality program at various times over a twenty-four (24) hour period so all shift employees would be trained. This is the sort of dedication that all Garrett County firefighters are known for.

Fire safety is an issue we should all take seriously. The local hospital would like to take this opportunity to suggest that everyone equip their homes with operational smoke/fire detectors and fire extinguishers. Remember the old saying: "An ounce of prevention . . ."

Sincerely,
Donald Battista

Judge Sentences Oakland Man To Five-Year Term

An Oakland man will serve a five-year sentence in the Department of Corrections as a result of a trial held last Thursday in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Kenith E. House, 26, of Oakland, was sentenced by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer for a charge of possession with intent to distribute marijuana.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered for House after he pled guilty to the charge during a December 1 trial.

House was arrested by Deputy P.J. Pratt of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department at his residence near the Mayhew Inn Road on June 18, 1988.

House was represented by Robert C. Hesson. Charges of conspiracy, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia were not prosecuted.

In a related case, Carolyn J. Kahl, 24, of Oakland, was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail for a charge of possession of marijuana. The judge then suspended the sentence, placing Kahl on two years supervised probation.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered for Kahl after she pled guilty to the charge during a December 1 trial.

Kahl was charged in connection with the June 18 incident near the Mayhew Inn Road. She was represented by John R. Toston.

Charges of possession with intent to distribute marijuana, conspiracy and possession of drug paraphernalia were not prosecuted.

In a separate case, George E. Bodes, 38, of Meyersdale, Pa., was found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol and fined $200.

Bodes pled guilty to the charge, which was filed following a March 5, 1988, incident in Grantsville.

Bodes was represented by Hesson.

Yough Study

results are still coming in and that his department will be sending out one final mailing to increase the response. Right now he estimates that there has been a 60 percent response and that they will probably have another 10 percent respond to this follow-up questionnaire. He explained that it is a standard approach to use several mailing reminders.

Graef feels that preliminary results of the surveys will be completed by the end of January. An economic assessment study will be completed by February. A recreational use assessment will be completed by the end of February and the department plans to use the data that has been collected to determine the economic impact to Garrett County and the state from use of the Youghiogheny river.

Graef explained that Steve Taylor, an engineer from Washington, D.C., is conducting a study on the hydrology component. Taylor is using field measurements and historical data to determine how much water will be available for future use of the river.

Tony Fedler, a professor with the University of Maryland working in conjunction with Pennsylvania State University, is conducting a survey of landowners in the Youghiogheny Wild and Scenic Corridor.

The survey, which is in the process of being sent to landowners and will be confidential, has eight points.

The first point covers land ownership patterns, including the length of ownership and the occupancy status of the land.

The second point is about activities that occur on the land, such as land use, whether it is residential, farming, timber, etc., and the characterization of current recreational use and potential use to improve the economic base. The survey will provide landowners with the opportunity to give opinions on what is appropriate recreational use in the scenic corridor.

The third point will include the perceptions of the landowners as to environmental impact by river users. The fourth point will cover conflict with river users on the water, including boaters and anglers and conflicts on the land, between boaters, anglers or hikers, etc. Fedler explained that an assessment of the nature and type of the conflicts will be covered, if any conflicts occur.

The sixth point will include the landowner's assessment of property value, whether it has increased or decreased and if there has been any restriction of activities on the land.

The seventh point covers river access and facility provision and how landowners feel about providing access to boaters, anglers or hikers. Questions will be included as to the appropriateness of restroom, picnic and other facilities and the appropriate locations for such facilities.

The final point is an evaluation of management alternatives, including how best river managers and landowners may deal with user conflicts and any environmental impact. Fedler explained that the survey would be mailed around the end of January or beginning of February and will go to all landowners in the Youghiogheny River Corridor.

Fedler said that a comprehensive assessment of the overall recreational activities of the area will be formed from the data that has been and is being collected from the boaters, state parks, fisheries and others. The assessment will include the nature and extent of recreational activities and facilities that are available, as well as the economic impact of future expansion of any recreational activities.

Graef explained that individual outfitters and business owners will be contacted for input into the study.

John Wilson, the local representative for the

Delegate Edwards Key Figure In Budget Process

George C. Edwards is a two-term delegate from Grantsville, a senior minority member of the House Appropriations Committee, a member of the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment, and Western Maryland's connection to the state's budget process.

The House of Appropriations Committee, of which Delegate Edwards, R-Garrett-Allegany, is a member, will be the first standing committee in the General Assembly to consider the budget formally.

The budget review is scheduled to begin early next week. Numerous long days are to be expected before the committee's three subcommittee's present their recommendations to the full committee.

The Maryland Constitution states that budget comments from the full committee must be sent to the House of Delegates floor no later than March 6. The Senate Budget and Taxation Committee must present its budget recommendations to the full Senate no later than March 17.

The General Assembly must then take action on the budget by the 83rd day of the session, which is April 3.

The state of Maryland has an executive budget. According to Del. Edwards this means "the governor presents the spending plan. All we can do is cut it. We cannot add to it or transfer money from one line item to another."

"Basically we are an oversight committee. We look at it in this way. Is it something that we need or not? We also have to keep in mind that there are also federal cutbacks in funding. Sometimes it's a tough decision," Edwards stated.

The $400 million state surplus is a major factor facing the 1989 session.

The question is, how should the money be used? Del. Edwards feels that the General Assembly must be careful in deciding how to use the money. Edwards would like to send part of the surplus back to the taxpayers.

Del. Edwards is hoping that other delegates agree with him and elect to send some of the surplus back to the taxpayers.

No action is expected until a governor-appointed tax structure committee presents its report.

General Assembly Update

Abuse Reports

The Maryland State Senate has passed a bill that will require psychiatrists who treat child molesters to report their patients' crimes to the authorities.

As the law now stands, a health practitioner treating a child molester cannot report the sexual abuse of a child if the abuse occurred before treatment began.

The Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee approved the bill last week and there were 14 witnesses in favor of the action with none opposed. The bill passed the Senate by a 45-2 vote.

AIDS Measure

A bill was introduced in the House of Delegates on January 13 that stated anyone charged with sexual crimes can be forced to take a test to detect the presence of the AIDS virus.

This bill (HB300), sponsored by Ellen Sauerbrey, R-Baltimore County, would allow victims of sex crimes to request that their attorney order the AIDS testing and to inform the victim of the results within 48 hours.

This issue has been referred to the Judiciary Committee for further study.

Patuxent Issue

A joint legislative committee has created a bill that will make quite a few changes at Patuxent State Prison. The committee decided to change the composition of the independent parole board — to include a representative from the victims' rights organization and all of Patuxent's parole recommendations must be approved by the secretary of public safety and correctional services.

The bill would also create tougher eligibility requirements for the prison and make stiffer penalties for any prisoner violating any of five regulations while on unaccompanied work-release or leave. The five are escape, a major violation of Patuxent rules, conviction of a new offense, a violation of conditional work-release rules, and testing positive for use of drugs.

Eye Drops Bill

After the 35-11 vote by the Senate on January 13 the eye drops bill will become a law. The House of Delegates overrode Gov. William Donald Schaefer's veto of the bill early last week and now the Senate has taken the same action.

This bill will allow optometrists in Maryland to use eyedrops that dilate pupils, which will make it easier to diagnose certain diseases. The bill includes a provision that optometrists who want to use eye drops must pass a 70-hour course. Maryland is the last state in the nation that does not allow optometrists to use eyedrops.

State Referendums

A bill to prohibit the state from spending money to influence future referendum elections was presented at a House committee meeting on Monday. This bill was drafted after the Mass Transit Administration provided free ad space to pro-gun control forces. Delegate Ellen R. Sauerbrey, R-Baltimore County, is the chief sponsor of the bill. This bill did not meet with a warm welcome.

Delegate Anne S. Perkins, D-Baltimore, who is chairwoman of the Committee on Constitutional and Administrative Law, felt that the referendum was a slap at Maryland's new gun law.

However, Governor William Donald Schaefer defended the MTA ads for gun control saying "it was our bill (gun bill) and I found nothing wrong with the advertising that I did."

Radar Detectors

On Wednesday a Senate committee killed a bill that would have banned the use of radar detectors in Maryland.

The Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee voted 10-1 against the bill. Many people were dissatisfied because the bill was killed before there was a chance for discussion.

The President's Column

THE FUTURE

by Ronald Reagan

Over the years, I have greatly enjoyed this opportunity to report on the week's events here in Washington.

But after witnessing the inauguration of George Bush as President, Nancy and I will head back to the ranch. We go with full hearts — with best wishes for George and Barbara and with gratitude to all of you. It has been a privilege to serve the people and the nation we have always loved — and love so much today.

It is difficult, of course, to put all the events of eight busy, tumultuous years in perspective; in fact, that is best left to the impartial judgment of history. But as I look back over these columns, I cannot help but think about how often at moments of accomplishment and triumph, as well as crisis and heartbreak, we communicated in this way: a President giving his accounting to those — under our system of Government — to whom he is accountable. We have shared a great deal together; for me, it has been a special relationship. Believe me, it will never seem the same. I will miss writing for you.

But you know, somehow messages of farewell, leave-taking and nostalgia do not quite capture my mood today. Do not get me wrong, we have had great years and done much together: the economy is booming, long-festering social problems like drugs, crime and a decline in our educational standards are being dealt with and, for the first time in the post-war era, the Soviet menace shows some signs of relenting.

This last development is, of course, so heartening to those of us who have lived through all the brooding terrors of the post-war era. We are prayerful and hopeful — hopeful that the next generation of Americans will not have to contend as we did with the nightmares of nuclear terror and totalitarian expansionism.

You know, shortly after World War II and the struggle against Nazi Germany, Winston Churchill looked with grave concern and sadness at a world that evolved so quickly, as he put it, from "Triumph and Tragedy." But then as he began to detect the vigor and resolve of America against the Soviet menace and for freedom in Europe and everywhere in the world — a vigor and resolve shared equally by an American President and an American Congress of different political parties — he grew hopeful and grateful for this unselfish, bipartisan unity.

There is a story I want to tell you today about a meeting Churchill had with a group of American journalists in 1962 at a time when all the troubles of the cold war, including the hardship of morally and militarily rearming the West, were keenly felt. His friend and physician, Lord Moran, recorded Churchill's appraisal of American leadership.

"What other nation in history," Churchill asked, "when it became supremely powerful, has had no thought of territorial aggrandizement, no ambition but to use its resources for the good of the world? I marvel at America's altruism, her sublime disinterestedness."

"All at once I realized," Lord Moran wrote, "Winston was in tears, his eyes were red, his voice faltered. He was deeply moved."

Generous words, honest emotion from a great world leader; and now, more than a quarter century later, as the decade of the eighties comes to a close, there is hope that the generosity and resolve that Churchill saw in the American people is at last paying an historic dividend — the possibility of a new time in human history when all the problems that so haunted the post-war world give way to peace and an expansion of freedom.

So you can see why, to me, the story of these last eight years and this Presidency goes far beyond any personal concerns; it is a continuation really of a far larger story, a story of a people and a cause, a cause that from our earliest beginnings has defined us as a nation and given purpose to our national existence.

The hope of human freedom — the quest for it, the achievement of it — is the American saga. And I have often recalled one group of early settlers making a treacherous crossing of the Atlantic on a small ship when their leader, a minister, noted that perhaps their venture would fail and they would become a byword, a footnote to history, but perhaps, too, with God's help, they might also found a new world, a city upon a hill, a light upon the nations.

Those words and that destiny beckon to us still. Whether we seek it or not, whether we like it or not, we Americans are keepers of the miracle; we are asked to be guardians of a place to come to, a place to start again, a place to live in the dignity God means for His children. May it ever be so.

Lois K. Filemyr, Douglas P. Garland Exchange Vows During May Ceremony

Lois Kay Filemyr and Captain Douglas Pierson Garland, United States Air Force, were united in marriage May 7, 1988, at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in McLean, Va. Pastor Edwin L. Ehlers performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Filemyr, Mt. Lake Park. The groom is the son of Capt. and Mrs. Keith P. Garland, United States Navy (Retired), Fairfax, Va.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a classic white gown of lace and peau de soie. The gown was worn by the bride's mother at her wedding in 1956. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of enchantment lilies, pink roses, white carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

Amy Filemyr, College Park, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were: Lydia Hubac, Rome, Italy; Rebecca Fant, Philadelphia; Rebecca Garland, Falls Church, Va., sister-in-law of the groom; and Melissa Garland, Fairfax, Va., sister of the groom. The bridesmaids wore matching teal taffeta tea-length gowns and carried bouquets similar to the bride's, consisting of enchantment lilies, pink roses and white carnations.

The groom's best man was his brother, Christopher Garland, Falls Church, Va. The groomsmen and ushers were: David Parker, West Newbury, Mass.; John Ryabik, San Francisco, Calif.; Robert Fuschino, Layton, Utah; Stephen Garland, Fairfax, Va., brother of the groom; Steven Filemyr, Stamford, Conn., brother of the bride; and Timothy Filemyr, Greenbelt, brother of the bride. During the ceremony, the couple's mothers participated in the lighting of the unity candle, and the groom's father read the scripture passage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon and reception was held at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel in

Department of Natural Resources (DNR), explained that the final report on the Recreational Capacity Study will be available near the end of March. He explained that if warranted, the DNR will try to extend the study to be able to have a view of the number of people on the river in the spring, which is the heaviest season of use.

Wilson also said that the DNR is planning to hold a workshop on February 10 for commercial outfitters and private boaters to discuss the regulations which are being implemented for rafters and kayakers on the Youghiogheny River.

Wilson said that the regulations will be published in the Maryland Manual on January 27. Then, any person who is concerned about the regulations will have until March 1 to comment on them. Wilson explained that the workshop will be for participants to express concerns about the regulations.

If no comments are made regarding the regulations, they will go into effect on March 1. Wilson said that his department is holding the meeting on February 10 as it is in the middle of the comment period as well as before the rafting season gets underway.

Wilson and the members of the advisory board made a list of their concerns for future reference for managing the land and river in the Youghiogheny Wild and Scenic Corridor.

The list includes: water quality; evaluation of environmental damage; flood plain; timber management; tax on recreational use of the Youghiogheny River; farming practices; fire protection; mining controls; boating controls management; river access; enforcement of regulation; sewage; trespassing; navigability; inter-relationships with West Virginia to solve pollution problems; fisheries and wildlife management; state land acquisition; scenic corridor boundary; development in the river corridor; transportation; and emergency access.

Wilson then commented that at a later date the members of the Advisory Board would work to evaluate the concerns and discuss how managers and landowners in Youghiogheny Corridor should deal with problems in the Corridor.

Wilson said that there have been ten requests for boundary surveys. He said that the DNR has not been able to honor the requests as the DNR is currently "struggling to obtain the funds" for the surveys. He said that landowners will soon be notified as to the situation.

A manager for the Youghiogheny River Wild and Scenic Corridor has been hired. Wilson said that a formal announcement will be made at the next meeting of the Local Youghiogheny Advisory Board. Donald MacLauchlan, director of the Forest Park and Wildlife Service, will be at the meeting to make the announcement.

The next meeting of the Local Youghiogheny Advisory Board will be held Thursday, February 9.

Today recalls sad memories.
Of our loved one gone to rest.
And the ones who think of her today.
Are the ones who loved her best.
Many a lonely heartache,
Often silent tears,
But always a beautiful memory.
Of one we loved so dear.
Always in our thoughts,
No matter where we go,
Always in our hearts,
Because we loved her so.

Registration Deadline Is Extended For Vietnam Symposium At FSU

The registration deadline has been extended for the February symposium on the Vietnam experience at Frostburg State University, which features American disc jockey Adrian Cronauer, whose personal experiences during the Vietnam War were the subject of the Oscar-winning movie "Good Morning, Vietnam," as a keynote speaker.

Rev. Lawrence Neumark, symposium co-director, announced that the registration deadline will be extended until Monday, January 30. The symposium is scheduled for Saturday, February 4, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Lane Center at Frostburg State University. While the symposium workshops and panels are free for students, registration fees for the general public are $6.20 with lunch and $4.00 without a luncheon reservation which is optional.

Cronauer will be one of a number of speakers at the day-long seminar and is to present a workshop on the influence of the media on the Vietnam War. In total, seven workshops are planned throughout the day with a roundtable discussion focusing on the lessons of the war to conclude the symposium events. Touching upon many aspects of the war and its effects, the workshops are designed to offer participants an educated and informed look at the whole Vietnam experience. Four workshops are set to run concurrently during the morning session and three during the afternoon.

In addition to Cronauer, the symposium will feature a host of educated speakers from the Vietnam Veterans' Institute, local veterans' organizations and members of the Frostburg State University faculty and administrative staff. All speakers share an interest in promoting a better understanding and enlightened view about Vietnam. Col. Norman McDaniel, retired USAF who was a POW in Vietnam and is the author of "Yet Another Voice," will share his views on the POW experience during the Vietnam War as the keynote address for the symposium's luncheon.

Structured to offer insight into the Vietnam experience, the workshops and panel discussions will enable participants to share in personal stories of Vietnam veterans and others affected by the war.

"Vietnam: A Reassessment" is sponsored by the FSU Public Affairs Institute, the FSU United Campus Ministry and the Regional Education Service Agency, in cooperation with the FSU Foundation Inc., Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, Hagerstown Junior College, the Vietnam Veterans Institute, Disabled Veterans of America, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Vietnam Veterans' Administration, the American Legion and St. John's Episcopal Church, Frostburg.

To register for the symposium or for additional information, persons should contact either Dr. Michael LeMay, director of the Public Affairs Institute, FSU, at (301) 689-4387 or Rev. Neumark, chaplain, United Campus Ministry, FSU, at (301) 689-5041.

Amy Grant To Perform At WVU

Three-time Grammy Award winner Amy Grant is coming to West Virginia University, Morgantown.

The Concert Series of the Activities Program Board has announced that Amy Grant will perform Thursday, February 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the WVU coliseum. Michael W. Smith and Gary Chapman will be the opening acts.

Tickets are now on sale at the Mountaineer Box Office and at all the usual ticket outlets.

Ticket prices are $15.50 for the general public and $13.50 for WVU students and groups of 20 or more. Group discount tickets can only be purchased at the Mountaineer Box Office. Visa/Mastercard phone orders will be accepted by calling (304) 293-3919.

Also, mail orders will be accepted by sending either a check or money order payable to Amy Grant Tickets, 307 Moore Hall, Morgantown, W.Va. 26506. Orders must include $2 for postage and handling.

Eastern Garrett Fire Company Reports On '88

The Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Company, located in Finzel, responded to a total of 49 calls in 1988, reports Fire Chief Jim Raley. The departmental vehicles travelled approximately 4,000 miles responding to the incidents and participating in local activities, including a trip to Ocean City for the annual Firemen's Convention Parade. Firefighters spent approximately 850 person hours on the incidents.

There was only one structure fire reported in the first-half year for Eastern Garrett during 1988 — a January 4 blaze which destroyed a mobile home on Frostburg Road.

In addition, Eastern Garrett responded to nine mutual aid calls into the city of Frostburg and three mutual aid calls in Grantsville. The company also responded with the Frostburg Area Ambulance on four ambulance assists.

The company responded to 15 incidents involving motor vehicle accidents, most of which were on Route 48. Eastern Garrett serves an area encompassing approximately seven miles of the freeway. Three vehicular incident calls involved fatalities.

The remaining calls included three flue fires, three electrical fires, four vehicle fires, two brush fires, two public service calls, one fuel spill, one power outage, and one Medevac landing. Eastern Garrett borders Allegany County, so most of their calls come in on the 911 exchange for Allegany County Civil Defense.

The Fire Company and Ladies' Auxiliary sponsor many fundraising activities throughout the year, including weekly Bingo games, monthly spaghetti dinners, monthly raffles, special dinners and banquets.

The members also sponsor special programs for the community in the area of fire prevention and home safety. One of the major programs involves a visit to Route 40 Elementary School during Fire Prevention Week. Several firemen attend a one-day training session with the students, followed by a poster contest. The winners for the poster contest were:

Kindergarten — 1. Sharee Raley 2. Serena Thompson 3. Lindsay Festerman.

Grade 1 — 1. Stephanie Baer 2. Samantha Fike 3. Tiffany Beachy.

Grade 2 — 1. Ronnie Weiner 2. Jesse Thompson 3. Stephen Crowe.

Grade 3 — 1. Jeremy McKenzie 2. Terri Beal 3. Arissa Kenner.

Grade 4 — 1. Lindsay Willey 2. Jenny McKenzie 3. Vince Dishong.

Grade 5 — 1. Tara Burdock 2. Dave Robeson 3. Delana Wilhelm.

During the year, the Fire Company and Ladies' Auxiliary added a new walk-in cooler, a 600-square foot addition to the building, a new heating system, and replaced the existing roofs at an approximate cost of $27,000. The funding of these projects were made possible through special projects and donations.

State To Hold Public Meetings On Voc. Rehab.

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will hold four public meetings from January 31 through February 9 to gather ideas on strengthening services to disabled adults.

The division, a unit of the State Department of Education, provides leadership and direct services to people with disabilities to enable them to live productively and independently. The division will use information gathered at the meetings in developing an annual plan that explains how services will be provided to its clients.

Last year the division, with 33 regional and local offices across the State, served more than 28,000 persons with disabilities.

Semi-Finalists Selected For Coke Scholarships

The Coca-Cola Scholars Foundation has announced that 1500 secondary school seniors throughout the nation have been selected as semi-finalists in its $1 million scholarship program. These semi-finalists will compete for 150 college scholarships to be awarded in April with 50 National Scholars receiving renewable awards of $5,000 per year for up to four years and 100 Regional Scholars receiving one year, non-renewable awards of $1,000.

Even though there were no local semi-finalists, the Central Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Oakland, extended its appreciation this week to the schools and students who participated in this new program.

The Foundation's program, which is the largest business-supported scholarship program in the nation, received over 50,000 applications by its October 31, 1988, deadline.

"Central Coca-Cola is very pleased to support this program and the educational aspirations of our young people. We see it as an investment in the future of our country and our world," said a company spokesperson. "And we encourage the senior class of 1990 to participate."

More than $1 million in scholarship funds will be disbursed annually by the fourth year of the merit-based program, which is open to graduating seniors in secondary schools in participating bottle terriories nationwide, according to Mebane Pritchett, president of the Atlanta-based foundation.

The Coca-Cola Scholars Foundation, governed by a board of directors composed of four Coca-Cola bottlers and two representatives of The Coca-Cola Company, is granting its first scholarships this year. The Foundation was conceived by a group of Coca-Cola bottlers and established in 1986 in commemoration of the Centennial Celebration of Coca-Cola. It is supported by a major endowment funded approximately 75% by Coca-Cola bottlers and 25% by The Coca-Cola Company.

Pleasant View Sets Services About Abortion

Marty Herron, pastor of Pleasant View Baptist Church, Mtn. Lake Park, invites the public to observe "Sanctity of Human Life Sunday" on January 22 at the church.

The morning message, brought by Pastor Herron at 10:45, will be "What God Says about Abortion." The film, "Eclipse of Reason" will be shown at 6:30 p.m.

Each year, 1.6 million unborn children die by abortion. Abortions are performed at the rate of 131,520 per month, 4,384 per day, 183 per hour, three per minute, and one every 20 seconds.

Pleasant View is located two miles south of Oakland on Route 219. Anyone wishing more information may call 334-8515.

Democratic Club To Hold Meeting, Elect Officers

The Garrett County Democratic Club will meet Tuesday, January 24 at 7:30 p.m. to hold election of officers.

The Club will meet in the Continuing Education building, room 301, at Garrett Community College.

Membership dues for the new calendar year will be collected. Dues are $3.00.

The meeting is open to all Democrats in Garrett County.

Earn Honorable Mention At A-B

Michael Whitmer and Peggy Knox have received academic honorable mention for scholarly achievement during the Fall semester, 1988, according to the academic dean's office at Alderson-Broaddus College.

Whitmer is a senior, majoring in biology (zoology) at Alderson-Broaddus. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitmer Jr., Oakland.

Ms. Knox, a junior majoring in accounting, is the daughter of Helen Knox, Deer Park.

To be eligible for academic honorable mention, students must have attained a semester average of 3.4 or above, based on a four-point grading scale.

Alderson-Broaddus, located in Philippi, W.Va., is a four-year fully accredited liberal arts and sciences college which has developed a curriculum of a strong liberal arts foundation, contemporary professional and pre-professional programs and experience appropriate to the student's academic major.

Blessed Events

A son was born Thursday, January 12, to Michael Alan and Sandra Michele Shreve Crosby, Deer Park.

A daughter was born Friday, January 13, to Billy Gene and Carrie Ann Martin Ashby Jr., Oakland.

A daughter was born Sunday, January 15, to Terry Lane and Cynthia Darlene Hipp Hartman, Elk Garden, W.Va.

There were 61 admissions, 72 discharges and the census this morning was 44.

Goldstein Says 1099G Forms Are In The Mail

"Our office will begin mailing 931,000 Form 1099G's to Maryland taxpayers on January 20th," said State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, "and some taxpayers are likely to have questions about them."

The Income Tax Division sends the 1099G information forms to taxpayers who itemized deductions last year and received a refund from the state of Maryland. "We're required by federal law to send the Form 1099G to remind these taxpayers that the state income tax refund they received last year must be reported as income on the 1988 federal tax return," Goldstein said. But the comptroller reminded taxpayers that they need not attach the 1099G to their federal or state income tax forms.

Most questions about the 1099G's come from taxpayers who don't remember getting a refund check. "But before you call with questions, you should check your records," the comptroller said. Many taxpayers applied last year's refund to their 1988 estimated tax. Although they didn't get a refund check, they did receive the benefit of a refund.

"Another reason taxpayers might have questions about the 1099G is that it reflects all Maryland refunds credited to the taxpayer during 1988, including not only an original tax refund for 1987, but also any refunds from any amended returns for 1987 or prior years," he said.

Taxpayers who still have questions after they check their records should call the refund section at (301) 974-3701.

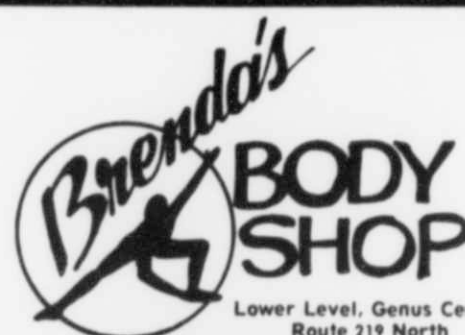

"Now that most taxpayers have received their W-2s and other information documents, we expect the pace of tax filing to pick up and we're ready to help," Goldstein said.

All 15 Maryland income tax offices provide free taxpayer assistance between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The offices will also offer extra hours of free assistance on Saturday, February 4, and Saturday, February 11. Taxpayers can call or visit the offices for free state tax help from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

"Our state tax experts will answer any questions, provide the necessary forms and even complete your Maryland income tax return free of charge, if you like. Just be sure to bring along a completed copy of your federal return and all W-2 statements," Goldstein said.

The addresses and telephone numbers of all Maryland income tax offices are listed on the back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories. The toll-free number for free state tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES.

Legions Make Donations To Cerebral Palsy

Local American Legions donated money to the United Cerebral Palsy Telethon. On Sunday, January 15, Debi Dixon, American Legion Garrett County commander, Alice Strobel, Mt. District Auxiliary, and Julie Dixon, Junior Auxiliary member, traveled to Hagerstown to present donations at the United Cerebral Palsy Telethon.

Those making donations included Proctor Kildow Post 71, $500; Accident Post 208, $25; Grantsville Post 214, $25; and Ladies Auxiliary Unit 71, $100. Proctor Kildow Post 71 chanced off twenty turkeys during the month of December and gave all the proceeds to Cerebral Palsy. The winners of the turkeys were: Eldon Arbogast, C. Louise Beckman, Dick Bugay, Chic Burkett, Dave Frye, Lindsay Gonder, Tim McCall, Joe Mechem, Paul Phillippi, Paul Savage, Leon "Speedy" Sites, Rich Viskinski, and Jim Walker. Abe Holland and Joe Ross both won two turkeys and John Miller, who won three turkeys, donated one to the House of Hope.

The Ladies Auxiliary Unit 71 chanced off two baskets of cheer and donated the proceeds to Cerebral Palsy. The winners of the two baskets were Eldon Arbogast and Joy Hornby.

PE Conducting Appliance Survey

Potomac Edison began interviewing residential customers this week about their home appliances, as part of the utility's 1989 Appliance Saturation Survey, which is conducted every two years.

"The purpose is to determine the saturation of electrical appliances owned by our customers, so that we can project their usage for the next 20 to 25 years," said Dick Rush, supervisor of research and analysis. "Then, we can economically provide the needed capacity to serve these customers."

About 1,200 customers throughout Potomac Edison's service territory will be personally interviewed by customers services representatives between January 16 and May 1, 1989. Customers will be asked about the types of appliances they use and how many appliances they own.

The company also conducts the Customer Opinion Survey and the New Home Survey to keep abreast of customer needs and suggestions. Potomac Edison serves more than 300,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

NOTICE

TO WATER CUSTOMERS IN OAKLAND

The Town of Oakland has approximately 850 water customers. Some have experienced frozen water lines and others have let water run to prevent freezing. Some have shared with their waterless neighbors. Neither the Town nor the customers have been at fault in the situation. In fairness to both, where there is evidence that any of the above has occurred, the March quarter water bills will be adjusted as follows:

1. The least amount a customer will pay will be the minimum quarterly charge.
2. The maximum a customer will pay will be the highest amount paid in any quarter during the past year.
3. If the amount of water consumed is less than the last quarter, the customer will be billed for that amount.

Small Fluke Years Ago Spurring Current Northern Mat Success

by Craig Speicher

It was one of the most fateful decisions in Garrett County sports history: Lynn Brenneman, a senior on the 1973 Northern High varsity basketball team, was suddenly cut from the team for reasons no longer remembered.

Brenneman knew he had only weeks remaining to enjoy Northern athletics, so he turned to varsity wrestling.

I remember how surprised we wrestlers were in the locker room that day, for Brenneman was one of Northern's better athletes. But basketball skills are about as transferable to wrestling as tennis skills are to golf. Still, we were glad just to fill the team's heavyweight slot regularly, so we weren't asking a premium performance from him.

Brenneman's first contest began awkwardly, as he realized possibly for the first time that before you can pin your opponent, you might need a few takedowns, breakdowns and reversals, which the basketball team never practiced.

And then came the second big surprise. Brenneman suddenly wrapped his deadly farm-bred arms around his contender, and not knowing what else to do, semi-suffocated him with bear hugs. We just sat there on the sidelines not knowing what to believe as he gropingly man-handled his way to a pin victory.

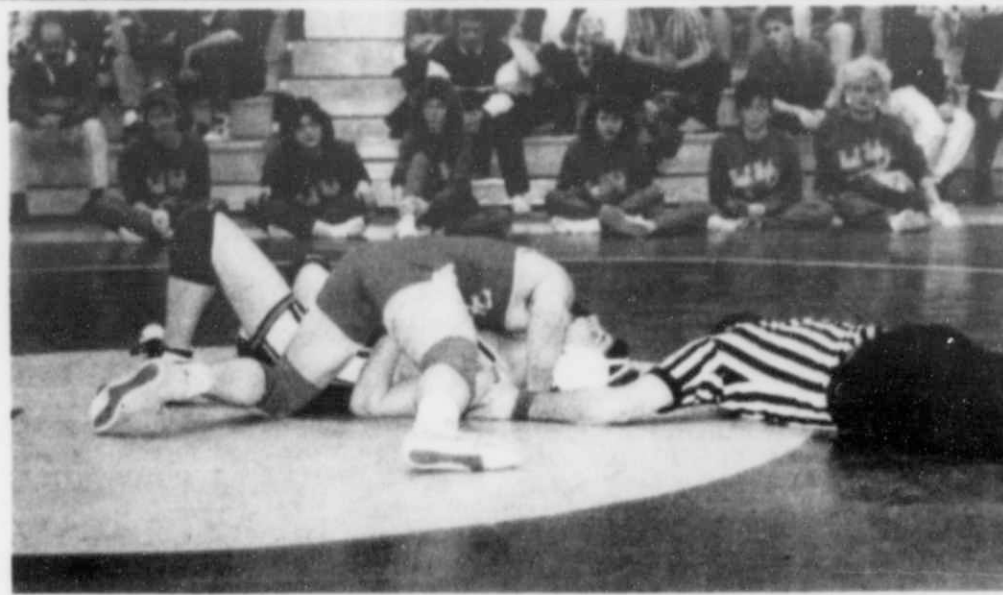

To shorten a long story, the lean 6'2" grappler pinned every contestant he faced in the remaining regular season competition, finishing undefeated.

In approximately 10 years of Northern wrestling, only one other wrestler had finished his first varsity season undefeated — Dale Garlitz, a junior on the first team Northern fielded. (Garlitz continued wrestling at Fairmont State College, and later coached Northern to its all time dual record of 11 wins and two losses, in 1982.) But Brenneman remains the single wrestler in Northern history to pin all his regular season contestants.

He never wrestled another match, but he returned to Northern as a teacher and wrestling coach four years ago, after playing football for James Madison University.

Several weeks ago, his team made one of Northern's strongest performances in over 20 years, pinning down eight other schools to win the Morgantown University High Invitational Wrestling Tournament championship. Last Saturday, the Husky matmen scored their second clean sweep in major tournament competition, wrapping up the first annual Garrett County Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Southern, even outpacing Frankfort, W.Va. (2nd place) and Fort Hill (3rd place). In two-team (dual) competition, Northern remained undefeated until this week. It took undefeated Beall, the most powerful school in Maryland Class B-C wrestling history and currently ranked number one statewide, to hand them their first defeat, which occurred Monday night at Northern.

A RAPID FIRST-PERIOD PIN by Northern High School's Blair Bittinger over his Beall opponent was one of the few bright spots for the Husky wrestlers Monday night, as the previously undefeated team fell to unbeaten Beall, currently ranked number one statewide. The win by Bittinger, who pushed his personal record to 11 wins and only one loss with Northern's only pin victory, can be credited mainly to his aggressive attack style. Unknown to many, however, some of his success can also be traced to a fluke of circumstances involving the Northern varsity basketball team 16 years ago. See story. Photo by Craig Speicher.

Leading the Huskies are premium performers Brent Yoder, Blair Bittinger, Nate Emory, Bill Duckworth and Gerry Durst, whose combined records equal 54 wins and six losses, an astonishing average of nine victories per loss from five of the team's 12 positions. Durst remains undefeated with nine wins.

Other regular contributors include Brian Rosenberger, Rich Wiland, Tim Thomas, Kevin Warnick, Dave Swiger, Jason Rush and Josh Friend.

Much of Northern's recent ascension lies in the steady assistance that Coach Brenneman has received from assistant coach Scott Stough, who wrestled for Millersville, Pa., College, and Daymond Schmuck, who wrestled for South Moreland High, Pa. Equally important are the contributions of Dale Garlitz, who more than ten years ago pioneered youth league wrestling in Northern Garrett and continues working on the elementary level.

Like all Northern athletes residing within the relatively vast area served by the school, the wrestlers are perennially plagued with the need for regular long-distance transportation from daily practices. Fortunately, however, they have had the intelligence to recognize this inherent handicap and surmount it, as statistics show.

Despite the team's elevated status this season, one particularly dark challenge haunts the Northern mats. Never has a Northern grappler placed higher than third in state tournament competition, though many have come close. Thus, this team still has its work cut out for it, but thanks to a small gift from the basketball team years ago, their prospects are bright.

Sports League

Issues Reminder

Local sports enthusiasts are reminded that an organizational meeting of the Garrett Sports League will be held next Wednesday, January 25, at Garrett Community College. The 6 p.m. meeting, to be held in Room TC-250 (in the Technical Center), will be followed by a training and nutrition seminar conducted by world-class pentathlete, John McIntee.

The Garrett Sports League coordinates the "Best of the West" Triathlon, as well as other athletic events in Garrett County throughout the year. All are invited to attend the meeting and seminar.

Local Ski Racers Fare Well At State College

Several members of the Wisp Resort racing team were among the 220 competitors in the Fiesta Slalom at Tussey Mountain, State College, Pa., this past weekend.

In Saturday's event, Mike Freyman, of Boy Scout Road, placed second in the A Race Junior II Division and 15th overall, while Kevin Lohr was 39th overall and Jason Martin placed 55th.

In the B Race event, Freyman was again second in his class and finished 16th overall, while Lohr finished 35th.

The local racers, coached by Bill Freyman, will compete at Seven Springs this weekend.

Northern Huskies Champions Of Garrett County Wrestling Tourney

The Northern High varsity wrestling team added still more honors to an outstanding season, as the Huskies captured first place in the first Garrett County Wrestling Tournament Saturday at Southern, an event which involved eight area teams.

The Huskies, coached by Lynn Brenneman, came into and went home from the tournament undefeated on the season, taking four individual championships, one runner-up finish, and two third places. Their unbeaten string came to an end Monday night at home against Beall (see separate story).

Northern racked up 170 and one-half points in the tournament, followed by Frankfort with 154, Fort Hill with 149 and one-half, Valley with 118 and one-half, Central Preston with 93 and one-half, East Preston with 71 and one-half, Southern with 64, and Hyndman with 59 points.

Earning championship trophies for the Huskies were Brent Yoder by decision in the 125-pound class, Blair Bittinger on points in the 135-pound division, Nate Emory by decision in the 145-pound match, and Gerry Durst in the 160-pound class via technical fall.

Southern's Randy Marple also won first place, outpointing his opponent in the 130-pound division.

Taking runner-up trophies were Northern's Ed Tabor in the 171-pound class and Southern's Jason Rush in the 103-pound bout.

Dave Swiger and John Friend of Northern won third places, while Southern's Bill Welch and B.J. Shaffer finished fourth in their respective weight classes.

The second Garrett County Tournament will be hosted next year by Northern.

Northern Matmen Fall To Beall For First Loss

After winning the first Garrett County Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Southern High School on Saturday and keeping their season record unblemished, the Northern High wrestling team went down to defeat in regular season action Monday night, losing to the Beall Mountaineers, 50-14.

It was the eighth straight win for the Mountaineers, who are currently ranked second in the state.

Coach Lynn Brenneman's team managed only two match victories, one of which was a forfeit. Once-defeated Blair Bittinger won his 11th match of the season by pinning Michael Kenny in the 135-pound class and Gerry Durst was declared winner by forfeit in the 160-pound division. The other Northern points came when Dave Swiger tied Dan Dixon in the 140-pound match.

Previously undefeated Brent Yoder dropped a heart-breaking 8-7 decision in the 125-pound class after sustaining a painful injury that twice delayed his match.

Beall pins were recorded by Don Petenbrink and Aaron Davis, while Brian Thomas, Tom Rankin, and Will Vogtman earned wins via technical falls.

GARRETT COUNTY MAT CHAMPS — The Northern High varsity wrestling team captured the championship of the first Garrett County Wrestling Invitational, an event which featured eight teams and was held at Southern High School Saturday. The Huskies won four championship bouts, one second place, and three third places. The Huskies were undefeated on the season until Monday night when they lost to Beall, the second ranked team in Maryland. Pictured left to right, front, are Nate Emory, who won first place in the 145-pound match of the Garrett County tourney, and Blair Bittinger, first place, 135. In the second row, same order, are Coach Lynn Brenneman, Gerry Durst, first place, 160; Brent Yoder, first place, 125, and Scott Stough, assistant coach. In the back row, same order, are Bill Duckworth, first place, 152; Ed Tabor, second place, 171; and Dave Swiger, third place, 140. Not present for the photo was third place finisher John Friend in the heavyweight division.

Northern Girls Win Two Before Falling To Valley

A 52-13 thrashing of Oldtown last Wednesday night on the Indians' floor, followed by a 44-33 whipping of visiting Salisbury Friday evening, improved the Northern High girls' season record to 6-3 before they were mashed last night by undefeated Valley, 51-21, at Lonaconing.

Kristen Edwards paced the Huskies against Oldtown with 18 points, along with Tina Lashbaugh, who finished with 14 points and a game-high 11 rebounds.

It was the seventh straight loss in as many starts for Oldtown.

Edwards again spearheaded Coach Harv Speicher's attack on Friday evening against Salisbury, as she netted 20 points on seven buckets and six free throws, and also grabbed 11 rebounds.

The Northern girls were down 12-7 at the end of the first period, but a defensive second quarter ended in a 17-14 lead for the Huskies at halftime. Northern (5-2):

Larin Morris 2 8-4, Tina Lashbaugh 4 2-4, Kristen Edwards 8 2-18, Michelle Beaman 1-4, Laurie Stanton 1-2-2, Christy Jones 0-1-1, Peggy Bowser 2-0-4, Kathy McKenzie 1-0-2, Jennifer Holloway 0-1-2, Melissa Thomas 0-1-2. Totals 21 10-29 32.

HOOP SHOOT CAR GIVEAWAY — Billy Bender of Billy Bender Chevrolet, Grantsville, proudly displays a 1989 Chevrolet Spectrum that he is still hoping to give away at half-time shoot-outs during all home games at Garrett Community College and Northern High School. To win the car, one must purchase a ticket at the game and hope their chance is drawn at halftime. Then they must make three basketball shots — a lay-up, an NBA three-pointer (23 ft.), and a half-court shot within 45 seconds. Contestants get only one shot from each spot. Although this is no easy feat, four contestants have come within one shot of winning the car. The give-away is sponsored by Billy Bender Chevrolet, Grantsville, Doerr Construction, McHenry, Martin's Auto Glass, The Topsiders, McHenry, Dominick's New York Style Pizza, McHenry, and Hershberger Ins. The 6-4 Huskies will host Allegany this Saturday.

McDonald's To Give Free French Fries To Southern Fans

The Oakland McDonald's Restaurant will issue certificates for a free order of French fries next Tuesday night at Southern High School to all paying attendants of the Southern basketball game. The certificates must be redeemed Tuesday night at the restaurant and must be accompanied by a paid purchase from the McDonald's menu.

Southern High varsity boys coach Oren Yoder said that all members of the Rams basketball program are "pleased and honored" by this promotion by McDonald's.

The Rams will host Petersburg Tuesday night, with the jayvee game beginning at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7:30.

Elks' Hoop Shoot Winners Named

The local round of competition in the annual Elks Hoop Shoot free throw basketball contest was held Sunday afternoon at Southern High School, the winners of which are slated to move on to the district finals on January 28 in Hagerstown.

Competition is held in three age groups for both boys and girls. Winning the girls 8-9 category was Nicole Bosley, 9, while Steve Dawson, 9, won the same division for boys. Carrie Uphole and Rich Skipper, both 11, were the winners in the 10-11 age group and taking first place in the 12-13 category were Klorissa Wiles, 12, and Rob Speicher, 13.

Runners-up were: Meghan Dabney and Josh Helbig in the 8-9 division; Sharon Ringer and Kris Uphole, 10-11; and Phebe Neary and Mark Elliott, 12-13.

Participants were given 25 shots each from the foul line, with the winners being those who scored the most baskets. The best performance of the day was by Rob Speicher, who netted 21 of 25 attempts, just enough to edge out Mark Elliott, who sunk 20 of 25.

The local event is sponsored each year by the Oakland Elks Club. Robert Goad was the coordinator.

The local champions will participate in the district event at Saint Maria Goretti High School near the Longmeadow Shopping Center in Hagerstown on January 28. Registration will begin at 9 a.m., with competition beginning at 9:30.

Winners of the district finals will advance to the state finals, which will be held at Frederick Middle School on February 25.

Lakers Nip Craven, Fall To Louisville, Then Edge Powerful Westmoreland

The Lakers of Garrett Community College went two-for-three this past week, nipping powerful Craven Community College Friday night, 69-68, in the opening round of the Louisville, N.C., Tournament at Louisville, losing to Louisville in the championship matchup of the tourney on Saturday night, 78-66, and then edging visiting Westmoreland Junior College last night, 69-67. The results left Coach Dennis Gibson's team with a 10-8 mark on the season.

The Lakers were down by 10 points at halftime against Craven CC, 38-28, but rallied late in the second half for the win. With just over two and one-half minutes to play, Romir Miller, who led the Lakers with 20 points, connected for two free throws, followed by a technical foul shot by Kerwin Thompson to give GCC a 68-63 lead. At the 1:08 mark, Miller hit the front end of a one-and-one to make it 69-63.

A three-pointer followed by a two-point bucket by Craven cut the Lakers lead to just one point, 69-68, with 35 seconds remaining. Aaron Davis then missed on a one-and-one, Craven pulled the rebound and set up for a final shot. The attempt was no good, however, and Bobby Gregg grabbed the GARRETT CC (47) nine rebounds.

Leading all scorers was Louisville's Tim Brown, who netted 26 points, followed by Lockhart with 21. Brown also grabbed 12 rebounds, while Weldon Parham provided seven assists.

Coach Gibson was disappointed with the loss, but praised his team for their efforts in the tournament, stating that the Lakers "played their hearts out" against their two opponents, both of whom were heavily favored to defeat the Lakers. One of Louisville's victims earlier this season was nationally-ranked Allegany Community College.

The Lakers were out-gunned from the floor by only one bucket, 30-29, but Louisville converted 17 of 30 foul shots, compared to a five-for-nine effort by Garrett.

Gregg was named to the All-Tournament team, along with Brown, Parham, and Michael Nance of Louisville, Errol Wooten of Craven, and Von Newsome of USC-Salkahatchi. Brown was also named MVP.

Miller led the Lakers last night against Westmoreland, a team that was ranked 10th in the NJCAA Division II national ratings just last week. Miller connected for 10 buckets and three foul shots for a 23-point total, while Thompson finished with 14 points and Steve Galusky came off the bench to add 10 points.

Thompson led Garrett with 15 points, Gregg hit 11, and Miller finished with 10. Davis handed out 15 assists and Bohrer pulled GARRETT CC (44)

Wisp Ski Resort Assisting Disabled Youth In Junior Olympic Training

Wisp Ski Area, McHenry, will be represented by a nine-year-old girl who has achieved an award of national distinction.

Bethany Spiroff was one of 15 disabled skiers selected from 1500 nominees across the United States to train with the U.S. Ski Team at a Junior Olympic Youth Camp being held this month in Breckenridge, Colorado. Beth has been skiing the slopes of Wisp for four years with the assistance and encouragement of her uncle, Chuck Wallace.

The daughter of Nancy Spiroff of nearby Newton, Pa., Beth was born with a congenital defect in her right foot.

She has been competing in ski races sponsored by the National Handicapped Sports and Recreation Association. Disabled skiers representing the NHSRA will train for six days with members of the regular U.S. Ski Team. From there, Beth will enter competitions being held at ski areas from West Virginia to New York.

Wisp is providing the funds for travel expenses to Breckenridge for Beth and her uncle. Rudy's Ski Shop is providing her with clothing and accessories.

RECEIVING FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE from Jerry Geisler, manager of Wisp Ski Resort, is Beth Spiroff, Newton, Pa., who is one of 15 disabled skiers selected from 1,500 nominees across the United States to train with the U.S. Ski Team at a Junior Olympic Youth Camp in Colorado. Beth has been skiing the slopes of Wisp for the past four years. Her travel expenses to Colorado are being covered by the Wisp Resort, while Rudy's Ski Shop is providing clothing and accessories. ## Huskies Fall To St. Francis, But Rally For 51-47 Win Over Stags

A strong foul shooting effort in the fourth quarter by St. Francis High School led the way for a 62-51 defeat of the Northern Huskies in Morgantown, W.Va., Friday night, but Coach Dave Bender's Huskies came back to record their third win in the past four games Tuesday night, a 51-47 defeat of host Elk Garden.

Mark Downey was the major obstruction for the Huskies at St. Francis, as he netted 11 of his 27 points in the fourth quarter. Seven of his points came on eight attempts at the foul line.

The Huskies led throughout most of the first half, holding an 11-9 advantage after one quarter and a 27-25 edge at halftime. St. Francis came back in the third period to take a 44-40 lead and, when the Huskies were forced to foul in the final eight minutes, the West Virginians converted 11 of 13 attempts in that period to ice the win.

The Huskies were also playing without their top scorer, John Sherbin, who was sidelined with a case of the flu.

Jimmy Stephens paced the Huskies with 16 points and seven rebounds, followed by Dave Yoder with 13 points and Kevin Selby with 11. Mike Bixler also reached double figures for the winners, finishing with 10 points.

Selby was the big gun for the Huskies Tuesday night at Elk Garden, as he recorded 20 points on five goals and 10 of 17 free throws, and grabbed a dozen rebounds. He was eight-for-11 from the foul line in the fourth quarter, which allowed the Huskies to come from behind for the victory.

After a 10-10 tie at the end of the first quarter, the Stags moved out to a 25-20 halftime advantage and were on top 37-33 after three quarters. Also providing clutch free throws in the fourth period were Sherbin and Yoder, who each finished with 11 points.

Pacing the Stags were Greg Harvey, who matched Selby's 20-point performance and pulled 13 rebounds, and Rich Braithwaite, who finished with 10 points and a game-high 17 rebounds. The Huskies were out-rebounded, 39-30.

Northern was also out-gunned from the floor by a 21-16 margin, but converted 19 of 30 free throw attempts, compared to a four-for-13 effort by the Stags.

It was the fourth win in 12 games for the Huskies and the fifth loss in eight contests for Elk Garden.

Cross-Country Ski Race Slated At Herrington

Garrett County will be the site of a Kick and Glide USSA Cross-Country Ski Race on Saturday, January 28, at Herrington Manor State Park.

The classical style adult race will begin at 10 a.m., followed by the children's races at 11:30 a.m. Entry fees are $5.00 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12. Children's races will consist of a 3K race for those ages 8 to 11, and a 1K race for those 7 and under. Ribbons, trophies and prizes will be awarded to winners of all races.

The race is sanctioned by PCCSA (Pennsylvania Cross-Country Ski Association) and is one of the scheduled races in the 6th Annual Allegheny Mountain Race Series. These races are sponsored by the Garrett Kick and Glide Cross-Country Club and Herrington Manor State Park.

For more information on these races, persons should call (301) 334-9180. For more information on cross-country skiing and other events or accommodations, they may call the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Oakland, at (301) 334-1948.

Ski Race Slated At New Germany

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, the Garrett Kick and Glide Cross-Country Ski Club and the Potomac-Appalachian Trail Club have scheduled the Annual New Germany 8K Cross-Country Ski Race. The event is slated for Saturday, February 4, at 10 a.m., in New Germany State Park. The race is part of the 1989 Allegheny Cross-Country Ski Race Series.

The 8K race course for persons age 12 and older covers varying terrain. The 2K children's race is over a flat area. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in the various age groups. Registration will be on race day at the warming hut in New Germany State Park from 8 to 9:30 a.m.

If snow conditions are not favorable on Friday, February 3, by noon, the race will be cancelled.

For further information, persons may call New Germany State Park at 301-895-5453.

Southern Girls Lose And Win By Single Point

Coach Don Stemple's Southern High varsity girls basketball team was nipped by host Fort Hill last Thursday evening, 44-43, but came back last night to edge another Cumberland team in similar fashion, topping Allegany, 42-41, in Oakland. The results left the Rams with a 6-3 record, as they prepare to host Turkeyfoot on Monday and entertain Bishop Walsh next Wednesday.

A shot by Heather Shepherd with about one minute remaining in the game proved to be the winning bucket for the Sentinels last Thursday night. The Rams had two more opportunities to score, but missed at the free throw line and also missed on a shot from the floor at the six-second mark.

The score was knotted at 11-11 at the end of the first quarter, the Rams held a 21-17 advantage at halftime, and Fort Hill was on top by one, 33-32, after three periods. It was the sixth win in 11 starts for Fort Hill.

The rebounding difference was as close as the score, as Fort Hill led by one over the Southern's Melinda Evick was the top scorer in the game, finishing with 19 points on nine buckets and a free throw, while Courtney Smith chipped in with 11 points.

Shepherd scored 17 to lead Fort Hill and Erica Shelton added 10 points.

The junior varsity game was also decided by a single point and also in favor of the Jayvee Sentinels, who edged the Southern juniors, 21-20. Jody Elliot led Southern, and all scorers, with 10 points, while Mindy Mease netted seven for Fort Hill.

A baseline shot by Smith last night with just three seconds remaining in the game gave the Rams their sixth win of the campaign.

A pair of free throws by Tracy Wharton with seven seconds left gave the Campers a 41-40 edge before Smith's game-winning bucket.

Evick spearheaded the Rams' attack, finishing with 19 points and 13 rebounds, while freshman Kathy Gibson added nine points and 14 rebounds.

Tina Kearnher led the Campers, now 6-3, with 13 points.

Allegany won the junior varsity game, 37-22, behind a 15-point effort by Lisa Sellers

In Loving Memory Of Our Dear Mother
ETHEL DURST
taken into God's care, Jan. 20, 1983
You only have one Mother, patient, kind and true.
No other friend in all the world will be as true to you.
For all her loving kindness she asks nothing in return.
If all the world deserts you, to mother you can turn.
All we can do, dear Mother, is go and tend your grave.
And leave behind a token of love, to the best Mother God ever made.
To all of you who still have a mother, cherish her with care.
For you'll never know the heart aches 'til you find she isn't there.

Sadly missed by her Children

Bambacus Will Host Senatorial Seminar At FSU

Michael Smith, assistant director of the Maryland State Scholarship Board, has been invited to be a guest of State Senator John N. Bambacus (R-Allegany, Garrett) at a Senatorial Scholarship Seminar which has been scheduled for this Saturday, January 21, at 10 a.m. at Frostburg State University. The seminar is free of charge and will be held in the Lane Center, Room 201.

The purpose of the session is to advise area residents of the various types of financial aid available for college students. Bambacus said the seminar will be particularly helpful in outlining the steps to take in applying for scholarships. Programs of the Maryland State Scholarship Board will be explained, with special focus on the Senatorial awards program.

Guidance counselors and principals of Allegany and Garrett County high schools, representatives from the Boards of Education, and financial aid officers of local colleges have been invited to attend the meeting along with interested students and parents.

"Our goal in holding this seminar is to make available as much information as possible for as many District 1 students as possible," Bambacus stated. "I anticipate that this session will be as successful as those held in prior years."

Concert Slated At Maranatha

Jerry Arhelger, a singer-songwriter of "new country" music, will present a free concert at Maranatha Assembly of God Church, Grantsville, on January 21 at 7 p.m.

Arhelger has performed at club and festival appearances in Europe and the United States. His song, "Breaker, Breaker Sweet Jesus", a C.B. radio/trucking story, entered America's Country and Gospel charts and remained there for 19 weeks. Currently the song is popular in countries as far away as Australia and Kenya.

The concert is being brought by Peoples Choice Productions, Inc.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Old business included discussion of our recent Christmas Party.

The next meeting will be February 8 at 7 p.m. at Jennifer Peck's home. Every member is required to give a speech.

School Board

lage of 73.7 percent. Statewide, 67.5 percent passed, down from 68.3 percent last year.

Functional writing and citizenship tests will be administered soon, according to officials, with results being available in April and May.

Results were also released on the California Achievement Tests (CAT), which are administered in grades three, five, eight and eleven.

The fundamental purpose of the tests is to provide information for use in making educational decisions leading to improved instruction in the basic skills. The CAT tests are designed to measure spelling, language and mathematics, and also include a measure of the reference skills that are essential to achievement in all areas.

Battery totals are compiled for each grade by averaging the raw scores and putting them against a table. Test categories include reading vocabulary, reading comprehension, spelling, language mechanics, language expression mathematics computations, and mathematics concepts and applications.

On the third grade level in Garrett County, the battery total was 3.3, meaning third grade, third month. The fifth grade total was 5.8. For eighth grade, the battery total was 9.4, which is the highest total ever on the eighth grade level. The battery total for grade 11 in Garrett County was 12.1, which ties with the total from the 1985-86 school year.

Superintendent of Garrett County Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage discussed the Garrett County Needs Assessment recommendations with board members.

One recommendation made by the committee was the closing of Yoder School. Ryscavage noted that if the board wants to consider closing the school, they must adhere to the bylaws, and the decision must be made known by April 30 of this year.

The bylaw procedure is designed to allow board members to hear all sides of an issue before making a decision. It was decided that Ryscavage will begin the procedure to consider closing the school, and will come back to the board with a time line at the February meeting.

Another question concerned the re-districting of elementary schools in the southern end of the county. Board members requested that a review of the area be made which would identify out-of-area students. Ryscavage noted that the study should be completed by the end of this school year to allow time for hearings.

Board members drew the names of six area teachers for openings in the Maryland Assessment Center Program. The program is for teachers who have been certified by the state in administration, and assesses skills that would be involved in administrative circumstances.

Those who were chosen include Jeff Rice, a traveling physical education teacher in the northern end of the county; Dr. Gerald Snelson, Northern High School; Linda Fleming, Dennett Road Elementary School; Jim Morris, Kitzmiller Elementary School; Michael Pula, Northern Middle School; and Tom Vent, Northern High School.

Board members also discussed the Maryland Professional Development Academy Internship Program, which is a series of educational experiences sponsored by the state department for school staff throughout the state. Participants may apply for grants to implement the programs in their individual schools.

Dale Garlitz, of pupil personnel, reported on the crisis intervention plan which has been implemented in area schools.

The plan was developed in November of 1986, and began with a workshop to train those involved. The plan provides counselors for suicide intervention, and also provides crisis intervention for serious accidents, accidental deaths, and suicides.

The board also reorganized, with Mikal Moomau named president by acclamation and Beverly Sines-Murphy as vice president, also by acclamation. Members voted to keep the same meeting time and place. The board attorney and auditor will also remain the same.

Martin's, Miners Lead Divisions In Mt. Top League

Thursday, January 12
A&A Realty had five players finish in double figures as they rolled over Fairfax Stone, 90-63, in the Mt. Top Basketball action. John Harmke led the A&A attack with Ken Niner (16), Steve Liller (13), Dude Shotwell (12), and Kevin Liller (10) helping the victory. Tom Sanders netted 16 for Fairfax.

Buffalo Coal snapped a four-game losing streak with a 90-65 flattening of The Body Firm. Tom Panther led Buffalo with 26 points and Bob Ludwig scored 21 for The Firm.

Video Connection, down by 11 points with eight minutes left in the game, fought back to edge Bausch & Lomb, 74-70. Dean Marsico scored 13 of his game-high 33 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Video comeback. Steve Lyons' 20 points was the high mark for B&L.

Larry Roth scored 24 points in lead Miners & Merchants Bank to a 115-73 rout of Gonder's Insurance. Gonder's undermanned team was led by Doug Fields, who scored 20 points.

Deep Creek Pharmacy extended its winning streak to five games by downing Ferrell's Mart, 89-78. Mike Fazenbaker's 26 points and Max Hill's 22 led the Pharmacy, while Mel Evans hit 29 points, and Dave Terrant, 21, for the Mart.

Tuesday, January 17
Martin's Auto Glass extended its unbeaten streak to 10 with a 94-62 crushing of Fairfax Stone. Dennis Gibson led Martin's with 31 points and Mike Winters added 27. Fred Radford tallied 13 to lead Fairfax.

A&A Realty stayed right on Martin's heels in the Northern Division by topping Durst Exon, 99-88. Durst jumped out to a 13-3 lead to start the game, but A&A rallied to tie the score at the end of first quarter, 24-24. A&A outscored Durst 31-11 in the second quarter for a 20-point lead at halftime.

Durst got as close as eight points twice in the fourth quarter, only to see A&A extend the lead back to double figures. Steve Liller's outside game (40 points) and Greg Shockey's inside game (22 points) accounted for 62 points of A&A's final score. Tom Hinkle (27) and Ed George (26) paced Durst.

In other action Tuesday, Buffalo Coal downed Ferrell's Mart, 100-68, behind J.R. Rhodes' 22 points. Nathan Rhodes and Dave Terrant each scored 18 points for Ferrell's.

Video Connection nipped The National Guard, 61-59. Dean Marsico, 27, was high scorer for The Connection and Rich Humberston led The Guard with 21 points.

Miners & Merchants recorded a forfeit victory over The Body Firm.

Correction
It was noted that Jim Natation was high scorer for Ferrell's Mart in their victory last week. It was actually Nathan Rhodes who scored 28 points to lead Ferrell's to its first victory.

Southern Rams Top East Preston For Ninth Win

The Southern High varsity boys' basketball team upped its record to 9-3 Friday night by rolling over visiting East Preston, 57-38.

The Rams moved out to a 9-4 advantage by the end of the first quarter, were on top 27-14 at halftime, and led 45-29 when the final period opened.

Marshall Pike and Richard Evick paced the Rams' scoring with 15 and 14 points, respectively, while Zack Gibson was credited with six assists.

Leading East Preston's scoring were Chris Grove with 12 points and B.K. Shepherd with 10 points.

The Southern defense proved to be too much for the West Virginians, as it forced numerous mistakes and turnovers throughout most of the game.

The Southern jayvee team was also victorious, topping the East Preston junior varsity in the preliminary game, 39-34.

The Rams, now ranked fourth in area standings, will host Mount Savage this Friday evening and then entertain Petersburg next Tuesday.

Job Placement Center Open At GCC

Sandy Majors and Sue Harris at Garrett Community College's new Job Placement Center.

A new community service has just become available with the opening of the Job Placement Center at Garrett Community College, housed in the office of the Small Business Development Center.

Headed by Sandy Majors, the Job Placement coordinator, and Sue Harris, assistant coordinator, the Center will provide free job placement services for both full-time and part-time jobs to GCC students, former students, and employers.

The Center will maintain a job bank, an employer bank, and a pool of job applicants. One of its functions will be to match the education, skills, and experience of applicants with the specific needs of employers.

According to Ms. Majors, a Job Board, listing all available jobs, will be located just outside the Job Placement Office. A Job Book, providing specific details about available jobs, will be located within the office. The Job Placement Office will be open Mondays 3-8 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays 1-4 p.m., and Fridays 9 a.m. to noon.

In addition to job placement, the Center will offer workshops in resume writing, interview techniques, job search skills, and job counseling.

About the function of the new Placement Center, Ms. Majors stated, "We want to establish strong relationships with other state and local agencies already doing job placement in the community. We will also establish an advisory board of area em-

Library Receives Donated Copy Of Westvaco Book

The 1988 Christmas book published by Westvaco, A Pledge of Excellence: Our Second 100 Years, has been donated to the Garrett Community College library. The book, created by Westvaco employees, commemorates the company's Centennial year.

To show the company's commitment to excellence, the authors brought together a variety of thoughts and expressions on the subject of excellence by well known people in American history. In the book are quotations from General Patton, Ernie Pyle, Walt Disney, Helen Keller, Dale Carnegie, John Steinbeck, and 94 other Americans.

The book was presented to the college by Harris W. LeFev, public relations manager of Westvaco.

spring semester of 1988 was 411 students, with an FTE of 134.06. Six classes were offered during intersession, with three of the classes offered to teachers of head start. FTE for intersession was 5.7.

The next meeting of the GCC Board of Trustees has been scheduled for Tuesday, February 21.

Welfare

lowest figure since July 1984. On an annual basis, the AFDC caseload decreased by 10 percent from October 1987 to October 1988. This reduction was achieved despite the fact that the unemployment rate in Garrett County during the summer of 1988 was higher than in 1987. In addition, during fiscal year 1988 the number of families receiving food stamps in Garrett County decreased from 908 to 866. The total amount of food stamps issued during FY-1988 declined by $99,255, compared to FY-87, and was the lowest amount issued since FY-84.

Shaffer credits the success of Project Independence to a "real team effort" between the Department of Social Services, other public agencies in the county, and the many employers who are willing to assist disadvantaged persons in becoming self-sufficient, productive citizens. Shaffer said he is especially pleased with the cooperation and extra effort expended by the staff within the local Social Services office during the past year in a concerted effort to achieve the goals of Project Independence.

In looking toward 1989, the local department has set a goal for reducing the AFDC caseload by another 10 percent. As of December 1988, there were 53 AFDC recipients actively involved in some facet of Project Independence. "Most of these persons are very sincere and enthusiastic in their quest for employment," Shaffer said. "Many of them have, or are obtaining education and job skills that should enable them to become self-supporting in the coming year."

On-the-job training funds are available to employers to help cover the initial salary and training expenses of Project Independence employees. Employers in the county who are interested in assisting these individuals in achieving their "independence" goals should contact Robert Clark at the Garrett County Department of Social Services, 334-9461, or Mrs. Sue Shockey at "The Training Place," 334-8136. For more information on Project Independence, persons may contact Shaffer at the Social Services office.

18,739 Calls

Storm VFD, 52, 46; and Bloomington VFD, 18, 12. Frantz pointed out that Bloomington, Bayard, Eastern Garrett, Mt. Storm, and Terra Alta VFDs also receive calls via different agencies, such as Allegany County Civil Defense, Grant County Communications, and Preston County Sheriff's Department.

There were 1,778 calls for assistance from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, compared to 1,506 during 1987, and 1,290 calls for Maryland State Police, compared to 1,239 the previous year.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital personnel were summoned 1,366 times during 1988, compared to 1,147 times in 1987. The hospital was contacted directly by the Office of Emergency Management 475 times, compared to 323 times the previous year.

Other agencies contacted and the corresponding number of calls for 1988 and 1987 are as follows: Garrett County Sanitary Commission, 349, 333; Animal Control, 340, 468; fire investigators, 275, 86; Department of Natural Resources, 185, 208; Home Health Agency, 156, 192; Oakland City Police, 154, 168; Garrett County Roads Department, 114, 118; and Mental Health Agency, 108, 109.

Frantz reminded residents that the 911 telephone line is to be used for emergency purposes only and persons may call the office for non-emergency purposes at 334-1930; 453-3113 for Kitzmiller residents; and 245-4114 for Bittinger residents.

Plans are being made for a Heart Fund Dance to be held at Alpine Lake on February 11 from 9 p.m. to midnight. Members who desire may meet at 6:30 for a Sweetheart Dinner.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruth Teets on February 13.

BAPTIST CHAPEL NEWS

The Evergreen Southern Baptist Church has been busy with activities.

Each Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at Evergreen Chapel, a soup dinner is served for those coming to the Wednesday evening service, which starts at 6:30 p.m.

On November 23 the Chapel participated in the town wide Thanksgiving service held at Trinity United Methodist Church.

On Christmas Eve the Chapel joined with the Terra Alta American Baptist Church for worship service and communion.

A morning song service is being planned for January 29. In the evening will be soup and music.

February 5 is Baptist World Alliance and on February 15 a surprise night is being planned.

Esther's House now has Crisis Pregnancy testing and counseling, a clothing ministry, a food pantry, and peer counseling. Classes for counselors are being taught by Dr. Michael Todt, administrator of Hopemont Hospital.

Since re-opening the clothing ministry as part of Esther's House, approximately 2,000 pounds of clothing have been given to over 50 families. The food pantry opened just prior to Thanksgiving and has helped 10 families. Esther's House has also helped five families who were burned out by providing food, clothing, and small household goods.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Owens of near Grafton visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sisler.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sisler and Mrs. Charles Sisler visited recently with Mrs. Sisler's sister, Mrs. Ruby Ringer.

Mary Teter was admitted recently to Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown.

Mrs. George Sisler and Cathy visited one day recently with her father, Robert Spaid, Aurora.

NATURALIST SPEAKS

Naturalist and former West Virginia University Professor Bill Wylie was the guest speaker at the January 5 meeting of the Terra Alta Rotary Club.

West Virginia

News from Preston, Tucker, Grant and Mineral Counties.

Wylie, an expert in various fields of natural history, principally ornithology, recently became a permanent resident of Alpine Lake. He has conducted "bird watch" sessions there for several years which have been attended by a number of enthusiasts.

Wylie spoke primarily about the California Condor and the Whooping Crane, but also briefly mentioned all endangered species and the disappearance of many plants, fish and animals.

Wylie told the Rotarians several years ago the Red Fox was introduced to Alaska and is now endangering the native species of ducks there. To prevent this, naturalists are now trying to capture male and red foxes, sterilize them and with a reduced population allow the Alaskan ducks to survive.

Wylie was the guest of Logan Weber.

Aurora-Egion

TRIP TO JAMBOREE

A bus will be leaving from Aurora the afternoon of March 11 in time to have dinner and attend the Kathy Mattea 7:30 p.m. show at the Wheeling Jamboree. Cost of the transportation, dinner and tickets is $45 and persons are asked to contact David or Delores Stemple. Money and reservations are due by February 4.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN MEET

At the January 11 meeting of the Aurora United Methodist Women, president Alma Snyder opened the meeting and led the business session. The program, "Quiet Day Service - Building a New World Through Service to Children and Youth," was led by Betty Fint with various new hymnals and a new copying machine for the church. There were 10 present.

SAVING FOODLAND REGISTER TAPES

The Aurora School is participating in Foodland Markets' offer to buy computers for schools who have saved $175,000 in register tapes from January 8 through June. That is the amount needed for each computer, so it will necessarily be a community effort. Tapes from any Foodland store are eligible for inclusion.

PERSONAL MENTION

Homer Meyers returned this week to his Aurora home after receiving treatment in Monongalia General Hospital.

Delbert Blamble of Gnegy Church has been a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Erma Henline of Horse Shoe Run is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she underwent surgery on Friday.

Word has been received by relatives here that Mrs. Eva Wotring is much improved and should have no paralysis following her recent stroke. She remains in an Arizona hospital where she had been taken while spending the winter with her daughter and son-in-law, Betty and Kenneth Bailey.

Visiting in Egion on Friday afternoon with Mildred Wilt and Avenell Parsons were Olive Beckman and Wilda Wilt of Brookside.

Mrs. Norma McCombs also is improving from her recent eye ailment and was able to remain in her home at Egion for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets of Silver Lake were weekend guests of their daughter and family, Martha and Merlin Reish and children, at Harrisonburg, Va.

Peggy Mathes returned recently to her home in Egion and is recuperating from recent surgery in Cumberland.

PUBLIC NOTICE
NOTICE OF DETERMINATION OF
NO SIGNIFICANT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

The Town of Grantsville has applied for Federal assistance towards its proposed construction of a water treatment facility, a new transmission main and other water distribution system improvements. The treatment plant will be built on a 1.86 acre site with an existing well, one and one-half miles west of the Town on the north side of Alternate Route 40. The site will be leased from the State of Maryland and is an expansion of an existing lease in a part of the Savage River State Forest. The transmission main will follow Alternate Route 40 and an existing water main right-of-way across private properties to the Town boundary.

The Farmers' Home Administration has made a determination that this project will have no significant environmental impact. The application and the Environmental Assessment are available for review at the Farmers' Home Administration District or State office. Any person interested in commenting on the application or the proposal's feasibility or the alternatives to it may do so by providing such comments to the Farmers' Home Administration, 198 Thomas Johnson Drive, Frederick, MD 21701, within 15 days of the date of this notice. 47-21

Preston Schools
Set Kindergarten
Pre-Registration

Preston County Elementary Schools are in the process of pre-registering students for kindergarten for the 1988-89 school year. School officials will be pre-registering students during the months of January and February.

Officials are seeking the names and birthdates of 5-year-olds to plan for the kindergarten program next year. Those who have a child, or know of one, who will be 5 years old before September 1, 1989, should contact their local school.

The school will need the child's name, birthdate, parent or guardian's name, telephone number, and address.

Those who have any questions about West Virginia attendance laws, early entrance requirements, or other questions, may contact Gary Warnick at the Preston County School Board Office. The telephone number is (304) 329-0580.

and how to prepare it!

Kids in the Kitchen

SECOND IN A SERIES

Make Cooking As Easy As...

J IS FOR JELLY ROLL

3 eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of water
1 teaspoon of vanilla
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon of baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
About  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of Jelly or Jam
Powdered sugar

Heat the oven to 375°. Line a jelly roll pan, 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ x10 $\frac{1}{2}$ x1-inch, with aluminum foil, then grease with shortening. Beat eggs in a large bowl on high speed until thick and lemon color. Gradually beat in granulated sugar. Beat in water and vanilla on low speed. Gradually beat in flour, baking powder and salt until smooth. Pour into pan, spread to corners. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 12 to 15 minutes. Generously sprinkle powdered sugar on a towel a little larger than the cake. Immediately loosen cake from pan and turn over onto the towel. Carefully remove foil. Trim off any crisp edges of cake. While hot, carefully roll cake and towel from narrow end. Let cool on wire rack at least 30 minutes. Unroll cake and remove towel. Beat jelly with a fork just enough to soften, spread over cake. Roll up cake and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Makes 10 servings.

K IS FOR KART-WHEELS

1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of margarine or butter, softened
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of powdered sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of baking powder
2 tablespoons of milk
About 1 cup of pie filling or jam (any flavor)

Heat oven to 375°. Mix flour, margarine, powdered sugar, baking powder and just enough milk until dough forms. (If dough seems dry, mix in more milk, 1 teaspoon at a time). Divide the dough into 6 equal parts. Shape each part into a ball. Place on an ungreased cookie sheet, flatten slightly. Make an indentation, 1 $\frac{3}{4}$  inches in diameter and about  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch deep, in center of each flattened ball. Fill each indentation with about 2 tablespoons of pie filling. Bake until the edges begin to brown, 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 "Kart-Wheels."

L IS FOR LEMON SQUARES

1 cup of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of margarine or butter, softened
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of powdered sugar
1 cup of granulated sugar
2 teaspoons of grated lemon peel (optional)
2 tablespoons of lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of baking powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon of salt
2 eggs

Heat oven to 350°. Mix thoroughly flour, margarine and powdered sugar in a small bowl. Press evenly with hands in bottom and about 5/8-inch up sides of an ungreased square pan, 8x8x2 inches. (If dough is sticky, flour fingers). Bake 20 minutes. Beat remaining ingredients in a medium bowl on medium speed until light and fluffy. Pour over hot crust. Bake just until no indentation remains when touched lightly in center, about 25 minutes. Let stand until cool, then cut into about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch squares. Makes 25 squares.

Lemon-Coconut Squares: Prepare as directed in Lemon Squares except — stir  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup flaked coconut into fluffy mixture.

M IS FOR MUD PIE

1 cup of granulated sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of margarine or butter, melted
1 teaspoon of vanilla
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon of salt
2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of cocoa
1 cup of chopped nuts (optional)
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of fudge sauce or fudge ice-cream topping
1 cup of chilled whipping cream
2 tablespoons of powdered sugar

Heat oven to 325°. Grease a round pan, 8x1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inches, or a pie plate, 8x1 $\frac{1}{4}$ -inches, with shortening. Mix granulated sugar, margarine, vanilla, salt, eggs, flour and cocoa in a medium bowl with a wooden spoon, stir in nuts. Pour into pan. Bake until wooden pick inserted halfway between center and edge comes out clean, about 25 minutes. Immediately prick holes in pie with a wooden pick, spread fudge sauce over top. Cool completely. Beat whipping cream and powdered sugar in a chilled small bowl until stiff, spread over fudge sauce. Drizzle with additional fudge sauce or topping if you like. Store pie in refrigerator. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

N IS FOR NUTTY MARSHMALLOW BARS

1 cup of chopped salted blanched peanuts
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of quick-cooking or regular oats
 $\frac{2}{3}$  cup of packed brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of baking soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of salt
1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of margarine or butter, softened
1 jar (7 ounces) of marshmallow creme
 $\frac{2}{3}$  cup of caramel ice cream topping
1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups of salted blanched peanuts

Heat oven to 350°. Stir chopped peanuts, flour, oats, brown sugar, baking soda, salt and egg in a large bowl. Stir in margarine with a fork until mixture is crumbly. Press in an ungreased rectangular pan, 13x9x2 inches. Bake 10 minutes. Spoon marshmallow creme over hot layer. Let stand 1 minute, spread evenly. Drizzle topping over creme, sprinkle with 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups of peanuts. Bake until golden brown, about 20 minutes. Let stand until cool, then loosen edges from side of pan with wet knife. Cut into 3x1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch bars with wet knife. Makes 24 bars.

O IS FOR OATMEAL PANCAKES

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of quick-cooking oats
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of buttermilk
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of milk
1 tablespoon of sugar
2 tablespoons of vegetable oil
1 teaspoon of baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of baking soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of salt
1 egg

Beat all ingredients in a medium bowl with a hand beater until smooth. (For thinner pancakes, stir in 2 to 4 tablespoons of additional milk). Grease a heated griddle, if necessary, with shortening, using a pastry brush. (To see if griddle is hot enough, sprinkle with a few drops of water. If bubbles skitter around, heat is just right). For each pancake, pour about  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of batter onto the hot griddle. Cook until pancakes are puffed and dry around edges. Turn and cook other side until golden brown. Serve with applesauce if desired. Makes 10 to 12 pancakes.

P IS FOR POCKET PIZZA

1 tablespoon of vegetable oil
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of pizza sauce
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of shredded Mozzarella cheese and cooked Italian sausage
1 tablespoon of finely chopped onion
 $\frac{1}{8}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon of garlic powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$  package (3-ounce size) of sliced pepperoni
2 to 3 tablespoons of pizza sauce
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of shredded Mozzarella cheese

Heat oven to 425°. Lightly grease a cookie sheet with shortening. Prepare Pizza Dough. Roll into a 12-inch circle. Fold loosely in half, place on cookie sheet and unfold. Brush with oil. Layer remaining ingredients on half of the circle in order listed, fold dough over filling. Turn edge of the lower dough over edge of the top dough, pinch edge to seal. Prick top with a fork. Bake until golden brown, 20 to 25 minutes.

Pizza Dough: Beat 1 cup of all-purpose flour,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of milk, 2 tablespoons of vegetable oil, 1 teaspoon of baking powder and  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of salt in a bowl until the dough leaves side. Turn onto a lightly floured surface, gather into a ball. Knead 10 times. Cover with a bowl, let stand 15 minutes.

Q IS FOR QUICK CHEESEBURGER PIE

1 pound of ground beef
 $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup finely chopped onion
1 clove of garlic, finely chopped
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of dill pickle liquid
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of chopped dill pickles
2 cups of shredded American or Swiss cheese (8 ounces)

Heat oven to 425°. Prepare pastry, pat in bottom and up sides of quiche dish, 8x2 inches, or round pan, 8x1 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches. Bake 15 minutes. Cook and stir beef, onion and garlic in 10-inch skillet until brown, drain. Sprinkle with salt and flour. Stir in pickle liquid, milk, pickles and 1 cup cheese. Spoon into dish. Bake 15 minutes, sprinkle with 1 cup cheese. Bake until crust is golden brown, about 5 minutes longer. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pat-in-the-Pan Pastry: Mix 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups of all-purpose flour and  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt. Cut in  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of shortening with a pastry blender until mixture looks like tiny peas. Sprinkle in 3 to 4 tablespoons of cold water, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring with a fork after each addition. Mix lightly until all flour is moistened and pastry almost cleans side of bowl (add 1 to 2 teaspoons water if necessary).

Scriptures Selected by The American Bible Society

A bowl of soup, some hot tea, a warm bed and plenty of rest was the recipe that Grandmothers made us follow when we didn't feel up to par.

More sophisticated methods are now used. Today, when we become ill, physicians and hospitals have the capabilities to take care of our ailments. Not to mention the hundreds of bottled and packaged remedies we can get over-the-counter for treatment and relief.

But there are times when our aches and pains can't be cured by simply relying on elixirs, herbal concoctions, modern medical technology or just taking two aspirins. Perhaps it's a need to go to your church or synagogue. It is a good prescription to follow and may be just what the doctor ordered.

You'll feel much better for it.

Garrett County BPW Inducts 11 New Members

Eleven new members were welcomed into the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club recently, through the club's on-going membership drive. Bea Crocco, chairman, assisted by Leona Beckman and President Mildred Wuck, inducted seven in December, with the remaining four to be inducted at the February 9 meeting.

Auctioneer Robert Custer sold crafts and other home-made articles at the December meeting, gaining nearly $300 for the treasury. Members of the Grantsville BPW were guests, along with several husbands and other family members and friends, including Mrs. Robert Custer. Donations for the House of Hope were also collected in December.

Barbara Flinn led carol singing, accompanied by pianist Jean Richardson. Michelle Mealie was in charge of the auction.

Jim Cornelius, from Leadership Dynamics Associates, was the January 12 speaker. His "Goal Setting" topic was summed up in one acronym: SMART (specific, measurable, attainable, realistic, and tangible). He recommended several ways to help members realize their potential and maximize their goals.

Members voted to donate $2,500 to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for two crash carts; $1,000 to Ruth Enlow Library for new chairs at Oakland, Accident, and Friendsville; and $1,000 to the Drane House restoration project.

The club's 50th anniversary will be celebrated April 29, with plans underway. The state's 60th anniversary observance will be April 8 at the Fountainhead Country Club in Hagerstown.

The club's Young Careerist, Debra Friend, will compete at the state level February 24, at Solomon's Island. Several members will also be attending, as this will also be the weekend for the statewide winter board meeting.

Any working woman who desires more information about BPW and its goals to help women may contact Bea Crocco, 334-3153 or 334-2147. The next meeting will be February 9 at Will o' the Wisp. Cost of dinner is $6.45. A guest speaker will be present to help determine "What are We Becoming?" and additional new members will be inducted.

On Dean's List

Three Garrett County residents were named to the dean's list at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W.Va., according to Dr. H. Dean Peters, vice president for academic affairs.

Those receiving a 3.2 grade point average or better were Jacquelyn Lee Noe, Scott Andrew Rolf, and Jodi Linn Wilt, all graduates of Southern High School.

FSC is a liberal arts institution with approximately 5,700 students and is located in North Central West Virginia.

Applications Now Available For CRT Classes

Cardiac Rescue Technician Classes will be offered at Garrett Community College in McHenry every Saturday from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. starting March 4 and ending June 24. These classes are being sponsored by Region One Emergency Medical Services.

For applications and more information, persons should contact the Northern or Southern Garrett County Rescue Squads, Bill Hardy at 777-4119, or Jean Tressler at the Continuing Education Department at GCC in McHenry, 387-6666. The deadline for applications is February 17.

FSU Radio Station Back On The Air

While technical problems had kept Frostburg State University's radio station, WFWM, 91.7 on the FM dial, off the air for the past eight months, the alternative music station has resumed broadcasting and reaching listeners in parts of four states.

According to station manager Charles Harris, the station was forced off the air due to technical problems which not only required corrective work but long and complicated Federal Communication Commission approvals. "But the result now," said Harris, "is a cleaner, clearer stereo signal to the point we are truly a Western Maryland Public Radio Station."

The student-run station is operating now on a random schedule, but will resume full programming with lots of new shows and music programs on January 23, the date the University re-opens for faculty and students for the spring semester. Some of the new shows will include a "Maryland Music" show featuring bands of the Maryland/D.C. area and a one-hour traditional blues show, both of which will complement the station's mix of progressive, jazz, urban, new age, reggae, classic rock and classical

Maryland Mother Search Underway

The Maryland Mothers Committee is launching its 1989 search for Maryland's Mother of the Year.

All nominees for State Mother must meet the following requirements established by the American Mothers Committee: that she be a successful mother as evidenced by the character and achievements of her children; that she be an active member of a religious body; that she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers; courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding, and good homemaking ability; that she exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule; that she have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and that she be active in service for public benefit; and that she be qualified to represent the Mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role as National Mother, if selected.

All nominees must be at least 45 years of age and her youngest child must be at least 15 years of age at the time of the nomination.

The mother selected will be honored at ceremonies in her

KEYSTONE HOMES
WANTS YOU NOW

If you aren't the average home buyer, and want that extra quality in a home with prices you can afford, you must see us now about a new Keystone Home for spring delivery.

We are booking up fast for March, April, and May, so don't delay, see us today so you can begin planning your home to fit your own exact needs. If for some reason you find you can't build this year after you place your order, you can cancel with just a phone call.

Completely finished from the plate up on your foundation. We set all of our homes with a crane so there is no stress on your foundation.

All of our homes come with the energy package which is standard. Insulation is R19 walls, R19 floor, R32 ceiling. Andersen Thermopane vinyl-clad wood windows with storms and screens, a very big energy-saver, and they never need painting. Exterior doors are metal insulated with storm doors; total electric heat with thermostats in each room.

You have your choice of interior drywall, paneling or both. Drywall has two coats of the paint of your choice; beautiful, textured 1/2" drywall ceiling over a 3/8" plywood sub ceiling.

Nice selection of top grade carpet throughout home except for kitchen and baths. There we offer a no-wax linoleum by Armstrong. This is put over a super strong 1 1/8" thick floor. Floor joints are 2x10, 16" on center.

Kitchen and bath have your choice of vinyl wall coverings, beautiful kitchen cabinets with stainless steel sinks, 30" GE electric range; exhaust fans in kitchen and bath, vanity in bath, with a one-piece fiberglass tub and shower; 52 gallon hot water heater, aluminum wood grain siding, shutters, gutter and down spouts, 5/12 roof pitch on 25' and 28' wide models.

This home can be designed to fit your own needs at no charge. A home is a big investment today so shop around and compare. But before you buy, be sure and see a Keystone Home... we think it will speak for itself.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Navy Seaman Recruit David D. Sines, son of Patty S. Allen, Aurora, W.Va., and Dave D. Sines Sr., Oakland, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Sine's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Sine's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1988 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Navy in September 1988.

Marine Sgt. Gregory A. Friend, son of Jack G. and Linda M. Friend, Oakland, recently deployed to Camp Schwab, Okinawa, Japan while serving with 1st Battalion, 2nd Marines, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

During his deployment he will undergo squad/platoon/company tactics and jungle warfare training.

A 1977 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Marine Corps in May 1978.

Anjanette Cosner, daughter of Juanita R. Cosner, of Deer Park, completed recruit training at the navy base in Orlando, Fla., on November 11, 1988.

She then attended Firemen Apprenticeship school, where she was instructed in engineering and mechanical fields. After 15 days leave, she was assigned sister duty with her sister, Petty Officer 3rd Class Kathleen A. Cosner, aboard the USS Yellowstone in Norfolk, Va.

Miss Cosner is a 1988 graduate of Southern High School.

The U.S. Army has announced the retirement of Lt. Col. James D. Moreland, son of Carl J. and Myrtle L. Moreland, Star Route, Mount Storm, W.Va., after more than 23 years of service.

Moreland served as a senior military training analyst at White Sands Missile Range, N.M., prior to retiring.

His wife, Wanda, is the daughter of Gladys Masser of 9400 Stonewall, El Paso, Texas.

In 1960, Moreland graduated from Bayard High School, W.Va. He received a master's degree in 1979 from Webster College, Kansas City, Kan.

Marine Sgt. Kevin R. Baldwin, whose wife, Carolyn, is the daughter of Charles R. and Linda S. Goff, Corinth, W.Va., recently reported for duty at Marine Corps Base, Camp Butler, on Okinawa.

A 1981 graduate of Oconto High School, Oconto, Wis., he joined the Marine Corps in January 1982.

Navy Seaman Recruit William D. Harvey, son of Sandra L. Harvey, Route 1, Swanton, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Center, San Diego. During Harvey's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Harvey's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1988 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Navy in September 1988.

Sgt. Thomas A. Graham, son of Carolyn A. Graham, Pittsburgh, and Owen A. Graham, Route 1, Swanton, has received the parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training, students underwent a rigorous physical training program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week they received practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers. The final week they made five static line parachute jumps including one night jump.

He is a 1980 graduate of Upper

St. Clair High School, Pittsburgh.

Airman Debra A. Rinehart has graduated from the aircraft armament systems specialist course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

The course provides instruction for students to load nuclear and non-nuclear munitions, explosives and propellant devices on aircraft.

During the 13-week course, students were also instructed to maintain, install, modify and repair aircraft bombs and rockets.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randrew M. Rinehart, Route 1, Aurora, W.Va.

The airman is a 1988 graduate of East Preston Senior High School, Terra Alta.

Marine Staff Sgt. Albert S. Fauber, whose wife, Tamara, is the daughter of James S. and Gloria D. Sisler of Aurora, W.Va., has been awarded a Meritorious Mast while serving at Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Louisville.

A Meritorious Mast is an official recognition from a Marine's commanding officer for superior individual performance. It is issued in the form of a bulletin published throughout the command, and a copy is entered in the Marine's permanent service records.

He joined the Marine Corps in January 1977.

TV CLASSICS

Detecting a trend on CBS during the 1973-74 season

By John Haakenson

The late 1950s to early 1960s might be called "the age of the television cowboy." Horse operas reigned supreme on all three networks in those years. When Ian Fleming's James Bond burst onto movie screens in 1962, TV quickly dumped its Westerns in favor of spy series such as The Man from U.N.C.L.E., I Spy, and Honey West. That might be called "the age of the television spy."

But by the fall of 1973, audiences were devouring a new kind of hero: the contemporary cop/detective. CBS, in particular, held a strong liking for this genre. Here's a sampling of the network's 1973-74 lineup: On Sunday nights, Mannix, followed by Hawaii Five-O, on Tuesdays, Hawaii Five-O, and on Wednesdays, Cannon, followed by Kojak. Thursdays and Fridays were dominated by movies—frequently detective/cop movies.

Test your knowledge of CBS' old cop/detective series.

1. Telly Savalas, who for years played villains in motion pictures, became a good guy when CBS premiered Kojak in 1973. In what made-for-TV movie did Savalas first create the role of Kojak?

2. During the same year, CBS attempted to revive the legend of Perry Mason, casting a sandy-haired actor in the role made famous by Raymond Burr. Who starred (briefly) in The New Perry Mason?

3. According to the network's 1973 fall press release, this character "combines disarming wit with his knowledge of criminology." The mature actor who played this part was nearly cast as the Scarecrow in the legendary The Wizard of Oz (Ray Bolger got the part). Name the actor and the series.

4. Despite the profligence of cop/detective shows on CBS in 1973-74, there was one evening on the schedule dominated totally by comedy. Name the night of the week, and four of the five classic sitcoms.

ANSWERS:

1. The Marcus-Nelson Murders.
2. Monte Markham.
3. Buddy Ebsen, starring in Barnaby Rudge.
4. Saturday nights featured All in the Family, followed by *M*A*S*H*, The Mary Tyler Moore Show, The Bob Newhart Show, and The Carol Burnett Show.

ALF's best friend knows all, but refuses to tell secrets

ALF.

By Polly Vonetes
Q: Who is ALF? How old is he in real life? Is he a man or boy? Can you show his face please? —Mike Morris, Washington, N.C.

A: ALF, to his creator Paul Fusco and members of his staff, is very real. However, ALF doesn't grant personal interviews, he doesn't do his own stunts, or even his own walking. The walk-around ALF is actually a very small actor wearing an ALF suit. His closest friend is producer Fusco, who knows all of ALF's personal secrets and is sworn to secrecy.

Q: Could you please help me? I have been watching old movies on TV and I was wondering if Betty Grable is still alive. I think she is the most beautiful girl I have ever seen. Can you give me some facts about her? —Randy Woody, Englewood, Tenn.
A: Betty Grable was born on Dec. 18, 1916, in St. Louis, Mo. She arrived in Hollywood with her stage-door mother in 1930, lied about her age and worked as a song-and-dance girl in light-hearted comedies. She was married to Jackie Coogan from 1937 to 1940. Her big break in films came when she replaced Alice Faye in Down Argentine Way. Under contract to 20th Century Fox, she was cast in a series of musicals which always placed her among the nation's top 10 film stars from 1942 to 1951. She was always friendly, never pulled rank and was well thought of in the Hollywood community. In 1943 she married Harry James. Their marriage lasted 22 years and produced two daughters, Victoria and Jessica. She starred in her last two films in 1955, How to Be Very Very Popular and Three for the Show, then retired. She died of cancer in 1973.

Q: Could you please give me some information, such as birthdate, height and marital status of Jameson Parker and Heather Thomas. And what movies they have starred in? —B.A. Ormsby, Montrose, Colo.

A: Heather Thomas was born on Sept. 8, 1957, in Greenwich, Conn. She is a blue/green-eyed blonde, who is 5'7". She has been married and divorced twice. Thomas' films, all for TV, include: Dirty Dozen: The Fatal Mission, Ford: The Man and the Machine and Hoover vs. The Kennedys. Jameson Parker was born on Nov. 18, 1947, in Baltimore Md. He is 5'11 1/2" tall, has blue eyes and blond hair. He and his wife, Bonnie, have been married for 12 years. They have three children, two boys and a girl. He made his film debut in The Bell Jar and also starred in A Small Circle of Friends and White Dog. His TV films include Agatha Christie's A Caribbean Mystery, Women at West Point, Anatomy of a Seduction, The Promise of Love, Callie and Son and Who is Julia?

The late Jack Benny is one of eight television personalities to be installed into the Television Academy Hall of Fame, Monday, Jan. 23, on FOX.

TV Hall of Fame show to air Monday on FOX

Time is key factor in paying tribute

By Mary Ann Townsend

Gary Smith, with his partner in production Dwight Hemion, will tackle one of their biggest challenges when The Fifth Annual Television Academy Hall of Fame airs Monday, Jan. 23, on FOX.

The challenge is not in making the show different from year to year, Smith said. In fact variety is inherent to the show.

"It's automatically going to be different because when you focus on the personal life of each person, that's automatically going to be different. Then, when you bring people on who are directly involved with these people in some way, to pay tribute, there is an element of 'This Is Your Life,'" Smith said.

Neither is the challenge of producing the show in dealing with the unexpected. Surprises do happen frequently, such as last year, when Jacques Cousteau, after saying he really didn't get involved in tribute shows, broke down in tears, or when staunch newsmen Mike Wallace and Walter Cronkite broke into hysterical laughter over the Baraceni Orangutans sent in as part of the tribute to Ed Sullivan.

No, the challenge for the Smith-Hemion production team is in finding the time to tell all there is to tell about the inductees.

"Two-hours nowadays gives you about an hour and a half of air time," Smith said. "And with eight individuals being inducted, there are just so many things you always end up having to leave out."

This year's inductees include Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Red Skelton, Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, David Wolper and David Susskind.

479, 480, 481 —
When Barbara Cartland is not writing, she is reading. The popular romance novelist has written 481 books that have sold more than 500 million copies throughout the world. She read 25 history books in pursuit of accuracy and detail for Cupid Rides Pillion, the novel on which The Lady and the Highwayman, airing Tuesday, Jan. 24, on CBS, is based.

Childcare crisis explored on Lifetime

By Austin Travis

The United States, unlike most other industrialized nations, lacks an adequate child care program. This month, Lifetime television takes an active role in presenting the problem and surveying the nation to find a solution.

Hush Little Baby: The Challenge of Child Care airs Monday, Jan. 23, and will examine a cross section of American families. Today, with 60 percent of mothers of children under 14 in the work force, families must rely upon others to care for their children or, in some cases, leave them unattended.

In conjunction with the telecast, the Child Care Action Campaign and The Great American Family Tour will conduct a national survey, "Tell the President: Your Family Matters," which will run in early 1989 in some 25 magazines. The results will be presented to the new president and released nationally in May.

Meanwhile on The Disney Channel, Mickey Mouse and his Soviet counterpart, Misha the Bear, try to solve a problem of another kind. Spreading Glasnost, the two open the first Disney Soviet Film Festival when Mickey Goes to Moscow premieres Tuesday, Jan. 24, on Disney. Four Disney classics and a selection of vintage Disney cartoons were shown at the festival, sponsored by a U.S.S.R. commission on cinematography.

Microscopes, Manuals And Taxonomists Battle Insect Pests

by John Barrat
Smithsonian News Service

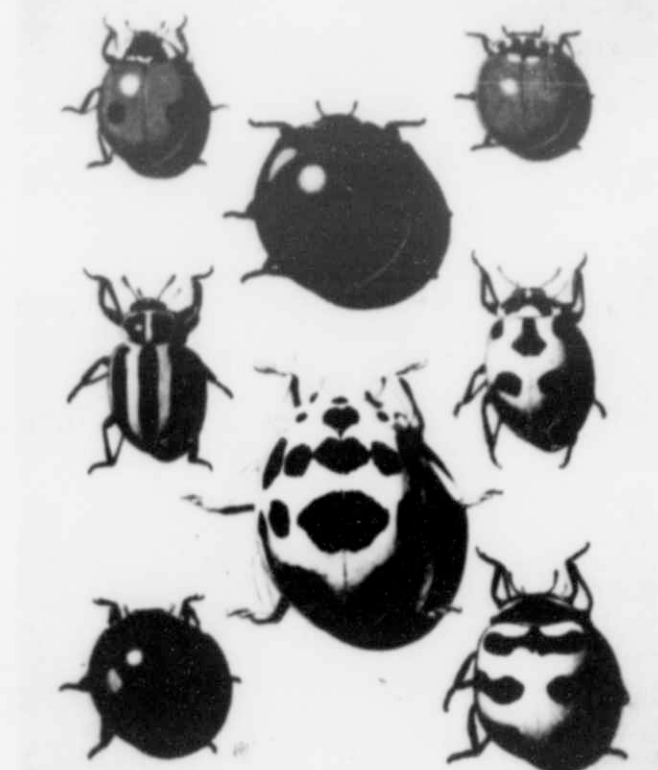

As the world approaches a new century, people everywhere have welcomed what appears to be a new era of international cooperation. Nonetheless, some experts in Washington, D.C., have remained on the outlook for foreign intruders. To protect the country, they conduct "background checks," analyze "acoustic fingerprints" and gather other "intelligence" data from around the globe.

In fact, since the late 1800s, these experts have had a single mission: to collect and study insect species that have an impact on American agriculture. Often, those insects slip through our country's borders undetected. While many insects are harmless — perhaps even beneficial to farmers — others can pose a significant threat to the nation's croplands.

The experts, scientists from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Smithsonian Institution working side by side in the National Museum of Natural History's Department of Entomology, study a field known as taxonomy. From examining the patterns of an insect's wing to studying subtle characteristics of an insect's structure and internal organs under a microscope, their goal is to develop a type of "family tree" of the insect kingdom. Naming new insects, detailing the unique characteristics of each species and showing hierarchies and relationships between groups and sub-groups are all part of a taxonomist's job.

Perhaps the most powerful tool available to these scientists is the Smithsonian's collection of more than 30 million insect specimens — one of the most complete collections of insects in the world. The knowledge generated by the work with this collection can help other scientists find the safest, most effective ways to control or eradicate harmful crop pests, which destroy billions of dollars of crops in the United States each year.

MOST LADY BEETLES are a familiar friend to American farmers and gardeners. They eat insect pests, such as aphids and scale. This illustration shows several species of lady beetles. The largest (center) is a pest, however, that attacks cucumbers and squash.

For example, links between insect species reveal common weaknesses, such as a vulnerability to predators, viruses or fungi. A taxonomist who identifies an insect's native country also reveals where an entomologist should first look for such parasites. Knowing the plant species eaten by an insect, how an insect moves, its physical structure, mating habits and biochemistry are other important factors.

Because many major insect pests in the United States are quickly becoming resistant to even the strongest pesticides, entomologists are now pushing for a renewed emphasis on taxonomic research. With increased knowledge about the biology of these pests, researchers say, safer "natural" controls are possible.

"Poor taxonomic understanding of important pest species, introduced to the United States from other countries, can allow foreign insects to gain strong footholds in the United States," says Dr. Robert Poole, a USDA taxonomist and expert on moths. "With the incredible diversity of cut flowers, ornamental shrubs, fruits and vegetables shipped into the United States every day, there is no way we can keep out all the insects which accompany these shipments."

Today, imported species make up the majority of U.S. insect pests. These include Gypsy moths, Mexican bean beetles, European corn borers, codling moths, Hessian wheat flies, fire ants and cotton boll weevils. Others, such as the Africanized bee that is expected to reach the southern United States in 1990, are on the way. These insects usually arrive unaccompanied by natural enemies, which results in population explosions of these pests.

Family links between species, established by taxonomic studies, have been invaluable in finding parasites to control such insects. For example, a tiny species of parasitic wasp now helps control the Colorado potato beetle, a major threat to U.S. crops of potatoes, tomatoes and eggplants. The wasp drills holes in the eggs of the potato beetle and lays its own eggs inside, killing the beetle's unhatched young. The wasp was discovered by USDA scientists in South America, where it attacks the eggs of a relative of the potato beetle.

Before the wasp was brought to the United States and released, specimens were sent to a USDA taxonomist at the Smithsonian to identify the species. Using taxonomic literature and the Smithsonian's wasp collection as a reference, Dr. Eric Grissell, a USDA wasp expert, was unable to place the wasp in any known genus. He then described this previously unknown species and genus and added it to the Smithsonian's collection. Such taxonomic "background checks" were essential to assure the wasp was not of a variety that could harm beneficial insects or become a pest itself.

"Given that over half the species in the world have yet to be discovered, taxonomists are regularly asked to describe and name entirely new species," Dr. Ronald Hodges, another USDA taxonomist and moth specialist, says. Recent work in the tropical rainforests of South America by Smithsonian entomologist Dr. Terry Erwin has greatly increased the estimate of the number of insect species in the world from 1.5 million to 10 million, and up to 30 million.

A taxonomist can normally match a new insect specimen to its genus by outward appearance. "Next, we examine the more subtle characteristics using the collections as a reference," Hodges says. "We try and match it to groups and sub-groups of closest relatives." Although closely shared characteristics can indicate evolutionary relationships, they also mask species differences to all but highly trained taxonomists. Slight variations in a wing shape, a few hairs on the insect's forelegs or the proportion of the leg joints can indicate another species.

Fossil remains of ancient insects are also used by taxonomists to determine ancient characteristics. These characteristics help in determining how a particular species has changed over time. Primitive characteristics shared by a group of species provide excellent clues on how an insect family evolved.

In many cases, when insect specimens are too small or their features consistently similar, taxonomists examine the male and female genitalia to tell species apart. "Genitalia are like fingerprints for each insect species," says Dr. J.F. Gates Clarke, a Smithsonian entomologist and an expert on tiny moths known as "microlepidoptera," a family which includes moths that keep moth-ball manufacturers in business. "Because genitalia are the mechanisms which prevent species cross-breeding and assure genetic purity, their structure is unique to each species."

Similarly, the calling signals insects use to attract mates can help taxonomists identify species. Dr. David Nickle, another USDA taxonomist who works at the Smithsonian, has monitored activity cycles, population sizes and life histories of katydids by studying recordings of their songs. Insect songs, like fingerprints, "can be used as a way of weeding out one species from another," he says.

Farming In Maryland .....

Bernice Keppie, Farm Editor

A turf, pasture and crop pest of the southeastern United States known as the "Puerto Rican mole cricket," for example, was once thought to have been introduced around the turn of the century in soil transported by ships from Puerto Rico. By comparing calling signals of mole crickets collected in the United States with signals of specimens thought to be the same species in Puerto Rico, Nickle determined that two species were involved. He confirmed his suspicions by locating minute differences in their digging claws. Nickle later determined that the "Puerto Rico mole crickets" in the United States were actually introduced from Brazil or Uruguay.

"By revealing the true identity and homeland of this species we can now work on finding potential natural enemies that may eventually control them," Nickle says.

"Too often," he adds, "entire groups of insects are labeled as pests. Termites, for instance, are considered pests when they're in your house. But they are also ecologically important. They break down dead wood, making nutrients available to living plants. Termites also fix nitrogen, aerate soil and are a source of food for other animals. A taxonomist sees insects as more than pests."

For USDA taxonomist Dr. Robert Gordon, lady beetles are one of the most beneficial insects in agriculture. "Lady beetles eat aphids and scale insects, tiny pests that suck juices from plants and transmit diseases," Gordon says. "Of the 475 lady beetle species in the United States and Canada, only three feed on plants."

To USDA and Smithsonian scientists, trading goods with new nations also means trading insects, a few of which will probably learn to thrive in the United States.

"Something will come along sooner or later and cause havoc," the Smithsonian's Clarke says. "There's no doubt in my mind. I just hope we're ready."

Meat Production Up In November

Maryland-Delaware commercial red meat production during November 1988 totaled 7.3 million pounds, up nine percent from the November 1987 total of 6.7 million pounds. Changes in total live-weight produced during November 1988, compared to November 1987, were cattle, down five percent; calves, up 128 percent; hogs, up 15 percent; sheep and lambs, down three percent.

United States commercial red meat production in November 1988 totaled 3.4 billion pounds, up six percent from last year. Changes in total live-weight produced during November 1988 were cattle, up three percent; calves, up two percent; hogs, up 11 percent; sheep and lambs, up six percent.

Egg Production Statistics Noted

Maryland laying flocks produced 229 million eggs during the September through November quarter, up five percent from the corresponding quarter a year ago. Layers for the quarter averaged 3.4 million head, down six percent from the 3.6 million head last year.

The nation's laying flocks produced 17.0 billion eggs during the September through November quarter, down two percent from the corresponding quarter a year ago. Production included 15.0 billion for table eggs and 2.0 billion for hatching eggs.

Maryland Weather Summary Released

Maryland temperatures for the month were slightly warmer than normal. The monthly average temperature was 36.6 degrees. This is 0.10 degrees above the normal of 36.5 degrees for December.

Precipitation for the month totaled 1.19 inches. The January 1 through December 1 rainfall totals were below normal in all reporting areas. Rainfall deficits ranged from 1.2 inches to 12.7 inches below normal.

Corn Hybrid Performance in Maryland

I have just received the results of the 1988 Corn Hybrid Trials conducted by the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station at five locations throughout the State. You may have a copy by contacting my office. Drought conditions during the summer had a major impact on corn production in Maryland in 1988; therefore, take that condition into consideration when reviewing the tests results. Request Agronomy Mimeo No. 54, Revised November 1988.

Hay Supply — Short!

I have had several calls from farmers looking for hay and straw. Sam Steyer has some mixed hay and straw for sale. You can reach Sam at 334-2900. If you have any hay or straw for sale, let me know.

Don't Forget Your Replacement Heifers

Sometimes it is easy to neglect the heifers this time of the year. Too many times I hear and see the replacement heifers getting the poorest quality feed on the farm. It should be just the opposite. Those replacement heifers should be receiving the best quality hay or forage on the farm. Even with good quality hay you may have to feed up to 4 lbs. of a grain concentrate per day. Your goal should be to feed the heifers to gain around 1.5 lbs. of weight per day. You should be weighing or taping your replacements often enough to adjust the ration to meet the goal. If a heifer is not grown out properly at calving time, she just can't consume enough feed to produce a lot of milk and keep her body growing. Many times these small heifers are trouble breeders. In my opinion, if you cannot grow heifers out as they should be, you would be better off buying them ready to calve. If you need assistance in setting up a feeding program, give me a call.

Foodland Offers Computer Systems To Local Schools

Foodland Supermarkets is offering schools in the four-state area an opportunity to obtain, at no cost, IBM computer systems to help in educating their students. Through the new "Food For Thought" program, any school collecting $175,000 worth of register tapes from Foodland stores in the participating areas will receive, at no cost to them, an IBM Personal System/2* (PS/2*) Model 25 computer system, complete with a one-year warranty and professional on-site installation and training by an IBM Certified Education Specialist.

As part of the "Food For Thought" program, schools can also redeem Foodland register tapes, at no cost, for an IBM PS/2 Model 60 computer system or for IBM software, chosen from the extensive library of PS/2 education and business software. The "Food For Thought" program runs through May 31, 1989, and is open to more than 1,700 public and private schools, with students in kindergarten through grade 12, in 27 counties served by Foodland Supermarkets throughout western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, northern West Virginia and Maryland. Browning's Foodland, Oakland, and Grantsville Foodland are among the participating markets. "Foodland is proud to be the first company in the nation to team with IBM to bring state-of-the-art computer systems and software into area schools," said David Soltesz, vice president of marketing for Wetterau, Inc., the wholesale supplier to Foodland. "These tools will help students in both their studies and in their careers," commented Soltesz.

To introduce the "Food For Thought" program, Foodland will present each eligible school that registers for the program with a bonus certificate worth $20,000 of Foodland register tapes, good toward the redemption value of IBM PS/2 Model 25 or Model 60 hardware or software.

In addition, the school redeeming the highest dollar value in register tapes by May 31, 1989, will receive another bonus: five IBM PS/2 Model 25 computers and one PS/2 Model 60 computer for system networking. System networking with these computers enables

The Committee will meet with local representatives to coordinate the detailed plans required for holding their July 11-14 convention and parade in Ocean City.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Marty Batchelor, executive director of the Ocean City Visitors and Convention Bureau; Bob Rothermel, executive director of the Convention Center and Betty Jane Bupp, director of sales and telemarketing for the Visitors Bureau who will greet the Legion committee members. Other Ocean City representatives meeting to discuss the special needs for this summer convention include: Mrs. Anne FauntLeRoy, executive director, Ocean City Chamber of Commerce; Bruce Gibbs, supervisor, Public Works Department; Darrell Rose, superintendent, Transportation Department; Byron Davis, president, Downtown Improvement Association; Jay Hancock, public relations, Police Department; Don Martin, executive director, Greater Ocean City Realtors; George Hurley, president, City Council; Glenn Steckman, chairman, Convention Commission and Frank Holloway, American Legion of Ocean City.

Accommodations for the Convention Planning Committee, will be at the Dunes Manor Hotel and the Convention Center will host the group Saturday night at the Big Band Dance.

The Convention Planning Committee is comprised of Legion members from throughout the state and include Lonnie Marsh of Oakland, former Maryland Commander.

The American Legion, Department of Maryland Convention, is responsible for an influx of 5,000 people in Ocean City at their July convention, many of whom bring their families for week-long vacations.

On Dean's List

Rachele L. Terlizzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Terlizzi, Oakland, is among the 314 students named to the 1988 Fall Dean's List at Shepherd College, according to Academic Dean Howard N. Carper Jr.

To earn the honor, students must maintain a minimum 3.2 grade point average and carry at least 15 credit hours of course work, or be enrolled in the professional teaching block.

Shepherd College is a state supported, multi-purpose institution located in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle. The college offers two-year and four-year degree programs in the areas of liberal arts, business administration, teacher education, and the social and natural sciences.

Country Time Realty Installs New Computer

A wide range of consumer services, including the ability to estimate how much house people can afford prior to home selection, is currently being provided through a new computer system at Century 21 Country Time Realty, McHenry.

According to Country Time broker, Barbara Kirkham, the system, known as "CenturyNet," can provide area consumers with immediate home affordability figures tied to suitable mortgage products.

Among the features of the CenturyNet system are:

1. Home Buyer Comparison — Provides the client with the true cost of buying a home by analyzing three properties at the same time using the buyer's tax bracket.

2. Residential Property Analysis — Provides the client with information indicating tax savings, interest, tax deductions and equity build-up.

3. Purchasing Power Comparison — Compares the projected value of a real estate investment with two other forms of investments.

4. Seller's and Buyer's Estimated Closing Costs — Provides prospective real estate sellers and/or buyers with estimated closing costs for which they may be responsible.

5. Amortization and Loan Analysis — Displays principal and interest breakdown based on interest rate, mortgage amount and terms for 15, 20, 25 and 30-year mortgages.

The CenturyNet system consists of a network of computer packages currently being installed throughout Century 21 real estate offices located across the United States.

Century 21 Real Estate Corporation, a subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, is the world's largest real estate sales organization with more than 6,700 independently owned and operated offices throughout the United States, Canada, Japan, and Western Europe.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to set aside the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situated in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for the County of Garrett and the State of Maryland to the Plaintiff in this proceeding on June 3, 1988, and for which a Certificate of Sale was issued to the Plaintiff herein, said Certificate dated June 10, 1988, the property being described as follows:

All that piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 6, known and designated as Lot No. 16, Section 4, Block 1, on a Plat of Piney Mountain Corporation, recorded in Plat Book No. 2, Page 62 of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and described in a deed from Piney Mountain Corporation to Austin D. Sevenser and Juanita M. Sevenser, his wife, dated April 20, 1981 and recorded in Liber 417, Folio 86 of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The Complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid.

It is, thereupon, this 28th day of December, 1988, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

That notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for three (3) successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this court by the 28th day of February, 1989, and redeem the property herein described and answer the Complaint, or there after a Final Decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property and vesting in the Plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Maryland Bureau of Mines will submit an application for funds to accomplish abandoned coal mine reclamation projects from the following list of potential projects. The application will be submitted to the U.S. Department of Interior, Office of Surface Mining, for funding in accordance with Title IV, Section 405 of Public Law 95-87, Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977.

Qualification for Federal funding under Title IV is contingent on approved State Surface Coal Mining Regulatory Program and a State Abandoned Mine Lands Reclamation Plan. Maryland has received Office of Surface Mining (OSM) approval of both programs. Project funding will originate from the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund, administered by OSM.

It is the goal of the Maryland Abandoned Mine Reclamation Program to promote the reclamation of abandoned coal mine areas in Maryland that have been left in an inadequately reclaimed condition and endanger the health and safety of the public, degrade the quality of the environment, and/or diminish the beneficial use of land and water resources.

Comments are solicited on the relative priority of the projects listed below, and on any other abandoned mine problem in the Maryland Coal Region. The Bureau requests information from the public concerning abandoned mine problems that pose a potential threat to the public health and safety or severely degrade the environment.

A public meeting concerning the proposed projects will be held if any person(s) or organization requests a hearing before Friday, January 27, 1989. The proposed hearing would be held as follows:

Tuesday, January 31, 1989 1:00 p.m.
MD Bureau of Mines
69 Hill Street
Frostburg, MD 21532

Further information concerning any of these projects can be obtained by contacting the Maryland Bureau of Mines, 69 Hill Street, Frostburg, MD 21532. Attention: Anthony F. Abar.

The proposed project description includes the Maryland Abandoned Mine Reclamation Project (MAMI) No. 1, location, nearest town or physical feature, and the nature of the problem.

(Use the MAMI number in all project references.)

Zihlman Gob Piles Reclamation Project MAMI No. 7, 8 & 9. Zihlman, Allegany County. Several abandoned coal mines have degraded the environmental quality of Jennings Run.

2 Jackson Run Gob Pile Reclamation Project MAMI No. R-37. Jackson Run, Allegany County. An abandoned coal refuse pile and coal transportation structure pose a threat to public health and safety and degrade the environmental quality of Jackson Run.

3 Koonz Run Reclamation Project MAMI No. G-20. Koonz Run, Lonaconing, Garrett County. Abandoned surface coal refuse, an abandoned deep mine spoil degrades the environmental quality of Koonz Run.

4 Midlothian Reclamation Project MAMI No. G-3. Wine-problemers Run, Midlothian, Allegany County. An abandoned surface mine and abandoned deep mine workings degrade the environmental quality of Wine-problemers Run.

5 Mill Run II Reclamation Project MAMI No. G-69 & 70. Mill Run, Barton, Garrett County. An abandoned surface mine highwall, abandoned coal refuse, an abandoned deep mine ventilator shaft and several draining deep mine openings pose a threat to public health and safety and degrade the environmental quality of Mill Run.

6 Dutch Hollow Reclamation Project MAMI No. NG-8. Dutch Hollow, Mt. Savage, Allegany County. An abandoned surface mine poses a threat to public health and safety and degrades the environmental quality of Dutch Hollow Run.

7 Phoenix Hill Reclamation Project MAMI No. G-72 & 74. Phoenix Hill/Mill Run, Barton, Garrett and Allegany Counties. Two abandoned surface coal mines degrade the environmental quality of Mill Run and Georges Creek.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Section 1102A of the Zoning Ordinance of the Town of Oakland that the Mayor and Town Council of the Town shall hold a public hearing on the adoption of an amendment to its Zoning Ordinance, providing for the adoption of revised and modified zoning regulations for the Town of Oakland.

The applicant for the change to the Zoning Ordinance is the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland.

The public hearing shall be held at the Town Hall, 109 South Third Street, on Tuesday, February 7, 1989

At 7:00 p.m.

The hearing shall be concerned with the proposal by the Mayor and Town Council for the repeal of the current zoning regulations, and the adoption of new, revised and modified zoning regulations. These regulations deal with aspects of the use of land within the corporate limits of the Town of Oakland, provide rules and regulations for special exceptions, nonconforming uses, and provide procedures, guidelines and criteria for the same.

The regulations provide definitions, a table of uses for zoning within the Town of Oakland, regulation of off street parking and signs, establish zoning districts, and define the same, provide for map and boundary interpretations, set forth dimensional requirements, minimum lot sizes, and design standards. The regulations also provide for the administration of the zoning duties and powers of the Town of Oakland, establish and define the Board of Appeals, and set forth its powers and authority, and provide for such other rules and regulations as are needed for the orderly establishment and administration of the Town's zoning authority.

Copies of the proposed Zoning Ordinance are available at Town Hall. At the meeting, all parties in interest as well as the general public shall have an opportunity to be heard, and make comments to the Town Council.

By Authority of Mayor and Town Council Of Oakland

By Its Attorney,
Robert E. Watson

Garrett Woman Named To Gun Control Board

A Garrett County woman was appointed a member of the gun control board by Governor William Donald Schaefer on Thursday.

Joan Jackson, a resident of Oakland, was one of three Maryland citizen members who were named to the board by Governor Schaefer. A 42-year-old mother of three, Mrs. Jackson is a partner in the family farm equipment business, C.E. Jackson Equipment Company. She is a graduate of Frostburg State College and she taught for two years in Harford County.

Jackson described herself as being a "middle-of-the-roader" on gun control, saying that she is not opposed to all of the gun control laws, but she does worry about the way the law would be enforced.

Her concern about enforcement of the law is what prompted her to write a letter to Governor Schaefer asking to be appointed to the gun control board.

Jackson said that she was surprised to get a response from the governor's office that resulted in her appointment to the board.

"I'm not an expert on firearms, but I thought I had enough background with guns and firearms that I could maybe make a level-headed decision," Jackson said.

She added that she really would not know any details about the gun control board and scheduled meetings until the confirmation hearings with the Maryland Senate begin on January 30.

The nine-member gun board was created by a law that went into effect last July 1 and was enforced by voters in a November 8 referendum challenge by opponents of gun control.

One seat on the board is required to be filled by a gun manufacturer, but it was left empty because the Beretta U.S.A. Corp. in Prince George's County did not want to send a representative to sit on the board. Another gun manufacturer in Maryland that would qualify for the seat has not been found.

The new board members, who serve four year terms, have until July 1 to compile a list of guns that meet the guidelines that are stated in the law.

Sister Cathy To Speak Sunday At St. Paul's

Sister Cathy Arata, SSND, formerly assigned to St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland, will be speaking this Sunday, January 29, at 3:30 p.m., at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. The community is welcome to hear of her experiences the past year as she worked to resettle refugees in El Salvador. An informal social time will be held after her talk in the Fellowship Hall at St. Paul's.

El Salvador, a Central American country the size of Massachusetts, has been much in the news lately. The Washington Post of January 8, 1989, states that, "Dozens of mayors, whose lives have been threatened by leftist rebels, have resigned in recent weeks, leaving more than a third of the nation without local elected civilian authority and posing a growing problem for the government and military."

Coleman McCarthy, writing for the Washington Post, January 15, 1989, discussed the plight of Salvadoran refugees. In one family the wife had arrived in the United States in 1981 and was, therefore, declared a legal immigrant, but her husband, who arrived somewhat later, could not be declared legal. Quoting the Post article, "Brad Ginter estimates that more than 50 percent of those counseled by the Mennonite International Refugee Assistance are accepted by Canada, while fewer than one percent are successful in Texas. The flight

Bd. Of Ed. Answers Commissioners' Questions On Funding Of Projects

The Garrett County Board of Education has submitted a letter to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners in response to several questions posed about the funding of school construction projects. The letter was written on January 13.

One question posed by the commissioners was whether or not the Southern High School renovation project could be either scaled down or reconfigured to accommodate local affordability.

In response to that question, Superintendent of Garrett County Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage said, "The renovation project which has been developed to date is the result of many compromises among the faculty and staff at Southern High School and the Board of Education. As a matter of fact, we again will be reviewing several suggestions which have been made by Mr. Allen Abend of the Public School Construction Program with a portion of the Southern High School faculty on Monday, January 16.

"Although some of these suggestions could result in minimal savings, if accepted by us, the amount of savings would never approach the level of funding which was proposed in July 1988. Quite frankly, this project, if done correctly, in essence involves the entire plant and would, consequently, result in a substantial cost, but far less a cost should we try to build a new school of comparable size."

The commissioners noted to the board that they are unanimous on the fact that, if they decide to go with the concept of bonding to fund the project, they will not do so without a referendum.

In his letter, Dr. Ryscavage noted, "From the statements which are made in the second paragraph of your letter we have concluded that you have not agreed to our first request which was made to you on November 22 - that is to bonding the project as presently designed by a simple commissioner vote. As a result, we understand the remainder of your questions to be particularly pertinent."

Rescott Found Not Responsible For Son's Deaths

The Baltimore County woman who allegedly smothered her two sons in Cumberland last October has been found not criminally responsible or competent and not able to stand trial for the crimes.

According to reports, a five-member panel from Clifton T. Perkins Hospital Center (the state hospital for the criminally insane) issued the ruling Monday for Anna Maria Angel Rescott, 30, of Catonsville.

The crimes reportedly occurred on October 27, of 1988, when Rescott allegedly smothered her sons, Corey, 1, and Brandon, 7, in a room at the Holiday Inn in Cumberland. Police reported that the boys' mouths were covered with duct tape and a pillow had been placed over their faces.

Rescott was arrested by state police after she drove to the Grantsville Holiday Inn and was found with self-inflicted cuts of the neck and arms. According to Rescott's lawyer, M. Christina Gutierrez, the panel of psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers at the hospital said that Rescott was "unable to conform her conduct substantially to the law at the time of the acts."

Gutierrez and members of Rescott's family claim that she suffered from post-partum depression and a thyroid problem.

Gutierrez noted that, despite extensive treatment at Perkins Hospital, Mrs. Rescott is "still a very sick woman. We hope she will wind up at Perkins for long-term care and treatment."

Allegany State's Attorney Robert W. Hamilton said pre-trial motions have already been scheduled for a hearing February 3. He noted that, in cases of this nature, the usual procedure is to hold a court hearing and find the person guilty but not criminally responsible, with a recommendation for treatment at an appropriate facility.

Chain-Reaction Collision Results In Seven Injuries

At least seven people were injured in a chain-reaction collision on westbound U.S. Route 48 at the top of icy Big Savage Mountain last Friday afternoon.

According to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, the incident began when a 1983 Mazda RX7 driven by Kristine M. Mylls, 19, Oakland, Va., ran off the road and struck a guardrail. A 1986 Mazda 1323 then struck the Mylls vehicle in the front when it hit an icy patch and the driver, Jennifer L. Himes, 25, Rockville, lost control.

The two cars were parked in the median when a 1986 Pontiac 6000 driven by David W. Boothe, 33, Wilmington, Del., also hit an icy patch and went out of control. The vehicle then hit the Himes vehicle in the rear, causing Mylls, who had gotten out of her car, to be trapped between the car and the guardrail.

Frostburg Community and Allegany Ambulance responded to the scene. Treated and released from Frostburg Community Hospital following the mishap were Boothe and three passengers in his vehicle, Lauren Boothe, 1; Lisa Boothe, 32; and Katherine Boothe, 2, all of Wilmington.

Treated and released at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, were Mylls, Himes and one passenger in the Himes vehicle, Jennifer Gehl, 26, Arlington, Va. A second passenger in the Himes vehicle, Cynthia Crumb, 31, Fairfax, Va., was also reportedly injured, but was not seen in the emergency room.

The mishap was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, who reported that no charges were made.

A single-vehicle accident occurred early Sunday morning on Rock Lodge Road.

According to police reports, Glenn F. Miltenberger, 26, Cresaptown, was driving a 1981 Plymouth when he lost control of the vehicle. The car ran off the right side and struck a tree.

Tfc. D.G. Riggelman investigated the mishap, charging Miltenberger with negligent driving and a seat belt violation.

The Northern Rescue Squad responded to the accident, and reportedly transported Miltenberger and a passenger, Michael Rail, 25, Frostburg, to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. However, a spokesman at that hospital reported that the men were not treated there.

Jury Selection Held For Trial Of Paul W. Ferrell

Jury selection began yesterday for the trial of Paul William Ferrell, the former Grant County deputy accused of killing Catherine Denise Ford, the 19-year-old Gorman resident whose body has not been found.

Ferrell, 31, of Gorman, W.Va., will be tried in Grant County Circuit Court, Petersburg, W.Va., with Judge C. Reeves Taylor presiding. He faces charges of murder and kidnapping.

The prosecuting attorney will be Grant County Prosecutor Dennis V. DiBenedetto, who will be aided by Garrett County State's Attorney James L. Sherbin. Ferrell's attorney will be Ross Maruka, of Fairmont, W.Va.

Thirteen days have been reserved for the trial, with the last court day set as February 10. Approximately 90 witnesses will be called to testify.

Ford has been missing since February 17, 1988, and Ferrell was arrested on March 20 in connection with her disappearance. He was released on $100,000 bond on April 22.

Governor Schaefer, Torrey Brown Accept Two Revisions On Land Bill

Governor William Donald Schaefer and the Department of Natural Resources have accepted two of the four demands of the Garrett County Commissioners, Delegate George Edwards, and Senator John Bambacus concerning the administration's proposed legislation to do away with the 1966 law which limits the state from obtaining additional land in Garrett County without releasing for same an equal amount of state-owned land.

The local elected officials met with Dr. Torrey Brown, secretary of the DNR, and members of the governor's staff last Friday and again yesterday in Annapolis to present their demands.

According to Commissioner Elwood Groves, the administration has agreed to maintain the "willing sellers only" portion of the present law, which means the state will not be able to acquire private property by condemnation, as was proposed in the new bill.

The state also agreed to keep the provision in the current law which gives the county commissioners the right of approval on the sale of any piece of property that exceeds 100 acres.

The two revisions requested by the local officials that were flatly denied by Governor Schaefer were the county's request for 35 percent, rather than the present 25 percent, return to the county of monies generated at state parks and facilities located in the county, plus the request that the state uphold its commitment under the present law to release for sale 1,800 acres of land that has already been placed in the land bank.

It was the denial of this second revision that caused the county commissioners the most concern.

"We gave our approval for the sale of those 1,800 acres to the state, based upon Governor's commitment to uphold the present law and release an equal amount of land for sale," Commissioner Groves said. "We believe that since that transaction took place under the current law, then that obligation should be legally binding, even if the new law does away with the land bank concept."

Groves said that there is, in the commissioners' minds, a question as to whether or not it is legal for the state to "renege" on this agreement.

"Whether or not it is legal, we don't know yet," Groves said, "but we certainly believe that it is a matter of ethics as well."

Groves said that the commissioners have requested a meeting with the Board of Public Works to explain to Governor Schaefer directly why they are opposed to this particular revision.

"This whole issue concerns the possible erosion of our tax base, so we feel that it is certainly a legitimate concern for county government," Groves said.

Groves said the commissioners had not yet heard this morning as to if and when the Board of Public Works would meet with them, but he hoped it could be scheduled for next Wednesday, a day when the commissioners will be in Annapolis on other business.

Oakland Visit Of Bloodmobile Nets 222 Pints

The Oakland visit of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile last Friday was a resounding success, as the goal of 175 pints was shattered by local donors, according to Lucy Burnett, Blood Services chairman for the Garrett County Red Cross Chapter.

Two hundred forty-six persons presented themselves at the National Guard Armory, 22 of whom were deferred for various reasons, leaving a total of 222 units of blood collected. Nineteen of the respondents were first-time donors.

Some 95 pints of blood were given for Dr. Harold C. Ashby, an Oakland optometrist, who is a heart patient at Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va.

Among those donors giving their eighth pint of blood and thereby becoming one-gallon

Area Incidents Under MSP Investigation

Several local incidents are under the investigation of Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment this week.

A destruction of property reportedly occurred at the Wisp Resort on Tuesday.

According to police reports, 16 padlocks on ski lockers in the basement area were cut, apparently with bolt cutters. The damage occurred between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m., and totaled $320.

Police could not determine if anything was removed from the lockers, and there are no suspects at this time.

Sandra Zimmerman reported that her residence on the Mayhew Inn Road was broken into between 12 noon and 2 p.m. last Wednesday. A total of $2620 worth of property was removed.

David E. Shotwell, of Oakland, reported that the tailgate from his 1986 Ford Ranger was stolen between 9:30 p.m. on January 17 and 6 a.m. on January 17.

Shotwell reported that he parked his vehicle at Zump's and left with someone else. He later drove his vehicle home, and noticed the tailgate was missing the next morning. The investigation is continuing.

A destruction of property was reported at Bill's Marine Service Inc., Deep Creek Lake, on Sunday. Police said a window in the front door to the showroom was broken during the night of January 21.

Tpr J.K. Moore is investigating, and there are no suspects.

Several ski thefts occurred at the Wisp Resort this week.

Allison Searles reported that her skis were taken around 3:30 p.m. on Sunday.

WORLD WHITEWATER CHAMPIONSHIPS recently thanked the Garrett County Commissioners with official hats and logo mugs. Don Stork, executive director, and Barbara Trask, director of community relations for Whitewater Championships, Inc., presented the Commissioners with the gifts, in appreciation of the support and help given by the Commissioners. Recently, the Commissioners, along with representatives from Allegany County, gave the Whitewater Championships logo mugs to Maryland State Legislators at a reception in Annapolis. Above, left to right, are: Commissioner Ernie Gregg; Barbara Trask; Commissioner Elwood Groves; Don Stork; and Commissioner John Braskey.

Jim W. Mattos reported that his skis and bindings were taken around 6:30 p.m. on Friday.

Leonard M. Darne, of McLean, Va., reported that his skis were taken on December 29.

First United's 1988 Earnings Increase 28%

"First United's 1988 earnings increased by 28.0 percent over 1987 earnings, due to continued growth in the market area, resulting in a strong demand for credit," stated Richard G. Stanton, president and chief executive officer of First United Corporation, a multi-bank holding company headquartered in Oakland.

Net income for the year was $4.3 million, Stanton reported, and earnings per share of common stock rose to $2.78 per share versus last year's $2.17 per share. All figures have been restated to reflect the merger with The First National Bank of Piedmont on May 2, 1988.

The fourth quarter of 1988 continued the positive earnings trend established during the earlier quarters. Net income for the quarter was $1.2 million and earnings per share of common stock was $1.77 per share, versus the fourth quarter 1987's $1.63 per share.

As of December 31, 1988, the Corporation reported assets of $326 million, compared to $291 million on December 31, 1987. Capital accounts grew by $2.8 million during 1988 to a total of $27 million.

During the fourth quarter, the Corporation declared a cash dividend of $1.57 per share, a 19.0 percent increase over the dividend paid for the same period last year. The Corporation declared $1,577,975 in dividends during 1988, a 21.5 percent increase over the dividends declared in 1987. In addition, a five percent stock dividend was paid to shareholders on August 1, 1988.

Stanton added, "First United Corporation's fundamental philosophy is quality, profitability, and community commitment. Our continuing efforts toward these goals have made a major contribution to First United's performance in 1988."

Annual Heart Education Dinner Set For Thursday

The Rotary Club of Oakland will host the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division's 17th Annual Heart Educational Dinner on Thursday, February 2, at 6:30 p.m. at the McHenry Fire Hall.

David A. Meyerson, M.D., director of Preventive Cardiology Programs at the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "What's the Truth About Cholesterol?"

The American Heart Association Diet for the general public calls for reducing the intake of high-fat meats, whole milk dairy products, egg yolks and other food high in saturated fats and cholesterol. The diet encourages eating more "heart-healthy" foods such as poultry and other lean meats, fish, fresh fruits and vegetables, grains and cereals, and low-fat dairy products.

The diet also recommends limiting cholesterol intake to no more than 300 milligrams a day. Only 30 percent of the total food intake should be fat and no more than a third of the fat should be saturated fat. The American Heart Association recommends a modest increase in carbohydrates and a reduction of salt. "If you follow the American Heart Association diet plan faithfully, you may be able to reduce your blood cholesterol by 5-10 percent," an AHA spokesman said.

The program is open to all service organizations, clubs and the general public. The cost of the program is $7 which includes dinner.

For more information on the 17th Annual Heart Educational Dinner or to receive literature on diet and cholesterol, persons should call the local American Heart Office at (301) 724-4011.

Sheriff's Dept. Apprehends Three W.Va. Runaways

Three juveniles from Moundsville, W.Va., were apprehended last Saturday by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Detective R.L. Sines apprehended the juveniles at the McHenry Plaza Deli. A representative from Juvenile Services met Detective Sines at the Sheriff's Department.

One of the boys was sent to Emergency Shelter Care Detention at the Cumberland YMCA pending a hearing, as he informed Detective Sines that he did not wish to return home. The other two boys were picked up by their parents.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Arrests

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reported several arrests for the past week, including several arrests for driving while under the influence.

Michael Allen Crosby, 23, Steyer Mine Road, was charged with assault and battery, resisting arrest and disorderly intoxication.

Corporal L.E. Gnegy, Deputy J. Murphy and Deputy R.P. Shaffer responded to the Crosby residence after a call was received Sunday, January 22.

Crosby was released on his own recognizance.

Charles Stinson, 33, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested for driving while intoxicated. Stinson apparently drove into the yard of Deputy Denver Welch on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. Welch apparently reported the incident and Deputy C.P. Nolan arrested Stinson.

Eugene DeWitt Helbig, 61, Oakland, was arrested on Mason Street for driving under the influence. Deputy J. Murphy reported the arrest.

Vernon Lee Warnick, 26, Deer Park, was arrested for driving under the influence on January 22. Deputy J. Murphy reported the arrest.

Douglas Eugene Fitzwater, 32, Oakland, was arrested and charged with one count of battery. Deputy L.E. Gnegy made the arrest after an incident which occurred Tuesday, January 17.

Gary Merle Dobert, Garrett County Jail, was issued a bench warrant Tuesday, January 17, from Allegany County District Court for failure to appear at a trial on January 6. Deputy D.M. Stoner served the warrant. Dobert could not attend the trial as he was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Two Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating two thefts which occurred over the past weeks.

Floyd Mayle, Swanton, reported the theft of a $1,200 generator. The generator was apparently removed from an unlocked van between the evening of Saturday, January 21 and the morning of Sunday, January 22. Deputy D. Welch is investigating.

Deputy J. Murphy is investigating an incident which occurred on the Shade Hollow Road.

According to reports, someone entered several vehicles on Saturday, January 14. The vehicles of Verna Jones, Delford Crowe and Dalton Stanton were entered. A small knife and $10 in change were the only items removed. Nothing was damaged.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Death Of Dogs

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating the deaths of two German Shepherds which occurred around January 16.

Donna Rae Oester, Grantsville, reported that someone had apparently shot her two dogs. Oester had recently moved and had left the dogs at her previous residence on the Bear Hill Road. She reported that she had fed the dogs on Sunday, January 15 at 8:00 a.m. and had returned Tuesday, January 17 at 4:30 p.m. to find that the animals were dead.

Deputy R.P. Shaffer is investigating the incident.

James Lee Sebald, Deer Park, reported that on January 19 around 11:00 p.m. someone had kicked in the door of the convenience store located on his property. Sebald reported that his wife heard a noise and turned on the light. The suspect apparently fled when the light was turned on.

According to a report filed by Deputy J. Murphy, the door was kicked nearly in half, causing $350 damage. Nothing was removed from the store.

State School Superintendent Visits County

State Superintendent of Schools Dr. Joseph Shilling recently traveled to Garrett County and spent a day visiting area schools with Garrett County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage.

Beginning with a visit to Loch Lynn Elementary School, Herbert Lambert, principal, showed Dr. Shilling how programs like special education, physical education, computer education and media are accommodated in the space available. Dr. Shilling also visited both the third and fourth grade classrooms.

At Southern Middle School, John Rickman, principal, along with teachers of the 7-8B team, explained how the school-within-a-school organization plan functions. In addition, Dr. Shilling had an opportunity to learn about the Continuum for Personnel Adjustment program, as well as the extensive computer education program offered to all middle school students.

Finally, Arthur Refosco, Southern High School principal, ushered Dr. Shilling through the entire SHS facility. They made special stops in Mr. Lipscomb's math classroom, which was recently involved in an asbestos removal project, Anne-Marie Gouhier's French classroom; Jim Koon's building trades class, Delbert Liller's machine shop, and the newly-installed math-science computer lab provided by Potomac Edison.

Lunch was provided by the food services vocational education program, at which time

Dr. Shilling also had an opportunity to speak with other SHS staff members.

After a short visit to Northern High School, Dr. Shilling concluded his visit by indicating his pleasure with the way the physical facilities are being maintained, but added that there was a real need for improved facilities at both Loch Lynn Elementary School and Southern High School.

General Assembly Update

Covered Load & Mud Flap Bills

After 27 years it appears that Maryland drivers will finally see covered loads. On Thursday the House Environmental Matters Committee approved, by a 22-1 vote, a bill that will require trucks to cover their loads. This bill is being backed by House Speaker Clayton Mitchell, D-Kent.

This bill is meant to be a solution to the problem of chipped and nicked windshields. According to William F. Zorzi Sr. of the Maryland Automobile Club and State Senator Ida G. Ruben, D-Montgomery, advocates for the motorists, Maryland motorists spend approximately $5 million each year repairing the damage done by uncovered loads.

The committee allowed several exemptions to the covered load bill: tractor-trailer rigs do not have to cover their loads as long as they keep the top of their loads at least 6 inches below the top of the truck sidewalls; trucks carrying abrasives and chemicals used in roadwork, such as salt and sand, are exempt; and trucks at the Port of Baltimore hauling loads between stockpiles or storage facilities and docked vessels are not required to cover loads.

The committee stated that violators of this bill, which goes into effect in 1992, will be penalized with repair orders instead of points on their driving records.

Eugene Higgins, president of the Joseph J. Hock Inc., a hauling contractor in Baltimore, says that the law would cost him approximately $224,000 for the covers and more to install them. Higgins would have to cover 125 of his 150 trucks.

The House of Environmental Matters Committee also approved another bill on Thursday, by a 15-6 vote, only to reverse its decision on Tuesday by a 10-9 vote. The bill required that passenger cars be equipped with mud flaps on their rear wheels. This bill would have affected all cars manufactured or purchased after 1992 and registered in Maryland.

An amendment has been proposed that would make all ordinary cars exempt, but still require certain other passenger vehicles, such as four-wheel drive jeeps, to have mud flaps. The mud flap bill was supposed to be a second part solution to the problem of cracked and chipped wind-shields. The House committee changed its decision because of the public ridicule and opposition from motorists.

Numerous panel members complained about the radio and television commercials that ridiculed the mud flap bill, which, if approved would have made Maryland the only state with such a law.

William Zorzi, lobbyist for the Maryland Chapter of the American Automobile Association said, "The whole thing is ridiculous, the mud flap issue. Anybody that knows anything about the way automobiles are built will tell you that there's a well that captures stones in the fender and drops them on the road. Mud flaps can't possibly do any good in those cases."

However, the legislators who approved the bill last week still think that mud flaps would help reduce the amount of cracked windshields and chipped paint.

AIDS Patients

The Governor's Advisory Council on AIDS is planning to propose a bill that is aimed at protecting patients and the public.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to intentionally transmit AIDS to another person; would require doctors to tell their patients to notify their sexual and drug-using partners about their potential risk; would authorize regulatory boards to discipline health professionals who refuse to treat patients with AIDS, a fatal disease transmitted by sexual contact and blood; and would add police officers and "similar professionals" to be list of workers who must be notified and counseled if they come into contact with an infected person's blood.

The only thing the bill is missing is a provision that would make it a crime for a doctor to divulge an AIDS patient's name. This crime would be punishable by up to two years in jail. This provision is missing because Governor Schaefer is opposed to it.

Gov. Schaefer said that too much time was being spent worrying about an AIDS patient's rights to confidentiality and not enough

LOOKING FOR PHOTO — As was announced late last summer, the old Compton log school house, located at the intersection of New Germany and Chestnut Ridge roads, will soon be dismantled, moved, and re-assembled at Penn Alps in Grantsville. In order to make the restoration as accurate as possible, Dr. Alta Schrock, of Penn Alps, is searching for an earlier photograph of the structure. She said she knows such photos do exist and "are out there somewhere." She recalls one photo which shows the building with its chimney and fireplace intact, and another that was made into a post card many years ago. Readers who own such a photo or know the location of one are asked to contact Dr. Schrock at Penn Alps (895-5985). "We will take good care of it and return it in short order," she said.

was being spent on helping people who are concerned about being exposed to the virus.

65-mph Bill

A bill was introduced on Wednesday that would raise the speed limit to 65 mph on divided highways in Maryland.

Two senators from Anne Arundel County introduced this bill that would authorize the State Highway Administration to set higher speed limits "upon a determination that a maximum speed limit that exceeds 55 miles an hour is a safe and reasonable speed limit for a divided highway."

Governor William Donald Schaefer is strongly opposed to raising the speed limit to 65 mph. He said that after Virginia raised the speed limit on their interstate highways there was a sharp increase in deaths.

Even if the bill does become a law, many feel that it is unlikely that speed limits in Maryland will change in the near future.

Nitrous Oxide Bill

The Senate passed a bill, by a 47-0 vote, on Wednesday that would prohibit the use of nitrous oxide power booster systems in autos on state roads.

Where's Our $11 Million?

Development is booming in Garrett County, particularly in the Deep Creek Lake area, where condominiums and town houses are popping up all over the place. While there are certainly some negatives and problems associated with such development, there is no question that it will greatly bolster our tax base and is already contributing heavily to the local economy, both in the form of new dollars coming into the county and employment for those who reside here.

In Garrett County, all of the development that is underway is being done by private, non-governmental companies and individuals. There are no government grants that we know of that are contributing to these projects.

However, in Allegany County, Governor William Donald Schaefer is planning to contribute $11 million of state monies for development purposes. The funds will be used to construct a Jack Nicklaus signature golf course at Rocky Gap State Park, relocate picnic facilities, and provide utility hook-ups for a proposed conference center. In future budgets, no doubt an additional several million dollars in state money will be expended to build the conference center.

While we recognize that state government also allocates money for the maintenance and improvements of state parks in Garrett County, and while we recognize that the state has provided money and support to the Whitewater World Championships to be held in Garrett County in June, we nonetheless have a problem with this $11 million allocation for the Allegany County project.

The state parks in Garrett County are just that — STATE parks. It is property owned by the state and should be maintained by the state. The Whitewater Championships also deserve state support because they are not just a Garrett County event, but a state and international event.

Why should Allegany County receive taxpayer dollars to do something that is being done in Garrett County by private businesses? It wouldn't irk us quite so much if Governor Schaefer also allocated sufficient funds to Garrett County for the renovation of Southern High School, or to build a badly-needed new Glendale bridge.

Another reason we have always been opposed to the Rocky Gap proposal is that the conference center, which will be purchased with our tax money, will compete with and probably take away potential convention business from Garrett County establishments that provide similar services, such as the Wisp Resort. This to us is a clear-cut case of government competing with private enterprise.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The recent article by Craig Speicher on Anna Rescott was truly a very moving article. It made me feel how "lost" she must have felt. It was a terrible tragedy, but this article made you see her as a person, as we all are, with faults, feelings, and shortcomings.

Thanks for a good article.
Annette Keller Accident

To the Editor:

In response to Virginia Robinson's letter of January 12, 1989, I would like to set the record straight.

Twenty-five percent of all monies generated by state lands and parks goes back into the county. This includes timber sales and other revenues, such as visitational fees to Deep Creek Lake State Park, licenses for off road vehicles, etc. These monies total hundreds of thousands of dollars each year that are put back into Garrett County as revenues.

Her use of the word "buffer strip" is amusing. A buffer strip is a designated zone around a sensitive area or waterway. It is established to keep pollution, sediments, and man's adverse activities from degrading a sensitive area. It is not the edge of the forest along man-made rights of way.

Mrs. Rosenbaum and people like her should look at what's going on in this state, this country and the entire world. We are losing our forests at an alarming rate; 100 acres per minute are lost in the rain forests, and development cuts deeper and deeper into our woodlands in this state.

Where did man lose his link with the environment? It's all we have on this earth and we are an integral part of it. It is our responsibility to maintain the environment, including our forests, for future generations and all living things.

The people of Garrett County and the state of Maryland are very fortunate to have so much state forestlands to enrich the quality of their lives.

These lands should not be used for political barters or destruction for man's greed. They are a living ecosystem and every opportunity should be taken to protect them and acquire other suitable areas.

As the rest of the state becomes one big parking lot, future Marylanders should be able to come to their state lands in Garrett County and enjoy the natural diversity that is found in our vast areas of public lands.

Thank you
James Michael Dean

To the Editor:

"No man's life, liberty, or property is safe while the legislature is in session."

Thanks to Delegate Casper R. Taylor Jr., chairman of House Economic Matters Committee, this famous quotation can now be changed to, "No man's life, liberty, property, or BENEFITS are safe while the legislature is in session."

During the 1988 legislative session, our chairman and his colleagues passed H.B. 1286 par. 95, allowing the State Unemployment Compensation Board to now deduct any vacation or holiday pay an employee may have earned the year before from their unemployment compensation pay.

I hope Chairman Taylor and his colleagues in the House and Senate, including Senator Bambacus, are proud of their great achievement.

Most workers, blue and white collar, are lucky if they earn two or three weeks vacation; and, in most cases, never more than five paid holidays per year. These are negotiated benefits and mean just a few extra dollars to help defray the ever-rising cost of living. Thanks again to Delegate Taylor, this will no longer be allowed. After all, the State only has approximately 400 million dollars in surplus. Evidently, Governor William Donald Schaefer had to have more. Thus, who did they turn to? You guessed it — the hard-working blue and white collar workers. It's ironic that the State legislators can do away with NEGOTIATED BENEFITS so easily.

Incidentally, one of his colleagues informed me that this change was a trade-off to increase unemployment benefits from $196 to $206 per week — a trade-off that was unnecessary. Also, in conversation with one of his colleagues, she informed me that she didn't really understand the bill; they had so many bills to examine and since everyone else voted for it, so did she! By the way, I explained the bill to her over the telephone.

I wonder what benefits Delegate Taylor and his colleagues will take away next? After all, the 1989 legislature is now in session.

Let's see, when is our next State election? I wonder how Delegate Taylor and his colleagues would feel being unemployed without benefits?

To the Editor:

Garrett County is blessed with a great tourist trade through all four seasons. Recreation and tourism are keeping our young people here on the Mt. Top, otherwise they would have to join the Beltway Rat Race.

Now why in the world do we let John Bambacus and his "gang" go to Annapolis every year and jeopardize our tourism business by attacking our park system or state owned land?

Nearby, West Virginia added 55,000 more acres to its park system in Pocahontas County. They outlawed coal mining in the county about the same time.

Governor Schaefer saw our beautiful county and knows how important it is for us to protect our park system. Thank God he is on our side in this fight.

Jim Ross

To the Editor:

January 18, 1989, marked 10 years since the tragic murder of Garrett County Deputy Sheriff David G. Livengood. He answered a burglar alarm at Davidson's Army-Navy Store in Oakland, and was shot seven times, twice in the back, in his attempt to apprehend two criminals. The perpetrators were caught, tried and convicted. The main trigger man, Richard Danny Tichnell, from Fairmont, West Virginia, was sentenced in August 1979 to death in the gas chamber under Maryland's newly enacted death penalty statute.

On appeal to the higher courts of Maryland, Tichnell's death sentence was sent back to the circuit court level for resentencing two different times and on those two different times the death penalty was reinstated. Originally by a circuit court judge, subsequently by two different juries in two different counties, they said, "Put Tichnell to death for his crime."

Because of the seemingly never ending appeal process, this case has been sitting on the desk of U.S. District Court Judge Herbert Murray for nearly two years. Now, that jurist in his wisdom, has sent the case back to the State of Maryland because of a decision in State vs. Mills in which the jury is said to have used the wrong type of form in deciding the death penalty. Now our judges are looking for loopholes in procedure to keep from executing Tichnell. Why?

Apparently, no one in the Judicial System wants to be the one who takes a stand to carry out what the people of the State of Maryland through their legislators, their judges and juries have resoundingly said three times, "Put Tichnell to death for his crime."

It is frustrating to see this travesty unfold as the judicial system seems to work so hard to find some small technicality in procedure that would delay the sentence of a circuit court judge and two juries. Is it political arm-twisting, foot-dragging or what?

I call on those involved in litigating this case to get it on and bring it to a just end. Ten years is long enough!

We have the death penalty law in place. It was put there because the people of Maryland told their legislators to put it there, now let's exercise it. "Put Tichnell to death for his crime."

Sincerely,
Donald W. Tucker
Loch Lynn

To the Editor:

Much has been written in the last two issues of The Republican about the sorry situation the County is in with regard to State acquisition of land in Garrett County by condemnation or otherwise and without any acreage limit. While the Garrett County officials have voiced their indignation, they cannot but accept the blame for the County's predicament. In their clamorings they have not mentioned their undoings which got us into this mess in the first place.

Over the years and until 1987 the law on the books stated that before the State could acquire land in Garrett County it must first sell a like amount. The law was precise, to the point, and was adhered to by the State. The result was a cap on the acreage of land owned by the State.

During the legislative session of 1987 this law was changed. Following meetings in Annapolis, Commissioners Braskey and Groves sponsored and Delegate Edwards and Senator Bambacus introduced to the General Assembly, companion "emergency" bills. These bills were enacted into a new law that authorized the State to acquire additional land in Garrett County providing the State issued a notice to the public that a like acreage would be made available for sale. Unlike the law it replaced, the new law does not require a like acreage be sold — only a notice it would be made available for sale. The new law does not require that it ever be sold. A no-net-gain could occur only if the State, of its own free will, chose to sell a like number of acres as procured.

The bills introduced during the 1987 session were declared "emergency" bills. As such, insufficient time was available for their distribution and comment by the citizens of Garrett County. Notwithstanding, on very short notice, members of this Association traveled to Annapolis and testified against the bills on the basis they were administratively unworkable. That is they would permit the State to acquire land but did not specifically require a like amount to be sold. Thus the no-net-gain could be violated as well as the land bank agreement between Garrett County and the State. Senator Bambacus convincingly testified it was Governor Schaefer who wanted the bills and he wanted them introduced as emergency bills.

The new law resulting from the emergency bills was the opening that permitted the Secretary, Department of

"The United States Is In Trouble. . ."

by Dr. Stephen J. Herman
President, Garrett Community College

The Governor's Employment and Training Council sponsored a luncheon recently in Cumberland. J. Henry Butta, Vice President of C & P Telephone and the recently appointed Chairman of the Maryland Higher Education Commission, chairs the GETC. Speakers from the U.S. Department of Labor and the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) gave keynote speeches.

Their words snapped me quickly to attention. Over a month ago I had argued the same points in an article in this newspaper. The United States is in trouble; we are losing our competitive edge; the work force is inadequately prepared; our position in the international market has eroded.

In this article I won't belabor the same points. I will simply excerpt and paraphrase from material we were given at the luncheon, specifically the Businessweek special edition of September 19, 1988. The magazine makes the following points among many others:

"American high school students score below both their foreign counterparts (Japanese and Europeans) in international math and science tests."

"From 1959 to 1986, . . . high school grads saw their earnings drop by 9%, while those of college graduates rose 6%."

"The huge decline in the wages of America's unskilled labor force shows that it is no longer competitive in the international economy. The productivity of the unskilled is plummeting, while worker productivity abroad is soaring."

"Chemical Bank in New York must interview 40 applicants to find one who can be successfully trained as a teller."

"IBM Corp. discovered after installing millions of dollars worth of fancy computers in Burlington (Vt.) factories that it had to teach high school algebra to thousands of workers before they could run them."

By the year 2,000, 38 percent of the new jobs will require employees with a vocabulary of 5,000 to 6,000 words and a reading rate of 190 to 215 words per minute. This is a relatively low level of language attainment. Seventy-one (71) percent of the work force will have attained but not exceeded this level. This means that nearly 3/4ths the work force will compete for a little over 1/4rd of the available jobs.

Thirty-one (31) percent of the jobs will require employees who can read journals and manuals and write business letters and reports, yet only 3 percent of the work force will have achieved this level of reading and writing skill. Seven (7) percent of the jobs will require employees who can read scientific and technical journals and financial reports but only 1.5 percent of the work force will have this capability.

"NSF (National Science Foundation) warns, there could be a cumulative shortfall of more than 400,000 science and engineering BAs through the year 2,000."

"This country is facing a shortage of 27,000 PhDs by the end of the century."

"From 1969 to 1971 teachers' salaries after inflation increased at a 2.8% annual rate. But then . . . teachers' salaries nose-dived, falling by 1.25% per year until 1985. They've bounced back a bit since, but in real terms, salaries are barely above their 1971 level. Small wonder that top-notch college graduates are not attracted to teaching."

The law of supply and demand governs the price of labor as well as the price of goods. Unless we adopt prompt and effective measures to reverse current trends, our children and grandchildren will inherit an economy none of us would envy. We will be an uncompetitive and divided nation with a few well-trained and educated people commanding very high salaries while the remainder compete for low-paying jobs.

Over a month ago I concluded my article by saying that training and educating ourselves to become the very best people we can be is the duty of a new patriotism. Now it turns out that narrow self-interest coincides with the national interest. Those who lack a solid training and education cannot expect to prosper.

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

HELPING MARYLAND'S OLDER CITIZENS

Seven hundred active, concerned, and caring senior citizens came to call in Annapolis last week. They were here to talk to the governor and to the General Assembly about the issues and problems of most concern to the elderly. They were to talk about their future.

We have been thinking about the elderly a great deal in Annapolis. Like the rest of the country, Maryland's population is getting older. One out of ten persons in Maryland today is over the age of 65, and that percentage is increasing. In fact, by the year 2005, more than 100,000 Marylanders will be 85 years of age or older.

We have had many proposals for programs and projects to meet the special needs of the elderly, but I have been reluctant to approve any of them. I wanted to be sure that they were on target, that they would actually provide the services needed by older citizens.

Last September I asked 30 staff members who were involved with the aging to go out and talk to older people. We sent them to malls and restaurants and senior centers and apartment houses, even street corners. We asked them to listen — just listen to older people. All together they listened to about 500 people in fifteen counties.

What did they learn?

First, they found that most elderly people are content with their current situation but they are worried about the future. They are worried about finding home care if they get sick or if a spouse gets sick. They are worried about being able to maintain their homes if they become seriously ill. And they are worried about paying for medical care. Many wondered if they were making the right decisions about health insurance. They wanted more information.

When we reviewed all the interviews, it became clear that long-term health care is the number one priority of most senior citizens in Maryland. That's a hard issue and we do not have ready answers. I have asked the Commission on Health Care Policy and Financing to give me some recommendations on what role the state should play in long-term care.

Meanwhile we must get started working on some of the other concerns we heard about. Our new initiative, "Action for Seniors," was presented for the first time last week when the senior advocates came to Annapolis. As I told them then, our primary objective is to get ahead of problems. We want to meet the needs of our senior citizens before they become needs.

We will be asking the Maryland General Assembly for $4.5 million in new state funds to help the elderly. Among the proposals are plans to provide new and expanded services for the frail and low-income elderly. Many of our seniors are at risk of entering an institution if they do not receive help in their communities. We want to provide them with as much support as possible right in their own areas.

Among other activities, "Action for Seniors" will expand the Senior Coordinated Community Care program to help clients in their own homes; create more places in group homes and apartments so that seniors will not have to live alone; expand the number of places available in senior day care centers; and train more workers who are qualified as senior care providers to staff local facilities.

We also want to get the private sector more involved. Businesses must be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the elderly. As part of our 1989 initiative we are going to encourage businesses to provide better insurance programs for the elderly, more comprehensive coverage, and better options.

The state will also be rethinking the way it serves the elderly in Maryland. To date, our efforts have been focused in three separate agencies — the Office on Aging, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, and the Department of Human Resources. But the needs of the elderly also involve other areas such as housing, transportation, and employment. We want to bring those agencies into our aging program so that we can do a better job matching the right person to the right program.

Like the senior citizens who came to Annapolis to tell us what they needed, and like the people we talked to in September, we want to hear from you. Please write me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

Natural Resources and the Board of Public Works

to get their foot in the door. They have since purchased a considerable acreage of additional land in the Youghiogheny River valley and have options to purchase more. While they announced plans to auction off-setting tracts of land, it is not believed they ever seriously considered doing so. It is believed the Secretary of the Department of Natural Resources knew in advance that with one word to the many conservation and sporting organizations, strong and over-riding protests would be received that would bring a halt to any plan for such an auction.

Now, with their foot in the door, the State will open it wide and continue with gross acquisition of Garrett County land unless limitations can be imposed.

Were our elected officials so naive as to believe their emergency bills would provide a workable law? Did they expect the State to oblige by selling a like amount of acreage procured when not specifically required to do so by the law? Were they unwilling to stand-up to the overpowering personality of Governor Schaefer? Were they afraid the Governor would not favorably consider their request for support of the Savage River races? Whatever the reason, it is too late to cry over spilled milk. It is our elected officials who have let the cat out of the bag. Now, that cat must be caught.

John E. Hinebaugh
President

P.S. The above companion "emergency" bills introduced by our elected officials and enacted into law also contained provisions for the State to execute condemnation easements.

from El Salvador — from a stalemate war with more than 40,000 civilian deaths in nine years — is the largest exodus in the nation's history. Caracan, a Washington human rights group, puts the number at one million refugees. They don't officially exist, while the bombs, grenades and bullets that the United States quietly supplies for the government's war on its own people do.

Last year the United States supplied $391 million in military aid to the Duarte government, in spite of protests by Catholic bishops in the United States.

Sister Cathy, in her letter of October 16, 1988, states, "The people who live in Arcatao believe with every fibre of their being that some day the war will end and they will live in peace. They also believe that they have a responsibility as Christians to bring about that peace. They know that what they are about is dangerous: organizing themselves, making demands for their human rights, living in community, reflecting on scripture and applying it to their reality."

Sister Cathy is well-known in Garrett County for the early development of the House of Hope and for Habitat for Humanity. She hopes to return to El Salvador on March 1.

Opportunities Abound In Garrett County For Personal Care Aids

by Kathryn D. Cannon
Garrett County Interagency Council

Are you someone who likes to care for and help disabled and elderly persons? Would you like to help these people continue living at home, and get paid for it? Would you like to set your own hours to do this much-needed work? If you answered yes to any of these, or know someone who would, the Garrett County Health Department and the Area Agency on Aging may be able to arrange paid employment for you or your friend as a personal care aide.

These agencies are part of Garrett County's Interagency Council, a group of organizations geared to meeting the needs of the elderly and disabled. The Council recently identified the severe need for personal care workers throughout the county.

Council representatives say that lack of these workers causes some elderly patients to stay in the hospital longer than if a personal care aide could help out at home for a few hours a day for several weeks after they leave the hospital. Sometimes the help of a paid personal care worker makes the difference between a disabled person managing at home versus having to live in a nursing home, for example. People who need help with everyday tasks such as bathing, grooming, preparing meals, or simple house-keeping, but have no one at home to help them, are very much at risk.

Who should become a personal care aide? First and foremost, you must be a mature person who cares about others and wants to use your skills to make a real difference in a disabled or elderly person's life. Next, you should have initiative, be responsible, reliable, and get along well with clients and a supervisor. Finally, you should want a paying and satisfying job, one in which you can set your own hours, from as few as two hours a day to as many as 24 hours a day.

How do you go about becoming a personal care aide? It varies, depending on whether you sign on with the Health Department or the Area Agency on Aging.

The Health Department's program is specifically designed for Medical Assistance recipients in an attempt to put off or eliminate their need for nursing home care. If you wished to sign on with this program, you wouldn't need any special training at this time. This will be changing soon, however. Garrett Community College will be offering the 20-hour continuing education course that eventually will be required starting February 6. It will run through April 3, on Monday evenings from 6:30-9:15 p.m. Contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 169, for further information.

As part of the Health Department's application process, you will need a physical examination and two references who will vouch for your good character, life skills, and reliability. Once accepted, you would be linked up with one or more Medical Assistance recipients, depending on how many you want and could reasonably take. These individuals will have been evaluated by a team of professionals (including a physician) and found to require personal care services. Under this program, clients can be any age, not just elderly, but cannot be an immediate relative of yours.

Depending on the client's situation, you could work 2-3 hours per day and earn $10; 4-6 hours per day for $20; or 24 hours per day for $25. In this last instance, either the client would be living with you or you would be living with him. Your job duties would be spelled out for each client by a case manager who also would personally monitor your work and your client's progress every 60 days to make sure things are going well for everyone concerned. You would receive on-the-job instruction as needed. The Medical Assistance Program (which pays you) considers you self-employed, under contract with your client and the state. Therefore, you would have to set aside and pay your own Social Security and income taxes. Call Mrs. Helen Heath at the Garrett County Health Department (334-8111) for additional information.

The other program in the county you could sign on with is offered by the Area Agency on Aging. It serves only clients aged 65 and older. To work in this program, you must receive training and be certified as a geriatric aide. Garrett Community College is offering "Basic Nursing Skills for the Geriatric Aide and Nursing Assistant" beginning January 30. It will run through April 19 on Monday and Wednesday nights from 6 to 9 p.m., and will provide 84 hours of instruction, including cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR). The cost is $60 plus a textbook. Call Jean Tressler at 387-6666, ext. 169, for additional information about this course.

The Area Agency on Aging program will be looking for the same type of personal qualities in you as the Health Department, and also requires character references. In addition to providing care and being monitored by phone once a week, you will need to complete a certain amount of paperwork.

Your job description, working conditions, and status as a self-employed person are similar to those described above. You'll start at $4.25 per hour per client, including the time you spend driving to and from your client's house. The program also pays you 20 cents per mile, from your door to your client's door. Call Mrs. Anita Smearman at the Area Agency on Aging (334-9431, ext. 223) for more information.

Mrs. Debbie Getson, of Deer Park, has been working as a personal care aide with the Area Agency on Aging for 15 months now, and says she "loves it." Formerly a nursing assistant for two years at a local nursing home, Getson prefers a client's own residence as a place to take care of an elderly or disabled person. "There is the advantage of having a one-on-one relationship with the client in a familiar, leisurely environment," she reports. Since a personal care aide can respect a client's own routines, she says the client benefits by having control over day-to-day decisions.

Getson, 34, has a busy family life with her husband and three sports-oriented children. She particularly enjoys working with the elderly. "They have seen so much of life and are so wise," she says. "I get a lot of satisfaction knowing that my efforts make such a difference for them. Sometimes I am the only person they see on a given day." Taking a very personal interest in each individual client, she has, on occasion, brought one of her children to visit and notes that both her clients and her children really enjoy the experience.

Getson completed the training in personal care several years ago at Garrett Community College, and recently completed a six-week continuing education course for homemaker-home health aides at Allegany Community College. She says that because she can set her own hours within certain program limits, she can earn the kind of money she wants on a schedule that fits her hectic schedule.

Working as a personal care aide through Health Department or Area Agency on Aging programs offers you an opportunity to make a significant difference in someone's life, an income and flexible hours in satisfying work, and who knows what else? Perhaps it will become a stepping stone to a career in a field such as nursing, occupational therapy, or administration in a human service organization. The Interagency Council urges you to consider entering this meaningful occupation in which there is a shortage of workers in Garrett County.

Senate Hears Schaefer Support Child Care Bill

Governor William Donald Schaefer appealed Wednesday to a U.S. Senate panel to approve a $25 billion child-care bill that would assist states in the expansion of day-care programs and help poor families who can not afford such services.

Senator Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., is the chief sponsor of this measure, which is known as the ABC Bill. This bill is a new version of a child-care plan that was rejected last year.

The bill would provide money for new day care centers, train child-care providers, subsidize child care for low-income families, and develop an insurance pool to solve the liability insurance problem faced by many day-care providers.

Governor Schaefer used poster-sized photos to illustrate his point that there is a growing need for more day-care programs. The first photo was of smiling parents with their four children, which appeared to represent the 1950's. Next he flipped to a present day photo of a woman wearing a business suit, holding a baby in one arm and a briefcase in the other.

According to a report from the National Association for the Education of Young Children, on a national level, day-care programs can accommodate only 24 percent of the 2.5 million preschool children.

In Maryland, there are approximately 648,000 children younger than 14 who have working mothers, and more than a third of these children are under the age of 6, according to a study from Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies. Despite the great number of children, the study could find room for only 83,000 children in day-care programs.

The five-year Act for Better Child Care Services would have states devote 70 percent of their funds to direct assistance for low-income families. The remainder of the money would be used for grants and loans to establish and expand day-care programs.

There is a condition that states seeking federal assistance must adhere to. The act requires states to insist that all publicly funded child-care programs comply with a set of health and safety standards within four years after they are established by a national committee. The committee would include state and local government officials, members of religious and business groups, and child-care experts.

The sponsors of this bill have high hopes for its passage because President Bush addressed the issue of child-care during the presidential campaign last fall.

County Forestry Board Convenes, Elects Officers

The Garrett County Forestry Board held its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday, January 4, at the Forest, Park & Wildlife office at Mt. Nebo. The Board members elected John Forman, Oakland, as their chairperson; re-elected Dr. Frank Custer, Oakland, as treasurer; and re-elected Phil Garman as vice chairperson.

The Forestry Board members welcomed Mike Kozier, Deer Park, to the Board as a new member. Kozier is the supervisor of the local USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Oakland. He is a graduate forester and teaches part-time at Garrett Community College.

Land use planning and gypsy moth are among the problems which continue to face the Garrett Board.

The Garrett Board will also be hosting the 1989 Forest Conservation Workshop, which is sponsored by the State Association of Forestry Boards, again this year. The workshop is designed to give high school students, grades 9-12, some insight into the careers available in conservation.

The Garrett Forestry Board plans to meet the second Wednesday of each month to keep abreast of the challenges facing forestry in Maryland.

"Given the fact that your position is to only possibly bond education projects we presently only see the Southern and Northern projects as part of the question to be posed in spring 1989. Although I have recommended to the school board that we consolidate the Loch Lynn and Red House schools, the Board of Education has not made a final decision on that issue."

"Yesterday the school board, however, directed me to conduct a school districting study for elementary students in the southern portion of Garrett County. From this study will probably come several alternatives which can have a bearing on whether the Loch Lynn and Red House schools should be consolidated or replaced on a one-for-one basis. In terms of a 'guaranteed level of state funding' for this project or other projects we cannot make any such kind of assumptions since the School Construction Program conducts their review and approval process on an annual basis."

Another issue which was discussed was the cost of a special election versus conducting a referendum during the next regularly scheduled General Election in November of 1990.

The letter from the board continued, "In response to your comments about a special election, we believe that time is of the essence if we are going to be able to continue to maintain Southern High School as a viable project in the eyes of the School Construction Program."

As we all know, we have already lost a year on the project and waiting until November 1990 would very probably add an additional two-year loss on the project which could be translated into not only additional cost increases due to inflation, but increased competition from other school construction projects throughout the state equally vying for limited state dollars.

"As a result, we consider a special election worth the estimated $25,000 to conduct it. There could be other questions which could be included on the ballot, but we consider the sole question concerning bonding of education projects certainly important enough to both the educational as well as economic vitality of this county to stand on its merits alone."

Ryscavage went on to say, "Should you request of our delegation enacting legislation for such a question, and should our delegation be successful in passing such legislation, you asked what our intentions would be should the question fail. The answer to that is simple — we would do what we could with whatever resources we can bring to bear. Although not pleased with such a result, I believe that the Garrett County Board of Education could rest safely in knowing that they tried to do the right thing for the young people of this county."

Ryscavage also requested a place on the commissioners' January 31 agenda to "further discuss the matter in anticipation of your granting us the opportunity to put this question to the public this spring."

was reportedly not seriously injured. One person was injured in a single-vehicle accident Saturday on U.S. Route 42.

Police said Floyd C. Frantz, 56, Friendsville, was driving a 1988 GMC Sierra, and attempted to make a left turn into a driveway. Frantz failed to yield the right of way to a 1988 Chevrolet Camaro driven by Lowell J. Workman Jr., 28, Friendsville, causing a collision.

Tic. R.J. Resh investigated, charging Frantz with failing to yield the right of way. The Northern Rescue Squad responded to the accident and transported Workman to Garrett Memorial, where he was reportedly treated and released.

A single-vehicle accident occurred last Friday on U.S. Route 219.

According to police reports, Sheila M. Seaton, 26, Salisbury, Pa., was driving a 1987 Ford Ranger when she lost control on the ice-covered roadway. The vehicle crossed the road and ran off the left shoulder over an embankment, struck a fence and stone wall, then overturned and came to rest against a tree.

Seaton was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that she was treated and released. A passenger in the vehicle, Kenneth W. Pierce, 26, was apparently not seriously injured.

The accident was investigated by Sgt. D.P. Moore. A single-vehicle accident Friday on Route 39 resulted in the DWI charge.

Police said Ronnie Ray Metz, 24, Elkton, Va., was driving a 1977 Ford Pinto when it left the right side of the road and struck a wall.

The incident was investigated by Tpr. J.K. Moore, who charged Metz with driving while under the influence of alcohol and negligent driving.

TO SPONSOR DANCE

The Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a dance from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Saturday, January 28, at Alpine Lake. A local disc jockey will play songs of the 50's through the 80's. The cost is $5.00 per person. Money raised will be used for the fire department's building program.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. John Zarra and sons, Pittsburgh, visited one day recently with Mrs. Nellie Grimm.

ROTARY NEWS

No formal program was conducted at the January 12 meeting of the Terra Alta Rotary Club. Instead, President Richard Hopkins called for a meeting to discuss the club's internal affairs.

The board of directors has decided to invite the East Preston High School girls basketball team to dinner on February 2. The Terra Alta Rotary will be the principal sponsor of a fund raising effort for decorations for Terra Alta streets next Christmas. The club is also considering sponsoring a project to promote a weekly teen dance at the Terra Alta Community Building.

The latest governor's newsletter ranked clubs according to attendance during the last six months of 1988. Terra Alta placed second among the 28 clubs in District 753. The Elkins Rotary Club placed first.

The Annual District Conference will be March 31-April 2 at the Sheraton-Lakeview in Morgantown.

Royce Abbey, president of Rotary International and Ernest Nesius, District Governor, are urging all Rotary clubs to emphasize peace at the local level, participation in the Rotary exchange program, initiate "sister city" ties, invite speakers to talk about democracy, arms limitations and economic development and form an alliance of community leaders and service organizations to plan and promote activities aimed at achieving peace. The Rotary leaders also ask local clubs to help young people through various organizations, organize forums to debate issues related to peace, continue to support Rotary programs aimed at using the Rotary Foundation and give awards to individuals for organization in recognition for their contribution to peace.

Mylon & Broken Heart Concert Scheduled

Anyone wishing more information may call the college at (304) 636-7160.

AURORA-EGILON NEWS

MOUNTAINEER 4-H ACTIVITIES

The January 9 meeting of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club was called to order by president Julie Lewis. The Finance Committee led the devotions using the theme, "Friendship," and the music leaders led the club in singing "Froggie" and "My Gail's a Corker." Julie Lewis presented the program, a slide show on "What a Camera Can Do."

Jeremiah Feather and John Utterback gave reports on the tray favor workshop and the trip to Cortland Acres Nursing Home to hold a birthday party. It was announced that there will be a Dance Training Workshop February 10-12, a Volunteer Leader Craft Weekend March 3-5, and a Teen Leadership and Charting Weekend March 10-12 at Jackson's Mill.

The club decided to contribute to the 4-H Foundation and to the IFYE project. They also decided that, under the Adopt a Highway Program, they would adopt State Route 24.

Talks and demonstrations were: Good and Bad Table Manners, a talk by Becky Snyder; Katie Utterback demonstrated cross stitch embroidery; Rhett Beckman told "How 4-H got Its Name"; Aaron Teets told about Horse Diseases.

In conjunction with the program on Photography, a photo contest was held in which pictures brought in by members were judged. Kevin Corbin won the 35mm category with a picture of oxen at Williamsburg, Carroll Joe Hartsell's picture of Blackwater Falls won the 126 category. A photo of a sunset by Eric White was winner in the disc camera division. Dalmations were the subject of a flash photo by Matt Utterback and a Polaroid by Michelle Shaffer.

Jeremiah Feather led a game of "Gossip" and the meeting adjourned with the first-year members leading the 4-H Pledge. Refreshments were served by the Evans and R. Shaffer families. The next meeting will be February 13 at the Eglon Memorial Building and the Wotring and Utterback families will serve as hosts. All members but three were present and there were five visitors. Attending were Brian and Kevin Corbin, Beth and Melissa Evans, Jeremiah Feather, Carroll Hartsell, Emily and Julie Lewis, Amy Mathes, Amy Moats, Donald Rinehart, Michelle and Regina Shaffer, Natalia and Becky Snyder, Aaron, Amanda and Kevin Teets, Nathan Teets, John, Katie, Mark and Matt Utterback, Rhett Beckman, Tim Harsh and Eric White.

HOMEMAKERS STUDY DECISION-MAKING

Virginia Martin was the leader for a discussion on Decisions at the January 17 meeting of the Aurora Extension Homemakers. Assisting with the lesson was Dean Sisler who read a poem. Hostess for the day was Opal Myers and devotions on Giving based on a scripture from Luke was provided by Mary Jane Hanline. Betty Fint, the president, conducted the business session.

Opal Myers reported the filling of 10 stockings for the Salvation Army Christmas effort. A thank-you was received from Richard and Sue Roberson for their remembrance from the club. There will be a cultural arts exhibit March 30. A get-well card was signed to be sent to absent member Eva Wotring. Sue Mayne will be a new member of the club.

The next meeting will be February 21 at the home of Dean Sisler with Pearl Stemple presenting the program. The special feature shown by the hostess was a trapunto embroidered scarf belonging to Maynard and Bonnylin Lantz and made by his grandmother, Mary Stemple Lantz, about 1940. The pig-in-the-poke was won by Betty Fint.

Attending were the above mentioned and Martha Bolyard, Wilda Wilt, Mildred Kovalick, a guest Amanda Myers, and two children.

NOTICE

TO WATER CUSTOMERS IN OAKLAND

The Town of Oakland has approximately 850 water customers. Some have experienced frozen water lines and others have let water run to prevent freezing. Some have shared with their waterless neighbors. Neither the Town nor the customers have been at fault in the situation. In fairness to both, where there is evidence that any of the above has occurred, the March quarter water bills will be adjusted as follows:

1. The least amount a customer will pay will be the minimum quarterly charge.
2. The maximum a customer will pay will be the highest amount paid in any quarter during the past year.
3. If the amount of water consumed is less than the last quarter, the customer will be billed for that amount.

Special Olympics

Photos by Craig Phillips

HUGS, SMILES AND LOTS OF PRIDE were in abundance at the Wisp Resort in McHenry this week as over 130 young, special athletes from all over Maryland participated in the annual Maryland Winter Special Olympics. Many were surprised Sunday

winners, Brad Sisler and Kevin Swick, both of Southern High School. Mrs. Shriver gives Kenneth Foreman praise for his fine efforts at cross country skiing. Kevin Swick, encouraged by his coach, Joanne Crummitt, races to the finish line in the time trials.

Mrs. Shriver lends a helping hand to Kenneth Foreman while Ted Davis and Gary Lamb, International Director of Aquatic Games, look on. Ron Hopper cuts around a gate in the downhill slalom race.

"Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Such is the theme of Special Olympics, the winter version of which for the state of Maryland was held this past week at the Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry.

Approximately 130 athletes, over 60 chaperones, and over 60 coaches from all parts of Maryland participated in the various racing events.

A special, and somewhat of a surprise, guest of the Maryland Winter Games was none other than the founder of Special Olympics, Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, the late Senator Robert Kennedy, and Senator Ted Kennedy. Mrs. Shriver arrived at the Wisp on Sunday and stayed through Monday, assisting with the events and even doing some of the coaching.

The games were kicked off Sunday with opening ceremonies, which included a torchlight parade down the face of Marsh Mountain and a fireworks display.

Monday and Tuesday were occupied by instruction of the athletes, plus various recreational activities. Competition in both alpine (downhill) and nordic (cross-country) skiing was held Wednesday, followed by the awards presentations and closing ceremonies.

Wayne Gank, Brad Sisler, Kevin Swick, and Wilbert Younkin were Garrett County's athletes, while Lyz Biser, of Appalachian Crossroads served as Garrett County's director.

MURDER-ABORTION

The main reason you do not find abortion in the Bible is due to the fact that it is not distinguished from murder. Of course, murder is often mentioned. We should look from this day forward — not only about what we did in the past, but also because God can and will forgive you for anything you have done in the past, including murder (includes abortion). While this is heavy material, it is something which touches many people who do not know what to do with the past, present or future regarding abortion.

If it is past, be thankful that God will forgive you for it. The Lord's Prayer is His — Matthew 6:9, wherein He includes "... and forgive us (we are praying now) our trespasses ..." which He will forgive (see again Matthew 6:14) and many other places in the Bible where He states you will be forgiven. Now "go and sin no more", i.e., we can be forgiven fully, but then we must go forth and walk with Him. We must murder no more. With abortion, we have no choice. From this day forward, but to live within the ten commandments. Be most grateful for this day — a chance to please Him — for eternity is as a grain of sand compared to all the sand on the beaches of the earth, when compared to our present life here. You see, when you eliminate choices, you have fewer decisions; as a result you will be a happier person and find peace.

Maryland Student Literacy Writing Contest Underway

Governor William Donald Schaefer announced today that a "Maryland You are Beautiful" Student Literacy Writing Contest is now underway. The contest is open to all public school students in the state of Maryland. "The purpose of this contest is to promote statewide literacy among public school students and to make them more aware of our state and the Chesapeake Bay," said Governor Schaefer.

According to Dr. Joseph Shilling, State Superintendent of Schools, participating students must submit an entry that describes what makes Maryland beautiful and follows a related theme predetermined by the Maryland State Department of Education. The contest, open to more than 680,000 students throughout the state, is divided into four age groups: early elementary, late elementary, junior and senior high school. Each age group will write its essays on a different theme. Professional educators will judge the entries, which must be turned into the local schools by March 1. Four grand-prize winners will receive a weekend for four in historic Annapolis. The 12 top finalists will attend a luncheon with Governor Schaefer who will present awards. All entrants will receive discount coupons for Kings Dominion Theme Park.

"I'll like to praise the private sector for coming forward and sponsoring a contest that will give our school children a renewed interest in the welfare of the state of Maryland," the governor said. "A contest like this will instill in all of the participants a pride in our state." The contest is sponsored by Majestic Industries, CareFirst HMO, Kings Dominion Theme Park, the Governor's Office — "Maryland You are Beautiful" program, and the Maryland State Department of Education. "Maryland You are Beautiful," directed by Floraine Applefeld, is Governor Schaefer's "people-pride" program. "Unique to Maryland and perhaps to the nation, this program was developed to honor our own citizens — neighbors and co-workers — whose commitment to improving the quality of life in our state makes a difference in all our lives," Ms. Applefeld said.

Local Activities Nominated For Seasonal Award

Two Garrett County events have been nominated by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council as the county's entries in the Spring and Summer 1989 Maryland Seasonal Events Competition.

Events nominated are the National Pike Festival, which will be held May 19-21, and which will stretch from Washington County, Pa., through Washington County, making it the longest festival of its kind, and the Penn Alps Summerfest and Quilt Show, which will be held at the Penn Alps Restaurant & Craft Shop on Route 40 near Grantsville, Md. 13-15.

This competition originated with Governor Wm. Donald Schaefer, in order to offer Maryland events the opportunity to receive additional publicity at the State level. Events meeting the criteria are judged by a panel and the winning event of each season will have a poster specially designed and produced to promote the event, as well as a one-time full-page advertisement in "Maryland Magazine" to highlight the event. Runners-up in each seasonal competition receive a citation from the Governor.

The 19th Annual Autumn Glory Festival was named first runner-up in the 1987 Fall Event Competition, and the Maryland Governor's Cup Slalom and Giant Slalom Ski Races were named the winner of the 1988 Winter Seasonal Event Competition.

PAST AND PRESENT LEADERS of the Bittinger 4-H Club were honored recently during the club's holiday dinner. For the past 50 years, youth in the Bittinger area have been involved in the 4-H program. Originally, the club was a 4-H school club, then separate boys and girls clubs. Today it is a community club. Pictured above are those who were honored. In the front row, left to

BITTINGER-GLADES

CHURCH NEWS

A joint Transfiguration service will be held February 5 at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. There will be no Sunday School that day. All members of the parish are urged to attend this special service.

Confirmation class will meet on Sunday, January 29, at Emmanuel from 2-4 p.m.

Next Sunday is the deadline for all Parish year book reports.

Allynn Giffre, a second-year student from the Gettysburg Seminary, spent about three weeks in the Bittinger Parish. During that time, she was invited into homes and shown the workings of a rural parish. Allynn led the worship services and preached the sermons in all three churches on Sunday. She hopes to become a rural parish pastor in future years. She said she was "impressed" by her visit to Bittinger.

Over the weekend, Steve Austin, a senior student pastor at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., was also in Bittinger observing the work of a rural parish. He is a Presbyterian and hopes to be assigned to a rural parish when he graduates. He led a special service on Sunday for the young people of St. John's and Emmanuel.

Pastor Louise Knotts had received a special prayer from the Inauguration committee. The committee asked that this prayer be used in all worship services throughout the country on Sunday.

Pastor Louise and Allynn Giffre were recent guests of James and Charleen Thomas for supper at Silver Tree Restaurant.

SPEND TIME IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckel, William and Sheila Southerland and son, Landon, spent the past two weeks in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Resh, Grantsville, accompanied them and remained in Florida for the winter months.

WOODMEN TO MEET

WOW Lodge 66 of Bittinger will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Bittinger Fire Hall on Saturday, January 28, at 8 p.m. All members are asked to attend.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

On Saturday evening a family dinner was held by the Julius Carey family to celebrate the birthday of James Giotfelty, Mrs. Carey's father. Guests were William and Linda Oester, Sheli Bittinger and her roommate, Stephanie, from Penn State University, Mike Snodgrass, Shawn Frederick of Grantsville, Dwaine and Lisa Platter, Tom and Cheryl Giotfelty, James and Donna Giotfelty, Ida Reckner and Beatrice Giotfelty.

Friday evening dinner guests of Ida Reckner were Karl and Catherine De Boeser and daughter, Kara, Allentown, Pa.; Lillian, Sharee and Michael Reckner, Julius and Karen Carey and sons, Kris and Tony; Dwaine and Lisa Platter, Germantown; Tom and Cheryl Giotfelty, Taylor and Timmie; Jim and Donna Giotfelty and Olive Bender.

Sunday and Monday overnight guests of Ida Reckner were Paul Wiley and Ruth Stinchcomb, Canton, Ohio. They visited with Allen Paugh Jr., Deer Park, on Sunday. They were accompanied by Ida Reckner and Donna Giotfelty.

PERSONAL ITEMS

James and Charleen Thomas attended a dinner party in Cranestown on Saturday. They were accompanied by Faye and Billie Squires.

Russell and Mary Brenneman visited Melba Georg and family on Sunday afternoon.

Pastor Louise Knotts, Allynn Giffre and her husband, Scott, and Rose Buckel were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Buckel.

HOYES

Huskies Win Third Tournament Of Season, Then Mash Rams, Knights

Following their first defeat of the season last week to Beall, the Northern High varsity wrestling team rebounded for two major wins this week, including a first place finish in the Class AA-A division of the Pepsi Invitational Tournament Friday and Saturday at University High School in Morgantown and first place in a triangular meet with arch rival Southern and Valley Monday night at the Cove. The wins give Coach Lynn Brenneman's squad an 8-1 season record.

The Huskies compiled 149 points in the tournament in Morgantown Saturday night, edging Berkeley Springs by two points and giving them a fourth place finish overall in the 22-team tournament. It was the third tournament won by the Huskies this season, which is a Garrett County high school record.

The Huskies defeated Valley, 48-23, and then crushed Southern, 69-6, on Monday evening.

In the Valley meet, Tim Thomas, Brent Yoder, Dave

Swiger, Nate Emory, Bill Duckworth, and Ed Tabor all recorded pins for the Huskies, while Kevin Warnick and Blair Bittinger won by decision.

Steve Woods and Mike Miller recorded pins for the Black Knights.

Winning by pins over the Southern Rams were Richard Wiland, Thomas, Yoder, Kevin Warnick, Duckworth, Durst, Tabor, and Jason Rush.

HUSKIES CAPTURE THIRD TOURNEY WIN—The Northern High wrestling team captured a third tournament victory this past week, becoming the first Garrett County team ever to win three tournaments in a single season. The latest victory was in a 22-team Pepsi Invitational in Morgantown last weekend. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are Ed Tabor, Blair Bittinger, and Dave Swiger. Standing, same order, are Scott Stough, assistant coach, Bill Duckworth, John Friend, Gerry Durst, and Coach Lynn Brenneman. See story for details.

Rams On A Roll; Whip Indians And Vikings For 10th And 11th Wins

The Southern Rams are on a roll, as they ran their record to 11-3 this past week by recording their sixth and seventh straight victories. The first was a 75-34 pounding of visiting Mount Savage Friday night and the second was a convincing 62-48 win over Petersburg Tuesday evening, also in Oakland.

The Rams' defense against the 5-6 Indians was tenacious, as Coach Oren Yoder's squad moved out to a 17-6 advantage by the end of the first quarter and never looked back. Mount Savage managed to net only five points in the second stanza and were behind 34-11 at halftime. Southern held an overwhelming 50-17 lead by the end of the third period.

Joe Refosco and Marshall Pike led the Ram offense, netting 16 and 14 points, respectively, as Southern finished with a 60 percent scoring efficiency from the floor.

Chris Hoppert and Danny McTaggart netted eight and seven points, respectively, for the Indians.

Coach Yoder noted that the Rams' defensive performance was the key to the victory and added that it was the "best entire-game effort" by his team this season.

The Southern junior varsity won the preliminary contest, 45-40, behind a 15-point evening by Britton Martin. Jim Bateman added 12 points to Southern's total, while Rich Barnett led the jayvee Indians with 13 points.

Zack Gibson led the way for the Rams Tuesday night against 7-6 Petersburg, as he scored a game-high 20 points, pulled six rebounds, and recorded seven assists.

Gibson hit eight buckets from the floor and was four-for-six at the line, while Richard Evick added 17 points for the Rams, 15 of which he scored in the first half.

The Ram defense sparked again, as the Vikings were held to just two points in the second period and Southern assumed a commanding 39-14 halftime lead.

Joe Refosco grabbed nine rebounds for Southern, while Darren Ross led Petersburg in scoring with 15 points. Mike Meek added 12 points and Tom George, 11.

The Southern jayvee squad was edged in the preliminary contest by their Petersburg counterparts, 42-38. Mike Moyer led the junior Vikings with 13 points. Bobby Evans and Rick Beeman combined for 17 points for Southern.

The Rams will meet a stiff challenge this Friday night

Martin's, Miners Still Leaders In Mt. Top League

Martin's Auto Glass and Miners & Merchants Bank stayed on top of their Mt. Top Basketball League divisions this week with convincing wins last Thursday.

Martin's, behind Poke Winters' 31 points, cruised by Durst Exxon, 116-89. Dennis Gibson added 26 points for the winning cause. Jody Amtower (28) and James Endler (20) led Durst in scoring.

Miners & Merchants Bank flattened Ferrell's Mart, 131-50. Jerry Myers' 23 points led the way for the Miners, who saw seven players score in double figures. Dave Terrant netted 16 points for Ferrell's.

In other action, Deep Creek Pharmacy ran its winning streak to six games by topping the National Guard, 72-62. The Guard had a 42-32 early in the third quarter, but the Pharmacy cut the deficit to three points at the end of the third stanza. Max Hill scored 20 points to lead Deep Creek Pharmacy and Gary Paugh finished with 20 for the Guard. Buffalo Coal strengthened its

Lakers Defeated By Hagerstown JC Before Rolling Over Potomac State

The Garrett Community College Lakers were handed an 86-67 defeat Saturday night in McHenry by Hagerstown Junior College, but then coasted past a decimated Potomac State College team, 79-44, in Keyser Monday evening to make their record 11-9.

The Lakers held their own with the Hagerstown Hawks through most of the first half as the score seered back and forth until the 6:05 mark when Hagerstown took the lead for good at 28-27. The Hawks stretched their advantage to 41-33 by halftime and were never threatened in the second half.

The Hawks won the game at the free throw line, where they made good on 23 of 35 attempts for 26 fouls. Garrett out-gunned Hagerstown from the floor by six buckets, 29-23, but had only 14 shots at the foul line, of which they converted nine.

Coach Dennis Gibson was hoping for an upset of the powerful Hawks, as the Lakers lost by only four points, 83-79, to them in Hagerstown earlier this season. However, Gibson called his team's performance "the absolute worst game of the year."

Hagerstown's Dexter Boney led all scorers with 21 points, while teammate Wes Cornish netted 13 and pulled nine rebounds.

The Lakers were led by Kerwin Thompson, who finished with 16 points, followed by Aaron Davis with 13, Romir Miller with 12, and Travis Bohrer with 10. Bohrer also pulled six rebounds and Davis was credited with nine steals and five assists.

The Lakers were out-rebounded 36-29.

Monday night in Keyser was a different story for the Lakers, as they met a Potomac State team that was practically wiped out by academic ineligibility after the first semester. Only two players on their opening-game roster remain on the team, the rest of which is now composed of walk-on players.

The Lakers took control of the contest early and Coach Gibson backed off of the Catamounts by allowing every one of his players to see action.

Steve Galusky finished as the top scorer for Garrett, as he nailed six field goals and connected on all four of his free throws for 17 points. Bohrer and Thompson each scored a dozen points and Miller added 10.

Thompson and Miller each hit two buckets from the three-point range, while Eric Rice, Davis, and Galusky each sunk one. Davis was also credited with nine assists to go with his nine points and Mark Nuckols and Miller each grabbed six rebounds.

John Lambert led the Catamounts' scoring with 19 points and also had six steals, while teammate George Woodford finished with 12 points.

It was the ninth loss in 11 games for Potomac State, although one of their wins was recorded after the team had to be revamped — a 69-64 win over Penn State-DuBois on January 15.

Lakers Defeated In Final Seconds By Prince George

A pair of free throws by Bruce Cash with just 11 seconds remaining secured a win by Prince George's Community College last night over the visiting Garrett Community College Lakers.

After the Lakers were on top by as many as seven points early in the first half, the Owls came back to tie the game at the 6:50 mark and then out-score the Lakers 15-4 to take a 40-29 halftime advantage.

A three-point shot by Garrett's Mark Nuckols with 9:25 remaining in the game knotted the score once again, 57-57. The lead exchanged hands several times until Rodney Jackson's three-point bucket at the 3:25 mark gave the Owls a 68-62 lead. Two free throws by Aaron Davis brought the Lakers back to within four points, but Steve Cook's dunk made it 70-64.

With less than a minute remaining, Davis stole the ball and sunk a three-point shot to make the score 70-67. Cash then hit his free throws and Travis Bohrer hit one final bucket for the Lakers.

The Owls were led in scoring by Cash, who finished with 18, while Cook netted 16 and Tim Smith and Keith DeVoe each contributed 10 points.

Kerwin Thompson led Garrett with 16 points, Nuckols netted 12, Davis scored 11 and was credited with 11 assists and steals. Bobby Gregg also reached double figures for Garrett with 10 points.

The Lakers are now 12-10 on the season, after having been granted a forfeit win over Dundalk CC on Saturday.

Northern Girls Lose To Campers, Whip Salisbury

Despite a furious rally in the second half, the Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team fell short of defeating visiting Allegany Saturday night. The Campers won the contest, 40-31, after being on top 27-8 at halftime.

Coach Harry Speicher's girls rebounded Monday night, however, to hand host Salisbury a 56-47 defeat and record their seventh win in 12 games.

The Campers were on their way to embarrassing the Huskies Saturday night, taking a 14-2 lead by the end of the first quarter and expanding their advantage to 19 points by halftime. But the Huskies out-scored their opponents in the third period by two points and then held them to just three points in the final quarter.

Stacy Smith and Ann Mayo led Allegany with 11 and nine points, respectively, while Tina Lashbaugh and Kristin Edwards netted 14 and nine for the Huskies.

The win gave the Campers a sweep of the series, as they nipped the Huskies by just one point, 43-42, earlier this season in Cumberland.

Speicher said he believed his players "showed a lot of class" in fighting their way back into the game, but "dug too big of a hole to get out of in the first half."

It was the seventh win in 10 games for Allegany.

Edwards netted just under half of her team's total points Monday night, as the Huskies recorded their second win of the campaign over Salisbury.

Seventeen of her total came at the free-throw line, from where she had 27 attempts. Lashbaugh finished with 19 points, as she hit eight field goals and three of four from the line.

Salisbury's Georgia Thomas kept pace with Edwards, as she too finished with 27 points. She connected on eight shots from the floor and was seven-for-nine at the foul line.

The Huskies wasted no time taking total control of the contest, jumping out to an 18-2 lead by the end of the first quarter and leading 30-15 at halftime. They stretched their advantage to 44-22 going into the final period.

The difference in the score was determined at the foul line, as both teams netted 17 field goals. Salisbury made good on nine of 13 free throw attempts, while the Huskies hit 22 of 37.

Northern won the earlier game with Salisbury, 44-33, in the Cove.

Huskies Continue To Struggle; Fall To East Preston And Mount Savage

Coach Dave Bender's young Northern High Huskies continued to struggle on the basketball court this past week, dropping a 51-39 decision to visiting East Preston Friday night and then falling to host Mount Savage Tuesday evening, 70-59.

The pair of defeats leaves the Huskies with a 4-10 mark.

The Huskies just couldn't get on track against East Preston, falling behind 10-4 in the first quarter, trailing 21-13 at halftime, and down 34-25 after three quarters.

The East Preston defense didn't allow any Husky to reach double figures, as Jamie Stephens led Northern with nine points, John Sherbin netted eight, and Dave Yoder and Kevin Selby each finished with seven. Larry Garlitz and Bob Loughery each scored 10 points to lead the Eagles.

Lamont Thomas paced the junior varsity Huskies to their sixth win in eight games in the preliminary contest, as the Little Huskies won 36-30. Thomas finished with 16 points.

Mount Savage's Scott DeHaven could not be contained by the Northern defense on Tuesday night, as the area's third leading scorer pumped in nine field goals and 12 of 14 shots from the foul line for a total of 30 points and also pulled down 13 rebounds. DeHaven has reached or broken the 30-point level in five of the 11 games so far this season.

The Indians took a 20-10 lead by the end of the first period and were on top 38-26 at intermission. The Huskies were down by 14 after three periods, 54-40, as DeHaven netted 20 of his points in the second half.

Selby, Sherbin, and Yoder led Northern's scoring with 16, 15, and 13 points, respectively. Also reaching double figures for Mount Savage were Denny Skidmore with 16 and Bill Scritchfield with 10.

It was the sixth win in 12 starts for the Indians and their second victory over the Huskies this season.

Southern Girls Mash Turkeyfoot, Nipped By BW

The Southern High girls varsity basketball team rolled over Turkeyfoot Monday night in Oakland, 65-48, but were upset last night by Bishop Walsh, 37-36, in Cumberland. The results left Coach Don Stemple's team with a 7-4 record, which they will take to Northern this Friday.

Courtney Smith was the big gun for the Rams against Turkeyfoot, as she pumped in 28 points and was credited with six assists. Christine Bittinger finished with 11 points, while Melinda Evick and Kathy Gibson each pulled down 13 rebounds for the Rams.

Southern was never threatened in the contest, holding leads of 23-7, 38-24, and 56-26 at the quarters.

Donna Ream paced Turkeyfoot's scoring with 19 points and Cindy Lytle finished with 13.

A bucket by Heidi Stutcher with 90 seconds left in the game last night proved to be the winning goal for Bishop Walsh, a team that entered the contest with a 3-7 record.

The Rams maintained control of the first half of the game, holding a 13-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and leading 23-14 at halftime. But the Spartans' defense went to work in the third quarter, forcing various Southern turnovers and resulting in a 26-25 BW lead after three periods.

After Stutcher's final shot, the Rams had three shots on goal to win the game, but all three missed.

Katie Coulehan and Stutcher paced the Spartans' scoring, netting 13 and 12 points, respectively. Coulehan also pulled 12 rebounds and Stutcher had six steals.

Leading Southern was Evick, who finished with 14 points, followed by Smith with 10.

Railey Among The Winners In Snowflake Races

Eighty-nine runners braved 17-degree weather to participate in the annual Snowflake Chasers races Saturday along Savage River Road in Big Run State Park. The courses for the five-mile, 10-mile, and half-marathon (approximately 13 miles) were around the Savage River Reservoir.

The overall winner of the five-mile event was Jim Railey, Deep Creek Lake, who completed the course in 29 minutes, 51 seconds, while Paula Bridges, Cumberland, was the overall female winner with a time of 34:19.

Tad Davis, Morgantown, W.Va., placed first in the 10-mile event with a time of 56:26.

Ruth Reimenschneider, Winchester, Va., was the first female to cross the finish line in the half-marathon, recording a time of 91:26. Dennis Mickey, Ridgeley, W.Va., won the men's half-marathon with a time of 79:61.

Other Garrett County residents who placed in the event were: Ellinor Hamilton, Accident, who finished first in the women's 30-39 class of the half-marathon with a time of 1:43:19; Mike Kozier, third place, men 30-39, five-mile event, 34:04; and Randy Storey, Mtn. Lake Park, men's 30-39, 10-mile event, 72:53.

Tom Bulhack, McHenry, recorded a time of 34:32 in the five-mile race to place 10th overall. Steve Hamilton, Accident, placed 17th in the five-mile with a time of 37:35, and Charlie Himmeler was 30th with a time of 42:11.

The races were sponsored by the Upper Potomac Jaycees of Westport.

Rams Flatten Campers, 48-24

The Southern wrestling team whipped winless Allegany last Thursday evening on the Campers' mats, 48-24, although many of the points scored by both teams came via forfeits.

Recording pins for the Rams were Andrew Frost in the 112-pound class, Shane Skipper in the 125-pound class, and B.J. Shaffer in the 189-pound division.

Eric Squicquero and Jeremy Hedrick won by pins for the Campers, who dropped to 0-10 on the season.

The Rams were defeated by Northern and Valley in a triangular meet Monday night at Northern (see separate story) and they hosted Allegany and Rockwood in a tri-match last night.

Child Support Guidelines
On Thursday the Senate unanimously approved a set of guidelines that judges may use when determining the amount of money parents will pay for child support.

This bill was sent to the House as an emergency measure because Maryland is over a year late in complying with a federal directive to establish the formula. Maryland is the only state that does not have child support guidelines.

Federal officials have threatened to cut Maryland's share of welfare money because the state missed its October 1987 deadline.

The guidelines that were approved follow the "income shares model," which recommends monthly child support payments based on a formula that considers the income of both parents.

Senator Walter Baker, D-Cecil, the bill's sponsor and chairman of the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee said that the guidelines "recognize the fact that both parents are responsible for the maintenance of the family."

Corporate Raiders
Two bills concerning Maryland corporations are under consideration by the House Judiciary Committee. These bills would place restrictions on corporate raiders which would affect their ability to buy up chunks of stock and then use the voting power of that stock to seize control of the corporation.

The bills would also prohibit raiders who take over a corporation from making major changes, such as closing or selling off divisions for five years.

The head of a private economic development group feels that Maryland corporations will be extremely vulnerable to corporate takeovers unless the state adopts tougher laws to help ward off corporate raiders.

Donald Hutchinson of Maryland Economic Growth Associates said that corporate takeovers "take the value out of the corporation. They don't put value back into the corporation."

He said that it is the employees and communities that suffer the most from the effects of corporate takeovers.

Delegate William Horne, D-Talbot, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has predicted that the two bills will pass this year after being rejected the last two years.

Thirty other states have adopted new laws that protect corporations against unfriendly takeovers.

Executions of Murderers
Today the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee will consider a bill that would forbid the execution of murderers who are mentally retarded. Mental retardation is defined by the legislation as anyone with an intelligence quotient of 70 or less.

The sponsor of the bill is Senator Julian Lapiere, D-Baltimore. A similar bill was approved in the Senate last year but was killed by a House committee.

Classical Guitar Duo To Perform Feb. 3 At FSU

The renowned classical guitar duo of Julian Gray and Ronald Pearl will perform as part of the Cultural Events Series at Frostburg State University on Friday, February 3, at 8 p.m. in Pullen Auditorium on the University campus.

Having performed for audiences in New York's Carnegie Recital Hall, London's Wigmore Hall and at music series throughout the United States, the pair has become known and respected as one of the nation's leading classical guitar duos. They have also given featured performances at the National Guitar Symposium of American String Teachers Association, the International Festival of the Guitar Foundation of America and at concert series of Classical Guitar Societies of Dallas, Houston, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Lexington. In addition, they recently served as directors of the ensemble seminar, as well as guest artists, of the National Guitar Summer Workshop ensemble seminar, as well as guest artists, of the National Guitar Summer Workshop in SMOKE STOPPERS PROGRAM — A free introductory session will be offered by the Wellness Together Smoke Stoppers Program on Tuesday, January 31, at 7:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital board room. According to the National Center for Health Promotion, "No matter how many times you have tried to stop smoking before, this will be your last." Local resident Paul Wampler, pictured above, is featured this month on the Wellness Together calendar as a successful graduate of the Smoke Stoppers Program. Wampler had smoked for 20 years, up to three packs a day. He had tried quitting many times before, but couldn't deal with the constant urge to smoke. He said, "Smoke Stoppers works. Once I got through the first three days, I felt I had it made with the rubber band snap and the support of my family and the group." Smoke Stoppers is taught by former smokers.

New Milford, Connecticut. Gary and Pearl perform selections from such 19th and 20th-century composers as Fernando Sor, Andre Jolivet, Ferdinando Carulli, Leo Brouwer, Reginald Smith Brindle and Andres Segovia. They are interested in expanding the guitar duo literature and offer a number of U.S. and world premieres of new music each season through their many transcriptions of music by Brahms, Shostakovich, Schubert, Handel and De Falla.

About their music, the American String Teachers Association has proclaimed that Gary and Pearl have "demonstrated just how wonderful two fine musicians can sound on two guitars."

The performance is open to the public with a small admission fee and free to anyone with FSU identification.

Christa McAuliffe Awards Available To Top Teachers

A Maryland teacher will earn a tax-free award of about $29,500 in the 1989 Christa McAuliffe Fellowship Program which honors talented educators interested in pursuing special academic studies, research or other innovative programs.

Dr. Douglas A. MacDonald, executive director of the Maryland Higher Education Commission's Scholarship Administration, announced that all Maryland elementary and secondary teachers are eligible to contend for the award. The U.S. Department of Education will offer 150 national McAuliffe fellowships (National Talented Teacher Fellowships before being re-named to honor the late teacher-astronaut).

Last year's winner, Marilyn Lee Barrett, chairman of the science department at Washington High School in Somerset County, is using her fellowship to strengthen her knowledge of the Chesapeake Bay and to write a student curriculum on marine biology.

Applications can be obtained by calling the State Scholarship Administration at 974-5370. Proposals must be mailed no later than 4 p.m. February 21 to: Maryland Scholarship Administration, 16 Francis Street, Room 219, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

The selection of Maryland's top candidate will be made by a panel of school administrators, teachers, parents and representatives of higher education institutions.

Maris Wolff Dance Concert Slated For Sunday At FSU

Three powerful pieces of dance-drama will be included in the January 29 performance of the Maris Wolff Solo Dance Repertory at Frostburg State University at 8 p.m. in Compton auditorium.

Though not originally planned to be, the dance numbers are a trilogy including "Desert Slumber," "Child's Hour" and "Paper White Ice." All of the dances were choreographed by Wolff, who is an assistant professor of dance at Johnson State College in Vermont.

"Desert Slumber" was created as a way of coming to terms with the death of Wolff's first dance teacher; "Child's Hour" is a straight forward reminiscence of childhood dance to several of Bach's Goldberg variations; and "Paper White Ice" relates to the dancer's own experience in childbirth.

"Paper White Ice" is performed to a tape collage which includes music by Scriabin and Chopin as well as readings from a wide variety of sources including funeral epigraphs from ancient Greece and

One of the safest savings banks in the U.S. is here in Western Maryland.

Depositors today are more concerned than ever about the safety of their savings. And that's why we work hard not only to meet the safety standards set by federal regulations, but to exceed them.

According to a recent independent survey conducted by Bauer Communications, First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland rates as one of the safest institutions in the United States, based upon our profitability, our retained earnings, and our reserves, all of which far exceed the levels required by federal regulations.

So when you deposit your hard-earned dollars with us, you can save with confidence. That's important to us. Because at First Federal, you're not just a depositor—you're a neighbor.

Save with confidence with a neighbor you've trusted for years and for the years to come. First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland.

Whitewater Championship Signs Placed Along Highways

Signs have been erected by the Maryland State Highway Administration to direct visitors and spectators to the site of the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships in Garrett County. The signs, one of which is pictured above, display information that leads the way to the Championships, scheduled for June 11-25, on the Savage River near Bloomington.

This is the first time these championships will have been held in the United States. Some 600 athletes from perhaps as many as 50 countries, including Russia, are expected to compete.

George Small, Assistant District Engineer - Traffic/Western Maryland of the Maryland State Highway Administration, who also serves as vice president of Transportation for Whitewater Championships, Incorporated, indicated the signs are located as follows: along U.S. Route 48, west-bound at the one-mile marker of the Maryland/West Virginia state line in Garrett County; west-bound along U.S. Route 40/48, just east of Cumberland in Allegany County; I-70, west-bound at the Maryland/Pennsylvania line; and I-70, west-bound east of Hancock in Washington County.

"The Directional Signs boast four logos," Small said, "the Maryland flag representing the host state, (ICF) the International Canoe Federation, the sanctioning body of the event, (ACA) the American Canoe Association, host association, and (WCI) Whitewater Championships, Inc., organizing committee for the event."

Trailblazing signs have been placed along U.S. Route 48 at MD Route 220 and Route 135 in Westernport to direct visitors and spectators to the site.

Transportation will be provided by bus and whitewater express trains from fringe parking areas within the vicinity of the race site, as there are no spectator parking facilities at the site. Express trains will run on all race days from the Allegany County Fairgrounds and the Oakland Railroad Station directly to the race site.

Grantsville BPW Conducts Monthly Dinner Meeting

The Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women's Club met at the Grantsville Holiday Inn January 16 for its monthly dinner meeting.

Debbie Klotz was appointed chairperson to plan refreshments for a Card Party, benefiting the American Heart Fund, on February 4 at the Grantsville American Legion. Volunteering as co-chairperson for the club-sponsored food booth for Grantsville Days were Carol Newman and Esther Durst.

Several health issues, one in particular relating to women's health, were presented to the group by President Amy Harman. Each member was urged to contact her delegate and congressman to voice her opinions on these issues.

Carol Bass introduced Charee Reckner, director of nursing at Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home, who was chosen as the club's Young Careerist. Ms. Reckner spoke to the group on "time management." She will also represent the Grantsville BPW at the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women Young Careerist Speak-Off on Friday, February 24, at the Holiday Inn in Solomons.

It was noted that applications for scholarships will be accepted through February 15. Anyone interested should contact any Grantsville BPW member or Linda Buckel, scholarship chairperson, at 245-4287.

For more information regarding Business and Professional Women's Clubs or an application to join Grantsville BPW Club, persons should contact Sharon Lowery at 245-4315.

Accident Slates Town Convention, Town Election

The Town of Accident will hold its annual Town Convention on Tuesday, February 7, at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall. The purpose of the convention is to receive nominations for the office of mayor and two councilmen.

Those whose two-year terms of office are expiring are Mayor Wayne Fratz and Councilmen Henry Oester and Charles Strauss. In mid-term of office are Councilmen Richard Carlson and Fred Kahl.

All interested citizens are encouraged to attend the Convention.

Voter Registration

All registered voters will be eligible to vote in the March 7, 1989, Accident town election. Voters must be at least 18 years of age, a resident within the corporate limits of the Town for at least 30 days preceding the election, and registered to vote in Town of Accident elections.

Qualified persons not already registered to vote should contact the Town Clerk, Marjorie Fratz. Residents who are already registered need not register again. Mrs. Fratz noted that voter registration with the County Board of Supervisors of Elections is separate from municipal registration.

Home Repair And Maintenance Funds Available

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that $106,000 is now available for matching grants under the state's Home Maintenance and Repair (HOMAR) program.

The HOMAR program, established in 1986 by the General Assembly, supplies funds to help provide minor safety and security repairs to the homes of elderly or handicapped homeowners with very limited income.

This represents the second funding round for fiscal year 1989. Grants totalling $204,000 were awarded to 15 organizations earlier this year. A total of $310,000 was authorized by the 1988 General Assembly.

Schaefer said, "The HOMAR program demonstrates what state and local governments working together with individual citizens can do to provide a vital service. This is a true grassroots, person-to-person program. Thanks to the HOMAR program, hundreds of elderly and handicapped Marylanders, who cannot do their own repairs, receive services to help maintain their own homes and keep their independence."

The program is funded and administered through the Department of Housing and Community Development's Division of Community Assistance, but each HOMAR program is organized and managed locally. Presently there are more than 20 programs operating across the state.

Political subdivisions, local community development agencies, and nonprofit corporations may apply for up to $20,000 to establish or continue a home maintenance and repair service for the elderly and handicapped in their communities. Grants are awarded on a competitive basis, and run for 12 months. The HOMAR funds must be matched through local funding.

For a copy of the HOMAR Program Manual, an application, or more information about the pre-application training session, persons should contact: Glenda Keel, HOMAR Program Coordinator, Division of Community Assistance, DHCD, 45 Calvert Street, Annapolis, Md. 21401; telephone (301) 974-2719.

Bill's Marine Named Ski Challenger Dealer

Bill's Marine Service, Inc., Deep Creek Lake, has been designated as an exclusive Ski Challenger dealer. Ski Challenger, an affiliate of US Marine, a Brunswick Company, is a new world class tournament inboard ski boat.

Bill's Marine was awarded the dealership after a rigorous and competitive screening process. Criteria for a Ski Challenger dealership includes the quality and character of showroom and facilities, a demonstrated tradition in customer service, and a recognized commitment to the ski and marine industry.

According to Ski Challenger Vice President and General Manager Jeff Olson, "Bill's Marine Service, Inc. has qualified as a Ski Challenger because of the company's ability to provide the type of quality sales and service which closely parallels the needs of the Ski Challenger customer."

Official State Poster Contest Deadline Extended

Nearly $5,000 in prize money and trips will be awarded to the winners of the second Official Maryland State Poster Contest. Sponsored by the Printing Corporation of America, Image Dynamics, CareFirst, Maryland National Bank and the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED), the contest is open to all Maryland residents or companies. The deadline has been extended to March 30 in order to permit maximum participation by Maryland artists and photographers.

"Faces of Maryland" is the theme selected by Governor William Donald Schaefer for the poster contest. The focus is on the people of Maryland, with the theme to be depicted in camera-ready poster art or photography. Open to both firms and individuals, the contest will be judged by a panel of the sponsoring organizations' representatives.

FRIENDSVILLE W.O.W. DONATES TO HOSPICE — A check for $500 was donated recently by Camp 45, Woodmen of the World, Friendsville, to Hospice of Garrett County, Inc. Accepting the check from Leota Friend, left, president of Camp 45, and Dorothy Lowdermilk, treasurer, was Wayne Johnson, executive director of Hospice. Johnson said the funds have been used to purchase a wheelchair with removable arms and leg rests, two over-the-bed tables, lemon glycerine swabs, and non-sterile vinyl examination gloves. The wheelchair was loaned to a patient the day after it was purchased and both tables are also now being used by Hospice patients. Johnson noted his appreciation to Camp 45, as well as the other W.O.W. lodges throughout Garrett County for their continued support of Hospice, which is a non-profit, volunteer organization that aids the terminally ill and members of their families.

Designed to promote the state of Maryland and its tourist attractions, the contest offers prizes of both cash and Maryland Adventure Travel Packages. First prize is $2,500 (half in cash and half in travel); second prize is $1,500 (half in cash and half in travel); third prize is $500 cash; and seven runners-up will receive $50 each.

Winning entries will be announced in April. For an official entry blank, persons should call the Printing Corporation of America at (301) 561-5533.

Gorman VFD, Auxiliary Hold Annual Dinner

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department and Ladies' Auxiliary recently held their annual Christmas dinner at the fire hall. The covered dish dinner was attended by approximately 70 members and their families.

The Auxiliary presented the firemen with a telephone for the engine room. Each child age 12 and under received a gift from the Auxiliary.

The dinner concluded with a visit from Santa, who distributed treats to all children, young and old.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held its election of officers for 1989 at their December meeting. Elected were: president, Linda Skeweris; vice president, Ethelwyn Riley; secretary, Thelma Wilt; treasurer, Naomi Flanagan; reporter, Todd Bosley; historian, Juanita Skeweris; chaplains, Ethelwyn Riley and Naomi Flanagan; guards, Juanita Skeweris and Mabel Blamble; and auditors, Mabel Blamble, Naomi O'Haver, Katie Henline, and Ethelwyn Riley.

The Gorman Ladies' Auxiliary meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall. New members are welcome.

Construction Foremen Asked To Help GCC Officials Plan New Courses

A group of local construction supervisors and foremen will meet soon to assist administrators at Garrett Community College in developing a curriculum to educate construction workers who want to become supervisors and foremen, according to Charlie Coleman, coordinator of Technical Programs at the college.

The vocational-technical programs at the local high schools and at GCC have been providing training for years in the construction trades. However, educational opportunities for skilled construction workers to acquire the skills they need to move up into supervisory roles have been somewhat limited, according to Coleman.

"In these times of rapidly changing technology in the construction industry, 'on-the-job' experience is simply not enough for one who aspires to be hired in a supervisory capacity," Coleman said. "It is expected then, that this educational program being planned at GCC, will fill the missing link in terms of additional skills necessary to qualify for tomorrow's construction foremen positions. No longer will contractors and builders have to look outside Garrett County when it comes time to hire someone with a bit more technical knowledge and leadership potential."

In order to determine what GCC needs to teach to future construction supervisors, a group of local "experts" are being sought by the college, for their input. The "experts" are those people who are already experienced at working as supervisors and foremen in the construction industry.

The College has scheduled a two-day session, February 22 and 23, when the experts will meet with College administrators to begin planning the new curriculum. According to Coleman, most of those two days will be spent examining the role of the construction supervisor in terms of specific tasks such as a supervisor needs to perform on a day-to-day basis. From that beginning, the College will subsequently identify and plan courses which would teach those tasks and enable a construction worker to obtain a certificate or an A.A. degree in the area of construction supervision.

The College is also planning a system whereby persons with previous training or work experience may be able to receive college credit for that prior learning. This means persons with high school vocational training in construction or persons with previous construction work experience might already be eligible for college credits toward a certificate or degree at GCC.

"Experts" are still needed for the February 22 and 23 session. Interested foremen or supervisors are asked to phone the college (387-6666) and speak with Charley Coleman or Tom Kierstead, two administrators who are involved with the two-day activity.

Dr. Herman To Give Fireside Talk At GCC

"Can we know for certain that Beethoven's symphony is superior to Heavy Metal?" is one of the questions that will be addressed by Dr. Steve Herman, president of Garrett Community College, in his lecture on "Aesthetics of Art" scheduled for Monday, January 30, in the art gallery of the college at 7:30 p.m.

In his lecture, Dr. Herman will present an introduction to the field of aesthetics and the notion of the aesthetics triangle. He will discuss standards of artistic criticism, including absolutism, relativism, and subjectivism; problems of artistic criticism, including the intentional fallacy; and justifications, such as the test of time theory.

Dr. Herman, who teaches philosophy at the college, explains aesthetics as the philosophy of art. He will draw upon examples from visual and performing arts in his lecture. Dr. Herman's presentation will be the first of the series of Fireside Lectures being sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival during the late winter and spring. All of the events are open to the public, free of charge.

Garrett Students Among Who's Who

Ten students currently enrolled at Garrett Community College have been named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges." Since 1934, outstanding junior college students have been honored in this publication.

GCC students listed in the 1989 edition are: Edith Butler, Erica Couch, Loretta DeWitt, Valerie Dunithan, Jeffery Early, Clyde Fike, Rita Paugh, Rhonda Upole, Tammie Wilt, and Sonya Yelovich.

Students for Who's Who, are selected from more than 1,400 junior colleges in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Campus nominating committees and editors of this annual directory choose students based on their academic achievements, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Tuition Offered By New Horizons For Health Class

The New Horizons Program, a Single Parent/Homemaker/Project of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Continuing Education Department of GCC, has arranged to pay tuition for the Basic Nursing Skills for The Geriatric Aide and Nursing Assistant class, to be held Monday, January 30, through Wednesday, April 19, from 6 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. at the McHenry Campus of GCC. There is a requirement of 18 additional hours for clinical training on arrangement as part of the class. State certification will be given to participants upon successful completion of the class.

Tuition assistance plus $20 toward books is available to persons who qualify for the New Horizons Program. For more information or to see if one qualifies for the New Horizons Program, persons may call 387-6666, ext. 171, weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or visit the New Horizons office at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College in the old mining technology building, now known as the Center for Community and Continuing Education.

GCC Schedules Special Events For Community College Month

In observance of Governor William Donald Schaefer's designation of February as Community College Month, Garrett Community College has planned a number of special activities to help residents of the community become better acquainted with the college.

Some of these activities will be campus events to which the public will be invited; others will be feature articles in the local papers introducing people, programs, and services of the college.

One of the events planned to celebrate Community College Month will be a "Bring a Friend to College" day, on which students will be encouraged to bring a friend to visit the campus, sit in on a class, and meet some of the students, faculty and staff who are Garrett Community College. A specific date will be announced for both day and evening classes.

Another event planned for next month is a Valentine Day luncheon to be hosted by members of the AWAY group (Adult Women and You) in the college art gallery. Former AWAY members, prospective women students, and other interested women will be invited to attend this luncheon on February 14 at noon.

On Wednesday evening, February 15, the Student Government Association of the College will host a "Nacho Night" for high school students in the Student Center before the Garrett Laker-Prince George's

The Salem Children's Trust: A Home To Enjoy, Envy

by Sandra Cusack

It's a home that most would envy. There are horses, dogs and cats. There are brothers and sisters and a mother and father around to talk to whenever you have a problem. There is even a basketball court, and there is talk of a swimming pool. There are fields and woods. There is even a private music therapist.

Of course, there are problems. "Mom and Dad" make rules that have to be abided by. Television programs are limited and meals are made from natural foods, many of which are grown on the farm. So it sounds great, right? A little bit of supervision for lots of fun. The kind of setting most kids would love. But the Salem Children's Trust is not a normal family setting, although visitors are often pleasantly surprised by the congeniality and happiness faced when walking through the back door of one of the homes.

"I was always raised in the city. When I came here I really liked it. You can build new skills here that you never dreamed about doing in the city," said Lisa, a 16 year old student.

"It's really a unique concept. There is no other children's home with all the components that we try to provide here," explained Louise Sutermeister, founder of the Salem Children's Trust, Inc.

Founded in 1976, the purpose of the Trust is to provide a home for neglected or homeless children. The Trust's first home was started in Calvert County in 1977 and in 1979 the home was moved to a farm in Garrett County.

Starting out with eight kids in a farmhouse that was over 150 years old, Salem now has two new homes and 16 children. A third house has been constructed and if all goes well, another eight children will be able to move in by the end of this month.

There are eight children per house, with two sets of houseparents per house. One set of houseparents works five days, then the other set moves in for five days. Aside from the housemembers, there are 12 other staff members at Salem.

Before becoming a new resident, a youth comes for a visit to see what Salem is like. The child follows the normal routine, except he or she does not go to school. Then he or she has the option to say, "No, I don't think I would like to live here."

"IT'S REALLY PRETTY NEAT BEING HERE," said Tom Naylor about Salem, the place he has lived for six years now. Salem is a children's home founded by Louise Sutermeister. It is little surprise that he likes living at Salem as there are horses and fields to ride in, there is an inside basketball court, and there is talk of a swimming pool. Tom poses above with Kerry, one of the four horses, while Chocolate, the pony, grazes in the background. In the photo to the right, Kris Johnson plays with a Christmas present. Kris put the train together and spends hours playing with it. As Kris explained, "It's really pretty fun living here."

Almost a small village, Salem is located on a beautiful 380 acre farm on Lower New Germany Road near Grantsville. Aside from the two children's homes, there are two that are under construction. There is a main office building, located in the former farmhouse. There is a stable for horses and many riding paths. The newest addition to Salem is the maintenance building. There is a basketball court — one of Louise's pet projects — located inside the building.

Plans are underway for a grandparent's house. The house will have three bedrooms for six grandparents. "The grandparents will actually live here and will share their wisdom and experience," Louise explained. "We hope to have the house done by this summer, so that the grandparents can move in. It will have to be people that want to live in Garrett County in the winter and like to be around children," Louise said.

The kids, overall, are very happy at Salem. They have chores to do, and are rewarded on a point system. The more points that are accumulated, the more privileges they are allowed.

One of the most exciting privileges is getting to go to camp at Faith Ranch in Ohio.

At Faith Ranch, each visitor is assigned a horse to ride, feed and care for during their visit.

Angie, a 14 year-old student, has lived at Salem for a year and four months. She said she eventually would like to live somewhere like Faith Ranch when she gets older. "I want to be a horse breeder, have my own farm and ride horses. I also like to help people."

Aleatha, a 12 year-old student, likes to read, especially mysteries. She also likes to play basketball, softball, roller skate and ride horses. She has some complaints about Salem, mainly that she doesn't like the food. But she has lived at Salem for a year now and does like her houseparents.

Tina is a 13 year old student with pen-pals in New York and England. When she turns 18, she wants to go to London and be an actress. "We have games like pool and foosball, but when we don't go out that can be boring. I'm going to start ballet and I like boys," she said with a big grin.

Lisa, 16, said "It's a nice area and there are people to talk to if something's wrong, but you aren't bothered by a bunch of people."

She has lived at Salem for a year and five months. "I want to go to college and become a computer programmer. The houseparents can help me to choose and build up my career."

Jeff, a 15 year old student, likes anything athletic. He likes to play football and basketball and wants to be a basketball star. He also likes snowball fights and board games such as Monopoly or Clue.

Timmy, 12, likes football, basketball, wrestling and chess. He's going out for wrestling and said, "Yeah, I think I'm gonna make it (the team). For a children's home, it's (Salem) pretty nice."

Louise said that the children sometimes leave Salem and go to live in foster homes, but they are welcome to stay at Salem as long as they like, and they are always welcomed back.

Tom, 17, has lived at Salem for six years now. "I've been here the longest, and I'm also the oldest," he said.

Tom is an assistant in the band at Northern High School. He wants to play percussion in the band next year. His favorite classes are music and computer science. Tom is certified with the Camp Horseman Association as an assistant instructor and enjoys summers at Faith Ranch where he works as a counselor and instructor.

"There have been a lot of changes for the better. There are more kids coming in and better facilities," Tom said. And of course his favorite part is that there are more horses.

Kris, 12, said his favorite subject is lunch, with science coming in second as the most interesting subject. He said he is "always reading, mostly mystery and adventure stories."

Kris, although only 12, knows exactly what he wants to do with his life. He plans to go into the military, get a college education and then come back to Salem to help the kids that live there.

When asked why, he explained that, "For one, I know what kids here feel like cause I live here and I know what it feels like."

"It's fun at times to live here and it's a nice place. But," he admits, "it's occasionally nerve wracking when we're in trouble, but not often. There's not much to do when it's a rainy day, but I do like being in the woods and all."

Overall, one has a happy, almost envious feeling upon leaving Salem. The kids are happy, but have the normal gripes and complaints, such as "I don't like the food," and "I don't get to do what I want."

Salem provides many opportunities for the children and as Tom pointed out, "Really, it's pretty neat being here!"

The earth is not perfectly round. Distances measured through the poles are shorter than those at the equator.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Sanders Jr. of Pleasant Valley.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown by Eva Haynal Forsyth of New York. The satin gown had puff sleeves and a net overlay, and was accented with sequins and pearls. The dress also had a princess waistline and cathedral train.

The bride wore a fingertip-length veil with a head band trimmed with sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and daisies accented with baby's breath.

Jennifer Sisler, of Oakland, friend of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Eileen Whitehair, Bayard, W.Va.; Gloria Burns, Mtn. Lake Park; and Renee Fries, Oakland, sister-in-law of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore matching dusty rose full-length gowns trimmed in lace. They carried bouquets similar to the bride's.

Eric Slinger, Myersville, served as the best man. Ushers were Scott Sanders, Baltimore, cousin of the groom; Jim Brown, Baltimore, nephew of the bride; and Jim Fries, Oakland, brother of the bride.

The flower girl and ring-bearer were Emily Nemuth, cousin of the groom, and Timmy Burns, both of Oakland.

Following the ceremony, the couple traveled by limousine to the reception at the Will o' The Wisp, Deep Creek Lake.

The cake was baked by Vickie Smith, of Oakland, and the music was provided by Freddie Stoner, also of Oakland.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at their home in Pleasant Valley.

Following the wedding, the couple took a honeymoon trip to Florida.

Miss Yommer To Wed Mr. Silbaugh

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Yommer, Grantsville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Julie Ann, to Roger Lee Silbaugh, son of Mrs. Luetta and the late Harvey (Ford) Silbaugh, of Confluence, Pa.

Miss Yommer is a 1988 graduate of Northern High School, and is currently attending International Beauty School in Cumberland.

Mr. Silbaugh is a 1987 graduate of Turkeyfoot Valley Area High School, and is employed by Interstate Hardware, Inc., Hazelton W.Va.

A July 29 wedding is being planned.

Mellingers Celebrate 67th Event

Thirty-one members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mellinger Sr., met at their home in Pleasant Valley on January 8 to celebrate the couple's 67th wedding anniversary.

John Mellinger and Vauda Giotfelty were married by the Rev. E.E. Campbell at St. John's Lutheran Parsonage in Bittinger on January 7, 1922. They are the parents of nine children: Mildred Crane and Amelia Wolf, Pleasant Valley;

Lois Williams and William, Baltimore; John Jr., and Clarence, Swanton; Calvin, Loch Lynn; James, Terra Alta; and Harold (Pete), deceased. They have 26 grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellinger received many congratulatory phone calls and cards, including cards from Congressman Beverly Byron and President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

Griffith, Frazee Couples Honored On 40th Wedding Anniversary

Two Friendsville couples celebrated their 40th wedding anniversaries on December 25. The couples, Harold and Mabel Griffith and Ray and Audrey Frazee, served as witnesses for each other, and were married at the Bear Creek Brethren Church, Accident, by the Rev. Alonzo P. Pike.

The two couples were honored by their children and families on January 15 with a dinner, champagne, and a decorated cake at the Oak Hurst Tea Room, Somerset, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith are the parents of two children, Sharon Griffith Buckel, who resides in Bittinger with her husband, Gary and daughters, Candi and Leslie; and Jim Griffith, who resides in Morgantown with his wife, Patty and daughters, Trina and Jamie.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazee are also the parents of two children; Debbie Frazee Giotfelty, who resides in McHenry with her husband, Jim and daughter, Tracey; and Nancy Frazee Thomas, who resides in Friendsville with her husband David and children, Cynthia and Matthew.

Co. Homemakers Encourage Local Highway Safety

The Garrett County Extension Homemakers, as affiliates of their state and national organization and the Cooperative Extension Service, have joined in the effort to increase highway safety.

According to the Maryland Vital Statistics Annual Report in 1984, Garrett County numbers fourth in deaths by motor vehicle-related accidents in all of Maryland. Because of this, Extension Homemakers have been actively involved in promoting adherence to the new seatbelt use law, and are working on two projects designed to increase awareness of safe driving.

Club members and Extension agents distributed 5,000 red ribbons with directions to tie them to the left car door handle or car antenna to signify safe driving, especially during the holidays.

The second project involved sewing covers for the shoulder strap section of the seatbelt. The covers are of imitation sheepskin, and are designed to be more comfortable against the side of the neck than the edge of the nylon strap. Vel-Cro closures were used for easy removal to wash the covers.

The covers, along with a brochure, were distributed by groups of Extension Homemakers at both Northern and Southern High Schools to student drivers wearing their seatbelts. An informal count revealed high seatbelt use by students at Southern. Of approximately 70 student drivers, 61 persons wore seatbelts when entering the school parking lot. At Northern, many did not wear seatbelts, and of those who did, most were juniors.

Observation at two grocery store parking lots revealed high seatbelt use among young and adult women entering the parking lot. Out of 66 cars, 54 persons had their seatbelts fastened.

Anyone wishing to participate in this project or other Extension or Homemakers activities should call 334-1990.

ENCOURAGING SEATBELT USE — The Garrett County Extension Homemakers recently sewed covers for the shoulder strap section of seatbelts. The covers were given to both Northern and Southern High School students who were wearing their

Debris Burning Suggested During Winter Months

Landowners outside of incorporated towns who are interested in burning brush and debris should take advantage of the present winter weather in Garrett County, according to a spokesman for the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service. According to the Open Air Burning Regulations, Title 8, Department of Natural Resources, Subtitle 07, Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, "burning may occur at anytime when the ground is covered with snow, if all other requirements are met."

The spokesman said that open air burning regulations apply to activities in woodland and within 200 feet of woodland, or a flammable material that could carry fire to the woodland. There should be a firebreak at least 10 feet wide around the fire and adequate personnel and equipment present to control the fire. The fire should be out cold before all personnel leave the scene.

Landowners that wish to do some open air burning while the ground is covered with snow should contact the Garrett County Office of Emergency Management at the non-emergency number (334-1930) prior to burning. "This will hopefully reduce the chances of one of the local fire companies being called out on a false alarm," the spokesman said.

Summer Jobs Available With Forests, Parks

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service in Garrett County announced it will hire over 50 persons for summer jobs at New Germany, Big Run, Deep Creek Lake, Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks.

The jobs include building and grounds maintenance, small construction projects, fee collections, office duties, interpretive programming and seasonal rangers. To qualify, applicants must be able to read and write, provide their own transportation to work, be physically able to perform the required tasks and be available to work a variety of shift schedules including weekends, holidays, evenings and nights. Applications will be accepted from persons who must be at least 16 years of age as of May 1, 1989. However, first consideration will be given to applicants who are at least 18 years of age. Applications will be accepted until February 24, 1989 for first consideration. Late applications may be considered to meet future needs.

Complete information, job descriptions and job applications are available only through Job Service, 216 East Alder Street, Oakland; telephone: 301-334-3972.

A son was born Saturday, January 21, to Lawrence Wayne and Beulah Ann Newport Ford, Oakland.

A daughter was born Monday, January 23, to Norman Edward II and Rochele Marie Miller Oester, Accident.

A son was born Wednesday, January 25, to Carlton Henry and Gloria Louise Hinebaugh Reams, Oakland.

There were 65 admissions, 56 discharges for the past week. The census this morning was 63.

Allan and Robin Taylor and son Curt announce the birth of the newest member of the family, Drew Warren. He was born December 31, 1988, at Cumberland Memorial Hospital, weighing seven pounds, two ounces and 19 and one-quarter inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey, Swanton. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Taylor, Swanton. Maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Mary E. Harvey, Great Capon, W.Va., and formerly of Swanton. Paternal great-grandfather is Mr. Stanley Virts, Swanton.

Chester Stacy Wins Geography Contest At SMS

Chester Stacy, an eighth grade student at Southern Middle School, won the school's Geography Bee during the week of January 16 and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, where students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the new National Geography Bee that is being sponsored by National Geographic WORLD, the Society's magazine for children.

The Bee was kicked off the week of January 9 in thousands of schools around the United States and in four territories. The school winners, including Stacy, will now take a written test. Up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in the state Bee April 7.

The National Geographic Society will fly all first place winners from the state Bees, along with their teacher escorts, to Washington, D.C., to participate in the National Geography Bee finals on May 18 and 19. The first place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

The Bee featured questions on the broad subject of geography — the study of the earth and its inhabitants. All of the questions could be answered with a word or simple phrase.

The National Geographic Society developed the National Geography Bee in response to a growing concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States. A nine-country Gallup Survey conducted for the Society last May found that people in the United States from the ages 18 to 24, the youngest group surveyed, knew less about geography than young people in any of the other countries.

VICA Skills Winners To Attend State Competition

The Southern Garrett VICA Skills Olympics were held recently at Southern High School. The winners of the Skills Olympics will be going to the state competitions to be held near Baltimore in April.

VICA is short for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The Olympics featured contests in many different areas, including public speaking and mechanical skills like drafting and electronics.

"The contests went extremely well and I thought the students made a good impression on those who attended the Olympics," said Steve Cosner, VICA advisor, of the recent Skills Olympics.

The extemporaneous speaking winner was Mike Hornyak. Donnie Mason won the prepared speech contest.

"The speeches that I judged were impressive. All of the young men had poise, good vocal qualities and personality. Their work was excellent and it was difficult to judge them," said Jane Avery, one of the judges of the extemporaneous speaking and the prepared speech contests.

In other competitions, winners are: Job Interview, Mike Flinn; Job Skill Demonstration, James Pysell, Melissa Uphole, Tim Frey, Jamie Beeman, with J.J. Stratton as an alternate; Residential Wiring, Mike Stemple; Cabinet Making, Robbie Reckart; Plumbing, Bill Seeders; Carpentry, Phil Hinebaugh; Architectural Drafting, Scott Kapel; Mechanical Drafting, Ben Humberson; Computer Aided Drafting, Greg Few; Home Improvement, Doug Lewis; Cake Decorating, Tammy Evans and Angela Biser; Auto Mechanics, Jeff Helbig; and Electronics, Roger Helbig.

A shine tool held a separate contest in welding and precision machining. Winners are Brian

ELECTRONICS WINNER Roger Helbig works on a continuity tester for the Electronics Competition for the Southern Garrett VICA Skills Olympics. Helbig won the competition and will go on to the state competitions to be held April 15 at the Western Vo-Tec and the Center of Applied Technology North near Baltimore.

Richter in welding and Vernon Sweitzer in precision machining.

Winners of the VICA Skills Olympics have qualified for the state competitions to be held April 15 at the Western Vo-Tec and the Center of Applied Technology North near Baltimore.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to represent our club in the state competitions," said Roger Helbig, Electronics winner.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW *****

U.S. Navy Seaman Recruit Anjanette Cosner, daughter of Juanita R. Cosner, Route 4, Deer Park, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During Cosner's eight-week training cycle, she studied general military subjects designed to prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Cosner's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1988 graduate of Southern High School, she joined the Navy in September 1988.

Tech. Sgt. Dennis G. Swartzentruber has been decorated with the Air Force Commendation Medal in Japan.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

He is a Morse systems supervisor with the 6920th Electronic Security Group.

Swartzentruber is the son of Delbert D. and Doris E. Swartzentruber, Route 1, Oakland.

His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Lee T. and Lorraine C. Holfeltz of 5710 W. Highway 160, Monte Vista, Colo.

The sergeant is a 1974 graduate of Southern High School.

The U.S. Army has announced the retirement of Lt. Col. James D. Moreland, son of Carl J. and Myrtle L. Moreland, Star Route, Mount Storm, W. Va., after more than 23 years of service.

Moreland served as a senior military training analyst at White Sands Missile Range, N.M., prior to retiring.

His wife, Wanda, is the daughter of Gladys Messer of 9400 Stonewall, El Paso, Texas.

In 1960, Moreland graduated from Bayard High School, W. Va. He received a master's degree in 1979 from Webster College, Kansas City, Kan.

STRAUSS HONORED — The Garrett County Forestry Board held a dinner meeting last month at the Gathering Restaurant at the Wisp Ski Resort to honor Charles Strauss, who resigned from the Garrett Board in October. Strauss had been a member since 1976, and had served as chairperson since 1981. He had served as director of the Forest Conservation Workshop for seven years, and had been instrumental in the success of the past programs. Strauss was presented with a hand held sun to compass with an inscription. Pictured above, left to right, are Mrs. Mary Strauss, Charles Strauss, and John Forman, who presented the compass.

Deer Park Couple Survive Plane Crash On Rt. 48

A power failure aboard a small airplane forced a Deer Park couple to make an emergency landing on Route 48 near Bruceon Mills early Tuesday morning.

James Flanigan, 55, and his wife Sandra, 44, were taken to Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W. Va., according to Preston County Deputy Sheriff Charles W. Haney.

Mrs. Flanigan told police that her husband was attempting to land the plane on the interstate, when a gust of wind caused the Cessna 172 to strike a guardrail. The small craft then traveled down a small embankment, coming to rest in a field. Deputy Haney, a resident of Bruceon Mills, said the plane was destroyed by fire after the couple escaped from the wreckage.

The couple was able to escape from the craft and were able to rescue one suitcase. James Flanigan attempted to extinguish the flames with the fire extinguisher, but was unsuccessful. The Flanigans were apparently traveling to Lancaster, Ohio, from Oakland.

Deputy Haney said that investigators from the Federal Aviation Administration were coming to the area to determine the cause of the crash, which is not yet known.

State Senate To Consider Coal Industry Bills

Yesterday the State Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee considered three coal industry bills that were filed at the request of the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Mines by Senator Clarence Blout, chairman of the EEA committee.

The first bill focuses specifically on Garrett County because Maryland deep mining is done only in this county. The bill would change the public advertisement requirements for certain reclamation plans associated with deep mining of coal.

The bill would end a requirement that the DNR secretary seek a recommendation from the state Land Reclamation Committee to approve specified reclamation plans.

It would also require deep mining permit applicants to publish certain notices and provide an opportunity for the public to submit written comments or make comments at a hearing.

The bill would also continue to give the bureau authorization to provide protection from mine subsidence and require that the deep mine operators replace water supplies that are negatively affected by the mining.

The measure would also eliminate annual inspections of completed or abandoned mine sites.

According to the bill, protection of subsidence is required on all state-owned land, commercial and non-commercial buildings used by the public, public property, "other functional structures unable to withstand subsidence damage without endangering their intended purpose," and "all lands where the bureau determines that support is necessary in order to prevent unavoidable adverse impacts to the water resources of the state."

PRESERVATION OF THE DRANE HOUSE — In order to comply with certain regulations governing grant monies, tree removal operations began this week at the site of the Drane House in Accident, probably the oldest standing house in the county. The Accident Cultural and Historical Society, in cooperation with the Mayor and Town Council of Accident, is in charge of the planned renovation of the structure, which is projected to cost approximately $80,000. A grant of $40,000 is anticipated from the Maryland Historical Trust and the town government has pledged an additional $10,000. The Society is also soliciting and collecting donations from local businesses and individuals. Listed on the National Register of Historical Places, the house was constructed around 1800 by James Drane, a tobacco farmer in the Prince George's County area before emigrating to Garrett County. Persons wishing to contribute to the project should make checks payable to the Drane House Preservation Fund and mail them to P.O. Box 190, Accident, MD 21520. Operating chain saws in the above photo are Ron Beitzel and Dan Warnick.

Commissioners Express Land Bill Concerns To Board Of Public Works

Garrett County Commissioners John Braskey and Elwood Groves, Delegate George Edwards, and Senator John Bamabus had a private meeting with the Maryland Board of Public Works yesterday morning in Annapolis to express their opinions on the administration's proposal to do away with the 1986 land law which limits the state from obtaining additional land in Garrett County without releasing for sale an equal amount of state-owned land.

The commissioners had a similar meeting the previous week with Dr. Torrey Brown, secretary of the Department of Natural Resources, and members of the governor's staff. However, after two of the four revisions in the proposed legislation were rejected by the state, the local elected officials requested to meet directly with the Board of Public Works, which consists of Governor Wm. Donald Schaefer, Comptroller Louis Goldstein, and Treasurer Lucille Maurer.

Rescott Found Competent To Stand Trial

The Associated Press incorrectly reported last week that a Baltimore County woman who allegedly smothered her two sons in Cumberland last October was found incompetent to stand trial for the crimes.

Anna Maria Rescott, 30, of Catonsville, was reportedly found not responsible for her action at the time of the offense because of a mental disorder. However, following an evaluation by a psychiatrist and psychologist at Clifton T. Perkins Hospital Center, she was found competent to stand trial.

State's Attorney Robert W. Hamilton reported that, although there will be some type of proceeding to determine whether or not Rescott is guilty of two counts of first degree murder, there probably will not be a jury trial unless it is requested by Rescott's attorney.

Pre-trial motions are scheduled for early this month in Allegany County Circuit Court. Hamilton noted, however, that he expects defense counsel to seek a postponement because of a scheduling conflict.

Rescott was arrested by state police at the Holiday Inn in Grantsville, where she was found with self-inflicted wounds.

Rash Of Influenza Greatly Affects Garrett County School Attendance

A major rash of influenza has descended upon Garrett County during the past few weeks, causing much higher than normal absenteeism in local schools and workplaces.

"The rate of absenteeism is running high in all the schools, compared to what the normal is," said Al Coviello, director of Pupil Services for the Garrett County Board of Education. "Our absentee rate on an average is around five or six percent. One school (Route 40 Elementary) reported a third of its students out with the flu, so it is considerable."

There are two types of the influenza virus, type A and type B. The Garrett County Health Department suspects that Influenza B is the type being experienced in the area.

Jackie Snelson, director of Personal Health Services at the health department, said that cultures have been taken and have been sent to the state health department to determine the type of flu that it is.

"The symptoms indicate that it is Influenza B. A case of Influenza A was confirmed in Montgomery County," Snelson said. "This flu seems to mostly affect children. The schools that have been hardest hit are the elementary and middle schools."

Rawlings Mishap Slightly Injures Grantsville Girl

A young Grantsville girl was injured yesterday afternoon in a three-vehicle collision on U.S. Route 220 in Rawlings.

Dena Maria Filiaggi was treated and released from Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, following the 3:43 p.m. mishap.

According to Maryland State Police at LaVale, the mishap occurred when the pick-up truck driven by Filiaggi's mother, Debra K. Filiaggi, 37, struck two vehicles from behind.

Police reported that a truck operated by William A. Kelley, 48, of Purcellville, Va., was stopped to wait for a school bus. A car driven by Donna M. Cambell, 48, Weirton, W. Va., had stopped her car behind Kelley's when it was struck in the rear by the Filiaggi vehicle. The Cambell vehicle was then pushed into the back of Kelley's truck.

Filiaggi told police that she was unable to stop because her foot slipped off the brake pedal. She was charged with failing to reduce her speed to avoid a collision.

The mishap was investigated by Tpr. Scott Trice.

Public Hearing On New Zoning Regulations Set

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland has announced that it will hold a public hearing on its proposed new zoning regulations on Tuesday, February 7, at 7 p.m. at Town Hall.

The hearing is required by Section 1102A of the Town's current Zoning Ordinance. The Town proposes to repeal its current regulations and replace them with newly drafted regulations, which the Mayor and Town Council have been working on for approximately two years, according to a release from the Council.

The new ordinance is a product of a joint effort of the Mayor and Town Council, the Oakland Planning Commission, members of the Board of Appeals, and members of the public who made input to the Town. It was drafted by Town Attorney Robert E. Watson.

Although the new regulations deal with the same subject matter dealt with by the old one, they propose to make many changes in the Town's zoning laws. Copies of the ordinance are available at Town Hall.

The new regulations make administrative changes as well as substantive changes, and tighten the Town's zoning authority, according to the release. They also incorporate changes in the law since the adoption of the existing ordinance on June 3, 1974.

The Town's Zoning Ordinance includes the regulations which are the subject of the February 7th hearing, as well as the Town's official zoning map. The regulations, legislative and administrative in nature, provide the rules under which the zoning process is carried out.

The map is an official designation of the zoning status of all of the land within the corporate limits of the Town of Oakland. The hearing will not deal with the zoning map, or the specific zoning designation of any property within the Town, but merely concerns itself with proposed new regulations. No formal proposal for any changes in the zoning map, or any reclassification of the zoning of any individual properties within the Town, are included in the current proposals.

The proposed new regulations, according to Attorney Watson, deal with all aspects of the use of land within the Town.

Rita Zietak Crowned Ms. Senior Maryland; To Vie For National Title

"To be happy and make others around me happy."

Such is the philosophy on life of Rita Zietak, a resident of Accident and a participant at the Flowery Vale Senior Center, who was crowned Ms. Senior Maryland 1989 last Thursday. Ms. Zietak will now represent the state of Maryland in the Ms. Senior America finals in April, which will feature winners from 40 participating states. The national event will be held in Atlantic City, N.J.

Ms. Zietak is a native of Pittsburgh's south side, where she once worked as a physical therapy aide in Southside Hospital. She also worked for the Pittsburgh City Water Department and served as a committee woman in Pittsburgh for 20 years. In 1972, she decided to train to become a beautician.

After vacationing in Garrett County for some 20 years and falling in love with the area, Ms. Zietak decided to relocate here about 12 years ago. She is the widow of the late Eddie Zietak and the mother of two children: Linda Sisson, of Pennsylvania, and Sgt. Ronald Zietak, of Missouri. She also has four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

According to Adina Brode, director of the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging, Ms. Zietak is "a very gracious lady" who says she never could have won the state title without the support of her friends at the Flowery Vale Senior Center, particularly Loretta DeWitt and Cora Bowser, plus Mary Thomas, supervisor of Flowery Vale, who accompanied her to the pageant and helped her prepare for the event. Among the businesses that sponsored her in the effort were: Point View Inn, Century 21, Country Time Realty, Inlet Motor Lodge, Deep Creek Pharmacy, Plaza Deli, Beverage Shoppe, Silkscreener Deep Creek Video, Hair Facts, Spanky's Accident Liquors, Rush Services, Humberson Homes and Real Estate, Lakeview Exxon/Auto Parts, Accident Garage, One-Ten Hair Design, Stanya Coal Company, Lemley Innsbruck, Twila's Old Mill Grill, and Col. and Mrs. R.C. Browning.

As part of the competition, Ms. Zietak was asked her philosophy on life and her response was: "To be happy and make others around me happy. I believe I can help the younger generation and the older ones by letting them know I'm there if they ever need me. I'm looking forward to my years ahead, enjoying my years now, and I have my memories. I believe if you give of yourself and have faith in God, no matter what."

Testimony Well Underway In Murder Trial Of Paul W. Ferrell

Prosecution testimony is well underway in the murder trial of Paul William Ferrell, which began last Thursday in Grant County (W. Va.) Circuit Court. Jury selection began on Wednesday, and was completed on Thursday.

The former Grant County Sheriff's Deputy faces charges of first-degree murder, kidnapping and third-degree arson. The charges stem from the February 17, 1988, disappearance of Catherine Denise Ford, 19, of Gorman.

The former Grant County Sheriff's Deputy faces charges of first-degree murder, kidnapping and third-degree arson. The charges stem from the February 17, 1988, disappearance of Catherine Denise Ford, 19, of Gorman.

Dottie Reall and Patricia Parker, who worked with Miss Ford at the Old Mill Grill, the Ford family restaurant in Gorman, testified that Cathy had received phone calls at the restaurant. The prosecution maintains that the phone calls deceived her and led her away from the restaurant. According to testimony, Cathy said she was going to meet a magistrate in Mount Storm, W. Va. She left and was not seen again.

Parker stated that she and Cathy's mother, Rose, warned her not to go. She noted that Cathy would not tell them who she was meeting or where she was going, because the caller said he would lose his job. Parker said she asked Cathy when she would be back, and said she would return in an hour. Parker asked, "What if you're not back in an hour?"

According to Parker, Cathy's reply was, "Then come looking for me."

Three witnesses testified that they saw Cathy drive toward Mount Storm on February 17, and one saw her turn off U.S. Route 50 West onto Bismarck Road, where Ferrell rented a trailer.

The prosecution contends that Ferrell placed calls to several area women, who testified that they received calls from a male asking them to meet him on the Wilson-Corona Road for various reasons.

Tammy Kitzmiller testified that she received a call at work from a man asking for her sister's (Gina Nesselrodt) telephone number at work. She stated that she gave the man the number, believing the caller was Paul Ferrell. She said, "At the time of the call, I thought it was Paul Ferrell. I've known Paul Ferrell for a long time, and trusted him completely."

Friday

Cathy's mother, Rosalie Ford, was one of 17 witnesses called to testify before the jury on Friday.

Mrs. Ford said Cathy had told her of phone calls she received from an undercover policeman, who allegedly said authorities would be sending an under-aged person into the restaurant to attempt to purchase beer.

Cathy reportedly told her mother she had to go to Mount Storm to meet a magistrate. Mrs. Ford stated that she tried to talk her out of going, saying, "I don't like the sound of it."

Cathy's reply was, "Mom, I'll be OK."

At one point, DiBenedetto asked Mrs. Ford if she believed her daughter was dead, and she said, "Yes, my daughter's dead. If she were alive she'd be here."

Cathy's brother, Gary, also testified Friday, stating that it was unlike his sister to go away without contacting her family. The majority of Friday's testimony was from women who had received suspicious telephone calls from a male who attempted to lure them to a specified location in the vicinity of the Bismarck Road in Grant

Dr. H.C. Ashby, Optometrist, Dies Saturday

Dr. Harold C. Ashby, 62, an Oakland optometrist whose practice spanned 37 years, died Saturday, January 28, 1989, at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W. Va.

Born in Oakland December 5, 1926, he was a son of the late Jesse J. Ashby and Edna (Edwards) Ashby. Dr. Ashby graduated from Oakland High School in 1943. He attended Potomac State College and West Virginia Wesleyan College and graduated from Southern College of Optometry, Memphis, Tenn., in 1950.

He practiced in Oakland from 1951 until his death. He was a Navy veteran, having served from 1943 to 1946 on the USS Brooklyn and the USS Los Angeles. He was stationed in China and Hong Kong. He was a member and Past Master of Oakland Lodge 192, AF&AM, Cumberland Consistory, Scottish Rite Bodies, Ali Ghan Shrine Temple, and was a member of the Royal Order of Jesters.

He was also a Grand Inspector of the Grand Lodge of Maryland. He was a member of Garrett Lodge 113, K of P, the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, a member and former president of the Garrett County Historical Society, and a member of the American Optometry Association. He was also a member of the National Ski Patrol and a member and past patrol leader of the Wisp Ski Patrol. Dr. Ashby was a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Martha Lou Ashby; four sons, C. Stephen Ashby, Springdale, Pa.; James C. Ashby, Mtn. Lake Park; Mark R. Ashby, Accident; and William S. Ashby, Germantown; two sisters, Mrs. Eloise A. Andrus, The Netherlands, and Mrs. Crystal Elliott, Carmel, Cal.; and eight grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home.

A service was conducted Tuesday at St. Paul's United Methodist Church with the Rev. Dr. Allen Ridenour officiating. Interment was in Oakland Cemetery.

A Masonic graveside service was conducted by members of Oakland Lodge No. 192.

The family requests that memorials take the form of contributions to the charity of the donor's choice.

MS. SENIOR MARYLAND 1989 was crowned last Thursday at the Flowery Vale Senior Center. AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION — The Branch Action Committee of Garrett County and the Western Maryland Division of the American Heart Association met recently to finalize plans for the Business and Residential Campaigns to be held during National Heart Month in February. The American Heart Association says its mission is to reduce early death and disability due to heart disease and stroke. "In the past five years we have seen a significant decrease in the number of deaths in Garrett County due to heart disease," said Francis Grimm, Branch Action Committee Chairman and vice president of First United National Bank and Trust. "However, more still needs to be done. The dedicated volunteers who help with the Heart Campaign really do make a difference." Anyone who is interested in helping with this cause is asked to contact the local Heart Office at 724-4011. Pictured above, left to right, are: Mrs. Ward Ashby; Mrs. Dorothy Cathell, Residential Chairman and Trust Officer at the First United National Bank and Trust; H. Frankie Greise, division director; Elizabeth Hudson, development specialist for the American Heart Association — Western Maryland Division; Ward Ashby, business campaign volunteer; Francis Grimm, Branch Action Chairman and Vice President at the First United National Bank and Trust; and Jack King, manager of Human Resources at Bausch and Lomb, Inc.

State Police Investigate Thefts, DOP's

Several thefts and destruction of property incidents this week are under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at McHenry.

Numerous ski thefts were reported at the Wisp Resort. Kristin C. Manton reported that her skis were taken around 1 p.m. on Sunday when she left them unattended at the lodge. The report is under the investigation of Tfc. R.M. Hershberger.

Mary E. Scheels, McLean, Va., reported that her skis and bindings were taken on Sunday afternoon. The total loss was valued at $330.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is investigating, and reported that there are no suspects or witnesses.

Nathaniel B. Moody, Wheaton, reported that his skis and bindings, valued at $490, were stolen on Saturday between 8 and 9 p.m. There is a suspect and the investigation is continuing.

The ski rental department at the Wisp reported that someone took a pair of skis and bindings belonging to the Wisp on Saturday night. Total loss was valued at $230.

Tpr. J.K. Moore is investigating.

Eric J. McDonald reported that his skis were stolen on Saturday between noon and 1 p.m. Tfc. R.M. Hershberger is investigating.

Thomas R. Dale reported that his 1974 Chevrolet pickup truck was stolen from Route 38 near Route 135 on Monday night. The vehicle was recovered in Allegany County on Tuesday.

Cpl. C.R. Smith investigated the incident.

A destruction of property was reported at the Wisp Resort on Sunday between 4 p.m. and midnight.

Five locker doors in the ski locker area of the hotel were reportedly damaged, with the doors broken from the hinges. Damages were valued at $100.

Tpr. J.K. Moore is investigating.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger is investigating the report of a destruction of property at Whitacre Auto Sales.

According to reports, someone put sugar and antifreeze in the gas tanks of several vehicles on the lot.

A dusk-to-dawn light at the State Highway Administration salt shed on Route 135 was reportedly shot out, as well as a red light at the intersection of Route 135 and Route 495. A sign at the county trash pick-up was also shot at. The investigation is continuing.

Sheriff's Dept. Notes Arrests

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reported the arrests of several persons this week.

Donald Robert Johnson, 41, Harper's Ferry, W.Va., was arrested on a warrant sworn by David Welch, AA Bail Bonds, Cumberland. Welch swore out the warrant after Johnson failed to appear for court in December. Detective D.W. Tucker served the warrant.

Johnson was served with a bench warrant from Judge Jack Turney for failure to appear for a trial December 10 in Garrett County District Court. The warrants were served Tuesday, January 24. Johnson is currently being held in the Garrett County Jail in lieu of $1,000.

Robert Abernathy, 37, Oakland, was served with an arrest warrant for a charge of battery. Leonard L. Beeman filed the charge. Deputy R.P. Shaffer served the warrant. Abernathy is currently being held in the Garrett County Jail in lieu of $500 bond.

Roy Samuel Williams, 24, Swanton, was charged with driving without a registration and wilfully disturbing the neighborhood. Deputy D.L. Crossland filed the charges after an incident which occurred January 26.

William Mahaffey, 33, Oakland, was served a body attachment for failure to appear January 23 in Garrett County District Court to answer charges filed by Fairfax Concrete. Deputy D.M. Stoner served the warrant.

Michael Philip Meyer, 24, Winchester, Va., was served with a bench warrant for failure to appear for a trial in Garrett County District Court January 5. Detective R.L. Sines served the warrant.

Michael Allen Geroski, 29, Montrose, W.Va., was served with a bench warrant for failure to appear for a trial April 21, 1987, in Garrett County District Court. Deputy D.M. Stoner served the warrant Friday, January 27.

Two Injured In Local Mishaps

Two persons were injured in local motor vehicle accidents during the last week.

A two-vehicle accident occurred last Wednesday afternoon on Route 495 near Maple Grove Road.

According to reports filed by Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, Karen S. Beitzel, 23, of Grantsville, was operating a 1983 Chrysler, and attempted to turn left onto Maple Grove Road.

Beitzel reportedly turned into the path of a 1987 Ford Ranger driven by David E. Maust, 32, also of Grantsville. The Maust vehicle struck Beitzel's car in the right side, pushing it into the guardrail.

Beitzel was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a private vehicle following the mishap, where a spokesman reported that she was treated and released. Maust and a passenger in the Beitzel vehicle, Ashley D. Beitzel, 1, also of Grantsville, were reportedly not injured.

NEW CHAIR LIFT — The Kitzmiller Community Building's new chair lift was dedicated to the late Dr. Ralph Calenderella Tuesday. The joint efforts of the town of Kitzmiller, the Kitzmiller Lions Club and the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging, operated under the auspices of Community Action Committee, Inc., made the new chair lift possible. Gerald Iman, after recognizing that many senior citizens and other individuals had trouble reaching the community building, approached the above organizations to enlist their aid in purchasing the new chair lift. The installation of the chair lift will provide many citizens of Kitzmiller with access to the community center. Pictured above, front row, left to right, are: Virginia Pyle; Adina Brode, director of the Area Agency on Aging; second row: Ron McKinney, president of the Kitzmiller Lions Club; Barbara Hornyak, OAA coordinator. Area Agency on Aging; and Gerald Iman, president of Kitzmiller Town Council.

The mishap was investigated by Tfc. G.R. Chaney, who charged Beitzel with failing to yield the right of way and a seat belt violation.

A two-vehicle accident Saturday on Route 39 resulted in the DWI charge.

According to police reports, Darrell J. Shaffer, 40, Corinth, W.Va., was traveling west in a 1981 Chevrolet Citation, while Eraka A. Bowen, 17, was traveling east at the same location.

Police said Shaffer was passing in the eastbound lane on a double solid yellow line. The two vehicles collided head-on in the eastbound lane.

Shaffer was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad, where he was treated and released. The accident was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, who charged Shaffer with driving on the left when prohibited, negligent driving, a seat belt violation, and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Commissioners Delegate Two To Local Boards

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners this week announced two new appointments to local organizations.

Don Newman, of Grantsville, has been named to the Garrett County Memorial Services Advisory Board to fill the unexpired term of the late Helen Baumgartner.

Mrs. Jane Fox, of Friendsville, was named to the Ruth Enlow Library Board of Trustees to replace Dr. Bruce Jenkins.

Joseph Andrew Muscalli Jr., 22, Grantsville, was arrested by Tfc. R.J. Resh at 2:15 a.m. on Wednesday.

Commissioners Decline To Adopt Life Resolution

The Garrett County Commissioners decided unanimously last week that they would not officially adopt the Right to Life Resolution proposed by Jerome Cox, of Oakland.

Cox, an attorney, who has been working for the Right to Life movement for about 17 years, met with the commissioners early last week requesting that they adopt his resolution and call for public hearings on the pro-life/pro-abortion issue. He said he was convinced that once the facts about the issue reached the residents of the county they, too, would adopt and support the resolution. The next step for him would then be to push the resolution at the state level and finally the national level.

In general, the resolution calls for all elected officials to "do everything in their power to promote and enact the Human Life Amendment to the U.S. Constitution," which would, once and for all, outlaw abortions in this country.

In a letter to Cox from Robert J. Fousek, county clerk, the commissioners indicated that the issue was "out of the purview of the Board of County Commissioners to adopt such a resolution."

It further stated that the commissioners have been consistent in not adopting resolutions or proclamations "which they feel are out of the realm of their duties and responsibilities as local elected officials. The citizens of Garrett County have their own opinions regarding the variety of social and political issues which our nation faces, such as the death penalty, nuclear disarmament, military spending, etc. The Board feels that their personal views on matters such as these should not infringe upon an individual's own views."

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Theft Of ATV

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating several thefts which occurred over past weeks, including an all terrain vehicle which was stolen from Jackson Equipment.

Robert Jackson reported on January 28 that a person or persons had removed a John Deere all terrain vehicle from an outside lot at his store, Jackson Equipment. The vehicle is valued at $2,700 and was apparently removed between January 27 and 28. Detective R. L. Sines is investigating.

Hilda Cover, Friendsville, reported that someone removed a mailbox valued at $70 from a post outside her home on Wednesday, January 22. Deputy R.P. Shaffer is investigating.

Corporal L.E. Gnegy is investigating the removal of change from soft drink machines located at Frat Red and White in Accident. The theft apparently occurred between January 14 and 21. It is estimated that over $60 in change was removed.

Six Arrested On DWI Charge

Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment this week reported the arrest of six persons for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Carl Edward Niner, 51, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger at 9:30 p.m. on January 18.

Tfc. R.J. Resh arrested Timothy Wayne Knox, 21, Grantsville, at 1:40 a.m. on Friday.

Paul Patrick Hauck, 25, Niagara Falls, N.Y., was arrested by Tfc. Resh on Friday at 11:55 p.m.

Russell Lee Jones, 31, Falls Church, Va., was arrested at 2:15 a.m. on Saturday by Tpr. J.K. Moore.

Tpr. Moore arrested William Franklin Lower, 38, of Terra Alta, W.Va., at 1:38 a.m. on Tuesday.

General Assembly Update

No-Fault Auto Coverage Bill
Delegate Casper Taylor, D-Allegany, introduced a bill on Monday that would add a larger "no-fault" provision for automobile insurance than is provided in the state's personal injury protection coverage.

Taylor has estimated that this bill would save Marylanders approximately $200 million in premium payments. This is true because the bill would allow accident victims to collect compensation from their own insurance companies for all but the most serious injuries.

Under this bill, accident victims who meet a specific "threshold" for accident injuries — which is defined as serious bodily injury, serious disfigurement, or death — would be able to sue as usual for damages. Accident victims who do not fall into any of these categories would be able to collect up to $50,000 for damages from their insurers.

Maryland's present no-fault coverage allows accident victims to collect up to $2,500 for medical expenses and lost wages from their own insurers, regardless of what driver causes the accident.

Statistics show that Maryland has the sixth-highest insurance rates in the nation.

Covered Load and Mud Flap Bills

On Friday the House of Delegates approved a bill that would require trucks to cover their loads. The covered load bill was sent to the Senate where it was approved by a 133-1 vote. Delegate William Clark, D-Harford, cast the only opposing vote.

Also on Friday the lower House killed a bill that would have required multi-purpose vehicles (passenger vehicles built on truck chassis that are capable of off-road travel) to have mud flaps on their rear wheels. This bill was rejected by a 56 to 78 roll call vote.

The committee decided to exempt automobiles from the bill because William Zorzi, the Maryland AAA lobbyist, accused the committee of using the legislation to retaliate against his group for pressuring them to approve truck covers.

Senior Services Bill
Governor William Donald Schaefer announced that he will ask the Legislature to approve a bill that would expand senior services.

This bill, called Action for Seniors, will encourage independent living for elderly persons by way of three initiatives: it will provide new and expanded services for the frail and low-income elderly; promote public-private sector partnerships to benefit older people; and broaden interagency coordination.

The bill proposes numerous services for the elderly: personal care; transportation to medical appointments for seniors living in multifamily apartments and group homes; partnerships with private corporations to generate support for aging issues, programs, and services; a respite care registry; staff training for serving Alzheimers victims; nutrition programs; computerized benefits checkup; prototype shared housing; home repairs for low-income older persons; and increased subsidized housing units and homesharing options. According to Gov. Schaefer, "there are 725,000 persons 60 years of age and older in Maryland today and we expect to have nearly 900,000 in the next decade." Many of these elderly people are in need of help because they cannot maintain their independent living status. Governor Schaefer says that Maryland has a responsibility to provide that help. He says, "Action for Seniors is a good beginning."

Nicknames Bill

The Senate passed a bill (SB 184) on Wednesday, by a 28-19 vote, that would allow people to use common names or nicknames on their driver's licenses.

Senator Albert Wynn, D-Prince George's, the bill's prime sponsor, said that anyone wishing to change the name on his driver's license must provide two other documents, one must contain a photograph, showing that he commonly uses a different name. The applicant must also submit his birth certificate, as well as any driver's license issued to the applicant under his legal name.

Under the current law, a person may only use his legal name on his driver's license. Many people who use nicknames on credit cards and checking accounts have complained about running into problems when trying to cash checks or charge purchases because a different name is listed on their driver's license.

Senator Julian L. Lippes, D-Baltimore, said in good natured opposition, "This bill does not mean a lot to anyone. I'm changing my name to Don Schaefer if it passes."

Supporters of the bill stated reasons why the bill would be important to some people. Senator Albert Wynn, D-Prince George's County, said, "The people would like it so that their driver's license says the same thing as their credit cards and the same thing as their bank cards."

Provisions to guard against abuse have been made in the bill, which now goes before the House.

Teacher Bill

On Wednesday the Senate Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee considered a bill that would provide college tuition assistance for part-time students who are pursuing a degree in teaching.

BOARD REORGANIZES — In accordance with public school law, the Garret County Board of Education reorganized on January 12, 1989. As a result, Mrs. Mikal Moomau was elected president, and Mrs. Beverly Murphy was elected vice president. The board will continue to meet at the Board of Education Office in Oakland on the second Thursday of each month, beginning at 1 p.m. Board members are, pictured above from left to right, Charles Teets, Beverly Murphy, Mikal Moomau, Carol Clark and Rodney Durst.

units and homesharing options.

According to Gov. Schaefer, "there are 725,000 persons 60 years of age and older in Maryland today and we expect to have nearly 900,000 in the next decade." Many of these elderly people are in need of help because they cannot maintain their independent living status. Governor Schaefer says that Maryland has a responsibility to provide that help. He says, "Action for Seniors is a good beginning."

Child Support Guidelines
On Monday the House Judiciary Committee proposed amendments to the state child support guidelines so that Maryland can begin to comply with federal law.

If the state does not comply with federal law it stands to lose at least $35 million. Last week the state Senate passed the bill and sent it to the House for action. The positive committee vote by the House resulted in the bill facing a second reading test in the House on Tuesday morning, and a third and final reading is expected soon. After the third reading the bill would be given to the governor for signature.

The federal government wants the child support guidelines to be followed in each case when a Maryland judge determines child support payments. The bill includes a chart which a court, after determining the income of the parents and number of children, can use to establish the amount of support ordered.

Helmet Bill
On Wednesday the House Judiciary Committee considered a bill that would require motorcyclists to wear helmets. Delegate Theodore Levin, D-Baltimore County, is the sponsor of this bill.

The committee is also considering a bill that would require helmets, but would restrict enforcement to instances where the motorcyclist is violating some other traffic law and another bill that would permit motorcycle riders who pay $100 fee not to wear helmets.

In 1968 Maryland enacted a law that required all motorcyclists to wear helmets, but in 1979 legislators exempted adults from this law due to public pressure. Now only riders under the age of 18 have to wear helmets.

State Police and head-injury specialists have testified in favor of a mandatory motorcycle helmet law. A study done by the state's emergency medical system offered statistics that said Maryland spends $1.2 million a year for emergency medical treatment for motorcycle riders who were not wearing helmets and suffered severe head injuries.

A great many bikers are objecting to this bill, they do not want a mandatory helmet law. They said that helmets interfere with a biker's hearing and vision, and they should have the right to decide whether they want to wear helmets.

Walter Shanley, 31, a truck driver from Severna Park, who rides a 1987 Harley-Davidson Sportster is opposed to this bill. Shanley, who injured himself last year in a motorcycle accident, hobbled into the helmet bill hearings with his left leg in a stainless-steel apparatus.

Shanley said, "I wasn't wearing a helmet that night, and I hit my head twice. I believe that when your number's up, your number's up. There's not very much you can do about it."

competitions would fall under this bill.

"We have 5,500 Maryland residents who belong to the state association who compete in these competitions and we must use rifles," McMurray said.

According to Delegate Franchot the bill focuses mainly on military weapons and he would consider amendments to the bill.

"It's clearly definite we're not going after legitimate rifles and shotguns," he said as he picked up one of the guns. "This is not useful for target practice — it's not useful for hunting. If there needs to be some amendment, we'll make it."

Victim's Rights Bills

On Monday three House bills and a constitutional amendment, designed to expand the rights of crime victims and their families in Maryland, was introduced by Delegate Joseph Vallario, Jr., D-Prince George's, at the request of the Stephanie Roper Committee.

The 10,000 member committee, founded in 1982 by Roberta Roper and her husband after their 22-year old daughter, Stephanie, was murdered, is the prime supporter and mover behind these three bills and the constitutional amendment.

Delegate Ellen Sauerbrey, R-Baltimore County, introduced the constitutional amendment, that if passed, would give victims "the rights to be informed of, be present at, and to be heard at appropriate criminal justice proceedings."

The first measure, the restitution bill, would make judges order compensation when requested by the state and victim, and would include the restitution into the sentence and parole conditions.

The second bill, the crime and punishment bill, would grant victims and their families the right to be present during trials.

A third bill would extend the statute of limitations in assault and battery cases, allowing victims more time to bring civil suits against the offender.

Tax Relief Plan

House and Senate leaders plan to announce today a $38.6 million tax relief program that would return $40 million of the $400 million state surplus to Maryland taxpayers.

Homework First . . .

The Educational Testing Service this week released the results of a six-nation comparison of students' proficiency in math and science and once again the scores of United States students are embarrassing.

The U.S. youths finished dead last in math and were also on the bottom in science along with students from Ireland and two Canadian provinces.

What, exactly, seems to be the problem? Several factors are no doubt responsible, some of which were shared by the Service. The most interesting one involves television and time spent in front of it by our young people. The survey showed that nearly one third of our students watch an average of at least five hours of television every day. By comparison, only seven percent of the Korean students, who placed first in both math and science proficiency, watch that much television. In every case, for each country, the more the students watched TV, the worse the test results.

U.S. students also spend less time on homework than do students in most other countries. It's no wonder; they are too busy watching television.

Video cassette recorders, which are rapidly becoming as common as televisions themselves, are no doubt just making the problem even worse.

Another reason for these dismal results is the shortage of math and science teachers in our nation. And why the shortage? Because many college students who would make excellent teachers can make far more money as engineers, physicians, or researchers.

Still another factor is that our children are blessed with so many non-educational activities, besides television and VCRs, to occupy their time. We think it is fantastic that our youth have all of these opportunities because the various youth service organizations, sports programs and church-related activities available are also extremely important. But there seems to be a problem with priorities and scheduling.

In some cases, teachers are to blame for this deficiency. However, again we must lay most of the responsibility at the feet of the parents, who apparently are not encouraging, supporting, and at times, demanding, better study skills in their children. The old philosophy of "get your homework done first" still has great merit, but we sense that it may not be the philosophy of many American parents. There's just too much else going on, perhaps not only at home, but maybe in our schools as well.

We believe some drastic changes must be made before our youngsters' scores are going to improve significantly.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Why is the Department of Natural Resources so bent on buying forest land in Garrett County when they already own 20%? Why is the State so emphatically against selling any of their holdings to comply with the land bank agreement or, as it is sometimes called, the "no-net-gain" agreement. Is it the Department's desire to obtain, hold, and preserve our forests land for benefit of the public, or is it greed for the dollars it can get by selling timber? As the saying goes, greed for money can muddy clear water and, to some extent, this may be the case in point.

The revenue obtained by the Department from selling of Garrett County timber is not peanuts. Over two million dollars in the last four years and it is on the increase. Where does this money go? To paraphrase from the code (law): . . . all monies obtained from the harvesting of timber on State land is paid to the Forest Reserve Fund in the Department of Natural Resources. Except for the 10% paid back to the counties, or 25% in the case of Garrett County, these monies are spent at the discretion of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. This, as anyone can see, does not necessarily promote good timber management. It offers the opportunity to harvest timber for the money it will provide as opposed to harvesting timber for proper forest management.

Until the 1988 session of the General Assembly, the code (law) provided that "On July 1 of each year, the balance of money in the Secretary's reserve fund in excess of $275,000 shall be paid over to the general fund of the State." During the 1988 session Delegate Ryan of Prince Georges County introduced a bill which was enacted to delete this requirement from the code. Now there is no limit to the amount of money from timber cutting that can be put in the Secretary's reserve fund nor are there any specific restrictions as how he is to spend it. It appears the fox has been locked in the chicken coop to protect the chickens.

What does Donald E. MacLauchlan, the Assistant Secretary of the Department of Natural Resources, the person responsible for management of our State forests, have to say about this? His reply, in part, is quoted as follows:

"Your reference to the state forest struck a nerve with me because I completely agree that a forest should not be managed to meet an income target. We manage for recreation, wildlife, fisheries, water quality, timber, etc. To ensure that the forest remains healthy and productive far into the future, the cutting program should be geared to the volume of timber that the forest is producing.

"When the budget is prepared, we try to base the income projection on the volume to be cut and the market projections. Once the dollar figure is established, we have to meet it even if markets are down. Thus, we could be in the position of having to cut more than we want to just to meet the income. "I'm not happy with the situation, and haven't been for some time. The budgeting system needs to be changed, and the inventory needs to be updated.

"It bothers me that I haven't been successful in accomplishing either because a properly managed forest is one of my highest priorities. "It is the position of this Association that all monies received from cutting of State forests should be paid into the general fund of the State. Monies required for operation of the Department of Natural Resources should not be dependent on the amount of timber cut from State Forest, but should be independently budgeted for and apportioned from the State general fund.

Come on, Senator Bamback and Delegate Edwards, let's get behind Assistant Secretary MacLauchlan and assist him in the changes he needs to properly manage our State forest land.

To the Editor and people
Of Garrett County:

In the last three months I have spent quite a bit of time in Oakland working temporarily at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. I've just returned to the D.C. area after the last of three visits and am again amazed at the hospitality and kindness offered to me when I've been there.

The people that I work with in the hospital continually invite me into their homes to meet their families and for dinner. The people in the area are always friendly and helpful. Every salesperson, waitress, teller, realtor, gas station attendant, and mechanic has been wonderful.

Just before Christmas my car broke down on Underwood Road. People let me use their phones, stopped to help me and gave me oil. I was on-call at the hospital that night and needed the car but the Amoco on 135 was swamped with work so they contacted Fred Helbig. My car was then towed there and he kept his shop open late to try to fix it. His assistant also stayed late while Fred's wife drove into town twice to get parts. They even drove me back to the place I was staying that night. People from the hospital offered to take me in the next day. An oil pump was shipped overnight from California and my car was ready the following afternoon. This would never have happened in Washington, D.C.

I've been all over the U.S. while in the Army and rarely have I run into this many great people. The people in Garrett County really know the meaning of Christmas. Their kindness is overwhelming! I was so impressed by the people that I've decided to take a full-time position at the hospital. It will be so nice to live among you! I appreciate all that everyone has done for me. I hope that someday I can return the kindness. I wish you all the best in 1989.

Thank you everyone,

Murder Trial

County or the Wilson-Corona Road in Garrett County. All of the women testified that they were acquaintances of or knew Paul Ferrell.

Monday
During Monday's proceedings, Kimberly Nelson, of Mount Storm, testified that she "heard screaming, banging, and a gunshot" coming from Ferrell's mobile home between 1 and 2 p.m. on the afternoon of February 17, 1988.

Nelson reportedly lives at the residence nearest to Ferrell's mobile home on the Bismarck Road. She stated that she was outside on that date when she heard the noises. She stated that the banging sounded like "someone getting pushed against a wall." She then went inside the trailer, and stated that she heard a gunshot.

Nelson testified that she then saw a man get into a blue car and drive south toward Route 93. She said she saw the blue car back at the trailer about one-half hour later, and that it left after 4 p.m., driving past her house toward Route 50.

Nelson did not tell anyone what she had heard until May 13, stating, "I was afraid for my safety and my children."

Testimony was also given by Vonda Moreland, of Red House, who organized community searches for Ford in February and March.

She testified that a meeting was held February 26 regarding a search scheduled for the next day. She stated that she received a phone call from Ferrell later that evening, and that "he wanted to call the search off."

She stated that Ferrell said information had been received by authorities on Ford, and that he wanted her to hold off on the search for 48 hours to check out leads in the case.

Moreland stated that Ferrell called later and asked if he had called off the search. She told him that she was unable to cancel the search. Moreland said Ferrell told her that the group could search any areas except the Cherry Ridge and Bismarck roads, because there was evidence on those roads.

Also testifying on Monday was Cathy's boyfriend, Darvin Moon, who was questioned about alcohol and drug usage by he and Ford. Moon said he had checked himself in to the Finan Center, and that he left the center after taking part in a rehabilitation program. He also stated that Cathy had tried cocaine and marijuana.

A total of 11 witnesses were called Monday, including Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans and Detective Sgt. D.W. Tucker, also of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Tuesday
Tuesday's court proceedings involved DNA blood testing, forensic science and testimony by FBI agents and West Virginia State Police.

DNA testing was completed in an attempt to determine if substances found in Ferrell's trailer were blood, and if they were human blood.

John Coleman, a forensic scientist, testified that human DNA had been detected on a piece of two-by-four board in the rear portion of Ferrell's trailer near the back door. He said, "The DNA from the two-by-four had human DNA and also female DNA on it."

Scientists on the Ford case were given blood samples from Cathy's parents. Under cross-examination by defense attorney Ross Maruka, Coleman stated that the results could not specifically and directly link DNA to any of Carl and Rose Ford's offspring.

Hair samples from the back door area were also submitted, but could not be processed because they did not contain the hair root.

Audrey Lynch, a forensic serology specialist with the FBI, also tested items collected from the trailer as evidence. She testified that blood samples from the master bedroom, wall and floor were human blood, and that human blood was also found on a paper towel in the trash and on siding from the trailer.

Testimony showed that possible blood type genetic characteristics of the offspring of Carl and Rose Ford could be the same as those characteristics of the blood found on the paper towel, on the board, and on a floor joist.

Lynch noted that, of the total white population of the world, only 1.5 percent would have the exact characteristics of the blood found on those objects.

Lynch testified that she ran samples of Cathy's parents blood through a second set of tests, with the same results.

Maruka's questioning revealed that it was possible that the blood could have been human or animal, and that, in the cases where human blood was determined, results could not prove that the same human was the source of the blood in each sample.

Re-direct examination by DiBenedetto revealed that human blood was discovered in a sample taken from Ferrell's police car, as well as a blanket in the car.

Special Agent William Scobie, of the FBI, testified about his involvement with the inspection of Cathy's burned Ford Bronco II, which was found March 8, as well as searches of Ferrell's mobile home and the surrounding area.

Scobie stated that buttons from blue jeans and two zippers that said "Levi" were found inside the burned remains.

Scobie was questioned about the blood traces found at the trailer, and said, "I would say that had to come from some violent act."

Wednesday
During Wednesday's testimony, FBI Special Agent Richard M. Williams, a written materials expert, stated that the results of handwriting comparisons proved that Ferrell was the author of a letter mailed to Ford's family about two weeks after her disappearance. Williams said, "In my opinion, Mr. Ferrell prepared that envelope and that letter."

The letter told of the burning of the Ford Bronco II, and Ford's supposed reasons for leaving. The Bronco was found several days later.

Also testifying was FBI Special Agent James Zopp, who interviewed Ferrell at the Garrett County Sheriff's Department on March 19, the day before his arrest.

Zopp stated that he mentioned that whoever killed Cathy would have had to have blood on his body. Ferrell replied, "I didn't see any blood on me."

Zopp testified that Ferrell admitted to him that he had made phone calls to bookstores and identified himself as a doctor in an attempt to obtain information about anal sex.

Zopp said Ferrell told him he could lose his job and suffer public embarrassment if anyone found out about the calls.

Two employees of Walden Books; Suzanne Smith, of Helena, Montana; and Kelly Yarnes, of Marion, Iowa; testified that they had received calls concerning passages from the book "Our Bodies, Our Selves." Yarnes stated that similar phone calls had been received by other employees at her store and another store in Marion.

An employee of the Grant County magistrate court, Carol Wratford, testified that she saw Ferrell on February 17, and that, "He seemed pre-occupied with something."

John Mattingly and Orlando Fike, both of Oakland, testified that they participated in a bowling league with Ferrell, and that he was supposed to be at the bowling alley at 6:30 p.m. on February 17. However, he did not arrive until after 8:30 p.m.

Mattingly stated that he saw Ferrell around 9 p.m. on that date, noting that Ferrell received a phone message, made a phone call, and left.

Fike testified that he substituted on the bowling team for Ferrell on February 17, 24, and March 2 and 16.

Also testifying during Wednesday's proceedings were FBI fingerprint specialists, Michelle Upole, who found blood at Ferrell's trailer; and Grant County Deputy Art Pufenberger.

In five days of testimony, a total of 61 witnesses have been called by the prosecution, and over 120 exhibits have been introduced for the jury to examine.

Court was reconvened this morning at 9:30 a.m.

does seem to last around seven to ten days."

Most schools are reporting that students seem to be recovering and that the absentee rate is going down.

Northern Middle School reported that on Tuesday 27 percent of the students were absent, with the number going down to 19 percent on Wednesday. The Dennett Road Elementary School reported 17 percent absent, with the number going higher over the past two days.

Friendsville Elementary School reported that 25 percent of its students had been absent, with Broad Ford Elementary School reporting a 17 percent absence rate.

Southern Middle School reported a 20 to 25 percent absentee rate last week, with many students returning this week. Southern and Northern High Schools had an average of ten percent more students absent than usual over the past week, but many had returned to class on Wednesday.

Snelson recommended that parents give the children lots of liquids and Tylenol or Acetaminophen (generic Tylenol). She said to keep the child resting and comfortable and if the child doesn't respond to the liquids and Tylenol, to take him or her to a physician.

Parents are reminded to not give the children aspirin because of its possible link to Reye's Syndrome, a sometimes fatal illness.

Larry Beck, administrator of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, said that the emergency room at the hospital has been "extremely busy" with people reporting with influenza, colds and strep throat, but he had no specific figures.

Oakland Update

by Mayor Asa McCain

The Savage treatment plant has been receiving sewage since October of 1988. The plant is a new plant and must be maintained according to State and Federal regulations. Recently, an increase in cost (for some, an additional cost) has been computed on to the quarterly water bills. Many are asking questions about this new cost.

What is the O & M charge? Why is this cost so high? What is included in this cost?

The Operations and Maintenance cost (O & M) is arrived at based on the following guidelines. It contains three major costs.

1. Overhead Costs — this is projected normal costs and/or any unforeseen costs that arise during a quarter. This includes labor (at least 3 employees are needed for the treatment plant), and any overtime, as well as all employee benefits.

Utilities and supplies are also included in this cost. The major factor involved here is electricity. As water flows, the electrical units must run. Another major cost is for insurance. Our capital investment needs to be protected.

Supplies also need to be considered. Tools are needed, testing and analysis needs to be done continually, and costs for this need to be recovered.

2. Sinking Fund — a new treatment plant and collector system has been constructed here in Oakland, and unfortunately it will not last forever. Certain parts of the system will wear out, and will need to be replaced. Items such as pumps and blowers are of great expense, and have an average 10 year life expectancy. The sinking fund will accumulate money so that when these items need to be replaced, the money will be available.

3. Maryland Environmental Service (MES) — for the first year, MES has been contracted by the town to aid in getting the system on-line, and making sure everything is working properly. In addition, MES is providing invaluable advice to the Town. Note: since MES is a temporary contractual situation, the O & M bill may go down slightly after a year's time. Unfortunately, considering the present amount of water that is being treated at the plant due to rain water infiltration, the original calculations on utilities and supplies may be low and therefore cause the rates to go up. Any known unnecessary infiltration should be reported to the Town.

Following detailed calculations, it has been determined that it takes approximately $27,000 per month to cover operation and maintenance costs. This computes to approximately $5.00 per 1000 gallons of water used, or $55.00 per quarter for the average household.

It is important to realize that this charge is in no way related to the capital costs to construct the system. The specific amount of the charge for the local share of the capital costs has not yet been set. The Town is working earnestly to receive a full 87½% funding on the project, in order to make the local share to the Town the lowest possible.

"We are asking visitors who may be experiencing any type of influenza or cold to refrain from visiting the hospital to protect the patients," Beck explained. "But it is nothing to panic about. We do this kind of thing quite often."

Area schools have reported varying figures on the number of absent students. Route 40 Elementary School reported the highest number with one third of the student population out over the past week.

Coal Bills

The only way subsidence protection can be changed is by a written waiver from a property owner. This is true because the bill states that nothing will interfere with a person's right to "enforce or protect that person's interest in water resources affected by deep mining."

If water supplies are contaminated, diminished, or interrupted by deep mining the mine operator would have to replace the property owner's water supplies. After the bureau decides that the the supplies must be replaced, the mine operator will be given a time limit to replace that supply.

If the mine operator does not replace the water in the specified time the bureau will issue an order.

The company replacing the water may use deep mining funds, but the state has to be reimbursed. If the company is not at fault then, according to the bill, the company will be reimbursed.

The bill attempts to give the bureau permission to recover

NRA Position On Maryland Gun Board Challenged By Pistol Group

Last week Governor William Donald Schaefer appointed eight members to a gun control board and this week a Senate panel approved the governor's appointments.

Marylanders who fought last year's referendum, but who now want a seat on the board, objected to one of the governor's appointments and the Senate's approval of it.

The argument is over whether the NRA appointee to the board should be a member of the NRA who lives in Maryland or whether that appointee should be a member of a local pro-gun group, such as the Maryland Rifle and Pistol Association.

Leading the opposition to the NRA appointment was Fred Griser, the member of the Rifle and Pistol Association who led last year's unsuccessful campaign to defeat the handgun control law.

During the campaign Griser said that he didn't want to meet with the governor because they had nothing to talk about. Governor Schaefer, who described Griser as "a reasonable man in the beginning," said he fully intended to meet with Griser, but after the election was over Griser proceeded to tell the press that the governor would not meet with him. So Governor Schaefer contacted the national NRA which suggested some people from Maryland who could be appointed to the NRA position on the gun board.

Griser stated last week that he intended to take the matter to court if necessary.

The governor said, "I intend to keep the men or the women on who were suggested by the national NRA and if Mr. Griser wants to go to court, and if he wins, then we'll ask him to submit some names."

John Keery holds the position on the board that is being challenged. Keery is a Silver Spring resident and former Montgomery County police officer, who was once a member of the Rifle and Pistol Association and who has been a member of the NRA since 1964.

Members of the pistol group, an NRA affiliate, said that they might challenge the appointments in court. Robert McMurray, membership chairman of the pistol group, told the Senate Executive Nominations Committee that the law says the NRA appointment to the board should come from the "Maryland Chapter of the NRA."

He says that the language in the law refers to his group.

"Mr. Keery is not a member of the state association, who were guaranteed a seat on the board. We don't have anything against Mr. Keery, we don't even know the man. But we feel we should have a vote on this," McMurray said.

John Hopf, an NRA field representative, said that there is no such thing as a Maryland Chapter of the NRA. "As soon as I saw the bill I knew the wording was wrong," Hopf said.

Keery said that he was upset that his appointment was being challenged. "It's a shame — a lot of in-fighting that should not have been brought to the surface. The main thing is we're all on the same side, aren't we?"

The eight members have until July 1 to draw up a list of permissible handguns for Maryland. The law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1990, and affects only handguns manufactured after Jan. 1, 1985.

all costs of water supply replacement from the operator that are in excess of the funds received from forfeiture of mining reclamation bonds.

Surface Mining

The second bill that was introduced would change public notice law, so that a mine permit applicant's advertisement must be approved by the bureau before it is placed in a newspaper in the county where the proposed mining will occur.

The bill states that a mining permit may not be assigned or transferred unless written approval from the bureau is obtained; every surface mine operator must submit a monthly report containing the tonnage of coal, number of employees, and the number of any serious or fatal accidents at the mine, by the 25th of each month; and an annual report must be filed with specific requirements and another report has to be filed after mining and reclamation is finished.

State Land Reclamation Committee

The third bill that was introduced yesterday would revise the power and duties of the state land reclamation committee (LRC).

The bill states that reclamation funds may be used for lands affected by mining.

Healthy Lifestyle Is Stressed In Fight Against Heart Disease

"You can help prevent heart disease. We can tell you how," is a new theme of American Heart Association television and radio public service announcements. A theme the American Heart Association's Western Maryland Division will be trying to get us to pay heed to this February, American Heart Month.

"Cardiovascular diseases are the leading causes of death in Maryland and in Allegheny and Garrett counties, accounting for 15,327 deaths in Maryland," said John F. McCormick Jr., Division Chairman. "Lifestyle plays a major role in the development of heart disease and stroke. If we can persuade more people to quit smoking, eat less fatty foods, and keep their blood pressure under control, then we can continue to make strides in reversing these statistics," added McCormick.

The mortality rate for cardiovascular diseases has declined 25% over the past 20 years, but it remains the number one cause of death in America.

New research findings reported at the American Heart Association's Scientific Sessions this past fall underscore the importance of good lifestyle habits. Studies conducted at The University of Texas, University of California, and University of Southern California found that a diet low in fat and cholesterol and exercise at least three times a week may reverse the process of atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries). Atherosclerosis is a leading cause of heart attack. Sixteen thousand heart attacks occur in Maryland each year. "A major thrust of the American Heart Association is prevention," commented McCormick. "In Allegheny and Garrett counties we want to reach different segments of the population with information on ways to reduce the risk of heart disease and stroke."

"Our programs take place in different settings. For example, during February Allegheny and Garrett County high schools will participate in Save-A-Sweet-Heart, a smoking intervention program. Thirteen day care centers and schools will use the Heart Treasure Chest. This program provides early childhood teachers with learning activities on the heart, diet, smoking, and exercise," explained McCormick.

For more information about the American Heart Association's community programs or for literature on diet, smoking, blood pressure and other heart-healthy tips, persons are invited to call (301) 724-4011.

ter what he has in store for you, keep your faith and know He only puts on your shoulders what you can bear."

She added, "If we only take the time to stop and smell the roses, we would know happiness is along the way, not at the end of the road."

As the Maryland state winner, the cost of Ms. Zietak's transportation to the national contest will be covered. However, she will have other expenses and will attempt to locate other sponsors to assist her. She will also be making visits to all of the senior citizen "Eating Together" sites operated throughout the county by the Area Agency on Aging, talking to the participants about how to utilize their talents and encouraging them to stay active.

Ms. Zietak said that she still finds it difficult to believe she won the state honor. "I always wondered what it would be like to walk down a runway as the winner of a pageant, and now I know," she said. "It is like walking on a cloud."

Persons wishing to be a sponsor for Ms. Zietak are invited to telephone the Area Agency on Aging or the Flowery Vale Center.

such was a possibility.

"It seems they may be sending us a message," Groves said. "They seem to believe that our desire for this new facility is a contradiction to our desire to keep the state from acquiring additional property in Garrett County."

Another incident occurred yesterday that may also be an indication of the administration's discontent over the land issue.

The commissioners were scheduled to meet with Secretary Richard Trainor, of the Department of Transportation, to discuss the status of the Glendale Bridge project. However, for reasons unknown to the commissioners, that meeting was cancelled abruptly and the commissioners were informed that it probably would not be re-scheduled until after the legislative session.

The commissioners did meet with Martin W. Walsh, secretary of the environment, to discuss water and sewer problems in various Garrett Coun-

Robert Custer Appointed Sales Manager Of A&A

Robert G. Custer has accepted the position of sales manager for A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens. Custer was promoted from his former position as marketing coordinator with A&A Realty, effective January 9.

Custer is a native of Garrett County, having been reared on a 100-acre farm in Deer Park and graduating from Southern High School in 1971. He is a graduate of Ashbury College, with a degree in secondary education.

Custer was employed by the Garrett County Board of Education from 1975-77 as a teacher at Northern High School. He then moved to a position with the Potomac Valley Farm Credit Service, which he held from 1977-1982. During that time, he established the Oakland Branch Office for Farm Credit and was responsible for lending, appraisals, and collections for Garrett and Allegany counties, as well as business development for the Farm Service in that territory. He is also the owner-operator of Custer's Auction Service.

During Custer's real estate career with A&A Realty, he has been the firm's farm specialist, a Better Homes & Gardens Medallion Club member in both 1987 and 1988, a member of the President's Club, and most recently has been awarded his GRI designation by the Maryland Association of Realtors.

Custer resides in the Boiling Springs area with his wife, Pat, and their children, Joshua, Jared and Aimee.

Ostomy Support Group To Meet

The Ostomy Support Group meeting for Garrett County will be held this Sunday, February 5, in the assembly room of the Garrett County Health Department at 2:30 p.m. All persons with ostomies and their families are invited to attend. For more information, persons may call 334-8411 or 895-3111.

Extension Service Programs Available

The Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service is offering three new home economics programs for groups of at least eight persons, according to Irmgard R. Koscielnik, Extension Agent, Home Economics.

The courses are: Improving Nutrition, Diet, and Health; Building and Developing Human Capital; and Increasing Family Economic Stability. The programs are free, other than a small materials charge for some nutrition classes and reimbursement for travel outside of Western Maryland.

For specific information, persons may contact Ms. Koscielnik at the Cooperative Extension Office in Oakland at 334-1990.

Eugene D. Helbig Retires From PE

Eugene D. Helbig, Oakland, has retired from the Potomac Edison Company after nearly 42 years as an employee.

Helbig worked at PE's sister company, Monongahela Power Company, from 1947 until 1974, when he transferred to Potomac Edison as lineman first class in the Oakland office. He was named lineman first class leader in 1980, and transferred to the position of groundman in 1988.

A retirement party was given for him Friday night at the Oakland Country Club. Helbig resides at 603 East Alder Street, Oakland.

Tax Assistance Sweep Announced By Comptroller

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced a concentrated statewide effort to help more taxpayers, beginning Tuesday, February 15.

"On February 15th, from Oakland in Western Maryland to Crisfield on the lower Eastern Shore, our experts will be available in libraries, county office buildings and other convenient locations, as well as our 15 offices throughout Maryland," Comptroller Goldstein said.

Free state income tax assistance will be provided on Wednesday, February 15 at the Senior Citizens Center, 104 E. Center Street, Oakland from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Thursday, February 16 at St. John's United Church of Christ, Main Street, Grantsville, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"February 15th is only the beginning. Taxpayer assistance will be available at these locations and others during the rest of the week and through the remainder of February and March," Goldstein stated.

The comptroller added that Maryland income tax experts will "be happy" to answer questions, provide all the necessary state forms, double-check calculations and even complete Maryland income tax returns free of charge. "Be sure to bring along a completed copy of your federal return and all W-2 statements to take advantage of this free service which will be available at the special locations and in our offices," Goldstein said.

The addresses and telephone numbers of all 15 Maryland income tax offices are listed on back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories. The offices are open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Extra hours of free assistance will also be provided during certain weekends and on all state holidays, including Monday, February 20, when most state offices will be closed in observance of Washington's Birthday. The extra hours are listed in the state tax packet. The toll-free telephone number for free state income tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES.

DAR Chapter Reviews History

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the DAR met in the Youth Room of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, January 16, with 22 members and two guests, Ruth Miller and Donna Gorman, present.

After the opening ritual led by Regent Rosanne Sherwood and Chaplain Ruth Porter, the regular business meeting was held.

In the National Defense report, June Thomas noted that 24 million Americans have very little knowledge of geography and that persons over 55 years of age are better educated in the subject.

Lillian Reckner read the President General's letter wishing the chapters "good things for the New Year."

Mary Jones reported that a study had been made of markers for the graves of deceased members of the chapter. After some discussion, it was decided that to procure suitable markers and to place them with proper ceremony would require further study.

Juanita Browning, historian, reported that 95 essays for the American History award have been submitted from various schools of the county. These will be processed soon.

The chapter is tentatively planning a luncheon jointly with the Little Crossings Chapter of Addison, Pa. Also, the members agreed that, beginning with the September meeting, no refreshments will be served at regular meetings.

The lodging expenses for State Regent Mrs. Roger Wrenn Carroll and Vice Regent Mrs. Reece Hansley, when they attend the May dinner at the Will O' the Wisp will be covered by the chapter.

Acknowledgements were made to members Eva Davis and Mary Martin who have been ill.

Lillian Reckner and Rosanne Sherwood gave highlights from the history of the DAR Organization which were presented through slides and commentary. Spurred on by the enthusiasm of female leaders such as Mrs. Mary Dasha and Mrs. Eugenia Washington, the national organization was founded October 11, 1890, in Washington. A notice in the Washington Post invited women descended from patriots of the American Revolution to become members. A seal in the shape of a spinning wheel with the motto "Home and Country" was adopted. The first chapter was organized in Chicago in 1891. In 1902 groundbreaking took place for the DAR's own building at 17th and D Street named Memorial Continental Hall. In 1909 when Admiral Robert E. Peary made his trip to the North Pole, he placed a Peace Flag for the DAR. Constitution Hall was dedicated at the 1929 Congress and that same year the Founder's Memorial was added on C Street. In 1985 Dr. Rhea Shedden took a DAR insignia on her flight in space aboard the shuttle "Discoverer."

Hostesses for the evening were Kathryn Helbig, Vava Bailey, Virginia Lohr, Adeline Ruckert and Janice Hutchinson.

Those persons interested in becoming members of DAR may contact Mrs. Randall Kahl, Route 4, Box 89, Deer Park, MD 21550.

On Dean's List

Four Garrett County students were among those named to the dean's list at Potomac State College, Keyser, W.Va., for outstanding academic achievement during the first semester.

Named to the Executive Dean's List for having achieved a grade point average between 3.70 and 4.0 were Kelley L. Evans and Bryan G. Custer, both of Oakland, and Pamela J. Braithwaite, Bloomington. All are sophomores.

Named to the Associate Dean's List for achieving a GPA between 3.0 and 3.69 was Steven W. Few, a freshman from Oakland.

Other area students included on the Associate list were Carla J. Evans, Sonja E. Evans, Stephanie Y. Droppleman, Bernard L. Evans, Roy H. Hones, and Walter D. Ward, Jr., all of Elk Garden, and Sandra M. Dennis, Mt. Storm.

Only full-time students enrolled for 12 or more credit hours are considered for dean's list selection at Potomac State, which is the junior college branch of West Virginia University.

Applications For Scholarships Being Accepted By BPW

The Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women's Club is now accepting applications for its annual scholarship program.

Applicants must be a female high school graduate or have a high school equivalency and be at least 30 years of age as of December 31, 1989. The applicant must also enroll in a vocational, technical or academic program which will lead to a certificate of completion or a degree.

Applications for scholarships will be accepted through February 15, 1989. Anyone interested should contact any Grantsville Area BPW member, or call Linda Buckel, Scholarship chairperson, at 245-4287 for an application.

Public Television Program Highlights Tax Law Changes

Now that all the bowl games are over, the Internal Revenue Service has something to fill that television void. "Tax Break '89," a special two-hour program to help taxpayers complete their tax returns, will air nationwide over the Public Broadcasting System.

Former NBC-TV newsmen Edwin Newman will host the show, which will include five panelists composed of IRS executives, tax technicians, and private tax-return preparers. The program will highlight changes in the tax law and how they affect the treatment of capital gains, the deductibility of medical expenses, catastrophic health insurance, payment of quarterly estimated taxes, and the needs of older taxpayers.

Locally, the program will air on Maryland Public Television Channel 36, Oakland, on Sunday, February 12, from 1-3 p.m. Viewers will be able to phone in questions on toll-free telephone lines to IRS specialists throughout the program.

Among the good news changes for 1988 returns, are: the personal exemption amount is higher than last year; the standard deduction is higher; there are simplified methods for figuring the tax-free amount of pensions; and electronic filing is available this year in Maryland and D.C.

"Tax Break '89" is produced by the IRS in cooperation with WQED-TV in Pittsburgh.

The toll-free tax information telephone number for Maryland is 1-800-424-1040. This number will be flashed on the screen during the program.

Spotlight On Scholarships

Eric Rice

Jeannette Wilson

Jeffrey Rounds

Melissa Freeman

Delegate George Edwards has chosen the following four students to receive Maryland House of Delegates Scholarships to support their educational endeavors at Garrett Community College this year.

Eric William Rice, a Southern High School graduate, is a sophomore at G.C.C. majoring in history. He is also a member of the Lakers' Basketball Team. He will graduate in May and pursue a bachelor's degree at Frostburg State University. He is the son of Jay and Diane Rice, Oakland.

Jeannette Wilson, daughter of Mae Michaels and John E. Wilson Sr., is a freshman at Garrett. She is a pre-law major with a special interest in law enforcement. Following two years at Garrett, she will transfer to Frostburg State. She is a 1988 graduate of Southern High School.

School. Jeffrey Rounds, a 1988 graduate of Northern High School, is a freshman majoring in engineering. He will complete his first year at Garrett and transfer to either the University of Maryland or West Virginia University. Rounds enjoys sports, art, music and hunting in his spare time. He is also an active participant in the work-study program. He is the son of Wilmer and Janet Rounds, Grantsville.

Melissa Freeman, daughter of Jimmie and Donna Seeders, Mtn. Lake Park, is a freshman majoring in general studies. Melissa plans to transfer and obtain a degree in nursing. She has been an active volunteer on the entertainment committee and as a Big Sister for Kitzmiller Elementary School. She is a 1988 graduate of Southern High School.

What's Happening at ## GCC Among 1,200 Colleges To Celebrate Community College Month

Garrett Community College will join with more than 1,200 other community, technical, and junior colleges in the United States this month to celebrate National Community College Month. With a theme of "Community Colleges: Where America Goes to College," the observance is a celebration of past success and future achievements of community, technical, and junior colleges and their students.

More than five million students took credit classes at America's community colleges last year, representing 41 percent of all undergraduate students and 55 percent of all first-time freshmen in the United States. Of these students, 715 were enrolled in credit classes at Garrett Community College, and in approximately 3,000 non-credit classes.

"More and more Garrett Countians are choosing Garrett Community College for their educational needs," said Dr. Steve Herman, president of GCC, during a recent interview. "Our ability to provide diverse programs and specialized services in a friendly and receptive environment makes GCC an affordable option for everyone in our community."

Dr. Herman said that the role of community colleges has expanded in the past 50 years to keep up with the nation's changing needs. At this time, the number of community, technical, and junior colleges has grown from 553 in 1937 to 1,227 in 1987.

"Because we are community-based, we are responsible to meet the needs of our specific district," explained Dr. Herman. "Through educational partnerships with local business and industry, and elementary and high schools, we are able to keep up with the changing educational and technical demands of our residents and provide them with the education they need to succeed."

"We literally have something for everyone at GCC," Dr. Herman continued. "We offer quality programs, including associate in arts and science degrees or the first two years of a bachelor's degree, in addition to career education and personal enrichment classes."

A number of national events have been planned by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges to celebrate National Community College Month.

The showcase event will be an address by former Chief Justice Warren Burger, who will deliver the fourth annual Harry S. Truman Lecture for the meeting, February 25-28, in Washington, D.C.

Former Chief Justice Warren Burger

AACJC on February 6 in the National Archives auditorium in Washington, D.C. The topic of Justice Burger's lecture will be civic responsibility and the community, technical, and junior college.

"Because of their strong local ties and traditions of curricular innovation and responsiveness, the country's junior, technical, and community colleges are uniquely qualified to strengthen the nation's civic education," Burger said in a recent interview with AACJC President Dale Parnell.

In addition to the Truman lecture, two other national events are being planned. The Association of Community College Trustees will hold its annual National Legislative Seminar in Washington February 26-28. A number of senators and members of Congress are expected to attend this conference.

The American Student Association of Junior, Technical, and Community Colleges has scheduled its National Student Legislative Seminar to coincide with the AACJC

College Financial Aid Video Sent Throughout State

Local public libraries and high schools throughout the state are currently being sent a newly created video tape that is designed to assist Maryland residents in their pursuit of financial assistance for higher education. The 15-minute VHS format tape was produced as part of a state-wide campaign entitled "You Can Afford College '89." The release of the tape this month ties in with a proclamation issued by Governor William Donald Schaefer declaring January as "You Can Afford College '89" month in Maryland.

The tape outlines a significant number of financial aid sources that are available for qualified students, including recently increased state-supported programs, federal, and institutional programs. In addition, the tape discusses the procedures that are followed to determine eligibility for financial assistance. Finally, the tape summarizes the application procedures that are required to qualify for various sources of financial assistance.

"The tape provides introductory information that can be used by people of all ages who are interested in exploring financial assistance," explains Vince Pecora, chair of the "You Can Afford College '89" committee and director of financial aid at Essex Community College in Baltimore County. "We address colleges, universities, and proprietary school procedures," Pecora explains. He quickly adds that the major reason for the "You Can Afford" committee is to try to tell students, and their parents in the case of younger students, that they should begin the process of seeking financial assistance in January if they are planning to begin their educational pursuit in the fall.

The video tape is expected to be available in local public libraries and local high schools so that students, parents, and others may borrow the tape according to the local practices of the libraries or schools. Tapes should be available now, and those interested are encouraged to inquire at their library or local high school.

The video tape was produced by the Maryland Financial Aid Officers with the cooperation and generous support of the Maryland Higher Education Loan Corporation, and the Maryland State Scholarship Administration of the Maryland Higher Education Commission.

Organization Of Tax Records Class Offered By GCC

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Office, is offering a new mini-class to instruct persons how to organize their various records needed to prepare income tax forms.

Participants will learn about new tax laws and how to set up and maintain an effective personal record-keeping system. The system will enable them to identify income and expenses quickly and easily.

The class will meet Tuesday, February 7, and Wednesday, February 8, from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. at the McHenry Campus. Persons wishing to register or obtain additional information should call the Continuing Education Division at 387-6666, extension 169.

Exhibit, Lecture, Reception Among February Events

In conjunction with the celebration of February as Community College Month, the Garrett Community College art gallery is featuring an exhibit of art works by students who were enrolled in Ron Skidmore's art classes during the fall semester, 1988.

According to Skidmore, the works currently on display include water color and oil paintings, pencil drawings and designs, wood blocks, etchings, and a silk screen print. These works were done in the following:

Cross-Lites says:
The preaching of the cross is the power of God.

ing courses: Printmaking I, Painting I and II, and Basic Design I.

A reception is being planned for the evening of February 23 to coincide with the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival Fireside Lecture Series event of that date. "Elizabethan Roots of Appalachian Music" featuring Patty Looman and a local musical group, Hammers and Strings. The presentation is set to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium, with the reception to follow in the art gallery.

The reception will honor the student artists and the musicians who participate in the program. A short film, "The Day of the Painter" will be shown. The public is invited to attend.

Eric Bendler Wins Broad Ford Geography Bee

Eric Bendler, a fifth grade student at Broad Ford Elementary School, won the school's Geography Bee recently and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, where students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the new National Geography Bee that is being sponsored by National Geographic WORLD, the Society's magazine for children.

Eric is the son of Hugh and Donna Schrier, Oakland.

The Bee was kicked off the week of January 9 in thousands of schools around the United States and in four territories. The school winners, including Eric, will now take a written test: up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their state Bee April 7.

WINS GEOGRAPHY BEE — Eric Bendler, a fifth grade student at Broad Ford Elementary School, recently won the school's Geography Bee, and will have a chance at a $25,000 scholarship. Pictured above is Eric with Thomas Fowler, principal. Eric is the son of Hugh and Donna Schrier, Oakland.

The National Geographic Society will fly all first-place winners from the state Bees, along with their teacher escorts, to Washington, D.C., to participate in the National Geography Bee finals on May 18 and 19. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second-place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

The Bee featured questions on the broad subject of geography — the study of the earth and its inhabitants.

The National Geographic Society developed the National Geography Bee in response to a growing concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States.

deficit is the most pressing problem facing the nation. Approving a congressional pay raise of this size, at a time like this, sends the wrong message to the American people," said the sixth term representative.

"I am confident that if enough of my colleagues continue to get behind this resolution, we will have the strength to bring this measure to the House floor for a vote. When it gets there, I can assure you that I will vote against the proposed raise," Byron concluded.

Library Corner

The Ruth Enlow Library-Oakland branch is sponsoring a preschool Valentine fun hour on February 9, at 10:00 a.m. The class is limited to 20 children. Parents should call the library at 334-3996 to register their child.

Byron Supports Bill To Defeat Pay Increase

U.S. Representative Beverly Byron reaffirmed her opposition to the President's proposal for a congressional pay raise.

She has co-sponsored a resolution calling for a separate, recorded vote on any proposal to raise congressional pay. The bill, HR 401, popularly known as the "Tauke Resolution," would also delay any increase until after the next Congress.

"The Tauke Resolution is the only real option to express the displeasure of those members who join me in opposing the pay increase," said Rep. Byron. "The bill presently has over 80 co-sponsors and is regarded as the only serious vehicle to get the attention of the House leadership on this issue."

"For the last several years, my constituents have consistently told me that the budget

Going back to December, the Deer Park Homemakers reported having 12 members and six guests at their Christmas Dinner. It was served by the Swanton Community Women's Group at the Community Building. Their celebration included poems, a short story, songs, a gift exchange, and a special guest, Brenda Caldwell, played her flute. In January the club met at the Fire Hall with ten members and one guest. They learned how to manage a home-based business and talked with Debbie Bernard, the licensing specialist from the Office of Child Care, regarding day care centers.

"Get-wells" to some of the club members include: Lorena Smith and May Weimer from Deer Park Club, Fanny Bender of the Cove Club, and Vera Merrill of the New Germany Club.

County Council members and anyone interested in higher learning — take note: scheduled for March 20, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Baltimore, is the Maryland Extension Homemakers Council Leadership Workshop. Call the Extension Office (334-1990) by February 10 to preregister. For the County chair-people the cost will be minimal, considering a car pool for this one-day event. Please join us.

In our strive to get the public involved in our activities, the homemaker clubs have given many of the seatbelt covers away. (You read about this activity in last week's Republican). Many of our members have worked very hard cutting material, sewing, wrapping and observing motorists with their seatbelts on. We are very proud of Garrett Countians for wearing their seatbelts and we are happy to give out the covers. Keep buckling-up and be safe!

The Meadow Glade Homemakers were just one of the clubs who have participated in the seatbelt project. Three of their members went to the high schools and four of them went to Fratz Red and White Grocery and passed out approximately 150 covers in all. There are eight Clubs involved in this activity. You will see them somewhere in your area soon!

Danielle Sherwood Is Contestant In Miss Junior Pageant

Danielle Sherwood will take part in the Miss Junior Maryland Pageant on February 26, at the Towson Sheraton Inn. She was also a contestant in this pageant in 1986 and 1987. She was a winner last year in the talent portion of the program.

Miss Sherwood is the daughter of Robin and Joida Sherwood, McHenry, and attends Northern Middle School where she is a sixth grader.

She likes to sing and dance and roller skate. Her sponsors are Topsider Inc., Tom Tressler, Deep Creek Video, Humberson Homes, Inc., and Haywood and Son.

If she wins, Miss Sherwood will travel to Florida and represent Maryland in the televised national finals. Young ladies from all over America will unite in competition in categories which include interview, state costume, sportswear, and spokespersonship.

4-H CLUB NEWS

COUNTRY KIDS
by Barbara Browning, reporter

The January 17 meeting of the Country Kids 4-H Club was called to order by Becky DeBerry, president, who also led the pledges. Danielle and Jamie DeBerry gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports.

Under old business, members were reminded that speeches will be given by all members at the February 21 meeting at the Extension Office. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. and all members should bring refreshments.

Jamie DeBerry read a letter from Ted Sprangel, thanking the club for inviting him to their Christmas dinner.

Under new business, a 4-H ski night at the Wisp on February 3 was discussed. Anyone who has questions about it should contact the Extension Office.

Cooking classes for this year will be held at Cathy DeBerry's house. The first one will be on February 5.

Alice Hauser passed out record sheets for record books to those who needed them.

Elections for 1989 were held at this meeting. The results were: president, Heidi Hauser; vice president, Jeff Greene; secretary, Danielle DeBerry; Jamie DeBerry, treasurer; Becky DeBerry, news reporter, and alternate officer, Chris Snyder.

Other members who attended the meeting were Mike Greene and Mike Weeks.

Day-Care Group Plans Open House

The Garrett County Daycare Association will have an open house on February 7 at 7 p.m. at Garrett Community College, Room LC154, beside the library. Area parents are urged to attend and inform the daycare providers what they want in daycare.

A Daycare Management class will be held on February 11 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the South Cumberland Library. The class will be free of charge. Questions should be directed to Debbie at 826-8717.

Southern Girls Top Huskies, But Lose To Valley

The Southern girls varsity basketball team topped cross-county rival Northern Friday night in Accident, 50-39, to record its eighth win in 12 games, but the Rams were then soundly trounced last night by undefeated Valley, 60-30, in Oakland.

Courtney Smith led the Rams against the Huskies, finishing with 18 points on seven field goals and four of five free throws, as Coach Don Stemple's squad topped the Huskies for the second time this season. The loss dropped Northern to 7-6.

The Rams wasted no time taking control of the contest in the first half, moving out to an 18-7 lead by the end of the first quarter and holding a 34-21 advantage at halftime. However, Coach Hary Speicher's team ignited a rally in the third quarter and out-scored the Rams, 13-6, to narrow Southern's lead to 40-34 at the end of that period. The gap was closed to four points in that period, but Northern could get no closer.

Kristin Edwards led all scorers as she pumped in 22 points on seven goals and eight of 11 at the free throw line. She also pulled a team-high 10 rebounds.

Also reaching double figures for the Rams was Kathy Gibson, who finished with 10 points, while Melinda Evick grabbed 11 rebounds and Christine Bittinger was credited with six assists.

The Huskies' second leading scorer, Tina Lashbaugh, was unable to play in the contest because of influenza.

Facing the number one ranked girls team in the area in Valley was bad enough last night for Coach Stemple and the Rams, but it was made even worse when the same flu bug kept starters Kathy Gibson and Marci Stemple from playing. Only six members of the Southern varsity were dressed for the game as Stemple utilized a number of his jayvee players against the 13-0 Black Knights.

The Rams were really never in the game last night against Valley, as the Knights held quarter leads of 15-5, 32-13, and 44-23.

Marci Wildman netted 14 points to pace the Knights, while Dawn Sloan finished with 11 and Lisa Green, 10.

Melinda Evick led Southern with 10 points and Courtney Smith added nine.

It was the third win of the season by Valley over the Rams.

Southern attempt to bounce back Saturday evening at home against Beall.

Huskies Halt Losing Skid With Wins Over Flintstone, Elk Garden

The Northern Huskies halted a long losing skid this past week by recording a pair of victories, a 71-62 win over host Flintstone Friday night and a 72-49 thrashing of visiting Elk Garden Tuesday evening. The wins improve Coach Dave Bender's and the Huskies season mark to 6-10. They will travel to Oakland this Friday night to take on the Southern Rams for the third time this season.

Against Flintstone, Dave Yoder paced the Huskies' offensive field, netting 16 points on seven field goals and a pair of free throws. Kevin Selby and John Sherbin were right behind with 15 points each.

The Huskies moved out to a 20-12 advantage by the end of the first quarter, led 40-27 at halftime, and were on top 56-46 after three quarters. Leading all scorers was Flintstone's Todd Jay, who finished with 24 points on nine buckets and five of seven at the line. Colin Cessna and Rodney Rice also reached double figures for the winless (0-12) Aggies, finishing with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

It was a 16-point performance by Jim Stephens and a 14-point effort by Jon Houser that led Northern over 4-7 Elk Garden on Tuesday.

After leading by only four points at the end of the first quarter (18-14), the Huskies surged for 16 points in the second stanza and held the Stags to just six to take a 34-20 lead into the locker room at halftime. Another 16-point effort in the third period while holding the visitors to just eight points made it 50-28 after three quarters.

Rams Stopped By Falcons, But Re-Group To Defeat Bishop Walsh

The winning streak of the Southern boys' varsity basketball team was halted at seven games Friday night when the Rams were topped by Frankfort, 59-48, in a Potomac Valley Conference clash on the Falcons' floor. Frankfort, which had upset previously unbeaten Hampshire just three days prior, recorded its fourth straight win and improved its record to 9-4.

The Rams got back on the winning track Tuesday evening,

SOUTHERN (48)
Richard Evick 8-2-18, Joe Refosco 2-1-2, Tony Whitman 2-0-1, Shawn Kneiff 0-0-0, Marshall Pike 1-0-4, Zack Gibson 4-2-10, Mike Palmer 0-0-0, Dana Hetrick 0-0-0. Totals 21-5-48.
FRANKFORT (59)
Greg Hanna 7-8-21, Steve Uric 0-0-0, Danny Anderson 4-5-16, Charles Gulbranson 5-2-12, Andy Scott 2-1-2, Tony Whitman 2-0-1, Shawn Kneiff 0-0-0, Buckles Dayton 0-0-0. Totals 20-14-59.
Three-point goals: Southern 1 (Evick); Frankfort 5 (Anderson, 3 Hanna, Whitman). Total fouls: Southern 16, Frankfort 9. Fouled out: Gibson (Southern). Rebounds: Southern 39, Frankfort 28 (Gulbranson 14, Scott 13). Turnovers: Southern 20, Frankfort 12.

however, by defeating visiting Bishop Walsh, 69-59, and upping their record to 12-4. Coach Oren Yoder's squad is now in a three-way tie with Hampshire and Frankfort for first place in the PVC standings.

The score at the end of the first quarter in the Frankfort contest was knotted 13-13. Southern held a three-point advantage at halftime, 24-21, and the score was again tied at the end of the third period, 40-40. However, some key three-point shots, powerful rebounding, and steals by the Falcons' Danny Anderson during the fourth quarter made the difference down the stretch.

A three-pointer and a jump shot by Tony Whitman early in the fourth period gave Frankfort a 47-42 advantage. Joe Refosco followed with a basket for the Rams, but the Falcons recorded the next seven points on a follow-up shot by Charles Gulbranson and a three-pointer and two free throws by Anderson to make it 54-44 with 3:30 remaining.

The Falcons were able to maintain an eight to 11-point lead the rest of the way.

Greg Hanna and Anderson led the Falcons' scoring with 21 and 16 points, respectively, while Gulbranson netted 12 points and grabbed 14 rebounds. Andy Scott pulled 13 rebounds, Hanna was credited with five assists, and Anderson finished with six steals, four of which came in the final period.

Rich Evick paced Southern with 19 points, while Zack Gibson finished with 10. The Rams were out-rebounded, 39-29, but the Falcons actually won the game at the foul line, where they connected on 14 of 19 attempts, compared to a five-for-eight effort by Southern. The Rams out-gunned Frankfort from the floor, 21-20.

In the preliminary game, the Southern javees were hampered by the Frankfort junior varsity, 58-23, as Chris Eckard and T.J. Lynch scored 15 and 10 points for the winners. It was the 10th win in 11 games for the Frankfort javees.

The game Tuesday night against Bishop Walsh was equally close throughout the first three quarters of action, but the Rams out-scored the Spartans in the fourth period by a 19-11 margin for the win. It was the second victory this year by the Rams over BW, the first a 66-53 win in Cumberland.

The contest was knotted at 18-18 after one quarter of action, the Rams were down by one at halftime, 33-32, and they led by a bucket, 50-48, at the conclusion of the third period.

Evick led the Rams' scoring by recording 18 points, as four Southern players finished with double figures. Marshall Pike netted 15 points, freshman Brett Rice contributed 14 and Joe Refosco added 13 points, plus pulled eight rebounds. Evick and Gibson were each credited with four assists.

The area's leading scorer, Jason Stutcher, who is averaging 26 points per contest, led the Spartans with 22 points, 12 of which came on four three-point buckets. However, the Ram defense was able to control Stutcher in the critical fourth period.

Rich Gray and Craig Monahan added 12 and 11 points for Bishop Walsh. The loss evened the Spartans' record at 7-7.

Brad Paye and Robbie Boyle each scored 13 points for the Bishop Walsh junior varsity, which topped the Southern javees in the preliminary game, 50-34.

Northern Girls Edge Flintstone

After losing to arch rival Southern Monday night, the Northern girls' varsity rebounded yesterday for a two-point victory over visiting Flintstone, 46-46.

Tina Lashbaugh, who missed the Southern game because of influenza, was back in the lineup last night and netted 18 points for Coach Harv Speicher, as did Kristen Edwards, to lead the Huskies to their eighth win in 14 games.

Most of Edwards' points were scored from the free throw line, as she made good on 10 of 11 attempts, including her final six shots in the fourth quarter. She also grabbed 13 rebounds.

The game was close throughout, as Northern was on top by three, 10-7, at the end of the first quarter, trailed by one at halftime, 23-22, and led 36-34 after three periods.

All of Lashbaugh's points came on field goals.

Pacing the Aggies was Dawn Singleton, who netted 17 points and pulled 13 rebounds. Also reaching double figures was Billie McCusker, with 11 points.

It was the 12th loss in 17 games for Flintstone.

The Huskies will head Oldtown this Friday afternoon at 2:30 and then entertain Valley in a make-up game on Saturday at 6 p.m.

Lakers Whip Penn State-Fayette Before Falling To CC Of Baltimore

A 25-point performance by Kevin Thompson, plus another dazzling offensive and defensive display by Aaron Davis highlighted a 78-68 victory by the Garrett Community College Lakers Monday night against visiting Fayette Campus of Penn State.

It was the 14th win of the campaign for Coach Dennis Gibson's squad, but the Lakers also recorded their 11th defeat this week, losing to the Community College of Baltimore last night, 99-85, on the Red Devils' floor.

The Lakers led Fayette by as many as 20 points in the second half before Coach Gibson began substituting freely. Garrett was on top at halftime by a 45-34 margin.

Thompson's points came on 11 field goals, including three three-pointers. Davis finished with 12 points, 11 steals, and 10 assists, while Bobby Gregg also reached double figures with 14 points. Greg Turman led the Lakers' rebounding with 10.

Leading Fayette's scoring effort were Shady McKnight with 21 points and Mike Rosso with 17. Rosso also led his team in rebounds with seven.

The Lakers were out-rebounded, 32-28.

Although the Lakers dominated the boards and shot 65 percent from the floor in the second half last night against the Red Devils of the Community College of Baltimore, it wasn't enough.

The score was close throughout the first half until the Devils made a run just before halftime to take a four-point lead, 36-32.

However, Baltimore came back after intermission and surged to a 25-point lead with about six minutes remaining in the game. The Lakers went to a foulout press and managed to cut the gap to 14 points, but they ran out of time.

Thompson again led the Lakers in scoring, this time with 22 points, while Davis recorded 14 points, 11 assists, and five steals. Mark Nuckols added 12 points and Travis Bohrer netted 11 points and pulled a game-high 17 rebounds.

The clinic will be held on Monday, Feb. 6, Wednesday, Feb. 8, and Thursday, Feb. 9, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. The try-outs will take place on Monday, Feb. 13, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m.

The clinic and try-outs are for youth ages 10 to 13 and will cost $5.00 per person. The money will benefit the Southern Cheerleaders.

Baltimore's William Gladden led all scorers with 24 points and also pulled seven rebounds. Darnell Snead finished with 14 points.

The Lakers out-rebounded the Devils by a 45-24 margin.

The JUCO loss was costly in another way for the Lakers, as Thompson went down with a sprained ankle in the closing minutes of the game. He is listed as doubtful for Saturday's game at home against nationally-ranked Allegany

Community College. The Lakers are currently 3-5 in JUCO competition.

Mt. Top League Results Announced

Thursday, January 26

Buffalo Coal stayed within striking distance of their Mt. Top Basketball League divisional leader, Miners & Merchants, with 106-80 thrashing of Bausch & Lomb. Tom Panther of Buffalo led all scorers with 30 points, while Marty Christion recorded 17 for B&L.

The National Guard gained revenge for an earlier loss to Fairfax Stone with a 80-61 win over Fairfax. Rich Humberston of the Guard and Pat Adams of Fairfax led all scorers with 23 points each.

Deep Creek Pharmacy ran its winning streak to seven games by edging Durst Exxon, 83-80. Dave McLaughlin hit six free throws in the last minute and a half to seal the victory. Darryl Dupert netted 24 to lead the Pharmacy and Norm Minnick of Durst led all scorers with 29 points.

Martin's Auto Glass ran its unbeaten string to 12 with a 124-87 win over Gonder's Insurance. Dennis Gibson of Martin's finished with 31 each. Video Connection rolled to its ninth victory of the season with an easy 100-41 win over The Body Firm. Marty Swarner netted 22 points for Video and Mike Hoffeditz scored 17 for The Firm.

Tuesday, January 31
Steve Liller's 12-foot jumper with seven seconds remaining in the game was the margin of victory as A&A Realty edged Buffalo Coal, 88-86. The lead see-sawed all during the second half as both teams enjoyed leads as large as seven points.

A&A held the ball for the last 45 seconds of the game before Liller took his shot on which he was fouled. Liller missed his free throw, but Greg Shockley hauled in the long rebound to ice the victory. Liller hit 35 points to lead all scorers. Ken Niner added 22 points for A&A and Tom Panther had 22 points for Buffalo Coal. J.R. Bosley and Mike Saturday each added 20 points in the losing battle.

In other action, Miners & Merchants Bank routed Deep Creek Pharmacy, 91-45. Bryan Wilt netted 20 points to lead the Miners and Warren Hook led the Pharmacy with 13 points.

Martin's Auto Glass rolled over The National Guard, 103-77. Dennis Gibson pumped in 37 points to lead Martin's and Jonathan Cramer had 24 points for the Guard.

At GCC, Ferrell's Mart won its second game of the season, defeating The Body Firm, 93-53. Fairfax Stone downed Gonder's Insurance, 66-54.

Young Dribblers To Be Guests Of Rams

The members of the Oakland Rotary Dribblers Club will be the guests of the Southern Rams basketball team this Friday night.

The members will be admitted to the Southern-Beall junior varsity and varsity games free of charge and will shoot lay-ups during halftime of both contests, according to Bill Ewing, director of the club.

The Dribblers Club is composed of third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students who play in Saturday leagues at Dennett Road and Southern Middle schools throughout the winter months. Approximately 160 area youth are in the program this year. The club is sponsored by the Oakland Rotary Club and the S.C.C.P. Recreation Program.

A SPECIAL VISITOR to Oakland Cub Scout Pack 70 recently was Santa (Van Reneker) Claus, and young Christopher Manning wasn't about to miss the opportunity to have a chat with him, even though he is not yet old enough to be a Cub Scout. The Scouts assisted Santa with the Oakland Rotary Club's Operation Santa, which provided food and gifts to area needy families. Since that time, Pack 70 members have had a pool party at Alpine Lake and have a whole slate of activities on tap for February. The Scouts will attend the 10 a.m. mass at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland this Sunday, Feb. 5, as a group in observance of Boy Scout Sunday, they will hold their annual Blue/Gold Dinner at the Deer Park Community Fire Hall on February 11, and will participate in the Scout Show at the mall in Cumberland on February 18.

revision and modification of the regulations, and provide procedures, guidelines and criteria for the same.

The regulations provide definitions, a table of uses for zoning within the Town of Oakland, regulation of off street parking and signs, establish zoning districts, and define the same, provide for map and boundary interpretations, set forth dimensional requirements, setback requirements, minimum lot sizes, and design standards, Watson said. The regulations also provide for the administration of the zoning duties and powers of the Town of Oakland, establish and define the Board of Appeals, and set forth its powers and authority.

and provide for such other rules and regulations as are needed for the orderly establishment and administration of the Town's zoning authority. Copies of the proposed Zoning Ordinance are available at Town Hall. At the meeting, according to Mayor Asa M. McCain Jr., all parties in interest as well as the general public shall have an opportunity to ask questions and make comments to the Town Council.

Mayor McCain also said that, in addition to the public process in adopting a new ordinance, the Town intends to attempt a detailed explanation of the new ordinance, by submitting articles to local newspapers.

Selected Student Employee Of Month

Christine Thoman was selected by the members of Northern High School Jobs Club as December Student Employee of the Month.

Miss Thoman has worked as a bus girl at the B & S Food Services at the Wisp Resort for over four years. Her employer describes her work attitude as "conscientious."

In addition to her work responsibilities, Christine is also involved in the Ski Club and D.E.C.A.

Molly Ramsey To Participate In WVU Honor Band

Molly Ramsey of McHenry will be representing the Northern High School Band in the West Virginia University Honor Band, which will give a concert February 18 at the Creative Arts Center in Morgantown, according to Jim Board, Northern High Band director.

Molly is a sophomore flute player at Northern. She is a daughter of David and Sara Ramsey.

American Legion Supports Winter Special Olympics

Legionnaires from 10 legions throughout the state of Maryland volunteered their help at the Maryland Winter Special Olympics held at the Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry January 22-25. The American Legion is a major supporter of the Special Olympics in both monetary donations and in volunteer help.

Members from Proctor Kildow Post 71, Oakland, Accident Post 208 and Grantsville Post 214 provided the color guard for the opening ceremonies on Sunday. For three days Legionnaires worked as timers, "catchers", "huggers", provided four-wheeler rides and carried out various other duties in support of the athletes.

Legionnaires who participated from Garrett County included: Stewart McRobie, Paul Kolb, Robert Bowser, Dale Rodeheaver, Sam Bowman, Glenn Alexander, Rev. William Carlson, Robert Grottelty, and Robert George, all from Accident Post 208; Mathew Stening, of Grantsville Post 214; Eloise Ratliff, Julie Dixon, Joyce Dixon, and Alice Strobel, of Proctor Kildow Auxiliary Unit 71; Dayton Alexander, Ron Friend, Jack Ford, Delmar Dilley, Andy Anderson, Ernie Strobel, and Debi Dixon, of Proctor Kildow Post 71; and Bobbi Anderson, wife of a Legionnaire.

Four-wheelers and carts were provided by Bill Kitzmiller of Victory Post 155 and Stewart McCrobie of Accident Post 208.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

*****

U.S. Navy Seaman Recruit Cynthia L. Rodeheaver, daughter of Robert L. and Karin E. Rodeheaver, Bayard, W.Va., has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During Rodeheaver's eight-week training cycle, she studied general military subjects designed to prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Rodeheaver's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

She is a 1988 graduate of Union High School, Mount Storm.

AURORA-EGILON NEWS

LENTEN SERVICES
The first of the Union District Lenten Services will be held February 8 at the Aurora United Methodist Church with the Rev. Bradley Shaffer bringing the message. Time of all services will be 7:30 p.m.

KISNER-STEMPLE NUPITALS
David L. Stemple and Cheryl Ann Kisner were united in marriage January 20 in Oakland. Following a weekend honeymoon in Virginia, they have established residence at the groom's mobile home on Mt. Top. Cheryl is the daughter of Sandie and Harold Kisner of Aurora and David is the son of David F. and Delores Stemple, also Aurora.

THOSE WHO ARE ILL
Mrs. John Auvil (Ruby) of Stemple Ridge returned last week to her home after being a patient for treatment of pneumonia at Garrett Memorial Hospital. On Wednesday, her husband was taken to the Clarksburg VA Hospital for evaluation. He returned to their home.

Victor Rinehart of Aurora has been a patient in the Clarksburg VA Hospital, but has been removed to the Heartland Nursing Home at Kingwood after having a stroke.

Anna Feather of Eglon was taken last Tuesday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she remains a patient.

Mrs. Esta Bowman returned last Tuesday to her home at Brookside from Garrett County Memorial where she had been admitted the previous Thursday after suffering a stroke. Jim Adams of Aurora remains a patient in the Clarksburg VA Hospital, but his condition has improved and he expects to return home in the near future.

Mrs. Leticia Bonner fell at her home last week and is recuperating from an injured knee.

Various types of flu have been making the rounds and many are confined to their homes because of this ailment.

Fred Stemple of Aurora was admitted Friday morning to the CIC unit at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. He remains a patient there.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST
Ronnie and Delores Harsh returned recently to Eglon from a three-week trip to West Germany where he was on business for his employer, Island Creek Coal, and she accompanied him to combine it with a sight-seeing expedition.

David and Delores Stemple of Aurora attended a Sire Power meeting in Harrisburg, Va., and stopped enroute to visit with the Mizers, former residents here.

George Lipscomb of Aurora was injured last week when the coal truck he was driving was struck head-on by another vehicle. He was treated at Petersburg hospital and is recuperating at his home.

Weekend guests of Homer and Marguerite Myers were their son, Jim, and his family of Herndon, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets of Aurora visited Sunday with Mrs. Esta Bowman, attended a surprise birthday party at the Underwood Church for Mary Nine, and visited in Mt. Lake Park with Mrs. Olivia Fike.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harsh have occupied the former Ray Judy home in Eglon which they had purchased earlier this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spaid of Aurora and Mrs. Mildred Wilt, Eglon, were Sunday dinner guests of the former's daughter and family, Mrs. George Sisler, Annette, Diane, Kathy and David at Cranessville.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Lydia Harsh, Aurora, were Wilma Rembold, Virginia Jones and Maxine Hauser, all local; Robin Blamble of Oakland; Mark Everly, his fiancée and her son of Tampa, Fla., and Oran Harsh of Ohio.

A surprise dinner was served at the John Calcamp home Saturday evening, January 28, by Buck Knotts, John Calcamp, Clyde Harsh, Bob Harsh, Donald Calcamp, and "Putt" Corbin for their families and friends from Accident, Leadmine, Silver Lake, Aurora, Eglon, and Crellin. The menu included vegetable soup, salad, cake and ice cream.

A wedding of local interest took place Saturday, January 28, at the Pleasant View Baptist Church, Oakland, when Faye Radford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Radford Sr., became the bride of Michael Harvey of Kitzmiller.

Harold and Janice Loughrie of Grantsville and Mrs. Ernest Arnold, visited Sunday with friends and relatives in Eglon and Aurora. Mr. Arnold has been spending the winter with the Loughries since he became ill in early December.

WVU Enrollment Continues First Semester Trend

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. — Spring semester total enrollment at West Virginia University is 7 percent higher than at the same time last year, based on preliminary estimates by university officials.

Approximately 17,400 students are enrolled at WVU this semester, said Glenn G. Carter, director of Admissions and Records, compared to a final figure of 16,292 students reported last January.

Dr. Carter said he expects this preliminary spring student count to be adjusted somewhat based on late enrollments and on the number of students who have not paid their tuitions.

"The spring enrollment picture is about what we expected based on the increase of last fall," Carter said.

Fall 1988 enrollment was 18,746, including WVU's largest freshman class ever and an overall enrollment increase of 8 percent more than the previous year.

LIBRARIAN RETIRING

Mrs. June Frazee, assistant librarian of the Terra Alta Public Library, is retiring. A tea will be given in Mrs. Frazee's honor Friday, February 3, between 1:30-4:30 p.m. at the library. Friends and patrons are invited to greet her at this time.

ROTARY NEWS

The Terra Alta Rotary Club met recently at Alpine Lake. Vice president Gary Livengood opened the session.

The program was presented by Dick Bugaj, Mayor Charles Feather was introduced as the guest speaker. Since the recent years' dry spells, the water levels of the town's six source wells are considerably lower than they have been in the past. However, the output of each has seen improvement during the past 12 months. At the same time, the town's consumption has increased dramatically from 84,000 gallons daily in 1980, to 190,000 gallons today. Feather also stated that much of the 23 miles of service pipe is in need of replacement. He expressed his appreciation to the club for its support of the project currently underway to raise funds to purchase new holiday decorations for the town.

SWANTON

Kenneth and Encie Teets, Norfolk, Va., are visiting Orval and Mareva Teets and other relatives in Garrett County.

Jennie and Jim Ritchie, Rawlings, were Sunday guests of Caroline and Dan Hutson.

Four Swanton youths, who participated in the North Garrett Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Northern last Saturday, won first places in their divisions. They were Chad Mellinger, J.D. Mellinger, Sonny Livengood and A.J. Fleming. Each boy was presented a trophy.

Carolyn and John Livengood motored to the Pittsburgh Airport, Tuesday to pick up her parents, Betty and Glen O'Brien, who were returning from California.

Recent visitors of Grace and Gail Warnick were Evelyn and Steven Powell, Crossville, Tenn., and John and Kelly Warnick, Middletown.

Maryland Fur Trappers, District I, will meet Monday, February 6, at 7 p.m., at the Swanton Community Center.

Albert, Linda and A.J. Fleming were Saturday evening visitors of Rick and Karen Meyers, Friendsville.

OTTERBIEN UNITED METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Among those who attended the 5th Sunday Sing at Paradise Church on Sunday were Betty, Harley and Ricky Wildesen, Mary June and Ellis Harvey, Richard Gerlock, Sandra and Ellisa Schofield, Robert Winters and Mareva and Orval Teets.

Gail Warnick, Ellis Harvey, Harley Wildesen, Richard Gerlock, Robert Winters and Orval Teets attended the Brotherhood Breakfast at the Casselman Hotel in Grantsville, Saturday morning. Ellis Harvey was the speaker.

Groceries and funds collected for the House of Hope during January were delivered this week.

The Men's Breakfast will be this Saturday, February 4, at 8 a.m. in the church social room.

The Mt. Top Gospelaires will sing at Pleasant View Baptist Church, Route 219 south of Oakland, at 6:30 p.m. February 12.

(delayed one week)

Lester Green is a surgical patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Rev. George Tichnell is a patient in the cardiac unit of Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Goldie Rhodes and Dan Hutson visited Zella Rhodes in Keyser, W.Va., last Thursday.

TO SING AT PLEASANT VIEW CHURCH — The Mountaintop Gospelaires, a local gospel singing group, will appear in concert at the Pleasant View Baptist Church on Sunday, February 12, at 6:30 p.m., according to Marty Herron, pastor. Members of the Gospelaires include, left to right, front row, Orval Teets, Swanton, bass; Peggy Lambert, Oakland, piano and alto; and Gale Wilson, Bayard, W.Va., tenor. In the second row, same order, are Darren Lambert, Oakland, lead and high alto; and Ellsworth Lambert, Oakland, lead. The Gospelaires, who have performed for many years in the four state area, will soon be releasing their third professional recording. Pastor Herron invites all to attend the program. The church is located about two miles south of Oakland along U.S. Rt. 219.

Freda and Glen Teets were Sunday dinner guests of the Charles Teets, Deer Park.

Legal Aid Bureau Notes February Outreach Schedule

Staff members of the Legal Aid Bureau, Inc. will be available to discuss legal problems with persons during February in Oakland on February 7 and February 21 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Community Action Center in Oakland.

The Bureau provides legal assistance in civil matters to eligible persons. Services are available at no cost to those whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The Western Maryland office of the Bureau is located at 110 Greene Street in Cumberland. The office can be reached in Garrett County by calling 334-8832 or 777-7474 for Grantsville area residents.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call in advance to schedule an appointment for the outreach location for an appointment at the Cumberland office, according to a Bureau spokesman.

There will not be a representative available if Garrett County Schools are cancelled because of bad weather. Persons should always call the Cumberland office at 334-8832 by 10 a.m. each scheduled outreach day to confirm whether the representative will be available in Oakland.

ARC And EDA Efforts Praised By Rep. Byron

U.S. Congresswoman Beverly B. Byron says she opposes federal budget proposals that would eliminate the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and the Economic Development Administration (EDA), citing the important impact the programs have had on the economy in the Sixth District. The ARC has allocated a total of $4,433,000 dollars to Washington, Allegany, and Garrett counties over the last year; the EDA has contributed $696,200 dollars to the district, boosting employment rates significantly, Mrs. Byron said.

"We've seen the unemployment rate drop from nearly 20 percent in 1980 to just under six percent in 1988," Byron said. "Projects funded by the Appalachian Regional Commission and the Economic Development Administration have helped to put people back to work in my District and I'm all for that."

The ARC created in 1965 is a Federal-State governmental agency which is concerned primarily with the economic, physical, and social development of the 13 states that make up the Appalachian region: Maryland, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties in Maryland's Sixth District are eligible for the funds. Over the past year, ARC dollars have gone to such projects as the Tri-County Council's revolving loan fund for local businesses ($252,468), Frostburg's Piney Dam construction project ($200,000) and the Mountain Lake Home Ownership Site Development program ($85,377).

"And just this month, the ARC has approved $250,000 for development of the Hagerstown Business Park," Byron added. "According to the ARC, this project could create up to 500 new jobs. At that rate the tax revenue generated by the jobs could pay back the loan in the first year."

The EDA was established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 and seeks to generate new jobs and to stimulate commercial and industrial growth. EDA funds have gone to Frederick, Cumberland, Hagerstown and Montgomery county this year and have helped to finance such projects as the Frostburg water system improvements ($646,200) and a planning grant for Cumberland ($50,000).

"I back the ARC and the EDA one hundred percent," Byron said. "Over the last eight years funding for these important programs has been threatened, but we've been able to restore them."

Tammy K. Martin, Kevin D. Gnegy Exchange Wedding Vows January 9

Wedding vows were exchanged by Tammy Kay Martin and Kevin Duane Gnegy on January 9, 1989, at Crellin United Methodist Church. The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was performed by Pastor Kenneth Montgomery. Traditional wedding music was provided by Melody King, cousin of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of David and Annabelle Martin, of Crellin. The groom is the son of Robert and Marjorie Gnegy, of Pleasant Valley.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of glowing acetate satin. The stand-up collar and illusion net yoke were appliqued with Venise lace and Schiffli embroidery. A wide lace flounce edged the sweetheart neckline and bodice, and full gathered sheer sleeves ended in a wide lace cuff at the wrist. The full skirt featured a lace-flounced hemline and extended from a slightly raised waistline into a chapel-length train.

The bride wore a fingertip-length veil held by a pearl wreath and miniature white roses. She carried a cascading bouquet of pale blue day lilies, medium blue satin roses, stephanotis, ivy and pearls.

Tracie Everd, Oakland, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. Valerie Gnegy, Oakland, sister of the groom, served as the bridesmaid. Both attendants wore white off-the-shoulder tea-length gowns trimmed with blue bows. They carried blue and white nosegays.

James Ashby, friend of the groom, served as the best man. Guests were ushered by Jeffery Martin, brother of the bride. Patty Kight, friend of the bride, registered guests.

A reception was held at the Crellin School cafeteria. The hall was decorated with blue and white crepe paper braids, white bells, and blue centerpieces. The blue-trimmed, heart-shaped cake was baked and served by Leota Martin, aunt of the bride. Punch was served by JoAnn Rodeheaver, cousin of the bride.

Following the wedding, the couple took up residence in Crellin.

Oester-Diehl Couple To Wed

Barbara Jean Oester and Michael James Diehl have announced their engagement. Miss Oester is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oester, Grantsville. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Diehl, Addison, Pa.

Miss Oester is a 1982 graduate of Northern High School and a 1985 graduate of Garrett Community College. She is currently employed at National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, Markleysburg, Pa.

Mr. Diehl is a 1981 graduate of Turkeyfoot Valley Area High School. He is currently employed with Somerfield Cable TV and on the family farm.

A September 1990 wedding is being planned.

Zehner Couple Celebrate 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zehner, Somerset, Pa., recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner at the Oakhurst Tea Room on December 30 and a formal reception December 31 at the Somerset Church of the Brethren.

Mr. Zehner, a native of Medina, Ohio, is the son of the late Charles and Pearl (Cramer) Zehner. Mrs. Zehner, a native of Accident, is the daughter of the late William and Clara (Broadwater) Speicher.

The couple was married in Accident on December 31, 1938, by the Rev. Arthur Scrogum, who now resides in LaVerne, Calif.

The Zehners resided in Grantsville for several years before moving to Somerset in 1946. They were dairy farmers until their retirement.

They have two sons: John Zehner, Somerset, and Dr. James Zehner, Titusville, Pa.

The Zehners are deacons at the Somerset Church of the Brethren. They enjoy gardening, traveling, and quilting.

Missionary To Speak At Hiway Assembly

Reverend Douglas Baldwin, Assemblies of God Missionary to Ecuador, South America, will be the guest speaker at Hiway Assembly of God Church, Kitzmiller, Wednesday, February 8, at 6:30 p.m., according to Reverend G.K. Hixon, pastor.

In Ecuador, Baldwin and his wife, Carol, will reside in the capital city of Quito and will participate in evangelism and church planting efforts in connection with the Quito Task Force. The task force is an intense evangelism effort carried out by Assemblies of God missionaries in that country (utilizing tent crusades, television, and radio) to evangelize, disciple new Christians, and establish churches.

About the size of Nevada, Ecuador is a country of contrasts from the fertile coastal lowlands to the high, rugged Andes Mountains. Spanish is the official language for Ecuador's nearly 11 million people, and every 95 out of 100 Ecuadorians are Roman Catholic.

Assemblies of God missionaries first went to Ecuador in 1962 and today nearly 8,000 believers worship in 59 Assemblies of God churches and 47 outstations.

About their assignment to Ecuador, Baldwin says, "Our decision for full-time missions work has been developing for several years; our desire is to spend our lives reaching the people of Ecuador for Christ."

Prior to missionary appointment, the Baldwins pastored churches in Waynesboro and DuBois, Pa. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin attended Valley Forge Christian College in Phoenixville, Pa., where Baldwin completed the B.S. degree in Bible.

Marylanders Spend More On Sports, Exhibits

Marylanders spent $85.8 million, or 4.3 percent more on taxable entertainment, during October, November and December, 1988, than during the same three months of the previous year, according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. Increased spending for athletic events, trade and specialty shows, and athletic facilities and equipment rentals contributed to the growth in entertainment spending.

Statewide spending for athletic events increased by 48 percent over the same period last year, to just over $6 million. Marylanders also spent more than $6 million for tickets to shows and exhibits with the bulk of the increase taking place in Prince George's County. "This 20 percent increase in spending reflects the ever growing number of specialty and trade shows taking place throughout Maryland," Goldstein said.

Spending on the types of indoor sports activities popular in the colder months also showed increases. Marylanders spent $2.8 million on athletic facilities and equipment rentals, a 5.6 percent increase over spending for the same quarter last year. Ski slope and ski rentals and skating shoe rentals also attracted more entertainment dollars.

Golfers enjoyed the cooler fall temperatures enough to spend $6.8 million in fees and rentals, up 19 percent from the same period last year. Spending at miniature golf and driving ranges was up 12.6 percent, to $706,205.

Moviegoers, on the other hand, spent less for tickets during the October through December, 1988, period. Movie spending totaled $12.5 million, down 12.4 percent from the same period of the previous year.

"All of this spending for entertainment generates admissions and amusement tax revenue which our office collects for Maryland's counties, cities and towns," Goldstein said. The comptroller noted that checks totaling $5,560,904 are on their way to local governments as their share of the admissions and amusement tax receipts.

"This distribution is 8.8 percent more than the $5,109,068 we returned to the local governments for the October-December period of 1987," Goldstein said. "We collect this revenue at rates set by local officials and return the money to local governments each quarter."

The amount being returned to Garrett County for the second quarter of Fiscal Year 1989 was $21,443, compared to $17,923 for the same quarter the previous year.

Bar Association Survey Indicates Attorney Discontent

A recent Maryland State Bar Association survey indicates growing dissatisfaction among many lawyers practicing law in Maryland. Although two-thirds of the attorneys polled are "definitely glad they went into the practice of law," one-third are uncertain if they wish to remain in the legal profession. Ninety-four percent expressed concern that the legal profession is becoming more of a business and less of a profession. Eighty percent are convinced that the increasingly negative public view of the legal profession today is one of the main causes of lawyer dissatisfaction. Many of the attorneys polled also believe that the excessively high starting salaries of beginning lawyers is creating a further negative effect.

Survey findings also revealed that most attorneys work, on the average, 60 hours a week, are responsible for case overloads and endure high levels of stress in both their professional and personal lives. Concern was expressed over the generally high cost of legal services, the declining firm loyalty as partners and associates increasingly move from firm to firm quite readily, and the existence of discrimination in the legal profession on the basis of gender, race, disability, religion and national origin.

The Maryland State Bar Association, recognizing that the level of discontent and dissatisfaction among lawyers has increased in the past five years, conducted this survey through an independent firm. The Bar has taken the initiative to identify the underlying causes, seek solutions and propose measures to rectify this situation. "In an effort to retain the high caliber of experienced attorneys currently practicing law in the state of Maryland," stated a Bar spokesman, who added that, although the Bar is pleased that a large segment of the lawyer population is relatively satisfied with the legal profession, it is distressed over the one-third who may seek other careers. MSBA plans to conduct a professionalism conference in March of this year to further explore this situation.

The Maryland State Bar Association is a professional, non-profit, voluntary membership association comprised of over 13,000 attorneys across the state of Maryland, which monitors judicial and legislative issues in the state, offers legal education opportunities and promotes leadership within the legal profession. MSBA develops and sponsors public service programs to ensure the delivery of quality legal services to all citizens and is committed to "furthering the efficient administration of justice and equality for all under the law."

Business Women Soliciting Recipes For Pike Festival

The Little Heiskell Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) of Hagerstown and the Washington County Tourism Office are soliciting recipes for their National Pike Cookbook to be published in May in conjunction with the celebration of the National Pike Festival.

Recipes from Washington, Allegany, and Garrett County residents are being sought. Any recipe from 1800 through the present will be accepted for consideration in the cookbook. The groups expect the final cookbook to include about 800 recipes. The cookbook will be sold with proceeds benefiting the ABWA's educational programs.

Anyone wishing to send in a recipe should contact the Washington County Tourism Office, 1826-C Dual Highway, Hagerstown, Md. 21740 for an official recipe book form. Forms are due back at the tourism office by February 15 to be considered.

The recipe book will include sections on ethnic recipes, celebrity recipes from Maryland Governor Schaefer as well as local county commissioners, mayors and other well-known persons. Other sections being considered are "Gramma's Favorites," healthful recipes featuring low-sodium and low-cal items, and others.

The cookbook will be offered for sale at tourism offices and stores along Rt. 40 in all three counties in May '89. A similar project is also being undertaken in Pennsylvania, with the three counties along Rt. 40 which are also involved in the National Pike Festival, May 20-21.

For additional information, persons should contact Washington County Tourism at 301-791-3130.

Men Turning 26 Are Reminded Of SS Registration

Young men who will turn 26 in 1989 will be reaching an important milestone, according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on January 1, 1989, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1981 will be turning 26. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

With few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain federal benefits such as student aid, job training, and most federal employment, in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon, the Service said.

Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state-supported colleges and universities, state employment, and permission to practice law.

Many of the men who have not registered may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register. Some may even have served in the military, but failed to register either before entering the armed forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been institutionalized or incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and did not realize they were required to register if released prior to age 26.

Young men age 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to 5 years in prison, or both.

For these men born in 1963 who have registered, 1989 also marks the year that ends their eligibility for selection for induction under present law.

Over 21 million men have registered with Selective Service since registration was re-instituted in 1980.

St. John's Church Given AAL Grant For Anniversary

St. John's Lutheran Church, Accident, has been awarded a $400 grant from AAL to help the congregation celebrate its 125th anniversary.

The grant has been provided through an AAL fraternal program called Milestone, which is designed to enable Lutheran congregations to recognize and celebrate significant anniversaries.

AAL has identified 281 Lutheran churches in the United States which are eligible for the special anniversary grant this year. These churches will share $139,800 based on the number of members in each congregation.

Since the inception of the program in 1982, AAL has distributed Milestone grants totaling more than $1 million to nearly 2,300 Lutheran congregations throughout the country.

AAL, based in Appleton, Wisc., is the nation's largest fraternal benefit society in terms of assets and ordinary life insurance in force.

The first macaroni factory in the U.S. was established in 1848.

One of the safest savings banks in the U.S. is here in Western Maryland.

Depositors today are more concerned than ever about the safety of their savings. And that's why we work hard not only to meet the safety standards set by federal regulations, but to exceed them.

According to a recent independent survey conducted by Bauer Communications, First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland rates as one of the safest institutions in the United States, based upon our profitability, our retained earnings, and our reserves, all of which far exceed the levels required by federal regulations.

So when you deposit your hard-earned dollars with us, you can save with confidence. That's important to us. Because at First Federal, you're not just a depositor—you're a neighbor.

Save with confidence with a neighbor you've trusted for years and for the years to come. First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland.

SUNNYSIDE- UNDERWOOD

The Ladies Bible study group met in the home of Mildred Peterson Thursday afternoon. The lesson dealt with Nehemiah. Opening prayer was by Sybil Merrill, closing prayer was by Bessie Canan, and table grace was by Elaine Beckman.

Those attending were Florence Hamill, Jane Kope, Sybil Merrill, Bessie Canan, Elaine Beckman, Arlene Dilley, Wilma Waybright and the hostess, Mildred Peterson. Mrs. Waybright will have the meeting next week.

A correction from last week's letter: Mildred was hostess instead Mrs. Merrill.

Keith and Elaine Cummings have been ill with influenza during the past week.

Eugene Matthews was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Thursday and was in intensive care. He is to go Monday to Monongalia General Hospital in Morgantown, W. Va., for further testing evaluation.

On Sunday afternoon a surprise party was held for Mary Rinehart for her birthday.

The event took place in the Underwood Church Sunday School rooms where a host of family, relatives and friends were there. After picture taking, refreshments and birthday cake were served. Nearly 50 persons attended. She received many gifts, cards and letters and a phone call from a nephew in Arizona.

Contamination Of Fuel Addressed By Comptroller

"Ways to prevent the contamination of fuel, such as the contaminated kerosene that caused a recent residence fire in the Hagerstown area, is the continuing charge of a task force of government and industry personnel I established last fall — and we are making progress," Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said this week. "We have identified where and how contamination most frequently occurs and are now identifying ways to prevent that contamination."

The comptroller noted that the petroleum testing laboratory of his office has verified that the kerosene used in the Washington County space heater had been contaminated with gasoline in transport by human error. He said three of the four service stations to which the fuel was delivered showed contaminated fuel in laboratory tests. "The response of Ewing Oil Company in removing the contaminated fuel promptly and retrieving fuel already sold was outstanding in this case," he said.

"While we are concerned about the automotive performance problems caused by contamination of gasoline with diesel fuel, the contamination of a home heating product such as kerosene causes a safety problem which is an even greater concern," Goldstein said. "That's why I have asked this task force to explore the scope of the problem and suggest solutions that will protect the family home as well as the family car."

WIN FIRST PLACE — Den 5 of Cub Scout Pack 70, Oakland, traveled to Larenim Park, Burlington, W. Va., on Saturday to participate in the Tri-Valley District Mini-Klondike. Where they won first place in the wolf division. There were ten groups of cub scouts and webelos. Activities included an obstacle course, first aid and making a stretcher, tripod making and heating water, and target practice and sled inspection. Pictured above, from left to right, are Jimmy Steyer, Derrick Nelson, Christopher Friend and Brent Furr. In the back is den leader Carl Friend. Pictured below are the members of Den 5 completing the first aid section of the competition.

The Comptroller's Office and industry personnel have already conducted tests to prove how easily contamination can occur when a delivery truck carries a load of one product, such as diesel fuel or heating oil, then carries a load of gasoline. The group is now assembling an inventory of sites throughout Maryland where facilities exist to completely drain the truck tanks between loads of different products.

"It doesn't take much of one product to contaminate another," said Goldstein. "While gasoline contamination with fuel oil can cause costly repair bills, kerosene contaminated with gasoline becomes so explosive it is a definite safety hazard."

"We have been testing fuel quality in Maryland since 1971, and our record is good. For the first half of fiscal year 1989, for example, we tested 525 samples of kerosene representing 64 million gallons and found only 23 violations, totaling 3.1 million gallons. That means more than 95 percent of the fuel met quality standards," he said.

Goldstein established the task force of experts from his office, major oil companies, wholesalers, fuel pipelines and truck transporters to look at the contamination issue after a study by his office showed contamination in bulk deliveries of products could be traced to certain companies. The task force is looking at industry trade practices, state laws and regulations to see what changes can be made to lessen the chance for contamination in transport, improving both the performance and safety of the fuel used by Maryland consumers.

A&A Realty Notes Addition Of New Agents

A&A Realty/Better Homes and Gardens, a local real estate firm, has added eight new sales agents to its full-time staff within the past six months, according to Karen F. Spiker, president of A&A.

Ms. Spiker said that the addition of the new agents was necessary because of the rapid growth of the company over the past three years. The new agents are: Bob Carr, Bill Garrison, Sherry Gosnell, Delano Martin, Bill Mead, Joan E. Sites, Carolyn Savage, and Debbie M. Tasker.

Formerly with one of the nation's largest insurance agencies, Bob Carr comes to A&A with numerous awards for insurance and financial counseling. He is licensed in real estate as well as health, life, property and casualty insurance and securities. He has participated in advance education at Catonsville Community College and Johns Hopkins University.

In 1988, Carr became a member of the Garrett County Board of Realtors, Maryland Association of Realtors, and the National Association of Realtors. He has 35 years of personal counseling experience.

He resides with his wife, Edna, in the Deep Creek Lake area.

A former senior editor of Mid-Atlantic Country Magazine, Bill Garrison has been a free lance writer, carpenter, U.S. Marine, and is an Eagle Scout. He attended Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, and Plymouth College of the University of New Hampshire. He is a member of the Montgomery and Garrett County Board of Realtors as well as the Maryland and National Association of Realtors. He has residences at Deep Creek Lake and Bethesda.

A native of Garrett County, Sherry Gosnell is a graduate of lege. She is also a graduate of the University of Maryland with a B.S. degree in marketing. She also worked as the assistant manager of the Red Run Restaurant. She obtained her Real Estate License in May of 1988. She is a member of the Garrett County Board of Realtors, the Maryland Association of Realtors, and the National Association of Realtors. Ms. Gosnell resides at Deep Creek Lake with her husband, Jeff, owner of Gosnell Construction Co., Inc., and their new son, Ryan Patrick.

A native Garrett Countian born and reared on a 180-acre farm in the Red Run area, Delano Martin is a member of the last graduating class of the Oakland High School. He worked for Leighton Brothers Buick Garage for 10 years, and then worked as an independent painting contractor for Gulf, American Oil, and Exxon for several years before building Martin's Auto Body & Glass, which he has owned for 20 years. He recently became licensed as a real estate agent, and completed A&A Realty's "Advantage Training" program this past fall. Martin resides along Rt. 39 in Oakland with his wife, Betty. The Martins have three children: Linda, Phillip and Dave.

Born in Cleveland, Bill Mead has lived in nine cities throughout the United States. He is a graduate of Davis & Elkins College with a degree in history and a minor in business. While in college he lettered in soccer in Division II with the Power Senators Soccer Team which appeared in the National Tournament each year and reached the final four in 1986 and 1987.

During his time in college, Mead decided to pursue a career in real estate. He is licensed and has completed A&A's "Advantage Training." He is also planning to attend WVU and obtain a master's degree. His hobbies include winter sports, golf and water sports. He resides at Deep Creek Lake.

Joan E. Sites, a native of Grant County, W.Va., has attended Northern Virginia Community College of Fairfax, Va., and completed a management workshop at the College of William and Mary and an appraisal course at Shepherd College. Licensed in both Maryland and West Virginia, Mrs. Sites is a member of the Garrett County Board of Realtors, the Maryland and National Association of Realtors. A member of the Dorcas Baptist Church, her interests

TV CLASSICS

Television's come a long way, in 40 years, or has it?

By John Haakenson

Ah, the wonders of television. It would seem to be quite a terrific medium when the average viewer can 1.) flip the dial and watch the president address the nation, live, from coast-to-coast, 2.) tune in a top-rated situation comedy on the same night, same time, week after week, 3.) experiment with a relatively new format—pay-TV, 4.) watch television all day long, from early morning to network late-night offerings.

But hold on a minute. If you think the above refers to C-Span, the presidential inauguration of George Bush, The Cosby Show, or any other such 1989 offerings, think again. We're describing 1951.

Many, if not most, network offerings of today were around—albeit in technologically inferior form—nearly 40 years ago. Consider what Americans witnessed in 1951:

I Love Lucy, the first series to be filmed before a live audience, premiered on CBS. The sitcom was such a smash that it stayed around for 179 episodes—and is still popular in syndication. Take that, Huxtables.

NBC, at about the time David Letterman was in diapers, changed the nation's late-night habits when it introduced Broadway Open House, a mixture of comedy, song, dance and sight gags. It aired at 11:30 p.m.

In September, 1951, President Harry Truman addressed the opening of the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference in San Francisco. Produced by a four-network pool (NBC, ABC, CBS and the DuMont Television Network), Truman's address was the first live, coast-to-coast telecast. The event was micro-casted to Omaha and then relayed, via coaxial cable, to the remainder of the country for broadcast.

Although it didn't quite catch on, there was another television first in 1951: Phonovision, a pay-TV experiment sponsored by the Zenith Radio Corporation in Chicago.

Finally, television in 1951 gave America a glimpse of something that would become commonplace in the 1980s on stations like C-Span and CNN. CBS and NBC began broadcasting coverage of the Kefauver Crime Commission proceedings. Chaired by Senator Estes Kefauver, the proceedings were telecast daily from the Senate.

If the fact that 1989 television offers nothing much different than it did 40 years ago disappoints you, look at it this way—1951 viewers had nothing like Gerald Rivera and Morton Downey Jr. Sorry about that.

'A-Team' actor the subject of friendly marital bet

Dwight Schultz.

By Polly Vonetes
Q: My husband and I have a friendly wager going and we hope you will be able to give us the answer. On Nov. 18 a Perry Mason movie showing a murder from a bell tower was aired on NBC. The man who did the killing is the subject of this difference between us. We would like to know if this actor also played on The A-Team. What is this actor's name? —Peggy Jenkins, Paso Robles, Calif.

A: I am sorry, I didn't view the film. However, in looking at the list of credits Dwight Schultz, who starred as "Howling Mad" Murdock on The A-Team, played Hall's secretary, Andrew Lloyd in the Perry Mason film. I hope this helps settle your bet.

Q: Can you please give me some information on Brooke Shields' mother, her name and an address where I could write to her? —Paula, Atascadero, Calif.

A: Brooke Shields' mentor/manager/mother is Teri Shields. She can be reached by writing her c/o Jay Bernstein Productions, Columbia Pictures TV, Producers Bldg. 8, Suite 109, Burbank, Calif. 91505.

Q: The name of the background music please in War and Remembrance. I have enjoyed the series very much and hope I can obtain the music. Is this a song written just for this series? —Frances Smith, Claremont, N.H.

A: I too enjoyed the War and Remembrance theme. As with the Winds of War, composer/conductor Bob Cobert was charged with creating the themes and background music. I am sure there will be a recording of the theme available soon.

Q: Whatever became of Eddie from the old TV show The Courtship of Eddie's Father? —Barbara Scott, Dunn, N.C.

A: Brandon Cruz, the freckle-faced boy you remember from the 1969 series, is now 26 years old. After the series ended in 1972 he appeared in a few films, including The Bad News Bears, but eventually became interested in pursuing a career in music. For a while he fronted a punk band called "The Eddies" and even appeared on American Bandstand. A short-lived marriage lasted less than two years. Nowadays, he studies journalism, surfs and is thinking of getting back into acting.

To all Darla Hood fans: Thank you for your many letters informing me of my error. I knew better, but somehow the fact that Darla died on June 13, 1979 of heart failure slipped my mind. Born on Nov. 8, 1931 in Leedey, Okla., she was 47 years old at the time of her death. Keep reading the column. I need you to keep me "on the ball." —Polly

Tact, diplomacy, loyalty and a touch of snobbery are the usual requirements of most butler positions. However, television butlers are very often a different breed. They don't generally follow the adage of "seen but not

Lisa Hartman returns to TV in daring role

'The Sex Tapes' looks at seedy life

By Mary Ann Townsend
Lisa Hartman takes a walk on the wild side in her latest made-for-television movie The Sex Tapes airing Sunday, Feb. 5, on NBC.

Hartman stars as an assistant district attorney in Los Angeles who goes undercover as a "model" to investigate the murder of a prostitute who has secretly been videotaping encounters with her wealthy and famous clients.

The actress said when she watched the opening of the film, she could not believe a network would deal with such a topic as openly as NBC did.

"It looks like a feature film. I thought I was watching cable," she said. "But if they didn't capture it they way they did, you wouldn't get the point."

"It was pretty blatant as far as dealing with S&M and those types of things," Hartman said. "The research that I did was quite eye opening. That type of thing goes on a lot, but we just don't think about it. It's frightening in a way."

"How can I say this?" she continued. "I have a healthy attitude about sex, but this is just a whole different world."

Starring in The Sex Tapes with Hartman are Vanessa Williams, as the prostitute's roommate, Anthony Denison, as a lieutenant who tries to dissuade Hartman's character from taking on the assignment, and Jennifer O'Neill, as the "owner" of the agency of "models."

Lisa Hartman stars as an assistant D.A. who helps police investigate the murder of a high-priced call girl in The Sex Tapes, Sunday, Feb. 5, on NBC.

Randy Travis, one of country music's brightest stars, joins Patty Loveless in entertaining troops on USO Celebrity Tour, to air Thursday, Feb. 9, on TNN.

CABLE HOPPING

Disney friends hop along to pop music

By Austin Travis

Where can you see hippos hop, chipmunks waltz and Donald Duck swing? On The Disney Channel, of course. The station recently premiered DTV2, an all-new group of music videos featuring classic Disney characters and set to the music of such contemporary artists as Huey Lewis and The News and Elton John.

Meanwhile, The Discovery Channel is pondering what the world will be like in the year 2000 with its new series Beyond 2000. The innovative science and technology series tracks the latest breakthroughs on topics ranging from aviation and architecture to entertainment and energy. Beyond 2000 anticipates a world filled with computerized homes, magnetically suspended trains and other fantastic inventions. The magazine-formatted show airs Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The CBN Family Channel travels back in time with its new series Bordertown, a tale of two countries and one town divided by not only the U.S. and Canadian border, but also by its system of law. On one side of the street is U.S. Marshal Jack Craddock, who enforces the law with his guns and gun. On the other side is Mountie Clive Bennett, a strict disciplinarian who abhors his counterpart's quick-draw ways. The show continues on Saturdays and Sundays.

COMPLETES SERVICE TRAINING — Edward Lipscomb, Ed Lipscomb Equipment, Eglin, W. Va., recently completed an intensive four-day service training school at Patz Sales, Inc., Pound, Wisconsin. Clifford Patz, left, president, presented a Service Achievement Award. Lipscomb participated in the servicing of new and existing Patz products, a complete line of material handling equipment for feed and manure systems, which are designed to make farming more efficient and more profitable for today's farm operations. Product knowledge, servicing, and maintenance of equipment were stressed at the school to enable dealers to provide a more complete service to customers.

Cropped Wetlands May Be Enrolled For Conservation

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) continues to provide opportunities to landowners interested in the restoration of the Chesapeake Bay. The February 1989 sign-up allows for the first time the enrollment of some cropped wetlands. Harvest is typically restricted on these areas because of excessive wetness during the growing season. By enrolling these lands and converting them to natural vegetation, landowners can receive payments for helping reverse the trend of wetland loss in recent decades.

"On average, crop yields are lower on farmed wetlands than they are on better drained areas," said Pearl S. Reed, state conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service in Maryland. "This is a good opportunity for farmers to take these areas out of production and improve wildlife habitat on their farms."

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), in addition to making annual rental payments to program participants, pays half the cost of establishing cover and restoring wetland values in enrolled fields.

Ron Lamberton, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Northeast Region, is also a strong supporter of this program, which he sees not only for its value to farmers, but for its high potential to enhance wetland resources. "With recent wetland losses in Maryland averaging 1,000 acres per year, protection and restoration of farmed wetlands through CRP offers an excellent opportunity to preserve and maintain wetland values," he said. "I hope farmers throughout Maryland can take advantage of this opportunity to help themselves as well as our precious wetland resources that are so vital to the health of the Chesapeake Bay."

Cropland subject to scour erosion is also now eligible for the CRP. Eligibility requires that the land be scoured with erosion caused by out-of-streambank water flows which can be expected to flood at least once every 10 years.

Originally, highly erodible crop fields were enrolled to reduce soil loss on these fragile lands by establishing permanent cover. More recently strips of cropland adjacent to streams, wetlands, and other water bodies became eligible for enrollment, effectively reducing the amount of nutrients and pollutants entering surface waters.

Maryland will again offer an additional $20 per acre for certain land enrolled in the federal CRP which is also in the Chesapeake Bay Critical Area or meets federal requirements as a vegetated filter strip. "We are pleased that response to our program has been so good," said Wayne A. Cawley, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture.

"Maryland farmers enrolled over 1,300 acres in the Maryland CRP this summer. The acreage totals do not fully represent the value of this land which is located in sensitive resource areas as buffer strips along waterways and in the 1,000 foot Chesapeake Bay Critical Area," noted Cawley. "It's an additional program that farmers can use to improve water quality."

"I believe the CRP has contributed significantly to the cleanup of the Chesapeake Bay," said James C. Richardson, director of the Maryland ASCS. "In the last sign-up alone, we ranked sixth in the nation in filter strip sign-up and this is equivalent to over 100 miles of protected shoreline of the Chesapeake Bay."

The eighth CRP sign-up period will be February 6-24. Almost 10,000 acres were enrolled in the Maryland CRP from bids submitted during the first seven sign-ups.

For more information, persons should contact their local ASCS, SCS, or soil conservation district office.

State Committee Will Study Bay Recommendations

Floyd Allred Jr., chairman of the State Soil Conservation Committee, appointed a subcommittee to study the recent "2020 Panel Report" and identify its implications for agriculture. Dr. Ralph Adkins, assistant director of the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, will chair the subcommittee and pull in representatives from different agricultural agencies and academic discipline.

The "2020 Panel Report" was prepared by a 12-member panel appointed by Chesapeake Bay jurisdictions to develop scenarios of what the future held for the region and to recommend response that would protect the quality of the Bay.

Pearlie Reed, State Soil Conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service, noted that "three of the six recommendations made in this report will impact Soil Conservation Districts."

The State Committee met during the Maryland Association of Soil Conservation Districts winter meeting in Baltimore. A brief synopsis of the "2020 Report" also initiated discussion among attendees at a Soil Conservation District Supervisors Workshop. Fran Flanagan, Director of the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay, briefly summarized the report. Although the report's recommendations will affect agricultural land use, Flanagan did not believe that any of the panel members represented agricultural interests.

Effects on farm equity was a major concern of the supervisors, many of whom are active farmers. "If you remove my farm's development rights to preserve agriculture, my farm value and borrowing equity are greatly diminished," noted one farmer.

Frustration was expressed by another farmer, who noted that all the money invested by farmers and the state to install agricultural best management practices (bmp's) to control nonpoint source pollution would be wasted if the population growth and development predicted in the report were correct.

Tillage Equipment May Be Deductible

Farmers may deduct the cost of purchasing and installing conservation tillage equipment from their gross income on their Maryland Income Tax Form. Legislation passed in 1986 allows farmers who purchased a no-till planter or drill after December 31, 1985, to receive a reduction in state taxes. This deduction may be taken for used or new equipment. The legislation requires the equipment to have a useful life of four years and the purchaser to retain ownership for three years. Eligible taxpayers need to file a certification form verifying their eligibility with their state income tax. These forms can be obtained from the county soil conservation district. The Soil Conservation District will forward the paperwork to the Maryland Department of Agriculture for final certification. The process usually takes seven to ten days.

For further information, persons should contact their local Soil Conservation District or Louise Lawrence, Maryland Department of Agriculture, at (301) 841-5863.

SHOW OFF!

Have you noticed the way clothing stores are merchandising their suits, dresses, and blouses these days? They've discovered new ways to show off their clothing which results in faster sales at higher prices.

Take blouses. Rather than just having rack after rack, the store displays a manikin wearing the blouse in a fashionable manner. Over the shoulder they drape a colorful scarf and tie it with a gold scarf pin. A "layered" look is created by adding another garment under the blouse, and a leather belt completes the image.

Get the picture?

They're not just selling blouses, are they? They are selling a "look" - an image of the person the shopper would like to be. Selling a home successfully is no different.

You may ask "Why?" Because families do not buy homes. They buy dreams, convenience, views, space to entertain and many other benefits a home can offer.

When selling your home, ask your real estate agent for a "mini-merchandising" course. Learn the many ways to create a special "look" or "image" that invites buyers to stay forever. Some great ideas for creating such appeal are fresh-cut flowers around the home, a formal dining room set for a royal banquet, cinnamon rolls baking in the oven, soft music, or other special touches. Selling your home is a unique experience. Give it the attention it deserves and you will reap the rewards.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

Extension Agent, Agriculture Science

Conference To Focus On Family Enterprises

The sixth annual West Virginia Direct Marketing Conference will focus on the fact that direct marketing of agricultural products involves the whole family.

In keeping with the family enterprise theme, the conference has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, February 24-25, to make it easier for young people to attend. The meeting will be held at the Ramada Inn in Morgantown.

A session at 1:30 Saturday afternoon is designed especially for youth. At that time, students from Mason County Vocational Center, Greenbrier East, Ripley and St. Mary's high schools will report on their FFA projects involving direct marketing of pumpkins, hydroponically grown vegetables and other products.

Keynoting the conference will be George Butler of Germantown, MD., who will discuss how to set up a family business and the importance of diversifying to meet consumer demand. The Butlers have developed a family partnership for producing and marketing a variety of crops through their farm market and a pick-your-own operation.

Concurrent sessions will offer a wide variety of choices for people already involved in direct marketing and those interested in exploring the topic, according to Delmar Yoder, Extension Resource Development Specialist at West Virginia University.

Back by popular demand from last year is a session on cut flower production. In another session, WVU experts will report on the results of a survey of florist shop, supermarket and convenience store representatives concerning the potential market for field-grown cut flowers from West Virginia.

A session on woodlot management will feature a demonstration of a portable sawmill and a farm-built log mover used with a small tractor.

Other sessions will explore irrigation, budgeting, developing markets and advertising. Specific crops to be discussed include hay and straw, goat cheese, sorghum, cool season vegetables and fresh and dry herbs.

Following Friday night's dinner featuring West Virginia products, the new commissioner of agriculture Cleve Benedict will present the association's youth award, which recognizes the accomplishments of a young person in the area of direct marketing.

Registration fee is $28 for the entire conference and $16 for one-day participation. Students pay only $6 per day. All registrations received by February 21 will be eligible for the drawing for a registration fee refund.

Registration forms and program brochures are available from the Garrett County Extension Office, phone 301-334-1990, or by contacting Delmar Yoder, 2102 Agricultural Sciences Building, West Virginia University, P.O. Box 6106, Morgantown, WV 26506-6106.

Conference sponsors include the WVU College of Agriculture and Forestry, WVU Extension Service, West Virginia Department of Agriculture, West Virginia Direct Marketing Association and West Virginia Farm Bureau.

Cattlemen's Convention And Trade Show

The 1989 Maryland Cattle Industry Convention and Trade Show will be held Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4, at the Sheraton Inn in Hagerstown, MD.

Two topics will be covered: Marketing Beef on Friday, and Breeding and Selection for the Future on Saturday.

Excellent food and entertainment is part of the program. Registration deadline is February 17, 1989. Beef Producers give yourself a break for some excellent programs and entertainment at a very reasonable price. Contact the Extension Office for registration information.

Canada-Maryland Collaboration Could Involve Angus And Horses

A recent visit to the University of Saskatchewan by University of Maryland animal scientists holds promise of resulting in a gene pool that could preserve for posterity the unique characteristics of the world-renowned Wye Angus Herd, located since 1938 on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The visit was coupled with a trade mission to western Canada in late November, which was headed by Wayne A. Cawley Jr., secretary of the Maryland Department of Agriculture. The visit was part of Governor William Donald Schaefer's on-going trade initiative.

Acquired by the University of Maryland 10 years ago, Wye Angus have constituted a "closed" herd since 1948; no outside bloodlines — either cows or bulls — have been allowed. The herd thus represents a unique gene pool for Angus cattle.

For practical purposes, the University of Maryland has tentative plans to reduce the size of its Wye Angus herd. But once the animals are sold and bred to other cattle, the uniqueness of their bloodlines is lost. Specific gene traits or hereditary characteristics would not be traceable.

The problem has been to find a way of preserving the genetic information available without having to maintain a large number of animals.

One solution — which is fairly costly — would involve collecting unfertilized eggs from the cows and semen from the bulls. These materials would then be preserved by freezing. The eggs could be fertilized with semen by a test-tube process and transferred into "mother" cows using embryo transfer techniques. Calves could be produced as the need arose.

However, Dr. Sheila Schmutz in the Department of Animal and Poultry Science at the University of Saskatchewan has suggested a much less costly approach. Dr. Schmutz's laboratory has equipment that is capable of preparing DNA extracts ("genes") and tissue samples from large animals and preserving these materials indefinitely.

Dr. Dennis C. Westhoff, animal sciences department chairperson at the University of Maryland, sees hope that a collaborative project involving the Saskatchewan laboratory thus will be able to save for posterity the unique heritage of the Wye Angus herd.

The project also should give a valuable lift to the University of Saskatchewan. Dr. Westhoff notes, since it will provide a gene bank for comparative studies on the general progress of Angus cattle genetics.

He reported that Canada's Dr. Schmutz has accepted an invitation to visit Maryland in April. She will present a seminar on her work and make final plans for developing the proposed collaborative project.

Other areas of mutual interest also surfaced during the Maryland delegation's visit late last year with agricultural scientists and administrators at the University of Saskatchewan.

For instance, Dr. Douglass Leach, a veterinary researcher, has been invited to visit Maryland to discuss his equine locomotion studies.

The value of a racehorse is normally judged by the time required for the horse to complete a race. Current research in the area of equine biomechanics and locomotion should provide a data base which eventually may lead to the analyses of various gait characteristics.

Examining differences in gait characteristics between successful and unsuccessful racehorses — along with other performance capabilities — appears likely to be the key for predicting a horse's potential.

The University of Maryland's animal sciences department is interested in developing a program in equine biomechanics and locomotion studies. And it has recently received administrative approval for hiring two new faculty members in the equine area.

Maryland's Dr. Westhoff hopes that Dr. Leach's visit to College Park will result in another collaborative effort with the University of Saskatchewan.

SCHOOL COLLECTING TAPES

The Grantsville School is participating in the "Food for Thought" program sponsored by Foodland Supermarkets. They are collecting Foodland register tapes which can be redeemed for a free IBM PS/2 computer.

The school is inviting everyone to save Foodland register tapes (from any Foodland Store). They may be deposited in collection boxes at Bill & Sharon's Restaurant (Grantsville Shopping Center), Betty Jo's Beauty Lounge, and Fran's Beauty Shop, both in Grantsville. Persons may also send them with any child attending Grantsville School or drop them off at the school.

CHURCH NEWS

This Sunday, February 5, a joint service for the Transfiguration will be held at Emmanuel at 10 a.m. There will be no Sunday School at Emmanuel. The joint choir will present special music and there will be Holy Communion services.

At Zion on Sunday morning, Mitchell Ray Ford, Jr., infant son of Kim and Mitch Ford, received Holy Baptism. The altar flowers were given by the family in honor of his baptism.

Lectors for Sunday's service were Katie Kierstead, St. John's; Margie Brenneman, Emmanuel; and Nellie Yommer, Zion.

Gift offerings for Zion were received during the Christmas season from Herman C. and Viola Meyers, former members who now live in Mt. Airy; Lester and Edna Hare, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speicher, and Mrs. Vena Beachy in memory of Galen Beachy and Emerson Beachy.

CHURCH WOMEN MEET
Emmanuel's Women of the ELCA met January 13 with 12 members present. The business meeting was opened with the purpose statement and the January response. Several get-well and sympathy cards were sent by Ferne Beachy.

The changes in the program booklet were discussed. The 1989 proposed budget was presented and accepted.

Audrey Brenneman and Beulah Moon were appointed co-chairpersons to plan the tea for the Goodwill Home on March 27. Phyllis Buckel and Ethel Buckel were appointed to plan for the Mother-Daughter Banquet to be held May 12. Leora Yaste and Lottie Brennenman will work on plans for the Women of the ELCA Sunday.

The program was led by Maxine Legeer and Sharon Lowery. The next meeting will be on February 10.

ST. JOHN'S WOMEN MEET
St. John's Women of the ELCA met at the home of Barbara Herbert on December 15, with seven members and one guest present.

Barbara led the program "Family of Faith at Christmas", a study of the familiar Christmas story. Bible selections were read from Isaiah, Jeremiah, Matthew and Luke. Several Advent and Christmas hymns were sung.

The president, Barbara Herbert, presided over the business meeting. It was voted to add $50 to the 1989 budget which will pay for a delegate to the ELCA Convention in August.

The group voted to purchase poinsettias for the altar at Christmas. Carole Peck volunteered to pick them up.

Elections were held for 1989-90 officers. The results were: president, Carole Peck; vice-president, Nickey O'Brien; secretary, Barbara Herbert; and treasurer, Charlotte Harkins. The next meeting will be January 19, with Nickey O'Brien as leader.

DWI Arrests Of Young Drivers Soar During '88

Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel Elmer H. Tippet has released a preliminary review of Maryland's drunk driving experiences during 1988 showing an alarming increase in the number of arrests of drivers under the age of 21. In an address before the Metropolitan Baltimore Public Safety Media Relations Council, Colonel Tippet released details of a survey conducted by the State Police Crime Laboratory showing 2,979 drunk driving arrests of drivers between the ages of 16 and 20.

"We cannot tolerate alcohol on our highways among drivers of any age, particularly among drivers under Maryland's legal drinking age of 21," said Colonel Tippet. "The allied law enforcement community must team up to locate, identify, and remove drunk drivers from the highway."

Tippet has placed Maryland's youth on notice that enforcement of Maryland's drunk driving laws will be stepped up to reverse an upward trend in teen drunk driving arrests. During 1987, police in Maryland arrested 2,869 drivers between the ages of 16 and 20, an increase over the 2,734 arrested during 1986.

"As part of T.E.E.N., which stands for Teen Enforcement Effort Now, we will share a cooperative enforcement effort involving the public and private sectors," said Tippet. T.E.E.N. will emphasize enforcement of laws prohibiting the sale of alcohol to minors. Troopers will also be looking for fraudulent identification during routine traffic patrols around the state. State Police are also calling on parents to help educate teenagers drivers about the penalties for possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on the highway.

The January meeting of the Metropolitan Baltimore Public Safety Media Relations Council was sponsored by M.A.D.D., Mothers Against Drunk Driving. The theme "Drunk Driving: A Progress Report" highlighted current and future initiatives to reduce the problems associated with drinking and driving in Maryland.

H. Friend, John C. Lefferts, James W. Lininger, Alice Marie Spear, James R. Spear and Terry Spear. Three will be elected to serve for two years. Hold-over council persons for one more year are Carroll M. Forsyth, Joseph Sessa and Lucile Sines, along with Mayor Spencer Schlosnagle.

Absentee ballots may be picked up Thursday, February 9, at Town Hall from noon to 4 p.m. or at the home of Mrs. Pearl Bittner, chairperson of the Election Board.

The Friendsville Town Council recently passed a resolution which will enact a provision for no smoking at any time in the Friendsville Town Hall.

The Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville are asking citizens who are experiencing problems with television reception to contact Charter Cable TV by calling the toll free number, 1-800-458-7098.

WOW

WOW Grove 6043 will meet Wednesday, February 8, at 7 p.m. at Blooming Rose United Methodist Church social room. Ethel Frantz and Naomi Bartholomew will be hostesses.

GAMES

Games will be held Saturday, February 4, at 7 p.m. at the Friendsville Fire Hall. Refreshments will be on sale.

BAND PRACTICE

Accident Concert Band practice will be held the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Accident Fire Hall.

SCHOOL NEWS

A collection of soup labels and all other kinds of labels will close at the end of February, but should still be saved for the following year. Persons should send them in by students or leave them at school.

Newspapers are still needed and may be left on the porch at the home of Mrs. Jessie Sines.

The Food For Thought Program at Friendsville Elementary School sponsored by Foodland Store, will allow the school to choose computer hardware and software, for saving Foodland cash receipt tapes. The Friendsville Elementary School is in this program. Persons are asked to save their receipt tapes and send them to the school. This project will end June 1989.

4-H MEETS

The Youth Valley Indians 4-H Club members met Thursday at the Friendsville Fire Hall. Members worked on their project books. The next meeting will be Wednesday, February 8, at 7 p.m., at the fire hall. All members are to have their project books turned in to the two leaders, Pat Bowser or Jack Teats, before February 8. Refreshments were served by Billy Nedrow and Dawn Umbel.

COVERING GARRETT COUNTY AND NEIGHBORING WEST VIRGINIA

A & A GROWS AND EXPANDS THROUGHOUT THE REGION

Over the past five years, A & A Realty has seen phenomenal growth. From a one-person operation with less than one million dollars in annual production, A & A has grown to a fifty-four agent roster, nine support staffers, four associate brokers and nearly $24,000,000 in annual production. Karen Spiker, broker and president of A & A Realty contributes that success and growth to many factors.

"We really put forth a concerted effort to grow in 1984. We hired a manager and additional salespeople, and that was also the year Bill Weissgerber, Jr. made his career change into real estate. We started a regional advertising campaign, trying to break into the metropolitan population base."

"Following those actions, we were fortunate enough to be selected as the exclusive affiliate of the Better Homes & Gardens Real Estate Service. In May we will celebrate four years of affiliation. The entire Better Homes & Gardens experience has been a pleasure. From a corporate level, they have provided a variety of real estate marketing expertise, and the facilities and materials with which to implement their programs on a local level."

"Thirdly, the dedication and desire to be the 'best', that is present in our entire company team can not be overlooked. Looking back over the past twelve months, I can actually count a total in excess of 2,000 individual hours invested in continuing education and professional real estate instruction. We are seeing our successful agents spend over 100 hours per year in striving to learn more and to learn how to do an even better job in the market place, (see article below on GRI)."

"The combination of all of the above, as well as our teamwork and the spirit of cooperation has really been the key. Plus we can't forget that Garrett County and Deep Creek Lake have been discovered by other Marylanders, especially Governor William Donald Schaeffer. We thank him from the bottom of our hearts."

"Having been raised in Garrett County, I am still a West Virginia Mountaineer at heart. Since our topography and geography are so much like West Virginia, our company expansion plans have centered upon a regional theme — taking into account the nearby counties in West Virginia. In November of 1988, A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens opened their first out-of-county office in the heart of Canaan Valley. The same methods of marketing, training, and service will be implemented there and we hope to be able to cooperate in an inter-office fashion to help prospective purchasers make their selection of vacation - home real estate."

"We are looking forward to an even better 1989 and a full decade of service to our customers throughout the 1990's."

RECEIVE GRI Graduate Realtors Institute . . .

GRI . . . This designation is given only to member Realtors or Realtor/Associates who complete satisfactorily the 110-hour intensive education program given by the Maryland Association of Realtors.

Six agents from A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens have just completed those requirements and have been awarded their GRI designation. Those agents are Susan Bell, Robert G. Custer, Tom DeBerry, Jean King, Kevin Liller, and Scindra Rosson.

Also participating in the GRI educational program were David Insley, who completed GRI IV, the optional course for current GRI designees, and Tom Eckersley, who completed GRI I, and plans to work toward his designation in future classes.

The goal of the GRI program is to promote further education and professionalism within the real estate community. Each training session covers an intensive 5-day period of classes in a variety of topics pertinent to real estate activities encountered on a daily basis.

Ms. Karen Spiker, President/Broker of A&A

Realty/Better Homes & Gardens, congratulated each of the recipients and then further commented, "Our sales team makes me so proud. They just never quit. They dedicate themselves to our company theme, 'just work hard and do a good job!'" All of these individuals work more than 60 hours per week, plus then take the time to pursue these additional professional designations. They know my emphasis is on training, learning, and growing with the company. I salute these fine individuals, as well as our other GRI graduates: Tom Graham, Ed King, Donna Sites, Bill Weissgerber, Jr.

New Faces At A&A Realty

Lisa Gesner

Joanne Ashby

Karen F. Spiker, President of A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens, recently announced the appointment of Joanne Ashby and Lisa Gesner as marketing coordinators for the firm,

"Both Lisa & Joanne are experienced professionals and I am very proud to have them working with our sales team," stated Ms. Spiker. Joanne has specialized in Oakland and southern Garrett County residential real estate, while Lisa's area of expertise is primarily in the vacation-home market centered in the Deep Creek Lake area. Both agents will also be participating in the "Advantage" sales training program being offered at A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens during February, to gain additional knowledge and methods of implementation of the Better Homes & Gardens Home Marketing System.

Lisa S. Gesner holds a B.S. in nursing, specializing in surgical nursing. Three years ago she decided to undertake a career change, moved to Garrett County and became an active real estate agent. Lisa truly enjoys her work and the Garrett County area, with all the natural amenities that the county and Deep Creek Lake have to offer. She says she is looking forward to working with A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens and the terrific group of Realtors there.

SALES AGENTS OF THE MONTH

Three additional agents of A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens have received recognition from their fellow agents and management for their "extra efforts." Each of the above agents have been selected as "Agent of the Month" during 1988.

Jan Shafer, Kevin Liller, and Bill Weissgerber, Jr. have been awarded this honor for the months of September, October, and November respectively.

The criteria for selection of the "Agent of the Month" can be based on sales performance, listing performance, volunteer assistance to other agents, company spirit, and/or enthusiasm. "Each of these agents contributes to our company in many ways other than their individual sales," added Ms. Spiker, President of A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens. "Our agents and staff truly are a team working together and helping one another. Evidence of this is represented when I see nominations each month of at least 6-10 agents within the company."

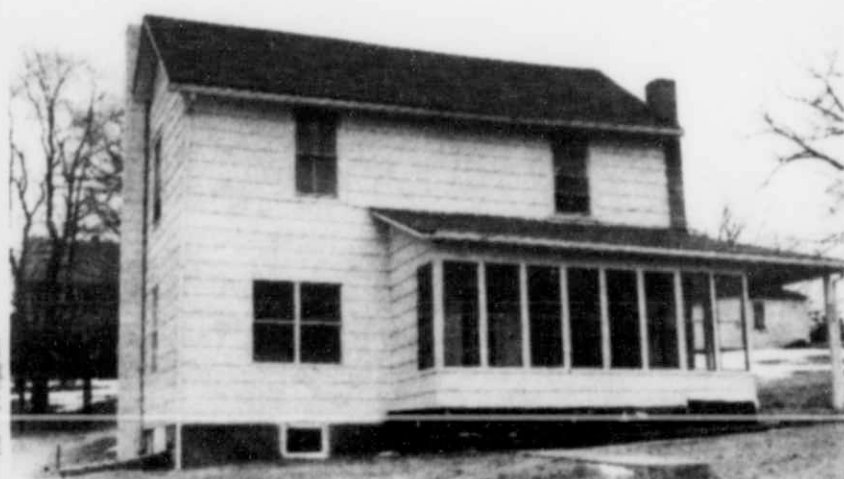

Jan Shafer, in addition to holding the position of Oakland Manager, is also responsible for handling all advertising for the firm. It is through her efforts that each issue of A&A's "Guide to Homes" is published. Many hours are spent each month in an effort to keep an up-to-date accounting of advertising for each property and each one is coordinated with the individual sales agent.

Kevin Liller, a native Garrett Countian and former basketball star at Southern High School, holds the anchor position on the A&A Realty basketball team. In addition to his sports activities, he has received recognition as a President's Club member and the Better Homes & Gardens Medallion Club each year since accepting the position of Marketing Coordinator with A&A Realty. Kevin has just been awarded his GRI designation.

Bill Weissgerber, Jr. is the dynamite behind the sales team at A&A. He graduated from Southern High School and also is a team player on the A&A basketball team. He has received awards for his outstanding sales achievements since 1984, and has been the top salesperson and top listing agent each year. He holds the GRI designation award by the Maryland Association of Realtors, and is a licensed associate broker.

Eight New Sales Agents Added

During the past six months, A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens has added 8 new sales agents to the full time staff.

Ms. Karen F. Spiker, President of A&A Realty, stated, "We have experienced such a fast rate of growth over the past 3 years that we have had to keep a fast pace of training programs to continue to provide the high level of professional service to our clients and customers."

"Qualities that impress us when we interview potential agents are the desire and ability to learn, a willingness to work long hours and weekends, and a sincere desire to succeed. With those qualities and our training and marketing programs, you have an unbeatable combination.

I am very pleased to have these fine individuals come on board with our firm. You will be seeing them in the future in our recognition program."

The agents are as follows:

Bob Carr	Bill Mead
Bill Garrison	Joan Sites
Sherry Gosnell	Carolyn Savage
Dellano Martin	Debbie Tasher

Appointed Sales Manager

Robert G. Custer has just accepted the position of Sales Manager for A&A Realty/Better Homes & Gardens. Bob has been promoted from his former position as Marketing Coordinator with A&A Realty, effective January 9, 1989.

Bob is a native Garrett Countian, having been raised on a 100-acre farm in Deer Park and graduating from Souther High School in 1971. He is a graduate of Asbury College, with a degree in Secondary Education.

Mr. Custer was employed by the Garrett Co. Board of Education from 1975-77 and taught at Northern High School; he then moved to a position with the Potomac Valley Farm Credit Service, which he held from 1977 - 1982. During that time, he established the Oakland Branch Office for Farm Credit and was responsible for lending, appraisals, and collections for the two westernmost counties in Maryland, as well as business development for the Farm Service in that territory. He is also the owner-operator of Custer's Auction Service.

During Bob's real estate career with A&A Realty, he has been the firm's farm specialist, a Better Homes & Gardens Medallion Club member in both 1987 and 1988, a member of the President's Club, and most recently has been awarded his GRI designation by the Maryland Association of Realtors.

Bob resides in the Boiling Springs area with his wife, Pat, and their children, Joshua, Jared and Aimee.

BAUSCH & LOMB INC.

Bausch & Lomb, a Fortune 500 Company, has been located in Oakland since 1971. The Company employs in excess of 800 employees over a three-shift operation processing lenses for Ray-Ban Sunglasses. The product is distributed both domestically and internationally with sales offices in over 50 countries.

Bausch & Lomb entered the sunglass market as a result of a request of the U.S. government. Lt. John Macready, a famous Army flier, approached B&L. Lt. Mcready gained fame for having crossed the Atlantic in a non-stop flight in a blimp, an event which took place in May, 1923, some time before Linberg covered the same territory in an airplane.

The Army fliers were experiencing great problems from sunlight. Glare above the clouds was 10 times worse than on the most glittering snowfield. When fliers got back to their bases, they were often sick with headaches and retching with nausea. They wanted a sunglass which would provide maximum absorption, a minimum of energy transmission, and the least possible degree of distorted vision. B&L went to work on the mission.

Bausch & Lomb, then as now, devoted an enormous amount of its energy to research. Drawing upon their vast knowledge of light, optics and vision, their scientists approached the Army request as a project to achieve perfection. The result was the first Ray-Ban green glass. This glass didn't just meet Macready's specifications-it far exceeded them. Air Corps fliers soon had goggled lenses that not only cut glare but also checked ultraviolet and infrared rays, yet let their eyes work naturally so pilots enjoyed full visual acuity.

In 1936, Bausch & Lomb made a bold marketing move, introducing the first commercial sunglasses with a price that a skeptical trade viewed as far too high. Originally known as ANTI-GLARE GOGGLES, these sunglasses with a plastic frame carried a retail price of $3.75. Prospects told them that, with sunglasses normally costing twenty-five to fifty cents, consumers certainly wouldn't pay such a stiff price-even if these sunglasses were of the same high quality as prescription glasses.

Fortunately, these prospects were poor pun-dits. By 1937 they were sure of the future of their sunglasses, and took two very important steps. First, knowing that Anti-Glare could never be protected as a trademark, they changed the name to Ray-Ban. Ray-Ban was registered in March of 1937 and first appeared in an ad in May, 1937. It has gone on to become the sunglass name that is singularly known and respected worldwide.

The facility produces almost a half a million lenses a week and is Garrett County's largest employer. The Oakland Plant is the largest decentralized facility, and the Company's sole manufacturer for Ray-Ban lenses.

Bausch & Lomb is recognized as the World-Wide Leader in the production of high Quality Sunglasses.

Plans Finalized For Winterfest At Wisp Resort

Plans have been finalized for the 16th Annual Winterfest, an event that has been expanded to 10 days this year.

According to the Deep Creek Lions Club, which presents Winterfest, the celebration will be held at the Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry February 24 through March 4. Participating sponsors this year include Pepsi and McDonald's. All proceeds from the event are used to support the Lions Club's blind skiers program. The club provides funding for students of the Maryland School for the Blind to make several trips to the Wisp, to learn to ski. Wisp Resort provides equipment, lift passes, and accommodations to the students, while the Lions provide for ski instruction, meals, and other social opportunities during their stay. The program usually serves at least 25 students each year.

Events over the 10-day celebration will include various ski races, ice carving demonstrations, fireworks, fun races, a torchlight parade, the annual Yakaph Garbola Costume Parade, and even a volleyball tournament. For a schedule of specific times of the events, persons should contact the Wisp Resort at 387-4911. The daily schedule of events is as follows:

GOVERNOR TAKES SPECIAL TOUR - Governor William Donald Schaefer paid a visit to Garrett County on Tuesday primarily for the purpose of filming a television promotional piece for the state department of tourism. Snowy conditions at the Wisp Resort in McHenry provided the perfect setting, as the governor climbed aboard this sleigh and was chauffeured by Cathy Capan, a trainer at Sunny Slope Stables, Deer Park. Doing most of the work, however, was the horse, a mare by the name of Lady.

Several Treated Following Local Vehicle Mishap

Several people were treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following local motor vehicle accidents last week.

A single-vehicle accident Tuesday on U.S. Route 219 near the Mayhew Inn Road injured four people.

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, Tammy L. Shaffer, 25, Oakland, was operating a 1982 Renault Alliance, and was traveling east on the Mayhew Inn Road. Ronnie R. Miner, 27, Grantsville, was driving a 1982 AMC Eagle, and was traveling south on Route 219. The two cars collided in the intersection.

Tpr. J.K. Moore investigated the incident, and charged Shaffer with failing to stop and yield the right of way. Miner was charged with two counts of not having a child in a safety seat.

Shaffer and three passengers in the Miner vehicle, Wendy Miner, 22; Tasha Miner, 2; and April Miner, 7 months, were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the mishap. The Southern Rescue Squad responded to the scene of the accident.

One person was injured Monday when a State Highway Administration dump truck overturned on Route 495, four miles south of the New Germany Road.

Police said Gerald W. Wildesen, 27, Mtn. Lake Park, was operating the truck, which was applying salt to the icy roadway. The truck lost traction on a downgrade and began to skid, then turned 180 degrees and skidded across the road, struck a ditch, and overturned.

Wildesen was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Northern Rescue Squad, where he was treated and later released, according to a hospital spokesman.

The incident was investigated by Tpr. R.T. Wilson, who reported that no charges were filed.

Rescott's Hearing Set For March 2

A hearing has been set for March 2 for Anna Maria Rescott, the Baltimore County woman who was arrested in Grantsville for two counts of first degree murder.

Rescott's two sons were found smothered to death in the Cumberland Holiday Inn.

Rescott was found competent to stand trial but not criminally responsible for her actions by psychiatrists at the Clifton T. Perkins Hospital Center.

Governor Schaefer Visits County. Receives Gifts, Films Commercial

Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer visited Garrett County Tuesday afternoon to film his part in a new commercial for Maryland Tourism, to discuss economic development in Western Maryland and receive gifts from area business leaders thanking the Governor for his support of the upcoming '89 World's Whitewater Championships.

When Governor Schaefer arrived at the Wisp Resort in McHenry Tuesday around 3:20 p.m., he was taken to a private area to change from his suit to a blue snowsuit and white ski cap. He then went outside to the golf course where a horse and sleigh awaited, along with a crew to film a new sports promotional commercial. Also present were TV news crews from two Maryland television stations covering the visit and filming.

As the cameras rolled, the Governor stood next to the sleigh, spoke some simple lines, then jumped into the sleigh and waved goodbye as the sleigh moved off into a snow-covered field.

The Governor's words are concise: "And getting here is half the fun. There's so much to discover along the way. Don't wait till spring - Break out now! And have a ball in Western Maryland!"

Kathy Capan, a trainer at Sunnyslope Stables in Deer Park, sat next to the Governor in the sleigh and held the reins of the horse, Lady. Roger Roderick, of Sunnyslope Stables, owns Lady. Naylor's Hardware provided the sleigh, which was built in 1897.

After filming was completed, Governor Schaefer moved back inside where he was presented with various gifts from area businesses.

Senator John Bambacus opened the ceremony with a short speech about Governor Schaefer's policy of partnership and cooperation. Senator Bambacus tied the Governor's policy in with Garrett and Allegany counties success in working together to support and promote the upcoming '89 World's Whitewater Championships.

"The state has lived up to its promise of providing $1 million (for the championships) and the private sector has done its share of providing the rest," said Senator Bambacus. "We have raised close to the $2 million that we needed."

Senator Bambacus then presented Governor Schaefer with the official Frontier Maryland outfit for the upcoming '89 World's, a frontier hat, shirt and bandana.

Jack King, head manager of Human Resources at Bausch and Lomb, Inc., and Richard Schick, plant manager, presented Governor Schaefer with a check to help support the upcoming '89 World's.

Pat D'Atti, a local artist from Cumberland, presented Governor Schaefer with a framed copy of his impressionistic rendition of the '89 World's Whitewater Championships.

Jerry Geisler, manager of the Wisp, presented Governor Schaefer with two hats from the Wisp.

Dianne Wolfe, Deep Creek Lake and Garrett County Promotion Council, presented Governor Schaefer with a gift basket filled with items from Garrett County.

Governor Schaefer then closed the afternoon's festivities by thanking everyone present: "Thank you very much, I appreciate your thoughtfulness. I have never been treated so good in my life," he said.

"I just can't express our appreciation for the work you have done. The difficulty you all had in getting the Whitewater Championships off the ground in the beginning, the immensity of the undertaking didn't dawn on me till now. Your hard work and cooperation and the sponsorship of local companies will make this World's Championships a great event," said Governor Schaefer.

"You are a tremendous group. Sometimes it is embarrassing to me to have to continuously ask for money and I have to thank the Merriott Corporation and Bausch and Lomb for all their support. I also have to thank the horse."

She was a three year old grey horse and had been standing there for two hours, she put me to shame," the Governor said to lighten the mood. "But I do appreciate being here and I thank you all again."

Earlier in the day, Governor Schaefer visited the Cumberland area. He brought business leaders from the Washington, D.C., area so that they could consider Western Maryland for future investment.

In various talks throughout the day, the Governor repeated his theme of community cooperation. He explained the benefits and need for regional cooperation. "If Western Maryland is strong," he said, "then the rest of the state will be strong."

The Society hopes work on the actual structure will be underway by the time spring begins.

Charge Of Rape Lodged Against Oakland Man

A 40 year old Oakland man was arrested early Wednesday morning by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department and charged with rape, sexual assault and sexual offense.

The arrest of Robert Russell McRobie stemmed from an investigation into an alleged rape which occurred Wednesday, February 9, around 1:00 a.m.

According to a spokesman from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, a 23-year-old Oakland woman was accosted on the Oakland Rosedale Road around 1:00 a.m. by McRobie. He allegedly tied the woman's hands behind her back, dragged her off the road and into a field near the Youghiogheny River and assaulted her.

The woman was treated for minor injuries and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Detective Randy Sines arrested McRobie around 9:00 a.m. Wednesday. McRobie is currently being held in the Garrett County Jail on $50,000 full cash bond.

Michael Reams, 28, Oakland, was arrested on a warrant for breaking and entering.

Reams allegedly entered a house located on Foster Road belonging to Shirley Rutherford of Baltimore and removed property valued at less than $300.

Detective R.L. Sines reported the arrest on February 3.

Timothy David Ford, 28, Oakland, was arrested on February 3 on a warrant charging him with battery and alcoholic beverage intoxication.

Ford allegedly made an assault upon and battered his wife Roxanne in an incident which occurred at a Liberty Street residence in Oakland.

Bambacus Sponsors Tax Credits For Coal Legislation

Senator John N. Bambacus is the primary sponsor of Senate Bill 525, "Tax Credits For Purchase of Maryland Mined Coal."

The bill alters a credit that a public service company may claim against the public service franchise tax. It appears a provision that allows credit for energy that was produced from Maryland mined coal and purchased by specified cogenerators or small power producers. The legislation permits these cogenerators and small power producers a credit against the $3 a ton State income tax on Maryland coal purchased by the cogenerator.

The bill, which is a follow-up to the "Power Plants" bill, is "designed to loosen the economic squeeze on the coal industry, an industry which is so vital to Western Maryland," according to Senator Bambacus. He added, "The declining price of oil has created a demand for the product and placed a tremendous strain on the coal industry in Maryland."

A hearing for the bill is scheduled for this Friday, February 10, at 1 p.m. in the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee.

The posts are a donation from the State, and the removal of trees was a donation to the project by Beitzel Lumber and Logging of Bittering.

"Visitors frequently come to the site," stated Mary Strauss, Society member. "Upon their return the old familiar scene will no longer be quite the same. Nostalgia will remain, but once activity has begun so will the hope of a more refined house and site also emerge."

The Society hopes work on the actual structure will be underway by the time spring begins.

Paul W. Ferrell Convicted Monday Of Murder, Kidnapping And Arson

A Grant County Circuit Court jury found former Grant County Sheriff's Deputy Paul William Ferrell guilty of second-degree murder, kidnapping and third-degree arson during court proceedings on Monday.

A sentencing date has not yet been set, but Ferrell could face five to 18 years in prison for the murder charge; life imprisonment for kidnapping, and one to three years for the arson charge.

Grant County Circuit Court Judge C. Reeves Taylor revoked Ferrell's $100,000 bond and ordered that he be placed in the Grant County jail.

The case went to the jury, consisting of eight women and four men, at 2:42 p.m., and a verdict was reached at 5:25 p.m.

The charges stemmed from the February 17, 1988, disappearance of Catherine Denise Ford, 19, of Gorman.

Prosecution testimony continued during last Thursday's court proceedings, with testimony being offered by Ferrell's former girlfriend, Cathy Bernard, of Deer Park.

Bernard noted that, after she and Ferrell met, he suffered from depression and headaches, and the two discussed his seeking treatment from a Veterans' Administration hospital. Ferrell moved in with Bernard on December 23, 1987.

Bernard testified about the events of February 17, stating that Ferrell, who was not scheduled to work that day, was still at her residence when she left for work at 8:30 a.m. She noted that she tried to call him several times during the day at Ferrell's Mart, the store Ferrell and his twin brother, David, operate in Gorman.

Bernard stated that she picked up her son at school at 3:30 p.m. and left for a doctor appointment in Terra Alta, W.Va., at 4 p.m. She returned home at 6 p.m. and attempted to call Ferrell again, but could not reach him. Since Ferrell was scheduled to bowl in his bowling league that night, she did not try to call again.

She testified that Ferrell arrived at her residence at 9:30 p.m. that evening, and that he usually arrived at 11 p.m. on nights that he bowled.

Bernard stated that she asked Ferrell what he did that day, and he replied that he "had stopped by the magistrates' office" and then spent the day "cleaning up around the trailer." She further testified that she went with Ferrell to buy carpet for his trailer on February 19.

Bernard said a neighbor told her on February 20 that Ford was missing, and that Ferrell told her he knew she was missing, and that she had been seen going toward Mount Storm.

She noted that Ferrell was concerned that Ford was single, and that he and his brother were also single, and that people may think they were involved.

Bernard stated that Ferrell did not feel well for several days after February 17, and that he forgot her birthday. She said Ferrell brought trash from his trailer in the trunk of his car, and that the trash included paper towels, paint cans, and pieces of carpet.

She stated that Ferrell expressed concern about being a suspect because of the location of the trailer, and he asked Bernard if she had heard anything about the Ford case from her brother, who was a deputy with the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Bernard said, "It was like it was all we talked about. Our lives started to revolve around that case."

She also stated that Ferrell told her, "If anyone asks, I was with you."

Also testifying on Thursday was FBI Special Agent Kenneth Curtis, who interviewed Ferrell on the day before his arrest.

Curtis said he suggested that Ford had been killed at Ferrell's trailer. He said Ferrell made the statement, "I don't doubt that she was killed there, but anyone could have done it."

Curtis said he suggested that there were two different Paul Ferrells, one who committed an act in the heat of emotion, and another who was calm and rational. Curtis noted that Ferrell was nodding in agreement as he presented the scenario.

Friday

Defense testimony began Friday, with ten witnesses called to the stand by defense attorney Russ Marika.

Tammy Stullenberger, an employee of the Short Stop, Oakland, testified that she was working on February 17, and Ferrell stopped at the store at 1:30 p.m. and purchased lunch. She also stated that she saw him around 4:50 p.m. that day at Ferrell's Mart.

Teresa Kitzmiller, of Gorman, stated that she was the defendant between 2:45 and 3:15 p.m. at Ferrell's Mart.

Kathy Hanlin, Mount Storm, stated that she started her job at Ferrell's Mart on February 17, and noted that Ferrell came in soon after 3 p.m., and was there for 15 to 20 minutes. She also said he was in and out all evening.

Vince Culp, Bayard, W.Va., stated that he saw Ferrell at Ferrell's Mart between 4:15 and 5:15 p.m. on February 17.

Ferrell's father, Joseph Ferrell Sr., stated that he saw Ferrell at his home around 6 p.m. for about five minutes.

Shirley Marshall, a former employee at the Old Mill Restaurant, testified that she had heard disagreements between Ford and her boyfriend, Darvin Moon.

Marshall stated, "They argued a lot. She came in one day crying and said, 'One of these days he's going to kill me.'"

Dale Moreland, of Mount Storm, W.Va., stated that he saw Ford driving toward Oakland on February 17, not toward Mount Storm as previous testimony indicated.

The defense rested its case after approximately two and one-half hours of testimony.

AMERICAN HISTORY MONTH was proclaimed in Oakland Monday evening by Mayor Asa McCain Jr. on behalf of the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. The proclamation in part stated that "the backbone of this great nation of America is its history, upon which all of our accomplishments are based" and "the importance of remembering American history should be stressed through such valuable community services as educational programs, essay contests, and historic tours." Pictured left to right are Councilman Zack Gibson, Mayor McCain, Janice Hutchinson, publicity chairman for the Youghiogheny Glades DAR Chapter; Lillian Reckner, co-regent; and Juanita Browning, historian.

Monthly Staff Meeting Held By Commissioners

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners held their monthly staff meeting with the heads of various county agencies on Tuesday.

Planning and Zoning
John Nelson, of the Garrett County Planning and Zoning Commission, noted that the Kitzmiller school project has been approved. The project will involve a fitness trail, pavilion with picnic tables and a barbecue grill, playground equipment, upgrading the basketball court, fencing for the ball field, and a concession stand.

The project was reportedly approved on January 11, and will involve $52,713.00.

Sanitary Commission
Wendell Beitzel, director of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, reported that the Crellin Sewer Project is now underway, noting that the contractor elected to begin construction because of the mild weather.

Beitzel noted that there have been some complaints about the conditions brought about by the construction. Commissioner Ernest J. Gregg Jr. noted that

Community Action
Duane Yoder, of Garrett County Community Action, noted that the architectural firm has been selected to complete the evaluation of the Center Street School project.

Yoder noted that Delegate George Edwards has introduced special bonding legislation for $250,000. He said, "If it passes, it will be a significant boost for the project."

The auction for Bradley Manor has been scheduled for March 1. However, Yoder noted that there is a possibility of some legal action to delay the foreclosure sale.

Yoder also mentioned that Community Action is hoping to start a home-based component in the head-start program, which would probably be in the Finzel and North Glade area.

Economic Development
Tom Jones, of the Garrett County Economic Development Department, noted that Delegate Edwards is in the process of introducing legislation for a state-wide financing program for small businesses. Currently, the program is available for western Maryland counties only. If the financing is made state-wide, any jurisdiction with a high unemployment rate could take advantage of the program.

Appalachian Crossroads
William Aspinall, director of Appalachian Crossroads, noted that the house which is being constructed on Route 219 near Flowers by Webers for handicapped persons should be completed by mid-March, and is expected to be in operation by mid-April. The building will house three persons from the community and one from an institution.

Extension Service
Alice Hevner, of the Garrett County Extension Service, noted that the Advanced Farm Management Workshops have begun, with 14 families who participated from last year going into the next phase. Next week, another 12 or 14 families will begin with the new program.

Homeowners whose property will not be sprayed by the state for gypsy moths may meet at the Extension Office on February 16 from 7 to 10 p.m. to arrange for spraying by a contractor. Interested persons should bring an aerial map of their property, which can be obtained from the ASCS office at the courthouse.

Tri-State Dairy Reproduction Workshop will be held on February 22 at Garrett Community College.

Lenten Worship Services Set In Community

The annual community Lenten worship services will begin at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, on Wednesday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m.

The annual series is sponsored by clergy from the Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park area. Guest preacher for the opening service will be the Rev. John A. Grant, vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park.

A common theme will be used to unite the various services in the series. This year, the clergymen have chosen parables from St. Matthew and St. Luke as the theme of the sermons. Each of the parables is a story with a religious application, and can point to a way in which Christian teachings can be more meaningful in a person's life.

The second service in the Wednesday evening series will be held at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, on February 22.

State Police Investigate Vehicle Theft

Several local thefts are under Maryland State Police investigation this week, including a report of a stolen vehicle.

James E. Frey, Smithfield, Pa., reported that his red 1987 Chevrolet Silverado 4 X 4 was taken from Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop while he was inside between 7 and 8 a.m. on February 1.

The truck had Pennsylvania license plate number YB-80637. The investigation is continuing.

A breaking and entering theft was reported by Debra S. Savage. The incident occurred at her residence between January 19 and February 3.

Stolen items include $575 worth of cash and personal property. Cpl. C.R. Smith is investigating.

A ski theft was reported by Richard D. Hamilton on Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Police said Hamilton entered the restaurant at the Wisp Resort and returned 15 minutes later to find his skis, bindings, ski poles, and a tote bag missing. Total loss was valued at $404.

Sgt. D.P. Moore is handling the investigation.

A destruction of property incident was reported by Roy F. Rexroad.

The incident reportedly occurred between November 27, 1988, and February 2, 1989. Police said someone used a baseball bat to break the glass in 16 windows of a barn and 2 windows in a house.

Tfc. D.G. Riggelman, who is investigating, reported that the

Gypsy Moth Spray Areas For 1989 Being Determined

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr. announced this week that proposed spray areas are now being selected for inclusion in the 1989 Gypsy Moth Cooperative Suppression Program.

"Official notifications will be sent to homeowners in the designated treatment areas during the latter part of February or early March," said Secretary Cawley.

"I want to stress that mapping of spray blocks is still in progress, as my staff is reviewing survey data gathered during the course of the year and transferred to grid maps of the entire state. We will not have specific homeowners' names and addresses until the entire mapping process is finished and proposed spray block boundaries are finalized. Then official notification will be mailed first-class to every affected landowner. If you don't receive a notice by mid-March, you are not in a spray area," said Cawley.

According to program personnel, a total of almost 172,000 acres is currently proposed for treatment statewide, with areas in 20 counties and Baltimore City. Projections are for 54,000 acres to be treated with Dimilin, and 118,000 acres with B.T.

Begun in 1982, Maryland's cooperative program is funded by the USDA's Forest Service, the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA), and individual counties. Implementation is carried out year-round by staff of the Forest Pest Management Section of MDA.

Continual monitoring is the key to minimizing tree damage and keeping moth populations below destructive levels. Gypsy moth program staff work all year conducting egg mass surveys and trapping programs to keep track of infestation levels.

"Our goal is to save one of our most precious resources — our trees. Without oaks and other varieties favored by the gypsy moth, Maryland's natural environment will change," said Secretary Cawley. "We need the help of Maryland's citizens to do an effective job," he continued.

"I encourage everyone receiving a notice to read it carefully and, if necessary, contact their community association or MDA regional office for details. Information is available about the program, the pesticides, and things homeowners can do to help themselves. MDA's Forest Pest Management staff is ready and willing to attend community gatherings to explain the program," said Cawley.

For further information, or to locate a regional office, persons may call the Forest Pest Management Section, Maryland Department of Agriculture, at 841-5922.

Grantsville Man Gets One Year For Sex Offense

A Grantsville man was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail for a charge of fourth degree sex offense during Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings last week.

Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer then suspended nine months of the sentence of Ronald J. Kohler, 45. He will be placed on two years supervised probation upon his release from jail.

Kohler pled guilty to the charge during a December, 1988, trial, and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Charges of child abuse and assault and battery were not prosecuted. The charges stemmed from an April, 1987, incident involving a 12-year-old female.

Kohler was represented by James F. Braskey.

In separate consolidated cases, the judge ordered pre-sentence investigations for Michael W. Shumaker, 24, Salisbury, Pa.; and Richard W. Warnick, 30, Bittering, for third degree sex offense charges.

The two pled guilty to the charges, and their bail was revoked. Charges of assault with intent to rape, attempted first degree rape, fourth degree sex offense, and assault and battery were not prosecuted.

The charges stemmed from an August 15, 1988, incident in Accident involving a 17-year-old female.

Two Meetings Concerning Yough River Use Slated

Two meetings of interest to landowners and river rafters and kayakers will be conducted tonight and tomorrow by representatives of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Youghiogheny Advisory Board
The Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College in the Continuing Education Building.

Donald E. MacLaughlin,

Revisions to the Youghiogheny River Management Plan and a review of the commercial whitewater boating safety regulations that have been published in the Maryland Register will be discussed.

Recreational Boating Workshop

Representatives of the DNR will be conducting a Youghiogheny River Recreational Boating Workshop on Friday, February 10 beginning at 9:30 a.m. at Garrett Community College.

Management efforts of the DNR on the Youghiogheny River and a status report by Alan Graef of Pennsylvania State University on the recreational capacity study will be discussed during the morning.

Work groups will be formed to discuss the issues and concerns of boaters, landowners and any other interested persons.

Any interested persons should plan to attend the meetings.

Bambacus Pushes Victims' Rights Legislation Again

Senator John N. Bambacus is a prime sponsor of victims' rights legislation for the seventh consecutive year in the Maryland General Assembly.

The bills establish basic constitutional rights for victims of violent crimes, including the right to be present during the trial, civil restitution, and the extension of the statute of limitations for victims to file suit.

The "Crime Victims — Presence" bill establishes rights for victims of violent crimes to be present during trial; they may only be excluded for good cause. The "Restitution" bill requires the court to order civil restitution for specified criminal cases, and mandates restitution as a condition for parole. Finally, the "Statute of Limitations — Assault and Battery" bill extends the statute of limitations from one to three years for assault and battery victims to file suit against the offender.

In addition, Bambacus created the "Warrantless Arrest" bill, which extends law enforcement powers in cases involving domestic violence. The proposed legislation permits a police officer to arrest a person without a warrant if the officer has probable cause to believe the person has battered a spouse or any individual with whom the person resides.

The legislation is an outgrowth from the on-going efforts of Senator Bambacus and the Stephanie Roper Committee, a group which has ardently supported victims' rights legislation since the early 1980's. Hearings for the bills are scheduled for this afternoon.

Environmental Trust Receives Donated Acreage

Pinnacle Five Springs Trust, comprised of family members of the late Fulcher P. Smith, has donated 70 acres of woodland on the east side of Deep Creek Lake to the Maryland Environmental Trust (MET) for conservation purposes.

The donated land, known as the Fulcher P. Smith Conservation Area, will remain as undeveloped woodland. MET will transfer 31 acres to the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service (FPWS) for inclusion in Deep Creek Lake State Park. The FPWS will manage 33 acres remaining in MET ownership. The remaining acreage, a six-acre building lot on Deep Creek Lake, will eventually be sold by MET for one single-family residential dwelling.

The Smith family will also convey buffer strips of about one acre each to the homeowners along State Park Road, subject to permanent covenants restricting use of the land.

According to a release from the Maryland Environmental Trust, the creation of the Conservation Area is the result of over five years of planning and cooperation among the Smith family, private homeowners along State Park Road, MET, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, and the Garrett County Commissioners. The overall plan was reviewed and endorsed by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Land and conservation easements donated to MET in Garrett County now total 220 acres. Overall, MET has protected over 29,000 acres statewide through donations of real property and conservation easements.

The Maryland Environmental Trust, a unit of the Department of Natural Resources, is authorized by law to accept private donations of real estate, money, or other property; such gifts are tax deductible. In giving conservation easements, landowners donate the development rights on their property to the Trust, while retaining all other rights of ownership. For further information, persons may contact Jim Highsaw at the Maryland Environmental Trust, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, (303) 333-6440.

Numerous Items Noted By County Sanitary Board

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission met Tuesday evening to discuss local projects.

Deep Creek Lake

The commission approved an extension to develop plans for storage facilities in the two areas, including Thayer's Barn and The Fort.

The Deerfield Subdivision on the Mayhew Inn Road requested sewer service for the development. However, the area is outside the sanitary district, and the commission cannot grant sewer service unless the county agrees to extend the sanitary district boundaries.

Gorman Water

The commission heard an appeal about an unusually high water bill, and will render a decision soon.

The commission has had trouble with high bills in that area recently because many of the residents connected to the system with plastic pipes, which have begun to crack. The commission discussed making a requirement that all new connections be made with copper pipes.

The commission noted that the water is purchased from Mount Storm, and must be paid for no matter where it is used.

Trout Run

The Trout Run facility is shut

Ferry Contracting, seems to be cooperating in resolving the complaints. Beitzel noted that the cooperation of the community is needed until the project is completed.

Beitzel noted that the commission has almost total funding for the system, and will owe just a small portion.

Mtn. Lake Park

All but one of the new springs has been tied in to the Mtn. Lake Park water system, and work will begin shortly on the new storage tank.

Shallmar

The commission discussed the problem of crossed connections in the Shallmar water system. It was discovered that several people have connected to the old water system, resulting in abnormal water bills.

Beitzel reminded citizens that it is illegal to have these connections, and that the old system was condemned. The crossed connections may result in contamination of the new water system.

Cherry Glade Run

The commission discussed the Cherry Glade Run water system, and is waiting for final notice from the town of Oakland about charges before giving permission for hook-up.

The Meter's Running . . .

One of the biggest problems inherited by the new Bush administration is the savings and loan crisis that is currently costing this nation $33 million per day. It is a no-win situation for which each one of us is going to have to pay in one way or another, even those of us who have never had any dealings with any S&L institutions.

Our first reaction is that those who invested their money in now insolvent S&Ls should simply absorb their own losses. It was their risk, not ours. However, their funds were and are insured by the United States government and a default by the federal government would result in total disaster, as the security of all invested monies, including those through banks, would go right down the drain. We obviously cannot allow that to happen.

While we are opposed to President Bush's original idea to place an outright finance charge on savings accounts and the like, we believe he is now on the right track with his current proposal, which includes an increase in the insurance premiums of financial institutions. Of course, those costs will most likely be passed on to us consumers in various ways, but it will be spread out in a more equitable manner. Business is booming for many of our banks, so we see no reason that they, too, shouldn't share in the burden.

We also agree that more regulation of the S&L industry is sorely needed to prevent such a catastrophe from ever occurring again. The crisis began primarily because of foolish speculation practices and abuse by many S&Ls.

The bottom line is that there is no easy, inexpensive solution to the S&L crisis, and no matter how the pie is sliced, ultimately the obligation to pay will fall on the shoulders of the taxpayers. The federal government is the insurance company in this case and we are the financiers of the federal government. We should take our medicine and put this mess behind us as quickly as possible because the ten-digit meter is still running, to the tune of $1 billion per month.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Our class sponsored a dance at Northern Middle School on January 27, to make money for a class trip. We would like to thank everyone who helped with the dance.

Thanks to members of the school staff, Mrs. Elsa Jenkins, Mr. John Medwick and Mrs. Rhonda Buckel who helped to chaperone.

A special thanks to Mrs. Carol Shalis and the student government for the use of some equipment.

Thanks also to the Lance man, Donnie Evans, the janitor who cleaned up after our dance, Paul Edwards and Larry Wakefield, who made announcements to advertise our dance, and to Terry Beal, the D.J.

We sincerely appreciate your help and support.

To the Editor:

I recently accompanied a group of desperate farmers to talk to Delegates from farm areas of Maryland. Their reaction to the farmers' plight was polite and sympathetic, but basically, they sidestepped the issues and bucked their problems to the Federal level. All they could talk about was the Bay and how we must protect the environment. Are we going to protect the environment to the extinction of people?

Sure the Bay is a precious resource, but so are our farmers! Over the years the insane policy of paying farmers not to produce, and telling them how to run their farms, with imposition of fines if they don't comply, is obscene. The Government is lying when they say there is a surplus of food. Drought has exacerbated the situation. Food banks are shutting down right and left, and the school lunch program is being curtailed. Millions more children in this once-bountiful land will go to bed hungry!

Food is being used as a weapon. The grain cartels (Continental, Bunge, Cargill, etc.) are tightening their control of the food chain. Look at the LBO's involving food companies: Nabisco, Beatrice, Kroger, Kraft. From farm to table — a huge monopoly, and if you can't pay their prices, you will starve and they couldn't care less.

Farmers have been burned so often, they are leery of joining another organization. But believe me the FOOD FOR PEACE program sponsored by the Schiller Institute combines farmers and eaters in a political bloc to benefit both. If you are an eater, join with farmers to smash the unholy alliance of the grain cartels and the Soviet miles in the Agriculture Dept. It's unconscionable to have hungry people in this country!

Yours truly,

To the Editor:

Now, we're all familiar with Valentine's Day. That's when we see hearts and the word "Love" everywhere. We see them on decorations and on valentine candy and on the cards we send to each other.

Hearts and love should go together and the romantic and sentimental expressions of love so prevalent at this season are important to relationships and appreciated. But let's take this opportunity to consider the meaning and impact of the love mentioned in 1 Corinthians 13:13 (ICV): "So these three things will last forever: faith, hope, and love. And the greatest of these is love."

When this God-given love becomes a part of our being, the golden rule — do unto others as you would have them do unto you — becomes a way of life as we show consideration and kindness to the other fellow in our day-to-day association.

Thereby we will be contributing to our community in a way that will keep our already special town one we will continue to enjoy.

Have a "special" Valentine's Day!

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter requested that it be published in this column. It is directed to Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Garrett County Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Dr. Ryscavage:

I would like to take this opportunity to let you know of my experience with some of your dedicated and professional personnel. I have never really had an opinion, good or bad, of the Garrett County Board of Education until this past week.

My son, John Schroth, was in a three-wheeler accident in May of 1987, with resulting brain damage. He is now having some academic problems in school and it was beginning to look as though he would be unable to graduate this year. Graduation meant a great deal to my son and the thought that he wouldn't be beginning to cause him severe depression.

Your staff, consisting of Ms. Leese, Mr. Grimm, Mr. Ron Kuhn, Mr. Rich Ranieri, Ms. Linda Buckel, Ms. Sally Wilson, Mr. Phil Lauer, Mr. Scott Harvey, and Ms. Donna Durst, spent two afternoons reviewing my son's academic and medical records and brainstorming for solutions to resolve his problems. The entire time I was in those two meetings, I felt that everyone had my son's best interests at heart and were willing to do more than their fair share to help him in any way possible to be able to graduate.

If someone came up with an idea which needed more information before consideration could be given, I wasn't put off with an, "I'll check on that and get in touch with you." Someone got up at that point and left the room and either found the personnel or the printed material that had the information needed, so that the idea could be considered and either accepted or rejected right then.

I feel that each of the people listed should be commended for their dedication to their jobs and more so for their dedication to Garrett County students. I'm proud, that through my children, I'm a part of the Garrett County Board of Education.

Sincerely,
Robert and Suzan Wolfe

To the Editor:

When President Lincoln put the Gettysburg Address together, he stressed the fact that a government should be of the people, by the people and for the people. But I tend to believe that early on the U.S. Government was more interested in its own internal affairs than it was in the people it was governing, and by perhaps 1900 or sooner, it was rapidly evolving into a government of the politicians, by the politicians and for the politicians, and today, with the involvement complete, the U.S.A. is no more able to govern effectively than the government of ancient Rome was when it fell apart and went down the tubes.

Now the fat cat politicians are scheduled for a fat pay raise on top of their already fat salaries. Without the pay raise some qualified workers would quit and go elsewhere for bigger paychecks, as I heard it, and while we're talking about qualified workers, how about a lot of the Pentagon workers who were indicted in recent months for being involved in conspiracy, fraud, embezzlement, theft, etc.? More indictments are expected in due time.

To determine the number of shares or ERU's each user is expected to buy in the system, we examined the water records for the 3rd quarter of 1987 for a typical household. From this, we determined the average number of gallons a typical household uses in one year. This amount, 44,000 gallons has been determined as 1 ERU, or 1 share. The same process was used for apartments, and it was determined that an apartment used approximately 1 ERU also.

And so, all typical households are going to be charged for 1 ERU. But what about those buildings which do not contain a single household? Consider apartment buildings — some buildings have a separate water meter for each apartment. In this case they will be charged one ERU or 1 share for each apartment. In other cases, apartment buildings have only 1 meter for all of the apartments.

In order to be fair, water records showed how many gallons of water were used during the year. From this the number ERU's (or shares) was determined that each building should be charged for. In most cases, the number of apartments correspond to the number of ERU's.

Take for example, a building that has 4 apartments, and has only 1 person in each apartment. Suppose that 2 of these persons do not use the amount of water a typical household uses. The water records would reflect low usage, and the building may only be charged for 3 ERU's. In most cases however, if there are four apartments in a building with only 1 water meter, the water records showed that the building should be charged 4 ERU's.

The ERU is the basis for charging users for the local share of the capital cost of the system. The capital cost includes items such as building the treatment plant, putting in the collector system lines, as well as legal, engineering, and administrative costs attributed to the system. Note: The capital cost recovery is not the same as the O&M (Operation and Maintenance) costs. You can reduce your O&M bill by conserving water, but the number of ERU's has been set.

The charges for the number of ERU's — or shares which you as a user will be expected to pay for, will be sent out in the near future. The Town is presently searching out various methods of repayment plans which will be equitable, fair, and as reasonable as possible for users to pay.

As citizens of Oakland, you need to realize that this new sewerage system is not something that the Town of Oakland chose to get involved with. The Town was mandated by the State to update and expand the system.

The Town has incurred a large debt, and now it needs to recover this amount from the users of the system. You may still not fully understand the system, and you may not feel the amount charged to you is going to be fair, but you can rest assured that the Council is doing everything possible to make the system equitable. Many people have their own ideas of how the charges should be assessed, and for them it may be a good idea, but it could be totally devastating for other users.

It is hoped that the citizens will attend the public hearings that are being held to address the financial problems the new system places on the Town and its citizens.

Sincerely submitted,
Jay Moyer,
Councilman

On January 27, 1989, the Garrett County Commissioners refused to hear or adopt the Right To Life Resolution. Their action was a personal disappointment to me because all three are pro-life and Garrett County is overwhelmingly pro-life. However, as much as they believe in the right to life, they would not stand up and be counted on behalf of and to save God's unborn American babies who are the future of Garrett County, Maryland and America. Their action brings to mind that "All it takes for evil to triumph in this world is for good men to do nothing."

The Right To Life Resolution is for adoption by towns, cities and counties.

Does Devotion Obligate?

by Dr. Steve Herman, President
Garrett Community College

Most of you know me as the President of Garrett Community College, but I am also a philosopher. I don't draw attention to this part of my life very much because philosophers over the centuries have earned a very hard reputation for themselves. People have come to think of philosophers as the best example humanity has yet produced of an "airhead." Personally, I think the honor should be shared with theoretical physicists and mathematicians, but I cannot deny that we are part of a rare breed.

I have been doing some philosophy lately with a couple friends, Ernest Lepore of Rutgers University and Lynn Pasquerella of the University of Rhode Island. At the risk of boring you to tears, I thought I might share some results of our recent research.

We decided to undertake a philosophic investigation of love, although we are eminently unqualified in the field. None of us has any graduate training for such a task. Nevertheless, we were concerned that philosophy has had so little to say in the twentieth century about a topic of such importance to so many lives.

So for better or worse, we put our heads together to think about love.

We can't give you an exact definition, but we were reasonably sure devotion is part of love. Most parents, for example, are devoted to their children, but they don't always get a chance to show their devotion. The very best evidence for devotion is self-sacrifice. When lovers sacrifice for those they love, when parents sacrifice for their children, when patriots sacrifice for their country, and when the faithful sacrifice to God, they exhibit their devotion.

Consider the case of maternal love. A mother is standing on the sidewalk when she sees her child chase a ball into the street. To her great alarm she sees an automobile bearing down on the child. Without hesitation she rushes into the road and throws herself in the path of the oncoming car. She dies but saves her child. We can imagine the news headlines the following day, headlining this striking act of maternal devotion. Because the mother's act appears so plainly to be an act of self-sacrifice, we infer her devotion to her child, and as a postmortem we praise and commend her.

However, suppose the mother's best friend and confidant reveals that the mother had been despondent recently. We learn that she had felt from her youth on that she was a very special person and that she would make her mark in the world. But to her dismay the world had scarcely noticed her, and she yearned for an opportunity to perform some spectacular act that would bring her the recognition she felt she deserved.

Now how should we judge her act of sacrifice? Was it an act of devotion for her child? If we think that she did not act for her child's sake but acted instead to secure for herself a great reputation, we should probably judge her to be selfish instead of a devoted mother. Devotion involves being prepared to act for another even at one's own expense.

Many people believe that love or devotion obligates. Many marriages split up on this point. Ralph and Alice Crandem — The Honeymooners — are always fighting. Each thinks the other has failed to meet obligations love imposes.

Ralph wants to buy a very expensive fishing pole. He convinces to take Alice's cookie jar money to buy the pole. She discovers his plot and is incensed and hurt. She feels Ralph has violated his obligations to her. If he truly loved her, he ought not to have taken her money behind her back.

Does Ralph owe Alice anything just because he loves her? I think not. Love does not obligate. Love happens to us. When we are in love, we express our devotion; we give and we sacrifice. But such sacrifice is not anything we owe. It is a gift, pure and simple. Gifts given from obligations are not properly gifts at all. They are payments.

On the other hand Ralph is obligated to Alice, not because he loves her, but because he is married to her. When people marry, they take a wedding vow. Vowing is promising. When one makes a promise to another, then one incurs an obligation. Ralph promised to honor Alice as part of his wedding vow. In taking the money from the cookie jar without her permission, Ralph was not honoring and respecting Alice as he had vowed he would, so her anger is justified. He obligated himself, and he violated the obligation he took upon himself.

In the twentieth century the original intent of the marriage ceremony has become unfashionable. Many people say that love is what counts and that the marriage license is just a piece of paper, a superfluous formality. I must confess that I shared this view, but now, having thought more carefully about love, I've changed my mind. Love is not enough to ensure an enduring interpersonal relationship. When people take a marriage vow, obligating themselves to each other, they bind themselves in a way that love by itself does not. People can and certainly do break their promises. But breaking a promise is too easy when one didn't take the promise seriously in the first place. If we adopt the attitude that the marriage vow is a mere formality, a ritual without significance, then we are perhaps more apt to break our vows. If, on the other hand, people, and especially youth, understand that vows rather than love obligate, they will perhaps accord the marriage vows a level of respect the vows do not always enjoy today.

Happy Valentine's Day.

or pro-life but afraid and unwilling to put their beliefs into action. The process provides that if the local politicians are unresponsive to hearing the Right To Life Resolution then the right to lifeers ask the local priests, ministers and rabbis to ask the local politicians to hear the Right To Life Resolution. If the request from the local priests, ministers and rabbis is not sufficient to obtain hearings, then the Right To Lifeers ask the priests, ministers and rabbis to distribute Save The Babies Phone Calling Sheets to their church members. The Save The Babies Phone Calling Sheets provide the names, addresses, and phone numbers of the elected officials who are not publicly committed to having hearings on the Right To Life Resolution. The Save The Babies Phone Calling Sheets make it so easy for the pro-lifers in the churches to call the elected officials. They even set forth exactly what to say to the elected officials or someone who can take a written message for them.

The Right To Life Resolution process is contained in a Right To Life Resolution Kit which explains how to get newspaper, radio, and television coverage of the hearings which will educate both politicians and the general public.

The Right To Life Resolution process is designed to deal with politicians who are pro-abortion

The Right To Life Resolution proposed to the Garrett County Commissioners offers, and they have been fully apprised of this, a historical first time in the United States that the right to life would be matched against abortion in a debate setting where both sides would present their best in the market place of ideas and then be judged by a local government, that is, the elected officials would or would not adopt the Resolution. Garrett County, being the battleground of this historical first confrontation to be televised by national network television, would be on the map of millions of potential American tourists. Tourism will blossom to phenomenal proportions. Industry and new businesses will follow. Prosperity will abound in Garrett County indefinitely.

In spite of the wonderful by-products that would insure to Garrett County and Western Maryland for years and years to come, the Garrett County Commissioners exercise their power not to promote a societal quest for truth that can help save millions and millions of babies but to shield themselves from imagined abuse from their constituents. The reality is their constituents would like to hear and have the elected officials hear both sides because con-troveries are meant to be resolved by the truth. The Right To Life Resolution provides public hearings as the efficient and peaceful way to resolve the right to life versus abortion controversy. Its historical precedent was the Lincoln-Douglas debates on slavery.

The Garrett County Commissioners need compassion and support. They need to know that you support the Right To Life Resolution and hearings upon it. When you see or call them say: "Hold hearings on the Resolution."

The Garrett County Commissioners may have thought that I would crawl into the woodwork after they refused to hear or adopt the Resolution. They do not understand that I have been in the Right To Life Movement for 17 years and that I will continue for another 17 years if necessary to benefit God's unborn babies and Garrett County, Western Maryland, Maryland, and America. ## Oakland Update

by Mayor Asa McCain

Tuesday night the Mayor and Town Council conducted a meeting for public input into the proposed zoning ordinance. Due to the many questions raised by the 45 people in attendance, we are giving you two weeks to express concerns in writing. If you would cite section numbers when submitting suggestions, it will expedite the job of the committee that will be making revisions. Once the revisions are completed, we will conduct another public hearing before adoption. For your convenience, copies of the proposed ordinance can be checked out from City Hall or the library. Supplies are limited so please return the copies as soon as possible.

During the last couple of meetings, we have adopted ordinances and resolutions. They are as follows:

1. Ordinance — Water Service Rates and Charges. For the most part, this consolidated previous ordinances and did not change any fees relating to the standard residential user.
2. Resolution for adopting ordinances and
3. Resolution for adopting resolutions. These standardized the procedures for the advertising, public hearings, and adoption of the above mentioned items.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION:

The annual voter registration day has been set for Wednesday, February 15, 1989, at City Hall. If you are not currently registered (this would include those in the newly annexed areas of Third Street, Country Club acres and Leighton Drive, and any other resident not registered) you must have lived in the area for six months and be at least 18 years old.

The Town election will take place, Monday, March 13, at City Hall. You will be voting for three council positions and the treasurer. Contact City Hall for details and qualifications if you wish to run for any of these offices.

YOU CAN HELP YOUR TOWN AND YOURSELF

As you are well aware from your most recent Town utility bill, the sewerage operation and maintenance (O&M) cost is higher than originally anticipated. One of the biggest causes is the fact that many of the downspouts are connected to the sewer system and it costs as much to treat a gallon of rain water as it does to treat a gallon of sewage. During a rainy period, as much as two out of three gallons coming into the treatment plant can be attributed to sources other than sewage.

If your downspouts run into the ground and you do not know where they come out, chances are that they are running into the sewer system. TO REMOVE SPOUTS from the system, simply disconnect or cut the pipe far enough above the ground to install an elbow; plug the pipe running into the ground to prevent rain water and rodents from having access to them. This could be permanently done by blocking the pipe in the ground with newspaper or similar material and leaving about six inches of open pipe which can be filled with ready mixed concrete. If you have plastic pipe running into the ground, plugging the pipe is even simpler since you can purchase a plug made for that purpose. You may want to install a splash block where the spout will now run to prevent erosion.

One resident said he was going to put in an old fashioned rain barrel under his spout and use the water for watering flowers and to provide water for his pets.

Material to remove spouts can be purchased from any hardware, or building supply establishment. If you are unable to disconnect your own spouts, any of the local plumbing or building contractors can be hired to do the job for you.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Stanton's Mill — 192 Years Of History Preserved In Grantsville

by Heidi Kinsinger

Grist mills, institutions that once provided essential grains for people and were the center of activity in small towns all across the United States, have all but disappeared. However, a valuable piece of this history is being maintained in Grantsville. After being owned and operated by five generations of the same family, Stanton's Mill is now under new ownership and slated for renovations that will convert it back to the original water power.

Stanton's Mill in Grantsville has been sold to Penn Alps, an old stagecoach tavern, now a restaurant and a complex which combines history and a craft shop. The mill was formerly owned by Bob Bender, who represented a five-generation ownership of the mill. Bender's great, great grandfather first started mill operations in 1797.

Every since Penn Alps opened Bob Bender urged the restaurant to buy Stanton's Mill and restore it to the original water power. This past summer, when the mill was endangered of being sold to another buyer, Jack Dueck presented a challenge to Penn Alps Board of Directors. His challenge resulted in their decision to purchase Stanton's Mill and begin restoration efforts.

Stanton's Mill is listed on the National Register of historic buildings and is unique for its kind in Western Maryland. Penn Alps is currently seeking grants and establishing a foundation to facilitate the restoration of the old dam on the Casselman, the waterway, the water wheel, and the grinding stones.

In the meantime Penn Alps is pleased to announce that Elmer Beachy has leased the mill to continue the commercial milling. Beachy also intends to retail water softener salt, fertilizers, dog and cat foods, as well as garden supplies and other merchandise.

In the early 1800's water-powered mills were built throughout Garrett County. These mills served as community centers where people would meet to exchange news and goods. People did not have a lot of money back then, so the millers would keep a portion of grain from each bushel as payment for services.

Stanton's Mill, which is located just behind Penn Alps on the old National Road, now alternate U.S. Route 40, is the oldest continuously operating grist mill in Garrett County. The mill was built on the historic site of General Braddock's camp in 1755, on his march toward Fort Duquesne.

The mill provided wheat and buckwheat flour, animal feeds, various farm products, maple syrup, and saw lumber for many years for the surrounding community.

Historic records indicate that on March 3, 1797, Thomas Stanton conveyed water privileges for a grist mill located near present day Grantsville. The original mill was apparently built by Jesse Thomlinson in 1797 on the site for which Stanton received water rights. The Thomlinson mill served the Little Crossings and Grantsville area for many years. A stone faced timber crib dam was built on the Casselman river to tap the waters and provide power for the mill. Even though the dam itself is in ruinous condition today, one can still see the timber cribbing at various points on the Casselman River, where the dam was located.

During the 1800's the mill was extensively rebuilt and in 1856, Perry Shultz, who at that time owned the property, rebuilt the Thomlinson Mill, using the frame and most of the original timber in the reconstruction. Then in 1862, the property, having changed owners a number of times, was sold to William Stanton, a descendant of the original settler, Thomas Stanton.

In 1867 William Stanton sold the property to his son, Eli, who successfully operated the mill for forty years. In 1888 the old stone buhrs or mill stones were replaced by rollers for grinding wheat. A few years later in 1898, Eli and his son William, contracted with the Hanover Foundry and Machine Company of Hanover, Pa., for a steel overshot water wheel to replace the original wheel.

In 1900 a large two-story addition was attached to the west end of the mill. Then in 1910 Eli sold the mill to his son, William E. Stanton, who operated it until his death in 1942.

In 1928 Stanton had a 24-inch Fitz-Burnham water wheel (a

4-H Foundation Offers Two New Scholarships

Two new 4-H scholarships are available from the Maryland 4-H Foundation. Each is in memory of a former 4-H member or volunteer.

The new scholarships are among the nine offered annually by the foundation. The grants range from $500 to $1,000.

Honored by the new scholarships are Brenda Bourne Stair and William Klingelhof.

Stair was a long-time Calvert County 4-Her. In 1980, she became part of the State Teen Council. In 1982, she was awarded the citizenship trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago. In 1984, she attended National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., and was selected as a National 4-H Ambassador. She met Nancy Reagan as a part of the 4-H anti-drug abuse program.

She died of cancer February 1, 1988, at the age of 22. A $1,000 scholarship will be presented each year in her memory.

Klingelhof was a 4-H volunteer from Baltimore County, working in the horticulture project area. He was a long-time coach for the Baltimore County horticulture judging team and he pushed for standardization of judging procedures in the counties and the state contests. He was co-chairman of the vegetable department of the Baltimore County Fair, as well as being one of the founders of the fair.

Klingelhof was a well-known horticulture judge throughout Maryland for over a decade. He was co-superintendent for the Farm and Garden Building at the State Fair for the last two years and was a member of the Maryland 4-H All Stars.

In addition to his 4-H work, Klingelhof was a member of the Roadside Market Association and the Central Maryland Beekeepers Association. He was a member of the Extension Advisory Board on both the county and state levels.

Klingelhof was born November 23, 1920, and died of cancer in September 1988. A $500 annual scholarship has been established in his memory by family and friends.

Students interested in any of the state or local 4-H scholarships may contact the Garrett County Extension Office at 334-1990.

Local Residents Earn Degrees At Frostburg State

Five Garrett County residents were among the nearly 200 Frostburg State University students who received baccalaureate degrees during the University's 33rd December commencement exercises. The degrees were conferred by FSU President Herb F. Reinhard.

Local students earning degrees were: Tonya Kay Bray, Deer Park; Philip Edward Carr, McHenry; Vivian Irene Diehl, Grantsville; and Kriss Edward Hinebaugh and Stephen Ray Reese, both of Oakland.

Northern High Class Of 1968 Holds Reunion

The Northern High School Class of 1968 held its 20-year reunion on Saturday, August 13, 1988, at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Approximately 70 class members and their guests attended. Also attending were senior class advisors, Patrick Wolfe, Miss Joanna Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Keplinger.

Bob Hesson, class member, delivered the opening remarks, followed by a prayer by Christine Thomas Glover. Immediately after the buffet dinner, the nomination of the 25-year reunion committee was held. Those appointed to the committee were Dale Garlitz, Patty Michael Zimmerman, Bill Aiken, Alice Vitez, and Richard Carlson.

Awards of "special merit" were presented to classmates by Bob Hesson and Patty Michael Zimmerman. Recipients were: traveled farthest, Paul Maust; first reunion reply, Debbie Garlick Friend; most recently married, Bill Kamp; married longest (to same person), Wilbur Lowdermilk; youngest child, Betty Lowdermilk Frantz; first grandparent, Fred Humberson; least changed and "looking great", Christine Thomas Glover, Don Friend and Terry Goehring; most changed and "looking great", Alice Vitez and Philip Miller.

Music was provided by John's Rock Hops and was interrupted intermittently with 1960 trivia questions. The reunion planning committee members included Patty Michael Zimmerman, Betty Lowdermilk Frantz, Alice Vitez, and Bob Hesson.

Cronauer Speaks For Program At FSU On Vietnam

"G-O-O-D afternoon, Frostburg!" adapted famed American DJ Adrian Cronauer for the standing-room-only crowd at Frostburg State University. Cronauer, who consistently opened his Armed Forces radio show during the Vietnam War with the greeting "G-O-O-D Morning Vietnam," was one of the featured panelists for the "Vietnam: A Reassessment" symposium at FSU Saturday.

Cronauer's experience as an Air Force DJ served as the basis for the Oscar-winning film "Good Morning, Vietnam," which starred actor Robin Williams as Cronauer. Cronauer said only about 45 percent of the film was factual. He attributed the rest to "Hollywood exaggeration and imagination."

While Cronauer's workshop dealt with the influence of the media on the Vietnam War, others explored issues such as

Agent Orange, the disabled veteran's perspective, the sociological implications of minority veterans, the history of the Vietnam veterans movement, the Fall of Saigon and preparation for and re-adjustment to service in Vietnam.

Cronauer began by outlining some of the truths and untruths behind the movie. "Yes, there was an Adrian Cronauer. And yes, he was a DJ," quipped Cronauer. He further stated that while he taught English during his off-duty hours, he did not teach the Vietnamese to swear or use New York street language as was depicted in the movie.

He also was not "thrown out" of Vietnam, but rather finished out his year's tour. "If I would have done half of the things Robin (Williams) did (in the movie), I would have been court-martialed," mused Cronauer.

Adding that although the radio station had to adhere to news censorship, he said there was no music or record censorship. He explained the news censorship pertained to anything dealing with Vietnam or the military. Approval for such news information was absolutely necessary.

He reiterated a scene from his real-life experience that was represented in the movie involving a Viet Cong attack on a restaurant Cronauer had left just moments before.

Even though he was an eyewitness, he was denied approval to broadcast the bloody event due to lack of official confirmation of the attack.

However, the former DJ strongly supported the need for certain types of censorship for military radio stations. While the station could obviously not broadcast troop movements, he added that even weather reports posed a threat to security of U.S. military personnel. Cronauer indicated the Viet Cong began using his station's regular weather reports to monitor U.S. training and military maneuvers.

Concerning the influence of the media, Cronauer explained the Vietnam War was the first time electronic media made it possible to bring the "real gore and blood and guts" of the war daily into the homes of Americans.

He emphasized that electronic media created a "global village" which no longer allowed the war to be "over there," but rather as close as every American's television set.

Pointing out that news personnel search for the "unique and unusual," Cronauer said this often creates a distorted perception toward the "atypical" rather than the typical.

He also targeted the movie industry as stressing the more spectacular events of a soldier's experience in Vietnam. "Ninety percent of the time, it was very boring. The rest was punctuated by times of sheer panic when the fighting was going on."

He added films about the war have given moviegoers the misguided impression that a soldier's life in Vietnam was all combat, slugging through rice paddies and pulling off leeches.

Chairman of the Vietnam Veterans' Institute Jerry Yates, who joined Cronauer on the panel, stated media bias against Vietnam veterans has attributed to a negative stereotype. "The media fostered the image of drug-crazed psychos and baby killers of the Vietnam soldiers and veterans," said Yates.

Yates emphasized there are veterans of Vietnam who still struggle with lingering problems, but that they number only three to four percent of all Vietnam veterans. He added the remaining 96 percent of the Vietnam veteran population have successfully rejoined society. Yates indicated the Vietnam veterans who responded to a recent poll rank the negative image of the vets and the status of the MIA's as their most crucial concern.

Yates rated the flick "Hamburger Hill" as the most accurate film about Vietnam dealing with the combat aspect.

Cronauer suggested the American public needs to have a more discerning eye where the media is concerned.

Also participating in the workshop were Dr. Harry Stegmaier, professor of history at FSU; and Howard Parnes, FSU media specialist.

The symposium which ended with a discussion on lessons to be learned from the Vietnam experience, was sponsored by the FSU Public Affairs Institute, the FSU United Campus Ministry and the Regional Education Service Agency, in cooperation with the Vietnam Veterans' Institute, the FSU Foundation, Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, Hagerstown Junior College, and local chapters of the Disabled Veterans of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Vietnam Veterans of America and the American Legion.

Col. Norman McDaniel, who was a POW in Vietnam for more than six years, delivered the keynote address at the symposium's luncheon.

Stolen Vehicle Found Burned In Virginia

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating the theft of a pick-up truck which was allegedly stolen on February 5, but has since been recovered in Virginia totally burned.

Charlotte Fishel, Kitzmiller, reported that her 1988 Chevrolet 2-10 gray truck was stolen from her residence between midnight and 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, February 5.

According to Deputy R.P. Shaffer, the truck was recovered by the Loudoun County Sheriff's Department in Virginia the next day, February 6. The vehicle had been burned completely.

The investigation is continuing.

the mill race. This bridge allowed water to continue flowing into the mill by way of the mill race. The mill race historically has been maintained by the mill owners and was improved in the 1960s when the State Highway Administration provided a tunnel under the earth berm which supports Interstate 48.

Bob Bender built a stone retaining wall to the west of the bridge. In this wall, Bender placed the four original mill stones, which were removed from the mill in 1888. Penn Alps recently purchased two additional mill stones which they will install in the mill when renovations begin.

Jack Dueck, administrator of Penn Alps; Dr. Alta Schrock, founder of Penn Alps, the board of directors and management of Penn Alps; and Bob Bender, owner of Stanton's Mill from 1961 until 1989; all have a dream that is finally coming true — to restore Stanton's Mill. They would like to see the mill operating the way it did when it was built in 1797 — water from the Casselman River rushing down the raceway into the mill providing power for the mill stones.

Luckily, Bob Bender had this dream in 1975 when Interstate 48 was being built around Grantsville and right above Stanton's Mill. If the interstate would have been built as originally planned, the dream of restoring the mill would have been shattered.

A STONE-FACED TIMBER CRIB DAM that was built sometime in the late 1700's across the Casselman River is shown in this old photograph, taken by Grantsville's renowned

The interstate would have blocked the water flow from the Casselman to the mill. This means that the mill could not be returned to the original water power. However, Bob Bender and Alta Schrock were aware of the problems this interstate would cause, and Bob persuaded Alta to write letters to the state about the problem. Her efforts resulted in a $75,000 project to build a viaduct under Interstate 48 that would allow the water to flow through. This viaduct is the key to the restoration of Stanton's Mill.

The purchase of Stanton's Mill by Penn Alps represents yet another step in Penn Alps' commitment to restore and to preserve historically significant structures in the area. ## Dr. Meyerson Speaks Out On Heart Disease

It's been said before, but Dr. David A. Meyerson, director of preventive cardiology at the University of Maryland, is saying it again.

"Heart disease is America's number one health problem. It is the hidden killer, and you can't tell the symptoms till they cause the disease."

Dr. Meyerson was the guest speaker at the 17th Annual Educational Dinner held last Thursday at the Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Hall. The American Heart Association sponsored the dinner, which was hosted by the Oakland Rotary Club.

"Someone can look like they just got out of an (athletic training program) and can be trim and active and still have high blood pressure or high cholesterol. These things have to be measured," said Dr. Meyerson in an interview conducted before the dinner. "Treating even mild levels of high blood pressure reduces the incidence of stroke, heart failure and heart attacks."

Dr. Meyerson was quick to point out the five key points in his message:

- Substitute tub margarine for butter to reduce both calories and saturated fats.
- Switch gradually from whole milk to two percent milk, then one percent milk, and eventually just use skim milk.
- Switch to part skim milk cheese, use low-fat yogurts and minimize use of egg yolks.
- Chicken and fish are the preferred animal sources of protein. Remove the skin from chicken, as the skin is high in fat. Reduce consumption of beef, pork, lamb, salami and bologna as these are all high in fat.
- Avoid foods containing coconut and palm oils. Coconut oil is more saturated with cholesterol than pure beef fat.

"To add quality and years on to your life, stopping smoking is probably on top of my list. This is the one thing guaranteed to give you longer life," Dr. Meyerson explained. "Stop smoking and you will literally add years on to your life."

"Cholesterol is an important chemical. The human body has the ability to produce cholesterol, as it is a fundamental building block of hormones that our bodies must produce," Dr. Meyerson said. "A light amount of cholesterol is mandatory but when the level goes too high, the body will either over produce cholesterol in the liver or the body will over-ingest saturated fats.

HEART EDUCATION DINNER — The Oakland Rotary Club hosted its 17th Annual Educational Dinner last Thursday, which was sponsored by the American Heart Association. Dr. David A. Meyerson was the guest speaker at the dinner which was attended by approximately 70 people. He spoke on ways to improve levels of cholesterol and blood pressure to lower the incidence of heart disease. Pictured above are, front row, left to right: Francis Grimm, branch chairman of the American Heart Association for Western Maryland; Dorothy Cathell, residential chairman for the American Heart Association for Western Maryland; Frankie Griese, American Heart Association Western Maryland Division Director; Dr. David A. Meyerson, guest speaker; Bob Ulino, president of the Oakland Rotary Club; Hazel Klotz, Second row, same order, are: Carl Cathell; Harry Savage, president of the Friendsville Rotary Club; Mary Frantz; and Daniel Klotz, president of the Grantsville Rotary Club.

cholesterol, HDL (high-density) and LDL (low density). The HDL is good, it is protective against heart disease. The LDL seems to be the culprit that damages arteries.

"The HDL can be raised simply by increasing the level of physical activity and restricting the amount of saturated fats in the diet. You will lose weight, maybe 10 to 12 pounds, and see the blood pressure and cholesterol dropping more towards a normal level," said Dr. Meyerson.

"There are fats that are not cholesterol. Coco and palm oil are saturated fats, but they do not have cholesterol. These oils have such an effect on the liver as to cause the level of cholesterol in the blood to increase almost four times as much as eating foods that contain only cholesterol," he explained.

Dr. Meyerson suggests that the labels on foods should be checked. If the food contains saturated fat and zero cholesterol, do not eat it.

"There are many foods that contain palm or coco oil: breads, cakes, prepared foods, breakfast cereals, non-dairy coffee creamers and whipped toppings. Companies use these unhealthy oils because they are cheapest," he explained.

INTRODUCING Reproductions & Adaptations Of Shaker Antiques

The quest for perfection. In their quest for perfection and simplicity, the Shakers created some of the most celebrated furniture designs in American history. Shaker Country is Lane's tribute to the creativity, originality and spirit that have made Shaker antiques among the most prized of today's collectibles. It is also a celebration of the unique ways in which the shaker style adds depth and dimension to contemporary interior design. On the whole, our Shaker collection reflects the surprisingly strong compatibility of 20th century and Shaker design. Both base their aesthetics on the simple idea that form follows function. As you page through our catalogue, you'll see what we mean. Shaker Country can create an environment of unique harmony and balance when mixed in contemporary settings in today's home.

USING COMPUTERS — DeWayne Izer, manager of Sunrise Computers in Hagerstown, pictured right, demonstrates computers for students of Marci McClive's class in Using Computers for the Small Business. The Garrett Community College course, now completed, met for three evenings in January. Various other courses for business owners and managers are being offered by the Continuing Education Division of GCC over the next few months.

Local Business Community Being Served By GCC

Garrett Community College's involvement with the business community reaches beyond the services provided by the Small Business Development Center and the Job Placement Center recently opened, according to a release from the college.

During the next several months, a number of non-credit courses designed for business managers and for persons planning to start their own business will be offered by the Continuing Education Division of the college.

All classes will be taught by instructors who have experience in business situations and who will address the "real world" of business so that students can apply what they learn to their own immediate needs. Courses are offered at moderately priced tuition and are scheduled to offer maximum learning opportunities with minimum time commitment.

According to Sandy Major, program coordinator, the Continuing Education Division will develop customized training opportunities to meet a specific business need, in addition to offering the scheduled courses. These could be seminars, workshops, and other types of special programs.

Courses scheduled to begin in February are: Starting and Managing a Small Business, Marketing in Garrett County, Health Management Techniques, and Managing Your Employees I and II. Two courses are scheduled for March: Hospitality Maryland Style — Customer Service and Satisfaction; and Managing Time, Resources and Stress in the Workplace. Communication and Conflict Resolution Skills will be given in April. Information about these and other courses is published in a brochure titled "Build Your Business with Continuing Education," available at the Community and Continuing Education Center or by calling 387-6666, ext. 170.

All classes listed are co-sponsored by Garrett Community College, the Small Business Administration, and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

According to U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates, the job classification with the most openings likely between now and 2000 is that of computer service technician.

GCC Schedules Special Events For Community College Month

"Community Colleges: Where America Goes to College" is the theme being heard throughout the state this month, as Maryland's two-year institutions of higher learning are in the spotlight. Garrett Community College has planned several special events to recognize February as Community College Month.

Two of these will occur next Tuesday, February 14, Valentine's Day. This day has been designated as "Bring a friend to college day" at the McHenry campus. Students are being encouraged to bring a friend to visit the campus, sit in on a class, and meet some students, faculty, and staff of the college.

On this same day, the A.W.A.Y. Group (Adult Women and You) will host a luncheon for former student members of the group and prospective students in the college art gallery (Room 010) at noon. Anyone interested in attending should call Joan Crawford at 387-6666.

A Nacho Night for high school students has been scheduled for Wednesday, February 15, at 6:30 p.m. High school students are invited to meet with GCC students and members of the SGA in the Student Center for nachos and beverages, then be guests of the college at the GCC/Prince George's Community College basketball game at 7:30 p.m. in the gym. This event is being coordinated by the Student Government Association of the college, under the leadership of Sonja Yelovich, president. All high school students from Northern, Southern, and West Virginia high schools are invited to attend.

Linda and Ralph Dupert, Kingwood, W. Va.

Dupert is a 1986 graduate of Central Preston High School in Kingwood where he excelled as a member of the baseball, football and basketball teams. After graduation, he received the Gonder Insurance Scholarship and the Thomas J. Perrill Award.

He is the captain of the baseball team at GCC and is majoring in physical education. He plans to transfer to a four-year institution to pursue a career as a physical education teacher and coach, as well as to play baseball.

Dupert is also a member of the Mountain Top Basketball League and enjoys art in his spare time.

Dupert said he wishes that GCC had better facilities for P.E. majors, but likes the "personal atmosphere" that GCC offers.

New Committee Hopes To Secure Library Computer

Now that the computer age has come to Garrett County, a new committee has been formed to help promote the use of technology throughout the county. The Information Technology Committee is a tri-agency organization comprised of representatives of Garrett Community College, the Garrett County Board of Education, and the Ruth Enlow Public Libraries.

At its first meeting held recently at the college, the committee discussed plans for its first project — to obtain a microcomputer and supporting software for the Accident Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library. The computer system will be available for public use, with computer students from Northern High School providing training and support during evenings and weekends.

The committee is interested in providing a computer for students to use outside of the school environment and hopes to build a model for making new technologies available to communities throughout Garrett County.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED — Ernest Arnold celebrated his 80th birthday with a party February 5 at the Cathedral Ole Towne Restaurant. His actual birthday was January 5 while he was a patient in the hospital. The cake was baked and decorated by Avenell Parsons.

Those attending were Mildred Wilt, Barbara Heckert, Pam Garrett, Ralph, Phyllis and Marie Stemple, Dwight and Ruth Fike, Olive Beckman, Ron and Avenell Parsons and his children and grandchildren: Harold and Janice Loughrie of Grantsville with whom he has been staying, Guy and Valerie Frazee; Clifton and Deanna, Greg, Nick and Chad Arnold; Carolyn Thrasher; Sherri Bosley; Rick, Traci, and Zach Bachtel and the host and hostess, Bernard "Buzz", Doris, Barry and Todd Arnold.

PERSONAL MENTION — Several of those who have been hospitalized have returned to their homes. They are Fred Stemple and Jim Adams, M.D. Top, with Fred after being a patient in Garrett Memorial and Jim from the Clarksburg VA Hospital, and Anna Feather, Eglen, from Garrett Memorial. Mrs. Garold Stemple

GCC ART EXHIBIT — Garrett Community College is currently featuring an exhibit of art works by students of the school. A reception to honor the students will be held the evening of February 23 to coincide with the Garrett Lakes Art Festival Fireside Lecture Series, "Elizabethan Roots of Appalachian Music," featuring Patty Looman and a local musical group, Hammers and Strings. The presentation will begin at 7:30 p.m. that evening in the auditorium, with the reception immediately following in the art gallery. A short film, "The Day of the Painter," will also be shown. The works on display in the art gallery at the college were done in Ron Skidmore's art classes, which included Printmaking I, Painting I and II, and Basic Design I, and were completed during the fall semester, 1988. Pictured above is a colored pencil drawing by Diane Syppell, made during Basic Design I. Below is an oil painting by Charlie Coleman, done in Painting I. The reception and lecture are open to the public.

Mrs. Weeks — Up Close And Personal Edith Weeks Honored On 99th

by Mary I. Love

Mrs. H.M. Weeks of Mt. Lake Park had her 99th birthday on January 31, a few days earlier she graciously talked a bit about her life which so nearly spans a century.

Edith Bailey Weeks was born in Thornton, W. Va., near Grafton, in 1890. The youngest of six children, she was born in a house that her father, a Confederate veteran, had built. She attended a one room school where "We read all the books, I don't know how many times."

In 1912 Edith Bailey married H.M. (Buddy) Weeks, of Fairfield, Va. At fifteen, Buddy had gone to work in Fairfield as assistant to the local railroad ticket agent, but after seven years he applied to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and was sent to Grafton. Buddy and Edith met while sled riding on Thornton Hill.

A year after their marriage, Buddy was transferred briefly to Oakland, where the ticket agent was ill, and then to Mt. Lake Park, with the title of Ticket and Freight Agent, a position he held until his retirement in 1952.

The Mt. Lake Park Station was a busy place for many of the years Buddy was there. The park had a full schedule for three to five months, with conventions, musical programs, and public speakers. Neither the road, nor the cars in the early years made long drives attractive, so visitors frequently traveled by train, sometimes shipping their horses and conveyances by train also. At least three trains each way made scheduled stops at the park daily and special excursion trains were added for outstanding occasions.

(Before she met Buddy, Edith and a girl friend had come to the park from Grafton on a one-day excursion. Precisely what was the featured event is one of the few things she does not remember.)

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks bought a house in Loch Lynn where they lived for 35 years. They had three children, Virginia, a teacher, now Mrs. David Hardesty, of Lovettsville, Va.; Mary May, now Mrs. Homer Liston, of Cresaptown; and Loraine, an electrical engineer, of Greensburg, Pa. There are seven grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

For a number of years Mrs. Weeks operated a store she and her husband owned in Loch Lynn, on the present site of Kelly's Appliance and Furniture Store. It was a family venture, with Loraine making deliveries by bicycle.

In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Weeks joined Bethel Church in Mt. Lake Park, and were active members, holding offices, singing in the choir, helping where help was needed.

Mrs. Weeks still attends Bethel regularly, thanks to the neighbors she speaks of fondly who provide transportation. She regrets that poor vision keeps her from driving, despite a recent lens implant.

Impaired vision has not diminished her interest in the world. She has long regretted the increasing lack of importance of the railroads, and in view of recent plane crashes, she is even more concerned. At 99, Mrs. Weeks remains involved.

AGE 99 AND STILL GOING STRONG is Mrs. Edith B. Weeks, a resident of Mtn. Lake Park, who was the honored guest at her church, Bethel United Methodist, on Sunday January 29. Mrs. Weeks, widow of the late H.M. "Buddy" Weeks, has been a member of Bethel UM Church for over 65 years. She enjoys excellent health and has an amazingly sharp memory of the early days of Mtn. Lake Park and Loch Lynn.

Mrs. Edith Weeks, Mtn. Lake Park, was honored Sunday, January 29, by the United Methodist Women of Bethel United Methodist Church, Mtn. Lake Park, on the occasion of her 99th birthday.

Before the morning worship service, Mrs. Weeks was presented a pink carnation by Dolores Hayden and was then escorted, along with other members of her family, to reserved pews.

Wilda Hile extended brief personal remarks to Mrs. Weeks during the service and then sang "Because He Lives," accompanied by Pat Steyer, organist.

Following the sermon by Rev. Mark Hickman, pastor, approximately 80 friends and relatives celebrated Mrs. Weeks' birthday in the church fellowship hall. The invocation was given by Karen Hickman. Among those present were her three children: Virginia Hardesty, Lovettsville, Va.; Mary May Liston, Cresaptown; and Loraine Weeks, Greensburg, Pa., as well as members of their families.

Mrs. Weeks has been a member of Bethel United Methodist Church since 1913 and was married to the late H.M. Weeks, station master of the B&O Railroad Station in Mtn. Lake Park, who was treasurer of Bethel UM Church for 50 years.

In charge of the arrangements for the birthday celebration were Doris Goldsborough, Dolores Hayden, and Mary Jane Jenkins. Photos were taken by Willard Hayden.

GRANTSVILLE

Among those attending the Educational Heart Association dinner sponsored by the Rotary Clubs at the Deep Creek VFD Fire Hall last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Newman, and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Klotz from the Grantsville area.

Phyllis Bender represented the Heart Association from Grantsville. She will be visiting the business places in Grantsville. Alice Younkin will be calling volunteers for the area. The Heart Fund Drive extends through the month of February.

CARD PARTY

The Card Party for the American Heart Association at the Grantsville American Legion Post 214 Saturday evening had ten tables of 500 playing, in spite of the cold and icy weather condition. A Photo Album, a Wreath and Cake were raffled off. Prizes were won and refreshments were served.

The next card party will be February 18, at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Post, and the Firemen Auxiliary will be serving the food. The public is invited.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murray have returned home from a three-week vacation in Florida.

Recent visitors at the Walter Younkin home were Mr. and Mrs. George Bowser, Mrs.

Mary Kelly, Mrs. Ora Younkin, Tom and Phyllis Bender, Chris Braden and Scott Wable, Ocean City; Joanne Walker and Rob Beagle, Gaithersburg, and Janet and Ken Wable.

Hospice Annual Winter Frolic

Attended By 130

Hospice of Garrett County, Inc. held its Sixth Annual Winter Frolic at the Silver Tree Inn Tiffany Green Room Saturday, February 4, as more than 130 persons spent the evening socializing, dining, and dancing to the music of "Tapestry" of Clarksburg, W.Va. This was the largest crowd to attend the annual fundraiser.

"Because of limited seating space, we had to turn down requests for additional participants. We're very pleased with the support received from our sponsors and patrons and wish to extend our thanks from the entire Hospice organization. The continued support is very much appreciated," said Clinton Englander, president of Hospice.

Adventures in Travel of Cumberland donated $250 in travel money for a raffle drawing. This was won by Miss Teresa Field, Oakland, who will be married this summer to Mr. Keith Harvey. "This $250 plus $250 from the proceeds by Hospice, will come in handy for our honeymoon," she said.

Miss Linda Bolding was the winner of a $50 gift certificate from the Deer Park Inn, Deer Park, for an evening of dining, Richard Schick, plant manager of Bausch and Lomb, was the recipient of a planter donated by the Flower Loft located at

"WE HAVE A WINNER" — Teresa Field, Oakland, was declared the winner of $500 in travel money following a special drawing by Hospice of Garrett County at its sixth annual Winter Frolic Saturday night at Silver Tree Inn. Half of the gift was donated to Hospice by Adventures in Travel of Cumberland and the other half came from the Winter Frolic proceeds. Miss Field was particularly pleased to win the prize since she plans to be married this summer and will be able to use the money for a honeymoon. Presenting the check to her in the above photo is Wayne Johnson, executive director of Hospice.

the Grantsville Plaza. A wine sampler was received by all participants, donated by Roger Ruff of Midway Discount Liquors.

"Our congratulations to the winners and thanks to all the donors and those who helped in any way to make this year's event such a success," said Executive Director Wayne R. Johnson.

Hospice realized $745 from the special $500 travel money fundraiser. This will be placed in the general operating fund along with the proceeds from the dinner-dance function which was near $2,000, Johnson said.

Senior Citizens Urged To Enter Writing Contest

Adina Brode, director of the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging, is urging all senior citizens in Garrett County to enter the Creative Writing Contest sponsored by Governor William Donald Schaefer, the "Maryland You Are Beautiful" Program, the Maryland Office on Aging, and the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging.

This is the second annual contest and the theme, as in the past, is "Why Maryland is Beautiful to Me?" Last year Garrett County received 23 entries from seniors throughout the county. The Agency hopes to have many more entries this year, Ms. Brode said.

"Topics for essays are varied, such as your background, your childhood in Maryland, changes you've seen in the county and state, poetry about your county or the state, memories you have, and so on," she said. Each person may enter only once, be 60 or over, and reside in the county where entry is submitted. Essays should be single spaced on 8 1/2" x 11" paper, typed or printed and should not exceed 500 words.

All entrants will be recognized with a certificate from his/her county and will be honored at a local event. The winner from each county will be honored at a ceremony and luncheon hosted by Governor Schaefer and receive a commemorative gift and special certificate.

Ms. Brode added, "County seniors have so much to offer and many memories and experiences they can share with all of us. What better way to do this than by entering the

Lakers Topped Again By Trojans; Hang On For Win Over Devils

Although a strong defensive performance by the Garrett Community College Lakers kept the nationally-ranked Allegany Community College Trojans nearly 26 points below their average Saturday night at McHenry, the effort was not enough, as the Lakers were topped 76-64 in the Maryland JUCO Division I match-up.

The Lakers bounced back last night in another JUCO clash, nipping visiting Community College of Baltimore, 74-73, for their 15th win of the campaign against 12 defeats. Garrett is 4-6 in Maryland JUCO standings and will host Essex CC in another conference game this Sunday.

Bobby Gregg put the first points on the board with a jumper against Allegany Saturday night, but the Trojans responded with 13 unanswered points.

A tip-in by Kerwin Thompson at the 9:30 mark made it 19-12, but the Trojans then outscored the Lakers on another surge, 12-2, to make it 31-14 with about five minutes remaining in the half.

The Lakers took over the scoring for the next four minutes to close the gap to 31-22 before a final shot by Charles Becton made it 33-22 at halftime.

ACC moved out to a 48-30 advantage with 12:40 remaining in the game and held their biggest lead at the seven-minute mark, 63-43. Again, the Lakers came back, as Davis reeled off six straight points and Romier Miller hit for two to make it 68-57 with 3:30 left.

A three-pointer by Thompson cut the Trojans lead to 10 at the 2:10 mark, but two free throws by Becton and a jumper by Antoine Jones put the game out of reach for the Lakers.

Jones led the Trojans with 21 points and 12 rebounds, Jay Bias netted 19 points and pulled nine rebounds. Becton finished with 12 points and eight rebounds, and Clint Venable scored 11 points and was credited with eight assists and four steals. Shawn Clifton recorded seven steals.

Davis and Miller paced the Lakers scoring with 18 points each. Davis also had five steals and four assists, while Travis Bohrer led Garrett's rebounding with six.

The Lakers were out-rebounded 42-24, but scored on 7 fewer field goals than ACC, 30-28.

It was the second loss by the Trojans to the Trojans this season, however it was a much better showing this time, as they were hammered in the first contest in Cumberland, 109-74.

The win gave the Trojans a 24-2 mark overall and 8-1 in the conference standings.

Last night's contest in McHenry against the Red Devils of Baltimore Community College appeared to be a runaway for the Trojans midway through the second half, as they were on top 66-47.

However, the Devils mounted an amazing rally, outscoring the Trojans by a 24-5 stretch, and knotting the score at 71-71 on a three-point bucket by Ernest Hall with just 20 seconds remaining. Hall then scored again and gave the Devils a 73-71 lead at the 16-second mark.

After a GCC timeout, Davis fed the ball to Terry McDonald in the corner, who fired from three-point range and connected with just two seconds left to give the Trojans the one-point win.

Miller led Garrett's scoring with 19 points and also grabbed 13 rebounds. Thompson finished with 14 points, Davis netted 11 and dished out nine assists, and Gregg and Bohrer each hit 10 points.

Hall paced Baltimore with 17 points, Larry Cooke had 16, and Darrell Sned pumped in 15.

Northern Girls Win One Before Dropping A Pair

The Northern girls' varsity basketball team embarrassed Oldtown last Friday night, 61-19, but then fell to undefeated Valley Saturday night, 49-34, and dropped a 64-48 decision to once-beaten Mount Savage Monday night. All three games were played at Northern.

The Huskies, who are now 9-8, will face another tough test this Friday night when they travel to Oakland to play Southern.

Kristin Edwards pumped in 22 points and grabbed a dozen rebounds against Oldtown, while teammate Tina Lashbaugh was right behind with 21 points.

Amy Apple paced the winless Indians with 10 points.

Edwards again led the Huskies Saturday against Valley, finishing with 17 points and 14 rebounds, but the 14-0 Black Knights proved to be too strong for Coach Harv Speicher's squad.

Lisa Green netted 14 points and pulled seven rebounds, while Kelli Phillips also hit 14 points and dished out six assists to pace Valley. Dawn Sloan added 11 points.

The Huskies were within arm's length of the Knights throughout the first half, trailing 23-16 at intermission; however they were outscored in the third stanza, 17-7, to give Valley a 40-23 lead after three quarters.

Against Mount Savage Monday night it was in the third quarter that the Huskies began to rally, cutting the visitors' lead to just one point, 43-42, after trailing 20-14 and 36-30 at the end of the first two quarters. But Mount Savage held a 46-43 advantage at the end of the third quarter and then outscored the Huskies in the fourth period, 18-5, to seal the victory.

Krista Shaffer led the Indians with 22 points, followed by Jodi Blank and Kari O'Baker, who each finished with 18 points.

Edwards, who fouled out with about two minutes left in the game, led all scorers with 24 points and 12 rebounds, while Lashbaugh netted 17 points.

The win gave Mount Savage a 13-1 record.

The Northern jayvee squad won the preliminary contest, 37-30, behind a 13-point effort by Audra Speicher. Melissa Thomas added eight points for the Huskies, while Dee Lowery and Regina Aldridge netted nine and eight points, respectively, for Mount Savage.

Rams Roll Over Golden Tornado For 14th Win

Rich Evick paced four Southern High players in double figures last night as the Rams whipped Keyser, 87-72, on the Golden Tornado's court. It was the third win in a row for Coach Oren Yoder's team and gave the Rams a 14-4 mark for the season.

Evick pumped in 19 points, while Marshall Pike connected for 16 and Scott Watson and Brett Rice each netted 12.

The Rams were never seriously threatened in the contest, holding quarter leads of 22-12, 41-25, and 66-39. It was the 15th loss in 16 games for Keyser.

Jason Salesky led the Tornado with 18 points, Shawn White finished with 17, Rick Rawlings netted 11, and John Staggers contributed 10.

The Rams will play at East Preston this Friday and then host Valley next Tuesday.

The Southern junior varsity squad was also victorious last night, winning the preliminary contest over the Keyser jayvees, 59-43. James Bateman and Ricky Beeman paced the Rams with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Keyser's Danny Foster led all scorers with 16 points.

Southern Girls Flatten Beall, Lose To Campers

The Southern High varsity girls recorded their ninth victory this past week, rolling over Beall Saturday night in Oakland, 59-39, but then fell to host Allegany last night, 43-37.

Coach Don Stemple's 9-6 Rams will host cross-county rival Northern this Friday night.

Melinda Evick and Courtney Smith recorded outstanding performances Saturday night against Beall, as Evick poured in 20 points on seven field goals and a perfect six-for-six at the line and Smith recorded 11 points, 13 rebounds, and nine assists.

The Rams led 19-8, 36-25, and 48-31 at the quarters and were never seriously threatened. It was the Mountaineers' 10th loss of the campaign in 16 starts.

Tracy Dawson also reached double figures for the Rams, finishing with 11 points, while Shelly Cannon was credited with eight assists and Christy Browning grabbed 11 rebounds. Marci Stemple and Kathy Gibson, regular starters for the Rams, were still sidelined with influenza.

Karen Connelly was the only Beall player to reach double figures, as she netted 14 points. Mandy Lewis added eight.

In the preliminary game, the Southern junior varsity squad was also victorious, topping their Beall counterparts, 25-16. Beth Heatherman and Amanda Hauser each scored eight points for Southern while Kathy Connelly pumped in seven for the Beall javees.

Courtney Smith was the top scorer last night against Allegany, but it was not enough, as the Campers produced a strong fourth quarter to conclude what had been a close contest.

The two teams were tied at 6-6 after one quarter and the Campers were on top by only one at halftime. They led 29-25 at the end of the third stanza and then out-scored the Rams in the fourth period, 18-8, for their 12th win in 16 games.

Smith finished with 17 points, while Stacey Smith paced

YOUTH GRAPPLERS BRING HOME MORE TROPHIES — Members of the Garrett Mat Club participated in seven regional tournaments during January and amassed two dozen trophies in the process. The meets were held at Ligonier Valley, Chestnut Ridge, Conemaugh Township, Seneca Valley, Somerset, Northern, and Morgantown. The number of wrestlers in each tournament varied from 200 to 500. Pictured left to right, front row, are: Nicholas Dolan, who won a first place, second place, and two third places; Rodney Bird, two firsts, a second, and a fourth; Chuck Gardner, a second; Noel Smith, a second and two fourths; and Shawn Strawser, a second and a third. In the second row, same order, are: Jamie Tasker, a first, two seconds, and a third; Pete Strawser, a second, third, and fourth; Jason Burgess, two thirds; and Carlos Crocco, a fourth. In the back are Coaches Rick Dolan and Mike Gontis. Persons desiring information about joining the Garrett Mat Club may contact Gontis at 334-1265 or Dolan at 334-4836.

Allegany with 13 points and 10 rebounds. Jill Clayton added 10 points for the Campers.

The Southern javee team was also defeated in the preliminary contest, 33-27. Lisa Sellers led the winners with 11 points and Kim Fike paced Southern with nine points.

General Assembly Update

Child Support Guidelines
On Friday the House of Delegates voted 131-0 for an emergency bill that will establish a set of guidelines to help judges calculate child support payments.

The passage of this bill keeps Maryland from losing $35 million in federal aid for the collection of child support payments.

Maryland is the last state in the nation without federally required child support guidelines. These guidelines are to help judges in custody cases decide how to divide the cost of caring for a child between divorced or separated parents.

Despite the differences that exist between the House and Senate versions of the bill, Delegate William Horne, D-Talbot, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, has predicted that the bill will win final approval this week.

The House panel has created 20 amendments to be tagged onto the Senate version of the bill. State officials promised Washington that the General Assembly will adopt child support guidelines by the first week of February.

Horne said the if the Senate does not adopt all of the House amendments, then a conference committee will be named to resolve the differences.

After the conference committee finishes the bill, it would have to go back to both chambers for approval.

Gun Control Board
On Friday the Senate ratified Governor William Donald Schaefer's selection of seven members to a board that will determine which guns can be sold or manufactured in Maryland.

The selection of the members of the gun control board was delayed due to a referendum on a law, designed to eliminate the use of cheap handguns, better known as Saturday night specials, last April.

The Senate has given the board permission to begin drawing up a roster of permitted handguns in Maryland. The roster must be completed by July 1, and the ban will go into effect the following January.

Before the Senate approved the seven members there was a small debate over two of the nominees — Matthew Fenton IV, representative for the pro-control Marylanders Against Handgun Abuse and John Keery, representative for the National Rifle Association.

In objection to the appointment of Fenton, Senator Frederick Malkus, D-Dorchester, said, "This man definitely does not have a knowledge of handguns."

In 1981 Fenton was nearly killed during a stickup in Baltimore, when he was shot in the head. Several senators made it a point to mention this fact when they rose to his defense.

The Senate approved Fenton on a 39-7 vote.

When the appointment of Keery was discussed Senator Julian Lapiere, D-Baltimore, said that Fred Grissler, the man who led the referendum campaign against the law last year, would have been a better choice.

Keery was approved on a 35-11 vote by the Senate.

The other five members that were approved, unanimously and without debate, on Friday, were Logan Widdowson, representative for the Maryland State's Attorneys Association; Cornelius Behan, representative for the state Association of Chiefs of Police; Simon Atlas, citizen member; Joan Jackson, citizen member; and Michael Moore, citizen member.

Governor Schaefer is still looking for a ninth member to represent gun makers, Beretta U.S.A. Corp. turned down a seat on the board.

Weapons Bill

Delegate Peter Franchot's bill that would ban military-style assault weapons has been sent to the House Rules Committee.

This move will make it possible for Speaker Clayton Mitchell Jr., who wants to avoid another gun control battle this session, to kill the bill.

The bill will be killed because it will be kept in the Rules Committee instead of being sent to a regular committee, where it would get a hearing and a vote.

Will Legislation

On Friday the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee approved a bill that will simplify the way wills are administered and eliminate the state taxes that an estate executor must pay.

This bill will affect estates of people who die after July 1. It will set a maximum commission for an executor when the fee is not specified in a will and bring the State's deadline for filing of estate taxes in line with the nine-month federal rule.

Fees charged by a register of wills, which is now based on the number of pages in an estate file, in the future will be set by the size of an estate.

Purple Heart Bill

On Thursday the Senate passed a bill that would include a logo on the organizational license plates that are now available to recipients of the Purple Heart award.

In the past, Maryland residents who earned the Purple Heart could obtain plates with the initials "PH" on them. Under this bill, the new plates would include a logo of a Purple Heart medal and ribbon, the words "Combat Wounded" printed across the bottom, and the letter "P" above the letter "H" to be printed next to the logo.

These plates would be available to owners of passenger cars, trucks weighing less than three-fourths of a ton, and multipurpose vehicles. Maryland residents that request these special plates would have to provide proof of having received a Purple Heart, and would have to pay and additional $5 on their annual registration fee.

According to the Motor Vehicle Administration, about 170 groups have organizational plates, but only a small number have an additional insignia. Approximately 250 Maryland autos now have the Purple Heart organizational plates.

"The State Budget" Bill

Last week state Senator Laurence Levitan, D-Montgomery, introduced Senate Bill 324, which proposes a change in the State Constitution that would give the General Assembly the power to shift money from one of the governor's budgeted programs to another — just as long as the overall budget remained balanced.

Under the present budget system, the legislature can reduce the governor's proposed budget, but it cannot add to or shift money from one program to another.

If this bill is approved the General Assembly will gain more power and the governor will have less.

Tax-Relief Plan

On Thursday Governor William Donald Schaefer rejected most of the $38.6 million tax-relief plan that the legislative leaders proposed.

The governor opposed every part of the plan except for an increase that was proposed in the state's so-called "circuit breaker" property tax credit program, which would return an additional $3.5 million to approximately 94,000 low-income homeowners and elderly or disabled renters by fiscal 1991.

According to the Department of Fiscal Services' figures the legislative tax-relief plan would return $7.50 to almost all taxpayers and give additional cuts ranging from $15 to $100 for seniors, the blind, and the poor.

Lawmakers have stated that their plan, along with the 1987 cuts made due to federal tax reform, would save taxpayers in Maryland a total of $208 million by 1990.

Campaign Loan Bills

The House of Delegates is considering a package of bills that are designed to tighten and modernize the state's laws on campaign spending and fund raising. The bills in the package include proposals to:

• Limit Political Action Committees (PACs) to $2,000 for any single candidate and $50,000 for all candidates. No one person could contribute more than $200 to a PAC. At the present time there are no limits on the amounts of money a PAC can contribute.

• Increase the limit on individual contributions to any single candidate from $2,000 to $3,000 during a four-year election. The amount an individual can contribute to all candidates combined will go from $5,000 to $10,000.

• Limit transfers of money between candidates to $2,000 for any single candidate and the total of $5,000 to all candidates. • Marylanders who borrow money to run for political office would have to provide proof that loans they receive are legitimate.

Provide more detail, concerning what an appropriate campaign expenditure is, for a candidate. Some legitimate expenses for a campaign are office rentals, salaries of workers, campaign advertisements, and professional campaign consulting.

• Limit the practice of bundling contributions. Bundling is when a PAC collects contributions and gives them to a candidate as a show of the PAC's financial strength.

Anti-Pornography Bills

On Tuesday hearings were held on a series of bills that would create new restrictions on the possession, distribution, and sale of sexually explicit material in Maryland.

The first bill, sponsored by Delegate John Gary, R-Anne Arundel, would increase maximum first-time penalty for people selling obscene material from $1,000 and a year in jail to $10,000 and five years in jail. This bill also proposed that corporations convicted for the first time of a similar offense would be fined $25,000. A company that is found guilty of transporting such material could be fined $50,000 the first time, and $200,000 for each conviction after.

The second bill would raise the age limit of banned pornography subjects to 18 years of age. At present, the law prohibits anyone under the age of 16 from being used as a subject in the production of sexually explicit photographs, videos, and movies.

Other bills dealing with this controversial subject include one by Delegate Gary that would require all adult book stores with peep show booths to make sure the occupants of the booth were visible at all times. This bill would also require annual inspections of stores with peep booths by local health officials.

Delegate Gary proposed another bill that would outlaw the possession of any materials picturing someone under 18 years of age engaged in an obscene act.

Pay Raises

The General Assembly is considering 16 percent pay raises that Governor William Donald Schaefer is requesting for his top aides.

Included in the requested raises is a $12,577 boost for his executive chief of administration, Mark Wasserman, who is now paid $75,000. If the General Assembly approves the raises Wasserman's salary would be $87,577, which is $2,577 more than the $85,000 the governor makes.

Senator Harry McGuirk, an executive assistant to the governor in charge of independent agencies, would receive a 16.78 percent increase. His pay would go from $51,000 to $59,604.

Mary Ann Saar, the governor's staff director, and David Ianucci, the governor's chief legislative aide, would see their salaries increase from $70,700 to $78,246 under this proposal.

The governor's press secretary, Robert Douglas, and Robert Pascal, the governor's appointments chief, would receive raises of $6,705, moving their salaries from $66,000 to $73,305.

The governor's scheduling and public relations director, Larry LeBow, would receive a $5,329 increase, raising his pay from $56,355 to $61,684.

Patuxent Amendment

Yesterday the Senate killed, by a 36-8 vote, an amendment to a bill that would place new restrictions on the leave and release programs at Patuxent, an inmate-treatment center in Jessup.

The amendment attempted to bar first-degree murderers and rapists from entering Patuxent Institution. This amendment, proposed by Senator Thomas Yeager, D-Howard, was rejected last week by the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee.

Under the current law, a first-degree murderer or rapist can enter Patuxent only if his admission is recommended by a judge and then approved by the secretary of public safety and correctional services.

Even though the Senate killed this amendment, it did agree to allow the attorney general's office to examine another amendment proposed by Senator Howard Denis, R-Montgomery, that would bar rapists and murderers from being granted leave.

Animal Bills

Yesterday the House Environmental Committee killed a bill that would have permitted farmers whose crops were eaten by bears to hunt them; approved a bill that will give the secretary of natural resources the authority to restrict the hunting of bobcats; and killed a third bill that would have required pet shops to guarantee the health of cats and dogs.

be strong."

The Governor said that regional cooperation, especially that involving West Virginia and Pennsylvania, will be important to Western Maryland and also to the whole state.

Governor Schaefer complimented Western Maryland on its revitalization and said that in the future, when new programs are proposed, he will ask what the area will do for itself before the state considers how it will help.

SAFE AND SOUND in his car seat is Matthew Bass, son of Kevin and Carol Bass, who recently "graduated" from the infant seat on the left to the toddler seat on the right. February 12-18 is National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week, when parents are reminded that buckling their young children properly in such seats is not only a wise move from a safety standpoint, but it is also a Maryland state law.

Have A Heart, Click From The Start

Most parents are shocked to learn that the number one killer of children in the United States is the trauma they suffer as passengers in motor vehicle accidents. What is also news to far too many parents is that the correct use of child safety seats will prevent the majority of these needless deaths and maimings from occurring. Only slightly more than 1/2 of our young children are fully protected by car safety seats.

February 12-18 marks "National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week." The goal of this public service campaign is to convince parents to obtain safety seats compatible with their cars, carefully follow the safety seat manufacturer's instructions to assure correct installation and use of the seat, and to use safety seats faithfully on every ride.

Clearly it is equally important that both children and adult passengers are protected. Not only is protecting our child passengers the smart thing to do, it's the law.

Young children tend to imitate the behavior, attitudes and practices of their parents. They are depending on us for almost every aspect of their day to day living. Let's do our very best: "Have A Heart, Click From The Start" of every ride!

New Officers Installed By WOW Lodge 11

Woodmen of the World Lodge 11 met January 24 at Favorites Restaurant, Oakland, to install new officers.

Robert Rodeheaver was in charge of the business session because Leota Peck, president, was ill. Lawrence Groves was the installing officer. Rodeheaver reminded members of the Jurisdictional Convention coming up in April, and that tickets may be purchased from Lawrence Groves.

It was noted that Spencer Graham had just returned home from the hospital, and a card was signed for him.

Asa McCain stated that an appraisal has been received for the property which the lodge owns on Memorial Drive.

Rosetta Rodeheaver reported that Marcette Danner is in charge of coordinating materials for the scrapbook. Members who have any articles to be entered in the book are asked to contact her.

The next meeting will be held at the Lodge Hall on February 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Aerial Spraying Contractor To Visit Oakland

Property owners who are not scheduled for spraying by the State for gypsy moth control should be making plans now for spring spraying. Because of the limited time of the gypsy moth hatch, it is necessary for aerial spraying companies to make their final plans early.

To assist the landowners in obtaining information and binding a contract, Jim Simms, Extension Agent, Agriculture, has invited a licensed aerial spraying company to meet with interested property owners on Thursday, February 16, between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex, across from the Southern Office Supply.

People who are interested in the possibility of spraying their property should stop by the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Office in the Courthouse and obtain a free aerial map of their property. The map is useful for determining boundaries, acres and cost of spraying, Simms said.

Janet R.,
You were my choice then; you're my choice now; and you'll still be my choice tomorrow. I commit my life only to you until death itself comes between us. We've had better and now it seems like worse, but we'll see better again, promise!

Love
Doug R.

The Garrett County Extension Office has a county map showing the areas that will be sprayed by the State. Information can be obtained by stopping by the Extension Office or calling 301-334-1990.

Loomis To Be Comptroller Of New B&L Plant

Don Loomis, who has been employed at the local Bausch & Lomb plant for over 17 years, will soon be relocating to San Antonio, Texas, where he will be the comptroller of the B&L Sunglass Division's new facility.

A resident of Deer Park, Loomis joined B&L in July 1971 as a senior staff assistant. According to Rich Schick, plant manager, Loomis is recognized as one of B&L's "most accomplished financial managers."

"Don's dedication to the operation and his expertise in financial and accounting areas have been instrumental in guiding the Oakland plant through many challenging periods, particularly relating to tripling the operation's size and complexity in three short years," Schick said. "In addition to his talent, his witty personality will be missed by his fellow employees."

Don and his wife, Mary Lynn, are the parents of a son and a daughter.

Reese Receives Degree At FSU Through B&L

Steve Reese, an employee of Bausch & Lomb, was among the Frostburg State University students who were awarded degrees during FSU's commencement exercises in December.

Reese, who earned a bachelor's degree in business administration, is the first local employee of B&L to complete a bachelor's degree under the Bausch & Lomb employee tuition refund program.

Reese began working on his degree in 1974 and was graduated from Garrett Community College in 1980. He graduated with a 3.2 grade point average while being employed full-time in the Engineering Department at B&L.

He resides in Oakland with his wife, Denise, and their two children, Sheena and Brad.

Westvaco, Union Sign Three-Year Labor Contract

Westvaco Corporation and United Paperworkers International Union locals from two of the company's major mills have signed an unprecedented three-year labor contract extension, according to an announcement this week by David L. Young, Luke Mill personnel manager, and Gary Morris, president of Local 676, UPIU.

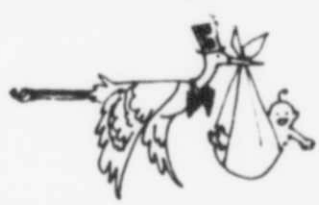

Members of Local 676, Luke, and Local 675, Covington, Va., voted overwhelmingly to ratify the contract extension, 958 in favor and 266 opposed. The present contract would not have expired until December 1, 1989. The contract extension will now expire December 1, 1992.

Details of the extension include a two-and-one-half percent raise in each of the three years of the agreement and a $300 ratification bonus to be paid to all members of the two locals immediately.

For union members who retire after April 1, 1990, there is a pension increase of one dollar per month per year of service. There is an additional one dollar pension increase in the second year of the extension. There is also a $1,000 increase in the life insurance schedule for each of the three years.

The accident and sickness schedule is increased by five dollars per week for each of the three years of the pact.

Blessed Events

The births of two babies, both boys, were reported this week by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

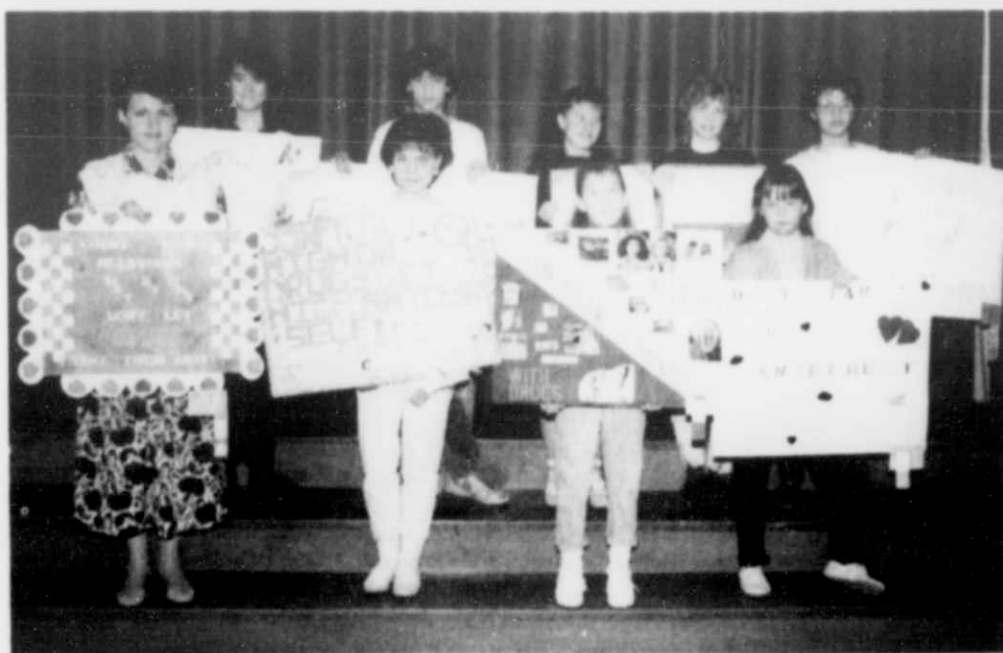

A son was born Sunday, February 5, to Gary Wayne and Betty Arlene Coddington Jenkins, Friendsville.

A son was born Tuesday, February 7, to Billy Ray and Kimberly Kay Rounds Frazee, Bruceton Mills, W.Va.

There were 57 admissions and 61 discharges for the past week. The census this morning was 55.

Jim and Beverly Wolf Beaumier, Kenosha, Wis., announce the birth of a son, Nathaniel James. The seven pound, two ounce boy was born Friday, January 27.

TDEC Names Employees Of Year For '87, '88

Two employees of the year, one for 1987 and one for 1988, were named recently by The Data Entry Company, Inc.

Christina Ritchie was named employee of the year for 1987, while Joan Bowers was named employee of the year for 1988. The awards were presented because of outstanding performance, accomplishments and commitment.

Ritchie has been employed with TDEC since November 5, 1984, as a data entry operator.

She is a 1978 graduate of Southern High School and a 1981 graduate of Garrett Community College with an AA degree in physical education. She enjoys all sports and Mexican and Italian food.

Ritchie noted that she was "honored and very surprised" to receive the award. She noted that she gives special thanks to her father and mother, Glenn and Cindy Shaffer, who taught her that hard work pays off.

She resides with her husband, Steve, in Oakland.

Bowers has been employed with TDEC since November 23, 1970, as a data entry operator. She also assists in the control department.

She is a 1970 graduate of Southern High School, and attended classes at Garrett Community College during 1987 and 1988. She is a member of the Ladies Auxiliary in Cumberland. Her hobbies include

Local Frostburg State Students On Dean's List

Frostburg State University Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Daniel Panealeo has announced that 29 Garrett County residents attending the university are among those students named to the dean's list for outstanding academic achievement during the fall 1988 semester. Of that total, eight students received perfect 4.0 grade point averages.

Those earning 4.0 averages were: Kathryn M. Beadle, Accident; Sandra K. Schofield, Bittering; Tammy Sue Woodward and Mervin Eugene Yoder, both of Grantsville; Erica Shane Carlson, Clark Sharpless, and Debra Elaine Upole, all of Oakland; and Susan Wright, Swanton.

Other local students named to the dean's list were: Paul W. Riley, Tabitha Lynn Sliger, Mary Lorraine Streets, and Timothy H. Thorson, all of Deer Park; Tonya Lu Couch, Friendsville; Edward A. Bever, Melissa Dawn Bittering, Kevin A. Miller, and Gregory Wilburn, all of Grantsville; Michele Lynne Glatfelter, McHenry; James Norman Barnes, Robert Browning, Patricia Hamilton, Rebecca Ann Helbig, Indu Maagoo, Sherry Lynn Reams, Crystal Lynn Stewart, Jane Bell Wilderson, and Donald Lee Wolf Jr., all of Oakland; and Patti Labbe and Rhonda Rae Tasker, both of Swanton.

An FSU student must earn a grade point average of at least 3.40 on a 4.0 scale and carry at least 15 credit hours for the semester in order to be named to the dean's list.

Several persons were found guilty of unlawful possession of controlled dangerous substances by Judge Jack Turney during recent trials at Garrett County District Court.

Several persons were found guilty of unlawful possession of controlled dangerous substances (CDS). He was fined $200 and sentenced to one year in the Department of Corrections. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Harvin on one year of supervised probation. Harvin was found guilty of possession with intent to use CDS paraphernalia and fined $100.

Tfc. Jerry W. Michael, Maryland State Police, filed the charge September 22 during routine traffic maneuvers held on Route 48 on Savage Mountain.

Charles E. Davis Jr., 20, Baltimore, was found guilty of unlawful possession of CDS. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Another charge of unlawful possession of CDS was not prosecuted per plea agreement.

Corporal G.D. Broadwater, Maryland State Police, filed the charges after an incident which occurred November 26. John R. Toston represented Davis.

Philip Ray Coddington, 22, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of unlawful possession of CDS. He was fined $475. Deputy J.D. Murphy filed the charge September 11 after an incident which occurred at Little Sandy's Restaurant.

Mark Robert Miller, 25, Bel Air, was found guilty of unlawful possession of CDS. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 11 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Miller on 12 months probation.

Miller was also found guilty of use and possession with intent to use CDS paraphernalia. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 11 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Miller on 12 months probation, to be served concurrent with the former sentence.

Deputy P.J. Pratt, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, filed the charges August 28, 1988, after an incident which occurred at the Harbor Bar on Glendale Road. Richard F. Green represented Miller.

Charges of burglary with intent to steal, conspiracy and theft against William Bryan Warner Jr., 21, Eglon, W.Va., were not prosecuted. The charges were filed by Chief Deputy Harland S. Tichnell, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after an incident which occurred December 16 on the Stockslager Road. Robert C. Hesson represented Warner.

Arnold Wilson Miller Jr., 22, Kitzmiller, was found guilty of disorderly conduct on the property of another. He was fined $300 and placed on six months probation. Miller was found not guilty of wanton trespassing and battery. Karen Cogley of Oakland filed the charges after an incident which occurred at her residence on November 30.

Daniel R. Malone, 27, Deer Park, was found guilty of two counts of destruction of property. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Deputy L.E. Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, filed the charges after an incident which occurred November 21 at the Deer Park VFW. John R. Toston represented Malone.

Tracy Alan Harding, 26, Friendsville, was found not guilty of battery. The charge was filed by Calvin J. Cornelius Sr., Bruceton Mills, W.Va., after an incident which occurred November 8 at Ken Friend's Tavern in Friendsville.

Ronald D. Smith, 24, Accident, was found guilty of theft and fined $5 and placed on six months probation. Tfc. Gary A. Berkebile, Maryland State Police, filed the charge November 9, after Smith allegedly stole an electric meter with a value of less than $300 from Potomac Edison Electric Company.

John P. Cunningham, 20, Oakland, was found guilty of disorderly conduct in a public place. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The charge was filed by Detective R.L. Sines September 6, 1988, after an incident which occurred in the parking lot at Sheetz Groceries in Oakland.

Mark John Johnston, 31, Friendsville, was found guilty of battery. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation for that charge. Two charges of battery were placed on the set docket per plea agreement. John R. Toston represented Johnston. Tracey Jo Johnston, Markleysburg, Pa., filed the charges after an incident which occurred September 2, 1988, in Friendsville.

Michael Carswell, Irwin, Pa., was found guilty of malicious destruction of property of another, causing more than $300

Federal Aid To Local Guard Unit Over $800,000

Federal support of the Maryland Army National Guard (MDARNG) in Garrett County amounted to $822,726 in the fiscal year that ended September 30, 1988 according to figures compiled by the Guard's finance office.

Nearly 63 percent of the federal dollars covered the salaries paid the part- and full-time members in Oakland's Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion (Combat Corps).

At the end of FY '88, nearly 140 individuals belonged to this MDARNG unit, which is located at 14 N. Eighth St.

Capt. Richard D. Wakefield, Deer Park, is the company commander.

In the four Western Maryland counties of Garrett, Washington, Allegany and Frederick, the federal government spent $5,000,600 in support of the Maryland Army National Guard. This figure represents nearly seven percent of the $78,024,606 spent by the federal government in fiscal year 1987.

The federal and state expenditures in FY '88 for the Maryland National Guard totaled $121,985,422. The state provided $13,152,376 to the Maryland National Guard, mainly for the upkeep of armories and the salaries of 227 full-time state employees.

The Maryland Army National Guard's 82 units are located in all counties but Caroline, Dorchester, St. Mary's and Worcester. The Maryland Air National Guard is located at Warfield Air National Guard Base, Martin State Airport, in Middle River in Baltimore County.

In fiscal year 1987, state and federal expenditures amounted to nearly $115.8 million for the Maryland National Guard, the federal government provided more than 94 percent of this figure.

Maj. Gen. James F. Fretter, the adjutant general, Maryland National Guard, said, "While

TERRA ALTA NEWS

ROTARY NEWS
President Rich Hopkins presided at the January 26 meeting of the Terra Alta Rotary Club at Alpine Lake.

Prior to the evening's program, the president named I.T. "Bud" White chairman of a committee to promote club members' attendance at the annual conference of Rotary District 753, scheduled for March 30-April 2, in Morgantown.

Hopkins told Rotary members about an inquiry from the Terra Alta Civic Club concerning plans for the Fourth of July celebration in the town park during the week of July 2-8. A committee of Charles Thomas, Roy Cale and John Dixon was named to develop plans.

Cale was the program chairman for the evening. He introduced Junior E. Kelly, who explained some of the programs of the Terra Alta Community Ambulance Squad, Inc. The all-volunteer service unit was organized in 1975. Kelly is the immediate past president and is succeeded by Clinton Mayne. Last year the squad tallied 550 runs, with 401 classified as emergencies and 149 as transports. Service hours logged were 2,609, while 20,808 miles were clocked. Current paid subscribers total 300.

The girls' varsity basketball team and coaches from East Preston High School will be the guests of the club at the next meeting.

COLLECTING TAPES
East Preston High School, in conjunction with Foodland, will be collecting Foodland register tapes to acquire free IBM computers and software.

East Preston High School officials request the community become involved in the "Food For Thought" project.

Register tapes may be sent in to the school, or be deposited in the East Preston box at Foodland.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP
Tracey Henline, daughter of Thomas and Shirley Henline, Terra Alta, is the winner of East Preston's 1988-89 Century III Leaders' Scholarship.

Tracey played varsity girls basketball, is National Honor Society president, the senior class treasurer, and is a member of the Blue-Gold Club, Club and student council.

She will compete at the state level.

SWEETHEART DANCE
The annual Sweetheart Dance will be held at East Preston High February 11. The DJ will be "Foot in the Door."

The 1989 Sweetheart Court is as follows: Queen of Hearts, Stacey Ball; maid of honor, Marcia DeBerry; senior princess, Linette Radford; junior princess, Kelly Gibson and Torja Loughry; sophomore princesses, Leslie Rice and Reggan Ruppenthal; freshmen princesses, Emilee Frazee and Yolanda Garlitz; 8th grade princesses, Janie Rice and Dana Friend; and 7th grade princesses, Cindy Spiker and Jennifer Stemple.

Ferrell Convicted

Monday
Closing statements were held on Monday, with Grant County Prosecutor Dennis V. DiBenedetto addressing the court for 90 minutes, and defense attorney Ross Maruka taking 45 minutes for closing statements.

DiBenedetto then addressed the jury for 35 minutes in rebuttal.

DiBenedetto stated that Ferrell had a fantasy life that was pacified by phone calls he made to various area women, and to bookstores and libraries. The prosecutor listed blood-stained carpet and a neighbor who heard screaming and a gunshot on February 17 as crucial evidence.

In his statement, Maruka said, "Mr. Ferrell, at this moment, is presumed to be innocent," and warned that allegations must be more than a suspicion of guilt.

He stated that the mobile home had not been secured by police, and that someone could have dropped evidence at the crime scene. He also noted that the neighbor who testified gave conflicting reports to the police.

Maruka stated, "This is the most important day in the life of Paul Ferrell."

DiBenedetto then replied, "I submit to you that February 17 was the most important day in Cathy Ford's life."

Mountaintop '89 Set For March

Living for Christ Conferences has announced that there is still opportunity to register for their third annual conference, "Mountaintop '89", to be held March 3 through 5. All attendees will stay at the meeting site, Sheraton Lakeview, in Morgantown, W.Va.

This get-away weekend will feature Elisabeth Elliot Gren, best-selling author and world-known speaker, presenting the seminar "An Indestructible Peace." Session titles are "The Kind the World Can't Give", "In Impossible Situations", "With Un-Get-Along-With-Able People", and "In Suffering."

A special event that has been planned is "A Festival in Celebration of God's Majesty", headlining award-winning musician Richard Allen Farmer in concert.

Other features of the weekend include: "Through the Gates of Splendor", a film of the missionary story of the apostle Paul; a play, "The Martyrdom of Elisabeth Elliot's husband, Jim, and four other missionaries; question and answer period with Elliot; Youth Rap Session with Elliot; Mountaintop Bookstore, with the author available to autograph any of her twenty books; and special exercise opportunities.

This conference is not affiliated with any church.

Those wishing to attend are urged to register as soon as possible. More information can be obtained by calling LFCC at (304)455-4322 or (304)455-4271.

Retired School Employees To Meet

The February luncheon meeting of the Preston County Association of Retired School Employees will be held Tuesday, February 14, at 1 p.m. at the Heldreth Restaurant in Kingwood. No luncheon reservation is required. Plans for the organization will be discussed, including meeting with the W.Va. Legislature.

AURORA-EGILON NEWS

LENTEN SERVICES
Union District Lenten services will be held at the Brookside Church of the Brethren on February 15 with the Rev. Annabelle Childers the speaker. Time is 7:30 p.m. and all are welcome.

SENIORS MEET

Only 31 were in attendance at the February 4 meeting of Union District Senior Citizens held in the Aurora U.M. Memorial Building. County staff members LaDonna Ringer and Annie Ringer were present and blood pressure readings were taken. Nine get-well cards were signed.

Grace for the meal was asked by Wilda Wilt. Paul Stemple presented the devotions using Lent and Ash Wednesday as his theme and concluding with a poem and prayer. Due to the many absentees, the program of slides to be presented by David and Delores Stemple was postponed.

SCIENCE FAIR PARTICIPANTS

A Preston County Science Fair was held at the Kingwood Civic Center on February 1. Entering exhibits from Aurora School were Natalie Snyder and Aaron Teets, both sixth graders. Two of the winners from East Preston were Yolanda Garlitz of Terra Alta and Stephanie Evans of Horse Shoe Run, both of whom will enter regional competition at Fairmont. Stephanie is the daughter of Stephen and Diane Evans; Aaron the son of Paul and Karen Teets; Natalie the daughter of Darwin and Judy Snyder, all of Horse Shoe Run.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN

At the meeting of the Aurora United Methodist Women held February 1 at the church, a program on "World Federation Day" was presented by Rennie Conrad. Alma Snyder, president, conducted the business meeting, during which the Spiritual Growth Experience workshop dates were announced: April 6-7 and April 8-9, both to be held at Jackson's Mill. The theme will be "A Cup of Blessing" and Heather Elkins will be the leader.

A thank-you note from Margaret Myers for her Christmas remembrance was read. It was decided that the group would purchase 50 lbs. of soup beans for the annual Ramp Dinner to be held by the Aurora VFD Auxiliary. February 12 is "Love Your Pastor" Sunday and plans are made to honor Pastor Annabelle Childers on this day.

WVU HONORS BAND

and how to prepare it!

Tasteful Gifts For

Valentine's Day

GOLDEN HONEY BUTTER

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup (1 stick) unsalted butter, softened
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup honey

Whip the butter in an electric mixer on a low speed until it is light and fluffy. Add the honey slowly, beating all the time, until the two ingredients are well blended. This should be used at room temperature, but refrigerate any leftovers. Makes 1 cup.

ORANGE HONEY

1 cup honey
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup unsalted butter, softened
Juice of 1 orange (about  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup)
Grated rind of 1 orange (1 $\frac{1}{2}$  tablespoons)

Blend all ingredients together. Keep unused portion in refrigerator. Makes 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups.

DOUBLE DECKER CONFETTI BROWNIES

$\frac{3}{4}$  cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs
 $2\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour
 $2\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup "M&M's" plain chocolate candies

Beat softened butter and sugars until fluffy, beat in vanilla and eggs. Stir in  $2\frac{1}{4}$  cups flour mixed with baking powder and salt, mixing well. Divide batter in half. Into  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the batter, stir in cocoa and melted butter. Spread into a greased 13x9-inch pan. Into remaining batter, stir in remaining flour, fold in  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup plain candies. Spread evenly over chocolate layer. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining candies, pressing in slightly. Bake an additional 15 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Remove to wire rack to cool. Makes one 13x9-inch pan.

COCONUT-TOPPED BROWNIES

1 package (about 21.5 oz.) brownie mix
Ingredients per brownie package directions

$\frac{1}{4}$  cups "M&M's" plain chocolate candies
1 cup flaked coconut
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter or margarine, melted

Prepare brownie mix according to package directions, stir in  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup candies. Spread batter into greased 13x9-inch baking pan. Bake at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes or until center is set. Meanwhile, combine coconut, sugar, butter and remaining candies. Gently spread over brownies. Broil 2 to 3 minutes or until coconut is lightly browned. Remove to wire rack to cool. Makes one 13x9-inch pan of brownies.

BRANDIED ORANGES

8 oranges
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups sugar
1 cup water
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup brandy
2 tablespoons Grand Marnier or Cointreau
Whipped Cream, if desired

Cut oranges in half and, working over a large bowl to catch any juice, remove individual segments of the oranges between the membrane, place segments in the bowl. Squeeze juice from remaining orange peel into bowl and remove any seeds or pieces of membrane. Set aside. Combine sugar and water in a heavy pan and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil and boil for 2 minutes. Let cool and mix in brandy and Grand Marnier. Pour brandy mixture over orange segments. Let oranges stand for 24 hours in sauce to absorb flavors. Serve topped with whipped cream, if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

HONEYED FRUIT STRIPS

$2\frac{3}{4}$  cups all-purpose flour
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup cold butter, cut into 6 pieces
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup chopped toasted almonds
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup finely chopped maraschino cherries, blotted well on paper towels
2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup honey
1 egg white beaten with 2 teaspoons water for glaze
2-3 tablespoons granulated sugar

Preheat oven to 325°F. Grease 1 large baking sheet. In a large bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. Use a pastry blender or two knives to cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs, or process in a food processor using pulses. Add nuts and cherries, toss to combine. In a medium bowl, lightly beat eggs. Add honey and beat to combine. Stir into flour mixture. Knead in bowl 1 minute, or until dough holds together without crumbling. Place dough in center of prepared baking sheet. With buttered fingers, pat out into a 10x9-inch rectangle. Brush surface with egg glaze, sprinkle with sugar. Bake 13 to 17 minutes, or just until top springs back when lightly pressed with a fingertip. Let cookie rectangle stand on baking sheet 10 minutes. Use a long, sharp knife to cut into 30 (3x1-inch) strips, cutting 3 strips one way and 10 strips the other way. Serve warm or cool on racks. Store in an airtight container at room temperature 2 to 3 days, freeze for longer storage. Makes 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  dozen cookies.

CHERRY SWEETHEARTS

1 cup butter, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons vanilla extract
2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon ground nutmeg
3 cups all-purpose flour
 $\frac{2}{3}$  cup finely chopped maraschino cherries, blotted very well on paper towels

Glaze:

$1\frac{1}{2}$  cups powdered sugar
3 to 4 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
About 30 maraschino cherries, halved and blotted well on paper towels
About  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup cherry jam (finely chop any large pieces of cherry)

In a large mixing bowl, beat butter, sugar and salt until light and fluffy. Add vanilla, then eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in nutmeg, then flour,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup at a time, blending well after each addition. Stir in cherries. Form dough into a ball, wrap and refrigerate 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease 4 large baking sheets. On a well-floured surface, roll dough out into a rough circle 1/8-inch thick. Cut out dough using a 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch scalloped cutter, pressing it down firmly to make sure it cuts through pieces of cherry in dough. Arrange rounds 1-inch apart on prepared baking sheets. Bake 13 to 16 minutes, or until pale golden brown. Cool on racks. Prepare glaze by combining powdered sugar with enough maraschino cherry juice to make a thick, smooth mixture. Spoon a scant teaspoon of glaze over the tops of half of the cookies, spreading to within  $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch of the edge. Let glaze set 4 to 5 minutes, then place a maraschino cherry half in the center of each glazed cookie. Allow glaze to set completely. Spread a thin layer of cherry jam over the tops of remaining cookies. Top with glazed cookies, forming a sandwich. Store in an airtight container at room temperature 1 week, freeze for longer storage. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Make Homemade Gifts With Dried Apricots

Y ou never know when you will need a gift from the kitchen. Here are two quick and easy recipes that make great gifts. And be sure to use only the best quality dried apricots; they are high in Vitamin A and potassium and also contain Vitamin C, iron and fiber.

APRICOT-PINEAPPLE JAM
1 can (12 ounces) frozen apple juice concentrate 10 ounces California dried apricots, coarsely chopped (about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups)
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple, including juice
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup water
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

Combine ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer for about 20 minutes, stirring frequently, until mixture has thickened to desired consistency. Spoon into hot sterilized jars, filling to within  $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch of top. Seal immediately with lid and screwband. Invert jars for 5 minutes to seal. Makes 1 cup. Recipe can be doubled.

APRICOT-GINGER CHUTNEY
1 cup chopped, dried California apricots
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup water
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup seedless golden raisins
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup white vinegar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons minced jalapeño pepper
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
8 whole cloves

Combine ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer about 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Spoon into hot sterilized jars, filling to within  $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch of top. Seal immediately with lid and screwband. Process in boiling water bath as directed in general cookbook. Makes 1 cup. Recipe can be doubled.

FEBRUARY IS HEART MONTH

American Heart Association

Honey Carrots

This carrot dish is so sweet, it's good enough to be served as a special treat on Valentine's Day. Remember, too, carrots are a rich source of Vitamin A.

10-12 small young carrots
2 tbsp. margarine
1 tbsp. brown sugar
1 tbsp. honey
2 tbsp. finely chopped parsley or fresh mint

Wash and trim carrots. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water for 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain.

Melt margarine in a skillet or saucepan. Add sugar, honey and carrots. Cook over low heat, turning carrots frequently until well glazed. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or mint, and serve immediately.

Yield: 4 Servings

Dieting Tip: Carrots make excellent heart-healthy snacks, and they're low in calories. Keep raw carrot sticks in a plastic bag or covered container in the refrigerator and have a crunchy treat immediately at hand.

When Abraham Lincoln sat quietly reading a book, it's doubtful that he ever imagined that one day his giant, brooding statue would be a national landmark, and that he would be known throughout the world.

Basically, Lincoln was a simple man, his nature was essentially rugged and rustic as the log cabin in which he was born. His life, from beginning to end, was a hard one, physically, mentally, and spiritually. Yet, throughout the terrible trial, he never lost his faith in God.

Lincoln wasn't "born religious." Faith came to him the hard way, just as everything else did. But once he had found it, his devotion knew no limit. Most of the great men in our country's history have been devoted. Why? Because experience has shown them that no man can go it alone. That we, all of us, need God's guidance.

The place to seek that guidance is in the church or synagogue of your choice.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

UNCLEAN!

February 12, 1989

Background Scripture: Leviticus 13:1-17; 45:46; Luke 17:11-19
Devotional Reading: Psalms 105:1-5

That's what a leper was commanded by Mosaic law to call whenever he or she was in the proximity of other people. "Unclean! Unclean!" Because not to come near to me so that you will be contaminated! Although this might appear as an appropriate health measure to prevent the spread of the disease, that was not the purpose of the Mosaic Law. A person with leprosy—and people with other physical conditions including childbirth—was thought to be spiritually unclean and anyone who associated with people such as this were likely to become spiritually contaminated themselves.

The Mosaic law also proscribed that the leper "shall wear torn clothes and let the hair of his head hang loose, and he shall cover his upper lip." (Leviticus 13:45). Furthermore, "he shall dwell alone in a habitation outside the camp" (13:46). No law-abiding Jew was to have any contact or relationship with these people.

HEALED AS THEY WENT

No, you can better appreciate the importance of Jesus' encounter with the ten lepers on his way to Jerusalem via Samaria. On the one hand, these ten lepers went strictly by the law, for as Luke tells us, they "stood at a distance and lifted up their voices..." (Luke 17:11). On the other hand, however, they dared to challenge the system in asking Jesus to heal them. They knew that in doing so, he himself would likely be regarded as "unclean" by the religious authorities. It is interesting that Luke doesn't say Jesus touched them or even spoke of healing. He simply told them to present themselves to the priests in the temple and "as they went they were cleansed" (17:14).

This incident with the ten lepers may seem to have little relevance to us, in as much as leprosy is not much of a factor in our daily lives. But the story is relevant, because we all know our share of people who are "lepers" in the figurative sense. "Uncleanables" are no less a problem to us than they were to the people in Jesus' day. There are people whom we may regard as "unclean," if for other reasons.

THIS FOREIGNER

Who are these people? They are the people we regard and treat as outcasts. Because they are old, because they are handicapped in some way, because they are strange to us, we pass by on the other side, if we can. Yet, in the story, Jesus showed that the persons most responsive to God's grace are not those who are seemingly beyond reproach, but the social lepers and religious outcasts who demonstrate in some way that they are closer to Christ than we are.

OPEN YOUR MOUTH!

Not too very long ago this command by a dentist was more than enough to strike fear in just about everybody. It was a prelude to pain and a person would rather do almost anything else than keep a dental appointment.

How far we have come in a few short years. Today, very rarely is there any pain involved in dental work and your dentist mostly is concentrating on prevention of problems rather than treatment. New techniques and equipment have made a visit to the dentist a pleasant experience. And the wide variety of dental aids we stock can make your job easier between visits.

TV CLASSICS

Networks have benefitted from sitcoms, comedians

By John Haakenson

Where would network TV be without the situation comedy? Probably still competing with theatrical movies for the number-one form of entertainment in America.

Ever since the heyday of Milton Berle and I Love Lucy, the networks have relied heavily on situation comedies to balance the budget and rake in the ratings. Here are a few obscure facts about TV sitcoms, recent and old.

Milton Berle ("Uncle Miltie"), TV's first major star, was so popular with American audiences that NBC paid him a regular salary for 30 years—after his show went off the air.

To ensure that no sensibilities were offended, the producers of I Love Lucy enlisted a priest, rabbi and Presbyterian minister to be present during the rehearsals and filming of the show.

When Lucy's pregnancy was written into the series, ABC for years considered the "third network" had its first genuine hit show in Make Room for Daddy, which premiered in 1953 starring Danny Thomas.

Allen Funt once sneaked a camera crew into the Soviet Union to film some of his Candid Camera routines with people on the streets of Moscow.

In her starlet days, Mary Tyler Moore once played a character named "Happy Hotpoint," selling kitchen appliances in TV commercials.

The first death to occur in a network sitcom was on All in the Family, when Archie's Uncle Oscar died.

All in the Family was taped before two live audiences, with the best parts of each taping spliced together for the final show.

In high school, Robin Williams' classmates voted him "Most Humorous" and "Least Likely to Succeed."

Fans of the classic Phil Silvers series, You'll Never Get Rich, can thank Silvers' daughter. The only reason that copies of the comedy series still exist is because the daughter saved copies of about 100 of the episodes in the family garage. The networks had destroyed most of the kinescopes of shows that were broadcast in the first decade of network TV.

Saturday Night Live drew its biggest audience the night it was hosted by the winner of an "Anyone Can Host" contest: 80-year-old Mrs. Miskel Spillman.

Whitney Blake of 'Hazel' mother of 'Family Ties' star

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Can you please tell me if Whitney Blake of the old series Hazel is the mother of Meredith Baxter Birney, who stars on Family Ties? —L.M.D., Kansas City where I might get information where his records might be purchased? —Kenneth Neth, Kansas City, Mo.

A: Yes, Meredith Baxter Birney, who plays Elyse Keaton, is the daughter of Whitney Blake and radio announcer Tom Baxter.

A: I suggest you write to Goldmine, 700 E. State St., La Jolla, Wis. 54990, requesting the information you seek about Rex Allen Jr.

Whitney Blake.

Q: I thought I read some time ago that Don Knotts had died of some strange disease—was I mistaken? How did Mae West, Gloria Swanson, Barbara Stanwyck and Mildred Natwick die? Who played The Girl From U.N.C.L.E.? Are the actors who play Barney Collier and his son on Mission Impossible really related? A number of bets are riding on these answers. —Pat Keenan, Olathe, Colo.

A: Don Knotts is very much alive and is appearing on NBC's Matlock series as Ben Matlock's (Andy Griffith) next-door neighbor. Mae West suffered a heart attack in 1980. Gloria Swanson died of a heart ailment in 1984. Barbara Stanwyck and Mildred Natwick, as of this writing are still living. The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. was played by Stefanie Powers, and yes Barney and Grant Collier are really related. They are father and son.

Gregory and Phil Morris in real life.

Raymond Burr, who plays the title role in Perry Mason: The Case of the Lethal Lesson, Sunday, Feb. 12, on NBC, is nearly inseparable from the character.

Raymond Burr still linked with Perry Mason character

By Chad Andrews

In 1957, Raymond Burr's career took a dramatic—and very successful—turn when he was cast as Erle Stanley Gardner's famous defense attorney in the weekly series Perry Mason.

The program, which went on to become the longest-running television past and present, also earned Burr two consecutive Emmy Awards (1959 and 1960) as Best Actor in a Leading Role.

"I was called in to test for the role of the prosecutor," Burr said. "But when Mr. Gardner saw my test, he said, 'That's Perry Mason,' and that's that!"

Indeed, Burr became so closely linked with the character that the two were often inseparable in the public's mind. Why, even when Burr met Pope John XXIII, who he portrayed in the special A Man Whose Name Was John, His Holiness said, "Ah, yes, Perry Mason!"

Following Perry Mason, Burr starred for eight years as San Francisco Police Chief Robert Ironside in the highly rated series Ironside. In recent years Burr has resuscitated the Mason character to star in a series of Mason films. Perry Mason: The Case of the Lethal Lesson, airing Sunday, Feb. 12, on NBC, is the 11th film in this series.

Burr believes the public likes Perry Mason because "they feel if they ever get into trouble they would want someone like him—someone who cares—on their side. I feel Mason represents the fact that our Anglo-Saxon system of law is the best in the world. Through him, we see that justice does prevail and that, hopefully, it's available to all people."

Burr was born in Westminster, British Columbia. His professional acting career was launched in Toronto when he was 19. After several years on stage, he moved to California to begin a movie career which includes such classics as A Place in the Sun and Alfred Hitchcock's Rear Window.

Richard Yuu stars as Chinese ruler Pu-Yi, who ascended the throne at the age of 3, in the film The Last Emperor, Sunday, Feb. 12, on HBO.

The British (awards) are coming

By Austin Travis

MTV goes overseas to capture the British Phonographic Industry Awards (B.P.I.s) during its seventh year, live from the Royal Albert Hall in London. England. The B.P.I.s are the most prestigious awards created by the record industry to recognize the excellence and achievement of Britain's outstanding musical contributions.

This year's show is hosted by Robert Plant and Kylie Minogue, and the impressive list of guest talent includes Tracy Chapman, Def Leppard, Gloria Estefan & the Miami Sound Machine, Eric Clapton, Terence Trent D'Arby, Phil Collins and Mark Knopfler. A special live remote will feature Michael Jackson.

Elayne Boosler headlines her second Cinemax Comedy Experiment Friday, Feb. 17, as a single gal waiting for a call from a really neat guy—at least she thought he was neat. "Elayne Boosler: The Call" is a hilarious look at single life in the big city.

The Disney Channel takes a look at teens in the spotlight when Videopolis: Starracks premieres Saturday, Feb. 18. Jonathan Prince hosts the all-new, half-hour series which goes behind the scenes for up-close looks at some of today's hottest young performers, such as Jason Bateman and Tracie Spencer, who are guests on this month's premiere episode.

HOROSCOPE

February 12 through February 18

- AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
Keeping order is difficult, and requires impartiality. Refute claims that seem improbable. Sufficiency puts others on the defensive.
PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
An important decision is made hands down. Ignore minor annoyances. Standard of living needs re-evaluating. Sample new entertainment.
ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
An uncanny resemblance to another is noted. Medical attention is likely. Open-minded discussions increase communication, understanding.
TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Unabashed attempts at furthering your career are recognized. Pride centers on accomplishments of a loved one. Forego on luxuries.
GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Hospitality is essential for impressing a potential partner. Merriment comes naturally. Romantic chemistry with a friend is uncovered.
CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Joint efforts prove more fulfilling than tackling tasks alone. Nurture a valuable friendship. Spill your heart out to a trusted friend.

- LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Mind-boggling circumstances leave you speechless. Rally around those who appear to be going places. A relative's setback is discouraging.
VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Carefully gauge your energies. Extra demands are likely to cause fatigue. Knuckle under to indications that signal rest is needed.
LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
Demonstrating sincere gratitude shows another facet of your character. Offer assistance rather than ridiculing another's way of doing things.
SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Simplify methods for accomplishing routine chores like cleaning house or doing yard work. Put more time in reserve for rest and relaxation.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
Utilize facts and figures to manipulate superiors into seeing things from your perspective. Charity or civic duties instill self-respect.
CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Focus on sharpening your sense of humor. An all work and no play attitude has deprived you of much-needed relaxation and pleasure.

Gumby and Pokey ride again in new syndicated show

By Shelia Gilligan

That lovable geometric lump of animated clay has returned to television. Yes, Gumby, and his faithful horse Pokey have returned with a syndicated show. Gumby features 13 new stories, along with 32 classic episodes from 1958 through 1969.

Gumby was the brainchild of Art Clokey back in the mid-1950s. He sprang to life in the experimental art film called Gumbasia. NBC executives saw his potential, and soon he made his television debut on The Howdy Doody Show. He eventually was given his own Saturday morning series.

In creating Gumby, Clokey wanted a simple look that was easy to maneuver and work with. Thus Gumby's unique geometrical shape was born. The trademark bump on his head was inspired by an old picture of Clokey's father, which showed him with a cowlick. Gumby's name is distinctly fitting. It comes from the word oil drillers use to refer to a clay layer of sediment, gumbo.

Gumby and Pokey's many friends include a small spiked dinosaur named Prickle and a plump blue mermaid named Goo. Another character, Gumby's sister Minga, has been added to the new show. Gumby's enemies, the Blockheads, also rear their ugly heads.

Clokey has managed to incorporate the tone of the original episodes into the new ones. "Gumby's appeal is that it has the spirit of love," Clokey said. "If you've got a heart, then Gumby's a part of you."

State's Triple-A Rating Retained For Bond Sale

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and State Treasurer Lucille Maurer said today that both Moody's Investors Service and Standard & Poor's Corporation have retained Maryland's prime triple A general obligation bond rating for the bond sale held Wednesday, February 8. The triple A rating is the best rating awarded by the rating agencies.

"The triple A bond rating means the state paid the lowest available interest rate when we sold $80,000,000 in general obligation bonds at noon on February 8th," Goldstein said.

"The triple A rating saves millions of dollars in interest costs each year. That's a direct saving to taxpayers because Maryland's general obligation debt is repaid with both state real estate tax revenue and general fund revenue."

When informed of the triple A rating, Governor William Donald Schaefer said, "This once again demonstrates the confidence of the financial community in Maryland's fiscal management and revenue outlook."

Of the $80,000,000 in general obligation bonds sold on February 8, $42 million will be used for general state construction, $22 million for public school construction, and $16 million for a variety of state and local projects, including water quality projects and the Mary-

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK — Reverend Douglas Baldwin, Assemblies of God missionary to Ecuador, South America, will be guest speaker at Rocky Dreen Assembly of God, Bray School Road, this Sunday, February 12, at 10 a.m., according to Reverend William C. Skipper, pastor. In Ecuador, Rev. Baldwin and his wife, Carol, will reside in the capital city of Quito and will participate in evangelism and church planting efforts in connection with the Quito Task Force. The task force is an intense evangelism effort carried out by Assemblies of God missionaries in that country (utilizing tent crusades, television, and radio) to evangelize, disciple new Christians, and establish churches. Prior to missionary appointment, the Baldwins pastored churches in Waynesboro and DuBois, Pa. Both Rev. and Mrs. Baldwin attended Valley Forge Christian College in Phoenixville, Pa., where Rev. Baldwin earned a B.S. degree in Bible.

Students Being Encouraged To Quit Smoking

Garrett County students are waging their own war against cigarette smoking using peer pressure and educational materials in an eight week program called Save-A-Sweet-Heart (SASH). Sponsored by the American Heart Association, SASH is a smoking intervention program which culminates on Valentine's Day with students pledging not to smoke or to never start.

SASH activities began in January with students hanging posters throughout their schools. These posters appear similar to cigarette advertisements except that it's non-smokers who are shown in socially appealing situations. The posters' use of photography, color, and type imitate popular cigarette advertisements.

Students also create interest in SASH by reading announcements over school public address systems. The announcements offer tips on how to stop smoking along with eye opening smoking statistics. The National Institute on Drug Abuse states that 60 percent of all new smokers are 14 or younger, 90 percent are under the age of 19. Recent

DO YOU KNOW YOUR NUMBER?

That important number is your serum (blood) cholesterol level. To find out your cholesterol level the Wellness Together Program is offering blood chemistry screening by appointment every Tuesday morning in March and the first Tuesday in April.

What do the numbers mean?

Most heart attacks occur in people with cholesterol levels between 210 mg/dl and 265 mg/dl. Age, sex, family history of heart disease and other risk factors such as high blood pressure and diabetes influence the bottom line risk. Total serum cholesterol must be evaluated in relation to levels of HDL ("good" cholesterol) and LDL ("bad" cholesterol). Generally, the lower the LDL's and the higher the HDL's, the lower the risk of heart disease. Wellness Together's planned blood chemistry screening will include HDL, LDL, total cholesterol, and 22 other items.

Who should be screened?

Everyone over age 18 should have a blood cholesterol test at least every 5 years. If it is 200 mg/dl or more, the next step is an evaluation in relation to other risk factors. Why be concerned about cholesterol?

AHA Says Stroke Prevention And Heart Disease Prevention Closely Related

Some people don't realize it, but by caring for their hearts, they can also reduce their chances of suffering stroke, according to John F. McCormick Jr., division chairman for the Western Maryland Division American Heart Association.

That message is one that the AHA is trying to get out during February, American Heart Month. Stroke is America's third leading cause of death and a major cause of disability. An estimated 10,000 Marylanders have a stroke per year. In 1985, 2,272 people died from stroke in Maryland and approximately $47 million was spent on hospitalization.

"Technically, stroke is a cardiovascular disease," McCormick said. "What happens is that a blood vessel in the brain either bursts or gets blocked. Blood flow to a particular part of the brain stops and the brain cells in that area start dying from lack of oxygen. Many people eventually recover, but stroke victims can also die or be permanently impaired."

Some risk factors for stroke can't be controlled, he added. Age, sex and race can play determining roles, as can having diabetes mellitus or having had a stroke before.

But risk factors such as high blood pressure, heart disease, high red blood cell count and "little strokes," called transient ischemic attacks or TIAs, can be treated. (TIAs have stroke-like symptoms but only last between five minutes and 24 hours. Afterward, the patient recovers completely.) Watching one's weight and cholesterol can help, as can giving up smoking. Cutting back on alcohol can make a difference, too.

The warning signs for a stroke are: "Sudden weakness or numbness of the face, arm or leg on one side of the body."

Cholesterol is a soft, fatty substance found in the blood stream. The body manufactures cholesterol in the liver and is consumed in our diet by eating food of animal origin. Cholesterol plays an important role in the functioning of our bodies. But you can have too much of a good thing. A diet high in cholesterol and saturated fats can eventually lead to the development of fatty deposits, which clog coronary arteries, keeping oxygen-rich blood from getting to the heart. This can cause a part of the heart muscle to die, resulting in chest pain, heart attack or sudden death. If a vessel that supplies blood to the brain becomes blocked, the results can be a stroke.

Can I lower my blood cholesterol number?

When you have your blood cholesterol checked, you are on your way towards heart-healthy living. Even if your results show that your present cholesterol level is in the desirable range, it is essential that you take preventive measures today to avoid heart disease later in your life. If your blood cholesterol level is above the desirable range, consult your physician and begin taking action to make life-style changes.

The Wellness Together Program has planned a series of classes to help you in making these changes. For more information about the classes or to register for the blood chemistry screening, call 334-2155.

A Healthy Smile Shows Your Style

February is "Children's Dental Health Month" and the poster slogan this year is "A Healthy Smile Shows Your Style." In Garrett County, dental health is promoted in a school education program.

Since 1975, all children, kindergarten through third grade, are given the opportunity to learn correct brushing and flossing as part of the Garrett County school program. Elaine Marple, dental hygienist with the Garrett County Health Department, supervises the program in all elementary schools. She uses filmstrips, movies, posters, charts, puppets and talks to reinforce the actual brushing. Good nutrition, use of fluorides and regular dental checkups are stressed with the children. The brushing is done in the classroom under teacher supervision and with parental consent.

According to a 1986-1987 study done at the National Institute of Dental Research, one out of two school children between the ages of five and seventeen is cavity-free. This represents a 36% reduction in tooth decay since 1980. Fluoride is believed to play a significant role in these statistics. One type of fluoride found to be especially effective is the 2% neutral sodium fluoride rinsing done in some of the schools. This program is now in progress in the Bloomington and Kitzmiller schools. The program is conducted by trained parent volunteers and teachers and is funded by the PTA's of the individual schools.

Mrs. Marple emphasizes that all of the gains made in recent years could be lost "if we do not continue to see that our children follow-up at home with brushing and flossing and have regular check-ups."

Persons who have any questions about these programs are invited to call the Garrett County Health Department.

A HEALTHY SMILE for every child in Garrett County is the goal of Elaine Marple, pictured above, the dental hygienist with the Garrett County Health Department who teaches dental health in county schools. She uses a variety of teaching aids, including puppets, to get her message across. The young lady pictured below demonstrates correct brushing techniques.

SHOW OFF!

Have you noticed the way clothing stores are merchandising their suits, dresses, and blouses these days? They've discovered new ways to show off their clothing which results in faster sales at higher prices.

Take blouses. Rather than just having rack after rack, the store displays a manikin wearing the blouse in a fashionable manner. Over the shoulder they drape a colorful scarf and tie it with a gold scarf pin. A "layered" look is created by adding another garment under the blouse, and a leather belt completes the image. Get the picture?

They're not just selling blouses, are they? They are selling a "look" - an image of the person the shopper would like to be. Selling a home successfully is no different.

You may ask "Why?" Because families do not buy homes. They buy dreams, convenience, views, space to entertain and many other benefits a home can offer.

When selling your home, ask your real estate agent for a "mini-merchandising" course. Learn the many ways to create a special "look" or "image" that invites buyers to stay forever.

Some great ideas for creating such appeal are fresh-cut flowers around the home, a formal dining room set for a royal banquet, cinnamon rolls baking in the oven, soft music, or other special touches. Selling your home is a unique experience. Give it the attention it deserves and you will reap the rewards.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

Dr. Meyerson

"The Japanese eat high levels of fish and rice and have much lower cholesterol levels than we do here, but when they move to the west and adopt western style diets, their incidence of heart disease begins to equal ours."

"Basically, there are only foods to avoid. By avoiding the foods I have mentioned, the body will be more responsible and the person will be healthier," he explained.

February is Heart Month. The American Heart Association is sponsoring screening for cholesterol statewide. Free blood pressure and blood samples can be taken to check blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

Dr. Meyerson stressed that heart disease and high blood pressure are totally preventable. "The number of people dying from cancer and accidents does not begin to equal the number of people dying prematurely or being disabled from heart disease. It is the largest killer of people and it is completely preventable," he said. "I suggest that you see your doctor today and start taking steps to prevent heart disease."

Evolution, Creation Film Series Set At Loch Lynn Church

Did man evolve from ape-like ancestors? Did the universe originate in a "big-bang"? Did the living things on planet Earth come into being through evolution or creation?

These questions and many more will be discussed in a new film series to be shown by Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church, 107 W. 3rd Avenue, Loch Lynn, on six consecutive Sunday nights starting February 12 at 7 p.m. each evening. The public is invited to attend.

The series is entitled, "Origins: How the World Came to Be," and consists of six 30-minute color motion pictures each dealing with separate topics in the creation evolution controversy. The films include a variety of special effects, animation, and nature photography, as well as scenes shot at such unique locations as Charles Darwin's own home, the Olduvai Gorge in Africa, a Carbon-14 laboratory, the Grand Canyon, etc. ORIGINS was co-produced by American and European film companies.

Filmed on locations around the world, the series also features many Ph.D. scientists involved in new research regarding evolution and creation. Leading the list of experts sharing their insights is the noted scientist Dr. A.E. Wilder-Smith (European author of over 60 books and articles and holder of three earned doctorate degrees).

The titles of the six films are: "The Origin of the Universe," "The Earth, A Young Planet?" "The Origin of Life," "The Origin of Species," "The Origin of Mankind," "The Fossil Record."

Applications For March Commodities Now Being Accepted

The Garrett County Community Action Committee announced that it is currently accepting applications for the March Surplus Commodity Distribution.

All income eligible households must have an approved Maryland Energy Assistance Program or Surplus Commodity application before the February 17 deadline. Those who received a card for the December 1988 Distribution do not need to re-apply.

Masons To Meet

Oakland Lodge No. 192, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, will have a regular communication Tuesday, February 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple, 3 South Wilson St. Besides regular business, the Second Degree will be conferred if a candidate is available. Worshipful Master Delmar R. Sliger invites all Master Masons to attend.

George Washington Birthday Event Set At Fort Necessity

Fort Necessity National Battlefield is celebrating George Washington's 257th birthday with a number of special activities on Saturday and Sunday, February 18 and 19.

A highlight of each day will be the showing of the 90-minute WQED film, "George Washington: Portrait of a Hero," at the park Visitor Center. The film will be shown at 3 p.m. on Saturday and 2 p.m. on Sunday. A presentation featuring a musket firing demonstration will follow each showing. This film vividly depicts the many struggles young Washington experienced during his first military command at Fort Necessity.

Limited seating is available. A script of the film will also be made available for the hearing impaired.

On Saturday an awards ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. to honor the winners of the Washington's Birthday Art Contest held this past month for fourth, fifth, and sixth graders in local schools. Contestants were asked to depict an event in the life of George Washington. The winning pictures and as many others as the limited space allows will be displayed from February 17 through February 21. Birthday cake and hot mulled cider will be served following the awards ceremony.

All park activities are subject to the general park entrance fee.

Geriatric Aide Class Tuition Help Available

The New Horizons Program, a Single Parent/Homemaker/Displaced Homemaker Project of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Continuing Education Division of GCC, has tuition money available for qualifying persons interested in enrolling in the Basic Nursing Skills for the Geriatric Aide and Nursing Assistant class, scheduled to be held Monday, February 13, through Wednesday, May 3, from 6 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. at the McHenry Campus of GCC.

M.S. Beadle To Read Poetry At Flowery Vale

Ms. Margaret S. Beadle, Accident, has been requested to present poetry readings at Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, on Tuesday, February 14, at 12:15 p.m. following lunch. All seniors are welcome and encouraged to attend. Reservations for lunch should be made by 3:30 p.m. on February 13.

Ms. Beadle was born in Coventry, England, and worked in Canada as a social worker before coming to the United States in 1969. She was director of the Mental Health Association in Anne Arundel County for three years and director of the R.S.V.P. Program for two years. She also worked with the National Kidney Foundation in Baltimore for several years. Now retired and living near Accident, she raises sheep as a pastime. She is the 1988 Garrett County winner of the Senior Citizens' Creative Writing Contest.

Ms. Beadle presented readings at the Center on one previous occasion. She stated she had no background in poetry nor was this her hobby, however, she does enjoy reading and has since childhood. She is presently preparing for the readings by looking for poems which relate to love since February 14 is Valentine's Day.

Marylanders Urged To Protect Trees

"Winter sun damage to shade and fruit trees may be a problem this winter," cautions Charles Staines, supervisor of Nursery Inspection for the Maryland Department of Agriculture. However, he says there are things persons can do about it.

"The damage to trees that is a concern this year is called 'sun scald' or 'frost cracks' and it is caused by a rapid fluctuation of temperatures in winter," Staines said.

"The sun warms up tree bark

FIRST SHS CLASS REUNITES — The members of the Southern High School Class of 1953, the first graduating class of that school, met recently for their 35-year reunion. The event was held at the Will O' the Wisp and included a program, dinner, memorial service, and dance. Wayne Graham served as master of ceremonies and special guests included Maurice Dunkle and daughter, Margaret, Carl Everly, Thomas Baucum, and Ernest Spooner. Playing music of the 1950s was Michael Dorsey at the keyboard. A Sunday brunch was held the following day at Southern High School, at which the Southern High State Band entertained and the class members took a tour of the school. Classmates attending were from Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, North Carolina, Delaware, Florida, Nebraska, and Nevada. to above freezing, allowing water to flow freely up and down inside the trunk and branches. When temperatures drop at night, the water freezes, cracking the bark and injuring the tree. If the sun scald is severe, it may kill a tree. Otherwise, it can destroy the bark and allow insects or disease to invade the tree eventually killing it.

"Damage from sun scald is mostly on the south side of deciduous trees located in mostly sunny areas. It is generally confined to the trunk. Newly planted, thin barked trees such as maples and ash are at high risk."

"To protect deciduous trees, simply wrap their trunks with a paper wrap which is available at hardware and garden stores. This wrap helps to reflect heat from the tree so there is not great temperature fluctuation. "A similar type of injury occurs on some conifers. The sun heats up the dark needles, water flows and then later freezes. This causes what is known as winterburn, a bronzing or browning of the needles. Arborvitae is especially susceptible to this injury. "Unfortunately wrapping the trunks of conifers will not protect them from this injury, since the problem occurs in the needles. The next time you plant an evergreen choose a plant more resistant to winterburn, such as a juniper, or plant it in a protected area away from direct sun," Staines concluded.

county Extension agent or nursery professional.

Tracy Imhoff, Johnny Lipscomb Exchange Vows In July Event

Tracy Dawn Imhoff and Johnny Lee Lipscomb were united in marriage on July 30, 1988. The double-ring ceremony took place at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, with the Rev. Allen Ridenour officiating.

Mrs. Lela Paugh was the organist, and Mrs. Becky Mason was the soloist. Selections included "Theme from Ice Castles," "The Wedding Prayer," and "I Pledge My Love."

Flowers were placed on the altar in loving memory of James Elwood Imhoff, grandfather of the bride, and Hugh Lee Lipscomb, father of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Imhoff, Mtn. Lake Park. The groom is the son of Mrs. Geraldine Lipscomb, Kitzmiller, and the late Hugh "Peck" Lipscomb.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin gown featuring modified leg-o-mutton sleeves heavily beaded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The fitted bodice of slipper satin was covered with Schiffli lace appliques, iridescent sequins, seed pearls and crystal cascades.

The sheer illusion yoke of English net was highlighted by a bridal collar of Schiffli lace, iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The skirt fell from a natural waist and swept into a semi-cathedral train adorned with a border of Schiffli lace. To complete her bridal attire, she selected a Chantilly lace hat featuring seed pearls, floral cascade, net pouf and tango-length veiling.

The bride carried a cascade silk bouquet of white roses, purple rosebuds, lavender azaleas and baby's breath. The bouquet was accented with an ivy train and white, lavender, lavender. They carried bouquets similar to the bride's.

Elisa Beck, Oakland, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length purple silk gown similar to that of the maid of honor and bridesmaids. She carried a white lace basket trimmed with purple ribbon and filled with white rose petals.

Serving as his brother's best man was Don Lipscomb, of Oakland. Ushers were Jon Biggs, Columbia; Joe Amyot, Newport News, Va.; both friends of the groom, and Mark Imhoff, Mtn. Lake Park, brother of the bride.

All were attired in black tuxedos. The best man wore a purple bow tie and cummerbund, while the ushers wore lavender bow ties and cummerbunds. Allen Walker, of Oakland, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He also wore a black tuxedo with a purple bow tie and cummerbund.

The guest book was tended by Shelly Lynch, of Oakland. She also distributed the wedding programs.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Wisp Resort, McHenry. The cake was baked by Vella Imhoff, grandmother of the bride, and decorated by Vella and Ruth Harvey. The eight-tiered cake was trimmed with purple and lavender roses. It also featured a fountain with running purple water.

Music was provided by D.J. Bernie Emrick.

Following a honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas, the couple took up residence in Loch Lynn.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Southern High School, and a 1988 graduate of Frostburg State University. She is currently employed as a plant accountant by Bausch and Lomb, Oakland.

The groom is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School, and a 1987 graduate of West Virginia University. He is currently employed as a project engineer by Westvaco, Lake.

Pre-wedding events included a bridal shower given by the maid of honor and bridesmaids. A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's mother at Point View.

Out of town guests were from Alabama, Connecticut, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Alsip-Uphole Vows Exchanged

The Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Moorefield, W.Va., was the setting for the marriage of Edna J. Alsip and William Uphole on Sunday afternoon, November 20, at 2 p.m. The Rev. Frances McCoy performed the double-ring ceremony.

Wearing a street-length, pale green dress with lace collar, the bride was escorted to the altar by her son, David Alsip, of Moorefield. Michael Alsip served as ring bearer for his grandmother's wedding and Danielle Alsip was junior bridesmaid for her grandmother.

Friends of the couple, Mrs. Doris Warner and Fred Warner of Old Fields, W.Va., served as matron of honor and best man, respectively. Miss Linda Alsip of Moorefield also participated in her mother's wedding ceremony.

Wedding music was provided by organist Mrs. Connie Hall and vocalist Michael Wilson, both of Moorefield.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Parish Hall. The three-

Regina VanSickle, Rodney Friend United During Double-Ring Ceremony

Regina Kay VanSickle and Rodney James Friend were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony at 4:30 p.m., October 15, 1988, at Blooming Rose United Methodist Church, Friendsville.

The ceremony was performed by Pastor John E. Boda. Donna DeWitt, friend of the groom, served as the pianist and soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Clifford George VanSickle and Sylvia VanSickle, Friendsville. The groom is the son of James R. Friend, Friendsville, and Patricia A. Pifer, Connellsville, Pa.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a satin gown with a closely-fitted bodice sprinkled with clusters of pearls, sequins, and trimmed with Venice lace. The long puffed sleeves featured shirring along the sides. A basque waist fell over the full skirt. Venice lace trimmed the train and hem of the gown.

Serving as matron of honor was Belinda Ward, Jacksonville, Fla., sister of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Becky Meyers, Friendsville; Laura Sines, Friendsville; and Judy Sisler, Friendsville, all friends of the bride.

The flowergirl was Shannon Blamble, Oakland, cousin of the bride.

James Friend, Connellsville, brother of the groom, served as best man. Jackie VanSickle, Friendsville, brother of the bride, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Greg Iden, McHenry, and Danny Fike, Friendsville, friends of the groom.

The couple presented roses to their mothers during the ceremony.

Carrie VanSickle, Friendsville, cousin of the bride, distributed programs, bird seed and registered guests. Pictures were taken by Douglas Ward, Jacksonville, Fla., brother-in-law of the groom. A video of the wedding was also taken by Eugene VanSickle, Friendsville, cousin of the bride; and Gary Iden, McHenry, friend of the groom.

A reception followed at the Friendsville Fire Hall. A full-course buffet was served, catered by JoAnn Meyers, Friendsville. The wedding cake was decorated, baked, and served by Tammy Thomas, Friendsville, cousin of the bride.

Music was provided by disc jockey, Paul Warnick of WXIE Radio, Oakland.

The couple honeymooned in Uniontown, Pa., for the weekend.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Northern High School. The groom is a 1986 graduate of Southmoreland High School. He is employed at Lake View Exxon, McHenry.

Pre-wedding events included a wedding rehearsal dinner given by the groom's father, James Friend, at the Glisan's Restaurant, Markleysburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend have established residence in Friendsville.

Kinser — Stonesifer Engagement Noted

Diana Sue Kinser and David Stonesifer have announced their engagement.

Miss Kinser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kinser, Aurora, W.Va. Mr. Stonesifer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stonesifer, Swallow Falls.

The bride-elect will be a 1989 graduate of East Preston High School, Terra Alta. Mr. Stonesifer is a 1984 graduate of Southern High School. He is employed by Belco Construction, McHenry.

LaDonna S. Ball, Thomas A. Stem Exchange Vows In September Event

LaDonna Sue Ball and Thomas Andrew Stem were united in marriage on September 17, 1988, at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland.

Father Field performed the afternoon double-ring ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Nancy Sisler, organist, and Susan Stem, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ball, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va. She is a 1984 graduate of East Preston High School, and is employed in the medical records department of Preston Memorial Hospital.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stem of Oakland. He is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School, and is employed by Winters Painting and General Contracting.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown featuring leg-o-mutton sleeves accented by seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The heavily beaded fitted bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline with a stand-up collar. The full bridal skirt fell from a basque waist and swept into a semi-cathedral train enhanced by an organza wire ruffle flounce.

The matron of honor was Stacy Ball, sister of the bride. She wore an aqua tea-length satin gown with off-the-shoulder lace sleeves and a full lace skirt.

The bridesmaids were Jeanie Sisler, aunts of the bride, friends of the bride. They wore peach tea-length satin gowns with off-the-shoulder lace sleeves and full lace skirts.

The bride and her attendants carried stylized bouquets of aqua, peach and white silk roses accented with baby's breath and assorted greenery.

Bethany Hayes, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a tea-length aqua gown trimmed in lace, and carried a basket of rose petals.

Scott Stem, brother of the groom, was the best man. Ushers were John Stem, brother of the groom, and Kevin Winters, friend of the groom. The ring bearer was Jeremy Hayhurst, nephew of the groom.

The groom's attendants wore black tuxedos with aqua and peach cummerbunds and ties.

During the ceremony, the couple's mothers participated in the lighting of the unity candle, and the groom's father read a scripture verse.

A video recording was taped by Debbie Frantz, and Arlene Lantz was the photographer. Rhonda Calhoun attended the guest book.

A reception and buffet dinner were held at the Oakland Firehall with Dennis Dezil as the D.J. The wedding cake was created by Dean Sisler. The buffet table was decorated with watermelon baskets by Brydene White, aunt of the bride.

Patty Myers and Anna Mae Sisler, aunts of the bride, served the cake and punch.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the American Legion in Oakland.

The couple resides in Oakland.

Who Passed Away Feb. 3, 1984

Precious are the memories, a loved one leaves behind. A family all together, working, helping, loving, kind. Sometimes the road was stony, and the journey rough and steep.

As he tread the heavenly pathway, trials came and sorrow deep.

Still he never was discouraged, and was there if we should call.

Always lending a hand to others, he was loved by one and all.

The old homelace seems sad and lonely, since he was called away.

He is sleeping, only sleeping, waiting for that judgment day.

Where those we love are waiting, to greet us on the shore. We'll meet beyond the river when sorrow is no more.

So cherish every moment that you have each day.

For we never know when a loved one will be called away.

Loved, missed and remembered always,

Sales And Use Tax Figures Up During December

According to Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, an increase in construction activity and healthy sales of appliances and home and office furniture helped fuel an almost 8% increase in sales and use tax receipts for December, 1988, compared with the same month of the previous year.

Total sales and use tax revenue for December, 1988, based on November sales, amounted to $124,931,406, up 7.9% from the $115,722,608 reported in December, 1987. For the first five months of fiscal year 1989, sales and use tax receipts were up almost 6% over the same period of FY 1988, generating $588,429,608.

"The building and contractors category posted a 9.9% increase for December, the largest gain in several months, generating $19.3 million," Goldstein said. "This compares to a 4.6% increase for the first five months of the fiscal year."

The comptroller noted that the furniture, fixtures and appliances category posted a 9.4% gain. "This category produced $15.1 million. A major reason for this growth includes a 16.3% increase in revenue from the sales of store and office equipment which includes personal computers, and a 14.5% increase in tax revenue from furniture sales. However, the radio and television category, which also includes VCRs, stereo systems and compact disc players, was down 14%," Goldstein said.

The largest producer of sales and use tax revenue for the month was the general merchandise category, which includes department and discount stores. This category generated $27.3 million in December receipts, a 5.1% increase over December, 1987, although tax revenue from discount stores was down 14.1%.

The taxable food and beverage category produced $22.9 million, a 7% increase.

Two other categories posted 7% gains - apparel, which generated $7 million, and hardware, machinery and equipment, which produced $4.4 million.

The miscellaneous group generated $14.3 million, up 13.7% from December, 1987.

"A good showing in the building and contractors category is always a good economic sign," the comptroller said, "because construction activity has a ripple effect, eventually sparking growth in other categories."

"The January, 1989, receipts, which will reflect December holiday sales, will give us a better idea of how good the Christmas shopping season really was," Goldstein added.

Equitable Gas Donates To Mon Valley Network

Equitable Gas Company has made a $10,000 grant to the Mon Valley Network to promote economic development and the creation of jobs in the Mon Valley area. The economic development grant, the first for the Network this year, will be used to obtain matching funds from governmental and private sources to provide for a professional staff and defray operating costs.

Equitable President John Milantoni said, "We have been a part of the Mon Valley for 100 years by providing natural gas service to the area's businesses and homes. Everyone at Equitable has an interest in the Mon Valley since our customers live and work here, and we hope to help improve the well being of the area by making this grant."

The tri-state Mon Valley Network was formed in 1986 to address economic, community and resource development. The organization has attracted leaders from government, industry, business, labor, the professional organizations and the general populace from an area encompassing 17 counties in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Maryland, including Garrett County.

LUNG DISSECTION PROJECT — R.N. Lois Ford of the Garrett County Health Department, pictured right, recently came to the fifth grade students at Accident Elementary School to assist with a lung dissection project. After a review of the function of the lungs and the respiratory system, Mrs. Ford demonstrated the process of inhaling and exhaling by using a bicycle pump and the lungs from a pig. Afterwards, each pupil was given a pair of plastic gloves, a straw, a pair of scissors, and a portion of a pig's lung. Pupils located bronchioles, inserted straws, and inflated their piece of lung. Lung fragments were examined under a microscope. Lung dissection is an activity encouraged in the Berkeley Health Unit study of the respiratory system. The lungs were donated by Yoders, Inc., of Grantsville. Fifth grade teachers are Anna Buckingham, Michelle Lavelle, and Rosanne Sherwood.

"We are delighted with the generous support of the tri-state Mon Valley Network by Equitable Gas Company," said Frank Irey Jr., co-chairman of the organization. "I know I speak for West Virginia co-chairman and former Governor Cecil Underwood in expressing appreciation to Equitable Gas for their demonstration of concern for the future of the Mon Valley in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland."

Irey said that Equitable Gas also has been involved with the Network's efforts through the Gas Company's James Evans, an economic development specialist.

"Equitable cares about economic, resource and community development for the betterment of the tri-state Mon Valley Basin," said Underwood. "Such commitments of talented experienced personnel and financial resources are essential for the Network to achieve optimum progress."

The tri-state Mon Valley Network is the only organization positioned to address needs, opportunities and problems across state lines, according to Underwood.

"Our efforts are diverse and include Flooding and Water Use and Management, Transportation, Quality of Life, Human Resource Development and Employment and Economic Development," said Underwood.

Irey said he was hopeful the $10,000 contribution from a firm like Equitable Gas will spur others to join and support the Network.

Those interested in more information about the tri-state Mon Valley Network may contact Coordinator Dave Harrison at Mon Valley Network, 1066 Van Voorhis Road, #K415, Morgantown, West Virginia 26506-3471. The phone number is (304) 293-2789.

WOW Rangers Hold Swim Trip

Woodmen of the World Ranger Lodge 112 held their first activity of the new year, a swim trip, on January 28. Approximately 70 members, guests, leaders, parents, and grandparents attended the event.

Participants traveled by bus from the Lodge Hall in Oakland to Alpine Lake, Terra Alta, W.Va., then returned to Oakland for a meal at McDonald's.

Ranger leaders Asa McCain Jr. and Ellen Zimmerman extended thanks to all chaperones who helped with the activity.

Clairmont Wind Quintet Concert Slated At FSU

The Frostburg State University Department of Music will present the Clairmont Wind Quintet in concert this Sunday, February 12, at 3 p.m. in Pullen Auditorium on the University campus.

The program includes the "Adagio and Allegro" by Mozart, which was originally written for a mechanical clock organ and later arranged for woodwind quintet by Milan Munclinger; "Partita for Wind Quintet" by Irving Fine; "Ouvrage de Dame, Theme and Variations" by Elsa Barraine and "Wind Quintet in E-flat Major, Op. 88 #2" by Anton Reicha, a close friend of Beethoven.

"Adagio and Allegro" was written about 18 months before Mozart's death. The piece was commissioned by a wax museum in Vienna to be used as a tribute to an Austrian field marshal and played by a mechanical clock organ.

Reicha, a nephew and student of composer and violinist Joseph Haydn, composed 24 woodwind quintets during the 1820's and 1830's. He gained recognition as an instrument composer, as well as a theorist and teacher.

After initially being influenced by Stravinsky and Hindemith, Fine eventually developed his own distinctive style which was characterized by its "cohesive melody supported by lucid polyphony." The American composer wrote the "Partita" in 1948.

Barraine composed the "Ouvrage" in 1937 for the Woodwind Quintet of Paris, her native city. Her works include three symphonies, the symphonic poem "Programs" and numerous other compositions. In 1928, she received the second Prix de Rome and in 1929, the first grand Prix de Rome.

The Quintet is comprised of Donald Anderson, part-time faculty member and professor of flute at FSU; Robert Pusey, member of the FSU music department faculty and professor of oboe; Donald Barnett, a graduate student and adjunct faculty member at FSU who specializes in the French horn; Karen Fisher, part-time faculty member, and director of the preparatory division of the FSU music department and bassoonist; and Huot Fisher, professor of clarinet at FSU.

The Quintet is in residence at Frostburg State University's Department of Music and will be touring throughout Maryland this spring.

The concert is open to the public, free of charge.

Divorce Is Most Popular Issue Of Free Legal Service

Divorce is the legal issue of most concern to Marylanders, according to statistics released by the Maryland Legal Line Service, a free taped message service co-sponsored by the Maryland State Bar Association and Towson State University. Over the past three years, more than 20 percent of callers dialing the Maryland Legal Line toll-free number have requested information on divorce. Fourteen percent of the callers are interested in bankruptcy, while an additional 11 percent want to know why they should have a will.

Since the service first went into operation in September, 1985, Maryland Legal Line has helped thousands of Maryland citizens understand the laws governing trusts and estates, workers' compensation, welfare rights, domestic violence,

Tri-State Dairy Reproductive Seminar To Be Held In McHenry

This year Garrett County will host the Tri-State Dairy Reproductive Seminar for all those involved with the reproductive management of a herd. According to Garrett County Extension Agent Jim Simms, most dairymen lose a considerable sum of money each year due to reproductive problems. The seminar will be held at Garrett Community College, McHenry, beginning at 10 a.m. on February 22.

The McHenry meeting is expected to be convenient to farmers from Western Maryland, West Virginia and Southwestern Pennsylvania. Simms reports that already he has reservations from as far away as Greensburg and New Castle, Pa.

The theme of the seminar will be "Dairy Reproduction — What Lies Ahead?" The program will consist of topics presented by speakers from three cooperating universities — Pennsylvania State University, University of Maryland and Virginia Tech and Virginia State University.

Featured speakers and their topics will include Michael O'Connor, extension specialist, Penn State, "Basics of Reproductive Management;" W. Dee Whittier, extension veterinarian, Virginia Tech, "Nutrition, Health Disorders and Reproduction;" Mark Varner, extension specialist, University of Maryland, "New Estrus Detection Aids;" Larry Hutchinson, extension veterinarian, Penn State, "Management of the Cow After Calving to Maximize Breeding Efficiency;" Ray L. Nebel, extension dairy specialist, Virginia Tech, "Principles and Applications of Milk Progesterone Testing;" and Doug Carmel, extension veterinarian, University of Maryland, "Hormone and Antibiotic Use for Early Post Partum Problems."

The seminar will adjourn at 3 p.m. following a question and answer period and discussion period.

Although there is no reservation fee, Simms says reservations should be made by February 15. Anyone needing transportation should let Simms know when they make reservations. A farmer's ham dinner-type lunch will also be available at the cost of $5.50 per person. Lunch reservations must be made by February 12. Reservations can be made by mailing the information to Simms at the Garrett County Extension Office, P.O. Box 445, Oakland, MD 21550.

Fewer Piggies Go To Market

The inventory of all hogs and pigs in Maryland was estimated at 170,000 head on December 1, 1988, down 23 percent from the 1987 total of 220,000 head. The largest decrease was in the hogs for the market which are estimated at 143,000 head, down 27 percent from 1987. The average value for all hogs and pigs was $69.00 per head compared to $76.00 per head for 1987.

UNITED STATES inventory of all hogs and pigs was estimated at 55.3 million head on December 1, 1988, 1 percent above a year ago and 9 percent above December 1, 1986. Breeding hog inventory, at 7.04 million, was 2 percent below last year but 6 percent above two years ago. Market hog inventory, at 48.3 million, was 2 percent above a year ago and 9 percent above two years ago. Hog producers intend to have 5.91 million sows farrow during the December 1988-May 1989 period, 2 percent below the actual farrowing during the same period a year ago.

FFA Ice Cream Social To Be Held Tomorrow Night

The Oakland FFA Chapter, along with the FFA Alumni, will hold an old-fashioned ice cream social on Friday, February 10, in the vo-ag building of Southern High School.

Homemade ice cream and desserts will be served and segments of the 1988 National FFA Convention held in Kansas City, Missouri, will be shown. Anyone interested in FFA and agricultural education is invited to attend.

Pork Industry Forum Scheduled For March 1-3

More than 500 pork producer leaders and elected producer delegates from across the country will join at Kansas City's Hyatt Regency Crown Center Hotel for the 1989 National Pork Industry Forum, March 1 through 3.

During Pork Forum '89, the National Pork Products Council, National Pork Council Women, the Pork Act delegate body and the National Pork Board will hold annual meetings.

The central theme, "Commitment to Quality," will carry through all aspects of the event, emphasizing the industry's priorities in planning for the 21st century.

Len Dawson, former Kansas City Chiefs football quarterback and well-known sports broadcaster, will be the featured forum luncheon speaker on Friday, March 3.

A special program to honor Pork Industry Hall of Fame recipients Paul McNutt, Iowa City, Iowa, and George Grauer, Oakford, Ill., along with Distinguished Service Award winners Marvin Garner, St. Joseph, Mo. and Keith Myers, Grundy Center, Iowa, will take place during the national forum banquet on Friday evening.

Agricultural Issues Surface During 1989 General Assembly Session

Each legislative session in Annapolis sees a number of farm issues rise to the surface. The decisions made by legislators at the state capital affect agriculture both directly and indirectly. Lobbying in favor of farmers and agriculture in Annapolis are Jack Miller and Norman Astle of the Maryland Farm Bureau. In a phone conversation with Miller this week, he commented on the following bills which have surfaced so far this session.

Groundwater Protection
A House Joint Resolution was made to protect groundwater in the state from pesticides and other chemicals used in agricultural operations. This resolution would request the Department of the Environment, the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Natural Resources to give consideration to contamination of groundwater and municipal water supplies from pesticides and chemicals used in agricultural operations and for the testing and monitoring of selected pesticides relating to that protection.

Miller said that Farm Bureau's initial understanding was that these testing activities are currently taking place and therefore, although supportive of testing groundwater for contamination, Farm Bureau felt this resolution was not necessary.

He went on to say, however, that they have found that much of the pesticide testing being done is outdated. He feels that with better coordination between the state departments involved, a better job of protection can be achieved. Also suggested in the resolution is more in-depth testing done in one county (possibly Frederick) to be used as an example.

Sewage Sludge Use
A bill has been introduced which would prohibit the application of sewage sludge on land that is used for pasture or forage for animals; to grow alfalfa, soybeans, or any other legume crop that fixes its own nitrogen; on soil that is not moderately or well drained; or on soil that does not have a depth of at least 24 inches to the seasonal high water table.

Miller said that Farm Bureau endorses the safe and controlled use of sewage sludge, however, that organization and other individuals think this bill may be too restrictive. A study has been called for, using grant money, allowing the University of Maryland to delve into some questionable areas of the bill in depth.

Covered Loads
As in the past, the bill dealing with covered loads exempts agricultural products in their natural state being hauled by any vehicle, and also exempts any Class K (farm area) vehicle engaged in a farming operation. As Miller explains, "It is the product that is exempt, not the farmer."

Jogging and Marathon Racing on Private Land
This bill, if passed, would simply be an addition to a present law concerning public recreation on private land, and would limit the liability of the owner of the land toward the person who enters on the land for recreational purposes, including jogging or marathon racing.

Miller says the intentions of this law are good, and that his main concern is that people be misled. "We hope that everyone recognizes that this law does not eliminate a property owner's potential liability," Miller said, but added that anything that helps is a good law.

Hunting Antlerless Deer
A bill was heard by the House Environmental Matters Committee to authorize residents of the state who are licensed to hunt deer to hunt antlerless deer without a special permit. This would be in conjunction with buck season. Miller says Farm Bureau supports the bill due to the excessive population of deer (particularly in some counties) and the crop damage which results, however, he has a feeling the bill won't go anywhere.

Trespassing
A bill that would alter penalties for certain trespassing crimes has been introduced in the Senate. Of particular interest is the increase in the possible term of imprisonment (from not exceeding three months to not exceeding one year) for trespassing on property which has been posted.

Farm Bureau supports this bill and hopes that the increase will help to deter trespassing which Miller says is an ever-increasing problem to landowners.

Another bill relating to trespassing has been introduced by District I-A Delegate George C. Edwards (R-Garrett). This bill would permit landowners to "blaze" their property lines by painting stripes on tree trunks instead of posting "no trespassing" signs. These stripes would be regulated as to size, shape and color so as to be recognizable to the general public.

Vehicle Liability Insurance
House Bill 311 would prohibit any insurer who offers a private passenger motor vehicle liability insurance policy from expressing any underlying risks consideration in geographic terms, or from using any rating territory smaller than the entire state when determining the classification of any rate.

Farm Bureau is opposed to this bill because it would increase insurance rates in rural areas.

Ag Land Preservation Foundation

This bill (HB-291) creates an appraisal review board which will replace the current appeal process through which a landowner disputes the value determined by the state appraisal in the process of purchasing an agricultural preservation easement under the Agricultural Preservation Program.

The current process requires the arbitration to be filed through the local county property tax assessment board. The bill also specifies the membership and duties of the proposed appraisal review board.

Farm Bureau differs with the department and the administration and opposes this bill, they say, because of a "lack of understanding" of the ag land preservation program by state officials.

State Fair Board Grant

House Bill 292 would increase the allocation of funds to the Maryland Agricultural Fair Board from $450,000 to $600,000 to be used for the promotion of state and county agricultural fairs and exhibits. Much of the premium money for the Garrett County Fair and other county fairs throughout the state is provided by this state fair board.

Atlantic Distributes $5.6 Million In Equity Payments

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative distributed $5.6 million in equity payments February 1 to more than 4,000 members. It was announced by Treasurer Evan L. Fineman.

The pay out was the third of its kind since Atlantic was formed by a merger in 1987. The $5.6 million represents a return of investment dairy farmers have made to help fund their cooperative's programs.

"Our ability to return equity payments to our members is a result of our strong financial position," Fineman said. "Since the merger two years ago, we have paid out $22.3 million in equity payments alone."

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative represents dairy farm families in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Milk Production Figures Higher

Maryland's total milk production for the October-December quarter was 377 million pounds. This is 6 percent above the 356 million pounds produced in the same quarter of 1987. The average number of milk cows during the quarter was 109,000 head, down 2,000 head from the same quarter during 1987. Grain and other concentrates fed to milk cows on January 1, 1989, averaged 15.7 pounds, compared to 15.6 pounds fed on January 1, 1988. The value of grain and other concentrates fed to cows on January 1, 1989, averaged $9.10 per hundredweight, $1.20 per hundredweight more than January 1, 1988.

The quarterly production of milk for the U.S. was 35.4 billion pounds, 2 percent above October-December 1987. The average number of milk cows in the U.S. during the October-December quarter was 10.2 million head, 1 percent below October-December 1987. Grain and other concentrates fed to milk cows on January 1, 1989, averaged 17.1 pounds, 0.1 of a pound less than January 1, 1988. The value of grain and other concentrates fed to cows on January 1, 1989, averaged $8.40 per hundredweight more than January 1, 1988.

Are You Short on Corn Silage?

Now is the time to inventory your feed supply to determine if you're going to have enough feed if fed at the present rate to get to the next harvest. Some dairy farmers are going to have to cut back on corn silage. The two main nutritional items that will be coming up short is energy and fiber. The energy can be made up by increasing the lbs. of grain fed only to a point. It is essential that the fiber supply is also made up through increasing the lbs. of hay. In this case it is my opinion that you cannot afford not to feed good quality hay. Low quality hay will not keep high producing cows going no matter how much grain you feed them. I would buy high quality hay and feed it to the high producers and freshening cows. Feed the tail-enders the low quality hay. Also whole cottonseed is a good source of energy. If you need help in balancing a ration to best utilize your feed supply, give me a call.

Need Hay?

Alva Maust (Phone 826-8429) has 2,000 bales of good first-cutting timothy. Clark Kolb (Phone 826-8484) has first-cutting alfalfa and timothy mix and timothy hay.

The M-W Series Is Used To Pay Farmers For Milk

Reprinted from "Hoard's Dairyman"

The Minnesota-Wisconsin milk price, commonly known as the M-W price series, is the average price paid to milk producers for manufacturing (Grade B) milk by a sample of dairy plants in those two states. The M-W price for the previous month is released at 11 a.m. on the fifth of every month by the Wisconsin office of the National Agricultural Statistics Service.

Wisconsin and Minnesota supply nearly 57 percent of the nation's manufacturing grade milk. Since manufacturing represents the marginal uses of milk, its economic value is best reflected in the prices cheese and butter plants pay. Prices paid for Grade B milk are particularly sensitive to changes in the milk supply-demand balance. Changes in the wholesale markets for cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk will affect prices paid for manufacturing milk.

The M-W price is based on a market which is highly competitive. The manufacturing of cheese, butter and other products is concentrated in Minnesota and Wisconsin, with a relatively large number of plants competing for milk supplies.

Market conditions in other parts of the nation can affect the Minnesota and Wisconsin milk prices because those two states hold the major amounts of reserve Grade A milk. When Class I (fluid milk) supplies are tight elsewhere, reserve Grade A milk is shipped out of Minnesota and Wisconsin to the deficit areas. That leaves less milk available for manufacturing.

Any adjustments in the dairy price support program also will affect the M-W price. The Commodity Credit Corporation supports the price of milk by purchasing excess production of cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk at specified prices. Since Minnesota and Wisconsin are the major production areas of these commodities, changes in the CCC purchase prices eventually will be reflected in the M-W price.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin price has been used since September 1961 to establish classified pricing of milk in federal milk marketing orders. There are 43 federal orders, and they account for 71 percent of all milk sold in the U.S. Their purpose is to maintain orderly marketing and encourage an adequate supply.

An acceptable way to determine class prices for milk is crucial to maintaining an orderly marketing system. The three classes of milk are priced each month according to the unregulated competitive Grade B market. Class I is fluid milk for drinking. Class II is milk used in soft dairy products such as cottage cheese, ice cream and yogurt, while Class III is milk used in hard dairy products like cheese and butter. The Class III price is the M-W price.

1988 Production Figures Noted

Maryland corn for grain production in 1988 totaled 27.3 million bushels, down 24 percent from a year earlier. Corn for grain averaged 65 bushels per acre, 13 bushels below 1987. Corn silage production totaled 950,000 tons, 17 percent below 1987. Acreage of corn cut for silage at 95,000 is equal to 1987.

Soybean production, a record 14.11 million bushels, was 53 percent above 1987's 9.23 million bushel production. Soybeans yielded 31 bushels per acre for 1988, 8.5 bushels above last year's yield.

Hay production totaled 619,000 tons, 4 percent below 1987. Hay yielded an average of 2.75 tons per acre for 1988, slightly above the average yield of 1987.

Potato production in 1988 totaled 460,000 hundredweight, 8 percent below 1987. Sweet potato production in 1988 totaled 135,000 hundredweight, 21 percent above 1987's 112,000 hundredweight production.

United States corn for grain production in 1988 is estimated at 4.92 billion bushels, down 30 percent from the 1987 crop. The drought reduced U.S. yield of 84.6 bushels per acre is 34.6 bushels below the record high of 119.4 bushels produced in 1987.

Production of corn silage, at 78.93 million tons is down 7 percent.

NOTICE

TO WATER CUSTOMERS IN OAKLAND

The Town of Oakland has approximately 850 water customers. Some have experienced frozen water lines and others have let water run to prevent freezing. Some have shared with their waterless neighbors. Neither the Town nor the customers have been at fault in the situation. In fairness to both, where there is evidence that any of the above has occurred, the March quarter water bills will be adjusted as follows:

1. The least amount a customer will pay will be the minimum quarterly charge.
2. The maximum a customer will pay will be the highest amount paid in any quarter during the past year.
3. If the amount of water consumed is less than the last quarter, the customer will be billed for that amount.

KEYSTONE HOMES WANTS YOU NOW

If you aren't the average home buyer, and want that extra quality in a home with prices you can afford, you must see us now about a new Keystone Home for spring delivery.

We are booking up fast for March, April, and May, so don't delay, see us today so you can begin planning your home to fit your own exact needs. If for some reason you find you can't build this year after you place your order, you can cancel with just a phone call.

Completely finished from the plate up on your foundation. We set all of our homes with a crane so there is no stress on your foundation.

All of our homes come with the energy package which is standard. Insulation is R19 walls, R32 ceiling, Andersen Thermopane vinyl-clad wood windows with storms and screens, a very big energy-saver, and they never need painting. Exterior doors are metal insulated with storm doors; total electric heat with thermostats in each room.

You have your choice of interior drywall, paneling or both. Drywall has two coats of the paint of your choice; beautiful, textured 1/2" drywall ceiling over a 3/8" plywood sub ceiling.

Nice selection of top grade carpet throughout home except for kitchen and baths. There we offer a no wax linoleum by Armstrong. This is put over a super strong 1 1/8" thick floor. Floor joints are 2x10, 16" on center.

Kitchen and bath have your choice of vinyl wall coverings, beautiful kitchen cabinets with stainless steel sinks, 30" GE electric range; exhaust fans in kitchen and bath, vanity-in-bath, with a one-piece fiberglass tub and shower; 52 gallon hot water heater, aluminum wood grain siding, shutters, gutter and down spouts, 5/12 roof pitch on 25' and 38' wide models.

This home can be designed to fit your own needs at no charge. A home is a big investment today so shop around and compare. But before you buy, be sure and see a Keystone Home... we think it will speak for itself.

Maryland Income Tax Assistance Offered Locally

Experts from the Maryland Income Tax Division will be visiting the Western Maryland area very soon to help taxpayers working on their 1988 Maryland income tax returns. State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced.

The tax officials will offer a variety of free taxpayer service Wednesday, February 15, at the Senior Citizen Center, 104 East Center Street, Oakland, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.; Thursday, February 16, at St. John's Church Building, Main Street, Grantsville, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.; Tuesday, February 21, City Building, Washington Street, Westernport, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.; and Thursday, February 23, Senior Citizens Building, 7 Hanekamp Street, Lonaconing, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

"Our tax experts will be happy to answer questions, provide all the necessary forms, and even complete your Maryland income tax return free of charge. Please be sure to bring along a completed copy of your federal return and all W-2 statements," Goldstein said.

Taxpayers can also get free state tax help by calling or visiting any of the 15 Maryland income tax offices listed on the back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories, including the branch office at 9 Market Street in Cumberland. (Telephone: 777-2165. Garrett County residents: 334-8880).

The offices are open Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. Extra hours of free assistance will also be provided on all state holidays and certain weekends between now and the filing deadline, Monday, April 17. The hours are listed inside the state tax packet. The toll-free number for state income tax help is 1-800-MD TAXES.

Cumberland IRS Office Is Moved

The new location of the Cumberland office of the Internal Revenue Service is the Bradock Square Mall, located at Winchester and Vocke Roads in LaVale. The new office is approximately five miles from the former site in the Old Post Office Building on Pershing St. in downtown Cumberland.

"IRS occupied its old space on the second floor in the Old Post Office Building for the last 11 years. With ample free parking and street level entrances at the mall, we feel community access to our new office is better," said Phil Brand, IRS District Director for Maryland and Washington, D.C.

The new IRS office has the same office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on weekdays. As always, taxpayers may receive telephone assistance weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. by calling the IRS at 1-800-424-1040.

Beef Council Provides Hotline During February

February is National Meat Month. Red meat is leaner, trimmer, and more suited to the needs of today's active health-conscious consumers. Most meat packers and retailers have already adopted trim programs that remove excess outside fat to one-quarter of an inch or less. These programs are dramatically reducing fat and giving the public the lean, well-trimmed, more healthful product it has requested, according to the Maryland Beef Council.

For Maryland consumers, the Maryland Beef Council is providing the "Beef Information Hotline." Every Thursday, in February, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., consumers may call 301-592-3940, where Anita Wehrman, licensed dietitian, registered dietitian, and director of Education and Promotion for the Maryland Beef Council, will be on hand to answer any questions regarding beef nutrition, cooking, storage, etc.

"Today's Lean Look" is the theme of National Meat Month. Through the packers, retailers, and other industry programs, consumers are learning that lean red meat brings a wide range of healthful nutrients to their diets while adding surprisingly low amounts of fat and cholesterol," said Ms. Anita Wehrman, L.D., R.D. "There are dozens of cuts of beef that contain fewer than 200 calories per three-ounce serving. And, each of those servings carries a big payload of protein, thiamin, zinc, iron, and vitamin B-12."

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

Of Highly Attractive and Valuable Property.
situate at 1402 Pittsburgh Avenue, Mt. Lake Park, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated January 15, 1986, and recorded in Liber 433, Folio 743, one of the Land (Mortgage) Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the holder of indebtedness secured by the mortgage having duly assigned the same to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will, on Friday, February 17, 1989, at the hour of 10:00 a.m., in the Rotunda of the Court house, in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and set at public auction to the highest bidder, the following property, to wit: ALL that piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 16, in the Town of Mountain Lake Park, Garrett County, Maryland, which is known and designated as Lot No. 1 in the HMF Enterprises Subdivision, and which is particularly described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING at a stake standing in the Northernly margin of Pittsburgh Avenue, conveyed to the party of the first part by deed from Homer L. Bennett, dated May 30, 1976, and recorded in Liber No. 366, Folio 775, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and running thence from said beginning stake with said Northernly margin, North 83 degrees, 15 minutes East 105.0 feet to a stake, thence leaving said Northernly margin and running North 06 degrees 45 minutes West 174.4 feet to a stake, thence South 15 degrees 15 minutes West 105.0 feet to a stake, thence South 06 degrees 45 minutes East 174.4 feet to the beginning, containing 0.41 of an acre, more or less, and being part of said 3.36 acre tract.

EXCEPTING, however, the oil and gas underlying said property which were conveyed to Mary Naylor Bennett, Trustee, by deed from S. Townshend Naylor, et al., dated September 7, 1973, and recorded in Liber RLD No. 345, Folio 206 &c., one of the said Land Records.

BEING the same as conveyed by Harry M. Filemyr, trading as HMF Enterprises, to Tommy J. Ritchey and Linda S. Ritchey, his wife, by deed dated October 19, 1973, and recorded in Liber No. 382, Folio 792 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The above property is improved by a split foyer, Tudor style dwelling which has been finished exteriorly with a combination of Texture 111 and stucco with roof covering consisting of an asphalt shingle roof. The interior of the dwelling consists of a large family room with a brick fireplace, a small playroom, living room, kitchen, dining room, three bedrooms, a 1/2 bath, 1 1/2 baths and a full bath. The balance of the basement portion of the house consists of utility room utilized for storage of mechanicals as well as washer and dryer hook-ups as well as an integral two car, 24'x24' garage finished with concrete block walls and

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Maryland Bureau of Mines will submit an application for funds to accomplish abandoned coal mine reclamation projects from the following list of potential projects. The application will be submitted to the U.S. Department of Interior, Office of Surface Mining, for funding in accordance with Title IV, Section 405 of Public Law 95-87, Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977.

Qualification for Federal funding under Title IV is contingent on an approved State Surface Coal Mining Regulatory Program and a State Abandoned Mine Lands Reclamation Plan. Maryland has received Office of Surface Mining (OSM) approval of both programs. Project funding will originate from the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund, administered by OSM.

It is the goal of the Maryland Abandoned Mine Reclamation Program to promote the reclamation of abandoned coal mine areas in Maryland that have been left in an inadequately reclaimed condition and endanger the health and safety of the public, degrade the quality of the environment, and/or diminish the beneficial use of land and water resources.

Comments are solicited on the relative priority of the projects listed below and/or any other abandoned mine problem in the Maryland Coal Region. Bureau requests information from the public concerning abandoned mine problems that pose a potential threat to the public health and safety or severely degrade the environment.

A public meeting concerning the proposed projects will be held if any person(s) or organi-

HELP WANTED Clerk-Collector

The Town of Oakland, the county seat of Garrett County, Maryland, is now accepting applications for the position of Clerk/Collector. Oakland's population is approximately 2000 and the town is located close to Deep Creek Lake.

The Mayor and Town Council are seeking an experienced administrator to supervise an office staff of two employees and provide a wide range of support services. The duties of this position include budget preparation, tax collection, staff supervision, benefits administration, computerized utility billing and accounting functions. This position reports directly to the Mayor and Town Council.

Minimum qualifications include a four-year college degree in an appropriate discipline and two years of local government service; five years of related work experience, or a combination of academic training and work experience. City management and grants experience are a plus.

Salary range will be between $15,000-$20,000, depending on qualifications. Health benefits and a pension plan are provided.

Interested persons should obtain an application at City Hall, and submit a letter of interest and resume to:
